MANUAL OF REGULATIONS FOR BANKS
FOREWORD

The 2008 Manual of Regulations for Banks (MORB) is an updated compilation of banking regulations and policy issuances of the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP). Available in hard and soft copies, it is a convenient reference and guide for banks in the conduct of their operations.

The updated MORB incorporates regulatory policies issued to align banking practices on risk management, good corporate governance, and capital adequacy, accounting and reporting with international standards. It also includes rules implementing legislative reform measures, the more significant of which are the General Banking Law of 2000, the Anti-Money Laundering Act of 2001 and the Special Purpose Vehicle Act of 2002.

In providing banks and the banking public easy access to this information, the updated MORB seeks to facilitate compliance with the BSP’s supervisory and regulatory requirements that will contribute to the enhancement of the partnership between BSP and the banking sector, and ultimately to the strengthening of the Philippine Banking System and the economy.

FOREWORD

Soon after the establishment of the new Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP), the Monetary Board recognized the need not only to update but also to improve the presentation of the Manual of Regulations for Banks to make it a more useful and accessible information resource for the banking industry and the interested public. A special committee was therefore created to revise the old Manual accordingly.

This revised format Manual is the outcome of that effort. It benefits from the inputs of many concerned departments of the BSP as well as the various banking industry associations. By combining the multi-dimensional perspective, we are hopeful that this new Manual and its subsequent updates will be able to more effectively disseminate the regulatory issuances of the BSP on a timely basis and provide appropriate guidance to the banking community.

We also believe that it will be a especially useful tool at this time when the BSP has come up with many new banking regulations and issuances in response to the unprecedented challenges posed by the Asian crisis.

Nevertheless, we recognize that there will always be room for improvement. Our task is therefore a continuing one of constant search for a better product to provide better services to the public.

The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas
The Manual of Regulations Banks (the “New Manual”) is not only an updated edition but also a revised and consolidated version of the first three volumes of the present Manual of Regulations for Banks and Other Financial Intermediaries, Book I, II and III (the “Old Manual”). Its adoption was impelled by certain considerations, namely: (1) that the Central Bank of the Philippines as the administrative agency of the monetary, banking and credit system which promulgated the Old Manual has been replaced by the Bangko Sentral Ng Pilipinas (BSP) as the central monetary authority, (2) that the Old Manual was last updated as of 31 December 1989 and since that time, significant developments in the statutory law and the financial system of the country have rendered many of its provisions obsolete or irrelevant, and (3) that there was need to simplify the code of banking regulations for ready accessibility to, and the convenience of, the users.

To accomplish the work of proposing revisions to the Old Manual, the Monetary Board of the BSP, in its Resolution No. 1203 dated 07 December 1994, directed the creation of a multi-departmental Ad Hoc Review Committee. This committee was officially constituted under Office Order No. 2, Series of 1995 and consisted of Deputy General Counsel Melpin A. Gonzaga (Office of the General Counsel and Legal Services), as chairman; Deputy Director Ma. Dolores B. Yuvienco (Supervisory Reports and Studies Office); Deputy Director Rolando A. Q. Agustin (Department of Commercial Banks I); Deputy Director Danilo A. Monasterio (Department of Rural Banks); Deputy Director Erlinda S. J. Marzan (Department of Thrift Banks and Non-Bank Financial Institutions), as members; and Managing Director Fe B. Barin (Office of the Monetary Board), as adviser. The technical staff of the Ad Hoc Committee was composed of Atty. Magdalena D. Imperio, Bank Attorney III, as head; and Mr. Fernando B. Caballa, Manager II; Mr. Lauro C. Abuzo, Bank Officer III, Atty. Policarpo G. Barcarse, Manager II; Mr. Nicanor F. Rillera, Manager II; and Mr. Aristides R. Wylengco, Manager II, as members. Deputy Governor Armando L. Suratos, the BSP General Counsel, acted as committee consultant.

Under the aforesaid office order, the Ad Hoc Committee was instructed to examine, evaluate and review the provisions of the four (4) volumes of the Old Manual for purposes of (1) deleting therefrom provisions which are obsolete, redundant, irrelevant, superfluous or inconsistent with law, (2) amending provisions so as to make them consistent with each other or to harmonize them with existing statutes, executive issuances and official policies, and (3) reformulating provisions to make them more responsive to the needs and concerns of the banking and financial intermediation industry.

In discharging its mandated tasks, the Ad Hoc Review Committee sought the comments of certain departments of the BSP, particularly, Treasury, Foreign Exchange, Economic Research, Cash, Accounting, and Loans and Credit, on the proposed changes to provisions of the Old Manual relevant to their operations. Likewise consulted were the various associations in the banking industry, such as the Bankers Association of the Philippines, the Chamber of Thrift Banks, the Rural Bankers Association of the Philippines and the Trust Officers Association of the Philippines. Their valuable suggestions contributed much to the accomplishment of this project.
The New Manual comprises substantially the regulatory issuances of the BSP, as well as those of its predecessor agency, the Central Bank of the Philippines, as they were amended or revised through the years, up to 31 December 1996. It shall serve as the principal source of all substantive banking regulations issued by the Monetary Board and the Governor of the BSP and shall be cited as the authority for enjoining compliance with the rules and regulations embodied therein.

It is fervently hoped that the publication of this long-awaited new code of banking regulations will measure up to the expectations of the Philippine banking sector.

_The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas_
The Manual of Regulations for Banks (the “Manual”) is divided into nine (9) Parts. For provisions common to all types of banks, the sections and subsections of each part is prefixed by the letter “X”. Special provisions do not contain the prefix “X” but instead, the section/subsection applicable only to universal/commercial banks (UBs/KBs), thrift banks (TBs) and rural banks (RBs) and cooperative banks (Coop Banks) are indicated by the first digit showing the numbers 1, 2, and 3 applicable to said banks, respectively. The second digit refers to the Part of the Manual. The third and fourth digits refer to the section number of the Part while the number/s after the decimal point, if any, refer to the subsection.

Thus, to illustrate, Subsection X143.1 and Section 1381 would indicate

Main Section - “Disqualification of Directors/Trustees and Officers”

Subsection - “Persons disqualified to become officers”

X 1 4 3 . 1

Part One on “Organization, Management and Administration”

Manual of Regulations for Banks (Common provision)

Part Three - “Loans, Investments and Special Credits”

The runners in the upper-right or left hand corners of each page show the sections/subsections and the cut-off date of the regulatory issuances included in the page of the Manual where the runner is shown.

B. ESTABLISHMENT AND ORGANIZATION

Sec. X102 Basic Guidelines in Establishing Banks. In establishing a new banking organization and a Coop Bank, the basic guidelines shown in Appendix 37 and Appendix 38, respectively, shall be observed.

§ X102.1 (2008 - X101.2) Prerequisites for the grant of a universal banking authority

a. Compliance with guidelines. A domestic bank seeking authority to operate as a UB shall submit an application to the appropriate department of the SES. The applicant shall comply with the guidelines for the issuance of a UB authority and shall submit all the documentary requirements enumerated in Appendix 1.

b. Public offering of bank shares. A domestic bank applying for a UB authority shall, as a condition to the approval of its application, make a public offering of at least ten percent (10%) of the required minimum capital and this condition must be complied with before it can be granted the license for authority to operate as a UB.

The term public offering shall mean the offer to sell equity shares to the public.

Public shall refer to all prospective stockholders, excluding the bank’s directors, shareholders owning twenty percent (20%) or more of the bank’s subscribed capital stock, together with those of their relatives within the fourth degree of consanguinity or affinity, and corporations controlled or affiliated with them.

A bank whose shares of stock are already listed in the Philippine Stock Exchange (PSE) at the time of filing of its application for UB authority shall be deemed to have complied with the public offering requirement. Likewise, an applicant bank may opt to have its shares listed in the PSE directly instead of passing through the process of public offering. In either case, at least ten percent (10%) of the applicant bank’s capital stock should be held by public stockholders before it can be granted the license for authority to operate as a UB.

c. Listing of bank shares in the stock exchange. Domestic banks granted a UB license, existing or new, must list their shares in the PSE within three (3) years: Provided, That in the case of new UBs, the three (3) year period shall be reckoned from the date the license to operate as a UB was granted. In the case of existing UBs which have not listed their shares in the exchange, the three (3) year period lapsed on 27 December 1998.

The guidelines on public offering and listing of bank shares are enumerated in Appendix 1.

§ X102.2 (2008 - X102.1) Suspension of the grant of new banking licenses on the establishment of new banks. Pending completion of a study, there shall be an indefinite moratorium on the establishment of new banks, except in cities and municipalities where there are no existing banking offices.

The moratorium shall apply to all applications for establishment of new banks, including pending ones received prior to 16 August 1999.
However, approved but not yet opened banks shall be exempted from the moratorium. Requests for extension of the period within which to open approved but not yet opened banks shall, however, be evaluated on a case-to-case basis depending, among others, on the bank’s substantial compliance with the pre-operating requirements.

In the case of KBs, the following rules shall govern:

a. No new KB shall be established within three (3) years from 13 June 2000 which is the date of effectivity of R.A. No. 8791 or until 12 June 2003. The moratorium as mandated by said law covers only KBs classified and defined as such under Sections 3.2(b) and 29 of R.A. No. 8791 as well as in Item "b.2" of Sec. X101 without prejudice, however, to existing or future moratoriums on other types of bank as has been or may be declared by the Monetary Board.

b. The moratorium under Section 8 of R.A. No. 8791 shall cover all applications for issuance of new commercial banking licenses as well as upgrading or conversion of old banking licenses into commercial banking licenses, the organization and incorporation by foreign banks of new commercial banking subsidiaries and any and all other transactions that may result in the issuance of new commercial banking licenses.

c. All such pending applications as of 13 June 2000, including those which have already been decided but with any incident thereto still unresolved or are on reconsideration or appeal, shall not be further acted upon by the BSP and shall be returned to the applicant banks without prejudice to the resubmission or re-filing thereof upon expiration of the moratorium at the option of the applicant banks. No such application shall be considered as automatically re-submitted or re-filed upon expiration of the moratorium.

d. The moratorium under Section 8 of R. A. No. 8791 shall not be applicable to:
   (1) acquisition or purchase by foreign banks of up to 100% of the voting stock of existing domestic KBs;
   (2) the transfer of license of an existing KB to another corporation, subject to prior approval of the Monetary Board;
   (3) new KBs resulting out of mergers or consolidations where at least one (1) of the banks involved in such merger or consolidation is a KB; and
   (4) downgrading or refocusing of UBs into KBs.

§ X102.3 (2008 - X102.2) Partial lifting of general moratorium on the licensing of new thrift banks and rural banks.

The general moratorium on the licensing of new TBs and RBs is partially lifted to allow the entry of microfinance-oriented banks.

For this purpose, a microfinance-oriented bank is a bank that provides financial services and caters primarily to the credit needs of the basic or disadvantaged sectors such as farmer-peasants, artisanal fisherfolk, workers in the formal sector and migrant workers, workers in the informal sectors, indigenous peoples and cultural communities, women, differently-abled persons, victims of calamities and disasters, youth and students, children, urban poor and low income households for their microenterprises and small businesses so as to enable them to raise their income levels and improve their living standards. Microfinance loans are granted on the basis of the borrower’s cash flow and are typically unsecured.

The guidelines on the establishment of a microfinance-oriented bank are as follows:

a. Microfinance-oriented banks may be established on a very selective basis, preferably in places not fully served by existing RBs or in areas not fully serviced by microfinance-oriented banks, subject to the following additional criteria (in addition to standard licensing requirements):

1. That the microfinance-oriented bank to be established shall either be a TB or an RB;

2. That the capital of the microfinance-oriented banks to be established should be owned by private persons, multilateral entities or a combination thereof;

3. That in the case of an RB to be established as a microfinance bank, the minimum paid-in capital shall be P5.0 million or the applicable existing capitalization requirement for a new RB, whichever is higher. The capitalization requirement under existing regulations shall apply to TBs;

4. That the organizers must have the capacity to engage in microfinancing, which may be indicated by the following:
   a. At least twenty percent (20%) of the paid-in capital of the proposed bank must be owned by persons or entities with track record in microfinancing.
   b. Majority of the members of the board of directors have experience in microfinancing with at least one (1) member having actual banking experience.
   c. The proposed bank must have as a minimum, an adequate loan tracking system that allows daily monitoring of loan releases, collection and arrearages, and any restructuring and refinancing.

5. In addition to the requirements for the establishment of banks in Appendix 37, the application for authority to establish a microfinance-oriented bank must be accompanied by the following documents:
   a. A vision and mission statement with clear expression of the commitment to reach low-income clients.
   b. A written manual of operations, which shall include the administrative and credit program systems and procedures.

The Manual must be consistent with the core principles, characteristics and features of microfinance indicated in Sec. X361.

6. At least fifty percent (50%) of the bank’s gross loan portfolio shall at all times consist of microfinance loans as defined in Sec. X361.

b. The requirement that the president, chief operating officer or general manager of a TB or RB must have at least two (2) years experience in banking and/or finance may be substituted with microfinance experience in cases of officers of a microfinance organization applying for authority to establish, or convert into a TB or RB: Provided, That the concerned officer is a college graduate.

c. Subject to the standard branching requirements, microfinance-oriented banks are also exempted from the general moratorium on the establishment of bank branches, under Sec. X151. After one (1) year of profitable operations, a microfinance-oriented bank may apply for establishment of a branch but the Monetary Board may require additional capital to be infused for every branch in addition to the minimum capital of the TB/RB.

d. Existing microfinance organizations applying for authority to establish, or convert into a TB or RB may also be allowed to convert their existing branches/offices into branches of the bank proposed to be established by simultaneously applying for authority for the purpose. However, the standard requirements for the establishment of branches, particularly the capitalization requirement, have to be complied with. Moreover, there must be a proof that the area is not fully served by any existing RB.

The same conditions and sanctions mentioned in Items “a” to “f” above shall apply to all banks which have downgraded or with approved downgrading prior to 13 March 2000: Provided, That the penalties mentioned in Items “b” and “c” above shall be reckoned from their respective prescribed deadlines or within six (6) months from 13 March 2000, if no such deadline is prescribed.

Said measures may include review of, among other things, the existing policies on:

(i) the granting of authority to establish additional subsidiaries and branches;
(ii) the granting of authority to (aa) engage in expanded commercial banking and trust activities; (bb) open an FCDU; (cc) collect taxes and customs duties; and (dd) invest in the equity of other entities; and

C. MERGER AND CONSOLIDATION

Sec. X108 (2008 - X111) Merger or Consolidation to Meet Minimum Capital

The merger or consolidation of banks and other financial intermediary(ies) to meet minimum capital requirements shall be allowed subject to the following regulations.

For purposes of merger and consolidation, the following definitions shall apply:

a. Merger - is the absorption of one (1) or more corporations by another existing corporation, which retains its identity and takes over the rights, privileges, franchises, and properties, and assumes all the liabilities and obligations of the absorbed corporation(s) in the same manner as if it had itself incurred such liabilities or obligations. The absorbing corporation continues its existence while the life or lives of the other corporation(s) is/are terminated.

b. Consolidation - is the union of two (2) or more corporations into a single new corporation, called the consolidated corporation, all the constituent corporations thereby ceasing to exist as separate entities. The consolidated corporation shall thereupon and thereafter possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, franchises and properties, and assume all the liabilities and obligations of each of the constituent corporations in the same manner as if it had itself incurred such liabilities or obligations.

§ X108.2 (2008 - X111.2) Rules on exchange of shares. As a general rule, the ratio of exchange of shares between or among the participants in a bank merger or consolidation shall be based on mutual agreement of the parties concerned. However, any appraisal increment reserve (revaluation reserve) arising from the revaluation of the fixed assets, as may be agreed upon by the parties shall be limited to premises, improvement, and equipment which are necessary for its immediate accommodation in the transaction of the bank’s business. Such revaluation should be based on fair valuation of the property which shall be subject to review and approval by the BSP.

§§ X108.3 (2008 - X112) Merger or Consolidation Incentives. In pursuance of the policy to promote mergers and consolidations among banks and other financial intermediaries as a means to develop larger and stronger FIs, constituent entities may, subject to BSP approval, avail themselves of any or all of the following incentives:

a. Revaluation of premises, improvements and equipment of the institutions: Provided, That such revaluation shall be based on fair valuation of the property conducted by a reputable appraisal company which shall be subject to review and approval by the BSP.

The following rules shall govern the revaluation of assets:

(1) The revaluation of the premises, improvements and equipment shall be allowed only to all institutions participating in a merger or consolidation if all of them belong to the same category, or at least two (2) of them belong to the highest category among the merging or consolidating institutions;

(2) In case the merging or consolidating institutions do not belong to the same category or only one (1) of them falls under the highest category, all of them may be allowed to revalue their premises, improvements and equipment: Provided, That the amount of appraisal increment resulting from such revaluation shall be limited to the amount of the total resources of the institution belonging to the lower category or categories.

(3) The appraisal increment resulting from the revaluation shall form part of capital for purposes of determining the single borrower’s limit and capital-to-risk assets ratio. The use of appraisal increment for cash dividend shall be governed by the provisions of the Corporation Code.

(4) The revaluation of premises, improvements, and equipment of the institution as well as the recognition of goodwill as an incentive to mergers or consolidations as provided in Item "e" hereof shall only be allowed if the following conditions are met:

(i) The surviving or consolidated entity will meet the existing capital requirements after all adjustments are taken up in the books of accounts of the merging or consolidating entities but before considering appraisal increments and goodwill, or there will be infusion of fresh capital to meet said existing capital requirements; and

(ii) The merger or consolidation will result in a more viable FI as a result of cost savings and improved competitive position.

In case of purchase or acquisition of the majority or all of the outstanding shares of stocks of a bank, the same conditions must be satisfied.

b. Unbooked valuation reserves based upon the BSP examination and other capital adjustments resulting from the merger or consolidation may be booked on staggered basis over a maximum period of five (5) years.

The following guidelines shall govern the staggered booking of valuation reserves:

(1) The booking on staggered basis over a maximum period of five (5) years of unbooked valuation reserves based upon examination by the BSP may be allowed to all institutions participating in a merger or consolidation if all of them belong to the same category, or at least two (2) of them belong to the highest category among the merging or consolidating institutions.

c. Exemption from the forty percent (40%) and sixty percent (60%) ownership limits prescribed in Subsec. X126.1 in the new or surviving institution of any Filipino individual or domestic non-bank corporation: Provided, That this shall be allowed only if the bank that is being merged is distressed as may be determined by the Monetary Board and such merger is for the purpose of rehabilitating the bank: Provided, further, That whenever any of said stockholders exceed the prescribed limits, his holdings shall not be increased, but may be reduced and once reduced, shall not thereafter be increased beyond such limits.

In the case of purchase or acquisition of majority or all of the outstanding shares of a bank/QB by another bank/QB, the revaluation of the assets and the booking of the required valuation reserves based upon examination by the BSP over a period of five (5) years shall be allowed only if such purchase or acquisition is for the purpose of rehabilitating the former bank/QB: Provided, That the revaluation of assets and staggered booking of valuation reserves shall be allowed in full only if both banks/QBs belong to the same category. Otherwise, only the bank/QB being acquired/rehabilitated shall be allowed to recognize in full the appraisal increment resulting from revaluation of assets and to book valuation reserves on a staggered basis, while in the case of the acquiring bank/QB, the appraisal increment resulting from revaluation of assets and the privilege of staggered booking of valuation reserves shall each be limited to the amount of the total resources of the bank/QB being acquired/rehabilitated.

The exemption from the ownership limits prescribed in Subsec. X126.1 on existing stockholdings of any Filipino individual or domestic non-bank corporation in a banking institution, as an incentive to purchase or acquisition of majority or all of the outstanding shares of stock of bank/QB shall be allowed only if the bank being purchased or acquired is distressed as may be determined by the Monetary Board and such merger is for the purpose of rehabilitating the bank/QB.

d. If by reason of merger or consolidation, the resulting bank is unable to comply fully with the prescribed net worth-to-risk assets ratio, the Monetary Board may, at its discretion, temporarily relieve the bank from full compliance with this requirement under such conditions as it may prescribe;

The recognition of goodwill as an incentive to mergers or consolidations shall only be allowed subject to the conditions in Item "a (4)"

e. Conversion or upgrading of the existing head offices, branches and/or other offices of the merged or absorbed institutions into branches of the new or surviving FIs;

Condonation of liquidated damages and/or penalties on loan arrearages to the BSP of RBs which are parties to the merger or consolidation: Provided, That loan arrearages of RBs to the BSP are paid in full or covered by a plan of payment payable on an equal monthly amortization schedule over a period not exceeding ten (10) years;

g. Relocation of branches/offices may be allowed within one (1) year from date of merger or consolidation in cases where the merger or consolidation resulted in duplication of branches/offices in a service area, or in such other cases/circumstances as may be prescribed by the Monetary Board;

h. Outstanding penalties in legal reserve deficiencies and interest on overdrafts with the BSP as of the date of the merger or consolidation may be paid in installments over a period of one (1) year;

k. Restructuring/plan of payment of past due obligations of the proponents with the BSP as of the date of merger/consolidation over a period not exceeding ten (10) years;

l. In the case of RBs, grant of access to the rediscounting window of the BSP for a period of two (2) years from the date of merger or consolidation even if its past due ratio exceeds twenty five percent (25%) of loan portfolio but not exceeding thirty percent (30%): Provided, That the merged/consolidated bank meets all the other requirements. During said period of two (2) years, its rediscounting limit per application may also be increased to an amount equivalent to the total of the rediscounting limit per application of each of the constituent banks before merger or consolidation;
m. Subject to approval of the Monetary Board concurrent officerships between a merged or consolidated bank/
FI and another bank/FI may be allowed; Likewise, with prior approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent directorships may be allowed in cases where a bank acquires shares of stock of another bank for the purpose of merging or consolidating the two (2) banks regardless of whether the banks belong to the same category or both have quasibanking functions;
n. Subject to other requirements on the establishment of branches, the merged/consolidated RBs may be allowed to establish a branch each in Cebu City and Davao City if it has put up the minimum capital requirement for these places;
o. Grant of automatic extension of five (5) years for retirement of government preferred shares to be reckoned from the date of merger or

b. Off-balance sheet items. The risk-weighted amount shall be calculated using a two (2)-step process.
First, the credit equivalent amount of an off-balance sheet item shall be determined by multiplying its notional principal amount by the appropriate credit conversion factor, as follows:
(1) One hundred percent (100%) credit conversion factor -
This shall apply to direct credit substitutes, e.g., general guarantees of indebtedness (including standby letters of credit serving as financial guarantees for loans and securities) and acceptances (including endorsements with the character of acceptances), and shall include -
(a) Outstanding guarantees issued - foreign loans;
(b) Outstanding guarantees issued - other than foreign loans and shipside bonds/airway bills; and
(c) Export letters of credit - confirmed.
This shall also apply to sale and repo agreements and asset sales with recourse where the credit risk remains with the bank (to the extent not included in the balance sheet), as well as to forward asset purchases, forward forward deposits and partly-paid shares and securities which represent commitments with certain drawdown: Provided, That these items shall be weighted according to the type of asset and not according to the type of counterparty with whom the transaction has been entered into.
(2) Fifty percent (50%) credit conversion factor -
This shall apply to certain transaction-related contingent items, e.g., performance bonds, bid bonds, warranties and standby letters of credit related to particular transactions, and shall include -
(a) Standby letters of credit - domestic (net of margin deposit) established as a guarantee that a business transaction will be performed; and
(b) Standby letters of credit - foreign (net of margin deposit).
This shall also apply to -
(c) Note issuance facilities and revolving underwriting facilities; and
(d) Other commitments, e.g., formal standby facilities and credit lines with an original maturity of more than one (1) year. This shall include underwritten accounts unsold.
(3) Twenty percent (20%) credit conversion factor -
This shall apply to short-term, self-liquidating trade-related contingencies, e.g., documentary credits collateralized by the underlying shipments, and shall include-
(a) Outstanding guarantees issued - shipside bond/airway bills;
(b) Domestic letters of credit outstanding (net of margin deposit);
(c) Sight import letters of credit outstanding (net of margin deposit);
(d) Usance import letters of credit outstanding (net of margin deposit);
(e) Deferred letters of credit (net of margin deposit); and
(f) Revolving letters of credit (net of margin deposit) arising from movement of goods and/or services.

(4) Zero percent (0%) credit conversion factor

This shall apply to commitments with an original maturity of up to one (1) year, or which can be unconditionally cancelled at any time, and shall include committed credit line for commercial paper issues.

This shall also apply to those not involving credit risk, and shall include -
(a) Inward bills for collection;
(b) Outward bills for collection;
(c) Items held for safekeeping/custodianship;
(d) Trust department accounts;
(e) Late deposits/payments received;
(f) Items held as collaterals; and
(g) Travelers’ checks; etc.

Second, the credit equivalent amount shall be treated like any on-balance sheet asset and shall be assigned the appropriate risk weight, i.e., according to the obligor, or if relevant, the qualified guarantor or the nature of collateral.

c. Derivatives contracts. The credit equivalent amount shall be the sum of the current credit exposure (or replacement cost) and an estimate of the potential future credit exposure (or add-on): Provided, That the following shall not be included in the computation:

(1) Instruments which are traded on exchange where they are subject to daily receipt and payment of cash variation margin; and

(2) Exchange rate contracts with original maturity of fourteen (14) calendar days or less.

The current credit exposure shall be the positive mark-to-market value of the contract (or zero if the mark-to-market value is zero or negative). The potential future credit exposure shall be the product of the notional principal amount of the contract multiplied by the appropriate potential future credit conversion factor, as indicated below:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Residual Maturity</th>
<th>Interest Rate Contract</th>
<th>Exchange Rate Contract</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>One (1) year or less</td>
<td>0.0%</td>
<td>1.0%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over one (1) year to five (5) years</td>
<td>0.5%</td>
<td>5.0%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over five (5) years</td>
<td>1.5%</td>
<td>7.5%</td>
</tr>

Provided, That for contracts with multiple exchanges of principal, the factors are to be multiplied by the number of remaining payments in the contract: Provided, further, That for contracts that are structured to settle outstanding exposure following specified payment dates and where the terms are reset such that the market value of the contract is zero (0) on these specified dates, the residual maturity would be set equal to the time until the next reset date, and in the case of interest rate contracts with remaining maturities of more than one (1) year that meet these criteria, the potential future credit conversion factor is subject to a floor of five tenths percent (0.5%): Provided, furthermore, That no potential future credit exposure shall be calculated for single currency floating/floating interest rate swaps, i.e., the credit exposure on these contracts would be evaluated solely on the basis of their mark-to-market value. The credit equivalent amount shall be treated like any on-balance sheet asset, and shall be assigned the appropriate risk weight, i.e., according to the obligor, or if relevant, the qualified guarantor or the nature of collateral. Provided, That a fifty percent (50%) risk weight shall be applied in respect of obligors which would otherwise attract a 100% risk weight.

The extent to which a claim is guaranteed/collateralized shall be determined by the amount of guarantee coverage/current market value of securities pledged, in comparison with the book value of the on-balance sheet asset or the notional principal amount of the off-balance sheet exposure, except for derivatives contracts for which determination is generally made in relation to credit equivalent amount.

The capital treatment of investments in credit-linked notes (CLNs) and similar credit derivative products such as credit-linked deposits (CLDs) and credit-linked loans (CLLs) shall comply with the guidelines in Sec. 1628 and its Subsections.

These constituencies or stakeholders have the right to expect that the institution is being run in a prudent and sound manner.
The board of directors is primarily responsible for the corporate governance of the bank. To ensure good governance of the bank, the board of directors should establish strategic objectives, policies and procedures that will guide and direct the activities of the bank and the means to attain the same as well as the mechanism for monitoring management’s performance. be the key considerations in the selection process. The board of directors shall establish an appropriate compensation package for all personnel which shall be consistent with the interest of all stakeholders.

(2) To establish objectives and draw up a business strategy for achieving them. Consistent with the institution’s objectives, business plans should be established to direct its on-going activities. The board should ensure that performance against plan is regularly reviewed, with corrective action taken as needed.

(3) To conduct the affairs of the institution with high degree of integrity. Since reputation is a very valuable asset, it is in the institution’s best interest that in dealings with the public, it observes a high standard of integrity. The board of directors should prescribe corporate values, codes of conduct and other standards of appropriate behaviour for itself, the senior management and other employees. Among others, activities and transactions that could result or potentially result in conflict of interest, personal gain at the expense of the institution, or unethical conduct shall be strictly prohibited. It should provide policies that will prevent the use of the facilities of the bank in furtherance of criminal and other illegal activities.

(4) To establish and ensure compliance with sound written policies. The compliance officer shall be vested with appropriate authority and provided with appropriate support and resources. It may also constitute a compliance committee.

d. Specific duties and responsibilities of a director

(1) To conduct fair business transactions with the bank and to ensure that personal interest does not bias board decisions. Directors should, whenever possible, avoid situations that would give rise to a conflict of interest. If transactions with the institution cannot be avoided, it should be done in the regular course of business and upon terms not less favorable to the institution than those offered to others. The basic principle to be observed is that a director should not use his position to make profit or to acquire benefit or advantage for himself and/or his related interests. He should avoid situations that would compromise his impartiality.

(2) To act honestly and in good faith, with loyalty and in the best interest of the institution, its stockholders, regardless of the amount of their stockholdings, and other stakeholders such as its depositors, investors, borrowers, other clients and the general public. A director must always act in good faith, with the care which an ordinarily prudent man would exercise under similar circumstances. While a director should always strive to promote the interest of all stockholders, he should also give due regard to the rights and interests of other stakeholders.

(3) To devote time and attention necessary to properly discharge their duties and responsibilities. Directors should devote sufficient time to familiarize themselves with the institution’s business. They must be constantly aware of the institution’s condition and be knowledgeable enough to contribute meaningfully to the board’s work. They must attend and actively participate in board and committee meetings, request and review meeting materials, ask questions, and request explanations. If a person cannot give sufficient time and attention to the affairs of the institution, he should neither accept his nomination nor run for election as member of the board.

(4) To act judiciously. Before deciding on any matter brought before the board of directors, every director should thoroughly evaluate the issues, ask questions and seek clarifications when necessary.

(5) To exercise independent judgment. A director should view each problem/situation objectively. When a disagreement with others occurs, he should carefully evaluate the situation and state his position. He should not be afraid to take a position even though it might be unpopular. Corollarily, he should support plans and ideas that he thinks will be beneficial to the institution.

(6) To have a working knowledge of the statutory and regulatory requirements affecting the institution, including the content of its articles of incorporation and by-laws, the requirements of the BSP and where applicable, the requirements of other regulatory agencies. A director should also keep himself informed of the industry developments and business trends in order to safeguard the institution’s competitiveness.

(7) To observe confidentiality. Directors must observe the confidentiality of non-public information acquired by reason of their position as directors. They may not disclose said information to any other person without the authority of the board.

§ X143.4 Disqualification procedures

a. The board of directors and management of every institution shall be responsible for determining the existence of the ground for disqualification of the institution’s director/officer or employee and for reporting the same to the BSP. While the concerned institution may conduct its own investigation and impose appropriate sanctions as are allowable, this shall be without prejudice to the authority of the Monetary Board to disqualify a director/officer/employee from being elected/appointed as director/officer in any FI under the supervision of the BSP.

Grounds for disqualification made known to the institution, shall be reported to the appropriate department of the SES within seventy-two (72) hours from knowledge thereof.

b. On the basis of knowledge and evidence on the existence of any of the grounds for disqualification mentioned in Subsecs. X143.1 and X143.2, the director or officer concerned shall be notified in writing either by personal service or through registered mail with registry return receipt card at his/her last known address by the appropriate department of the SES of the existence of the ground for his/her disqualification and shall be allowed to submit within fifteen (15) calendar days from receipt of such notice an explanation on why he/she should not be disqualified and included in the watchlisted file, together with the evidence in support of his/her position. The head of said department may allow an extension on meritorious ground.

c. Upon receipt of the reply explanation of the director/officer concerned, the appropriate department of the SES shall proceed to evaluate the case. The director/officer concerned shall be afforded the opportunity to defend/clear himself/herself.

d. If no reply has been received from the director/officer concerned upon the expiration of the period prescribed under Item “b” above, said failure to reply shall be deemed a waiver and the appropriate department of the SES shall proceed to evaluate the case based on available records/evidence.

e. If the ground for disqualification is delinquency in the payment of obligation, the concerned director or officer shall be given a period of thirty (30) calendar days within which to settle said obligation or, restore it to its current status or, to explain why he/she should not be disqualified and included in the watchlisted file, before the

f. For directors/officers of closed banks, the concerned department of the SES shall make appropriate recommendation to the Monetary Board clearing said directors/officers when there is no pending case/complaint or evidence against them. When there is evidence that a director/officer has committed irregularity, the appropriate department of the SES shall make recommendation to the Monetary Board that his/her case be referred to the Office of Special Investigation (OSI) for further investigation and that he/she be included in the masterlist of temporarily disqualified persons until the final resolution of his/her case. Directors/officers with pending cases/complaints shall also be included in said masterlist of temporarily disqualified persons upon approval by the Monetary Board until the final resolution of their cases. If the director/officer is cleared from involvement in any irregularity, the appropriate department of the SES shall recommend to the Monetary Board his/her delisting. On the other hand, if the director/officer concerned is found to be responsible for the closure of the institution, the concerned department of the SES shall recommend to the Monetary Board his/her delisting from the masterlist of temporarily disqualified persons and his/her inclusion in the masterlist of permanently disqualified persons.

g. If the disqualification is based on dismissal from employment for cause, the appropriate department of the SES shall, as much as practicable, endeavor to establish the specific acts or omissions constituting the offense or the ultimate facts which resulted in the dismissal to be able to determine if the disqualification of the director/officer concerned is warranted or not. The evaluation of the case shall be made for the purpose of determining if disqualification would be appropriate and not for the purpose of passing judgment on the findings and decision of the entity concerned. The appropriate department of the SES may decide to recommend to the Monetary Board a penalty lower than disqualification (e.g., reprimand, suspension, etc.) if, in its judgment the act committed or omitted by the director/officer concerned does not warrant disqualification.

h. All other cases of disqualification, whether permanent or temporary shall be elevated to the Monetary Board for approval and shall be subject to the procedures provided in Items “a”, “b”, “c” and “d” above.

i. Upon approval by the Monetary Board, the concerned director/officer shall be informed by the appropriate department of the SES in writing either by personal service or through registered mail with registry return receipt card, at his/her last known address of his/her disqualification from being elected/appointed as director/officer in any FI under the supervision of BSP and/or of his/her inclusion in the masterlist of watchlisted persons so disqualified.

j. The board of directors of the concerned institution shall be immediately informed of cases of disqualification approved by the Monetary Board and shall be directed to act thereon not later than the following board meeting. Within seventy-two (72) hours thereafter, the corporate secretary shall report to the Governor of the BSP through the appropriate department of the SES the action taken by the board on the director/officer involved.

k. Persons who are elected or appointed as director or officer in any of the BSP-supervised institutions for the first time but are subject to any of the grounds for disqualification provided for under Subsecs. X143.1 and X143.2, shall be

b. Inclusion of directors/officers/employees in the watchlist. Directors/officers/employees disqualified under Subsec. X143.4 shall be included in the watchlist disqualification files “A” or “B”.

c. Confidentiality. Watchlist files shall be for internal use only of the BSP and may not be accessed or queried upon by outside parties including banks, QBs and trust entities except with the authority of the person concerned and the approval of the Deputy Governor, SES or the Governor of the Monetary Board. BSP will disclose information on its watchlist files only upon submission of a duly accomplished and notarized authorization from the concerned person and approval of such request by the Deputy Governor, SES or the Governor or the Monetary Board. The prescribed authorization form to be submitted to the concerned department of SES is in Appendix 76.

Banks can gain access to information in the said watchlist for the sole purpose of screening their applicants for hiring and/or confirming their elected directors and appointed officers. Banks must obtain the said authorization on an individual basis.

Sec. X145 Interlocking Directorships and/or Officerships. In order to safeguard against the excessive concentration of economic power, unfair competitive advantage or conflict of interest situations to the detriment of others through the exercise by the same person or group of persons of undue influence over the policy-making and/or management functions of similar FIs while at the same time allowing banks, QBs and non-bank financial institutions (NBFIs) without quasi-banking functions to benefit from organizational synergy or economies of scale and effective sharing of managerial and technical expertise, the following regulations shall govern interlocking directorships and/or officerships within the financial system consisting of banks, QBs and NBFIs.

For purposes of this Section, QBs shall refer to investment houses, finance companies, trust entities and all other NBFIs with quasi-banking functions while NBFIs shall refer to investment houses, finance companies, trust entities, insurance companies, securities dealers/brokers, credit card companies, non-stock savings and loan associations (NSSLAs), holding companies, investment companies, government NBFIs, asset management companies, insurance agencies/brokers, venture capital corporations, FX dealers, money changers, lending investors, pawnshops, fund managers, mutual building and loan associations, remittance agents and all other NBFIs without quasi-banking functions.

a. Interlocking directorships

While concurrent directorship may be the least prejudicial of the various relationship cited in this Section to the interests of the FIs involved, certain measures are still necessary to safeguard against the disadvantages that could result from indiscriminate concurrent directorship.

(1) Except as may be authorized by the Monetary Board or as otherwise provided hereunder, there shall be no concurrent directorships between banks or between a bank and a QB.

(2) Without the need for prior approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent directorships between entities not involving an investment house shall be allowed in the following cases:

(a) Banks not belonging to the same category: Provided, That not more than one (1) Bank shall have quasi-banking functions;
(b) A bank and an NBFI;
(c) A bank without quasi-banking functions and a QB; and
(d) A bank and one (1) or more of its subsidiary bank/s, QB/s and NBFI/s.

For purposes of the foregoing, a husband and his wife shall be considered as one (1) person.

b. Interlocking directorships and officerships

In order to prevent any conflict of interest resulting from the exercise of directorship coupled with the reinforcing influence of an officer’s decision-making and implementing powers, the following rules shall be observed:

(1) Except as may be authorized by the Monetary Board or as otherwise provided hereunder, there shall be no concurrent directorship and officership between banks or between a bank and a QB or an NBFI; and

(2) Without the need for prior approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent directorship and officership between a bank and one (1) or more of its subsidiary bank/s, QB/s and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s, shall be allowed.

c. Interlocking officerships

A concurrent officership in different FIs may present more serious problems of self-dealing and conflict of interest. Multiple positions may result in poor governance or unfair competitive advantage. Considering the full-time nature of officer positions, the difficulties of serving two (2) offices at the same time, and the need for effective and efficient management, the following rules shall be observed:

As a general rule, there shall be no concurrent officerships, including secondments, between banks or, between a bank and a QB or an NBFI. For this purpose, secondment shall refer to the transfer/detachment of a person from his regular organization for temporary assignment elsewhere where the seconded employee remains the employee of the home employer although his salaries and other remuneration may be borne by the host organization.

However, subject to prior approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent officerships, including secondments, may be allowed in the following cases:

(1) Between a bank and not more than two (2) of its subsidiary bank/s, QB/s, and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s or

(2) Between a bank and not more than two (2) of its subsidiary QB/s and NBFI/s; or

(3) Between two (2) banks, or between a bank and a QB or an NBFI, other than an investment house: Provided, That at least twenty percent (20%) of the equity of each of the banks, QBs and NBFI/s is owned by a holding company or a bank/QB and the interlocking arrangement is necessary for the holding company or the bank/QB to provide technical expertise or managerial assistance to its subsidiaries/affiliates.

Aforementioned concurrent officerships may be allowed, subject to the following conditions:

(a) that the positions do not involve any functional conflict of interests;

(b) that any officer holding the positions of president, chief executive officer, chief operating officer or chief financial officer or their equivalent may not be concurrently appointed to any of said positions or their equivalent;

(c) that the officer involved, or his spouse or any of his relatives within the first degree of consanguinity or affinity or by legal adoption, or a corporation, association or firm wholly- or majority-owned or controlled by such officer or his relatives enumerated above, does not own in his/its own capacity more than twenty percent (20%) of the subscribed capital stock of the entities in which the bank has equity investments; and

(d) that where any of the positions involved is held on full-time basis, adequate justification shall be submitted to the Monetary Board; or

(4) Concurrent officership positions in the same capacity which do not involve management functions, i.e., internal auditor, corporate secretary, assistant corporate secretary and security officer, between a bank and one or more of its subsidiary QBs and NBFI/s, or between bank/s, QB/s and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s: Provided, That at least twenty percent (20%) of the equity of each of the banks, QBs and NBFI/s is owned by a holding company or by any of the banks/ QBs within the group.

For purposes of this Section, members of a group or committee, including sub-groups or sub-committees, whose duties include functions of management such as those ordinarily performed by regular officers, shall likewise be considered as officers.

It shall be the responsibility of the Corporate Governance Committee to conduct an annual performance evaluation of the board of directors and senior management. When a director or officer has multiple positions, the Committee should determine whether or not said director or officer is able to and has been adequately carrying out his/her duties and, if necessary, recommend changes to the board based on said performance review.

§ X145.1 Representatives of government. The provisions of this Section shall apply to persons appointed to such positions as representatives of the government or government-owned or controlled entities unless otherwise provided under existing laws.

(As amended by Circular No. 592 dated 28 December 2007)

Sec. X146 Profit Sharing Programs. Profit sharing programs adopted in favor of directors, officers and employees shall be reflected in the by-laws of the bank, subject to the following guidelines:

a. The base in any profit sharing program shall be the net income for the year of the bank as shown in its Consolidated Statement of Income and Expenses for the year, net of the following:

1. All cumulative dividends accruing to preferred stock to the extent not covered by earned surplus;
2. Accrued interest receivable credited to income but not yet collected, net of reserves already set up for uncollected interest on loans;
3. Unbooked valuation reserves on loans or the amount required to update valuation reserves in accordance with the schedule approved by the Monetary Board, as well as all amortizations due on deferred charges;
4. Provisions for current year’s taxes;
5. Income tax deferred for the year.

Provided, however, That in case of reversal of deferred income taxes which were deducted from net income in computing for profit sharing of previous years, the deferred income tax reversed to expense shall be added back to net income to arrive at the base for profit sharing for the year during which the reversal is made;

6. Accumulated profits not yet received but already recorded by a bank representing its share in profits of its subsidiaries under the equity method of accounting; and

b. The bank may provide in its by-laws for other priorities in the computation of net profits for purposes of profit sharing: Provided, That in no case shall profit sharing take precedence over any of the items in the preceding paragraph; and

c. Prior approval of the Monetary Board shall be necessary before a bank which has received financial assistance from the BSP may implement its profit sharing program. Financial assistance shall refer to emergency loans and advances and such other forms of credit accommodations which are intended to provide banks with liquidity in times of need.

Sec. X147 Compensation and Other Benefits of Directors and Officers. To protect the funds of depositors and creditors, the Monetary Board may regulate/restrict the payment by the bank of compensation, allowances, fees, bonuses, stock options, profit sharing and fringe benefits to its directors and officers in exceptional cases and when the circumstances warrant, such as, but not limited to, the following:

a. When the bank is under controllership, conservatorship or when it has outstanding emergency loans and advances and such other forms of credit accommodation from the BSP which are intended to provide it with liquidity in times of need;
b. When the institution is found by the Monetary Board to be conducting business in an unsafe or unsound manner;

c. When it is found by the Monetary Board to be in an unsatisfactory financial condition such as, but not limited to, the following cases:

   (1) Its capital is impaired;
   (2) It has suffered continuous losses from operations for the past three (3) years;
   (3) Its composite CAMELS rating in the latest examination is below "3"; and
   (4) It is under rehabilitation by the BSP/PDIC which rehabilitation may include debt-to-equity conversion, etc.

In the presence of any one (1) or more of the circumstances mentioned above, the Monetary Board may impose the following restrictions in the compensation and other benefits of directors and officers:

a. In the case of profit sharing, the provision of Sec. 146 shall be observed except that for purposes of this Section, the total amount of unbooked valuation reserves and deferred charges shall be deducted from the net income.

b. Except for the financial assistance to meet expenses for the medical, maternity, education and other emergency needs of the directors or officers or their immediate family, the other forms of financial assistance may be suspended.

c. When the total compensation package including salaries, allowances, fees and bonuses of directors and officers are significantly excessive as compared with peer group averages, the Monetary Board may order their reduction to reasonable levels: Provided, That even if a bank is in financial trouble, it may nevertheless be allowed to grant relatively higher salary packages in order to attract competent officers and quality staff as part of its rehabilitation program.

The foregoing provisions founded on Section 18 of R.A. No. 8791 shall be deemed part of the benefits and compensation programs of banks.

Sec. X148 (Reserved)

Sec. X149 Conducting Business in an Unsafe/Unsound Manner. Whether a particular activity may be considered as conducting business in an unsafe or unsound manner, all relevant facts must be considered. An analysis of the impact thereof on the bank’s operations and financial conditions must be undertaken, including evaluation of capital position, asset condition, management, earnings posture and liquidity position.

In determining whether a particular act or omission, which is not otherwise prohibited by any law, rule or regulation affecting banks, may be deemed as conducting business in an unsafe or unsound manner, the Monetary Board, upon report of the head of the supervising or examining department based on findings in an examination or a complaint, shall consider any of the following circumstances:

a. The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage, or abnormal risk or danger to the safety, stability, liquidity or solvency of the institution;

N. RISK MANAGEMENT

Sec. X173 Supervision by Risks. The guidelines on supervision by risk to provide guidance on how banks should identify, measure, monitor and control risks are shown in Appendix 72.

The guidelines set forth the expectations of the BSP with respect to the management of risks and are intended to provide more consistency in how the risk-focused supervision function is applied to these risks. The BSP will review the risks to ensure that a bank’s internal risk management processes are integrated and comprehensive. All banks should follow the guidelines in their risk management efforts.

Sec. X174 Market Risk Management. The guidelines on market risk management in Appendix 73 set forth the expectations of the BSP with respect to the management of market risk and are intended to provide more consistency in how the risk-focused supervision function is applied to this risk. Banks are expected to have an integrated approach to risk management to identify, measure, monitor and control risks. Market risk should be reviewed together with other risks to determine overall risk profile.

The BSP is aware of the increasing diversity of financial products and that industry techniques for measuring and managing market risk are continuously evolving. As such, the guidelines are intended for general application; specific application will depend to some extent on the size, complexity and range of activities undertaken by individual banks.

The guidelines on risk management for derivatives are shown in Appendix 25.

Sec. X175 Liquidity Risk Management

The guidelines on liquidity risk management in Appendix 74 set forth the expectations of the BSP with respect to the management of liquidity risk and are intended to provide more consistency in how the risk-focused supervision function is applied to this risk. Banks are expected to have an integrated approach to risk management to identify, measure, monitor and control risks. Liquidity risk should be reviewed together with other risks to determine overall risk profile.

The guidelines are intended for general application; specific application will depend on the size and sophistication of a particular bank and the nature and complexity of its activities.

The guidelines on risk management for derivatives are shown in Appendix 25.

Sec. X176 Technology Risk Management

The guidelines on technology risk management to ensure that banks have the knowledge and skills necessary to understand and effectively manage their technology-related risks are in Appendix 75.

The guidelines contain two (2) main parts. The first outlines the primary risk related to the bank’s use of technology and the second describes a risk management process on how banks should manage these risks. Key points include the following:
a. The use of technology-related products, services, delivery channels and processes exposes a bank to various risks, particularly Operational, Reputation, Compliance and Strategic risk.

b. Banks are expected to have an integrated approach to risk management to identify, measure, monitor, and control risks. Technology-related risks should be reviewed together with other bank risks to determine the bank’s overall risk profile.

c. In using technology, bank management should engage a rigorous analytic process to identify and quantify risks, to the extent possible, and to establish risk controls to manage risk exposures.

d. Technology-related risk management process involves three (3) essential elements:
   1. Planning
   2. Implementing
   3. Measuring and monitoring performance

   These elements are critical to an effective technology-related risk management process of a well-managed bank, regardless of size.

   The guidelines on risk management and internal control are shown in Subsec. X705.2.

      1. The compliance program shall enable the bank to identify the relevant Philippine laws and regulations, analyze the corresponding risks of non-compliance, and prioritize the compliance risks (e.g., low, medium, high).
      2. The program shall provide for periodic compliance testing with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. Testing frequency shall be commensurate with identified risk levels (e.g., annual testing for low-risk, quarterly testing for medium-risk, monthly testing for high-risk). It shall also provide for the reporting of compliance findings noted to appropriate levels of management.
      3. The program shall establish the responsibilities and duties of the compliance officer and other personnel (if any) involved in the compliance function.
      4. A copy of the compliance program and the written approval of the board of directors shall be submitted to the appropriate department of the SES within twenty (20) banking days from date of approval.

d. Continuous monitoring and assessment of the compliance program.

The program shall provide for the periodic review of the compliance function to measure its effectiveness. The review may be carried out by the internal audit department of the bank.

The compliance program may operate parallel to or as part of a bank’s internal control and auditing program.

§ X180.2 (2008 - X170.2) Compliance officer

d. All UBs/KBs, as well as TBs and RBs/Coop Banks with total resources of P500 million and above, shall appoint an independent full-time compliance officer, who shall have the rank of at least a vice president or its equivalent.

e. For TBs and RBs/Coop Banks with total resources of below P500 million, an incumbent senior officer may be designated concurrently as the bank’s compliance officer: Provided, That such designation will not give rise to any conflict of interest situation and that the main function of the senior officer shall be that of a compliance officer.

The internal auditor of a bank may also be designated as its compliance officer subject to the condition that his main function shall be that of a compliance officer.

Transitory Provision. Compliance officers concurrently holding the position of Head of Internal Audit or Internal Auditor shall be given one (1) year from 02 February 2008 within which to comply with this Subsection.

§ X180.3 (2008 - X170.3) Compliance risk. Compliance risk is the risk of legal or regulatory sanctions, financial loss, or loss to reputation a bank may suffer as a result of its failure to comply with all applicable laws, regulations, codes of conduct and standards of good practice.

§ X180.4 (2008 - X170.4) Responsibilities of the board of directors and senior management on compliance. Aside from the duties and responsibilities of the board of directors mentioned under Subsec. X141.3, the board should oversee the implementation of the compliance policy and ensure that compliance issues are resolved expeditiously. Senior management should be responsible for establishing a compliance policy, ensuring that it is observed, reporting to the board of directors on its ongoing implementation and assessing its effectiveness and appropriateness. Senior management should, at least once a year, report to the board of directors or a committee of the board on matters relevant to the compliance policy and its implementation, recommending any required changes to the policy. The report should assist the board members in making an informed assessment as to whether the institution is managing its compliance risk effectively. However, any material breaches of laws, rules and standards shall be reported promptly.

§ X180.5 (2008 - X170.5) Status. The compliance function should have a formal status within the organization established by a charter or other formal document approved by the board of directors that defines the compliance function's standing, authority and independence, and addresses the following issues:

(1) measures to ensure the independence of the compliance function from the business activities of the bank;
(2) its role and responsibilities;
(3) its relationship with other functions or units within the organization;
(4) its right to obtain access to information necessary to carry out its responsibilities;
(5) its right to conduct investigations of possible breaches of the compliance policy;
(6) its formal reporting relationships to senior management and the board of directors; and
(7) its right of direct access to the board of directors or an appropriate committee of the board.

The compliance charter or other formal document defining the status of the compliance function shall be communicated throughout the organization.

§ X180.6 (2008 - X170.6) Independence

The compliance function should be independent from the business activities of the institution. It should be able to carry out its responsibilities on its own initiative in all units or departments where compliance risk exists and must be provided with sufficient resources to carry out its responsibilities effectively. It must be free to report to senior management and the board or a committee of the board on any irregularities or breaches of laws, rules and standards discovered, without fear of retaliation or disfavor from management or other affected parties. The compliance function should have access to all operational areas as well as any records or files necessary to enable it to carry out its duties and responsibilities.

§ X180.7 (2008 - X170.7) Role and responsibilities of the compliance function. The role and responsibilities of the compliance function should be clearly defined. If there is a division of duties and responsibilities between different functions such as legal, compliance, internal audit or risk management, the allocation of duties and responsibilities to each function should be properly delineated. There should likewise be formal arrangements for cooperation between each function and for the exchange of relevant information.

§ X180.8 (2008 - X170.8) Cross-border compliance issues. The compliance function for institutions that conduct business in other jurisdictions should be structured to ensure that local compliance concerns are satisfactorily addressed within the framework of the compliance policy for the organization as a whole. As there are significant differences in legislative and regulatory frameworks across countries or from jurisdiction to jurisdiction, compliance issues specific to each jurisdiction should be coordinated within the structure of the institution's group-wide compliance policy. The organization and structure of the compliance function and its responsibilities should be in accordance with local legal and regulatory requirements.

Banks should establish policies for managing the risks associated with outsourcing activities. Outsourcing of services/activities can reduce the institution’s risk profile by transferring activities to others with the necessary expertise to manage the risks associated with specialized business activities. However, the use of third parties does not diminish the responsibility of the board of directors and senior management to ensure that the outsourced activity is conducted in a safe and sound manner and in compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

Compliance risk assessment and testing may be outsourced, subject to appropriate oversight by the compliance officer: Provided, That a copy of the outsourcing agreement stating the duties and responsibilities as well as rights and obligations of the contracting parties, which agreement shall be approved by the board of directors of the institution concerned, must be submitted to the appropriate department of the SES at least thirty (30) days prior to its execution to enable review of its compliance with existing regulations on outsourcing of banking functions.

The service level agreement shall ensure a clear allocation of responsibilities between the external service providers and the bank. Furthermore, the outsourcing bank should manage residual risks associated with outsourcing arrangements, including default, operational failures, and possible disruption of services.

No. 8791, the Monetary Board may require a bank to engage the services of an independent auditor to be chosen by the bank concerned from a list of CPAs acceptable to the Monetary Board.

It is the policy of the BSP to promote high ethical and professional standards in public accounting practice and to encourage coordination and sharing of information between external auditors and regulatory authorities of banks, QBs, trust entities and/or NSSLAs to ensure effective audit and supervision of these institutions and to avoid unnecessary duplication of efforts. In furtherance of this policy and to ensure that reliance by regulatory authorities and the public on the opinion of external auditors is well placed, the BSP hereby prescribes the rules and regulations that shall govern the selection, appointment, reporting requirements and delisting for external auditors of banks, QBs, trust entities, NSSLAs, their subsidiaries and affiliates engaged in allied activities and other FIs which under special laws are subject to BSP supervision.

The SES shall make an annual assessment of the performance of external auditors and will recommend deletion from the list even prior to the three (3)-year renewal period, if based on assessment, the external auditors’ report did not comply with BSP requirements.

External auditors who meet the requirements specified in this Section shall be included in the list of BSP selected external auditors. In case of partnership, inclusion in the list of BSP selected external auditors shall apply to the audit firm only and not to the individual signing partners or auditors under its employment.

The BSP will circularize to all banks, QBs, trust entities and NSSLAs the list of selected external auditors once a year. The BSP, however, shall not be liable for any damage or loss that may arise from its selection of the external auditors to be engaged by banks, QBs, trust entities or NSSLAs for regular audit or special engagements.

The country head shall likewise submit a report on the action taken by management on the LOC within thirty (30) banking days after receipt thereof. The LOC shall be accompanied by the certification of the external auditor of the date of its submission to the board of directors or country head, as the case may be.

Government-owned or-controlled banks, including their subsidiaries and affiliates, as well as other FIs under BSP supervision which are under the concurrent jurisdiction of the Commission on Audit (COA) shall be exempt from the aforementioned annual financial audit by an acceptable external auditor: Provided, That when warranted by supervisory concern such as material weakness/breach in internal control and/or risk management systems, the Monetary Board may, upon recommendation of the appropriate department of the SES, require the financial audit to be conducted by an external auditor acceptable to the BSP, at the expense of the institution concerned: Provided, further, That when circumstances such as, but not limited to loans from multilateral FIs, privatization, or public listing warrant, the financial audit of the institution concerned by an acceptable external auditor may also be allowed.

Banks and other FIs under the concurrent jurisdiction of the BSP and COA shall, however, submit a copy of the annual audit report (AAR) of the COA to the appropriate department of the SES within thirty (30) banking days after receipt of the report by the board of directors. The AAR shall be accompanied by the: (1) certification by the institution concerned on the date of receipt of the AAR by the board of directors; (2) reconciliation statement between the AFS in the AAR and the balance sheet and income statement of bank proper (regular and FCDU) and trust department submitted to the BSP, including copies of adjusting entries on the reconciling items; and (3) other information that may be required by the BSP.

The board of directors of said institutions, in a regular or special meeting, shall consider and act on the AAR, as well as on the comments and observations and shall submit, within thirty (30) banking days after receipt of the report, a copy of its resolution to the appropriate department of the SES. The resolution shall show the action(s) taken on the report, including on the comments and observations and the names of the directors present and absent, among other things.

The financial audit report required to be submitted shall in all respect be PFRS/PAS compliant: Provided, That banks shall submit to the BSP adjusting entries reconciling the balances in the financial statements for prudential reporting with that in the audited annual financial statements.

Banks as well as external auditors shall strictly observe the requirements in the submission of the financial audit report and reports required to be submitted under Appendix 61.

The reports and certifications of institutions concerned, schedules and attachments required under this Subsec. shall be considered Category B reports, delayed submission of which shall be subject to the penalties under Subsec. X192.2b(1)b.

The auditing firm(s) shall be blacklisted by the Monetary Board for a period as the Board may deem appropriate for their failure to perform their duty of reporting to the BSP any matter adversely affecting the condition or soundness of the bank. b. In conduit arrangements, caps shall be set on the net clearing losses to be passed on to the conduit KB by the conduit TB.

To address the settlement risks, the pro-forma conduit arrangement should include provisions setting aforementioned cap on the net clearing losses. The cap is defined as the combined value of the following amounts:

(2) the value of collateralized overdraft line that may be extended by the conduit KB to the conduit TB.

Parties to existing conduit arrangements shall have thirty (30) days from 08 April 1998 to comply with the above requirement.

c. For TBs authorized to participate in the PCHC and BSP check clearing operations, ceilings for clearing losses not covered by interbank borrowings shall be established and unwinding of the clearing transactions shall be authorized when the ceilings are breached.

(1) The proposed ceiling is defined as the collateralized overnight clearing line that will be extended by BSP. Every TB authorized to participate directly in the clearing operations of PCHC should apply for this line with the appropriate department of the SES. The availments against the approved loan line shall bear interest at the ninety-one (91)-day Treasury Bill rate of the last auction immediately preceding the availments.

(2) Procedures for unwinding shall apply to all inward items, other than Returned Items and to local exchanges only.

(3) The aggregate value of all inward items of all clearing centers, including On Manila clearing demands presented to PCHC, shall be ranked from highest to lowest. The unsettled net clearing losses shall be eliminated by unwinding the inward items starting from the clearing centers, including PCHC, with highest aggregate value.

(4) In case the aggregate value of the inward items for a given clearing center, except PCHC, exceeds the unsettled net clearing losses, the total inward items for that clearing center shall be the subject of unwinding.

(5) In the case of checks cleared through PCHC, the inward clearing items shall be unwound to the extent of the unsettled net clearing loss. The selection of the specific demand items to be covered by unwinding shall be based on PCHC rules.

(6) Checks which are the subject of the unwound clearing transactions shall be returned to the presenting banks not later than 9:00 A.M. of the following clearing day.

d. TBs authorized to participate directly in the clearing in PCHC and BSP regional clearing centers shall be subject to the following measures to manage the settlement risks:

the value date or settlement date referred to herein shall be defined uniformly as the next clearing day when dishonored checks are returned within the reglementary period, reckoned after the date of presentation for local clearing in the integrated Manila Clearing area for PCHC and in all BSP regional clearing centers. For inter-regional clearing items, outward Manila clearing items and to Manila clearing items, the value or settlement date shall be defined in clearing circulars to be issued by BSP.

(2) A ceiling shall be set on the amount of overdraft a TB authorized to accept demand deposits may incur due to failure to cover clearing losses through interbank borrowings. The ceiling is defined as the collateralized overnight clearing line that will be extended by BSP DLC. The availments against the approved loan line shall bear interest at the ninety-one (91)-day Treasury Bill (T-Bill) rate of the last auction immediately preceding the availments.

(3) Should the overdraft exceed the ceiling, the BSP Accounting Department is authorized to instruct the PCHC and the BSP regional clearing centers to unwind the clearing transactions following the procedures defined in Item “c” of this Section.

The operating guidelines implementing Items “c” and “d” of this Section are in Appendix 31.

e. Any overdraft incurred under Section 102 of R.A. No. 7653 may be converted into an emergency loan or advance provided it complies with the guidelines governing the grant of emergency loans under Subsec. X272.2.

F. GOVERNMENT DEPOSITS

Sec. X240 Statement of Policy. As a general policy, cash balances of the Government, its political subdivisions and instrumentalities as well as of government-owned or controlled corporations shall be deposited with the BSP, with only minimum working balances to be held by government-owned banks and such other banks incorporated in the Philippines as the Monetary Board may designate: Provided, That such banks may be authorized by the Monetary Board to hold deposits of the political subdivisions and instrumentalities of the Government beyond their minimum working balances whenever such subdivisions and instrumentalities have outstanding loans with said banks.

b. Minimum working balances shall represent the minimum amounts necessary to enable the government instrumentality/political subdivision making the deposit to transact business efficiently and effectively as determined by the Department of Finance.

§ X240.1 Prior Monetary Board approval. No private bank shall, without prior approval of the Monetary Board, accept, as depository, any fund or money from the Government, its political subdivisions and instrumentalities, and government-owned or-controlled corporations; nor shall a private bank borrow any fund or money therefrom, through the issuance or sale of its acceptances, notes or other evidences of indebtedness.

§ X240.2 Banks which may accept government funds

a. Banks, the majority of the capital of which is owned by the Government, may act as depository of funds of the Government, its political subdivisions and instrumentalities, and government-owned or-controlled corporations.

b. Private banks incorporated in the Philippines may act as depository of government funds only with the prior approval of the BSP. Local government units may maintain depository accounts preferably in government banks and, in exceptional cases and with the prior approval of the Monetary Board, in the name of their respective government units, in private banks located in or nearest to their respective areas of jurisdiction but the depository bank(s) must also seek the prior approval of the BSP: Provided, That a TB/RB/Coop Bank may only act as official depository of government funds pursuant to R.A. Nos. 7906, 7353 and 6938, as impractical or risky, the province, as well as cities and municipalities located therein, may seek approval of the Monetary Board to consider all their funds eligible for deposits with a qualified private depository bank within the province, city or municipality, as the case may be.

d. Banks acting as official depository of government funds may accept demand, savings or time deposits.

e. The authority of a bank to accept government deposits does not obligate the Government, its subdivisions and instrumentalities and government-owned or-controlled corporations to deposit with that bank. Thus, even if a TB or RB is authorized by the Monetary Board to accept government deposits, a municipality is not obligated to deposit with that TB or RB.
Similarly, a bank which is authorized to accept deposits of the Government or a government corporation because of outstanding loans granted by the bank cannot demand as a matter of right that the Government or government corporation make deposits unless there is a stipulation in the loan agreement.

Banks authorized to accept government funds as depository shall continuously comply with the conditions enumerated under Subsec. X240.3 even after the authority to accept government deposits has been granted and during the period while the banks actually hold government deposits, otherwise, any violation may be a basis for the imposition of sanctions against the bank, its directors and officers, or revocation of the authority to accept government deposits.

Deposits maintained by the Government, its subdivisions and instrumentalities and government-owned or-controlled corporations shall be supported by the following documents whenever applicable:

a. A copy of the resolution of the barangay, municipal or city council (Sangguniang Bayan/Panglunsod) or the provincial board (Sangguniang Panlalawigan) authorizing the deposit of municipal, city or provincial funds;

The amount of non-transferable and non-negotiable government securities with market or below market interest rate at the time of issue, issued by the National Government to the depository bank shall be considered as “outstanding loans” of the National Government to said bank within the meaning of Section 113 of R.A. No. 7653.

b. The aggregate amount of government funds which a private bank can hold at any given time shall not exceed 200% of the bank’s net worth.
c. Where any director, officer or stockholder of a private bank, as defined under Subsec. X326.1, is also an elective or appointive official of a municipality, city or province, said bank is prohibited from accepting deposits from said municipality, city or province unless it is the only bank existing therein. Provided, That this provision shall not be construed as a grant of authority to such elective or appointive public official to act as director or officer of a private bank.

§ X240.6 Liquidity floor. Unless otherwise prescribed by the Monetary Board, authorized government depository banks other than the BSP, and authorized private banks shall, inclusive of the required reserves against deposits and/or deposit substitutes, maintain a fifty percent (50%) liquidity floor with respect to deposits of, borrowings from, and all other liabilities to, the Government and government entities, in the form of transferable government securities which represent direct obligations of the National Government.

Any deficiency in the liquidity reserves shall continue to be in the forms or modes prescribed under existing regulations for the composition of required reserves.

Sec. X254 Composition of Reserves. The composition of the required reserves shall be as follows:

a. Deposits with the BSP. At least twenty-five percent (25%) shall be in the form of deposits with the BSP.

b. Government securities and cash in vault. The remaining portion of the required reserves may be held by all banks in the form of cash in vault and/or government securities or evidences of indebtedness of the Republic of the Philippines.

To support the implementation of the provisions of Subsecs. X343.3 and X601.3, the cash-in-vault (CIV) component of available reserves shall be based on the actual CIV balance outstanding one (1) banking day lag, for purposes of computing the reserve position of the current day.

1. The securities must bear an interest rate of not more than four percent (4%) per annum, must be non-negotiable and shall carry BSP support; and

The securities held as reserves under Item “b” and last paragraph of Sec. X253 shall be valued at cost of acquisition and the bank may freely alter its composition: Provided, That any substitution or acquisition satisfies the eligibility requirements prescribed above: Provided, further, That the bank notifies the BSP of any such change in the prescribed forms not later than the reporting day following the change. Securities counted as reserves may not be hypothecated or encumbered in any way or earmarked for any other purpose without automatically losing their eligibility as reserves.

Only the buying/lending bank in an agreement covering eligible government securities may use such securities as reserves against deposits/deposit substitutes. Conversely, the selling/borrowing bank in a resale agreement covering eligible government securities may not use such securities as reserves against deposits/deposit substitutes.

The list of reserve-eligible and non-eligible securities may be found in Appendix 15. The reserve eligibility of government securities under the reverse repo operations of the BSP shall be suspended during the term of the reverse repo agreement.

The phrase non-reserve eligible shall be stamped on the face of the custodian receipt being issued by the BSP to buyer FIs.

§ X254.1 Allowable drawings against reserves. Deposit with the BSP to comply with reserve requirements are not regular current accounts. The use, therefore, of BSP checks for drawings against reserve deposits shall be limited to (a) settlement of obligations with the BSP, and (b) withdrawals to meet cash requirements.

§ X254.2 Exclusion of uncleared checks and other cash items. COCIs which have not been cleared yet through the Clearing Office should not be debited to the account Due from the BSP and should not be considered as available reserves against deposit/deposit substitute liabilities. Such items shall be debited to the COCIs account.

Only after the COCIs have been cleared through the Clearing Office can the bank debit the Due from the BSP account for said items.

§ X254.3 Interest income on reserve deposits. Deposits maintained by banks with the BSP up to forty percent (40%) of the reserve requirement (excluding the liquidity reserve mentioned in Subsec. X253.2 against the combined deposit and deposit substitute liabilities of banks allowed to be maintained in the form of short-term market yielding government securities purchased directly from the BSP Treasury Department) shall be paid interest at four percent (4%) per annum based on the average daily balance of said deposits to be credited quarterly.

In the implementation of the book entry system for transactions in government securities eligible for reserves, transactions concerning reserve-eligible securities shall be entered in the respective securities account of each bank with the BSP and shall be evidenced by securities account debit or credit advices to be promptly furnished the institution(s) concerned. No certificate shall be issued for any purpose. Transactions with third parties other than the BSP shall not be recognized.

Sec. X255 Exemptions from Reserve Requirements. The following shall be exempt from reserve requirements:

a. All collections credited to the special account “Due to BSP - Internal Revenue Account (Other Cities and Municipalities);”

b. STDs from the Agrarian Reform Fund Commission and special savings deposits from farmer-borrowers; and

c. Unclaimed balances of deposit liabilities already reported to the Treasurer of the Philippines in accordance with the Unclaimed Balances Act (Act No. 3936, as amended) and transferred/reclassified from the deposit liability/other credit accounts to the liability account “Due to the Treasurer of the Philippines”.

Local banks may deduct from the amount of their gross demand deposits, the total of their Due from Local Banks - Demand and Due from PNB - Clearing in an amount not exceeding the total of their Demand Deposits-Banks and Due to Local Banks. As used herein, the term gross demand deposits shall mean the sum of all individual deposits, including deposits made by other local banks, the Philippine Government, its political subdivisions and instrumentalities, and GOCCs.

Sec. X256 Computation of Reserve Position. The reserve position of any bank and the penalty on reserve deficiency shall be computed based on a seven (7)-day week, starting Friday and ending Thursday, including Saturdays, Sundays, public special/legal holidays, non-banking days, unexpected declared non-banking days or declared half-day holidays and days when there is no clearing: Provided, That with reference to public special/legal holidays, non-banking days, unexpected declared non-banking days, declared half-day holidays and days when there is no clearing, the reserve position as calculated at the close of the business day immediately preceding such public special/legal holidays, non-banking days and unexpected declared non-banking days and declared half-day holidays and days when there is no clearing, shall apply thereon. For this purpose, the principal office in the Philippines and all other banking offices located therein shall be treated as a single unit.

§ X256.1 Measurement of reserve requirement. The required reserves in the current period (reference reserve week) shall be computed based on the corresponding levels of deposit and deposit substitute liabilities of the prior week.

§§ X256.2 – X256.4 (Reserved)

§ X256.5 Guidelines in calculating and reporting to the Bangko Sentral the required reserves on deposit substitutes evidenced by repurchase agreements covering government securities

a. The SDC shall determine the maximum allowable amount of repo agreements covering government securities that will qualify for the reduced statutory reserve requirements of two percent (2%). It shall be based on the amount reported by banks in their weekly Consolidated Daily Report of Condition. The adjusted Tier 1 capital reported daily should approximate the quarterly adjusted Tier 1 capital as submitted by banks in compliance with the provisions of Sec. X115 or X116, as applicable.

b. Any material differences that may be noted by the SDC between the daily and the quarterly report shall be considered as erroneous reporting and shall be subject to the penalties under existing regulations. The SDC shall also make a re-run of its computation of the bank’s reserve position and in the event that the reserve position resulted to a reserve deficiency/ies, the corresponding penalties on reserve deficiencies shall also apply.

c. The lagged system in the measurement of a bank’s reserve requirement, as provided in Subsec. X256.1, shall also be adopted in the calculation of the two percent (2%) statutory reserve requirements for repo agreements covering government securities.

d. Deposit substitutes evidenced by repo agreements covering government securities in excess of the adjusted Tier 1 capital shall be treated as regular deposit substitutes and shall be subject to the regular statutory and liquidity reserve requirements under existing regulations.

Sec. X257 Reserve Deficiencies; Sanctions. Whenever the reserve position of any bank computed in the manner specified in Sec. X256 is below the required minimum, it shall pay the BSP one-tenth of one percent (1/10 of 1%) per day on the amount of the deficiency or the prevailing ninety-one (91) day T-Bill rate plus three (3) percentage points, whichever is higher: Provided, however, That a bank shall be permitted to offset any reserve deficiency occurring one (1) or more days of the week covered by the report against excess reserves which it may hold on other days of the same week, and shall be required to pay the penalty only on the average daily net deficiency during the week.
In case of abuse, a bank shall automatically lose the privilege of offsetting reserve deficiency in the aforesaid manner until such time that it maintains its daily reserve position at the required minimum for at least two (2) consecutive weeks.

As used in this Section, "abuse" in the privilege of offsetting reserve deficiencies against excess reserves shall mean having reserve deficiencies occurring four (4) or more times during any given week for two (2) consecutive weeks, whether or not resulting in net weekly deficiencies.

§ X257.1 Chronic reserve deficiency; penalties. In cases where the bank has chronic reserve deficiency in deposit/deposit substitute liabilities, the bank shall be denied the credit facilities of the BSP; and the Monetary Board may:

(a) limit or prohibit the making of new loans or investments by the bank; and

(b) prohibit the declaration of cash dividends. The board of directors of said bank shall be notified of such chronic reserve deficiency and the penalties therefor, and be required to immediately correct the reserve position of the bank.

As used in this Subsection, "chronic reserve deficiency" shall mean having net reserve deficiencies for two (2) consecutive weeks.

§ X257.2 Failure to cover overdrawings with the Bangko Sentral. Any bank which incurs an overdrawing in its deposit account with the BSP shall fully cover said overdraft not later than the next clearing day including interest thereon equivalent to one-tenth of one percent (1/10 of 1%) per day or the prevailing ninety-one (91) day T-Bill plus three (3) percentage points, whichever is higher. In case a bank fails to cover its overdrawings, it shall be excluded from clearing on such day and it shall also be denied the credit facilities of the BSP. Such exclusion from clearing shall continue for as long as it has not maintained credit balances with the BSP for at least five (5) consecutive banking days. If its clearing account is overdrawn for five (5) consecutive banking days, it shall be prohibited from (a) making new loans or investments, except investment in government securities with BSP support; (b) declaring cash dividends until it has maintained credit balances in its BSP clearing account for at least fifteen (15) consecutive banking days; and (c) establishing branches. The denial from availment of credit facilities of the BSP shall continue for as long as the bank maintained credit balances with the BSP for at least fifteen (15) consecutive banking days.

For purposes of computing the total available reserves against deposit/deposit substitute liabilities, the total amount of overdrawing in the clearing account with the BSP shall be deducted from available reserves after the required reserves against deposit/deposit substitute liabilities shall have been satisfied.

§ X257.3 Payment of penalties on reserve deficiencies. Penalties if unpaid within fifteen (15) days from receipt of the assessment, shall be charged against the demand deposits of banks with the BSP: Provided, That where the bank’s credit balance is insufficient and it fails to settle the assessment, the Monetary Board may limit or prohibit the making of new loans or investments by the bank.

Sec. X258 Report on Compliance. Every bank shall make a weekly report to the BSP of its daily required and available reserves on deposit/deposit substitute liabilities in the prescribed forms.

Sec. X272 Emergency Loans or Advances to Banking Institutions. The emergency loan or advance to banking institutions is governed by the provisions of Sections 84 to 88 of R.A. No. 7653, otherwise known as The New Central Bank Act. The following guidelines shall govern the BSP's emergency loans and advances.

§ X272.1 Nature of emergency loans or advances. An emergency loan or advance is a credit facility that is intended to assist a bank experiencing serious liquidity problems arising from causes not attributable to, or beyond the control of, the bank management. The grant of such facility is discretionary upon the Monetary Board, and is intended only as a temporary remedial measure to help a solvent bank overcome serious liquidity problems. As provided under Sections 84 to 88 of R.A. No. 7653, no emergency loan or advance may be granted except on a fully secured basis and the Monetary Board may prescribe additional conditions, which the borrowing banks must satisfy in order to have access to the credit facility of the BSP.

§ X272.2 When an emergency loan or advance may be availed of. An emergency loan or advance may be granted:

a. In periods of national and/or local emergency or of imminent financial panic which directly threaten monetary and banking stability, i.e., situations involving bank runs, massive movements by depositors of their funds from certain banks to other banks, bank holidays and voluntary cessation of business, or when there are movements which endanger the economy, or when the international stability of the peso is threatened, or when there is an exchange crisis.

b. During normal periods for the purpose of assisting a bank in a precarious financial condition or under serious financial pressures brought about by unforeseen events or events which though foreseeable, cannot be prevented by the bank concerned.

Provided, That there is a concurrent vote of at least five (5) members of the Monetary Board and the latter has ascertained that the bank is not insolvent: Provided, further, That banks with positive CAR of not more than six percent (6%) based on adjusted books of accounts shall submit a Business Improvement Plan (BIP) acceptable to the BSP within six (6) months from date of advice by the appropriate department of the SES. For this purpose, the appropriate department of the SES shall warn the concerned banks that failure to submit the required BIP in accordance with the criteria of the appropriate department of the SES shall disqualify the bank from access to the BSP’s emergency loan facility. Banks with zero to negative CAR should have an existing BSP-approved rehabilitation plan and on track with the Plan to be eligible to avail itself of emergency loan.

§ X272.3 Allowable amount of emergency loan or advance. The maximum amount of an emergency loan or advance shall be limited to the amount needed by the applicant bank to overcome the emergency or financial predicament but not to exceed the sum of fifty percent (50%) of its total deposits and deposit substitutes as of the last banking day of the month preceding the date of emergency loan application: Provided, That, in no case shall such maximum amount exceed the loan values of the collaterals submitted, as determined by the BSP.

The amount approved by the Monetary Board shall be released in tranches. The first tranche shall not exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the total deposits and deposit substitutes of the bank as of the last banking day of the month preceding the date of emergency loan application and shall be released only after the submission of the collaterals and required documents under Subsecs. X272.4 and X272.5: Provided, however, That upon request of the applicant bank, the Monetary Board may authorize a first tranche in an amount greater than twenty-five percent (25%) of the bank’s total deposits and deposit substitutes if the circumstances surrounding the emergency or financial predicament warrant the release of such greater amount and the same is adequately secured by first class collaterals.

Except as provided in Subsec. X272.7(d) hereof, the proceeds of the emergency loan or advance shall be utilized exclusively to service net withdrawals of deposits and deposit substitutes, i.e., amount of the bank’s total withdrawals less total deposits. The principal amount of the emergency loan or advance shall not exceed the difference between the highest level of the bank’s deposit and deposit substitutes of the immediately preceding thirty (30)-day period from date of emergency loan application and the current level of deposits.
and deposit substitutes as determined by the appropriate department of the SES.
(Circular No. 517 dated 06 March 2006)

(As superseded by the MOA between the BSP, BTr, BAP and Money Market Association of the Philippines dated 25 March 2008)

K. OTHER BORROWINGS

Sec. X281 Borrowings from the Government. Except as may be authorized by existing statutes, no private bank shall, whether or not performing quasi-banking functions, borrow any fund or money from the Government and government entities, through the issuance or sale of its acceptances, notes or other evidences of debt.

§ X281.1 Exemption from reserve requirement. The following borrowings shall not be subject to the reserve requirements:

a. STDs and deposit substitutes of specialized government banks and private banks arising from their lending operations under the special financing programs of the Government and/or international FIs; and
b. Funds held by participating financial institutions (PFIs) under the GSIS Housing Loan Programs: Provided, That the agreement between the GSIS and the conduit banks specify that such funds may be held by the conduit banks for a period of not more than seven (7) calendar days prior to their release to the borrower and prior to the remittance by the conduit banks of payments to the GSIS.

Sec. 3284 Borrowings of Rural Banks/Cooperative Banks. RBs and Coop Banks may rediscount papers with any bank.

The obligations of RBs arising from availments of rediscounting facilities and other borrowings from the BSP, will be considered as deposit substitutes. However, with the qualification in the Tax Code of 1997 that the term public means borrowing from twenty (20) or more individual or corporate lenders at any one (1) time, it is clear that the obligations of the RBs to BSP, which are entered in their books as “Bills Payable-BSP,” do not presently fall under the category of deposit substitutes.

Sec. X299 General Provision on Sanctions. Any violation of the provisions of this Part shall be subject to Sections 36 and 37 of R.A. No. 7653.

The guidelines for the imposition of monetary penalty for violations/offenses with sanctions falling under Section 37 of R.A. No. 7653 on banks, their directors and/or officers are shown in Appendix 67.
PART THREE

LOANS, INVESTMENTS AND SPECIAL CREDITS

Section X301 Lending Policies. It shall be the responsibility of the board of directors of a bank to formulate written policies on the extension of credit and risk diversification and to set the guidelines for evaluation of risk assets. Well-defined lending policies and sound lending practices are essential if a bank is to perform its lending function effectively and minimize the risk inherent in any extension of credit. The responsibility should be approached in a way that will provide assurance to the public, the stockholders and supervisory authorities that timely and adequate action will be taken to maintain the quality of the loan portfolio and other risk assets.

§ X301.1 (Reserved)

§ 1301.1 Rules and regulations to govern the development and implementation of banks’ internal credit risk rating systems

a. Statement of policy. It is the policy of the BSP to ensure that banks’ credit risk management processes are sound and effective. Towards this end, the following rules and regulations that shall govern the use of banks’ internal credit risk rating systems are hereby prescribed.

b. Scope. UBs and KBs must have in place a formal internal credit risk rating system for the underwriting and ongoing administration, initially, of corporate credit exposures. The internal credit risk rating system must be appropriate to a bank’s nature, complexity and scale of activities. Initially and until such time that the Monetary Board prescribes otherwise, corporate credit exposure shall be defined as exposures to companies with assets of more than P15.0 million.

c. Minimum operational requirements

(1) A bank’s internal credit risk rating system must be duly approved by the board of directors (or equivalent management committee in the case of Philippine branches of foreign banks). The board should exercise appropriate oversight over the system in a consistent manner.

(2) A bank’s internal credit risk rating system must be operationally integrated into its internal credit risk management process. Its output should accordingly be an integral part of the process of evaluation and review of prospective and existing exposures, respectively. Credit underwriting criteria should become progressively more conservative as credit rating declines. All credit decisions must be supported by a written assessment. In the context of ongoing review, provisioning standards must be rationally tied to the internal credit rating system.

(3) Banks must have an independent credit risk control function that is responsible for the design, implementation and performance of their credit risk rating systems. The credit risk control function must be independent from the business functions responsible for originating exposures.

(4) Internal ratings must be an essential part of annual or more frequent reporting of banks’ changing portfolio quality over time to the board of directors (or equivalent management committee in the case of Philippine branches of foreign banks). Reporting must include portfolio breakdown by credit grade, major portfolio segments breakdown by credit grade, and analysis of realized default rates against expectations.

(5) Internal and external audit must also review at least annually the bank's internal rating system and its operations, including the operations of the credit risk control function.

d. Minimum technical standards

(1) Banks must fully document their internal credit risk rating systems. The documentation must address topics such as coverage, rating criteria, responsibilities of parties involved in the ratings process, definition of what constitutes a rating exception, parties that have authority to approve exceptions, frequency of rating reviews, and management oversight of the rating process. A bank must document the rationale for its choice of rating criteria and must be able to provide analyses demonstrating that the rating criteria and procedures are likely to result in ratings that meaningfully differentiate risk.

(2) The rating criteria should reflect an established blend of qualitative and quantitative factors. Transparent ranges need to be set for the quantitative standards based on experience. The quantitative criteria must include leverage and cash flow standards.

(3) Banks must maintain rating histories on individual accounts, which shall include the ratings of the account, the dates the ratings were assigned, the methodology and key data used to derive the ratings and the analyst who gave the ratings. The identity of borrowers and facilities that default, and the timing and circumstances of such defaults, must be retained. Banks must also retain data on the realized default rates associated with rating grades and ratings migration in order to eventually track the predictive power of the risk rating system.

(4) A bank's internal credit risk rating system must have a minimum of 6 rating grades for unclassified accounts and 4 rating grades for classified accounts, which must be assigned in a consistent manner over time. Moreover, the rating system must result in a meaningful distribution of exposures across grades with no excessive concentrations on a single rating grade.

(5) The ratings output of banks' internal credit risk rating systems must contain both a borrower and a facility dimension. The borrower dimension should focus on factors that affect the inherent credit quality of each borrower. The facility dimension, on the other hand, should focus on security/collateral arrangements and other similar risk influencing factors of each transaction.

(6) In rating corporate borrowers with total assets of more than P15.0 million, only financial statements audited by external auditors that are accredited/selected by the SEC, the BSP or the Insurance Commission (IC) shall be used starting with the annual financial statements ending 31 December 2006.

e. Definition of default and loss. In connection with the data collection exercise prescribed under this Subsection, banks shall be guided by the following standard definitions of default and loss:

(1) Definition of default

A default is considered to have occurred in the following cases:

(a) If a credit obligation is considered non-performing under existing rules and regulations;

(b) If a borrower/obligor has sought or has been placed in bankruptcy, has been found insolvent, or has ceased operations in the case of businesses;

(c) If the bank sells a credit obligation at a material credit-related loss, i.e., excluding gains and losses due to interest rate movements. Banks' board-approved internal policies that govern the use of their internal rating systems must specifically define when a material credit-related loss occurs; and

(d) If a credit obligation of a borrower/obligor is considered to be in default, all credit obligations of the borrower/obligor with the same bank shall also be considered to be in default.

(2) Definition of loss

Loss, for purposes of accumulating data on loss in the event of default, refers to economic loss. It must therefore include discount effects, as well as direct and indirect costs associated with collecting on the credit obligation. Banks’ board-approved internal policies that govern the use of their internal rating systems must include specific policies and procedures that should be followed in the determination of economic loss.

f. Timetable for implementation

(1) Banks must submit an implementation plan to the appropriate department of the SES no later than 31 July 2004. A monetary penalty of P10,000 per day shall be imposed for delay until such plan is submitted.

(2) A fully documented internal credit risk rating system, duly approved by the board of directors, must be submitted to the BSP not later than 31 December 2004. Upon submission of the system, all prospective and existing corporate accounts must immediately be evaluated and monitored according to such system. A monetary penalty of P10,000 per day shall be imposed for delay until this requirement is complied with.

§ 2301.1 (Reserved)

§§ X301.2 – X301.5 (Reserved)

§ X301.6 Large exposures and credit risk concentrations. The following guidelines shall govern managing large exposures and credit risk concentrations in line with the objective of strengthening risk management in the banking system.

a. General principles

(1) A bank can be exposed to various forms of credit risk concentration which if not properly managed may cause significant losses that could threaten its financial strength and undermine public confidence in the bank.

(2) Credit risk concentrations may arise from excessive exposures to individual counterparties, groups of related counterparties and groups of counterparties with similar characteristics (e.g., counterparties in specific geographical locations, economic or industry sectors).

(3) Diversification of risk is essential in banking. Many past bank failures have been due to credit risk concentrations of some kind. It is essential for banks to prevent undue credit risk concentrations from excessive exposures to particular counterparties, industries, economic sectors, regions or countries.

(4) While concentration of credit risks are inherent in banking and cannot be totally eliminated, they can be limited and reduced by adopting proper risk control and diversification strategies. Safeguarding against credit risk concentrations should form an important component of a bank’s risk management system.

(5) The board of directors of a bank shall be responsible for establishing and monitoring compliance with policies governing large exposures and credit risk concentrations of the bank. The board should review these policies regularly (at least annually) to ensure that they remain adequate and appropriate for the bank. Subsequent changes to the established policies must be approved by the board.

(6) The policy on large exposures and credit risk concentrations shall, at a minimum, cover the following:

(a) Exposure limits that are reasonable in relation to capital and resources for –

(i) Various types of borrowers/counterparties (e.g., government, banks and other FIs, corporate and individual borrowers);

(ii) A group of related borrowers/counterparties;
(iii) Individual industry sectors;
(iv) Individual countries; and
(v) Various types of investments.
(b) The circumstances in which the above limits can be exceeded and the party authorized to approve such excesses, e.g., the bank’s board of directors or credit committee with delegated authority from the board.
(c) The delegation of credit authority within the bank for approving large exposures;
(d) The procedures for identifying, reviewing, managing and reporting large exposures of the bank;
(e) The definition of exposure. Banks should take into account the nature of their business and the complexity of their products. In any case, a bank’s exposures to a counterparty should include its on and off-balance sheet exposures and indirect exposures; and
(f) The criteria to be used for identifying a group of related persons;

7) The board and senior management of a bank should ensure that:
(a) Adequate systems and controls are in place to identify, measure, monitor and report large exposures and credit risk concentrations of the bank in a timely manner; and
(b) Large exposures of the bank are kept under regular review. “Large exposures” shall refer to exposures to a counterparty or a group of related counterparties equal or greater than five percent (5%) of bank’s qualifying capital as defined under Section X116.

8) A bank should, where appropriate, conduct stress testing and scenario analysis of its large exposures to assess the impact of changes in market conditions or key risk factors (e.g. economic cycles, interest rate, liquidity conditions or other market movements) on its profile and earnings.

9) It is expected that banks would generally observe a lower internal single borrower’s limit than the prescribed limit of twenty-five percent (25%) as a matter of sound practice.

b. Monitoring of large exposures/credit risk concentrations

(1) Banks should have a central liability record (preferably based on automated system) for each loan exposure. Banks should be able to monitor such exposures against prescribed and internal limits on a daily basis.

(2) Every bank should have adequate management information and reporting systems that enable management to identify credit risk concentrations within the asset portfolio of the bank or of the group (including subsidiaries and overseas branches) on a timely basis. If a concentration does exist, banks should reduce it in accordance with their prescribed policies. Large exposures shall be subject to more intensive monitoring.

(3) Banks should ensure that their internal or external auditors conduct at least an annual review of the quality of large exposures and controls to safeguard against credit risk concentrations. Their review should ascertain whether:
(a) The bank’s relevant policies, limits and procedures are complied with; and
(b) The existing policies and controls remain adequate and appropriate for the bank’s business.

(4) Management should take prompt corrective action to address concerns and exceptions raised.

(5) There should also be an independent compliance function to ensure that all relevant internal and prescribed requirements and limits are complied with. Breaches of prescribed requirements and deviations from established policies and limits should be reported to senior management in a timely manner.

c. Unsafe and unsound practice

Non-observance of the principles and the requirements of Items “a” and “b” above may be a ground for a finding of unsafe and unsound practice under Section 56 of the General Banking Law of 2000 (Appendix 48) and may be subject to appropriate sanction as may be determined by the Monetary Board.

d. Notification requirements

A bank must inform BSP immediately when it has concerns that its large exposures or credit risk concentrations have the potential to impact materially upon its capital adequacy, along with proposed measures to address these concerns.

e. Reporting

Bank’s records on monitoring of large exposures shall be made available to the BSP examiners for verification at any given time. When warranted, the BSP may impose additional reporting requirements on bank in relation to its large exposures and credit risk concentrations.

f. Sanction

Any failure or delay in complying with the requirements under Items “d” and “e” of this Subsection shall be subject to penalty applicable to those involving major reports.

Sec. X302 Loan Portfolio and Other Risk Assets Review System. To ensure that timely and adequate management action is taken to maintain the quality of the loan portfolio and other risk assets and that adequate loss reserves are set up and maintained at a level sufficient to absorb the loss inherent in the loan portfolio and other risk assets, each bank shall establish a system of identifying and monitoring existing or potential problem loans and other risk assets and of evaluating credit policies vis-à-vis prevailing circumstances and emerging portfolio trends. Management must also recognize that loss reserve is a stabilizing factor and that failure to account appropriately for losses or make adequate provisions for estimated future losses may result in misrepresentation of the bank’s financial condition.

The system of identifying and monitoring problem loans and other risk assets and setting up of allowances for probable losses shall include, but is not limited to, the guidelines mentioned in Appendix 18.

§ X302.1 Provisions for losses; booking

The board of directors of banks are responsible for ensuring that their institutions have controls in place to determine the allowance for probable losses on loans, other credit accommodations, advances and other assets consistent with the institutions’ stated policies and procedures, generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), the BSP rules and regulations and the safe and sound banking practices. The board of directors, in fulfilling this responsibility, shall require management to develop and maintain an appropriate, systematic and uniformly applied process consistent and in compliance with existing BSP rules and regulations to determine the amount of reserves for bad debts or doubtful accounts or other contingencies.

The specific allowance for probable losses for classified loans and other risk assets and the general loan loss provision as required in Appendix 18 shall be set up immediately.

§ X302.2 Sanctions. Non-compliance with the requirement to book valuation reserves required under the preceding Subsection shall be a ground for the imposition of any or all of the following sanctions:

a. Denial of the request for authority to establish new banking offices regardless of type or category;

b. Denial of access to BSP credit facilities except as may be allowed under Section 84 of R. A. No. 7653; and

§§ X301.6 - X302.2

c. Fine of P10,000 a day for UBs and KBs, P5,000 for TBs and P500 for RBs/Coop Banks, counted as follows:

(1) from the date the bank has been informed that the recommendation of the appropriate department of the SES has been confirmed by the Monetary Board up to the date that said recommended valuation reserves had been actually booked, in the case of allowance for probable losses for loans and other risk assets classified as substandard unsecured, doubtful and loss as required by the BSP; and

(2) from the dates prescribed under this Section up to the date of the actual booking in cases of the two percent (2%) general provision for probable losses, the twenty-five percent (25%) allowance for probable losses on secured loans classified as substandard, and the five percent (5%) allowance for probable losses on loans especially mentioned.

A. LOANS IN GENERAL

Sec. X303 Credit Exposure Limits to a Single Borrower

a. Consistent with national interest, the total amount of loans, credit accommodations and guarantees that may be extended by a bank to any person, partnership, association, corporation or other entity shall at no time exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the net worth of such bank. The basis for determining compliance with the single borrower’s limit (SBL) is the total credit commitment of the bank to or on behalf of the borrower.

b. The total amount of loans, credit accommodations and guarantees prescribed in the first paragraph may be increased by an additional ten percent (10%) of the net worth of such bank: Provided, That the additional liabilities are adequately secured by trust receipts, shipping documents, warehouse receipts or other similar documents transferring or securing title covering readily marketable, non-perishable goods which must be fully covered by insurance.

c. The above prescribed ceilings shall include: (1) the direct liability of the maker or acceptor of paper discounted with or sold to such bank and the liability of a general endorser, drawer or guarantor who obtains a loan or other credit accommodation from or discounts paper with or sells papers to such bank; (2) in the case of an individual who owns or controls a majority interest in a corporation, partnership, association or any other entity, the liabilities of said entities to such bank; (3) in the case of a corporation, all liabilities to such bank of all subsidiaries in which such corporation owns or controls a majority interest; and (4) in the case of a partnership, association or other entity, the liabilities of the members thereof to such bank.

d. Even if a parent corporation, partnership, association, entity or an individual who owns or controls a majority interest in such entities has no liability to the bank, the liabilities of subsidiary corporations or members of the partnership, association, entity or such individual shall be combined under certain circumstances, including but not limited to any of the following situations:

(1) the parent corporation, partnership, association, entity or individual guarantees the repayment of the liabilities; (2) the liabilities were incurred for the accommodation of the parent corporation or another subsidiary or of the partnership or association or entity or such individual; or (3) the subsidiaries though separate entities operate merely as departments or divisions of a single entity.

e. For purposes of this Section, loans, other credit accommodations and guarantees shall exclude: (1) loans and other credit accommodations secured by obligations of the BSP or of the Philippine Government; (2) loans and other credit accommodations fully guaranteed by the government as to the payment of principal and interest; (3) loans and other credit accommodations secured by U.S. Treasury Notes and other securities issued by central governments and central banks of foreign countries with the highest credit quality given by any two (2) internationally accepted rating agencies; (4) loans and other credit accommodations to the extent covered by the hold-out on or assignment of, deposits maintained in the lending bank and held in the Philippines; (5) loans, credit accommodations and acceptances under letters of credit to the extent covered by margin deposits; and (6) other loans or credit accommodations which the Monetary Board may from time to time specify as non-risk items.

f. The wholesale lending activities of government banks to participating financial institutions (PFIs) for relending to end-user borrowers shall at no time exceed a separate limit of thirty-five percent (35%) of net worth, subject to the following guidelines: (1) it shall apply only to loans granted to PFIs on a wholesale basis for on-lending to end-user borrowers; (2) it shall apply only to loan programs funded by multilateral, international or local development agencies, organizations or institutions especially designed for wholesale-lending activities of government banks; (3) the end-user borrowers of the PFIs shall be subject to the twenty-five percent (25%) SBL, not the increased ceiling of thirty-five percent (35%); and (4) government banks shall observe appropriate criteria for accrediting PFIs and for the grant/renewal of credit lines to accredited PFIs.

g. Loans and other credit accommodations as well as deposits maintained with, and usual guarantees by a bank to any other bank or non-bank entity, whether locally or abroad, shall be subject to the limits as herein prescribed.

Deposits of RBs/Coop Banks with government-owned or controlled financial institutions like the LBP and the DBP shall not be covered by the SBL imposed under R.A. No. 8791.

Sec. X304 Grant of Loans and Other Credit Accommodations. The following regulations shall be observed in the grant of loans and other credit accommodations.

§ X304.1 General guidelines. Consistent with safe and sound banking practices, a bank shall grant loans or other credit accommodations only in amounts and for the periods of time essential for the effective completion of the operation to be financed.

Before granting loans or other credit accommodations, a bank must ascertain that the borrower, co-maker, endorser, surety and/or guarantor, if applicable, is/are financially capable of fulfilling his/their commitments to the bank. For this purpose, a bank shall obtain adequate information on his/their credit standing and financial capacities.

In addition to the usual information sheet about the borrower, a bank shall require from the credit applicant the following:

a. A copy of the latest ITR of the borrower and his co-maker, if applicable, duly stamped as received by the BIR;

b. Except as otherwise provided by law and in other regulations, if the borrower is engaged in business, a copy of the borrower’s latest financial statements as submitted for taxation purposes to the BIR; and

c. A waiver of confidentiality of client information and/or an authority of the bank to conduct random verification with the BIR in order to establish authenticity of the ITR and accompanying financial statements submitted by the client.

The documents under items “a” and “b” above shall be required to be submitted annually as long as the loan and/or credit accommodation is outstanding. The consistency of the data/figures in said ITRs and financial statements shall also be checked and considered in the evaluation of the financial capacity and creditworthiness of credit applicants. The waiver of confidentiality of client information and/or an authority of the bank to conduct random verification with the BIR need not be submitted annually since once submitted these documents remain valid unless revoked.

Should the document(s) submitted prove to be spurious or incorrect in any material detail, the bank may terminate any loan or other credit accommodation granted on the basis of said document(s) and shall have the right to demand immediate repayment or liquidation of the obligation. Moreover, the bank may seek redress from the court for any harm done by the borrower’s submission of spurious documents.

The required submission of additional documents shall cover loans, other credit accommodations, and credit lines granted, restructured, renewed or extended after 02 November 2006 including any availment and/or re-availment against existing credit lines, except:

No. 8425), and other loans granted to poor and low-income households for their microenterprises and small businesses.

The maximum principal amount of microfinance loans shall not exceed P150,000 and may be amortized on a daily, weekly, semi-monthly or monthly basis, depending on the cash flow conditions of the borrowers. Said loans are usually unsecured, for relatively short periods of time (180 days) and often featuring joint and several guarantees of one (1) or more persons;
(2) Loans to registered Barangay Micro-Business Enterprises (BMBEs);
(3) Interbank loans;

   (b) Those whose income has been subjected to final withholding tax;
   (c) Senior citizens not required to file pursuant to R.A. No. 9257, as amended by R.A. No. 9257, in relation to the provisions of the National Internal Revenue Code (NIRC) or the Tax Reform Act of 1997; and
   (d) An individual who is exempt from income tax pursuant to the provisions of the NIRC and other laws, general or special; and
(6) Loans to borrowers, whose only source of income is compensation and the corresponding taxes on which has been withheld at source: Provided, That these loans are supported by ITRs or by BIR Form 2316 or payslips for at least three (3) months immediately preceding the date of loan application, and financial statements submitted for taxation purposes to the BIR, as may be applicable, at the time the loans were granted, restructured, renewed, or extended.

For purposes of this Subsection, the following definitions shall apply:
1. Micro and small enterprises shall be defined as any business activity or enterprise engaged in industry, agribusiness and/or services whether single proprietorship, cooperative, partnership or corporation whose total assets, inclusive of those arising from loans but exclusive of the land on which the particular business entity’s office, plant and equipment are situated, must have a value of up to P3.0 million and P15.0 million, respectively, or as may be defined by the SMED Council or other competent government agency.

§ X304.4 Signatories. Banks shall require that loans and other credit accommodations be made under the signature of the principal borrower and, in the case of unsecured loans and other credit accommodations to an individual borrower, at least one (1) co-maker, except that a co-maker is not required when the principal borrower has the financial capacity and a good track record of paying his obligations.

§ X305 Interest and Other Charges

The rate of interest, including commissions, premiums, fees and other charges, on any loan, or forbearance of any money, goods or credits regardless of maturity and whether secured or unsecured shall not be subject to any regulatory ceiling.

§ X305.1 Rate of interest in the absence of stipulation. The rate of interest for the loan or forbearance of any money, goods or credits and the rate allowed in judgments, in the absence of expressed contract as to such rate of interest, shall be twelve percent (12%) per annum.

§ X305.2 Escalation clause; when allowable. Parties to an agreement pertaining to a loan or forbearance of money, goods or credits may stipulate that the rate of interest agreed upon may be increased in the event that the applicable maximum rate of interest is increased by the Monetary Board: Provided, That such stipulation shall be valid only if there is also a stipulation in the agreement that the rate of interest agreed upon shall be reduced in the event that the applicable maximum rate of interest is reduced by law or by the Monetary Board: Provided, further, That the adjustment in the rate of interest agreed upon shall take effect on or after the effectivity of the increase or decrease in the maximum rate of interest.

§ X305.3 Floating rates of interest. The rate of interest on a floating rate loan during each interest period shall be stated on the basis of Manila Reference Rates (MRRs), T-Bill Rates or other market based reference rates plus a margin as may be agreed upon by the parties.

The MRRs for various interest periods shall be determined and announced by the BSP every week and shall be based on the weighted average of the interest rates paid during the immediately preceding week by the ten (10) KBs with the highest combined levels of outstanding deposit substitutes and time deposits, received by such banks, of P100,000 and over per transaction account, with maturities corresponding to the interest periods for which such MRRs are being determined. Such rates and the composition of the sample KBs shall be reviewed and determined at the beginning of every calendar semester on the basis of the banks' combined levels of outstanding deposit substitutes and time deposits as of 31 May or 30 November, as the case may be.

The rate of interest on floating rate loans existing and outstanding as of 23 December 1995 shall continue to be determined on the basis of the MRRs obtained in accordance with the provisions of the rules existing as of 01 January 1989: Provided, however, That the parties to such existing floating rate loan agreements are not precluded from amending or modifying their loan agreements by adopting a floating rate of interest determined on the basis of the TBR or other market based reference rates.

Where the loan agreement provides for a floating interest rate, the interest period, which shall be such period of time for which the rate of interest is fixed, shall be such period as may be agreed upon by the parties.

For the purpose of computing the MRRs, banks shall accomplish the report forms, RS Form 2D and Form 2E (BSP 5-17-34A).

§ X305.4 Accrual of interest earned on loans. Banks are allowed to accrue interest earned on loans, subject to the following guidelines and/or procedures.

a. No accrual of interest income is allowed if a loan has become non-performing as defined under Sec. X309. Likewise, interest income shall not be accrued for unmatured loans/receivables with indications that collectibility thereof has become doubtful. These indications shall include declaration of bankruptcy, insolvency, cessation of operations, or such other conditions of financial difficulties or inability to meet financial obligations as they mature. Separate appropriate records shall be maintained for these non-accruing unmatured loans.

Interest income on past due loans arising from discount amortization (and not from the contractual interest of the accounts) shall be accrued as provided in PAS 39.
b. Interest earned on extended or renewed loans may be accrued: Provided, That there is no previously accrued but uncollected interest thereon. Interest income on restructured loans (principal plus capitalized interest thereon) may be accrued: Provided, That these are:
   (1) In current status; and
   (2) Fully secured by real estate with loan value of up to sixty percent (60%) of the appraised value of the real estate security and the insured improvements thereon, and such other first class collaterals as may be deemed appropriate by the Monetary Board.

c. Interest on non-performing loan accounts shall be taken up as income only when actual payments thereon are received.

d. Accrued interest earned but not yet collected/received shall not be considered as profits and/or earnings eligible for dividend declaration and/or profit sharing.

e. A contra account to be designated Allowance for Uncollected Interest on Loans shall be set up in accordance with Appendix 18 if accrued interest receivable on loans and loan installments is still uncollected after three (3) months from the date such loans and loan installments have become non-performing.

f. The amount representing Allowance for Uncollected Interest on Loans may be chargeable against the excess of outstanding valuation reserves for loans and other risk assets as appearing in the bank's books, over those recommended by the appropriate department of the SES. The balance thereof, if any, shall be chargeable against operations.

g. For all purposes, the Allowance for Uncollected Interest on Loans shall be considered a valuation reserve/allowance against the Accrued Interest Receivable account.

Sec. X306 Past Due Accounts. Past due accounts of a bank shall, as a general rule, refer to all accounts in its loan portfolio, all receivable components of trading account securities and other receivables, as defined in the Manual of Accounts for Banks, which are not paid at maturity.

§ X306.1 Accounts considered past due. The following shall be considered as past due:

d. Bills and other negotiable instruments purchased - If dishonored upon presentment for acceptance/payment or not paid on maturity date, whichever comes earlier: Provided, however, That an out-of-town check and a foreign check shall be considered as past due if outstanding for thirty (30) days and forty-five (45) days, respectively, unless earlier dishonored;

e. Loans/receivables payable in installments - The total outstanding balance thereof shall be considered past due in accordance with the following schedule:

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Monthly</td>
<td>3</td>

<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Semestral</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>

<tr>
<td>Annual</td>

Provided, however, That when the total amount of arrearages reaches twenty percent (20%) of the total outstanding balance of the loan/receivable, the total outstanding balance of the loan/receivable shall be considered as past due, regardless of the number of installments in arrears:

Provided, further, That for modes of payment other than those listed above (e.g., daily, weekly or semi-monthly), the entire outstanding balance of the loan/receivable shall be considered as past due when the total amount of arrearages reaches ten percent (10%) of the total loan/receivable balance;

For this purpose, the term “installments” shall refer to principal and/or interest amortizations that are due on several dates as indicated/specified in the loan documents.

f. h. Microfinance loans - If a payment has fallen due and remained unpaid. Loan payments are applied first to any interest due, then to any installment of principal that is due but unpaid, beginning with the earliest such installment. The number of days of lateness/delinquency is based on the due date of the earliest loan installment that has not been fully paid.

For the purpose of determining delinquency in the payment of obligations as defined in Subsec. X143.1e, any due and unpaid loan installment or portion thereof, from the time the obligor defaults, shall be considered past due.

§ X306.2 Demand loans. Banks shall, in case of non-payment of a demand loan, make a written demand within three (3) months following the grant of such loan. The demand shall indicate a period of payment which shall not be later than three (3) months from date of said demand.

§ X306.3 Renewals/extensions. No loan shall be renewed or its maturity date extended unless the corresponding accrued interest receivable shall have been paid.

§ X306.4 Restructured loans
Restructured loans whose terms of payment have not been compiled with and which have become past due shall be governed by the provisions of Sec. X322.

§ X306.5 Write-off of loans as bad debts
a. Approval by board of directors

a. Person means any individual, partnership, corporation, association or other organized group of persons, or the legal successor or representative of the foregoing, and includes the Philippine Government or any agency thereof or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing.
b. Cash price or delivered price, in case of trade transactions, is the amount of money which would constitute full payment upon delivery of property (except money) or service purchased at the bank's place of business. In the case of financial transactions, cash price represents the amount of money received by the debtor upon consummation of the credit transaction, net of finance charges collected at the time the credit is extended (if any).
c. Down Payment represents the amount paid by the debtor at the time of the transaction in partial payment for the property or service purchased.
d. Trade-in represents the value of an asset agreed upon by the bank and debtor, given at the time of the transaction in partial payment for the property or service purchased.
e. Non-finance charges correspond to the amounts advanced by the bank for items normally associated with the ownership of the property or of the availment of the service purchased which are not incident to the extension of credit. For example, in the case of the purchase of an automobile on credit, the creditor may advance the insurance premium as well as the registration fee for the account of the debtor.
f. Amounts to be financed consist of the cash price plus non-finance charges less the amount of the down payment and value of the trade-in.
g. Finance charge represents the amount to be paid by the debtor incident to the extension of credit such as interest or discounts, collection fees, credit investigation fees, attorney's fees and other service charges. The total finance charge represents the difference between (a) the aggregate consideration (downpayment plus installments) on the part of the debtor and (b) the sum of the cash price and non-finance charges.
h. Simple annual rate is the uniform percentage which represents the ratio, on an annual basis, between the finance charges and the amount to be financed.
In the case of a single payment upon maturity, the simple annual rate (R) in percent is determined by the following method:

R = \left( \frac{\text{finance charge}}{\text{amount to be financed}} \right) \times \frac{12}{(\text{maturity period in months})} \times 100

In the case of the normal installment type of credit of at least one (1) year in duration, where installment payments of equal amount are made in regular time periods spaced not more than one (1) year apart, the R in percent is computed by the following method:

In case where the credit matures in less than one (1) year (e.g., installment payments are required every month for six (6) months) the same formula will apply except that the number of payments in a year would refer to the number of installment periods, as defined in the credit contract if the credit matures in one (1) year. For example, the number of payments a year would be twelve (12) for this purpose in case where six (6) monthly installment payments are called for in the credit transaction.

§ X307.2 Information to be disclosed

Banks shall furnish each person to whom credit is extended, prior to the consummation of the transaction, a clear statement in writing setting forth the following information:

c. The difference between the amounts set forth under items “a” and “b”;

d. The charges, individually itemized, which are paid or to be paid by such person in connection with the transaction but which are not incident to the extension of credit;

e. The total amount to be financed;

f. The finance charges expressed in terms of pesos and centavos;

and

g. The percentage that the finance charge bears to the total amount to be financed expressed as a simple annual rate on the outstanding unpaid balance of the obligation.

The contract covering the credit transaction or any other document to be acknowledged and signed by the debtor, shall indicate the above seven (7) items of information. In addition, the contract or document shall specify additional charges, if any, which will be collected in case certain stipulations in the contract are not met by the debtor.

In case any of the seven (7) items of information mentioned is not disclosed in the contract covering the credit transaction, all of the seven (7) items, to the extent applicable, shall be disclosed in another document in a form (Appendix 19) prescribed by the Monetary Board, to be signed by the debtor and appended to the main contract. A copy of the disclosure statement shall be furnished the borrower.

Banks shall keep in their offices or places of business copies of contracts which involve the extension of credit by the bank and the payment of finance charges therefor. Such copies shall be available for inspection or examination by the appropriate department of the SES.

Nothing in this Subsection shall be construed to prohibit any action by the bank/subsidiary credit card company to collect any amount which has not been indicated by the cardholder to contain a billing error or apply against the credit limit of the cardholder the amount indicated to be in error.

§ X320.14 Unfair collection practices. Sec. X321 (Reserved)

D. RESTRUCTURED LOANS

Sec. X322 Restructured Loans; General Policy. Banks shall have full discretion in the restructuring of loans in order to provide flexibility in arranging the repayment of such loans without impairing or endangering the lending bank’s financial interest, except in special cases approved by the Monetary Board such as loans funded by foreign currency obligations. However, the restructuring of loans granted to DOSRI shall be upon terms not less favorable to the bank than those offered to others. While agreements on loan restructuring should be considered as management tools to maintain or improve the soundness of the bank’s lending operations, these should be drawn mainly to assist borrowers towards the settlement of their obligations, taking into account their capacity to pay.

§ X322.1 Definition; when to consider performing/non-performing. Restructured loans are loans the principal terms and conditions of which have been modified in accordance with a restructuring agreement setting forth a new plan of payment or a schedule of payment on a periodic basis. The modification may include, but is not limited to, change in maturity, interest rate, collateral or increase in the face amount of the debt resulting from the capitalization of accrued interest/accumulated charges. Items in litigation and loans subject of judicially approved compromise, as well as those covered by petitions for suspension or for new plans of payment approved by the court or the SEC, shall not be classified as restructured loans.

A loan which is restructured shall be considered non-performing except when as of restructuring date -

(1) with updated principal and interest payments; and
(2) fully secured by real estate with loan value of up to sixty percent (60%) of the appraised value of the real estate security and the insured improvements thereon, and such other first class collaterals as may be deemed appropriate by the Monetary Board; Provided, That a restructured loan, with or without capitalized interest, must be yielding a rate of interest equal to or greater than the bank’s average cost of funds at the date of restructuring, otherwise, it shall be considered non-performing.

The restoration to a performing loan shall only be effective after a satisfactory track record of payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest has been established.

For this purpose, a satisfactory track record of payments of principal and/or interest shall mean three (3) consecutive payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest have been made. However, in the case of a restructured loan with capitalized interest but not fully secured by real estate with loan value of up to sixty percent (60%) of the appraised value of the real estate security and the insured improvements thereon or other first class collaterals, six (6) consecutive payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest must have been made.

A restructured loan which has been restored to a performing loan status shall be immediately considered non-performing in case of default of any principal or interest payment.

§ X322.2 Procedural requirements

a. A loan may be restructured, subject to the approval of the bank’s board of directors in a resolution which shall embody, among other things:

(1) the basis or justification for the approval;
(2) determination of the borrower’s capacity to pay, such as viability of the business; and
(3) the nature and extent of protection of the bank’s exposure.

The authority to approve the restructuring of loans may be delegated by the bank’s board of directors to a committee or officer(s): Provided, That there are board prescribed guidelines specifically on restructuring of loans:

Provided, further, That said guidelines shall be submitted to the appropriate department of the SES within thirty (30) days following the date of approval thereof. However, loans previously approved by the executive committee as well as those granted to DOSRI shall be subject to approval by the board as provided under existing rules and regulations. Loans restructured other than those approved by the board shall be reported to it for confirmation.

b. A second restructuring of a loan shall be allowed only if there are reasonable justifications: Provided, That it shall be considered a non-performing loan and classified, at least, “Substandard”. The restoration to a performing loan status and/or upgrading of loan classification, e.g., from “Substandard” to “Loans Especially Mentioned”, if circumstances warrant an upgrading in accordance with the criteria under Appendix 18, shall only be allowed after a satisfactory track record of at least six (6) consecutive payments of the required amortization of principal and/or interest has been established.

c. In the restructuring process, the bank shall encourage the borrower to improve the quality of the loan either by strengthening financial capacity or providing additional collateral.

The real estate security and/or other first class collaterals offered shall be appraised at the time of restructuring to ensure that current market values are being used. Real estate security shall be appraised by an independent appraisal company acceptable to the BSP and shall be reappraised every year thereafter.

(1) For UBs/KBs – a loan benchmark is set at P5.0 million, such that loans beyond this amount will require an independent appraisal company: Provided, That the appraisal company contracted to do the appraisal is not a subsidiary or an affiliate of the UB/KB.
(2) For TBs – a loan benchmark is set at P1.0 million such that loans beyond this amount will require an independent appraisal company: Provided, That the appraisal company contracted to do the appraisal is not a subsidiary or an affiliate of the TB.

A TB may be allowed to use a UB/KB or another TB acceptable to the BSP to do the appraisal for it: Provided, That the TB requesting the appraisal is not a subsidiary or affiliate of the UB/KB/other TB contracted to do the appraisal.

(3) For RBs/Coop Banks – the benchmark is set at P500 thousand such that loans beyond this amount will require an independent appraisal company: Provided, That the appraisal company contracted to do the appraisal is not a subsidiary or an affiliate of the RB/Coop Bank.

An RB/Coop Bank may be allowed to use a UB/KB or a TB acceptable to the BSP to do the appraisal for it: Provided, That the RB requesting the appraisal is not a subsidiary or affiliate of the UB/KB/TB contracted to do the appraisal.

The term “first class collaterals” refers to assets and securities which have relatively stable and clearly definable value and/or greater liquidity and are free from lien/encumbrance, such as:

(a) Real estate;
(b) Evidences of indebtedness of the Republic of the Philippines and of the BSP, and other evidences of indebtedness or obligations the servicing and repayment of which are fully guaranteed by the Republic of the Philippines;
(c) Hold-out on and/or assignment of deposits/deposit substitutes maintained in the lending institutions;
(d) “Blue chip” shares of stocks, except those issued by the lending entity or by its parent company which owns more than fifty percent (50%) of its outstanding shares of stocks. For this purpose, the issuer corporation must be a listed corporation with a net worth of at least P1.0 billion and with annual net earnings during the immediately preceding five (5) years; and
(e) Such other collaterals that the Monetary Board may declare as first class collaterals from time to time.

It is understood that the loan value to be assigned the collateral shall be as prescribed under existing regulations.

§ X322.3 Restructured loans considered past due. Restructured loans shall be considered past due in case of default of any principal or interest and shall be subject to classification in accordance with Sec. X322.4.

The upgrading of loan classification, e.g., from “Substandard” to “Loans Especially Mentioned”, if circumstances warrant an upgrading in accordance with the criteria under Appendix 18, shall only be effective after a satisfactory track record of payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest has been established.

For this purpose, a satisfactory track record of payments of principal and/or interest shall mean three (3) consecutive payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest have been made. However, in the case of a restructured loan with capitalized interest but not fully secured by real estate with loan value of up to sixty percent (60%) of the appraised value of the real estate security and the insured improvements thereon or other first class collaterals, six (6) consecutive payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest must have been made.

Secs. X350 - X360 (Reserved)

Sec. X361 Microfinancing Loans. Pursuant to Sections 40, 43 and 44 of R.A. No. 8791 the following rules, regulations and standards shall govern microfinancing operations of banks.

In the implementation of this Section, banks should be guided by the Notes on Microfinance in Appendix 45.

§ X361.1 Definition

a. Microfinancing loans are small loans granted to the basic sectors, as defined in the Social Reform and Poverty Alleviation Act of 1997 (R.A. No. 8425), and other loans granted to the poor and low-income households for their microenterprises and small businesses so as to enable them to raise their income levels and improve their living standards. These loans are granted on the basis of the borrowers’ cash flow and are typically unsecured.

b. Portfolio-at-Risk (PAR) is the outstanding principal amount of all loans that have at least one (1) installment past due for one (1) or more days. The amount includes the unpaid principal balance but excludes accrued interest. Under PAR, loans are considered past due if a payment has fallen due and remained unpaid. Loan payments are applied first to any interest due, then to any installment of principal that is due but unpaid, beginning with the earliest installment. The number of days of lateness is based on the due date of the earliest loan installment that has not been fully paid.

c. Restructured loans are loans that have been renegotiated or modified to either lengthen or postpone the original scheduled installment payments or substantially alter the original terms of the loans. Any increase in the face amount of the debt resulting from accrued interest and accumulated charges which have been capitalized or made part of the principal of restructured loans shall be recorded in the unearned income/deferred credit account “Capitalized Interest and Other Charges - Restructured Loans”. Upon receipt of payment, the realized portion shall be amortized/credited to income.

d. Refinanced loans are loans that have been disbursed to enable repayment of prior loans that would not have been paid in accordance with the original installment schedule. Loans granted within a week or less from the date an original loan with more than thirty percent (30%) of the original principal still outstanding had been paid in advance shall be considered as refinanced loans. Refinanced loans shall be classified and reported as restructured loans.

§ X361.2 Loan limit; amortization; interest
a. The maximum principal amount of microfinance loans shall not exceed P150,000. This is equivalent to the maximum capitalization of a microenterprise under R.A. No. 8425.

b. The schedule of loan amortization shall take into consideration the projected cash flow of the borrowers which is adopted into the terms and conditions formulated. Hence, microfinance loans may be amortized on a daily, weekly, bi-monthly or monthly basis, depending on the cash flow conditions of the borrowers.

c. Interest on such microfinancing loans shall be reasonable and just as may be determined by management to be consistent with its credit policies. The interest rate shall not be lower than the prevailing market rates to enable the lending institution to recover the financial and operational costs incidental to this type of microfinance lending.

d. Interest accrued and/or booked shall be reversed and no accrual of interest shall be allowed after the microfinance loan has become past due as defined in Subsec. X306.1.h.

§ X361.3 Credit information exemption
In cases of microfinancing loans which meet the criteria in Subsec. It shall be ready and willing to give full disclosure of the services being offered and shall conduct its dealing with transparency. The regulations are divided into three (3) Sub-Parts where:

A. Trust and Other Fiduciary Business shall apply to banks authorized to engage in trust and other fiduciary business including investment management activities;

B. Investment Management Activities shall apply to banks without trust authority but with authority to engage in investment management activities; and

Sec. X407 Non-Trust, Non-Fiduciary and/or Non-Investment Management Activities. The basic characteristic of trust, other fiduciary and investment management relationship is the absolute non-existence of a debtor-creditor relationship, thus, there is no obligation on the part of the trustee, fiduciary or investment manager to guarantee returns on the funds or properties regardless of the results of the investment. The trustee, fiduciary or investment manager is entitled to fees/commissions which shall be stipulated and fixed in the contract or indenture and the trustor or principal is entitled to all the funds or properties and earnings less fees/commissions, losses and other charges. Any agreement/arrangement that does not conform to these shall not be considered as trust, other fiduciary and/or investment management relationship.

The following shall not constitute a trust, other fiduciary and/or investment management relationship:

a. When there is a preponderance of purpose or of intent that the arrangement creates or establishes a relationship other than a trust, fiduciary and/or investment management;

b. When the agreement or contract is itself used as a certificate of indebtedness in exchange for money placement from clients and/or as the medium for confirming placements and investment thereof;

c. When the agreement or contract of an account is accepted under the signature(s) of those other than the trust officer or subordinate officer of the trust department or those authorized by the board of directors to represent the trust officer;

d. Where there is a fixed rate or guaranty of interest, income or return in favor of its client or beneficiary: Provided, however, That where funds are placed in fixed income-generating investments, a quotation of income expectation or like terms, shall neither be considered as arrangements with a fixed rate nor a guaranty of interest, income or return when the agreement or indenture categorically states in bold letters that the quoted income expectation or like terms is neither assured nor guaranteed by the trustee or fiduciary and it does not, therefore, entitle the client to a fixed interest or return on his investments: Provided, further, That any of the following practices or practices similar and/or tantamount thereto shall be construed as fixing or guaranteeing the rate of interest, income or return:

(1) Issuance of certificates, side agreements, letters of undertaking or other similar documents providing for fixed rates or guaranteeing interest, income or return;

(2) Paying trust earnings based on indicated or expected yield regardless of the actual investment results;

(3) Increasing or reducing fees in order to meet a quoted or expected yield;

(4) Entering into any arrangement, scheme or practice which results in the payment of fixed rates or yield on trust investments or in the payment of the indicated or expected yield regardless of the actual investment results; and

e. Where the risk or responsibility is exclusively with the trustee, fiduciary or investment manager in case of loss in the investment of trust, fiduciary or investment management funds, when such loss is not due to the failure of the trustee or fiduciary to exercise the skill, care, prudence and diligence required by law.

Trust, other fiduciary and investment management activities involving any of the foregoing which are accepted, renewed or extended after 16 October 1990 shall be reported as deposit substitutes and shall be subject to the reserve requirement for deposit substitutes from the time of inception, without prejudice to the imposition of the applicable sanctions provided for in Sections 36 and 37 of R.A. No. 7653.

Sec. X408 Unsafe and Unsound Practices Whether a particular activity may be considered as conducting business in an unsafe or unsound manner all relevant facts must be considered. An analysis of the impact thereof on the bank’s operations and financial conditions must be undertaken, including evaluation of capital position, asset condition, management, earnings posture and liquidity position.

In determining whether a particular act or omission, which is not otherwise prohibited by any law, rule or regulation affecting banks, may be deemed as conducting business in an unsafe or unsound manner, the Monetary Board, upon report of the head of the supervising or examining department based on findings in an examination or a complaint, shall consider any of the following circumstances:

a. The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage, or abnormal risk or danger to the safety, stability, liquidity or solvency of the bank;

b. The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage or abnormal risk to the bank’s depositors, creditors, investors, stockholders or to the BSP or to the public in general;

c. The act or omission has caused any undue injury, or has given unwarranted benefits, advantage or preference to the bank or any party in the discharge by the director or officer of his duties and responsibilities through manifest partiality, evident bad faith or gross inexcusable negligence; or

d. The act or omission involves entering into any contract or transaction manifestly and grossly disadvantageous to the bank, whether or not the director or officer profited or will profit thereby.

The list of activities which may be considered unsafe and unsound is shown in Appendix 48.

In line with the statement of principles governing trust and other fiduciary business under Sec. 4401, the trustee, fiduciary or investment manager shall desist from the following unsound practices:

a. Entering in an arrangement whereby the client is at the same time the borrower of his own fund placement, or whereby the trustor or principal is a borrower of other trust, fiduciary or investment management funds belonging to the same family or business group of such trustor or principal;

b. Granting loans or accommodations to any trust committee member, officer and employee of the trust department except where such loans are obtained by said persons as members of an employee benefit fund of the trustee’s own institution;

a. Issue an order requiring the bank to cease and desist from conducting business in an unsafe and unsound manner and may further order that immediate action be taken to correct the conditions resulting from such unsafe or unsound practice;

b. Fines in amounts as may be determined by the Monetary Board to be appropriate, but in no case to exceed P30,000 a day on a per transaction basis taking into consideration the attendant circumstances, such as the gravity of the act or omission and the size of the bank, to be imposed on the bank, their directors and/or responsible officers;

b. Suspension of interbank clearing privileges/immediate exclusion from clearing;

c. Suspension of rediscounting privileges or access to BSP credit facilities;

The imposition of the above sanctions is without prejudice to the filing of appropriate criminal charges against culpable persons as provided in Sections 34, 35 and 36 of R.A. No. 7653.

§ X409.9 Living trust accounts. The guidelines on living trust accounts are as follows:

a. Definition. Living trust is defined under the Manual of Accounts for Trust, as a personal trust created by agreement. It becomes operational during the lifetime of the trustor as soon as the agreement is accomplished.

Under a living trust, the trustor (also known as settlor) conveys property or a sum of money to be managed by the trustee, as the agreement dictates, for the benefit of the trustor and third person(s) or third person(s) only. However, the trustor(s) cannot create a trust with himself/herself as the sole beneficiary(ies). The functions and authorities of the trustee as defined in the agreement shall include:

(1) the purpose or intention of the trust;
(2) the nature and value of the property or sum of money that comprise the trust;
(3) the trustee’s investment powers;
(4) the name(s) of the beneficiaries; and
(5) the terms and conditions under which the income and/or principal of the trust is to be paid or to be disposed of during the lifetime and ultimately, upon the death of the trustor or upon the occurrence of a specified event(s).

A living trust may either be revocable or irrevocable.

b. Minimum criteria. In line with such definition, transactions considered as living trust accounts should meet the following minimum criteria:

(1) Minimum entry amount and maintaining balance shall at least be P100,000. Provided, That living trust accounts with balances of up to P500,000 shall only be invested in deposits and government securities;
(2) Living trust accounts shall be maintained for a minimum period of six (6) months. The termination of the living trust agreement, for any cause, within the minimum holding period shall render the trustor ineligible from opening a new living trust account within a period of one (1) year from termination date;
(3) Reversion of any part of the principal to the trustor, except in cases provided under the dispositive portion, shall be allowed only upon termination of the living trust agreement: Provided, That in no case can there be a complete or substantial reversion of the principal pursuant to the dispositive portion within the minimum holding period nor can the principal fall below P100,000;

(4) Any living trust account that does not meet the requirement on the minimum entry and minimum maintaining balance or is not invested in qualified outlets shall be considered as other fiduciary accounts subject to applicable reserve and other requirements;

(5) Pre-printed living trust agreements may be allowed for expediency: Provided, That the sections for the trust purpose and the dispositive provision are left blank and shall only be filled-up upon the client’s signing thereof. e. The unitized NAVPu valuation methodology as prescribed under Subsec. X410.5.d shall be employed.

f. Terms and conditions governing the admission or redemption of units of participation in the fund. Provided, That the admission and redemption prices shall be based on the end of day NAVPu of the fund computed after the cut-off time for fund participation and redemption for that reference day, in accordance with existing BSP regulations on mark to market valuation of investment securities.

Compliance shall be in the form of government securities deposited with the BSP eligible pursuant to existing regulations governing security for the faithful performance of trust and other fiduciary business.

B. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Sec. X611(2008 - X602) Derivatives. A bank may engage in authorized derivatives activities: Provided, That the bank:

a. Understands, measures, monitors and controls the risks assumed from its derivatives activities;

b. Adopts effective risk management practices whose sophistication are commensurate to the risks being monitored and controlled; and

c. Maintains capital commensurate with the risk exposures assumed.

Further, a bank may likewise engage in financial derivatives activities in accordance with these guidelines. The transacting bank shall have the responsibility to comply with the guidelines.
set out in this Section, including the relevant appendices, and other applicable laws, rules and regulations governing derivatives transaction. In case of derivatives instruments involving foreign currencies and/or other foreign currency - denominated assets, the transacting bank shall observe the pertinent FX rules and regulations. For purposes of these guidelines, a bank that transacts (i.e., transacting bank) whether as end-user, broker or dealer, in derivatives instruments is considered to be engaging in a derivatives activity.

Derivative is broadly defined as a financial instrument that primarily derives its value from the performance of an underlying variable. For purposes of these guidelines, a financial derivative is any financial instrument or contract with all of the following characteristics:

a. Its value changes in response to a change in a specified interest rate, financial instrument price, commodity price, FX rate, index of prices or rates, credit spread, credit rating or credit index or other variables not prohibited under existing laws, rules and regulations (the "underlying");

b. It requires either no initial net investment or an initial net investment that is smaller than would be required for other types of contracts that would be expected to have a similar response to changes in market factors; and

c. It is settled at a future date.

Financial derivatives activities shall also include transactions in cash instruments with embedded derivatives that reshape the risk-return profile of the host instrument, such as credit-linked notes ("CLNs") and other structured products ("SPs").

A market participant may take any of the following roles in a derivatives transaction:

a. An end-user is defined as a financial market participant that enters, for its own account, in a derivatives transaction for legitimate economic purposes. These purposes may include, but are not limited to, the following: hedging, proprietary trading, managing capital or funding costs, obtaining indirect exposures to desired market factors, investment, yield-enhancement, and/or altering the risk-reward profile of a particular item or an entire balance sheet.

An end-user may be classified according to its financial sophistication:

1. Market counterparty - refers to any UB or KB, only with respect to the instruments for which it is authorized to engage in as a dealer.

2. Institutional counterparty - refers to an institution which is not a market counterparty and has the level of net worth, knowledge, expertise, and experience to deal with financial derivatives.

3. Sophisticated individual end-user - refers to an individual who has demonstrated to the bank as having the level of net worth, knowledge and experience in dealing with financial products, including financial derivatives. An individual may register as a sophisticated individual end-user with the Centralized Applications and Licensing Group of the BSP.

4. Other end-user - This refers to all other institutional or individual clients not categorized as market counterparty, institutional counterparty or sophisticated individual end-user.

b. A broker is a financial market participant that facilitates a derivatives transaction between a dealer and its client, for a fee or commission. The counterparties to the derivatives contract are the client and an authorized dealer.

c. A dealer is defined as a financial market participant that engages in a derivatives activity as an originator of derivatives products or as market-maker in derivatives products. A dealer can distribute its own derivatives products, including those of others. A dealer can also act as broker and/or end-user of derivatives instruments.

§ X611.1 (2008 - X602.1) Generally authorized derivatives activities. A bank may engage in the following derivatives activities without need of prior BSP approval: Provided, That it observes the provisions of Appendix 25 and meets the following conditions:

a. UBs and KBs may transact in the following derivatives in the capacities specified:

(1) As a dealer. A UB or KB may originate and distribute the following “organized market”-traded financial derivatives:
   (a) FX forwards, FX swaps, currency swaps and analogous financial futures with a tenor of three (3) years or less; and
   (b) Interest rate swaps, forward rate agreements and analogous financial futures with a tenor of ten (10) years or less: Provided, That the issuance of sub-participation in any derivatives held as an end-user shall be deemed as undertaking the role of a dealer: Provided, further, That the dealer UB or KB observes the provisions of Appendix 26 and other pertinent securities laws, rules and regulations.

For purposes of this Subsection, an organized market refers to an exchange or a BSP-recognized over-the-counter market governed by transparent and binding market conventions on price transparency, trade reporting, market surveillance and orderly conduct/operations of the market.

(2) As end-user. A UB or KB, including its trust department, may enter in any financial derivatives transaction for the purpose of hedging its own risks: Provided, That it observes all the requirements for hedging transactions under PAS.

b. A UB or KB may trade with counterparties in order to take positions in its own account in “organized market”-traded financial instruments enumerated under Item “1” above. It can also take long positions in naked FX options with a tenor of three (3) years or less.

c. RBU and EFCDU of UBs and KBs, including its trust departments, may invest, for their own account, in the following SPs:
   (i) Principal-protected foreign currency-denominated SPs, the revenue streams of which are linked to interest rate indices, interest rate instruments, listed equity shares or indices, FX rates, credit rating or index, or gold: Provided, That the maximum contractual maturity shall be five (5) years;
   (ii) Plain vanilla single-name CLNs where the reference asset is an obligation issued or guaranteed by the Republic of the Philippines.

Provided, That the bank or trust entity shall comply with the following conditions:
   (aa) Total carrying value of all investments in SPs shall not exceed 100% of the bank's qualifying Tier 1 capital or fifty percent (50%) of a trust entity's trust assets; and
   (bb) For investments in SPs under the EFCDU, total carrying value of SPs as defined herein shall also not exceed twenty percent (20%) of the total FCDU assets: Provided, That SPs which are not booked in an investment account (e.g., booked as inter-bank loans), for this purpose, shall be considered as part of the EFCDU assets.

An SP is considered principal-protected if the minimum all-in return for such investment is at least zero and such minimum all-in return is guaranteed by an entity (i.e., issuer or a third party) rated at least "A" or its equivalent by an international rating agency acceptable to the BSP or fully collateralized by an asset with equivalent credit quality.

(3) As a broker. A UB or KB may facilitate derivatives transactions between dealers and market and/or institutional counterparties and/or sophisticated individual end-users: Provided, That the UB/KB, acting as broker, ensures that its client fully understands its limited responsibility as a broker: Provided further, That the bank adheres to procedures for evaluating client suitability, including risk disclosures, as prescribed in Appendix 26: Provided finally, That the bank complies with other pertinent securities laws, rules and regulations.

b. TBs, RBs and Coop Banks may enter in derivatives transactions as end-user with BSP - authorized dealers and brokers solely for hedging purposes: Provided, That they observe all the requirements for hedging transactions under PAS1. A TB, RB or Coop Bank may apply for a Type 3 authority to enter into derivatives transactions as end-user for purposes other than hedging: Provided, That the applicant bank agrees to be covered by all regulations prescribing capital for market risk, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary; and

c. A trust department of a UB or KB may transact, as an institutional counterparty, with financial derivatives instruments enumerated under Subsec. X611.1(a)(2) on behalf of its trustor/principal/s as may be authorized by such trustor/principal/s: Provided, That the trust department observes the relevant provisions of Appendices 25 and 26. Trust entities other than that within a UB or KB may apply for a Type 3 authority to enter on behalf of its trustor/principal/s in derivatives transactions under Subsec. X611.1(a)(2). Any trust entity may also apply for Type 3 authority in order to transact as end-user on behalf of its trustor/principal/s with derivatives instruments outside those enumerated under Subsec. X611.1(a)(2).

§ X611.2(2008 - X602.2) Activities requiring additional derivatives authority. A bank shall apply for prior BSP approval of additional derivatives authority to engage in all other financial derivatives activities not expressly allowed in Subsec. X611.1. A bank may apply for two (2) or more additional authorities. A bank applying for additional derivatives authority/ies must have and maintain a risk management system commensurate to the additional authority/ies being applied for, in accordance with the provisions of Appendix 25 and meet other conditions specified under this Subsection.

a. Classification of additional derivatives authority

(1) Type 1 - Expanded dealer authority

A UB or KB may apply for a Type 1 authority. A bank with Type 1 authority may transact in any financial derivatives as a dealer: Provided, That a bank with Type 1 authority shall comply with the sales and marketing guidelines prescribed in Appendix 26. A bank with Type 1 authority may likewise transact in any financial derivatives as a broker and an end-user.

The BSP expects banks applying for Type 1 authority to institutionalize a (a) comprehensive and integrated risk management system; and (b) sales and marketing practices that are deemed appropriate and adequate for the different derivatives activities it expects to engage 1 All transactions involving warrants issued under the ROP’s "Paired Warrants Program" shall be considered as among the generally authorized derivatives activities that banks (including TBs and RBs/Coop Banks) may engage in as end-user, without need for additional derivatives authority required under this Subsection: Provided, That banks holding such instruments shall comply with the requirements of Appendix 25, where applicable.

in. It must be rated at least CAMELS (or ROCA for branches of foreign banks) of “4” or better over-all, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary.

(2) Type 2 - Limited dealer authority
A UB or KB may apply for a Type 2 authority. A bank with Type 2 authority may operate as a dealer in specific types of derivatives products with specific underlying reference, as applied for by the bank, outside those financial derivatives instruments under Subsec. X611.1(a)(1): Provided, That a bank with Type 2 authority shall comply with the sales and marketing guidelines prescribed in Appendix 26. The Type 2 authority also carries authority to transact as broker and end-user of the said specific derivatives instruments.

(3) Type 3 - Limited user authority
Any bank may apply for a Type 3 authority. A bank with Type 3 authority may transact, as an end-user, in specific types of derivatives products, with specific underlying reference, as applied for by the bank, outside of those instruments under Subsec. X611.1(a)(2). However, as regards a TB, RB or Coop Bank and trust entity other than that within a UB or KB, a Type 3 authority will enable said bank/entity to transact as end-user of a derivative instrument as may be applied for by the bank/entity.

(4) Type 4 - Special broker authority
A bank, other than a UB or KB, may apply for a Type 4 authority. A bank with Type 4 authority may facilitate a derivatives transaction between a UB or KB, as dealer, and market and institutional counterparties and sophisticated individual end-users: Provided, That the bank, acting as broker, ensures that its client fully understands its limited responsibility as a broker and observes the provisions of Appendix 26. A UB or KB may likewise apply for a Type 4 authority to enable itself to broker a derivatives transaction for or with other end-users.

A bank with additional Type 1, 2 or 4 authorities shall be responsible for complying with pertinent securities laws, rules and regulations.

For purposes of this Subsection, the types of derivatives are classified as follows: forwards, swaps and options. Underlying reference pertains to the following: interest, FX, equity, credit and commodity.

b. Qualification requirements. A bank applying for additional authority to engage in expanded derivatives activities shall:
(1) Demonstrate adequate competence in its general operations as evidenced by:
(a) CAMELS (or ROCA for branches of foreign banks) composite rating of at least “3” with a similar rating for Management;
(b) No unresolved major safety and soundness issues that threaten liquidity or solvency; and
(c) Substantial compliance with regulations on anti-money laundering, corporate governance and risk management.

(2) Hold capital commensurate to the risks assumed or to be assumed from the derivatives activities. The BSP expects a bank applying for or holding additional derivatives authority to have adequate capital to accommodate existing and future risks from additional and generally authorized derivatives activities as well as risks arising from the bank’s other business activities. For this purpose, the BSP may require capital higher than the minimum required under prudential regulations.

(3) Have and maintain a risk management system that conforms to the principles and complies with the minimum standards prescribed in Appendix 25.

c. Applicability to trust entities. Trust entities may apply for Type 3 authority: Provided, That they comply with the requirements prescribed and observe the provisions of Appendix 26.
d. Application procedures. The applicant shall submit to the Capital Markets Specialist Group, SES of the BSP a written application for additional derivatives authority/ies accompanied by:

2. A notarized certification signed jointly by the president, treasurer and compliance officer of the applicant/bank (or two authorized signatories of equivalent rank of the trust committee in case of trust entities), stating that the bank complies with all the requirements for the authority being applied for specified in Subsec. X611.2; and

3. A list of the types of derivatives and underlying reference the bank intends to engage in, including the following information for each derivatives class or type:
   a. Target customers for such derivatives;

   f. Relevant accounting guidelines, including pro-forma accounting entries;
   g. Analysis of any actual or potential legal/regulatory restrictions; and
   h. Process flow chart, from deal initiation to risk reporting, indicating the departments and personnel involved in identified processes.

4. Payment of a non-refundable processing fee amounting to:

5. The BSP will not accept applications lacking any of the above-stated requirements. The BSP, however, may require additional documents to aid its evaluation of the application. By virtue of the application, the applicant automatically authorizes the BSP to conduct an on-site evaluation of the applicant’s risk management capabilities, if this is deemed necessary.

6. Type 1 authority shall be subject to approval by the Governor, upon recommendation of the Deputy Governor, SES. All other applications for additional authority/ies shall be subject to approval by the Deputy Governor, SES.

7. A bank whose application for additional derivatives authority/ies or an upgrade thereof (e.g., from Type 2 to Type 1 authority) has been denied cannot submit a new application for additional derivatives authorities until after six (6) months from receipt of denial. The same rule applies for a bank whose authorities have been limited or downgraded.

8. party transactions outlined in Appendix 25, as part of the bank’s internal control procedures. The BSP expects banks to establish internal reporting and monitoring system for derivatives activities for related-party transactions. Failure to comply with minimum standards shall be a ground for citing non-compliance with Subsecs. X611.1 and X611.2 without prejudice to other BSP rules and regulations such as those related to corporate governance and unsafe and unsound banking practices.

§ X611.4 (2008 - X602.4) Accounting guidelines. A bank that engages in derivatives activities must strictly account for such transactions in accordance with PAS.

§ X611.5 (2008 - X602.5) Reporting requirements. A bank or trust department/entity engaged in any derivatives transaction shall submit, in addition to the derivatives reports enumerated under the BSP FRP, a monthly report on derivatives transactions/outstanding derivatives within fifteen (15) banking days from end of the reference month. The reports shall be certified by the treasurer.

a. Unauthorized transactions. Sanctions prescribed under Sections 36 and 37 of R.A. No. 7653 shall be imposed on any bank (including its directors and officers) found to have engaged in an unauthorized derivatives activity.

A bank undertaking unauthorized derivatives activities may be considered as conducting its business in an unsafe and unsound manner under Section 56 of R.A. No. 8791.

b. Delayed/erroneous/inaccurate reporting. Banks failing to submit the reports required under Subsec. X611.5 within the prescribed deadline shall be subject to monetary penalties applicable for delayed reporting under existing regulations. Moreover, submission of incomplete, uncertified or improperly certified or otherwise erroneous reports shall be considered non-reporting, subject to applicable penalties for amended/delayed reports. For purposes of imposing monetary penalties, the reports shall be classified as a Category A-1 report.

Habitual delayed or erroneous reporting may be a ground for further sanction, including limitation of generally authorized activities and/or additional authorities and/or suspension of authority to engage in such derivatives activities.

c. Non-compliance with the provisions of Sec. X611 and its Subsections and Appendices 25 and 26. Any bank/trust entity found violating any of the provisions of Sec. X611 and its Subsections, and/or Appendices 25 and/or 26 shall be sanctioned with the penalties prescribed under Sections 36 and 37 of R.A. No. 7653 in accordance with the gravity/seriousness of the offense taking into consideration the number of times the offense was committed, possible consequent losses on the clients, effect on the financial markets and other relevant factors.

d. Curtailment of derivatives authority.

The BSP reserves the right to suspend, modify, downgrade, limit or revoke any bank’s derivatives authority (including any or all of those generally authorized activities) for prudential reasons as may be evidenced by any or all of the following:

(1) The bank is assigned a CAMELS (or ROCA in the case of branches of foreign banks) composite rating or component management rating of lower than that prescribed under Subsec. X611.2, in the most recent regular examination.

(2) The bank has not maintained adequate risk management systems given the level and type of derivatives activities it has engaged in as may be determined. by the BSP in any on-site evaluation and confirmed by the Monetary Board.

(3) The Monetary Board has confirmed an SES finding that the bank has conducted business in an unsafe and unsound manner.

An erring bank may apply for reinstatement of its derivatives authority only after six (6) months from lapse of the implementation of the sanction: Provided, That the bank has satisfactorily addressed all BSP concerns.

Transitory provisions. Expanded or any other derivatives authority granted prior to 30 January 2008 shall be operative for one (1) year from the said date: Provided, That a bank undertaking any derivatives activities pursuant thereto shall immediately comply with the pertinent provisions of Appendices 25 and 26. A bank which intends to continue its existing derivatives authority not covered by those generally authorized under Subsec. X611.1, must submit an application for the appropriate additional derivatives authority within the one (1) - year transitory period. After the lapse of the one (1) - year transitory period, a bank can only perform those activities which are permissible under Sec. X611 and its Subsections.

A bank whose SPs, as of 30 January 2008, exceed the prudential limits prescribed under Subsec. X611.1a(3) may maintain existing positions but cannot increase its exposures or invest in additional SPs until such time when its exposure levels are within the prescribed limits.

Sec. X625 (2008 - X602.14) Forward and Swap Transactions. The following guidelines shall govern the forward and swap transactions in Philippine peso § X625.1 (2008 - X602.14) Statement of policy. It is the policy of the BSP to support the deepening of the Philippine financial markets. In line with this policy, customers may, thru FX forwards, hedge their market risks arising from FX obligations and/or exposures: Provided, That forward sale of FX (deliverable and non-deliverable) may only be used when the underlying transaction is eligible for servicing by the banking system under Circular No. 1389 dated 13 April 1993, as amended. Customers may, likewise, cover their funding requirements thru FX swaps.

Banks may only engage in FX forwards and swap transactions with customers if the latter is hedging market risk or covering funding requirements. There shall be no double/multiple hedging such that at any given point in time, the total notional amount of the FX derivatives transaction/s shall not exceed the amount of the underlying FX obligation/exposure.

The customer shall no longer be allowed to buy FX from the banking system for FX obligations/exposures that are fully covered by deliverable FX forwards and FX swaps.

The following guidelines, as well as minimum documentary requirements, shall cover FX forward and swap transactions involving the Philippine peso between authorized dealer banks and their customers.

§ X625.2 (2008 - X602.15) Definition of terms

a. Credit default swaps (CDS) - refers to a financial contract between two (2) parties, the protection buyer and protection seller, with reference to a certain notional value of a reference credit or a basket of reference credits, whereby the former pays a premium to the latter, and in return the latter agrees to make certain protection payments to the former contingent upon the occurrence of a credit event with respect to the reference entity(ies)/asset(s).

b. Credit-linked note (CLN) - refers to a pre-funded credit derivative instrument under which the note holder effectively accepts the transfer of credit risk pertaining to a reference asset or basket of assets issued by a reference entity/ies. The repayment of the principal to the note holder is contingent upon the occurrence of a defined credit event. In consideration thereof, the note holder receives an economic return reflecting the underlying credit risk of the reference assets. For purposes of Sec. X611, the term shall generically include similar instruments such as credit-linked deposits (CLDs) and credit-linked loans (CLLs). Unless otherwise stated, the term shall refer only to plain vanilla CLNs. Plain vanilla CLNs are composed of a debt or deposit instrument and a CDS. Non-plain vanilla CLNs are those that are leveraged and/or include features of other SPs (e.g., coupon payments linked to interest or FX rate movements) and/or contains more than one (1) embedded derivative.

Secs. X626 - X628 (Reserved)

Sec. 1628 (2008 - 1633) Credit-linked Notes and Similar Credit Derivative Products. The following are the guidelines for the capital treatment of investments in credit-linked notes and similar credit derivative products such as credit-linked deposits and credit-linked loans.

§ 1628.1 (2008 - 1633) Definitions

(1) A credit-linked note (CLN) pertains to a pre-funded credit derivative instrument under which the note holder effectively accepts the transfer of credit risk pertaining to a reference asset or basket of assets issued by a reference entity/ies. The repayment of the principal to the note holder is contingent upon the occurrence of a defined credit event. In consideration, the note holder receives an economic return reflecting the underlying credit risk of the reference asset/s.

All references to CLNs in this Section shall be taken to generically include similar instruments, such as Credit-Linked Deposits (CLDs) and Credit-Linked Loans (CLLs).

(2) An SPV, for purposes of this Section, refers to an entity specifically established to issue CLNs of a single, homogeneous risk class that are fully collateralized as to principal by high-grade securities purchased out of the proceeds of the note issuance. Collateral shall be limited to securities with an assignable risk weight of not more than twenty percent (20%) under existing regulations.

§ 1628.2 (2008 - 1633) Qualified banks

In general, only banks with expanded derivatives authority may invest in CLNs as defined above on the principle that such banks have already demonstrated a more sophisticated ability to manage risks.

Subject to the provisions in Sec. 1648, they may also invest in SPV-issued CLNs that co-exist with other CLNs of different seniority of claims against the reference asset pool. As an exception to the general rule, a UB/KB without expanded derivatives authority may invest in single name CLNs where the reference asset is a direct ROP obligation or an obligation fully guaranteed by the ROP.

(1) Banking book. Positions in CLNs in the banking book shall be reported in the computation of the risk-based capital adequacy ratio covering credit risks under Sec. X116.

Through holding a CLN, a bank acquires credit exposure on two (2) fronts - to the reference entity of the note and also to the note issuer. The on-balance sheet exposure arising from the CLN should be weighted by the higher of the risk weight of the reference entity or the risk weight of the note issuer. The amount of exposure is the book value of the note. If the CLN principal is fully collateralized by securities that are acceptable as credit risk mitigant under Sec. X116 and provided such collateral is constituted in a legally effective manner as to give priority to the note holders’ interest in the event of bankruptcy of the note issuer, the risk weight of the note issuer is substituted with the risk weight associated with the relevant security. When the CLN is referenced to a basket of reference entities and the contract terminates and pays out on the first entity to default in the basket, capital should be held to consider the cumulative risk of all the reference entities in the basket. This means that the risk weights of all the reference entities are added up and the sum compared with the risk weight of the note issuer. If the sum of the risk weights of all the reference entities in the basket is higher than the risk weight of the note issuer, then this sum is adopted. The resultant risk-weighted exposure to the basket is, however, capped at ten (10) times the book value of the note. Accordingly, the maximum capital charge is 100% of the book value of the note. The multiplier ten (10) is the reciprocal of the BSP-required minimum capital adequacy ratio of ten percent (10%).

If, on the other hand, the risk weight of the note issuer is still higher than the sum of the risk weights of all the reference entities in the basket, then the risk weight of the note issuer is adopted.

When the contract terminates and pays out on the nth (other than the first) entity to default in the basket, the treatment above shall apply except that in aggregating the risk weights of reference entities, the risk weight/s of n–1 entity/ies is/are excluded from the computation. The bank may choose which entity/ies to exclude.

A CLN which is referenced to entities in the basket proportionately should be risk-weighted according to each reference entity’s share of protection under the contract. Thus, if there are two (2) reference entities in a P100.0 million contract, one (1) with a 100% risk weight and a twenty percent (20%) share and the other with a twenty percent (20%) risk weight and an eighty percent (80%) share, the risk weighted exposure is P36.0 million, i.e., P100.0 million x 20% x 100% + P100.0 million x 80% x 20%. The corresponding capital charge is P3.6 million (P36.0 million x 10%).

(2) Trading book. Positions in CLNs taken up in the trading book should be reported in the computation of the adjusted risk-based capital adequacy ratio covering combined credit risk and market risk under Appendix 46.

(a) Standardized approach

The following describes the positions to be reported for investments in CLNs for purposes of calculating specific risk and general market risk charges under the standardized approach.

A CLN investment is treated as a position in the note itself, with an embedded credit default product. The CLN is subject to the specific risk associated with the issuer or the collateral when the issuer is an SPV. In addition, it is subject to general market risk that is a function of the maturity and coupon or interest rate of the note. The embedded credit default product creates a notional position in the specific risk of the reference obligation (with no additional general market risk position created).

Specific risk

A CLN investment should be reported as a long position on the reference obligation and a long position on the note itself.

When a CLN is referenced to multiple obligations in a basket, the positions reported shall depend on the structure of the contract. When the contract terminates and pays out on the first obligation to default in the basket, the note should be reported as long positions in each of the reference obligations in the basket, with the total capital charge for the product capped at the book value of the note. When the contract terminates and pays out on the n\textsuperscript{th} (other than the first) entity to default in the basket, the treatment above shall apply except that in aggregating the risk weights of the reference obligations, the risk weights of n-1 obligations is/are excluded from the computation. The bank may choose which obligations to exclude. Subject to prior BSP clearance, a bank may disapply the additive rule when a very strong correlation among the reference obligations in the basket can be demonstrated. The additive treatment may also be disapplied when an n\textsuperscript{th}-to-default CLN is rated such that it meets the criteria of a security with the “highest credit quality” as defined under Appendix 46. Positions in the reference obligations can be reported as a single long position in a debt security with the “highest credit quality”. A long position on the note should also be reported whether or not the CLN meets the criteria of a security with the “highest credit quality”.

When the CLN is referenced to multiple obligations under a proportionate structure, positions in the reference obligations should be reported according to their respective proportions in the contract.

General market risk
A CLN investment creates a long position in the note itself.

(b) Internal models approach
Banks may seek the BSP’s approval to include CLNs in their recognized models for calculating capital charges. The detailed requirements relating to the use of internal models are set out in Annex A of Appendix 46.

While some banks may not be able to run full internal models to calculate market risk capital charges, they may, with the necessary expertise and systems, use preprocessing techniques to calculate capital charge for CLNs. Banks wishing to adopt these techniques should seek BSP’s prior consent. The preprocessing models are subject to verification by the BSP.

§ 1628.4 (2008 - 1633) Risk management
CLN structures are considered to be exposed to greater risks than comparable investments in direct obligations. In particular, investing banks should be aware of the potential legal risk arising from an unenforceable contract. They should consult their legal advisors about these and related legal issues before engaging in such transactions. In addition, all investments in CLNs must be duly approved by a bank’s board of directors and subjected to appropriate risk management procedures.

§ 1628.5 (2008 - 1633) Transitional arrangements
Banks which have outstanding investments in CLNs, but which have not been authorized under this Section to invest in such, shall be given a period of ninety (90) calendar days from 25 February 2004 (effectivity of Circular No. 417) to divest themselves of such investments.

§ 1628.6 (2008 - 1633) Bangko Sentral approval not required
No prior BSP approval is required to invest in CLNs and similar products. However, it shall be the responsibility of UBs/KBs to fully comply with appropriate risk management standards including, as a minimum, those prescribed under this Section. The regulatory requirements enumerated in Appendix 66 shall be fully complied with.
by UBs/KBs investing in products allowed under this Section.

Sec. 2628 (Reserved)

Secs. X629 - X635 (Reserved)

Sec. 1635 Banks’ Exposures to Structured Products. The following rules and regulations shall govern the capital treatment of banks’ exposures to structured products.

§ 1635.2 Definition. A structured product refers to a financial instrument where the return is a function of one (1) or more underlying indices, such as interest rates, equities and exchange rates. There may also be embedded derivatives such as swaps, forwards, options, caps, and floors that reshape the risk-return pattern. For purposes of this Subsection, structured products do not include asset-backed securities, credit-linked notes and other similar instruments.

§ 1635.3 Qualified banks. As a general rule, only UBs and KBs with expanded derivatives license may obtain exposures in structured products. Banks without expanded derivatives license may only invest in structured products duly approved by the BSP.

§ 1635.4 Capital treatment of banks’ exposures to structured products
a. Banking book
   (1) Risk weights. Capital charge for structured products held in the banking book shall depend on the rating of the issuing entity, or rating of the collateral in case of structured products issued by special purpose vehicles (SPVs), given by the following BSP-recognized international credit rating agencies:
   (a) Moody’s;
   (b) Standard & Poor’s;
   (c) Fitch Ratings; and
   (d) Such other international rating agencies as may be approved by the Monetary Board.

   In cases where there are two (2) or more types of collateral, capital charge shall depend on the lowest rated collateral.

   The mapping of ratings to the corresponding risk weights shall be as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Risk weight</th>
<th>Moody’s Ratings</th>
<th>Standard &amp; Poor’s Ratings</th>
<th>Fitch Ratings</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>50%</td>
<td>Aaa to Aa3</td>
<td>AAA to AA-</td>
<td>AAA to AA-</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>100%</td>
<td>A1 to A3</td>
<td>A+ to A-</td>
<td>A+ to A-</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>150%</td>
<td>Baa1 to Baa3</td>
<td>BBB+ to BBB-</td>
<td>BBB+ to BBB-</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

   (2) Use of ratings. If an issuer of a structured product has only one (1) rating by any of the BSP-recognized international rating agencies, that rating shall be used to determine the risk weight of the product; in cases where there are two (2) or more ratings which map into different risk weights, the higher of the lowest two (2) risk weights should be used.

   b. Trading book. Capital charge for structured products held in the trading book shall be determined in accordance with Appendix 45.

§ 1635.5 Bangko Sentral approval not required. No prior BSP approval is required to enter into authorized transactions. However, it shall be the responsibility of UBs/KBs to fully comply with appropriate risk management standards including, as a minimum, those prescribed under this Section. The regulatory requirements enumerated in Appendix 66 shall be fully complied with by UBS/KBs investing in products allowed under this Section.

(5) Management should ensure that the risks of the investments are accurately aggregated in risk reports on a timely basis.

§ 1636.4 Capital treatment of structured products. The capital treatment shall be in accordance with existing rules and regulations as modified for structured instruments.

Secs. X637 - X648 (Reserved)

Sec. 1648 Investments in Securities Overlying Securitization Structures. The following rules shall govern banks’ investments in securities overlying securitization structures.

§ 1648.1 Statement of policy. The BSP aims to foster the development of a market for new financial products in the country and provide banks with expanded opportunities for investment diversification, while at the same time ensure that they hold sufficient capital commensurate to the risks inherent in these products.

b. structures with at least two (2) different stratified risk positions or tranches that reflect different degrees of credit risk, where credit risk of an underlying pool of exposures is transferred, in whole or in part, through the use of credit derivatives or guarantees that serve to hedge the credit risk of the portfolio (also known as synthetic securitization).

§ 1648.3 Qualified banks. UBs/KBs with expanded derivatives authority may invest in securities overlying any tranches of securitization structures. UBs/KBs without expanded derivatives authority may also invest but only in securities overlying tranches of securitization structures that are rated at least "A", or its equivalent, by a BSP-recognized credit rating agency.

§ 1648.4 Capital treatment of investments in securities overlying securitization structures

However, it shall be the responsibility of UBs/KBs to fully comply with appropriate risk management standards including, as a minimum, those prescribed under this Section. The regulatory requirements enumerated in Appendix 66 shall be fully complied with by UBs/KBs investing in products allowed under this Section.

§ X651.5 Minimum features of asset-backed securities.
The ABS shall be pre-numbered and printed on security paper. The ABS shall be signed and authenticated by the trustee. They are transferable by endorsement of the certificate. The transfer shall be recorded in the books of the trustee, indicating the names of the parties to the transaction, the date of the transfer and the number of the certificate transferred.

   b. The seller shall have no obligation to repurchase or substitute an asset or any part of the asset pool at any time, except in cases of a breach of representation or warranty, or under a revolving structure, to replace performing assets which have been paid out in part or full.
   c. The seller shall be under no obligation to provide additional assets to the SPT to maintain a "coverage ratio" of collateral to outstanding ABS. A breach of this requirement will be considered a credit enhancement and should be charged against capital. However, this will not apply to an asset pool conveyed under a revolving structure such as the securitization of credit card receivables.
   d. Securitized assets shall be considered the subject to a true sale between the seller and the SPT. Sold assets shall be taken off the books of the seller and shall be transferred to the books of the SPT.

b. The representations or warranties shall be clear and explicit and, in particular, shall not relate to the future creditworthiness of the assets in the asset pool or the performance of the SPT or the securities issued.

c. Any agreement to pay damages as a result of breach of warranties and representations shall hold only where:

1. there is a well-documented negotiation of the agreement in good faith;
2. the burden of proof for a breach of representation or warranty rests with the other party;
3. damages are limited to the loss incurred as a result of the breach; and
4. there is a written notice of claim specifying the basis for the claim.

The BSP shall be notified of any instance where a bank or its subsidiaries/affiliates has agreed to pay damages arising out of any breach of representation or warranty.

d. The trustee shall initiate all civil actions including foreclosure of mortgaged properties to effect collection of receivables in the asset pool. The servicer or any other party may be designated by the trustee to perform such function on a case-by-case basis.

§ X651.12 Servicer

a. The servicer shall perform its duties according to the terms and conditions of the servicing agreement and such other written instructions as the trustee may issue on a case-by-case basis. Collections made by the servicer shall be remitted promptly to the trustee or as may be agreed upon by the parties in the servicing agreement, but in no case shall the remittance period be longer than one (1) month.

b. The servicer shall prepare periodic reports as may be required by the trustee.

c. The servicer shall report to the trustee within thirty (30) days, any borrower which fails to pay its debt at maturity date or any adverse development that may affect the collectibility of any loan account or receivable comprising the asset pool.

d. The servicer shall have no authority to waive penalties and charges except with a written authority from the trustee.

§ X651.13 Underwriter

a. A UB or IH shall have written policies and procedures on underwriting of ABS.

b. The underwriter shall perform its functions according to the terms and conditions of the underwriting agreement.

c. An underwriter may deal in ABS, except those administered by its trust department, the trust departments of its subsidiaries/affiliates, the trust department of its parent bank or the trust department of its parent bank's subsidiaries/affiliates.

c. Guarantee issued by any entity other than the originator/seller or its subsidiary/affiliate, its parent bank or the parent bank's subsidiary/affiliate, and trustee or its subsidiary/affiliate;
d. Overcollateralization provided by the originator/seller wherein the assets conveyed to the SPT exceed the amount of securities to be issued. Losses arising from overcollateralization shall be recognized by the originator/seller upfront. Such losses shall be treated as capital charges.
e. Spread account wherein the income from the underlying pool of receivables is made available to cover any shortfall in the repayment of ABS. The spread account shall be handled by the trustee which shall account for it separately. If not needed, this "spread" generally reverts to the holder of the residual certificate.
f. Subordinated securities that are lower ranking, or junior to other obligations and are paid after claims to holders of senior securities are satisfied.
g. Other credit enhancements as may be approved by the Monetary Board. To be consistent with the concept of true sale, subordinated securities shall be sold to third party investors other than originator/seller’s parent company or its subsidiary/affiliate and the trustee or its subsidiary/affiliate or, if held by the seller, capital charges should be booked upfront. Otherwise, the subordinated securities shall be treated as deposit substitute subject to legal reserves.

§ X651.16 Clean-up call. A clean-up call may be exercised by the seller once the outstanding principal balance of the receivable component of the asset pool falls to ten percent (10%) or less of the original principal balance of the asset pool. Where the asset pool includes foreclosed and other assets, such assets shall be included in the clean-up call and the consideration thereof shall be at current market value. Such a clean-up call shall not be considered recourse or in violation of Subsec. X651.7 on conveyance of assets.

a. The seller may not, under any circumstance, designate its trust department, the trust department of its subsidiaries/affiliates, the trust department of its parent bank or the trust department of its parent bank’s subsidiaries/affiliates as trustee.
b. Any director, officer or employee of the originator, seller or servicer may not serve as a member of the board of directors or trust committee of the trustee or vice versa for the duration of the securitization.
c. The trust indenture shall not contain any stipulation whereby the seller, its subsidiaries/affiliates, its parent bank or the parent bank’s subsidiaries/affiliates shall commit to extend any credit facility to the issuer and/or trustee.
d. The ABS shall not be eligible as collateral for a loan extended by a bank which originated/sold the underlying assets of such ABS.
e. The trust department of a bank that has discretion in the management of any trust or investment management account may not purchase for said trust/investment management account ABS administered by the trust department of the same bank, the trust department of such trustee’s subsidiaries/affiliates, the trust department of such trustee’s parent bank and the trust department of the parent bank’s subsidiaries/affiliates.

Outsourcing of internet and mobile banking services shall be governed by the provisions of Subsec. X162.2.

Secs. X702 – X704 (Reserved)

These guidelines shall govern the implementation of e-banking activities of a bank for purposes of compliance with the requirements to safeguard customer information; prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing; reduction of fraud and theft of sensitive customer information; and promotion of legal enforceability of banks’ electronic agreements and transactions.

§ X705.1 (2008 - App. 70) E-Banking oversight function

(a) Bank’s board of directors (BOD) and a senior management committee are responsible for developing the bank’s e-banking business strategy and establishing an effective management oversight over e-banking services.

The BOD is expected to take an explicit, informed and documented strategic decision as to whether and how the bank is to provide e-banking services to their customers. Effective management oversight encompasses the review and approval of the key aspects of the bank’s security control program and process, such as the development and maintenance of security control policies and infrastructure that properly safeguard e-banking systems and data from both internal and external threats. It also includes a comprehensive process for managing risks associated with increased complexity of and increasing reliance on outsourcing relationships and third-party dependencies to perform critical e-banking functions.

It is also incumbent upon the BOD and banks’ senior management to take steps to ensure that their banks have updated and modified where necessary, their existing risk management policies and processes to cover their current or planned e-banking services. The integration of e-banking applications with legacy systems implies an integrated risk management approach for all banking activities.

(b) Bank’s compliance officer should ensure that proper controls are incorporated into the system so that all relevant compliance issues are fully addressed.

Management and system designers should consult with the compliance officer during the development and implementation stages of e-banking products and services. This level of involvement will help decrease bank’s compliance risk and may prevent the need to delay deployment or redesign programs that do not meet regulatory requirements.

§ X705.2 (2008 - App. 70) E-Banking risk management and internal control

(a) Information Security Program

Banks should establish and maintain comprehensive information security program and ensure that it is properly implemented and strictly enforced. They should also encourage the development of a security culture within the organization. The information security program should include, at a minimum, the following:

1. Identification and assessment of risks associated with e-banking products and services;
2. Identification of risk mitigation actions, including appropriate authentication technology and internal controls;
3. Information disclosure and customer privacy policy; and
4. Evaluation of consumer awareness efforts.

Banks should adjust or update, as appropriate, their information security program in light of any relevant changes in technology, the sensitivity of its customer information and internal or external threats to information such as increasing incidence of identity theft.

(b) Information security measures

Banks should ensure that their information security measures and internal control related to e-banking are installed, regularly updated, monitored and is appropriate with the risks associated with their products and services.

Appendices 70a and 70b provide for the minimum security measures that banks should employ in their ATM facilities and internet/mobile banking activities, respectively, to protect depositors and consumers from fraud, robbery and other e-banking crimes.

Banks should also take into account other relevant industry security standards and sound practices as appropriate, and keep up with the most current information security issues (e.g., security weaknesses of the wireless environment), by sourcing relevant information from well-known security resources and organizations.

(c) Authentication

To authenticate the identity of e-banking customers, banks should employ techniques appropriate to the risks associated with their products and services. The implementation of appropriate authentication methodologies should start with a risk assessment process. The risk should be evaluated based on the type of customer; the customer transactional capabilities (e.g., bill payment, fund transfer, inquiry); the sensitivity of customer information and transaction being communicated to both the bank and the customer; the ease of using the communication method; and the volume of transactions.

Because the standards for implementing a commercially reasonable system may change over time as technology and other procedures develop, banks and technology service providers should continuously review, evaluate and identify authentication technology and ensure appropriate changes are implemented for each transaction type and level of access based on the current and changing risk factors. Account fraud and identity theft are frequently the result of single-factor (e.g., ID/password) authentication exploitation. Where risk assessments

1 There are several schemes perpetrated by these identity thieves, e.g., credit card fraud, account takeover fraud, new account fraud and check fraud.

Credit card fraud is where a fraudster causes the credit card of another person to be charged for a purchase. Account takeover fraud occurs when a fraudster obtains an individual’s personal information, and changes the official mailing address with that individual’s FI. Once accomplished, the fraudster has established a window of opportunity in which transactions are conducted without the victim’s knowledge. New account fraud involves the criminal using a false identity, made-up or stolen, to open a new account, typically to obtain a credit card or loan. Check fraud may either be done through (i) alterations to the check, (ii) forgeries of the maker’s signature on either the face of the check or the payee’s endorsement at the back of the check, or (iii) counterfeit checks created by a dishonest third party.
indicate that the use of single-factor authentication is inadequate, banks should implement multi-factor authentication (e.g., ATM card and PIN), layered security, or other controls reasonably calculated to mitigate those risks.

Banks’ authentication process should be consistent with and support the bank’s overall security and risk management programs. An effective authentication process should have customer acceptance, reliable performance, scalability to accommodate growth, and interoperability with existing systems and future plans as well as appropriate policies, procedures, and controls.

(d) Account origination and customer verification
With the growth in e-banking and e-commerce, banks should use reliable methods of originating new customer accounts. Potentially significant risks may arise when a bank accepts new customers through the internet or other electronic channels. Thus, in an e-banking environment, banks need to ensure that in originating new accounts, the KYC (“know your customer”) requirement which involves a “face-to-face” process is strictly adhered to.

(e) Monitoring and reporting of e-banking transactions
Monitoring systems can determine if unauthorized access to computer systems and customer accounts has occurred. A sound monitoring system should include audit features that can assist in the detection of fraud, money laundering, compromised passwords, or other unauthorized activities. The activation and maintenance of audit logs can help banks to identify unauthorized activities, detect intrusions, reconstruct events, and promote employee and user accountability. This control process also facilitates banks in the submission of suspicious activities reports as required by the AMLC and other regulatory bodies.

Adequate reporting mechanisms are needed to promptly inform security administrators when users are no longer authorized to access a particular system and to permit the timely removal or suspension of user account access.

Whenever critical systems or processes are outsourced to third parties, management should ensure that the appropriate logging and monitoring procedures are in place and that suspected unauthorized activities are communicated to the bank in a timely manner.
An independent party (e.g., internal or external auditor) should also review activity reports documenting the security administrators’ actions to provide the necessary checks and balances for managing system security.

§ X705.3 (2008 - App. 70) Compliance with consumer awareness program
Consumer awareness is a key defense against fraud and identity theft and security breach. Appendix 70c provides for the minimum Consumer Awareness Program that banks should convey to their customers. To be effective, banks should implement and continuously evaluate their consumer awareness program. Methods to evaluate a program’s effectiveness include tracking the number of customers who report fraudulent attempts to obtain their authentication credentials (e.g., ID/password), the number of clicks on information security links on websites, the number of inquiries.

§ X705.4 (2008 - App. 70) Minimum disclosure requirements
(a) Banks are required to provide their customers with a level of comfort regarding information disclosures or transparencies, protection of customer data and business availability that they can expect when using traditional banking services.

To minimize operational, legal and reputational risks associated with e-banking activities, banks should make adequate disclosure of information and take appropriate measures to ensure adherence to customer privacy and protection requirements. Appendix 70d provides for the minimum disclosure requirement of the banks.

Likewise, to meet customers' expectations, banks should have effective capacity, business continuity and contingency planning. They should have the ability to deliver e-banking services to all end-users and be able to maintain such availability in all circumstances (e.g., 24/7 availability). Effective incident response mechanisms and communication strategies are also critical to minimize risks arising from unexpected events, including internal and external attacks.

(b) Banks should apply to e-banking financial transactions and disclosures the record retention provisions required in paper-based transactions.

A written policy or procedure needs to define vital records relating to e-banking financial transactions and disclosures and the corresponding retention period of these records.

§ X705.5 (2008 - App. 70) Complaint resolution. Banks may receive customer complaint either through an electronic medium or otherwise, concerning an unauthorized transaction, loss, or theft in its e-banking account. Therefore, banks should ensure that controls are in place to review these notifications and that an investigation is initiated as required. Banks should also establish procedures to resolve disputes arising from the use of the e-banking products and services.

§ X705.6 (2008 - App. 70) Applicability

This regulations is intended for all e-banking services and products offered by the banks to their customers. Although these are focused on the risks and risk management techniques associated with an electronic delivery channel to protect customers and the general public, it should be understood, however, that not all of the consumer protection issues that have arisen in connection with new technologies are specifically addressed in this Section. Additional issuances may be issued in the future to address other aspects of consumer protection as the financial service environment through e-banking evolves.

f. Special attention should be given to all complex, unusual large transactions, and all unusual patterns of transactions, which have no apparent or visible lawful purpose. The background and purpose of such transactions should, as far as possible, be examined, the findings established in writing, and be available to help supervisors, auditors and law enforcement agencies.

g. Banks should not, or should at least avoid, transacting business with criminals. Reasonable measures should be adopted to prevent the use of their facilities for laundering of proceeds of crime and other illegal activities.

h. Banks are enjoined to require their clients FDXs/MCs and RAs to submit a copy of their certificate of registration issued by the BSP. This requirement shall be considered as part of KYC compliance procedures.

Secs. X802 - X803 (Reserved)

Sec. X804 (2008 - X691.1) Minimum Guidelines for Fund Transfers and Correspondent Banking Account Opening and Customer Identification

Banks shall adopt the minimum prescribed guidelines that contain the salient and relevant policies related to electronic fund transfers in Subsecs. X804.1 to X804.7 and correspondent banking transactions in Sec. X805.

The prescribed minimum guidelines should be incorporated as part of the standard operating procedures manual and wider anti-money laundering program which must be adhered to at all times. Enhancements may be introduced to these minimum guidelines to suit the particular institution’s risk profile but taking into consideration the minimum requirements prescribed under existing anti-money laundering rules and regulations of the BSP, particularly in the area of "Know Your Customer/Customer Due Diligence". § X804.1 (2008 - App. 52b) Nature of fund transfers. Fund transfers are remittances of funds from one (1) bank to another, either locally or internationally, in local or foreign currencies. It is used for moving the proceeds of loans, reimbursing letters of credit, payment of collections, foreign exchange transactions, etc. This may also include the movement of money between customers or between accounts of the same customer, or from a customer to a third party who is not a customer of the bank. Transfers can be effected by teletransmission, draft, manager’s check, or certified check depending on the request of the applicant. The term also includes Automated Clearing House transfers, transfers made at automated teller machines (ATMs) and point-of-sale terminals.

§ X804.2 (2008 - App. 52b) Responsibility and oversight
a. The FIs should be governed by a Manually Initiated Fund Transfers (MIFT) Policies and Procedures for fund transfer requests that are manually initiated (via fax, telephone, messenger, electronic mail, file transfers, and other similar manual origination means) externally from clients or internally from within the banking group/entities.
b. The policies and procedures should specify personnel that will be responsible for ensuring compliance with the guidelines on fund transfer transactions.
c. The policies and procedures shall also provide for independent review by appropriate personnel to monitor and ensure continued compliance with the institution’s policies, procedures and guidelines on fund transfers.
d. The FI shall allow electronic wire transfer (internet transfer) only upon its prior approval.

§ X804.3 (2008 - App. 52b) Risk-based due diligence
a. The bank should maintain a policies and procedures manual for fund transfers that is reasonably designed to prevent the FI from being used to facilitate money laundering and the financing of terrorist activities. At a minimum, the manual must incorporate policies, procedures and internal controls to:
   • Verify customer information (KYC);
   • Verify transactions that show indicators of suspicious transactions, particularly those instance stated under Rule 3.b.1 of the Revised Implementing Rules and Regulations (R.A. No. 9160, as amended by R.A. No. 9194);
   • File reports (including covered transaction/suspicious transactions reports);
   • Respond to regulators/law enforcement requests;
   • Provide education and/or training of personnel; and • Provide security procedures.
b. The bank should not accept fund transfer instructions from and/or pay-out fund transfers to non-customers, unless in cases where the initiating party is an authenticated primary customer of a sending group or unit of the bank.
c. If the fund sender/remitter is not a bank or coming from non-FATF member or non-compliant countries on AML, the receiving bank must do the due diligence on the beneficiary of the fund.
d. Whenever possible, manually initiated fund transfer instructions should not be the primary delivery method. Every effort should be made to provide the client with an electronic banking solution.

§ X804.4 (2008 - App. 52b) Validation
a. For written and faxed transaction initiations. The term validation applies to various methods used by both sending and receiving parties to verify the identity of the sender of a message. Some validation methods also verify elements in the message including but not limited to amount, value date and currency. Validation must be performed by all bank units. Some specific validation methods are:
   - Test key: An algorithmic computation method using a fixed set of factors known only to the sender and receiver, used to verify the sender and, in some cases, other elements of the message.
   - Authentication: A cryptographic process used to verify the sender and, in some cases, the full text of a message.
Signature verification: A matching of signature or other representation from a source document request to a document pre-signed by a bank customer and held on file by the bank, or other documents held by the customer (e.g. bank approved acceptable identification), used to verify the sender.

Telephone callback: A procedure used to verify the authenticity of a message received by telephone. The bank places a return phone call to the customer using a predetermined telephone number on file within the bank.

- Validation procedures
  i. Prior to the bank accepting from a customer a manually initiated funds transfer request, the customer must execute and sign an agreement which preferably is part of the account opening documentation, wherein are outlined the manual instruction procedures with related security procedures including customer agreement to accept responsibility for fraudulent or erroneous instructions provided the bank has complied with the stated security procedures.

  ii. It is mandatory that written MIFT instructions are signature verified. In addition, one (1) of the following primary security procedures must be applied: a recorded callback to the customer to confirm the transaction instructions, or testword arrangement/verification. The callback or testword requirement may be substituted by any of the following validity checks: use of a controlled PIN or other pre-established code; sequential numbering control of messages; pre-established verifiable forms; same as prior transmissions; standing/pre-defined instructions; or value for value transactions.

  iii. It is mandatory that faxed MIFT instructions are signature verified and the fax machine be located in a secured environment with limited and controlled staff access which permits visual monitoring. If monitoring is not possible, the equipment must be secured or programmed to receive messages into a password protected memory.

  Faxed MIFT transactions below a certain threshold (approved by the President/Country Manager (for branches of foreign banks) or Business Risk Manager) may be processed with the mandatory procedure described above and an enhanced security procedure such as (a) a recorded callback to the customer to confirm the transaction instructions and/or (b) testword arrangement/verification, and/or (c) utilization of secured forms that incorporate verifiable security procedures such as watermarks or codes, and/or (d) transmission encryption.

  iv. Telephone callback numbers and contacts must be securely controlled. The confirmation callback is to be recorded and made to the signatory(ies) of the customer’s individual account(s). For commercial and company accounts the callback will be made to the signatory(ies) of the account or, if so authorized, another person designated by the customer in the MIFT agreement. The party called is to be documented on the instructions. The callback must be made by someone other than (a) the person receiving the original instructions and (b) effecting the signature verification.

  b. Over-the-counter initiated transactions. Over-the-counter initiated funds transfers by the customers themselves require positive identification of the customer and verification of his/her signature. For transactions over a threshold set by the President/Country Manager (for branches of foreign banks) or Business Risk Manager these transactions shall also require a recorded telephone callback confirmation or another appropriate additional security procedure.
§ X804.5 (2008 - App. 52b) Exception processing. On rare occasions, exceptions processing may be necessary. When an established control standard temporarily cannot be met, a senior officer preferably Vice President or above, designated in writing by the President/Country Manager (for branches of foreign banks) may approve an exception processing standard because of unique business circumstances. The reason for creating the exception must be clearly documented including the identification of the applied compensating controls.

§ X804.6 (2008 - App. 52b) Control and administration policies for incoming fund/ wire transfers. This section deals with teletransmission payment orders received from Head office, branches and banks requesting payment or credit to be made to a specified beneficiary.

a. Cash payments to beneficiaries should only be made against proper receipt and identification.

b. Payment orders with incomplete or insufficient details should be referred immediately to the remitter bank for clarification. If no response is received within a reasonable time, the matter should be referred to the Compliance or Operations Officer or his/her designated officer for appropriate action as to whether to further investigate or return funds.

Sec. X805 (2008 - App. 52c) Banking Account Opening and Customer Identification. The following Subsections are the minimum guidelines for correspondent banking account opening and customer identification.

§ X805.2 (2008 - App. 52c) Responsibility and oversight. FIs should, in relation to cross-border correspondent banking and other similar relationships, in addition to performing normal due diligence measures:

a. Gather sufficient information about a respondent institution to understand fully the nature of the respondent’s business and to determine from publicly available information the reputation of the institution and the quality of supervision, including whether it has been subject to money laundering or terrorist financing investigation or regulatory action.

b. Assess the respondent institution’s anti-money laundering and terrorist financing controls.

c. Obtain approval from senior management before establishing new correspondent relationships.

d. Document the respective responsibilities of each institution.

e. With respect to “payable-through accounts”, be satisfied that the respondent bank has verified the identity of and performed on-going due diligence on the customers having direct access accounts of the correspondent and that it is able to provide relevant customer identification data upon request to the correspondent bank.

§ X805.3 (2008 - App. 52c) Risk-based due diligence.

a. Correspondent Banking Clients (CBC) presenting greater risk should be subjected to a higher level of due diligence.

b. The FI should consider the type of risk indicators in initiating the correspondent banking relationship, and on a continuing basis, to ascertain what reasonable due diligence or enhanced due diligence it will undertake.

c. The risk indicators to be considered are as follows:

(1) The Correspondent Banking Client’s (CBC) domicile:
   (a) Jurisdiction where the CBC is based and/or where its ultimate parent is headquartered. Certain jurisdictions are internationally recognized as having inadequate anti-money laundering standards, insufficient regulatory supervision or presenting greater risk for crime, corruption or terrorist financing. On the other hand, other jurisdictions such as members of the Financial Action Task force (FATF) have more robust regulatory environments representing lowers risks.
   (b) Institutions should review pronouncements from regulatory agencies and international bodies, such as the FATF, to evaluate the degree of risk presented by the jurisdiction in which the CBC is based and/or in which its ultimate parent is headquartered.

(2) The Correspondent Banking Client’s Ownership and Management Structures:
   (a) location of owners;
   (b) their corporate legal form;
   (c) transparency or ownership structure;
   (d) location and experience of management; and
   (e) involvement of politically exposed persons (PEPs) in the management or ownership.

(3) The Correspondent Banking Client’s Business and Customer Base:
   (a) type of businesses the CBC engages in;
   (b) type of markets the CBC serves;
   (c) involvement in certain business segments internationally recognized as creating particular vulnerability to money laundering, corruption or terrorist financing; and
   (d) substantial part of business income derived from higher risk clients (i.e., clients of a CBC that may be involved in activities or are connected to jurisdictions that are identified by credible sources as activities or countries being especially susceptible to money laundering).

d. The institution may give the appropriate weight to each risk factor as it deems necessary.

§ X805.4 (2008 - App. 52c) Due diligence standards

a. All CBC should be subjected to appropriate due diligence that will seek to assure that an institution is comfortable conducting business with a particular client given the client’s risk profile.

b. The institution may rely on publicly available information obtained either from the CBC or reliable third parties (e.g., regulators, exchanges) to satisfy its due diligence requirements.

c. Countries may permit FIs to rely on intermediaries or other third parties to perform the Customer Due Diligence (CDD) process or to introduce business, provided that the criteria set out below are met. Where such reliance is permitted, the ultimate responsibility for customer identification and verification remains with the FI relying on the third party.

The criteria that should be met are as follows:

(1) An FI relying upon a third party should immediately obtain the necessary information concerning the elements of the CDD process. FIs should take adequate steps to satisfy themselves that copies of identification data and other relevant documentation relating to the CDD requirements will be made available from the third party upon request without delay.
(2) The FI should satisfy itself that the third party is regulated and supervised for, and has measures in place to comply with CDD requirements.

d. The institution should consider the following elements -
   (1) CBC domicile and organization
       (a) jurisdiction where the CBC's ultimate parent is incorporated and/or headquartered;
       (b) particular operating unit wishing to maintain relationship; and
       (c) corporate legal form of CBC.
   (2) CBC ownership
       (a) publicly held
   (3) Shares traded on an exchange in a jurisdiction with an adequately recognized regulatory scheme; and
   (4) Identity of any significant controlling interests.
       (a) or privately owned
   (5) CBC executive management
       (a) structure and experience; and
       (b) existence of PEP.
   (6) CBC's Business
       (a) types of financial products and services; and
       (b) geographic markets reached.
   (7) Products and Services Offered
       (a) business purpose for the relationship with the CBC; and
       (b) products and services offered to the CBC.
   (8) Regulatory status and history
       (a) primary regulatory body supervising CBC; and
       (b) based on publicly available materials, any criminal or adverse regulatory action in the recent past.
   (9) CBC anti-money laundering controls
       (a) nature and extent of application.
   (10) No business arrangements with shell banks
       (a) the institution should confirm that CBC will not use the institution's products and services to engage in business with shell banks.

(11) CBC visit
       (a) The institution should visit CBC premises prior to or within a reasonable period of time; and
       (b) The institution confirms that CBC is not a shell bank.

§ X805.5 (2008 - App. 52c) Enhanced due diligence. The enhanced due diligence process will involve further consideration of the following elements designed to assure the institution has secured a greater level of understanding:

a. Ownership and management
   (1) Significant controlling interests, owner's sources of wealth and background, reputation in the market place, and recent material ownership changes.
   (2) Detailed data on the experience of each member of executive management and recent material changes in the executive management structure.

b. Politically Exposed Person (PEP) involvement.

FIs should, in relation to PEP, in addition to performing normal due diligence measures:
   (1) Have appropriate risk management systems to determine whether the customer is a PEP.
   (2) Obtain senior management approval for establishing business relationships with such customers.
   (3) Take reasonable measures to establish the source of wealth and source of funds.
   (4) Conduct enhanced on-going monitoring of the business relationship.

c. CBC anti-money laundering controls
   (1) Quality of anti-money laundering and client identification controls
   (2) Recognition by CBC senior management of the importance of controls

WHEREAS, Guarantor is willing, desirous and ready at any time to give such full guarantee as well as to comply with whatever conditions required in said Republic Act No. 7721.

NOW, THEREFORE, for the purpose above mentioned, Guarantor hereby agrees that in the event any branch of Guarantor located in the territory of the Republic of the Philippines should fail to promptly pay any lawful debt, claim or liability of any kind or character, due and payable under the laws of the Republic of the Philippines and pursuant to the terms of said debt, claim or liability, then Guarantor upon the demand of the Bangko Sentral shall promptly pay said debt, claim or liability to the person or persons entitled thereto under the laws of the Republic of the Philippines. Any such debt, claim or liability, not so promptly paid, shall bear interest at a rate per annum as may be prescribed by the Monetary Board. Said debts, claims or liabilities, interest thereon and any cost or expenses incidental to the collection thereof, shall be paid in the currency in which the obligations are expressed, or in which the costs or expenses were incurred.

The obligation of Guarantor upon default of any of its branches located in the territory of the Republic of the Philippines is primary, direct and immediate and not contingent on any remedy or recourse upon any asset, property or right which its branch or branches within the territory of the Republic of the Philippines may have, in such a way that any depositor or creditor of its branch or branches in the Philippines may take, at any time, any action on this Guarantee whether or not said depositor or creditor has simultaneously taken or will thereafter take, any direct or indirect action under the laws of the Philippines against said branch or branches, or against any assets, property or rights thereof. Provided, however, that Guarantor shall have the right to set-off should it have any claim or claims against any depositor or creditor taking any action by virtue of the provisions of its Guarantee.

No technicality in the law or in the language of this Guarantee or in any contract, agreement or security, held by or with said branch or branches in the Philippines, shall defeat the nature and purpose of this Guarantee as a primary and direct obligation of Guarantor to the end that the interest of the depositors and creditors of the said branch or branches in the Philippines may be fully protected and satisfied in accordance with Section 5 of Republic Act No. 7721. Guarantor hereby acknowledges having full knowledge of said Republic Act No. 7721 in accordance with which this primary and principal obligation is given.

The following are examples of loans to be cited under “Miscellaneous Exceptions – Loans”:

a. Loans with unregistered mortgage instrument which is not in compliance with the loan approval;
b. Loans with improperly executed supporting deed of assignment/pledge agreement/chattel mortgage/real estate mortgage;
c. Loans with unnotarized mortgage instruments/agreements;
d. Loans with collaterals not covered by appraisal reports or appraisal reports not updated;
e. Loan availments against expired credit line; availments in excess of credit line; availments against credit line without prior approval by appropriate authority;
f. Loans with collaterals not insured or with inadequate/expired insurance policies or the insurance policy is not endorsed in favor of the bank;
g. Loans granted beyond the limits of approving authority;
h. Loans granted without compliance with conditions stated in the approval; and
i. Loans secured by property the title to which bears an uncancelled annotation or lien or encumbrance.

B. Classified loans. These are loans which possess the characteristics outlined hereunder. Classified loans are subdivided into (1) loans especially mentioned; (2) substandard; (3) doubtful; and (4) loss.

1. Loans especially mentioned

These are loans and advances that have potential weaknesses that deserve management’s close attention. These potential weaknesses, if left uncorrected, may affect the repayment of the loan and thus increase credit risk to the bank. Their basic characteristics are as follows:

a. Loans with unlocated collateral folders and documents including, but not limited to, title papers, mortgage instruments and promissory notes;

b. Loans to firms not supported by board resolutions authorizing the borrowings;

c. Loans without credit investigation report/s;

d. Loans not supported by the documents required under Subsec. X304.1 except: consumer loans, with original amounts not exceeding P2.0 million: Provided, That these loans are current, and are supported by latest ITR or by BIR Form 2316 or payslips for at least three (3) months immediately preceding the date of loan application, and financial statements submitted for taxation purposes to the BIR, as may be applicable, at the time they were granted, renewed, restructured or extended. For this purpose, consumer loans include housing loans, loans for purchase of car, household appliance(s), furniture and fixtures, loans for payment of educational and hospital bills, salary loans and loans for personal consumption, including credit card loans;

e. Loans the repayment of which may be endangered by economic or market conditions that in the future may affect the borrower’s ability to meet scheduled repayments as evidenced by a declining trend in operations, illiquidity, or increasing leverage trend in the borrower’s financial statements;

f. Loans to borrowers whose properties securing the loan (previously well secured by collaterals) have declined in value or with other adverse information;

g. Loans past due for more than thirty (30) days up to ninety (90) days; and

h. Loans previously cited as “Miscellaneous Exceptions” still uncorrected in the current BSP examination.

2. Substandard

These are loans or portions thereof which appear to involve a substantial and unreasonable degree of risk to the institution because of unfavorable record or unsatisfactory characteristics.

There exists in such loans the possibility of future loss to the institution unless given closer supervision. Those classified as “Substandard” must have a well-defined weakness or weaknesses that jeopardize their liquidation. Such well-defined weaknesses may include adverse trends or development of financial, managerial, economic or political nature, or a significant weakness in collateral. Their basic characteristics are as follows:

a. Secured loans

(1) Past due and circumstances are such that there is an imminent possibility of foreclosure or acquisition of the collateral because of failure of all collection efforts;

(2) Past due loans to borrowers whose properties securing the loan have declined in value materially or have been found with defects as to ownership or other adverse information; and

(3) Current loans to borrowers whose AFs show impaired/negative net worth except for start-up firms which should be evaluated on a case-to-case basis.
Loans and advances possessing any of the above characteristics shall be classified “Substandard” at the full amount except portions thereof secured by hold-outs on deposits, deposit substitutes, margin deposits, or government-supported securities. The portions so secured are not subject to classification.

b. Unsecured loans
(1) Renewed/extended loans of borrowers with declining trend in operations, illiquidity, or increasing leverage trend in the borrower’s financial statements without at least twenty percent (20%) repayment of the principal before renewal or extension; and
(2) Current loans to borrowers with unfavorable results of operations for two (2) consecutive years or with impaired/negative net worth except for start-up firms which should be evaluated on a case-to-case basis.

c. Loans under litigation;

d. Loans past due for more than ninety (90) days;

e. Loans granted without requiring submission of the latest AFS/TR and/or statements of assets and liabilities to determine paying capacity of the borrower;

f. Loans with unsigned promissory notes or signed by unauthorized officers of the borrowing firm; and

g. Loans classified as “Loans Especially Mentioned” in the last BSP examination which remained uncorrected in the current examination.

3. Doubtful. These are loans or portions thereof which have the weaknesses inherent in those classified as “Substandard”, with the added characteristics that existing facts, conditions, and values make collection or liquidation in full highly improbable and in which substantial loss is probable. Their basic characteristics are as follows:

a. Past due clean loans classified as “Substandard” in the last BSP examination without at least twenty percent (20%) repayment of principal during the succeeding twelve (12) months or with current unfavorable credit information;

b. Past due loans secured by collateral which have declined in value materially such as, inventories, receivables, equipment, and other chattels without the borrower offering additional collateral for the loans and previously classified “Substandard” in the last BSP examination;

c. Past due loans secured by real estate mortgage, the title to which is subject to an adverse claim rendering settlement of the loan through foreclosure doubtful; and

d. Loans wherein the possibility of loss is extremely high but because of certain important and reasonably specific pending factors that may work to the advantage and strengthening of the asset, its classification as an estimated loss is deferred until a more exact status is determined.

4. Loss. These are loans or portions thereof which are considered uncollectible or worthless and of such little value that their continuance as bankable assets is not warranted although the loans may have some recovery or salvage value. The amount of loss is difficult to measure and it is not practical or desirable to defer writing off these basically worthless assets even though partial recovery may be obtained in the future. Their basic characteristics are as follows:

a. Past due clean loans the interest of which is unpaid for a period of six (6) months;

b. Loans payable in installments where amortization applicable to interest is past due for a period of six (6) months, unless well secured;

c. When the borrower’s whereabouts is unknown, or he is insolvent, or his earning power is permanently impaired and his co-makers or guarantors are insolvent or that their guaranty is not financially supported;
d. Where the collaterals securing the loans are considered worthless and the borrower and/or his co-makers are insolvent;
e. Loans considered as absolutely uncollectible; and
f. Loans classified as “Doubtful” in the last BSP examination and without any payment of interest or substantial reduction of principal during the succeeding twelve (12) months or have current unfavorable credit information which renders collection of the loan highly improbable.

C. Credit card receivables. Credit card receivables shall be classified in accordance with age as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>No. of days past due</th>
<th>Classification</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>91 - 120</td>
<td>Substandard</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>121 - 180</td>
<td>Doubtful</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>181 or more</td>
<td>Loss</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The foregoing is the minimum classification requirement. Management may therefore formulate additional specific guidelines.

II. Investments and Other Risk Assets

A. Investment in debt securities and marketable equity securities. The classification, accounting procedures, valuation and sales and transfers of investment in all debt securities and marketable equity securities is in Appendix 33.

B. Equity investment in affiliates shall be booked at cost or book value whenever is lower on the date of acquisition. If cost is greater than book value, the excess shall be charged in full to operations or booked as deferred charges and amortized as expense over a period not exceeding five (5) years. Subsequent to acquisition, if there is an impairment in the recorded value, the impairment should adequately be provided with allowance for probable losses.

C. Other property owned or acquired
1. The basic characteristics of real estate property acquired subject to “Substandard” classification are as follows:
   a. Acquired for less than five (5) years unless worthless.
   b. Converted into a Sales Contract Receivable.
2. The basic characteristics of real estate property acquired subject to “Loss” classification are as follows:
   a. Foreclosure expenses and other charges included in the book value of the property, excluding the amount of non-refundable capital gains tax and documentary stamp tax paid in connection with the foreclosure/purchase which meet the criteria for inclusion in the book value of the acquired property.
   b. The excess of the book value over the appraised value.
   c. Property whose title is definitely lost to a third party or being contested in court.
   d. Property wherein the exercise of the right of usufruct is not practicable or possible as when it is eroded by a river or is under any like circumstances.

Real estate property acquired are not sound bank assets. Because of their nature, that is, non-liquid and non-productive, their immediate disposal through sale is highly recommended.

D. Acquired or repossessed personal property
1. All personal property owned or acquired held for three (3) years or less from date of acquisition shall be classified as “Substandard” assets.
2. The basic characteristics of acquired or repossessed personal property classified as "Loss" are as follows:
   a. Property not sold for more than three (3) years from date of acquisition;
   b. Property which is worthless or not salable;
   c. Property whose title is lost or is being contested in court;
   d. Foreclosure expenses and other charges included in the book value of the property; and
   e. The excess of the book value of the property over its appraised or realizable value.

E. Accounts Receivable
1. Accounts receivable arising from loan and investment accounts still uncollected after six (6) months from the date such loans or loan installments have matured or have become past due shall be provided with a 100% allowance for uncollected accounts receivable.
2. All other accounts receivable should be classified in accordance with age as follows, unless there is good reason for non-classification:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>No. of Days Outstanding</th>
<th>Classification</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>61 - 180</td>
<td>Substandard</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>181 - 360</td>
<td>Doubtful</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>361 or more</td>
<td>Loss</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The classification according to age of accounts receivable should be used in classifying other risk assets not covered above. However, their classification should be tempered by favorable information gathered in the review.

F. Accrued Interest Receivable
1. Accrued interest receivable on loans or loan installments still uncollected after three (3) months from the date such loans or loan installments have matured or have become non-performing shall be provided with a 100% allowance for uncollected interest on loans.
2. All other accrued interest receivable on loans or loan installments shall be classified similar to the classification of their respective loan accounts.

III. Allowance for probable losses
An allowance for probable losses on the loan accounts shall be set up as follows:

A. Specific allowance

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Classification</th>
<th>Allowance (Percent)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Unclassified</td>
<td>0.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Loans Especially Mentioned</td>
<td>5.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Substandard</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(a) Secured</td>
<td>10.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(b) Unsecured</td>
<td>25.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Doubtful</td>
<td>50.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Loss</td>
<td>100.0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

B. General allowance. In addition to the specific allowance for probable losses required under Item "A", a general provision for loan losses shall also be set up as follows:

(1) Five percent (5%) of the outstanding balance of unclassified restructured loans less the outstanding balance of restructured loans which are considered non-risk under existing laws, rules and regulations: Provided, That loans restructured/rescheduled under the debt relief and rehabilitation program for borrowers adversely affected by the super typhoon last 20 July 2003 in the Province of Iloilo shall be treated as regular loans and shall be subject to the general loan loss provision of one percent (1%) instead of five percent (5%) applicable to restructured loans: Provided, further, That the restructuring/rescheduling of said loans are effected not later than 31 December 2003: Provided, finally, That the restructured/rescheduled loans are subsequently maintained in performing status or have complied with the terms of the restructuring agreement.

(2) One percent (1%) of the outstanding balance of unclassified loans other than restructured loans less loans which are considered non-risk under existing laws, rules and regulations.

The general loan loss provision shall be computed as follows:

For Loans Not Restructured

Gross Loan Portfolio (Excluding Restructured Loans) △ \( P \) xxx Less: Classified Loans (based on latest BSP examination)
Loans especially mentioned △ \( P \) xxx
Substandard
Secured △ \( P \) xxx
Unsecured △ \( P \) xxx
Doubtful △ \( P \) xxx
Loss △ \( P \) xxx
Unclassified Loans △ \( P \) xxx

Loan Portfolio, net of exclusions △ \( P \) xxx
General Loan Loss Provision (1% of net loan portfolio) △ \( P \) xxx

For Restructured Loans

Restructured Loans (Gross) △ \( P \) xxx Less: Classified Restructured Loans (based on latest BSP examination)
Loans especially mentioned △ \( P \) xxx
Substandard
Secured △ \( P \) xxx
Unsecured △ \( P \) xxx
Doubtful △ \( P \) xxx
Loss △ \( P \) xxx
Unclassified Restructured Loans △ \( P \) xxx

Loan Portfolio, net of exclusions △ \( P \) xxx
General Loan Loss Provision (5% of net restructured loans) △ \( P \) xxx

The excess of the booked general loan loss provisions over the amount required as a result of the reduction of the amount required to be set up to one percent (1%) shall first be applied to unbooked specific valuation reserves, whether authorized to be booked on a staggered basis or not and only the remainder can be considered as income.

C. Allowance for probable losses - microfinance loans

Specific allowance for probable losses on microfinance loans shall be set up immediately in accordance with the PAR number of days of missed payment, as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>No. of days of missed payment</th>
<th>PAR</th>
<th>Allowance for probable losses (%)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>31 - 60 and/or loans restructured once</td>
<td>20</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>61 - 90</td>
<td>50</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>91 - or more and/or loans restructured twice</td>
<td>100</td>
<td></td>
</tr>

Provided, That a general provision for losses for microfinance loans equivalent to one percent (1%) of the outstanding balance of microfinance loans not subject to the foregoing provisioning less microfinance loans which are considered non-risk under existing laws/rules/regulations, if any, shall also be set up.

The specific and general allowances for probable losses shall be adjusted accordingly for additional allowance required by the BSP: Provided, That in cases of partially secured loans, only ten percent (10%) allowance shall be required for the portion thereof which are covered by the appraised value of the collateral: Provided, further, That said collateral is re-appraised at least annually.

Management is, however, encouraged to provide additional allowance as it deems prudent and to formulate additional specific guidelines within the context of the herein-described system.

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known as the "Truth in Lending Act."

Sec. 2. Declaration of Policy. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the State to protect its citizens from a lack of awareness of the true cost of credit to the user by assuring a full disclosure of such cost with a view of preventing the uninformed use of credit to the detriment of the national economy.

Sec. 3. As used in this Act, the term

(3) "Finance charge" includes interest, fees, service charges, discounts, and such other charges incident to the extension of credit as the Board may by regulation prescribe.

Sec. 4. Any creditor shall furnish to each person to whom credit is extended, prior to the consummation of the transaction, a clear statement in writing stating forth, to the extent applicable and in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Board, the following information:

(1) the cash price or delivered price of the property or service to be acquired;
(2) the amounts, if any, to be credited as down payment and/or trade-in;
(3) the difference between the amounts set forth under clauses (1) and (2);
(4) the charges, individually itemized, which are paid or to be paid by such person in connection with the transaction but which are not incident to the extension of credit;
(5) the total amount to be financed;
(6) the finance charge expressed in terms of pesos and centavos; and
(7) the percentage that the finance charge bears to the total amount to be financed expressed as a simple annual rate on the outstanding unpaid balance of the obligation.

Sec. 5. (a) Any creditor who in connection with any credit transaction fails to disclose to any person any information in violation of this Act or any regulation issued thereunder shall be liable to such person in the amount of P100 or in an amount equal to twice the finance charge required by such creditor in connection with such transaction, whichever is greater, except that such liability shall not exceed P2,000 on any credit transaction.

(b) Any person who willfully violates any provision of this Act or any regulation issued thereunder shall be fined by not less than P1,000 nor more than P5,000 or imprisoned for not less than 6 months, nor more than one year or both.

(c) Any final judgment hereafter rendered in any criminal proceeding... under this Act to the effect that a defendant has wilfully violated this Act shall be prima facie evidence against such defendant in an action or proceeding brought by any other party against such defendant under this Act as to all matters respecting which said judgment would be an estoppel as between the parties thereto.

Sec. 6. This Act shall become effective upon approval.

Approved, 22 June 1963.
Given the increasing volume of PhilPaSS transactions as well as concerns of having temporary gridlocks in the PhilPaSS, the current features of the ILF had been enhanced, specifically on the following areas:

a. Flexibility in changing the securities that will be used for the ILF;

b. Availment of the facility on a “as the need arises” basis; and

c. Removal of commitment fees

The revised features of the ILF are described below.

A. Access to ILF

Government securities (GS) held by an Eligible Participant bank in its Regular Principal Securities Account that will be used for ILF purposes shall be delivered to a sub-account under the BSP-ILF Securities Account with the Bureau of the Treasury’s (BTr) Registry of Scripless Securities (RoSS). The delivered GS to be used for ILF purposes shall be recorded by RoSS in a sub-account (the “Client Securities Account (CSA)-ILF) under the BSP-ILF Securities Account in the name of the Eligible Participant/banks.

Banks without RoSS securities accounts who intend/desire to avail of the ILF shall be required to open/maintain a Securities Account with the RoSS. The documentation requirements for RoSS membership shall be prescribed by the BTr.

Banks desiring to avail of the ILF shall be further required to open a sub-account under the BSP-ILF Securities Account with the BTr’s RoSS by accomplishing an application letter addressed to the Treasurer of the Philippines, Attn: The Director, Liability Management Service and the Chief, Scripless Securities Registration Division. The application letter shall be in the form of ANNEX 1 hereto.

B. Timeline

From 9:00AM to 9:30AM of each banking day, an Eligible Participant bank shall electronically instruct the BTr to move/transfer from its Principal Securities Account with the BTr’s RoSS to the CSA-ILF under the name of the Eligible Participant bank, the pool of peso-denominated GS to be set aside for the ILF purpose. The Eligible Participant bank hereby confirms to the BTr that pursuant to an ILF availment, it has authorized the transfer without consideration unto the CSA-ILF the pool of GS to be used for ILF purposes.

From 9:30 AM to 10:00 AM, the BTr RoSS shall electronically submit a consolidated report to BSP showing the details of the GS that were transferred to the BSP-ILF Securities Account.

From 10:00 AM to 4:00PM, Eligible Participant banks with insufficient balances in its Demand Deposit Account No.2 (PhilPaSS Account) may avail of the ILF.

Eligible Participant banks may avail of the ILF as necessary to fund pending payment instructions. Thus, when the ILF system detects queued transactions in the PhilPaSS-Central Accounting System, the Eligible Participant bank with insufficient balance in its PhilPaSS Account will automatically sell to the BSP-Treasury the GS in the CSA-ILF pool corresponding to the amount which may be needed to cover any pending payment instruction, and the proceeds of the sale of securities shall be immediately credited to the bank’s PhilPaSS Account. There may be more than one availment during the day. Until a sale to the BSP or an Overnight Repurchase (O/N-RP) transaction with the BSP is executed, the beneficial ownership of the GS that have been transferred to the CSA-ILF still belongs to the banks.

At 5:00PM, the BSP shall sell back to the Eligible Participant bank the GS at the same price as the original BSP purchase. Partial repayment of a particular availment will not be allowed.

In case the PhilPaSS Account balance of the participating bank is not sufficient to cover the afternoon repayment transaction, the BSP and the participating bank may agree on the following:

a. BSP shall extend to the Eligible participant bank an O/N-RP at 600 basis points over the BSP's regular overnight lending rate for the day. The O/N-RP shall be paid not later than 11:00AM on maturity date. Unpaid O/N-RP shall be automatically converted into an absolute sale to the BSP of the subject GS earlier delivered/transferred to the CSA-ILF, pursuant to an ILF availment by the Eligible Participant bank, in which case, BSP shall issue an instruction to BTr to deliver the remaining GS amounting to the unpaid ILF availment from the BSP-ILF Securities Account to the BSP’s Regular Principal Securities Account.

b. Only in extreme cases, the BSP shall sell back to the participating bank GS up to the extent of the PhilPaSS Account balance. The BSP shall issue an instruction to the BTr to transfer the remaining GS to ILF participants, normally by 5:45PM, the BSP Treasury Department shall electronically instruct RoSS, using the ILF RoSS system developed for herein purpose, to return deliver from the CSA-ILF of the participating banks to their respective Regular Principal Securities Accounts with the RoSS all unused/unencumbered GS. GS used for O/N-RP shall remain in the CSA-ILF until repayment of subject O/N-RP or conversion to outright sale the following day.

Upon receipt of BSP's electronic instruction for the return of GS back to the participating banks' regular Principal Securities Accounts, the BTr shall update their database after which participating banks may request/download statements of securities accounts for their verification.

C. Eligible Securities

Peso-denominated scripless securities of the National Government that are free and unencumbered and with remaining maturity of eleven (11) days to ten (10) years shall be eligible for the ILF. GS that will be used for ILF purposes would be reclassified with due consideration to the original booking of the security, as follows:

Original Booking of GS | To be reclassified to
--- | ---
Held for Trading | Held for Trading – ILF
Designated Fair Value Through Profit or Loss | Designated Fair Value Through Profit or Loss - ILF
Available for Sale | Available for Sale - ILF
Held to Maturity | Held to Maturity - ILF

D. Valuation of Securities

The GS subject of an ILF transaction shall be valued based on the 11:16AM fixing rates of the previous business day, from the applicable Reuters PDEX pages. or any other valuation benchmark as may be prescribed by the BSP.

E. Margins
Margins shall be applied based on prevailing policies of the BSP Treasury Department.

F. Transaction Fee
The BTr shall collect a monthly maintenance fee of One Thousand Pesos (P1,000.00) from each Eligible Participant bank for the use of the CSA-ILF Securities Account. The maintenance fees herein required to be paid by each Eligible Participant bank shall be separate from and exclusive of any other fees being assessed and collected by BTr for membership in the RoSS. For this purpose, the Eligible Participant bank shall issue to the BTr an autodebit instruction to authorize the BTr to debit its DDA with BSP for the above-mentioned monthly maintenance fee. The BTr will inform the Eligible Participant banks of any change in fee at least fifteen (15) days prior to implementation.

G. DDA Statements/Transaction Details
Eligible Participating banks will be able to verify the status of their accounts by initiating the SWIFT/PPS-Front-end System inquiry request.

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICE
The ILF is covered by a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) dated 25 March 2008 by and among the BSP, the BTr, the Bankers Association of the Philippines (for BAP members) and the Money Market Association of the Philippines (for non-BAP members). Participating banks shall sign individual participation agreements. The services outlined in the MOA shall be available at the BSP and the BTr at a fixed hour on all banking days. Banking days refer to the days banking institutions are open for business Mondays thru Fridays as authorized by the BSP.

I. Introduction

This appendix, together with the Guidelines on Supervision by Risk (Appendix 72) and other BSP issuances on management of the different risks attendant to banking activities, provides a framework on which a bank can establish its risk management activities. Accordingly, this set of risk management guidelines for derivatives should be read and used in conjunction with all related BSP issuances on risk management.

A bank, in using these guidelines to evaluate the propriety and adequacy of its risk management, must consider the following principles:

a. No single risk management system for derivatives is expected to work for all banks considering that the structure and level of derivatives activities will vary from one bank to another. Each bank should apply the principles set in these guidelines in a manner appropriate to its needs and circumstances. The BSP shall evaluate the quality of a bank's risk management system based on the principles and minimum requirements of these guidelines, scaled to the derivatives activities being undertaken.

b. The requirements prescribed in these guidelines are merely minimum standards and therefore, should not be taken as the “be-all” for a bank's risk management. The board of directors1 has the responsibility of ensuring that a bank’s risk management system appropriately captures its risk exposures and affords proper management of these.

c. A trust entity within a bank must have a separate risk management system. However, the trust department may in-source back office functions of its risk management system with the bank proper only upon prior BSP approval on the basis that such in-sourcing will not give rise to potential conflict of interest.

II. Risk associated with derivatives

While derivatives primarily help manage existing and anticipated risks, derivatives themselves are exposed to the risks they are designed to manage. Moreover, simple derivatives, when combined with other financial instruments, may result in a structure that exposes a bank to complicated risks. Thus, derivatives can aggravate the risks of banks and of counterparties if derivatives are not clearly understood and properly managed.

A single derivatives product may expose a bank to multiple risks as enumerated under Appendix 72. These categories are not mutually exclusive of each other. Hence, derivatives activities must be managed with consideration of all these risks.

III. Risk management process for derivatives

The management of derivatives activities should be integrated into a bank’s overall risk management system using a conceptual framework common to the bank’s other businesses. For example, price risk exposure arising from derivatives transactions should be assessed in a manner comparable to and aggregated with all other price risk exposures. Risk consolidation is particularly important because the various risks contained in derivatives and other market activities can be interconnected and may transcend specific markets.

At a minimum, the risk management process for derivatives should be able to:

a. Identify the risks arising from its derivatives activities in whatever capacity

it deals with the same. A bank must likewise identify the impact of its derivatives activities on its overall risk profile. To properly identify risks, a bank must understand the derivatives products with which it is transacting and the factors that affect them. Considering that changes in the value of derivatives are highly influenced by changes in market factors, risk identification should be a continuing process and should occur at both a transaction and portfolio level.

b. Measure the risks arising from its derivatives activities. A bank must have measurement models or tools to quantify the risks identified. These measurement tools should be suitable to the nature and volume of a bank’s derivatives activities. As the complexity and volume of the derivatives activity increases, the measurement tools should correspondingly be more sophisticated. The primary criteria for the propriety of the measurement tools are accuracy, timeliness, efficiency and comprehensiveness with which these tools can capture the risks involved and their contribution to the decision-making process of bank management.

c. Monitor the risks arising from its derivatives activities. Derivatives products are very sensitive to market factors, which continually change. Thus, a bank should have a mechanism to monitor the responsiveness of derivatives to market factors to enable it to review and assess its risk positions. In order to effectively monitor the risks, reports must be timely generated in order to aid management in determining whether there is a need to adjust the bank’s derivatives positions.

d. Control the risks arising from its derivatives activities. A bank must establish limits to its derivatives exposure. These limits should be comprehensive and aligned with a bank’s overall risk tolerance. A bank’s policies and procedures on control should provide for contingencies when limits are breached. A bank must allot lead time and have a mechanism that enables management to act in time to control unacceptable or undesired exposures. A bank must also establish a system that separates functions susceptible to conflicts of interest.

IV. Sound risk management practices for derivatives

Consistent with the criteria for sound risk management practices in Item V of Appendices 73 and 74, the BSP shall assess the propriety and adequacy of a bank’s risk management system for its derivatives activities in accordance with the following basic principles:

a. Active and appropriate board and senior management oversight

A bank’s board of directors must set the general policy or the policy direction relating to the management of a bank’s risks, including those arising from its derivatives activities. This policy should be consistent with the bank’s business strategies, capital strength, management expertise and risk profile. Accordingly, the board of directors must understand the nature and purpose of the bank’s derivatives activities and the role derivatives play in the bank’s overall business strategy. Passive board of directors approval is not acceptable. There must be verifiable evidence of the board of directors approval processes and that senior management exerted effort to explain the nature and purpose of the derivatives activities to the board of directors (e.g., minutes of board of directors meetings documenting presentations and reports to the board of directors and the approval processes).

The board of directors must review and pre-approve new derivatives products as well as significant related policies and procedures. Central to the approval of new products is defining when a product or activity is new in order to ensure that variations on existing products receive the proper review and authorization. Policies should also detail authorized activities (e.g., at what stages approvals should be obtained, from whom approvals should be obtained), those that require one-time approval and those that are considered inappropriate.

The board of directors must be apprised of the bank’s derivatives exposures on a timely basis in order to enable the board of directors to act on such exposures accordingly. Consequently, there should be an established reporting methodology to ensure that the board of directors receives, on a continuing basis, detailed information regarding the bank’s risk exposures from derivatives, including the impact to the bank’s overall risk profile, earnings and capital. These reports should include both normal and stress scenarios.

Pursuant to the general policy or policy direction on risk management set by the board of directors, senior management must adopt adequate policies and procedures for conducting the bank’s derivatives activities on both a long-range and day-to-day basis. Policies should clearly delineate responsibility for managing risk, and provide effective internal controls and a comprehensive risk-reporting process. Policies must also keep pace with the changing nature of derivatives products and markets and therefore must be reviewed on an on-going basis. Senior management should ensure that the various components of a bank’s risk management process are regularly reviewed and evaluated. Internal evaluations may be supplemented by external auditors or other qualified outside parties.

The quality of oversight provided by the board of directors and senior management to a bank’s derivatives activities will be reflected in the overall risk management process, the adequacy of resources (financial, technical expertise, and systems technology) devoted to handle derivatives activities and its use of the monitoring reports. The board of directors and senior management shall be responsible for ensuring that bank personnel comply with prescribed risk management standards and sales and marketing guidelines.

b. Adequate risk management policies and procedures

A bank must establish policies and procedures to guide its personnel in conducting derivatives activities. These risk management policies must be reflective of a bank’s current strategy and practice.

A bank should not issue policies and procedures for derivatives in isolation. All aspects of the risk management process for derivatives activities should be integrated into the bank’s over-all risk management system to the fullest extent possible using a conceptual framework common to the bank’s other activities. Risk management policies should be comprehensive, covering all activities of the bank. The BSP will evaluate the degree to which controls covering derivatives activities have been integrated into other issuances of the bank covering aggregate risk-taking activities.

For banks that conduct derivatives transactions with subsidiaries and affiliates, there should be policies and procedures that describe the nature, pricing, monitoring, and reporting of acceptable related-party transactions.

All risk management policies and procedures must be written, well communicated to all personnel involved in the derivatives activities and readily available in user-friendly form, whether the same is a hard or soft copy thereof. A bank must also put up systems and procedures to ensure an audit trail evidencing the dissemination process for new and amended policies and procedures.

At a minimum, a bank is expected to have:

1. Comprehensive, updated and relevant risk policy manual(s);
2. Operations manual(s) or similar documents that describe the flow of transactions among and between the relevant units and personnel in a bank's treasury (front office, back office and accounting) and risk management unit;
3. Approved product manual(s) that includes product definition, benefits and risks, pricing mechanisms, risk management processes, capital allocation guidelines, tax implications and other operating procedures and controls for the bank's derivatives activities.

The process of measuring, monitoring and controlling risk should be carried out independently from individuals conducting derivatives activities. An independent system of reporting exposures to both senior level management and to the board of directors is critical to the effectiveness of the process.

(1) Measurement methodologies

A bank must be able not only to accurately quantify the multiple risk exposures arising from its derivatives activities but also aggregate similar risks across the different activities of the bank to the fullest extent possible. A bank must develop a risk measurement model appropriate to its portfolio. Accordingly, a bank must evaluate the assumptions used, computational requirements, procedures for computing the risk metric, sourcing of inputs used in the measurement process, including the theoretical reasons for a particular input choice, and how these concepts apply to the bank’s portfolio.

The risk measurement system should be structured to enable management to initiate prompt remedial action, facilitate stress-testing, and assess the potential impact of various changes in market factors on earnings and capital. A risk measurement system is considered sound if it is capable of comprehensively capturing risks from: (a) the bank’s on and off-balance sheet exposure; (b) all relevant market factors; and (c) normal circumstances and stress events. Sound risk measurement practice includes identifying possible events or changes in market behavior that could have unfavorable effects on the bank and assessing the ability of the bank to withstand these events or changes. The stress testing should include not only quantitative exercises that compute potential gains or losses but also qualitative analyses of actions that management might take under particular scenarios.

A bank's risk measurement system should provide appropriate pricing and valuation procedures to ensure best execution for both proprietary trading and those undertaken for clients and mark-to-market/model (MTM) methodology for derivatives instruments that follows established MTM regulations and Philippine Accounting Standards (PAS 39).

New measurement models whether developed internally or purchased from vendors, should be subject to an initial validation before it is used. Internally developed models require more intensive evaluation where they have not been market-tested by external parties. The validation process should consist of a review of the logic, mathematical or statistical theories, assumptions, internal processes and overall reliability of a bank’s measurement models, including the compatibility of the measurement model with the bank’s technology and systems.
The validation must be undertaken by a technical expert independent from the unit that developed the model. For example, pricing systems developed by a trader is required to be independently validated by a corresponding technical expert from the bank’s risk management unit. If no such personnel from the risk management unit exists, an independent validation may be performed by internal audit provided that internal audit has the necessary expertise. A bank may also avail of the services of an independent outside expert. Thereafter, the frequency and extent to which models are validated depends on changes that affect pricing, risk presentation or the existing control environment. Changes in market conditions that affect pricing and risk conventions, which model performance, should trigger additional validation review.

Risk management policies should clearly address the scope of the validation process, the frequency of validations, documentation requirements, and management responses. At a minimum, policies should require the evaluation of significant underlying algorithms and assumptions before the model is put in regular use, and as market conditions warrant thereafter. Such internal evaluations should be conducted by parties who, where practicable, are independent of the business sector using or developing the model. The evaluation may, if necessary, be conducted or supplemented with reviews by qualified outside parties, such as experts in highly technical models and risk management techniques.

(2) Limits structure

A bank must specify individual limits for all types of risks involved in a bank’s derivatives activities. A bank should use a variety of limits to adequately capture the range of risks or to address risks that the measurement system does not capture. These limits should be integrated into the bank-wide limit structure to ensure consistency with the board of director-approved risk appetite and business strategy.

The limit structure should be realistic taking into consideration the target budget, level of earnings and capital. Limits must be documented and promptly communicated to all relevant personnel. Limits must be reviewed at least annually or more frequently, if circumstances warrant, in order to ensure that limits reflect the bank’s past performance and current position.

Limits should be continually analyzed as regards its impact on target income, earnings and capital. These analyses should be submitted/reported to the board of directors. Any excess over the limit must be approved only by authorized personnel and immediately reported to senior management and depending on the seriousness, also to the board of directors. The seriousness of limit exceptions depends upon management’s approach towards setting limits and on the actual size of individual and organizational limits relative to the bank’s capacity to take risks. A bank with relatively conservative limits may encounter more exceptions to those limits than that with less restrictive limits. There must also be mechanisms for the correction of breach of these limits.

A bank’s limit structure should address the following:

(a) Definition of a credit exposure;
(b) Maximum credit exposure to an individual counterparty;
(c) Credit concentrations;
(d) Maximum nominal exposure:
   (i) per trader and per transaction; and
   (ii) position limits.
(e) Approved credit risk mitigation techniques;
(f) Appropriate loss exposure triggers:
   (i) loss alert;
   (ii) stop loss;
   (iii) value-at-risk; and
(iv) earnings-at-risk.

(3) Monitoring

Monitoring of risk exposures, market conditions, and trading positions should be done at least daily. Derivatives instruments are highly influenced by movements in market factors. Thus, a bank must have a mechanism that can track and analyze the effect of market movements on its derivatives exposures.

To ensure proper monitoring of risks, a bank is expected to have technology and systems that can (a) track movements in reference variables (underlying) and other market factors affecting the value of the derivatives instruments, such as trigger events; and (b) incorporate observed market movements into the pricing and valuation of derivatives instruments.

While monitoring is undertaken independently from the personnel conducting derivatives activities, bank traders are expected to actively monitor their positions to ensure that they do not breach their limits. Bank traders should not wait until a limit is breached to alert senior management and risk control units. Instead, traders should promptly report unanticipated changes and progressively deteriorating positions, as well as other significant issues arising from their positions, to the risk control function and responsible management.

(4) Management information system

A bank must institute an information system that generates accurate and incisive reports to ensure that management and the board of directors are timely and regularly apprised of the bank's derivatives exposures. A bank is expected to have policies and procedures pertaining to the derivatives reporting specifying, among others, the types of derivatives reports to be generated, the purpose and contents thereof, responsible units that will generate the reports, frequency and deadlines of reports, recipients/users of reports, and the type of action expected from the users of the report. At a minimum, management reports should contain the following: outstanding derivatives positions, compliance with or status of positions as against limits, analysis of derivatives positions, along with other bank exposures, in relation to the impact to earnings and capital, monitoring of trigger events, and deviations from established policies and procedures and justifications thereof.

The management information system must be able to translate the measured risks from derivatives activities from a technical and quantitative format to one that can easily be read and understood by senior managers and directors, who may not have specialized and technical knowledge of derivatives products. Such a system enables management and the board of directors to judge the changing nature of the bank's risk exposures. The electronic data processing capability must be commensurate to the volume and complexity of the bank's derivatives activities to facilitate the generation of needed reports.

The frequency and content of board of directors and management reporting will ultimately depend upon the nature and significance of derivatives activities. Where applicable, board of directors and management reports should consolidate information across functions and divisions. Board of directors and management reporting should be tailored to the intended audience, providing summary information to senior management and the board of directors and more detailed information to bank traders.

Management reports should be generated by control departments independent of the risk-takers. When risk-takers provide information (e.g., valuations or volatilities on thinly traded derivatives contracts) for management reports, senior management should be informed of possible weaknesses in the data, and these positions should be audited frequently.

d. Comprehensive internal controls and independent audits

A sound system of internal controls promotes effective and efficient operations, reliable financial and regulatory reporting, and compliance with relevant laws, regulations and policies of the bank. In determining whether a bank’s internal controls meet these objectives, the BSP will consider the overall control environment of the bank, particularly, the process of identifying, measuring, analyzing and managing risk, the adequacy of management information systems, and degree of adherence to control activities such as approvals, confirmations and reconciliations. Control of the reconciliation process is particularly important where there are differences in the valuation methodologies or systems used by the front and back offices.

(1) Risk control

A bank should have an independent risk control unit responsible for the design and implementation of the bank’s risk management system. A strong risk control function is a key element in fulfilling the oversight responsibilities of board of directors and senior managers. This unit must be independent from business trading units and should report directly to senior management of the bank. The role and structure of risk control function should be commensurate to the nature, complexity and extent of a bank’s derivatives activities.

A risk control unit should regularly evaluate risk-taking activities by assessing risk levels and the adequacy of risk management processes. It should also monitor the development and implementation of control policies and risk measurement systems. It should analyze daily reports produced by the bank’s risk measurement model, including an evaluation of the relationship between measures of risk exposure and trading limits. Risk control personnel staff should periodically communicate their observations to senior management and the board of directors.

A bank’s control structure shall be considered sound if all the following elements are present:

(a) Formal approval process for new products

A bank should have an effective process to evaluate and review risks involved in products that are either new to the bank or new to the market and of potential interest to the bank. A bank that desires to engage in new products and transactions must first subject these products and transactions to a rigorous review and approval process. This will ensure that all bank personnel involved in the activity have sufficient knowledge of the product or transaction, and that the ensuring risk exposures can be identified, measured and analyzed. The process must be contained in a board of directors-approved policy that is fully documented and must be implemented consistently and with integrity.

Before initiating a new derivatives activity, all relevant personnel should understand the product. Risks arising from the new product should be integrated into the bank’s risk measurement and control systems. The new product approval process should include a sign-off by all relevant areas such as risk control, operations, accounting, legal, audit, and senior management and trading operations.

Defining a product or activity as “new” is central to ensuring that variations on existing products receive the proper review and authorization. Factors that should be considered in classifying a product/activity as “new” include: capacity changes (e.g., end-user to dealer), structure variations (e.g., non-amortizing swap versus amortizing interest rate swap), products which require a new pricing methodology, legal or regulatory considerations, or market characteristics (e.g., foreign exchange forwards in major currencies as opposed to emerging market currencies).

A bank should introduce new products in a manner that adequately limits potential losses and permits the testing of internal systems.

(b) Segregation of functions/units subject to conflict of interest
A bank must separate the business unit conducting the derivatives activities from the unit/s tasked with the checking, accounting, reporting and control functions of its derivatives activities.

A bank should have policies and procedures addressing conflicts of interest, particularly among the following functions: proprietary trading, sales or marketing desks/units, personal trading, and asset management.

A bank that conducts derivatives activities with its subsidiaries and/or affiliates must establish policies and procedures to avoid actual, or even the appearance of a conflict of interest. Off-market rates between related parties should generally be forbidden.

A bank should avoid dealing in transactions conducted at off-market rates. A bank should have internal policies defining what constitutes “market rates” and identify the range of deviation from the benchmark rates which could still be considered as “market rates”. The bank’s monitoring system should be able to alert management of any breaches in the rate tolerance levels and the appropriate action that should be taken. A bank must be able to justify any off-market transaction.

(c) Competent and adequate personnel who are properly supervised
The increased complexity of derivatives activities requires highly skilled staff particularly in the risk-taking, risk control, and operational functions. Management should regularly review the knowledge, skills and number of people needed to engage in the bank’s derivatives activities. The staff must be appropriately balanced among the different areas involved in derivatives activities such that no area is understaffed in terms of number or skill.

Staff turnover can create serious problems, especially if knowledge is concentrated in a few individuals. The impact of staff turnover can be particularly acute in specialized trading markets where bank traders are in high demand and are often recruited in teams.

To mitigate business continuity and succession risk arising from a high staff turnover, a bank should devise a system of building technical expertise across involved personnel through continuous technical training, periodic rotation and cross-training of staff members performing key functions and developing understudies.

The board of directors should ensure that the power and control delegated to these expert personnel are not abused. Therefore, the board of directors must establish appropriate controls over their activities.

(d) Independent control functions or units
The risk control and audit units should possess the authority, independence, and corporate stature to enable them to identify and report their findings unimpeded by bank traders. It is equally important to employ individuals with sufficient experience and technical expertise to be credible to the business line they monitor and senior executives to whom they report.

2. Audit
Audits should be conducted by qualified professionals who are independent of the business line being audited. Audits should supplement, and not be a substitute for risk control function.

The scope of audit coverage should be commensurate with the level of risk and volume of derivatives activity. The audit should include an appraisal of the effectiveness and independence of the bank's risk management process; the adequacy of operations, compliance, accounting and reporting systems; propriety of risk measurement models; and the effectiveness of internal controls. Auditors should test compliance with the bank's policies, including limits.

The level of auditor expertise should be consistent with the level and complexity of activities and degree of risk assumed. A bank may choose to out-source audit coverage to ensure that the professionals performing the work possess sufficient knowledge and experience.

Procedures should be in place to ensure that auditors are informed of significant changes in product lines, risk management methods, risk limits, operating systems, and internal controls so that the auditors can update their scope and procedures accordingly. Auditors should periodically review and analyze performance and risk management reports to ensure that areas showing significant changes are given appropriate attention.

The audit function must have the support of management and the board of directors in order to be effective. Management should respond promptly to audit findings by investigating identified system and internal control weaknesses and implementing corrective action. Thereafter, management should periodically monitor newly implemented systems and controls to ensure they are working appropriately. The board of directors, or designated committee, should receive reports tracking management's actions to address identified deficiencies.

I. General principle

A bank, in dealing with its clients, should always act with honesty, fairness and in pursuance of the best interests of its clients. Due to the complex nature of derivatives and the increasingly sophisticated products introduced into the market, a bank acting as dealer or broker must have appropriate controls and procedures to ensure the suitability of the transactions to its clients. A bank should ensure that (1) a client understands the nature of the transaction and the risks involved and (2) the transaction meets the client’s financial objectives and risk tolerance. A bank should also disclose sufficient, accurate and comprehensible information about derivatives products, including inherent risks, in a clear and balanced presentation in order to enable its clients to make informed investment decisions.

These guidelines prescribe the minimum standards for sales and marketing procedures for banks acting as dealers or brokers of derivatives.

II. Client suitability guidelines

A bank should ensure that the derivatives products it offers to a client are appropriate for that client through a client suitability process which involves obtaining client information, classifying a client according to his/its financial sophistication and conducting a suitability review.

a. Client information

A bank, at the inception of a possible business relationship with a client, should obtain from said client information about his/its financial situation, experience, and financial objectives relevant to his/its desired products/services. A bank should ensure that the clients’ risk and return objectives are clearly identified. This can be done through questionnaires and interviews. A bank may design and use its own system for obtaining client information that would be responsive to its client suitability process.

At a minimum, client information, including client classification, should be reviewed and updated annually or earlier, in cases of material changes in the client’s financial situation or goals.

b. Client classification

Based on the information obtained from a client, a bank should be able to ascertain, at a minimum, a client’s classification according to financial sophistication as embodied in Section X602 and its Subsections1/ and his/its risk tolerance. The client classification should serve as basis for a bank product/service offerings and level of disclosures required.

In dealing with corporate clients, a bank should determine whether the client is specifically authorized to enter into all or specific kinds of derivatives transactions and the person/s authorized to act in its behalf. A bank should also determine if a corporate client has competent/qualified personnel to handle the proposed derivatives activities. If a corporate client seeks to participate in highly sophisticated/more complex products, a bank should require the client to incorporate in its board resolution authorizing the latter’s derivatives activities that it likewise has appropriate risk management techniques and systems sufficient to manage and monitor the risks it will take.

In determining an individual client’s classification, a bank should consider the following:

1) The client’s knowledge and understanding of derivative transactions, related investments and the risks involved therein, including the derivatives markets;
(2) The length of time the client has been actively dealing with investment and/or derivative products, the frequency of dealings and the extent to which he has relied on the investment advice of a bank or any financial advisor, if any;
(3) The size and nature of investment transactions that have been undertaken by the client; and
(4) The client’s financial standing, which may include an assessment of his net worth or the value of his portfolio.

A bank must make a record of the classification under which each client is categorized, including sufficient information to support the categorization.

Only banks with Type 1 or 2 authorities may originate or distribute authorized derivatives products to non-sophisticated end-users for investment purposes. Non-sophisticated end-users should be provided greatest protection compared to all other client types.

c. Suitability review

Before presenting, proposing or recommending a particular derivatives product to a client, a dealer should determine that the derivatives product is suitable to the client’s financial situation and consistent with the clients’ mandates, financial objectives and constraints.

At a minimum, a bank should consider the following in choosing the derivatives products/services offerings to its clients:
(1) Investment amount or investible funds;
(2) Concentration ratio (i.e., asset allocation of the client’s investible funds);
(3) Purpose for transacting in derivatives transaction (e.g., hedging vs. investment; long-term buy and hold as opposed to short-term active trading);
(4) Holding period or investment horizon;
(5) Client’s regulatory and legal circumstances;
(6) Liquidity needs;
(7) Returns objectives (e.g., income, growth in principal, maintenance of purchasing power);
(8) Risk tolerance; and
(9) Client’s understanding of the risks.

A bank should maintain a record of all the information as bases of its suitability assessment. It is highly recommended that a bank requires a client to sign its conformity to the suitability assessment (including the information basis of the assessment) in order to avoid disputes with the client on its suitability assessment.

For non-sophisticated clients, a bank should adopt a suitability statement explaining simply and clearly why the product offered is viewed suitable, considering the client’s needs and preferences. To ensure the statement will be effective, a bank should consider the following features:

• Simple and plain language: when technical terms need to be incorporated, they should be explained if the client is unlikely to understand their meaning; and
• Concise and clear messages: lengthy explanations and extensive statements are likely to reduce the effectiveness of the statement and make the client less likely to read the statement properly.

Ideally, each suitability letter for non-sophisticated will be different, reflecting the approach taken by the bank representative in obtaining client information, the derivatives product presentation, the client’s profile and considerations on which the investment proposal was based, all of which involve professional judgment. A bank, however, can apply a degree of standardization to aid quality control. A bank should clearly link its proposed or recommended derivatives product to the client’s own needs, priorities and attitude toward risk. A bank may mention alternative products suitable for the client. The suitability letter should be signed by the client and the officer authorized by the bank to advise/propose the recommended product. A bank does not need to comply with the requirement of suitability review in cases where the client is classified as a market counterparty, considering its recognized sophistication. However, a bank should be able to provide sufficient support for its classification.

III. Disclosures
A bank should always be mindful of its statements regarding its products/services, whether the statements pertain to promotion, marketing or sale thereof or in the course of making the required disclosures. A bank must institute measures to ensure that its clients understand the nature and risks in a derivative transaction. These procedures may vary with the sophistication of its client. A bank can tailor-fit information, marketing and sales presentations/materials in accordance with the client classification under Section X602 and its Subsections. A bank should take further steps to adequately disclose the attendant risks of specific types of transactions when dealing with an unsophisticated client, either generally or with respect to a particular derivatives transaction (e.g., non-sophisticated client or sophisticated client with respect to complex product types). A bank should adopt standards for its publications/materials/disclosure statements and review the aforementioned documents regularly to ensure that they meet the standards.

A bank, when providing information to its clients, including potential clients, must not knowingly misrepresent or give a false impression in any of its advertisements, electronic communications, written materials (whether publicly disseminated or not) or oral representations regarding the financial derivatives offered. A misrepresentation is any statement that deviates from the truth or omits a material fact or even tends to mislead the recipients.

a. Financial promotion (marketing and sales)
A bank embarking on a financial promotion, whether through a direct offer or information/sales publications, should ensure it gives sufficient information to enable a client to make an informed assessment of the derivatives transaction, including its underlying. A bank must prominently indicate its name in all its promotional materials and must specify its role or capacity in the transaction (e.g., as issuer, dealer/distributor, broker).
A financial promotion is considered clear, fair and not misleading if all the following requisites are present:

1) Any statement of fact, promise or prediction is clear, fair and not misleading. A statement should disclose relevant assumptions;

2) A client, by himself, can discern from the presentation whether the statement is a fact, promise or prediction;

3) The accuracy of all material statements of fact can be substantiated.

4) Any comparison or contrast of a product offered should be with another investment intended to meet the same needs or to serve the same purpose. The facts on which any comparison or contrast is made are verified, or alternatively, that relevant assumptions are disclosed. The comparison or contrast should be presented in a fair and balanced way and includes all factors which are relevant to the comparison or contrast.

5) The design, content or format of any presentation does not disguise, obscure or diminish the significance of any statement, warning or other matter which the presentation should contain;

(6) Disclosures on risks and warnings should not be less prominent than any other information on performance;

(7) No reference to an approval by a regulatory body or its officials shall be made, unless a written approval was actually obtained;

(8) A recommendation to consult/refer to a financial advisor, if the client has doubts on suitability of derivatives product; and

(9) It does not omit any information, the omission of which causes a material fact to be misleading, unclear, or unfair.

A bank should consider the client’s knowledge of the transaction to which a given information relates. A bank should not assume that clients/recipients necessarily have an understanding of the derivatives product being promoted. A bank should assess its usage of terms, especially those which are technical. If promotional or marketing materials are specially designed for a targeted client base reasonably believed to have particular knowledge of the investment, this should be made clear in the materials.

b. Product disclosures

A bank must endeavor to explain the derivatives products it offers to its clients to enable the latter make an informed investment decision. Product disclosures should present an adequate description of at least (a) the nature of the derivatives product, including the underlying, (b) the amount of investment required and (c) the risks involved. The adequacy of description depends on the target client classification and type of product offered. In general, disclosure should always be presented in a balanced manner where the potential benefits of an investment are tempered by a fair indication of the risks involved.

A product disclosure, which includes an illustration of past or future performance of the derivatives product or its underlying, must comply with the following:

(1) When using past performance of a derivatives instrument, or its underlying, to illustrate possible returns, the disclosure should state that past performance is not necessarily indicative of future performance. This should be presented in the main text of presentation material. Past performance must be culled from a sufficient time frame to provide a fair and balanced indication of performance; and

(2) When using any forecast on the economy, stock market, bond market and economic trends of markets, the disclosure should state that such forecast is not necessarily indicative of the likely or future performance of the instrument; and

(3) Illustrations of returns should include worst case scenarios (i.e., not just the likely or best scenarios). Benefits shown in headline rates (pro-forma returns highlighted) should be realistic and achievable, and not based on unreasonably optimistic view of events.

Product disclosures for derivatives products with some form of guarantee or protection must highlight which benefits are guaranteed/protected and those which are not. In case of structured deposit products, a bank must ensure that any representation or claim of PDIC guarantee should have been pre-cleared with the PDIC. In instances where the guarantee or protection involves a cost to the client, the bank must disclose the fee or charge for the same. A bank should also disclose the counterparty (e.g., issuer/guarantor) risk involved to clients so that they are not misled about the capital security/principal protection. A bank, when applicable, should state if the guaranteed or protected amount is payable only at the end of the term.

product disclosures for leverage products/transactions should emphasize that while these types of products/strategies amplify the potential gain from an investment, they also increase the potential loss thereof. A client who intends to engage in margin buying, a means of applying leverage in investing, must be cautioned on possible loss exceeding the margin or initial cash outlay.

c. Minimum required disclosures

The minimum required disclosure should always be in writing. Except for a market counterparty, a bank should require its client to sign or initial the disclosure statement as affirmation of the client’s receipt and understanding of the disclosure statement. A bank may opt to draft individual and separate suitability assessment and disclosure statement to its client or consolidate the same into a separate document or incorporate these with the main derivatives transaction agreement/contract.

Product-specific minimum disclosures should include:

1. The nature of the derivatives product, including the underlying financial instruments and how these instruments work;
2. Investment horizon or tenor of financial derivatives;
3. Fees and charges, whether embedded in the structure or not;
4. Details on the issuing entity in case the dealing bank is not the issuing institution, (i.e., the bank acts as a broker/dealer, market maker);
5. Returns or benefits likely to be derived from the instrument, the amount and timing thereof and whether the benefits are guaranteed or not;
6. All risk factors that may result in the client receiving returns less than the illustrated returns and factors affecting the recoverable amount by the client;
7. Details of conflicts of interest, if any;
8. All termination clauses, when appropriate, including charges and restrictions;
9. Any warning, exclusion or disclaimer in relation to the product, including, but not limited, to the following:
   a. The derivatives products carry higher risks than those associated with ordinary bank savings or time deposits;
   b. The transactions are risky and may not be appropriate if client is not willing or able to accept the risk of adverse movements in the underlying securities/reference rates;
   c. Past performance of the underlying reference is not a guarantee of future performance;
   d. When applicable, a bank should draw the attention of the client to the following:
      i. The effect of early redemption of a product on the return (e.g., penalties and a poor return);
      ii. The availability of maximum benefit advertised after a specified period; and
      iii. The pre-requisite conditions for the advertised growth rate of income.

Complex products (i.e., those outside the enumeration of instruments under Subsection X602.1 (a)(2) must carry a standard warning that they are not suitable for all clients, and are intended for experienced and sophisticated investors. Complex products should carry appropriate warnings on the high economic risks of complex derivatives transaction, such as

1. Loss of all or a substantial portion of the investment due to leveraging or other sophisticated practices;
2. Volatility of returns;
3. Lack of liquidity considering that there may be no secondary market for the instrument;
4. Restrictions on transferring interests; and
5. Absence of information regarding valuation and pricing.

Appendix 26a contains a sample disclosure statement which a bank may adopt in accordance with the features of the derivatives product offered.

IV. Sales and marketing personnel

Any informational or promotional presentation regarding derivatives products should be undertaken only by personnel who are knowledgeable on derivatives products involved. A bank, in assessing its personnel's knowledge in derivatives transactions, may consider the personnel's educational background, relevant training, professional experience in rendering investment advice, making presentations regarding derivatives products or assessing the propriety of investment products for a client. Personnel involved in derivatives transactions must likewise be familiar with all relevant laws, applicable rules and regulations and must ensure compliance therewith.

At a minimum, a bank should establish qualification standards for personnel involved in derivatives activities as well as comply with certification requirements prescribed by existing securities laws, rules and regulations. In addition, a bank should implement, and maintain a reasonably comprehensive system of training of personnel geared at enhancing technical knowledge of its personnel to enable them to understand, explain the nature and risks of a bank's derivatives products and ensure client suitability.

The bank's board of directors and senior management\footnote{For purposes of this appendix, senior management shall comprehend officers starting from the level of the president down to the level of vice presidents.} shall be liable to its clients for the acts performed and representations made by sales and marketing personnel in their official capacity. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a bank's board of directors and senior management are not precluded from filing the necessary action against the erring sales and marketing personnel.
SAMPLE RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENT FOR DERIVATIVES ACTIVITIES
[Appendix to Section X611 (2008 - X602)]

While derivatives instruments are utilized for hedging or managing investment risk, derivatives instruments themselves involve a variety of significant risks. Considering the complexity of derivatives products, these products are generally unsuitable for non-sophisticated investors.

You should not deal in derivatives products unless you understand their nature and the extent of your exposure to the attendant risks. And even assuming that you understand derivatives transactions, you should not deal with the same unless the product is suitable for you in the light of your circumstances, experience, financial position and operational resources.

As in any financial transaction, you should ensure that you understand and comply with the regulatory requirements applicable to you and/or limitations set by your board of directors or other governing body. You should also consider the legal, tax and accounting implications of entering into any derivatives transaction.

This product generally carries higher risks than those associated with ordinary bank investments and therefore not a suitable substitute for savings or time deposits. These transactions are risky and may not be appropriate if you are not willing or able to accept the risk of adverse movements in the underlying securities/reference rates.

This transaction does not guarantee a yield, return or income. Past performance of the reference rate or similar instruments is not a guarantee of future performance. The income from the transaction may or may not fluctuate depending on prevailing market conditions.

(A bank need not adopt all the following enumerated statements. It only has to incorporate those statements that may be applicable to the derivatives products or transactions)

- This transaction may be used for hedging purposes. If you are entering into the transaction for hedging purposes, this product may not match your exposure perfectly. You may be under or over hedged or may be subject to other exposures as a result of the transaction.
- These are over-the-counter derivatives which may pose liquidity risks to you. These are generally not liquid because there is no exchange or secondary trading market through which you can dispose the derivative. Bid and offer prices for these instrument may not be quoted. Bid and offer quotes, if any, are established by the dealers in the instruments and consequently fair price may be difficult to establish.
- While you may terminate this transaction prior to the specified termination date, the cost of early termination may be substantial. Pre-termination may reduce the expected return or the investment amount, even in the case of principal protected structured products.

Product specific disclosures:
- This transaction can be subject to the risk of loss of the entire principal/notional amount of the transaction. You may lose some or all of your investment.
- (For principal protected structured products) While the principal for structured deposits may be protected and carries PDIC guarantee, returns are variable and are often contingent on the performance of complex financial instruments that an average customer may not fully understand. There is still a potential loss of the principal amount invested if the structured deposit is not held to maturity, i.e. there is an early redemption fee.
- (For leveraged products/transactions) if the derivatives transactions require you to put up a margin, you may sustain a loss of the entire margin you deposited with the bank to establish or maintain your position. If the market moves against you (i.e., unfavorably), you may even be called upon to pay additional margin (known as margin call) at short notice to maintain the position. If you fail to do so within the time required, your position may be liquidated at a loss and you will be responsible for the resulting deficit.

- (For non-readily realizable investments) You may have difficulty selling this investment at a reasonable price and, in some circumstances, it may be difficult to sell it at any price. Do not invest in this unless you have carefully thought about whether you can afford it and whether it is right for you.
  - These instruments often involve a high degree of gearing or leverage, so that a relatively small movement in the price of the underlying asset or variable can result in a much larger movement, unfavorable or favorable, in the price of the instrument. The price of the instrument can therefore be volatile.
  - In buying options, the maximum loss can be limited to the premium (plus any commission or transaction charges) when the price of the underlying asset moves against you because you can simply allow the option to lapse. However, if you buy a call option on another derivatives instrument, e.g., futures contract, the exercise of the option may expose you to the risks for that particular derivatives.
  - If you write an option, the risks are considerably greater. You may be liable for margin (i.e., minimum level of collateral) to maintain your position and a loss may be sustained well in excess of the premium received. By writing an option, you are accepting a legal obligation to purchase or sell the underlying asset if the option is exercised against you, however far the exercise price may have moved from the market price of the underlying asset. If you already own the underlying asset (known as covered call option), the risk is reduced. However, if you do not own the underlying asset, the risk can be unlimited. Only experienced persons should contemplate writing uncovered options, and then only after securing full details of the applicable conditions and potential risk exposure.

Any scenario analysis is being provided for illustrative purposes only. It does not represent actual prices that may be available to you. It does not present all possible outcomes or describe all factors that may affect the value of the transaction.

No advice on investments has been given. If you have any doubt about the suitability of the product, you should contact a financial advisor or carefully consider whether the product is suitable for you.

In entering into any derivatives activity with or arranged by us, you should understand that we are not acting in the capacity of your financial adviser due to the inherent conflicts of interest in simultaneously acting as dealer and financial adviser. Notwithstanding the conflict of interest, we may act as your financial adviser only if you have so agreed in writing and only to the extent so provided.

THIS STATEMENT DOES NOT PURPORT TO DISCLOSE ALL OF THE RISKS OR RELEVANT CONSIDERATIONS IN ENTERING INTO DERIVATIVES TRANSACTIONS. YOU SHOULD REFRAIN FROM ENTERING INTO ANY SUCH ACTIVITY UNLESS YOU FULLY UNDERSTAND ALL SUCH RISKS AND HAVE INDEPENDENTLY DETERMINED THAT THE ACTIVITY IS SUITABLE FOR YOU.

The total of each demand shall be listed in a certified adding machine tape attached to the sealed envelope. In the acknowledgment of receipt of the demands against the bank/branch, institution or entity he represents, the settling clerk concerned shall prepare and sign a Clearing Office Statement (Clearing Form No. 4) in duplicate for local clearing. The original and duplicate of the statement shall be submitted to the clearing office in Manila or the regional clearing centers. The original shall be retained and shall be the basis for settlement of clearing balances in the respective deposit accounts with the BSP. The duplicate, duly authenticated by the Manila or the Regional Clearing Officer concerned, shall be returned to the bank/branch, institution or entity concerned through their clearing representatives. The duplicate shall be the basis of each bank/branch, institution or entity for taking up corresponding entries in their respective books of accounts on the date of clearing.

      For out-of-town clearing, the Clearing Office Statement (Clearing Form No. 4-A) shall be prepared in quadruplicate for

Out-of-town exchanges shall be returned within the period specified in the Memorandum to Authorized Agent Banks announcing the opening of clearing facilities in each of the authorized regional clearing centers. Items for return shall be sealed in special red envelopes and shall be considered and accounted for as debits to the demanding banks/branches, and credits to the returning banks/branches. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent direct settlement of returned items between the parties concerned.

The total of said deliveries shall be debited to the account of the excluded bank/branch. The bank/branch excluded from clearing shall, as heretofore, send its representative to the Clearing Office/Unit to prepare the clearing statement and accept deliveries on it. In case of failure to send its representative, the Clearing Office/Unit shall, in the meantime, receive such deliveries which should be picked up by the excluded bank/branch not later than 5:30 p.m. on the same day.

In the event of a strike or force majeure which prevents a bank/branch allowed to clear from having access to its representative records or otherwise ascertaining whether checks delivered to its representatives shall be honored or returned, notice of such circumstances shall immediately be given to the BSP Clearing Office/Unit. In such cases, items drawn against the bank/branch concerned shall not be presented for clearing.

(i) All clearing pouches arriving late in the afternoon and in the evening may be picked up from the airport in the morning of the following day for delivery to the drawee bank at 9:00 A.M. clearing session. For security reasons, those arriving on Friday night shall be picked up on Saturday morning.

c. Treasury warrants. Types “A” and “B” treasury warrants in Manila and in areas served by the BSP Regional Clearing Offices are governed by the following rules issued by the National Treasurer:

1. Effectivity. Types “A” and “B” treasury warrants shall be accepted as clearing items for regional clearing in areas served by the BSP Regional Clearing Offices. The branches or agencies of banks may avail of this facility of the BSP by following the procedures prescribed hereunder. These treasury warrants shall be carried in the BSP pouches from their regional offices to Manila.

2. Treatment of Types “A” and “B” treasury warrants. Types “A” and “B” treasury warrants with circular holes already punched at the designated field by the bank branches or agencies in accordance with Treasury Circular dated 7 July 1969 shall be placed in separate sealed envelopes or packages, together with their respective run-up tapes. The outside of the envelopes must clearly indicate the type of treasury warrants contained therein, the number of pieces, and the total amount per tape. When the pouch is received in Manila, these envelopes or packages shall be turned over by the BSP unopened to the representative of the sending bank’s Manila office. The Manila office of a bank shall gather all treasury warrants it receives from its various branches and agencies in a single day, and submit them to the Bureau of Treasury for special clearing on the next day. The treasury warrants must be endorsed by the Manila office, stating, among other things, the date of clearing and that they are being presented for special clearing.

These treasury warrants, as well as those paid at the main offices and suburban branches or agencies of banks shall be presented to the Bureau of Treasury by the banks concerned between the hours of 8:00 A.M. and 10:00 A.M. during banking days, supported by run-up tapes and the usual clearing receipt. The special clearing receipt may be cleared on the same day through the BSP Clearing House and shall be accounted as debit against the demand of the National Treasurer.

3. Period within which treasury warrants may be dishonored. The Bureau of Treasury (BTr) may dishonor a Type “B” treasury warrant found defective within (2) working days, while Type “A” treasury warrants may be dishonored within sixty (60) working days. In both cases, the period shall be reckoned from the date the special clearing receipt is coursed through the BSP.

The foregoing time limit will not apply to treasury warrants found to have been paid to the wrong party, tampered, and otherwise tainted with fraud.

4. Dishonored, miscleared and other returnable items. These items will be returned directly to the presenting bank. The accepting bank shall issue the corresponding credit ticket in favor of the BTr, which ticket shall be cleared by the BTr through the BSP. If the bank to which a treasury warrant is dishonored, refuses to accept or recognize the action taken by the BTr for a valid reason, the bank may return the controversial items, or evidences thereof, directly to the National Treasurer, together with required run-up tapes and a concise but comprehensive statement of such reason. The return must be made not later than 10:00 A.M. on the next banking day, otherwise the member bank shall be deemed to have accepted and recognized the validity of the returned item, and it is therefore, left without further recourse. The BTr shall issue the corresponding credit ticket for those returned items accepted, and the same shall be taken up in the manner set forth above.

(5) Compliance. Banks participating in the BTr special clearing operations bind themselves to conform, without reservation, to the regulations promulgated herein, or which may henceforth be promulgated relative to special clearing operations. Any bank has the option to present their paid treasury warrants to the National Treasurer for collection.

(6) Bangko Sentral responsibility. Any treasury warrant lost or pilfered from the BSP pouch shall be the responsibility of the sending bank, and such responsibility ends only after the National Treasurer has taken physical possession of the treasury warrants. Lost or pilfered treasury warrants must be reported to the National Treasurer in accordance with Treasury Memorandum Circular No. 13-69 dated 01 October 1969.

d. Handling of checks drawn against out-of-town accounts. The following regulations shall govern the handling of checks drawn against demand deposits maintained in out-of-town banks:

(1) The bank which accepted for deposit/collection a check drawn against a demand deposit maintained in an out-of-town bank must send the same for collection within twenty-four (24) hours (non-regular banking days excluded) counted from the time of its receipt. Sending the check for collection means sending it directly to the drawee bank or thru the collecting bank’s branch, agency or extension office/ correspondent bank/collecting, agent in or near the locality to the drawee bank by registered mail with return receipt or by other equivalent means. Checks drawn against drawee banks located in places where the BSP maintains clearing offices shall be cleared directly with the said clearing offices.

(2) Upon receipt of a check from the collecting bank, the drawee bank carrying the demand deposit against which the check is drawn (if cleared through means other than the clearing facilities of the BSP), must indicate the date and time of receipt of the check on the registered mail return receipt, if the item is sent by registered mail, or on the duplicate copy of the collecting bank’s letter of instruction, if the item is sent through means other than by registered mail.

(3) The drawee bank must maintain a register of all checks received for settlement which should be separate and distinct from the register of incoming mails or messages. This register must indicate in chronological order all checks received for settlement with information such as, but not limited to, the date and time the check was received, the name and address of the collecting bank, the current account number against which check is drawn, the date and amount of the check and the date the proceeds thereof were remitted or the date the check was returned, as the case may be.

(4) The drawee bank or office carrying the demand deposit against which the check is drawn must dispose of such item within twenty-four (24) hours (non-regular banking days of the drawee bank excluded) counted from the time it received the check. Disposing of such item means remitting the proceeds to the collecting bank if the check is honored, or returning the check with the reason for the return, in the event of dishonor.

(5) The date of disposition of the check shall be determined by the date of mailing of the instrument of payment, say demand draft, or date or dispatch of telegraphic transfer, if the check is honored, or by the date of mailing of the return slip attached to the item, if it is dishonored.

(6) All checks received for payment but not acted upon at the end of the day must be recorded by the drawee bank on the same day as part of its contingent account Inward Bills for Collection.

Sec. 1. Statement of Policy. It is the policy of the BSP to promote full transparency of the financial statements of banks and other supervised institutions in order to strengthen market discipline, encourage sound risk management practices, and stimulate the domestic capital market. Towards these ends, the BSP desires to align local financial accounting standards with international accounting standards as prescribed by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) to the greatest extent possible.

Sec. 2. Scope. This Appendix covers accounting for investments in debt and equity securities except:

a. those that are part of hedging relationship;

b. those that are hybrid financial instruments;

c. those financial liabilities that are held for trading;

d. those financial assets and financial liabilities which, upon initial recognition, are designated by the FIs as at fair value through profit or loss; and

e. those that are classified as loans and receivables.

It also does not include accounting for derivatives and non-derivative financial instruments other than debt and equity securities. The foregoing exceptions and exclusions shall be covered by separate regulations.

Sec. 3. Investments in Debt and Equity Securities. Depending on the intent, investments in debt and equity securities shall be classified into one (1) of four (4) categories and accounted for as follows:

a. Held to Maturity (HTM) Securities

- These are debt securities with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity that an FI has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity other than:

  (1) those that meet the definition of Securities at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss; and

  (2) those that the FI designates as Available-for-Sale Securities.

An FI shall not classify any debt security as HTM if the FI has, during the current financial year or during the two (2) preceding financial years, sold or reclassified more than an insignificant amount of HTM investments before maturity (more than insignificant in relation to the total amount of HTM investments) other than sales or reclassifications that:

(a) are so close to maturity or the security’s call date (i.e., less than three (3) months before maturity) that changes in the market rate of interest would not have a significant effect on the security’s fair value;

(b) occur after the FI has substantially collected all (i.e., at least eighty-five percent [85%]) of the security’s original principal through scheduled payments or prepayments; or

(c) are attributable to an isolated event that is beyond the FI’s control, is non-recurring and could not have been reasonably anticipated by the FI.

For this purpose, the phrase “more than an insignificant amount” refers to sales or reclassification of one percent (1%) or more of the outstanding balance of the HTM portfolio.

Provided, however, That sales or reclassifications of less than one percent (1%) shall be evaluated on case-to-case basis.
Sales or reclassifications before maturity that do not meet any of the conditions prescribed in this Appendix shall require the entire HTM portfolio to be reclassified to Available-for-Sale. Further, the FI shall be prohibited from using the HTM account during the reporting year of the date of sales or reclassifications and for the succeeding two (2) full financial years. Failure to reclassify the HTM portfolio to Available-for-Sale on the date of sales or reclassifications, shall subject the FI and concerned officers to penalties and sanctions provided under Item "c" of X388.5. This provision shall be applied prospectively, i.e., on prohibited sales or reclassifications occurring on 13 March 2005 (effectivity date of CIR. 476 dated 16 February 2005) and thereafter.

Securities held in compliance with BSP regulations, e.g., securities held as liquidity reserves and for the faithful performance of trust duties, may be classified either as HTM, Securities Held-for-Trading (HFT) or Available-for-Sale:

Provided, That the provision of Item (4) of paragraph 2 of Section 3.a.1 shall not apply to sales or reclassifications of the said securities booked under HTM.

a.1. Positive intention and ability to hold investments in HTM securities to maturity – An FI does not have a positive intention to hold to maturity an HTM security if:

(a) the FI intends to hold the security for an undefined period;

(b) the FI stands ready to sell the security (other than if a situation arises that is non-recurring and could not have been reasonably anticipated by the FI) in response to changes in market interest rates or risks, liquidity needs, changes in the availability of and the yield on alternative investments, changes in financing sources and terms or changes in foreign currency risk; or

(c) the issuer has a right to settle the security at an amount significantly below its amortized cost.

Sales before maturity could satisfy the condition of HTM classification and therefore need not raise a question about the FI’s intention to hold other HTM securities to maturity if they are attributable to any of the following:

(i) A significant deterioration in the issuer’s creditworthiness, for example, a sale following a downgrade in a credit rating by an external rating agency would not necessarily raise a question about the FI’s intention to hold other investments to maturity if the downgrade provides evidence of a significant deterioration in the issuer’s creditworthiness judged by reference to the credit rating at initial recognition. Similarly, if an FI uses internal ratings for assessing exposures, changes in those internal ratings may help to identify issuers for which there has been a significant deterioration in creditworthiness, provided the FI’s approach to assigning internal ratings and changes in those ratings give a consistent, reliable and objective measure of the credit quality of the issuers. If there is evidence that an instrument is impaired, the deterioration in creditworthiness is often regarded as significant;

(ii) A change in tax law that eliminates or significantly reduces the tax-exempt status of interest on the HTM security (but not a change in tax law that revises the marginal tax rates applicable to interest income);

(iii) A major business combination or major disposition (such as sale of a segment) that necessitates the sale or transfer of HTM securities to maintain the FI’s existing interest rate risk position or credit risk policy: Provided, That the sale or transfer of HTM security shall be done only once and within a period of six (6) months from the date of the business combination or major disposition: Provided, further, That prior BSP approval is required for sales or transfers occurring... after the prescribed six (6)-month time frame. In this case, FIs shall submit to the appropriate department of the SES, a plan stating the reason for the extension and the proposed schedule for the disposition of the HTM security;

(iv) A change in statutory or regulatory requirements significantly modifying either what constitutes a permissible investment or the maximum level of particular types of investments, thereby causing an FI to dispose of an HTM security;

(v) A significant increase in the industry’s regulatory capital requirements that causes the FI to downsize by selling HTM securities; or

(vi) A significant increase in the risk weights of HTM securities used for regulatory risk-based capital purposes.

An FI does not have a demonstrated ability to hold to maturity an investment in HTM security if:

(a) it does not have the financial resources available to continue to finance the investment until maturity; or

(b) it is subject to an existing legal or other constraint that could frustrate its intention to hold the security to maturity.

Sales before maturity due to events that are non-recurring and could not have been reasonably anticipated by the FI such as a run on a bank, likewise satisfy the condition of HTM classification and therefore need not raise a question about the FI’s intention and ability to hold other HTM investments to maturity.

An FI assesses its intention and ability to hold its investment in HTM securities to maturity not only when those securities are initially recognized, but also at each time that the FI prepares its financial statements.

a.2. HTM securities shall be measured upon initial recognition at their fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the securities.

For this purpose, transactions costs include fees and commissions paid to agents (including employees acting as selling agents), advisers, brokers and dealers, levies by regulatory agencies and securities exchanges, and transfer taxes and duties. Transaction costs do not include debt premiums or discounts, financing costs or internal administrative or holding costs.

After initial recognition, an FI shall measure HTM securities at their amortized cost using the effective interest method.

For this purpose, the effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a security (or group of securities) and of allocating the interest income over the relevant period using the effective interest rate. The effective interest rate shall refer to the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the security or when appropriate, a shorter period to the net carrying amount of the security. When calculating the effective interest rate, an FI shall estimate cash flows considering all contractual terms of the security (for example, prepayment, call and similar options) but shall not consider future credit losses. The calculation includes all fees and points paid to the other party to the contract that are an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs, and all other premiums or discounts. There is a presumption that the cash flows and the expected life of a group of similar securities can be estimated reliably. However, in those rare cases when it is not possible to estimate reliably the cash flows or the expected life of a security (or group of securities), the FI shall use the contractual cash flows over the full contractual terms of the security.

A gain or loss arising from the change in the fair value of the HTM security shall be recognized in profit or loss when the security is derecognized or impaired, and through the amortization process.

An FI shall assess at each time it prepares its financial statements whether there is any objective evidence that an HTM security is impaired.

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on HTM securities has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the security’s carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the security’s original effective interest rate (i.e., the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition). The carrying amount of the security shall be reduced through the use of an allowance account. The amount of the loss shall be recognized in profit or loss.

As a practical expedient, a creditor may measure impairment of HTM securities on the basis of an instrument’s fair value using an observable market price.

An FI first assesses whether objective evidence of impairment exists individually for HTM securities that are individually significant, and individually or collectively for HTM securities that are not individually significant. If an entity determines that no objective evidence of impairment exists for an individually assessed HTM security, whether significant or not, it includes the asset in a group of HTM securities with similar credit risk characteristics and collectively assesses them for impairment. HTM securities that are individually assessed for impairment and for which an impairment loss is or continues to be recognized are not included in a collective assessment of impairment.

b. Securities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss – These consist initially of HFT securities. HFT are debt and equity securities that are:

(1) acquired principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing them in the near term; or
(2) part of a portfolio of identified securities that are managed together and for which there is evidence of a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking.

For this purpose, an FI shall adopt its own definition of short-term which shall be within a twelve (12)-month period. Said definition which shall be included in its manual of operations, shall be applied and used consistently.

b.1 HFT securities shall be measured upon initial recognition at their fair value. Transaction costs incurred at the acquisition of HFT securities shall be recognized directly in profit or loss. After initial recognition, an FI shall measure HFT securities at their fair values without any deduction for transaction costs that it may incur on sale or other disposal. A gain or loss arising from a change in the fair value of HFT securities shall be recognized in profit or loss under the account “Trading Gain/(Loss)”.

c. Available-for-Sale Securities. These are debt or equity securities that are designated as Available-for-Sale or are not classified/designated as (a) HTM, (b) Securities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss, or (d) Investment in Non-Marketable Equity Securities (INMES).

c.1 Available-for-Sale securities shall be measured upon initial recognition at their fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the securities. After initial recognition, an FI shall measure Available-for-Sale securities at their fair values, without any deduction for transaction costs it may incur on sale or other disposal. A gain or loss arising from a change in the fair value of an Available-for-Sale security shall be recognized directly in equity under the account “Net Unrealized Gains/(Losses) on Securities Available-for-Sale” and reflected in the statement of changes in equity, except for impairment losses and foreign exchange gains and losses, until the security is derecognized, at which time the cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in equity shall be recognized in profit or loss. However, interest calculated using the effective interest method is recognized in profit or loss. Dividends on an Available-for-Sale equity security are recognized in profit or loss when the FI’s right to receive payment is established.

For the purpose of recognizing foreign exchange gains and losses on a monetary Available-for-Sale security that is denominated in a foreign currency, it shall be treated as if it were carried at amortized cost in the foreign currency. Accordingly, for such an Available-for-Sale security, exchange differences resulting from changes in amortized cost are recognized in profit or loss and other changes in carrying amount are recognized directly in equity. For Available-for-Sale securities that are not monetary items (for example, equity instruments), the gain or loss that is recognized directly in equity includes any related foreign exchange component.

An FI shall assess each time it prepares its financial statements whether there is any objective evidence that an Available-for-Sale security is impaired.

When a decline in the fair value of an Available-for-Sale security has been recognized directly in equity and there is objective evidence that the asset is impaired, the cumulative loss that had been recognized directly in equity shall be removed from equity and recognized in profit or loss even though the security has not been derecognized.

The amount of the cumulative loss that is removed from equity and recognized in profit or loss shall be the difference between the acquisition cost (net of any principal repayment and amortization) and current fair value, less any impairment loss on that security previously recognized in profit or loss.

Impairment losses recognized in profit or loss for an investment in an equity instrument classified as Available-for-Sale shall not be reversed through profit or loss.

If, in a subsequent period, the fair value of a debt instrument classified as Available-for-Sale increases and the increase can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognized in profit or loss, the impairment loss shall be reversed, with the amount of the reversal recognized in profit or loss.

c.2. Underwriting Accounts (UA) shall be a sub-account under Available-for-Sale. These are debt and equity securities purchased which have remained unsold/locked-in from underwriting ventures on a firm basis. UA account is applicable only to UBs and IHs.

d. INMES. These are equity instruments that do not have a quoted market price in an active market, and whose fair value cannot be reliably measured. INMES shall be measured upon initial recognition at its fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the security. After initial recognition, an FI shall measure INMES at cost. A gain or loss arising from the change in fair value of the INMES shall be recognized in profit or loss when the security is derecognized or impaired.

An FI shall assess each time it prepares its financial statements whether there is any objective evidence that an INMES is impaired.

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss has been incurred on an INMES, the amount of impairment loss is measured as the difference between the carrying amount of the security and the estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial instrument. Such impairment loss shall not be reversed.

For Securities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss and Available-for-Sale, an FI is required to book the mark-to-market valuation on a daily basis. However, an FI may opt to book the mark-to-market valuation every end of the month: Provided, That an adequate mechanism is in place to determine the daily fair values of securities.

An FI shall recognize an investment in debt or equity security on its balance sheet when, and only when, the FI becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument. A regular way purchase or sale of financial assets shall be recognized and derecognized, as applicable using trade date accounting or settlement date accounting. The method used is applied consistently for all purchases and sale of financial assets that belong to the same category.

Sec. 4. Reclassifications

a. An FI shall not reclassify a security into or out of the Fair Value through Profit Loss category while it is held.

b. If, as a result of a change in intention or ability, it is no longer appropriate to classify a debt security as HTM, it shall be reclassified as Available-for-Sale and remeasured at fair value, and the difference between its carrying amount and fair value shall be accounted for in accordance with Section 3.c.1.

c. Whenever sales or reclassifications of more than an insignificant amount of HTM investments do not meet any of the conditions in Section 3.a, any remaining HTM investments shall be reclassified as Available-for-Sale. On such reclassification, the difference between the carrying amount and fair value shall be accounted for in accordance with Section 3.c.1.

d. If a reliable measure becomes available for an INMES, it shall be reclassified as Available-for-Sale and remeasured at fair value, and the difference between its carrying amount and the fair value shall be accounted for in accordance with Section 3.c.1.

e. If, as a result of a change in intention or ability, or because the two (2) preceding financial years referred to in Section 3.a have passed, it becomes appropriate to carry the debt security at amortized cost (i.e., HTM) rather than at fair value (i.e., Available-for-Sale), the fair value carrying amount of the security on that date becomes its new amortized cost. Any previous gain or loss on that debt security that has been recognized directly in equity in accordance with Section 3.c.1 shall be amortized to profit or loss over the remaining life of the HTM using the effective interest method. Any difference between the new amortized cost and maturity amount shall also be amortized over the remaining life of the security using the effective interest method, similar to the amortization of a premium and a discount. If the security is subsequently impaired, any gain or loss that has been recognized directly in equity is recognized in profit or loss in accordance with Section 3.c.1.

f. If, in the rare circumstance that a reliable measure of fair value is no longer available, it becomes appropriate to carry the equity security at cost (i.e., INMES) rather than at fair value (i.e., Available-for-Sale), the fair value carrying amount of the security on that date becomes its new cost. Any previous gain or loss on that equity security that has been recognized directly in equity

1 The guidelines governing the reclassification of financial assets between categories in accordance with the provisions of the October 2008 amendments to PAS39 and PFRS7 are shown in Annex A.
in accordance with Section 3.c.1 shall remain in equity until the security is sold or otherwise disposed of, when it shall be recognized in profit or loss. If the financial asset is subsequently impaired, any previous gain or loss that has been recognized directly in equity is recognized in profit or loss in accordance with Section 3.c.1; and

The following securities booked under the HTM category, shall be exempted from the “tainting” provision for prudential reporting purposes which prohibits banks from using the HTM category and requires reclassification of the entire HTM portfolio to the Available-for-Sale category during the reporting year and for the succeeding two full financial years whenever a bank sells or reclassifies more than an insignificant amount of HTM investments before maturity, other than for reasons specified in Items “a(a)” to “a(c)” of Section 3 of this Appendix:

Provided, That securities rejected under items “i” and “ii” shall continue to be booked under the HTM category:

i. Securities exchanged pursuant to the Domestic Debt Exchange Offer of the Republic of the Philippines;

ii. Securities offered and accepted in the Global Bond Offering of the Republic of the Philippines; and

iii. Foreign currency denominated NG/BSP bonds/debt securities, outstanding as of 10 February 2007, which were reclassified from the HTM category in view of the increased risk-weights of said securities under Appendix 63b within thirty (30) calendar days after 10 February 2007. The subject securities once reclassified shall be accounted for in accordance with the measurement requirements of their new category (i.e., Available-for-Sale securities).

Sec. 5. Impairment. A debt or equity security is impaired and impairment losses are incurred if, and only if, there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of event that occurred after the initial recognition of the security (a “loss event”) and that loss event has impact on the estimated future cash flows of the securities. Losses expected as a result of future events, no matter how likely, are not recognized. Objective evidence that the security is impaired includes observable data that comes to the attention of the holder of the security about the following loss events:

a. significant financial difficulty of the issuer or obligor;

b. a breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;

c. the FI, for economic or legal reasons relating to the issuer’s financial difficulty, granting to the issuer a concession that the FI would not otherwise consider;

d. it becoming probable that the issuer will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization;

e. the disappearance of an active market for that security because of financial difficulties; or

f. observable data indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows from a portfolio of securities since the initial recognition of those assets, although the decrease cannot yet be identified with the individual securities in the portfolio, including:

(1) adverse change in the payment status of issuers in the portfolio; or

(2) national or local economic conditions that correlate with defaults on the securities in the portfolio.

The disappearance of an active market because an FI’s held securities are no longer publicly traded is not evidence of impairment. A downgrade of an issuer’s credit rating is not, of itself, evidence of impairment, although it may be evidence of impairment when considered with other available information. A decline in the fair value of a security below its cost or amortized cost is not necessarily evidence of impairment (for example, a decline in fair value of an investment in debt security that results from an increase in the risk free interest rate).

In addition to the types of events enumerated in Items "a" to "f" in this Section, objective evidence of impairment for an investment in an equity instrument includes information about significant changes with an adverse effect that have taken place in the technological, market, economic or legal environment in which the issuer operates and indicates that the cost of the investment in the equity instrument may not be recovered. A significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of an investment in an equity security below its cost is also objective evidence of impairment.

Sec. 6. Operations Manual. The FI shall maintain an operations manual for booking and valuation of HTM, Securities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss, Available-for-Sale and INMES.

The following guidelines govern the reclassification of investments in debt and equity securities between categories:

Section I. Conditions for Reclassifications
FIs shall be allowed to reclassify their investments in debt and equity securities from the Held for Trading (HFT) or Available for Sale (AFS) categories to the Held to Maturity (HTM) or Unquoted Debt Securities Classified as Loans (UDSCL) categories, subject to the following conditions:

1. The reclassification shall be done in accordance with the provisions of the October 2008 amendments to the International Accounting Standards (IAS) 39: Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurements and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) 7: Financial Instruments: Disclosures:
   a. Only non-derivative financial assets may be reclassified from HFT to AFS, HTM or UDSCL. This shall however exclude those that are Designated at Fair Value through Profit or Loss (DFVPL).
   b. A financial asset may be reclassified out of HFT into AFS/HTM/UDSCL only in rare circumstances and if there is a change in intention (i.e., the financial asset is no longer held for the purpose of selling or repurchasing it in the near term). The financial assets shall be reclassified at their fair values on the effective date of reclassification all at the same time. Any gain or loss already recognized in profit or loss shall not be reversed. The fair value of a financial asset on the effective date of reclassification becomes its new cost or amortized cost, as applicable.

For this purpose, FIs may reclassify all or a portion of its financial assets for HFT to AFS/HTM/UDSCL as of the same date which shall be any day from 01 July 2008 to 14 November 2008. For example, an FI may choose to reclassify all financial assets booked under HFT to AFS/HTM/UDSCL as of 01 July 2008 using their fair values as of 01 July 2008. Another FI may choose to reclassify all financial assets booked under HFT to AFS/HTM/UDSCL as of 14 November 2008 using their fair values as of 14 November 2008. Thereafter, FIs shall not be allowed to "retrospectively" reclassify HFT to AFS/HTM/UDSCL. Any reclassification on or after 15 November 2008 shall take effect only from the date when the reclassification is made.

(c) A financial asset booked under HFT that would have also met the definition on UDSCL if the financial asset had not been required to be classified as HFT at initial recognition, may be reclassified from HFT to UDSCL if the entity has the intention and ability to hold the financial asset for the foreseeable future or until maturity.

(d) The financial assets shall be reclassified at their fair values on the effective date of reclassification, not necessarily all at the same time. Any gain or loss already recognized in profit or loss shall not be reversed. The fair value of a financial asset on the effective date of reclassification becomes its new cost or amortized cost, as applicable.

For this purpose, FIs may reclassify said financial assets from HFT to UDSCL as of any date from 01 July 2008 to 14 November 2008. Thereafter, FIs shall not be allowed to retrospectively reclassify HFT to UDSCL. Any reclassification on or after 15 November 2008 shall take effect only from the date when the reclassification is made.

(e) The financial asset reclassified in accordance with Items "(b)", "(c)" or "(d)" above shall thereafter be treated in accordance with the guidelines provided in Appendix 20: Provided, however, That if an FI subsequently increases its estimates of future cash receipts as a result of increased recoverability of those cash receipts, the effect of that increase shall be recognized as an adjustment to the effective interest rate from the date of the change in estimate rather than as an adjustment to the carrying amount of the asset at the date of the change in estimate.

(f) FIs that shall reclassify based on the provision of this Annex shall comply with the disclosure requirements under the Amendments to IAS 39 and IFRS 7 in preparing their audited financial statements.

(2) Financial assets that are reclassified from HFT/AFS to HTM/UDSCL shall thereafter be treated in accordance with the guidelines provided under Appendix 33;

(3) Reclassification from the AFS to the HTM category shall only be allowed if there was a change in intention for holding the debt instrument, and the financial institution has the ability to hold it until maturity; and

(4) FIs may reclassify from HFT/AFS to AFS/HTM/UDSCL effective 01 July 2008: Provided, That any reclassification made in periods beginning on or after 15 November 2008 shall take effect from the date when the reclassification is made.

Sec. II. Alternative accounting treatment for prudential reporting purposes. The following may be adopted for purposes of prudential reports:

(1) A financial asset booked under AFS may be reclassified from AFS to HTM/UDSCL if the FI has the intention and ability to hold the financial assets for the foreseeable future or until the maturity using the fair value carrying amount of the financial assets as of the effective date of reclassification.

For this purpose, FIs may reclassify said financial assets from AFS to HTM/UDSCL as of any day from 01 July 2008 to 14 November 2008. Thereafter, FIs shall not be allowed to retrospectively reclassify AFS to HTM/UDSCL. Any reclassification on or after 15 November 2008 shall take effect only from the date when their reclassification is made.

(2) Financial assets that are booked under AFS category because of the tainting of the HTM portfolio may be reclassified to HTM or UDSCL using the fair value carrying amount of the financial assets as of the effective date of reclassification.

For this purpose, FIs may reclassify said financial assets from AFS to HTM/UDSCL as of any day from 01 July 2008 to 14 November 2008.

(3) Hybrid financial assets (other than CLNs) may be included among the financial assets that may be reclassified out of the HTF and into the AFS/HTM/UDSCL in accordance with Items "(1)(b)" and "(1)(c)" in Sec. I by, first, bifurcating the embedded derivative from the host instrument and booking the derivatives under Derivatives with Positive/Negative Fair Value; and second, reclassifying the host contract to AFS/HTM/UDSCL.

(4) CLNs and other similar instruments that are linked to ROPs, on the other hand, may be included among the financial assets that may be reclassified (i) out of the HFT into AFS/HTM/UDSCL in accordance with Items "(1)(b)" and "(1)(c)"; or (ii) from AFS to UDSCL or HTM in accordance with Item "(1)(d)" all in Sec. I and Item "1" above, without bifurcating the embedded derivatives from the host instrument: Provided, That this shall only apply for CLNs that are outstanding as of the effective date of reclassification, which shall not be on or later than 15 November 2008.

Sec. III. Applicability to Trust Institutions
The guidelines shall likewise apply to trust institutions except for the following accounts:
(a) UIT Funds; and
(b) Pre-need, escrow and other accounts whose investments are regulated by or require approval from other regulatory agencies: Provided, That prior to the reclassification, the approval/consent and reflect the change in client’s investment profile in the revised Investment Policy Statement as provided in Appendix 83: Provided, further, That in the case of managed retirement funds/ employee benefit trust accounts, such reclassification shall be aligned with the liquidity requirements resulting from the latest actuarial valuation of the fund/account.

Sec. IV. Reportorial Requirements. FIs that reclassify financial assets out of the HFT/AFS categories shall submit a report on Reclassification of Financial Assets between Categories to the Supervisory Data Center, Supervision and Examination Sector on or before 30 November 2008. (Circular No. 626 dated 23 October 2008 as amended by Circular No. 628 dated 31 October 2008)
General Principle

As a general rule, to the extent a credible market pricing mechanism as determined by the BSP exists for a given security, that market price shall be the basis of marking-to-market. However, in the absence of a market price, a calculated price shall be used as prescribed herein.

Marking-to-Market Guidelines

To ensure consistency, the following shall be used as bases in marking-to-market debt and equity securities:

* Based on done rates if available. If done rates are not available, use the mid rate between bid and offer. If no mid-rates are available use the bid rate.
C. Foreign Currency Denominated Debt Securities Traded in a Local Registered Exchange or Market

The basis for marking-to-market foreign currency-denominated debt securities traded in a local registered exchange or market shall be the same as those used in Peso-Denominated Government Securities in Section D below.

D. Peso-Denominated Government Securities

The benchmark or reference prices shall be based on the weighted average of done or executed deals in a trading market registered with the SEC. In the absence of done deals, the best firm bid per benchmark tenor shall be used in calculating the benchmark: Provided, That the best firm offer per benchmark tenor shall likewise be included as soon as permissible under securities laws and regulations.

The benchmark or reference rate shall be computed and published in accordance with prescribed guidelines on the computation of reference rates by a Calculation Agent which is recognized by the Bankers Association of the Philippines (BAP): Provided, That both the Calculation Agent and its method of computation are acceptable to the BSP.

To ensure the integrity of the benchmark or reference prices, the Calculation Agent shall perform the following:

1. Monitor the quality of the contributed source rates for the benchmark;
2. Monitor the data contributors and replace participants, upon consultation with the BAP, that fail to meet commitments to the benchmark;
3. Monitor the activities of the participants to ensure compliance with their commitments and for possible market manipulation and enforce sanctions on errant participants and immediately inform BAP and the BSP thereon; and
4. Review and upgrade the benchmark setting methodology upon consultation with BAP on a continuing basis, including documentation and publications thereof.

Accordingly, all data on done and firm bids/offers must be credible and verifiable and preferably sourced from trade executions and reporting systems that are part of a regulated and organized market duly licensed by the SEC where the data contributors are bound to uphold the principles of transparency, fair trading and best execution.

E. Peso-Denominated Private Debt Securities

The basis for marking-to-market peso-denominated debt securities traded in an organized market shall be the same as those used in Peso-Denominated Government Securities in Section D above.

For private debt securities which are not traded in an organized market, the mark-to-market value shall be based on the corresponding government security benchmark plus risk premium. The corresponding government security benchmark shall be determined according to Section D above. In determining the risk premium, the credit risk rating of the securities involved given by a BSP-recognized credit risk rating agency shall be established and taken into account whenever available. In the absence of such credit risk rating, alternative analyses may be used: Provided, That, these are well-justified by sound risk analysis principles.
Other Guidelines

For the market valuation of securities with odd tenors, interpolated yields derived from the benchmark or reference rates in accordance with the BSP-approved guidelines for computation of reference rate in Section D above shall be used.

Penalties and Sanctions

FIs and the concerned officers found to have violated the provisions of these regulations shall be subject to the penalties prescribed under Subsec. X3B8.5:

Provided, That non-compliance with the above guidelines may be a basis for a finding of unsafe and unsound banking practice.

A. Basic Requirements

1. The BSP-SES shall file with BTr an application to open a RoSS Principal Securities Account where RoSS securities of trust institutions used as security deposit for trust duties shall be held. BSP-SES shall use Annex 1 for this purpose.

2. Using Annex 1-A, BSP-SES shall also apply for a Client Securities Account (sub-account) for each trust institution under its RoSS Principal Securities Account to enable BSP-SES to keep track of the security deposit. BTr shall maintain Client Securities Accounts for ₱1,000 each month per account.

3. A trust institution which has a DDA with BSP-Comptrollership shall act as its own settlement bank.

A trust institution which does not have a DDA with BSP-Comptrollership shall designate a settlement bank which will act as conduit for transferring securities for trust duties to the BSP-SES account and for paying interest, interest coupons and redemption proceeds. The trust institution shall inform the appropriate SED of the BSP of the designation of a settlement bank.

4. Each trust institution shall accomplish an Autodebit/Autocredit Authorization for its client securities account under the BSP-SES RoSS account. The document will authorize the BTr and the BSP to credit the DDA of the trust institution with BSP-Accounting for coupons/interest payments on securities in the BSP-SES RoSS accounts and to debit the DDA for the monthly fees payable to BTr for maintaining its client securities accounts with BSP-SES. 6. SRSO shall be responsible for keeping track of the deposit and withdrawal of securities held under the BSP-SES Principal Securities Account and the Client Securities Accounts of the trust institutions. SRSO shall instruct BTr to transfer securities out of the BSP-SES account and the corresponding client securities accounts of trust institutions only after receiving authorization from the Director (or in his absence, the designated alternate officer) of the appropriate SED of SES.

SRSO shall also be responsible for keeping track of the BSP-SES deposit account with the BSP-Comptrollership representing credits for the redemption value of security deposit of trust institutions that have matured while in the RoSS account of BSP-SES. SRSO shall maintain sub-accounts for each trust institution for the purpose. SRSO shall instruct BSP-Comptrollership to transfer balances out of the deposit account and the corresponding sub-account of the trust institution only after receiving authorization from the Director (or in his absence, the designated alternate officer) of the appropriate SED of SES.

B. APPLICATION AND PRE-QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

The application for BSP selection shall be signed by the external auditor or the managing partner, in case of partnership and shall be submitted to the appropriate department of the SES together with the following documents/information:

1. An undertaking:
   a. That the external auditor, partners, associates, auditor-in-charge of the engagement and the members of their immediate family shall not acquire any direct or indirect financial interest with the bank, its subsidiaries and affiliates. This requirement shall not, however, affect audit engagement existing as of 26 November 2003 (effectivity of Circular No. 410).

d. That the external auditor and members of the audit team shall adhere to the highest standards of professional conduct and shall carry out their services in accordance with relevant ethical and technical standards of the accounting profession;

e. That the lead or concurring partner and auditor-in-charge shall not accept employment with the bank, its subsidiaries and affiliates being audited during the engagement period and within a period of one (1) year after the audit engagement;

f. That the external auditor shall not accept an audit engagement with a bank, its subsidiaries and affiliates where an officer (i.e., chief executive officer, chief financial officer, controller, chief accounting officer or other senior officer of equivalent rank) had been a partner of the external auditor or had worked for the audit firm and had been the auditor-in-charge of the audit engagement of said entities during the year immediately preceding the engagement;

g. That the external auditor shall keep all audit or review working papers for at least five (5) years in sufficient detail to support the conclusions in the audit report; and

The Chief Executive Officer of the IB shall, among others, execute and administer the policies, measures, orders and resolutions approved by the Board of Directors. In particular, he shall have the power and duty to execute all contracts in behalf of the IB, to enter into all necessary obligations required or permitted under R.A. No. 6848, to report weekly to the Board of Directors the main facts concerning the operations of the Bank during the preceding week, and to suggest changes in policy or policies which will serve the best interest of the Bank.

Sec. 33. Qualifications and Disqualifications of Directors and Officers

The provisions (of the MRBOFI – Book I) regarding the qualifications and disqualifications of directors and officers shall be applicable to the directors and officers of the IB.

Sec. 34. Business Development Office

The IB shall have a Business Development Office which shall be responsible for the following:

1. To conduct periodic economic surveys and studies of the investment climate and opportunities in the IB’s sphere of operations and identify the viable projects which may be sponsored by the people of the Autonomous Region;
2. To offer technical consultancy services in the preparation of project studies and in meeting other technical credit requirements of the IB, including the provision of the management consultants at rates to be determined by the Board of Directors to projects financially assisted by the IB; and
3. To perform such other functions as may be directed by the Board of Directors.

Sec. 35. General Shareholder's Meeting
The shareholders shall convene in a general meeting annually at the latest within six (6) months following the end of the financial year of the Bank at the place, date and time fixed in the notice. The attendance of shareholders representing at least sixty percent (60%) of the capital of the IB shall constitute a quorum to do business and voting shall be by shares of stocks.

For purposes of this section, “Capital” shall refer to the Total Subscribed Capital, whether paid or unpaid.

No delinquent stock shall be voted for or be entitled to vote or to representation at any stockholders’ meeting, nor shall the holder thereof be entitled to any of the rights of a stockholder except the right to dividends until and unless he pays the amount due on his subscription, including the cost and expenses incurred thereon, if any.

Holders of subscribed shares not fully paid which are not delinquent shall have all the rights of a stockholder.

Sec. 36. Purposes of General Meeting
The general shareholders’ meeting shall be convened purposely to hear the Board of Directors’ report on the activities of the IB, its financial condition, the auditor’s report and to approve the balance sheet for the financial year ended and the profit and loss statement, to determine the portion of dividends to be distributed to the shareholders and the method of distribution, to appoint the auditors, and to elect the members of the Board of Directors and the Shari’ah Advisory Council.

Sec. 37. Ordinary and Extraordinary Sessions
The general shareholders’ meeting shall be presided over by the Chairman of the Board of Directors. All resolutions adopted by the general meeting in ordinary session assembled shall be taken by a vote of majority of the shareholders represented therein and in case of votes being equal, the Chairman shall cast his vote to break the tie. The resolutions of the general meeting adopted in accordance therewith shall be binding on all shareholders including those not in attendance or opposing the resolution.

An extraordinary general meeting shall be required to pass resolutions related to the increase or decrease of capital of the Bank, the extension of its legal existence or matters affecting amendment of R.A. No. 6848. Resolutions of the extraordinary general meeting shall be deemed adopted when a majority vote of at least sixty-six and two-thirds plus one percent (66 2/3 + 1 %) of the capital shares shall have been cast.

In no case shall the general meeting resolve to modify the object of the Bank as an Islamic investment bank.

Sec. 38. Bank Auditor; Reports
Subject to the approval by the shareholders, the IB shall appoint an external auditor, whose qualifications and remunerations shall be fixed by the Board of Directors. The external auditor shall assume his functions from the date of his appointment until the date of the next general shareholders’ meeting. In case a vacancy occurs at any time during the year for any reason, the Board of Directors shall immediately appoint a replacement who shall serve until the next general shareholders’ meeting.

The external auditor shall conduct an annual financial audit not later than thirty
(30) days after the close of the calendar year. Reports on such audit shall be made and submitted to the Board of Directors and the appropriate supervising and examining department of the BSP not later than ninety (90) days after the start of the audit.

For purpose hereof, an independent external auditor who may be engaged by the Bank shall refer to one who does not hold or own two percent (2%) or more of equity in the Bank.

The Board of Directors, in a regular or special meeting, shall consider and act on the financial audit report and shall submit, within thirty (30) days after receipt of the report, a copy of its resolution to the appropriate supervising and examining department of the BSP. The resolution shall show, among other things, the names of the directors present and absent, and the action(s) taken on the findings and recommendations.

In the exercise of his auditing functions, all books, accounts and documents of the Bank shall be made available to the auditor for inspection to ascertain its assets and liabilities.

Sec. 39. Confidential Information
Banking transactions of the IB relating to all deposits of whatever nature are confidential and may not be examined, inquired or looked into by any person, government official, bureau or office except as provided in Sec. 38, or upon written permission by the depositor, or in cases where the money deposited or the transaction concerned is the subject of a court order.

It shall be unlawful for any official or employee of the IB or any person as may be designated by the Board of Directors to examine or audit the books of the Bank to disclose or reveal to any person any confidential information except under the circumstances mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

Sec. 40. Accounting Period
The financial year of the IB shall be based on the Gregorian calendar, but the corresponding Islamic Hijra date shall be mentioned on all correspondences, contracts, printed materials, forms and records of the IB. The accounting period shall commence on the first day of January and close on the last day of December each year.

Sec. 41. Sharing between the Bank and the Investors
Not later than the 31st day of January of each financial year, the Board of Directors shall determine and publish the general percentages of profit to be allocated to the total funds participating in joint investments of the IB.

The IB as a joint venturer (Mudarib) shall be entitled to certain percentage after deducting the amount allocated to investors. The Bank shall likewise be entitled to a share in the profits of joint investments in proportion to its own invested funds.

For the purpose of calculating funds employed in financing operations, priority shall be given to joint investment accounts and the holders of muquaradah (interest free) bonds.

All zakat due in the shareholder’s capital and reserves represented by the pecuniary value of shares and the zakat due on the investor’s funds or profits accruing to every depositor shall be paid to the zakat fund, subject to their instructions.

The Board of Directors shall adopt a policy on the sharing between the Bank and its investors which should be consistent with the Shari’a principle.

Sec. 42. Training of Technical Personnel
The IB shall promote and sponsor the training of technical personnel in the field of Islamic banking, finance and insurance.
Towards this end, the IB may defray the costs of study, at home or abroad, of outstanding employees of the IB, of promising university graduates or of any other qualified persons who shall be determined by proper competitive examinations. The Board of Directors shall prescribe rules and regulations to govern the training program of the IB.

Sec. 43. Definition of Terms
For purposes of these Rules and Regulations, the following definition of term shall apply:

1. Islamic banking business means banking business whose aims and operations do not involve interest (riba) which is prohibited by the Islamic Shari’a principles.

2. Shari’a has the meaning assigned to it by Islamic law and jurisprudence as expounded by authoritative sources; in the context of R.A. No. 6848, it is construed by reference to pertinent Quranic ordinances and applicable rules in Islamic jurisprudence on business transactions.

3. Riba has the meaning assigned to it by Islamic law and jurisprudence as expounded by authoritative sources; in the context of banking activities, the term includes the receipt and payment of interest in the various types of lending and borrowing and in the exchange of currencies on forward basis.

4. Zakat has the meaning assigned to it by Islamic law and jurisprudence as expounded by authoritative sources; in the context of R.A. No. 6848, it represents annual an “tithe” payable by the Bank on behalf of its shareholders and investors in compliance with Islamic Shari’a principles.

5. Depositors means a person or entity who has an account at an IB, whether the account is a current account, a savings account, an investment account or any other deposit account; unless the context requires another meaning, a depositor corresponds to an investor in joint investment of the IB.

6. Current account liabilities in relation to Islamic banking services mean the total deposits at the Bank which are repayable on demand.

7. Savings account liabilities in relation to Islamic banking services mean the total deposits at the IB which normally require the presentation of passbooks or such other legally acceptable documents in lieu of passbooks as approved by the BSP for the deposit or withdrawal of money;

8. Investment account liabilities in relation to Islamic banking services mean the total deposit liabilities at the IB in respect of funds placed by a depositor with the Bank for a fixed period of time under an agreement to share the profits and losses of that bank on the investment of such funds.

9. Other deposit liabilities in relation to an IB mean the deposit liabilities at the Bank other than savings account, investment account, current account liabilities and deposit liabilities from any IB or any other licensed bank.

10. Participation in relation to Islamic banking and commercial operations means any agreement or arrangement under which the mode of joint investments or specific transactions shall not involve the element of interest charge other than as percentage share in profits and losses of business.

11. Share means share in the capital of the Bank or a corporation and includes a stock, except where a distinction between stock and share is expressed or implied.

12. Muquaradah Bonds represent long term non-interest bearing bonds of definite denomination issued and floated by the Bank on the basis of participation under the Mudarabah principle to be used in financing projects for economic development.

Sec. 44. Statement of Principles

For purposes of implementing these Rules and Regulations, the following Shari'a principles shall be observed:

1. Al-Bai Bithaman Ajil (Deferred Payment Sale) - principle under which one sells to another by passing the ownership and delivery immediately but collects the payment later, usually by installments. This principle is applied in financing fixed asset acquisition, such as buying of houses, properties, plant and machinery, etc.

2. Al-Bai ul Takjiri (Leasing ending with ownership) - principle under which the fund-owner may purchase the asset required by the fund-user with the right to use the services of the asset, but subsequently to own the asset. Thus, the fund-owner first purchased the asset required by the fund-user and subsequently lease the asset to the fund-user with the stipulation that at a point in time the fund-user will purchase from the fund-owner the asset concerned at an agreed price with all the lease rental previously paid constituting part of the purchase price.

3. Al-Ijarah (Leasing) - principle under which the fund-owner purchases the asset required by the fund-user who acquires the right to use the services of said asset. The transaction is covered by a contract whereby the fund-owner first purchases the asset and subsequently leases the same to the beneficiary (fund-user) for a fixed, obligatory period, subject to lease rentals and other terms and conditions as may be agreed by both parties.

4. Al-Kafalah (Guarantee) - principle under which one can provide guarantee to another on behalf of a third person. This principle is applied by IBs to issue Letters of Guarantee in respect of the performance of a task, or the settlement of a loan, etc. Where a security deposit is required, it is taken under the principle of Al-Wadiah. This principle also enables the IBs to take guarantees from others for the credit facilities granted.

5. Al-Mudarabah (Trust Financing) - principle under which a fund-owner provides full financing to the fund-user who provides only entrepreneurship and labor. The fund-owner is not involved in the management of the funds at all. The return to the fund-owner and the fund-user is a share of profit at a rate or ratio agreed in advance. In case of a failure, the fund-owner bears the financial losses. This principle is applied by the IBs in both deposit taking and financing. It is mostly applied to support the investment (fixed) deposit accounts.

6. Al-Murabahah (Purchase and Sale or Cost-plus) - principle under which the fund-owner purchases the goods or assets required by the fund-user and sells at an agreed mark-up to the fund-user. This principle is applied in Bills Receivable financing. If full financing is not to be given, the fund-user would be requested to place a margin deposit which will be used to pay for a portion of the cost of the goods or assets.

7. Al-Musharaka (Partnership Profit Sharing) - principle under which a fund-owner and an entrepreneur can jointly contribute to the finance and the management of a business. Profits or losses from the joint venture are shared between them in the rate or ratio agreed in advance. This principle is applicable in both the areas of funding and financing. It is mostly applied by IBs to raise capital, to finance projects on a joint venture basis, and in Trust Receipt financing.

8. Al-Qardhasan (Benevolent Loan) - principle under which one provides a direct loan, free of any charges, another in need. Payment of dividend for the use of the loan is at the discretion of the user of the funds. Financing economic and business activities of the poor is sometimes extended under this principle.

9. Al-Rahan (Security) - principle under which security can be given and taken for an outstanding obligation. Although IBs extend financing through partnership and trading assets, security is also taken as a precaution under this principle.

10. Al-Wadiah (Safe Custody) - principle under which a trustee will safeguard the funds entrusted without any obligation to pay any dividend to the owners of the fund (depositors) as long as a guarantee is given to ensure the full refund of the money upon request of withdrawal. The trustee can have full discretion over the use of the funds.

11. Al-Wakalah (Agency) - principle under which one acts as an agent for another for a fee. This principle is applied in the Letters of Credit (LCs) operations in which the IBs issue LCs on behalf of their importing customers when only LC service is required. A 100% margin deposit is collected under the principle of Al-Wadiah. The deposit will be used ultimately to meet the full value of the inward bills.

Sec. 45. Sanctions

Any director, officer, employee, auditor or agent of the IB who violates or permits the violation of any provisions of these Rules and Regulation shall be subject to the criminal and administrative sanctions provided under Sections 36 and 37 of R.A. No. 7653 (The New Central Bank Act).

Sec. 46. Supervision; Applicability of Banking Laws, Rules and Regulations

The IB shall be under the supervision of the BSP. The provisions of other banking laws, MRBOFI, as well as the existing Rules and Regulations of the BSP, particularly those enumerated under Annex “B”, and other pertinent laws insofar as they are not in conflict with any provisions of R.A. No. 6848 and these Rules and Regulations shall be applicable to the IB.

Sec. 47. Transformation to Islamic Banking Business

The IB shall transform its investment portfolios, accounts or assets for the conduct of full Islamic banking business within two (2) years from 24 April 1996. The Monetary Board may allow extension of the period as circumstances may warrant. If for any reason, such portfolios, accounts or assets granted under the authority of the Philippine Amanah Bank Charter are not eligible for this purpose, the same may be transferred, swapped, sold or otherwise disposed of in any manner deemed feasible.

The Board of Directors of the IB shall formulate policies to transform the business of the Bank into an Islamic concept, and shall submit the same to the appropriate department of the BSP within six (6) months from 24 April 1996.

During the transformation period, the Bank may continue to perform conventional banking activities under R.A. No. 337, as amended, insofar as they are not in conflict with R.A. No. 6848, and the applicable rules and regulations of the BSP.
A. Definition of Microfinance

Microfinance is the provision of a broad range of financial services, such as deposits, loans, payment services, money transfers and insurance products to the poor and low-income households, for their microenterprises and small businesses, to enable them to raise their income levels and improve their living standards.

B. Core Principles for Microfinance

1. The poor needs access to appropriate financial services
2. The poor has the capability to repay loans, pay the real cost of loans and generate savings.
3. Microfinance is an effective tool for poverty alleviation
4. Microfinance institutions must aim to provide financial services to an increasing number of disadvantaged people
5. Microfinance can and should be undertaken on a sustainable basis
6. Microfinance non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and programs must develop performance standards that will help define and govern the microfinance industry toward greater reach and sustainability

D. Definition of Microfinance loans

Microfinancing loans are small loans granted to the basic sectors, on the basis of the borrower’s cash flow and other loans granted to the poor and low-income households for their microenterprises and small businesses to enable them to raise their income levels and improve their living standards. These loans are typically unsecured but may also be secured as the case may be.

E. Level of Microfinance Loan

Average microfinance loan of an NGO microfinance institution or of a Coop Bank or credit union in the Philippine case is about ₱25,000 (from a low of ₱2,000 to ₱5,000).
To be realistic, the maximum principal amount of a microfinance loan can be pegged at ₱150,000. This is equivalent to the total resources of a microenterprise under R.A. 8425.

F. Collateralization of Microfinance Loan

A microfinance borrower is not likely to be able to borrow from a large commercial, thrift or rural bank but from an NGO microfinance institution or perhaps from a small rural or Coop Bank. Thus, microfinance loans are typically unsecured, for relatively short periods of time (180 days) with monthly (or more frequent) amortizations of interest and principal, and often featuring a joint and several guarantee of one (1) or more persons and, certainly, seldom with tangible collateral. But in some cases they can also be secured, depending on the capacity of the borrower to offer collaterals acceptable to the lending institutions.

G. Interest on Microfinance Loans

Great caution should be exercised in drawing up regulations about interest rate ceilings on microfinance loans.

The old (and by now highly discredited as ineffective) approach to loans for low-income borrowers emphasized subsidized interest rates. It did not recognize that subsidized below-market interest rates do not necessarily result in opening up access to financial services for low-income households and microenterprises.

The new approach which has been demonstrated by global experience is characterized by a market-based interest rate regime which permits the institution providing microfinance services to cover administrative costs, provisions for loan losses and intermediation/funding costs. This basis is consistent with financially sustainable rural finance and microfinance. Invariably, the global experience continues to validate the proposition that what matters most to the poor and undeserved segments is access to financial services rather than their interest-rate cost - most especially because microenterprise and small business borrowers will take a microfinance loan whose repayment period (monthly repayment) match the additional cash flows they hope to generate.

Therefore, interest on such microfinancing loans shall be reasonable but shall not be lower than the prevailing market rates. This is to enable the lending institution to recover the financial and operational costs incidental to this type of microfinance lending but also to realize some bottom line gains.

H. Segments of Demand for Micro-credit

1. The landless who are engaged in agricultural work on a seasonal basis and manual laborers in forestry, mining, household industries, construction and transport; requires credit for consumption needs and also for acquiring small productive assets, such as livestock.

2. Small and marginal farmers, rural artisans, weavers and those self-employed in the urban informal sector as hawkers, vendors, and workers in household microenterprises: requires credit for working capital, including a small part for consumption needs. This segment largely comprises the poor but not the poorest.

3. Medium farmers/small entrepreneurs who have gone in for commercial crops and others engaged in dairy, poultry, etc. Among non-farm activities, this segment includes those in villages and slums engaged in processing or manufacturing activity. These persons live barely above the poverty line and also suffer from inadequate access to formal credit.
Introduction

1. These guidelines describe the approach to be used by the BSP to determine the minimum level of capital to be held by a bank against its market risk. The guidelines are broadly consistent with the recommendations of the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision in a document entitled “Amendment to the Capital Accord to Incorporate Market Risks” issued in January 1996.

2. Under these guidelines, banks shall be required to measure and apply capital charges against their market risk, in addition to their credit risk.

3. Market risk is defined as the risk of losses in on- and off-balance sheet positions arising from movements in market prices. The risks addressed by these guidelines are:

   a. The risks pertaining to interest rate-related instruments and equities in the trading book; and

   b. Foreign exchange risk throughout the bank.

Coverage of capital requirement for market risk

4. The capital requirement for market risk shall apply to all UBs and KBs.

5. The minimum capital adequacy ratio covering combined credit risk and market risk shall apply to banks which are subject to market risk capital requirement on both solo basis (i.e., head office plus branches) and consolidated basis (i.e., parent bank plus subsidiary financial allied undertakings, but excluding insurance companies).

Methods of measuring market risk

6. There are two (2) alternative methods recognized for the measurement of market risk, as follows:

   a. The standardized approach shall be used by all banks which are subject to market risk capital requirement, except by those which may be allowed by BSP to use the alternative method described in paragraph (b) below. The method of measuring market risk under the standardized approach is set out in the Instructions for Accomplishing the Report on Computation of the Adjusted Risk-Based Capital Adequacy Ratio Covering Combined Credit Risk and Market Risk.

   b. The internal models approach allows banks with the necessary system to use their own internal risk management models to calculate market risk. The use of this approach is subject to prior BSP approval. Approval shall be based on meeting certain qualitative and quantitative conditions relating to the models themselves and the controls surrounding them, as set out in Annex “A”. Banks may on a transitional basis be allowed to use a combination of the standardized approach and the models approach to measure their market risk, provided any such “partial” model shall cover a complete risk category (e.g., interest rate risk or foreign exchange risk). The reporting under the internal models approach is contained in the Instructions for Accomplishing the Report on Computation of the Adjusted Risk-Based Capital Adequacy Ratio Covering Combined Credit Risk and Market Risk.

Calculation of the capital adequacy ratio (CAR)

7. The adjusted capital adequacy ratio covering combined credit risk and market risk shall be calculated using the qualifying capital expressed as a percentage of the total risk-weighted assets (including credit risk and market risk-weighted assets. The components of this calculation are as follows:

- Market risk-weighted assets are the sum of the capital charges for all market risk categories calculated using either the standardized approach or the internal models approach [multiplied by 125% for those calculated using the standardized methodology to be consistent with the higher capital charge for credit risk, i.e., ten percent (10%) as opposed to BIS recommended eight percent (8%) multiplied by 10. (The multiplier 10 is the reciprocal of the BSP required minimum capital adequacy ratio for credit risk of ten percent (10%). The effect is to convert the sum of the market risk capital charges into a risk-weighted assets equivalent which can then be directly added to the total credit risk-weighted assets.);
- Credit risk–weighted assets is the total risk-weighted assets calculated in accordance with Subsec. X116.3, less the part calculated for on-balance sheet debt securities and equities in the trading book. (The credit risk-weighted assets for on-balance sheet debt securities and equities are deducted because they represent an element now covered by the market risk capital charge); and
- Qualifying capital is the same as that calculated in accordance with Subsec. X116.2.

8. Banks shall maintain a minimum adjusted risk-based capital adequacy ratio covering combined credit risk and market risk on solo basis and on consolidated basis to the appropriate supervising and examining department of the BSP in accordance with the prescribed forms within fifteen (15) banking days and thirty (30) banking days after the end of reference quarter for solo report and consolidated report, respectively. These reports shall be in addition to the reports on risk-based capital adequacy ratio covering credit risk required to be submitted in Subsec. X116.5.

9. A key feature of the market risk framework is the definition of the trading book of a bank. This is set out in the Instructions for Accomplishing the Report on Computation of the Adjusted Risk-Based Capital Adequacy Ratio Covering Combined Credit Risk and Market Risk. Banks are expected to adopt a consistent approach to allocating transactions into their trading and non-trading (i.e., banking book), and clear audit trail for this purpose should be created at the time each transaction is entered into. The BSP shall monitor banks’ practices to ensure that there is no abusive switching between different books to inappropriately reduce capital charges.

Required reports
10. Banks shall submit quarterly reports of their adjusted risk-based capital adequacy ratios covering combined credit risk and market risk on solo basis and on consolidated basis to the appropriate supervising and examining department of the BSP in accordance with the prescribed forms within fifteen (15) banking days and thirty (30) banking days after the end of reference quarter for solo report and consolidated report, respectively. These reports shall be in addition to the reports on risk-based capital adequacy ratio covering credit risk required to be submitted in Subsec. X116.5.

11. One (1) of three (3) alternative report forms prescribed, shall be used depending on the complexity of the bank’s operations, to wit:

(a) For UBs/KBs with expanded derivatives authority;
(b) For UBs/KBs with expanded derivatives authority but without option transactions; or
(c) For UBs/KBs without expanded derivatives authority.

12. The abovementioned reports shall be classified as Category A-2 Reports.
I. General Criteria

1. The use of internal models shall be conditional upon the explicit prior approval of the BSP.

2. The BSP will only give approval if at a minimum:

   - It is satisfied that the bank’s risk management system is conceptually sound and is implemented with integrity;

   - The bank has in the BSP’s view sufficient number of staff skilled in the use of sophisticated models not only in the trading area but also in the risk control, audit and if necessary, back office areas;

   - The bank’s models have in the BSP’s judgment a proven track record of reasonable accuracy in measuring risk; and

   - The bank regularly conducts stress tests along the lines discussed in Part V below.

3. The BSP may require a period of initial monitoring and live testing of a bank’s internal model before it is used for supervisory capital purposes.

4. In addition to these general criteria, banks using internal models for capital purposes shall be subject to the requirements detailed in Parts II to VII below.

II. Qualitative Standards

5. Banks using internal models must have market risk management systems that are conceptually sound and implemented with integrity. Accordingly, a number of qualitative criteria that banks would have to meet before they are permitted to use a model-based approach are specified in paragraph 6 below. The extent to which banks meet the qualitative criteria may influence the level at which the BSP will set the multiplication factor referred to in Part IV, paragraph 8(i) below. Only those banks whose models are in full compliance with the qualitative criteria as listed in this section will be eligible for application of the minimum multiplication factor.

6. The qualitative criteria are:

   (a) The bank should have an independent risk control unit that is responsible for the design and implementation of the bank’s risk management system. The unit should produce and analyze daily reports on the output of the bank’s risk measurement model, including an evaluation of the relationship between measures of risk exposure and trading limits. This unit must be independent from business trading units and should report directly to senior management of the bank.

   (b) The unit should conduct a regular backtesting program, i.e. an ex-post comparison of the risk measure generated by the model against actual daily changes in portfolio value over longer periods of time, as well as hypothetical changes based on static positions.

(c) The board of directors (or equivalent management committee in the case of Philippine branches of foreign banks) and senior management should be actively involved in the risk control process and must regard risk control as an essential aspect of the business to which significant resources need to be devoted. In this regard, the daily reports prepared by the independent risk control unit must be reviewed by a level of management with sufficient seniority and authority to enforce both reductions of positions taken by individual traders and reductions in the bank’s overall risk exposure.

(d) The bank’s internal risk measurement model must be closely integrated into the day-to-day risk management process of the bank. Its output should accordingly be an integral part of the process of planning, monitoring and controlling the bank’s market risk profile.

(e) The risk measurement system should be used in conjunction with internal trading and exposure limits. In this regard, trading limits should be related to the bank’s risk measurement model in a manner that is consistent over time and that is well-understood by both traders and senior management.

(f) A routine and rigorous program of stress testing should be in place as a supplement to the risk analysis based on day-to-day output of the bank’s risk measurement model. The results of stress testing exercises should be reviewed periodically by senior management and should be reflected in the policies and limits set by management and the board of directors (or equivalent management committee in the case of Philippine branches of foreign banks). Where stress tests reveal particular vulnerability to a given set of circumstances, prompt steps should be taken to manage those risks appropriately (e.g., by hedging against that outcome or reducing the size of the bank’s exposures).

(g) Banks should have a routine in place for ensuring compliance with a documented set of internal policies, controls and procedures concerning the operation of the risk measurement system. The bank’s risk measurement system must be well documented, for example, through a risk management manual that describes the basic principles of the risk management system and that provides an explanation of the empirical techniques used to measure market risk.

(h) An independent review of the risk measurement system should be carried out regularly in the bank’s own internal auditing process. This review should include both the activities of the business trading units and of the independent risk control unit. A review of the overall risk management process should take place at regular intervals (ideally not less than once a year) and should specifically address, at a minimum:
- the adequacy of the documentation of the risk management system and process;
- the organization of the risk control unit;
- the integration of market risk measures into daily risk management;
- the approval process for risk pricing models and valuation systems used by front and back-office personnel;
- the validation of any significant change in the risk measurement process;
- the scope of market risks captured by the risk measurement model;
- the integrity of the management information system;
- the accuracy and completeness of position data;
- the verification of the consistency, timeliness and reliability of data sources used to run internal models, including the independence of such data sources;
- the accuracy and appropriateness of volatility and correlation assumptions;
- the accuracy of valuation and risk transformation calculations; and
- the verification of the model's accuracy through frequent backtesting as described in paragraph (b) above.

III. Specification of Market Risk Factors

7. A bank's internal market risk measurement system must specify an appropriate set of market risk factors, i.e., the market rates and prices that affect the value of the bank's trading positions. The risk factors contained in a market risk measurement system should be sufficient to capture the risks inherent in the bank's portfolio of on- and off-balance sheet trading positions. Although banks will have some discretion in specifying the risk factors for their internal models, the following guidelines should be fulfilled:

(a) For interest rates, there must be a set of risk factors corresponding to interest rates in each currency in which the bank has interest rate-sensitive on- or off-balance sheet positions.

- The risk measurement system should model the yield curve using one (1) of a number of generally accepted approaches, for example, by estimating forward rates of zero coupon yields. The yield curve should be divided into various maturity segments in order to capture variation in the volatility of rates along the yield curve; there will typically be one (1) risk factor corresponding to each maturity segment. For material exposures to interest rate movements in the major currencies and markets, banks must model the yield curve using a minimum of six (6) risk factors. However, the number of risk factors used should ultimately be driven by the nature of the bank’s trading strategies. For instance, a bank with a portfolio of various types of securities across many points of the yield curve and that engages in complex arbitrage strategies would require a greater number of risk factors to capture interest rate risk accurately; and

- The risk measurement system must incorporate separate risk factors to capture spread risk (e.g., between bonds and swaps). A variety of approaches may be used to capture the spread risk arising from less than perfectly correlated movements between government and other fixed-income interest rates, such as specifying a completely separate yield curve for non-government fixed-income instruments (for instance, swaps or local government unit securities) or estimating the spread over government rates at various points along the yield curve.

(b) For equity prices, there should be risk factors corresponding to each of the equity markets in which the bank holds significant positions.

- At a minimum, there should be a risk factor that is designed to capture market-wide movements in equity prices (e.g., a market index). Positions in individual securities or in sector indices could be expressed in “beta-equivalents” relative to this market-wide index;

- A somewhat more detailed approach would be to have risk factors corresponding to various sectors of the overall equity market (for instance, industry sectors or cyclical and non-cyclical sectors). As above, positions in individual stocks within each sector could be expressed in beta-equivalents relative to the sector index; and

- The most extensive approach would be to have risk factors corresponding to the volatility of individual equity issues.

The sophistication and nature of the modeling technique for a given market should correspond to the bank’s exposure to the overall market as well as its concentration in individual equity issues in that market.

(c) For exchange rates, the risk measurement system should incorporate risk factors corresponding to the individual foreign currencies in which the bank’s positions are denominated. Since the value-at-risk (VaR) figure calculated by the risk measurement system will be expressed in Philippine peso, any net position denominated in a foreign currency will introduce a foreign exchange risk. Thus, there must be risk factors corresponding to the exchange rate between the Philippine peso and each foreign currency in which the bank has a significant exposure.

IV. Quantitative Standards

8. Banks will have flexibility in devising the precise nature of their models, but the following minimum standards shall apply for the purpose of calculating their capital charge:

(a) “Value-at-risk” (VaR) must be computed on a daily basis.

(b) In calculating VaR, a 99th percentile, one-tailed confidence interval is to be used.

(c) In calculating VaR, an instantaneous price shock equivalent to a 10-day movement in prices is to be used, i.e., the minimum “holding period” will be ten (10) trading days. Banks may use VaR numbers calculated according to shorter holding periods scaled up to ten (10) days by the square root of time. (For the treatment of options, also see paragraph (h) below.)

(d) The choice of historical observation period (sample period) for calculating VaR will be constrained to a minimum length of one (1) year. For banks that use a weighting scheme or other methods for the historical observation period, the “effective” observation period must be at least one (1) year (that is, the weighted average time lag of the individual observations cannot be less than six (6) months).

(e) Banks should update their data sets no less frequently than once every three (3) months and should also reassess them whenever market prices are subject to material changes. The BSP may also require a bank to calculate its VaR using a shorter observation period if in the BSP’s judgment, this is justified by a significant upsurge in price volatility.

(f) No particular type of model is prescribed. So long as each model used captures all the material risks run by the bank, as set out in Part III, banks will be free to use models based, for example on variance-covariance matrices, historical simulations, or Monte Carlo simulations.

(g) Banks will have discretion to recognize empirical correlations within broad risk categories (e.g., interest rates, exchange rates and equity prices, including related options volatilities in each risk factor category). The BSP may also recognize empirical correlations across broad risk factor categories, provided that the BSP is satisfied that the bank’s system for measuring correlations is sound and implemented with integrity.

(h) For banks with option transactions, banks’ models must accurately capture the unique risks associated with options within each of the broad risk categories. The following criteria apply to the measurement of options risk:

- Banks’ models must capture the non-linear price characteristics of options positions;
- Banks are expected to ultimately move towards the application of a full 10-day price shock to options positions or positions that display option-like characteristics. In the interim, the BSP may require banks to adjust their capital measure for options risk through other methods, e.g., periodic simulations or stress testing; and

- Each bank's risk measurement system must have a set of risk factors that captures the volatilities of the rates and prices underlying option positions, i.e., vega risk. Banks with relatively large and/or complex options portfolios should have detailed specifications of the relevant volatilities. This means that banks should measure the volatilities of options positions broken down by different maturities.

(i) Each bank must meet, on a daily basis, a capital requirement expressed as the higher of (i) last trading day's VaR number or (ii) an average of the daily VaR measures on each of the preceding sixty (60) trading days (both measured according to the parameters specified in this section) multiplied by a multiplication factor.

(j) The multiplication factor shall be set by the BSP on the basis of its assessment of the quality of the bank's risk management system subject to an absolute minimum of three (3). Banks will be required to add to this factor a "plus" directly related to the ex-post performance of the model (to be determined on a quarterly basis), thereby introducing a built-in positive incentive to maintain the predictive quality of the model. The plus will range from 0 to 1 based on the number of backtesting exceptions (i.e., the number of times that actual/hypothetical loss exceeds the VaR measure) for the past 250 trading days of the reference quarter-end as set out in Table 5 of the Instructions for Accomplishing the Report on Computation of the Adjusted Risk-Based Capital Adequacy Ratio Covering Combined Credit Risk and Market Risk. (Table 3 for banks with expanded derivatives authority but without option transactions, and banks without expanded derivatives authority.)

(k) Banks using models will be subject to a separate capital charge to cover the specific risk of interest rate-related instruments and equity securities as defined in the standardized approach to the extent that this risk is not incorporated into their models. However, for banks using models, the total specific risk charge applied to interest rate-related instruments or to equities should in no case be less than half the specific risk charges calculated according to the standardized methodology.

V. Stress Testing

9. Banks using internal models for measuring market risk capital requirements must have in place a rigorous and comprehensive stress testing program. Stress testing to identify events or influences that could greatly impact banks is a key component of a bank's assessment of its capital position.

10. Banks' stress scenarios should cover a range of factors that can create extraordinary losses or gains in trading portfolios, or to make the control of risks in those portfolios very difficult. These factors include low-probability events in all major types of risks, including the various components of market, credit, and operational risks. Stress scenarios should shed light on the impact of such events on positions that display both linear and non-linear price characteristics (i.e., options and instruments that have options-like characteristics).

11. Banks’ stress tests should be both of a qualitative and quantitative nature, incorporating both market risk and liquidity aspects of market disturbances. Quantitative criteria should identify plausible stress scenarios to which banks could be exposed. Qualitative criteria should emphasize that two (2) major goals of stress testing are to evaluate the capacity of the bank’s capital to absorb potential large losses and to identify steps the bank can take to reduce its risk and conserve capital. This assessment should be integral to setting and evaluating the bank’s management strategy and the results of stress testing should be regularly reported to senior management and, periodically, to the board of directors (or equivalent management committee in the case of Philippine branches of foreign banks).

12. Banks should combine the use of supervisory stress scenarios with stress tests developed by banks themselves to reflect their specific risk characteristics. Specifically, the BSP may ask banks to provide information on stress testing in the following three (3) broad areas:

(a) Supervisory scenarios requiring no simulation by the bank. Banks should provide the BSP information on the largest losses experienced during the reference quarter. This loss information could be compared to the level of capital that results from a bank’s internal measurement system. For example, it could provide BSP with a picture of how many days of peak day losses would have been covered by a given VaR estimate.

(b) Scenarios requiring a simulation by the bank. Banks should subject their portfolios to a series of simulated stress scenarios and provide BSP with the results. These scenarios could include testing the current portfolio against past periods of significant disturbance, for example, the early 80’s banking crisis or the 1997 Asian financial crisis, incorporating both the large price movements and the sharp reduction in liquidity associated with these events. A second type of scenario would evaluate the sensitivity of the bank’s market risk exposure to changes in the assumptions about volatilities and correlations. Applying this test would require an evaluation of the historical range of variation for volatilities and correlations and evaluation of the bank’s current positions against the extreme values of the historical range. Due consideration should be given to the sharp variation that at times has occurred in a matter of days in periods of significant market disturbance.

(c) Scenarios developed by the bank itself to capture the specific characteristics of its portfolio. A bank should also develop its own stress test which it identifies as most adverse based on the characteristics of its portfolio. It should provide the BSP with a description of the methodology used to identify and carry out the scenarios, as well as with the description of the results derived from these scenarios.

The results should be reviewed periodically by senior management and should be reflected in the policies and limits set by management and the board of directors (or equivalent management committee in the case of Philippine branches of foreign banks). Moreover, if a bank’s testing reveals particular vulnerability to a given set of circumstances, the BSP would expect the bank to take prompt steps to manage those risks appropriately (e.g., by hedging against that outcome or reducing the size of its exposures).

VI. External Validation

13. The validation of models’ accuracy by external auditors and the BSP should at a minimum include the following steps:

(a) Verify that the internal validation processes described in Part II, paragraph 6 (b) are operating in a satisfactory manner;

(b) Ensure that the formulae used in the calculation process, as well as for the pricing of options and other complex instruments, are validated by a qualified unit, which in all cases should be independent from the trading area;

(c) Check that the structure of internal models is adequate with respect to the bank’s activities and geographical coverage;

(d) Check the results of the bank’s backtesting of its internal measurement system (i.e., comparing VaR estimates with actual profits and losses) to ensure that the model provides a reliable measure of potential losses over time. This means that banks should make the results, as well as the underlying inputs to their VaR calculation, available to the BSP and/or external auditors on request; and

(e) Make sure that data flows and processes associated with the risk measurement system are transparent and accessible. In particular, it is necessary that auditors or the BSP is in a position to have easy access, whenever they judge it necessary and under appropriate procedures, to the models’ specifications and parameters.

VII. Combination of Internal Models and the Standardized Methodology

14. Unless a bank’s exposure to a particular risk factor is insignificant, the internal models approach will require banks to have an integrated risk measurement system that captures the broad risk factor categories (i.e., interest rates, exchange rates and equity prices, with related option volatilities being included in each risk factor category). A bank which has developed one or more models will no longer be able to revert to measuring the risk measured by those models according to the standardized methodology (unless the BSP withdraws approval for that model).

15. The following conditions will apply to banks using such combinations:
(a) Each broad risk factor category must be assessed using a single approach (either internal models or the standardized approach), i.e., no combination of the two (2) methods will be permitted within a risk category or across banks’ different entities for the same type of risk;

(b) All the criteria laid down in this Annex will apply to the models being used;

(c) Banks may not modify the combination of the two (2) approaches they use without justifying to the BSP that they have a good reason for doing so;

(d) No element of market risk may escape measurement, i.e., the exposure for all the various risk factors, whether calculated according to the standardized approach or internal models, would have to be captured; and

(e) The capital charges assessed under the standardized approach and under the models approach are to be aggregated according to the simple sum method.
MARKET RISK CAPITAL TREATMENT FOR DOLLAR-LINKED PESO NOTES
[Appendix to Subsec. 1115.2 (2008 - 1116.5)]

1. Treatment of interest rate risk. Dollar-linked Peso Notes (DLPNs) booked under Trading Account Securities (TAS) or Available for Sale Securities (ASS) result in interest rate risk. These exposures shall be included in the report forms in the following manner:
   - Under the standardized approach. The market value of the DLPN shall be reported in Part I, Item I.1, and Part I.2, US dollar ladder, under the coupon and time band corresponding to the DLPN’s residual maturity; and
   - Under the internal models approach. DLPN exposures must be included in the computation of Value-at-Risk (VaR) measure for interest rate risk. This VaR measure shall be reported in Part V, Item 1 (for banks with expanded derivatives authority), or Part IV, Item 1 (for banks with expanded derivatives authority but without option transactions and for banks without expanded derivatives authority).

2. Treatment of foreign exchange risk. DLPNs booked under TAS, ASS or Investment in Bonds and other Debt Instruments (IBODI) result in foreign exchange risk. These exposures shall be included in the report forms in the following manner:
   - Under the standardized approach. The market value of the DLPN shall be included in the computation of the net long/short position for US dollar to be reported in Part III; and
   - Under the internal models approach. DLPN exposures must be included in the computation of VaR measure for foreign exchange risk. This VaR measure shall be reported in Part V, Item 2 (for banks with expanded derivatives authority), or Part IV, Item 2 (for banks with expanded derivatives authority but without option transactions, and for banks without expanded derivatives authority).
INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCOMPLISHING THE REPORT ON COMPUTATION OF THE ADJUSTED RISK-BASED CAPITAL ADEQUACY RATIO COVERING COMBINED CREDIT RISK AND MARKET RISK
(For Universal Banks and Commercial Banks With Expanded Derivatives Authority)

General Instructions

1. All universal banks and commercial banks are required to complete this Report both on a solo basis (i.e., head office plus branches) and on a consolidated basis (i.e., parent bank plus subsidiary financial allied undertakings, but excluding insurance companies).

2. The Report should be submitted as follows:
   (a) Solo report - within 15 banking days after the end of each reference quarter; and
   (b) Consolidated report - within 30 banking days after the end of each reference quarter.

3. Current market value should be used for reporting. For leveraged instruments where the apparent notional amount differs from the effective notional amount, the bank should use the effective notional amount in calculating the market value for reporting, e.g., a swap contract with a stated notional amount of P1.0 million, the terms of which call for a quarterly settlement of the difference between 5% and PHIBOR multiplied by 10 has an effective notional amount of P10.0 million.

4. Securities transactions are to be reported on a “trade date” basis.

Definitions and Clarifications

5. Market risk is defined as the risk of losses in on- and off-balance sheet positions arising from movements in market prices. The risks subject to this reporting requirement are:
   (a) the risks pertaining to interest rate-related instruments and equities in the bank’s trading book; and
   (b) foreign exchange risk throughout the bank.

The Report should include the reporting bank’s positions in on-balance sheet financial instruments and off-balance sheet derivatives, the latter being defined as financial contracts whose values depend on the values of one or more underlying assets or indices.

6. For the purpose of the Report, the trading book of a bank shall consist of:
   (a) its proprietary positions in financial instruments which are taken on with the intention of short-term resale or benefiting in the short term from actual or expected differences between the buying and selling prices or from other price or interest rate variations;
   (b) positions which arise from the execution of trade orders from customers and market making; and
   (c) positions taken in order to hedge other elements of the trading book.

7. The financial instruments referred to in the preceding paragraph include:
   (a) (i) transferable securities;
       (ii) units in collective investment undertakings;
   (b) certificates of deposit and other similar capital market instruments;
   (c) financial futures contracts;
   (d) forward contracts including forward rate agreements;
(e) swaps; and
(f) options.

8. Banks are expected to have an established policy for allocating transactions (including internal deals) to the trading or non-trading (i.e., banking) book, as well as procedures to ensure compliance with such policy. There must be a clear audit trail at the time each transaction is entered into and the BSP will examine the adequacy of such policy and procedures and their consistent implementation when it is considered necessary. For this purpose, banks which engage in trading activities should submit to the BSP a policy statement covering:
(a) the definition of trading activities;
(b) the financial instruments which can be traded or used for hedging the trading book portfolio; and
(c) the principles for transferring positions between the trading and the banking books.

9. In general, the BSP will have regard to the bank's intention in entering into a particular transaction when determining whether such transaction should fall into the trading book. Transactions will likely be considered to carry a trading intent on the part of the bank if:
(a) the positions arising from the transactions are marked to market on a daily basis as part of the internal risk management process;
(b) the positions are not (or not intended to be) held to maturity; and
(c) the positions satisfy other criteria the bank applies to its trading portfolio on a consistent basis.

10. Debt securities include both fixed-rate and floating-rate instruments, negotiable certificates of deposit, non-convertible preference shares, and also convertible bonds (i.e., debt issues or preference shares that are convertible, at a stated price, into common shares of the issuer) which trade like debt securities. Debt related derivatives include bond futures and bond options. Options are subject to special treatment described in detail under Part IV of Specific Instructions.

11. Interest rate derivatives include all derivatives contracts and off-balance sheet instruments which react to changes in interest rates, e.g., interest rate futures, forward rate agreements (FRAs), interest rate and cross currency swaps, interest rate options and forward foreign exchange positions. As noted above, the treatment for options is described in Part IV of Specific Instructions.

12. Detailed offsetting rules applicable to the reporting of positions are set out in the relevant parts of Specific Instructions. These offsetting rules can be applied on both the solo and consolidated basis, provided that in the latter case there are no obstacles to the quick repatriation of profits from a foreign subsidiary to the Philippines and the bank performs daily management of risks on a consolidated basis. For this purpose, offsetting means the exclusion of matched positions of a bank from reporting and hence exclusion of such positions from the calculation of the adjusted capital adequacy ratio.

13. For avoidance of doubt, items that are deductible from the qualifying capital of the bank in the calculation of the risk-based capital adequacy ratio pursuant to Subsections X116.2.a to X116.2.c of the Manual of Regulations for Banks are excluded from market risk capital requirement.

14. In general, banks are only required to complete Parts I to IV and VI of the Report. Banks which have obtained the BSP's approval to adopt their internal value-at-risk (VaR) models to calculate their market risk capital charge (in all or individual risk categories) should complete Part V (in lieu of Parts I to IV). Where the internal model is used to calculate only selected risk categories, the capital charge for the risk categories measured under the internal models approach should be reported in Part V while that for the other risk categories measured under the standardized approach should be reported in the relevant sections of Parts I to IV. This combination of the standardized approach and the internal models approach is allowed on a transitional basis. Banks which adopt the internal models approach will not be permitted, save in exceptional circumstances, to revert to the standardized approach.

Specific Instructions

Part I Interest Rate Exposures

1. Debt securities and debt related derivatives – specific risk

15. Report in this part the long and short positions in debt securities and debt derivatives (e.g., bond futures and bond options) in the trading book by category of the issuer. Offsetting will be allowed between long and short positions in identical issues (including positions in derivatives) with exactly the same issuer, coupon, currency and maturity. For items 1.4 to 1.7 of the Report, positions should be slotted into the appropriate time bands according to the residual maturities of the debt securities (or the underlying securities in case of debt derivatives). (Refer to examples (1) and (2) in Annex A).

16. A security, which is the subject of a repurchase agreement, will be treated as if it were still owned by the seller of the security, i.e., to be reported by the seller. This principle applies also in Part 1.2 of the Report. Commitments to buy and sell securities should be reported as long and short positions, respectively.

17. Foreign countries, foreign incorporated banks and Philippine incorporated banks/ QBs with the “highest credit quality”, as well as debt securities with the “highest credit quality” refer to ratees/debt securities given the minimum credit ratings as indicated below by any two of the following internationally accepted rating agencies:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Rating Agency</th>
<th>Credit Rating</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Moody's</td>
<td>&quot;Aa3&quot; and above</td>
</tr>

</tr>
</tbody>

and such other recognized international rating agencies as may be approved by the Monetary Board.

The ratings of domestic rating agencies may likewise be used for this purpose provided that such rating agencies meet the criteria to be prescribed by the Monetary Board.

18. Multilateral development banks refer to the World Bank Group comprised of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) and the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the Asian Development Bank (ADB), the African Development Bank (AfDB), the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD), the Inter-American Development Bank (IADB), the European Investment Bank (EIB); the Nordic Investment Bank (NIB); the Caribbean Development Bank (CDB), the Council of Europe Development Bank (CEDB) and such others as may be recognized by the BSP.

19. Non-central government public sector entities of a foreign country refer to entities which are regarded as such by a recognized banking supervisory authority in the country in which they are incorporated.
2. Debt securities, debt related derivatives and interest rate derivatives –
general market risk

20. Report in this part the long and short trading book positions in debt securities and debt derivatives described above, as well as interest rate derivatives. Report also interest rate exposures arising from futures contracts and forward positions in equities.
A Maturity Method is adopted for the reporting of these positions as detailed below. Banks that possess the necessary capability to calculate the duration and price sensitivity of each position separately and wish to adopt such a duration approach for reporting in this part may seek approval from BSP.

21. Positions should be reported separately for each currency, i.e., banks should use separate sheets (Part I.2 of the Report) to report positions of different currencies. The unadjusted market risk capital charge is then calculated for each currency according to procedures set out in paragraphs 31 to 34 with no offsetting between different currencies.

22. Under the Maturity Method, positions are slotted into the time bands of the maturity ladder (as shown in Part I.2 of the Report) by remaining maturity if fixed rate and by the period to the next repricing date if floating rate. (Refer to examples (1) and (2) in Annex A). Derivatives should be treated as combinations of long and short positions. The maturity of an interest rate future or a forward rate agreement will be the period until delivery or exercise of the contract, plus – where applicable – the life of the underlying instrument. For example, a long position in a June 3-month interest rate future taken in December is to be reported at end of December as a long position in a zero coupon government security in that particular currency with a maturity of 9 months and a short position in a zero coupon government security with a maturity of 6 months. (Refer to examples (5) and (6) in Annex A). The market values of the two positions should be reported. For forward foreign exchange positions in the trading book, they should be treated as long and short positions in a zero coupon government security of the 2 currencies with the same maturity as the forward contract. (Refer to example (8) in Annex A).

23. For a bond future, where a range of deliverable instruments may be delivered to fulfill the contract, the bank has flexibility to elect which deliverable security goes into the maturity ladder but should take account of any conversion factor defined by the exchange. A two-leg approach will be adopted similar to the above. A long bond future will be taken as a long position in a deliverable bond and a short position in a zero coupon security maturing at the future’s delivery date. For example, a long futures contract on a 5 year fixed rate security with delivery 3 months from the reporting date will be reported as a long position in say, a 5.25 year security, i.e., a specific security which is within the range of deliverables under the futures contract (as opposed to a notional/theoretical security), and a short position in a 3 months zero coupon security. (Refer to example (3) in Annex A).

The amount to be reported in the above example for both legs will be the contract face value divided by the relevant conversion factor and multiplied by the current cash price of the selected deliverable bond. A forward bond transaction (i.e., with a settlement period longer than the market norm) will be treated similarly, i.e., a long bond forward will be reported as long position in the bond and a short position in a zero coupon security up to the forward delivery date. The current market value (at spot price) of the bond should be reported.

24. Swaps will be treated as two positions in securities with the relevant maturities. For example, an interest rate swap under which a bank is receiving floating rate interest and paying fixed will be treated as a long position in a floating rate instrument of maturity equivalent to the period until the next interest fixing and a short position in a fixed-rate instrument of maturity equivalent to the residual life of the swap. The market values of the 2 instruments should be reported. (Refer to example (4) in Annex A). For swaps that pay or receive a fixed or floating interest rate against some other reference price, e.g., an equity price, the interest rate component should be slotted into the appropriate maturity category, with the equity component being included in the equity framework. The separate legs of cross-currency swaps are to be reported in the relevant maturity ladders for the currencies concerned. (Refer to example (12) in Annex A).

25. As with the reporting under Part I.1 of the Report, banks can offset long and short positions in identical instruments with exactly the same issuer, coupon, currency and maturity for general market risk purposes. Similarly, a matched position in a futures or forward contract and its underlying may be fully offset. However, the leg representing the time to expiry of the futures or forward contract should be reported. For example, a bank has a long position in a particular bond and sells forward (i.e., beyond the normal settlement period for the security) such a bond at the reporting date. The long and short positions in the bond can be offset but a long position in a (notional) zero coupon security with maturity at the forward delivery date should be reported, at the current market value of the bond. Similarly, if the bank has a short position in a bond future and a long position in the underlying bond, such positions can be offset. A long position up to the future’s delivery date should, however, be reported.

When the futures contract comprises a range of deliverable instruments, offsetting of positions in the futures contract and its underlying is only permissible in cases where there is a readily identifiable underlying security which is most profitable for the trader with a short position to deliver, i.e., the “cheapest to deliver”. The amount to be reported for the remaining long position up to the futures contract’s delivery date will be the face value of the contract divided by the relevant conversion factor and multiplied by the current spot price of the “cheapest to deliver” bond.

26. Opposite positions in the same category of derivatives instruments (including the delta-equivalent value of options where the delta-plus approach for options is adopted – see Part IV of the Report) can in certain circumstances be regarded as matched and allowed to offset fully. The separate legs of different swaps may also be “matched” subject to the same conditions. To qualify for this treatment, the positions must relate to the same underlying instruments, be of the same nominal value and be denominated in the same currency. In addition:

(a) for futures: offsetting positions in the notional or underlying instruments to which the futures contract relates must be for identical products and mature within 7 days of each other;

(b) for swaps and forward rate agreements (FRAs): the reference rate (for floating rate positions) must be identical and the coupon closely matched (i.e., within 15 basis points); and

(c) for swaps, FRAs and forwards: the next interest fixing date or, for fixed coupon positions or forwards, the residual maturity must correspond within the following limits:
- if either of the instruments for offsetting has an interest fixing date or residual maturity up to 1 month, the interest fixing date or residual maturity must be the same for both instruments;
- if either of the instruments for offsetting has an interest fixing date or residual maturity greater than 1 month and up to 1 year, those dates or residual maturities must be within 7 days of each other; and
- if either of the instruments for offsetting has an interest fixing date or residual maturity over 1 year, those dates or residual maturities must be within 30 days of each other.

For example, a bought and a sold FRA in the same currency with the same face value and settlement date as well as notional deposit maturity date can be offset against each other and excluded from reporting if the contract rates are within 15 basis points of each other. Similarly, opposite swap positions in the same currency with the same face value and reference dates can be offset if, say, the floating rate in both cases is 6 months PHIBOR and the fixed rates are within 15 basis points of each other. The positions can still be offset if the reference dates (i.e., the next interest fixing date or remaining maturity) of the opposite positions are different but within the range as set out in (c) above. Opposite bond futures can, for example, be offset against each other if the deliverable bonds are of the same type and mature within 7 days of each other.

27. Banks with the necessary expertise and systems may use alternative formulae (the so called “pre-processing” techniques) to calculate the positions to be included in the maturity ladder. This applies to all interest rate sensitive positions, arising from both physical and derivative instruments. One method is to first convert the payments required under each transaction into their present values. For that purpose, each cash flow should be discounted using zero-coupon yields. A single net figure of all of the cash flows within each time band may be reported. Banks wishing to adopt this or other methods for reporting should seek the BSP’s prior approval. The “pre-processing” models would be subject to review by the BSP.

Calculation of capital charges for interest rate exposures reported in Part I

28. The unadjusted minimum capital requirement is expressed in terms of two separately calculated charges, one applying to the “specific risk” of each trading book position in debt securities or debt derivatives, whether it is a short or long position, and the other to the overall interest rate risk in the trading book portfolio (termed “general market risk”) where long and short positions in different securities or derivatives can be offset subject to certain “disallowances”.

Specific risk

29. The unadjusted specific risk charge is graduated into five broad categories by types of issuer, as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Issuer Type</th>
<th>Specific Risk Charge</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Government and multilateral</td>
<td>0.00%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>development banks*</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Qualifying</td>
<td>0.25% (residual maturity of 6 months or less)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>1.00% (residual maturity of over 6 months to 24 months)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* “Government and multilateral development banks” refers to the issuers as described under items 1.1 and 1.3 in Part I.1 of the Report.
 “Qualifying” refers to the issuers/issues as described under items 1.4 to 1.7 in Part I.1 of the Report.
1.60% (residual maturity of over 24 months)
LGU bonds  4.00%
Others  8.00%

30. Interest rate and currency swaps, FRAs, forward foreign exchange contracts and interest rate futures will not be subject to a specific risk charge. In the case of futures contracts where the underlying is a debt security, a specific risk charge will apply according to the issuer (and the remaining maturity) as set out in the above paragraph.

General market risk

31. General market risk applies to positions in all debt securities, debt derivatives and interest rate derivatives, subject only to an exemption for fully or very closely matched positions in identical instruments as described in paragraphs 25 to 26 above. The unadjusted capital charge is the sum of the following components:
(a) the net short or long weighted position in the whole trading book;
(b) a small proportion of the matched positions in each time band (the "vertical disallowance"); and
(c) a larger proportion of the matched positions across different time-bands (the "horizontal disallowance").

32. In the maturity ladder, first calculate the weighted positions by multiplying the positions reported in each time band by a risk-factor according to the following table:

33. The weighted longs and shorts in each time band will be offset resulting in a single short or long position for each band. A 10% capital charge ("vertical disallowance") will be levied on the smaller of the offsetting positions, be it long or short. Thus, if the sum of the weighted longs in a time band is PHP100.0 million and the sum of the weighted shorts is PHP90.0 million, the vertical disallowance would be 10% of PHP90.0 million (i.e., PHP9.0 million).

34. Two rounds of "horizontal offsetting" will then be conducted, first between the net positions in each of 3 zones (zero to 1 year, over 1 year to 4 years and over 4 years), and subsequently between the net positions in the 3 different zones. The offsetting will be subject to a scale of disallowances expressed as a fraction of the matched positions, as set out in Table 2 below. The weighted long and short positions in each of 3 zones may be offset, subject to the matched portion attracting a disallowance factor that is part of the capital charge. The residual net position in each zone may be carried over and offset against opposite positions in other zones, subject to a second set of disallowance factors.

Part II Equity Exposures

35. Report in this part the long and short positions in equities and equity derivatives in the trading book, including instruments that exhibit market behavior similar to equities. The instruments covered include common stock (whether voting or non-voting), convertible bonds (i.e., debt issues or preference shares that are convertible, at a stated price, into common shares of the issuer) which trade like equities and commitments to buy or sell equity securities. For non-convertible preference shares and those convertible bonds which trade like debt securities, they should be reported under Part I. Equity derivatives include forwards, futures and swaps on both individual equities and or stock indices. Options should be included subject to the specific instructions set out in Part IV. Long and short positions in the same issue may be reported on a net basis.

36. The positions are to be reported on a market-by-market basis, i.e., under separate columns to indicate the exchange where the reported equities are listed/traded. For foreign markets, banks should indicate the country where the market is located. (Refer to example (9) in Annex A). Equities with listing in more than one market should be reported as positions in the market of their primary listing.

37. Equity derivatives are to be converted into positions in the relevant underlying. Futures and forward contracts relating to an individual equity should be reported at current market values. Futures relating to equity indices can be reported either as the current index value times the monetary value of one index point set by the exchange, i.e., the “tick” value, or the marked-to-market value of the notional underlying equity portfolio. (Refer to example (11) in Annex A).

38. Matched positions in each identical equity or index (same delivery months) in each market may be fully offset, resulting in a single net short or long position. A future in a given equity may be offset against an opposite cash position in the same equity but the interest rate exposure arising out of the equity futures should be reported in Part I. For example, a short futures contract on a specific stock with delivery 3 months from the reporting date can be offset against a long position in the underlying stock. However, the interest rate exposure arising out of the equity futures should be reported as a long position in the “1 to 3 months” time band of the stock denominated currency in Part I. The position should be reported as the current market value of the stock.

39. An equity swap obligates a bank to receive an amount based on the change in value of a particular equity or equity index and also to pay an amount based on the change in value of a different equity or equity index. Accordingly, the receipt side and the payment side of an equity swap contract should be reported as a long and a short position, respectively. For an equity swap contract which involves a leg relating to a financial instrument other than equities or equity derivatives, for example, receiving/paying a fixed or floating interest rate, the exposure should be slotted into the appropriate maturity band in Part I. Where equities are part of a forward contract (equities to be received or to be delivered), any interest rate exposure from the other leg of the contract should be reported in Part I. The treatment is similar to that set out in paragraph 38. The same arrangement applies for index futures. (Refer to example (11) in Annex A).

40. As with interest rate exposures, the capital charge is levied to separately cover both the specific risk and the general market risk. Calculation is done on an individual market basis. The unadjusted capital charge for specific risk will be 8% on the gross (i.e., long plus short) positions. The unadjusted general market risk charge will be 8% on the net position. Net long and short positions in different markets cannot be offset for the purpose of calculating general market risk charge.

Part III Foreign Exchange Exposures

41. Report in this part the amount in US dollars (USD) of net long or net short position in each currency. The net delta-based equivalent of foreign currency options should also be reported for each currency, subject to the specific instructions in Part IV. In addition, structural positions taken deliberately to hedge against the effects of exchange rate movements on the capital adequacy of the reporting bank may be excluded. This should be cleared with the BSP prior to reporting.

42. Net long/(short) position shall refer to FX assets (excluding FX items allowed under existing regulations to be excluded from FX assets in the computation of a bank’s net FX position limits) less FX liabilities (excluding FX items allowed under existing regulations to be excluded from FX liabilities in the computation of a bank’s net FX position limits), plus contingent FX assets less contingent FX liabilities, including net delta weighted long/(short) position of options (subject to a separately calculated capital charge for gamma and vega described in Part IV.2). Alternatively, if the bank engages in purchase of options only, the options shall be carved out and reported under Part IV.1. Delta-weighted long and short positions refer to potential purchases and sales of the underlying, respectively. For example, a short put option carries a potential purchase of the underlying, thus will be treated as a long delta-weighted position.

43. Banks which base their normal management accounting of forward currency positions on net present values... shall use the net present values of each position, discounted using current interest rates, for measuring their positions. Otherwise, forward currency positions shall be measured based on notional amount.

44. The total USD amount of net long or net short position in each currency should then be converted at spot rates into Philippine peso. The overall net open position is the greater of the absolute value of the sum of net long position or sum of net short position.

45. The unadjusted capital charge will be 8% of the overall net open position.

Part IV Options

46. Report in this part the positions of option contracts which are related to the risk categories reported in Parts I to III, using either the Simplified Approach or the Delta Plus Approach.

1. For banks that purchase options only – Simplified Approach

47. Banks will be considered to be engaging only in purchase of options if at any time all their written option positions (if any) are hedged by perfectly matched long positions in exactly the same options. In this case such perfectly matched options need not be reported and only the outstanding long (purchased) options are covered by the following approach.

48. Treatments for purchased options with and without related cash positions are summarized in Table 3 below. The capital charge should be calculated separately for each individual option (together with the related cash position). Banks should then report the sum of the capital charges calculated.

Simplified approach: capital charge for purchased options only

<table>

<th>Short cash and Long call or Long cash and Long put</th>
<th>The capital charge will be the market value of the underlying of the option multiplied by the sum of specific and general market risk charges for the underlying less the amount the option is in the money (if any), with the reduced capital charge bounded at zero*. <td>The capital charge will be the lesser of: a. the market value of the underlying of the option multiplied by the sum of specific and general market risk charges for the underlying and; and b. the market value of the option.</td>

49. The market risk capital charges to be applied for the purpose of the above paragraph are indicated in Table 4 below:

* For options with a residual maturity of more than 6 months, the strike price should be compared with the forward, not current, price. A bank unable to do this must take the in the money amount to be zero.

 Where the position does not fall within the trading book (i.e., options on certain foreign exchange position not belonging to the trading book), it is acceptable to use the book value instead.

 Issuer/issuer classifications as per Part I.1 of the Report.

Appendix 46b - Page 10 Manual of Regulations for Banks
50. In some cases such as foreign exchange where it may be unclear which currency is the “underlying” of the option, this should be taken to be the asset which would be received if the option is exercised. In addition, the nominal value should be used for items where the market value of the underlying instrument could be zero, e.g., caps and floors as well as swaptions.

2. For banks that write options – Delta Plus Approach

51. Banks that write options (apart from those described in paragraph 47) should report in Parts I to III the relevant delta-weighted positions of all their outstanding options, i.e., the market value of the underlying of the option multiplied by the option delta. The relevant negative gamma and vega sensitivities of these options should be reported in Parts IV.2(a) to IV.2(c) of the Report in order to capture the delta sensitivity and volatility risk of these options. Banks wishing to adopt alternate treatments for their options such as a scenario approach should seek prior approval from the BSP.

52. Delta-weighted option positions with debt securities or interest rates as the underlying will be slotted into the interest rate time bands, as set out in Part I.2 of the Report. A two-legged approach should be used as for other derivatives, requiring one entry at the time the underlying contract takes effect and a second at the time the underlying contract matures. In other words the reporting mechanism would be the same as those for the positions in the underlying instruments of the options as presented in Parts I to III, except that the market value of the underlying instruments will be adjusted by the delta ratios of the relevant options for reporting under this approach. For instance:

(a) A bought call option on a June 3-month interest-rate future will in March be considered, on the basis of its delta-equivalent value, to be a long position with a maturity of 6 months and a short position with a maturity of 3 months. The written option will similarly be slotted as a long position with a maturity of 3 months and a short position with a maturity of 6 months.

(b) A 2-month purchased call option on a bond future where delivery of the bond takes place in September would be considered in March as being long the deliverable bond and short a 6-month government security in the same currency, both positions being delta-weighted.

(c) Floating rate instruments with caps or floors will be treated as a combination of floating rate securities and a series of European-style options, e.g., the holder of 2-year floating rate security indexed to 6-month LIBOR with a cap of 8% will treat it as:

(i) a debt security thatreprices in 6 months; and

(ii) a series of 3 written call options on a FRA with a reference rate of 8%, each with a negative sign at the time the underlying FRA takes effect and a positive sign at the time the underlying FRA matures. (The rules applying to closely matched positions set out in paragraph 26 will also apply in this respect.) (Refer to example (7) in Annex A).

53. The reporting of options with equities as the underlying will also be based on the delta-weighted positions which will be incorporated in Part II of the Report. For purposes of this calculation, each national market is to be treated as a separate underlying. For options on foreign exchange position, the net delta-based equivalent of the foreign currency options will be incorporated into the measurement of the exposure for the respective currency position. These delta positions will be reported in Part III of the Report.

54. The net negative gamma positions and vega positions of all outstanding options (purchased or written) should also be reported in Part IV.2. This is in addition to the delta positions being reported in Parts I to III.

55. The net negative gamma positions should be reported in the following way:
   (a) for each individual option, a "gamma impact" should be calculated by the following formula:

   \[ \text{Gamma impact} = \frac{1}{2} \times \Gamma \times VU^2 \] where \( VU \) = Variation of the underlying of the option.

   (b) \( VU \) will be calculated as follows:
       - for debt and interest rate options of which the delta-equivalent position is reported in Part I, the market value of the underlying or notional underlying multiplied by the risk weights for the appropriate time bands set out in Table 1;
       - for options on equities and equity indices, the market value of the underlying multiplied by 8%; and
       - for options on foreign exchange, the market value of the underlying multiplied by 8%.

   (c) For the purpose of this calculation the following positions should be treated as the same underlying:
       - for interest rate instruments, each time band as set out in Table 1;
       - for equities and equity indices, each national market; and
       - for foreign currencies, each currency pair.

   Banks with options relating to more underlyings than the space provided should report their positions in additional sheets.

   (d) Each option on the same underlying will have a gamma impact that is either positive or negative. These individual gamma impacts will be summed, resulting in a net gamma impact for each underlying that is either positive or negative. Only those net gamma impacts that are negative should be reported.

56. The vega charge should be reported in the following way:
   (a) The vega positions should represent the risk in a proportional shift in volatility of \( \pm 25\% \) for the underlying. For example, an increase in volatility carries a risk of loss for a short option of which the assumed current (implied) volatility is 20%. With a proportional shift of 25%, the vega position has to be calculated on the basis of an increase in volatility of 5 percentage points from 20% to 25%. If the vega is calculated as 1.68, i.e., a 1% increase in volatility increases the value of the option by 1.68, then the above change in volatility of 5 percentage points will increase the value of the option by 8.4 (1.68 x 5) which represents the vega position to be reported.

   (b) Each option on the same underlying will have a vega position that is either positive or negative. These individual vega positions will be summed, resulting in a net vega position for each underlying that is either positive or negative. The total vega charge will be the sum of the absolute values of the net vega positions obtained for each underlying.

Part V Internal Models Approach

57. Only those banks which have obtained the BSP’s approval to adopt their internal value-at-risk (VaR) models to calculate their market risk capital charges in lieu of the standardized methodology are required to report in this part.

1. Value-at-risk results

58. Report in this part the value-at-risk (VaR) results as at the last trading day of the reference quarter in column (a) and the average VaR over the most recent 60 trading days of the reference quarter in column (b), both for each individual market risk category using internal models approach, i.e., item 1.1 to 1.3, and for the aggregate of these risk categories, i.e., item 1.4.

59. Provided that the BSP is satisfied with the bank’s system for measuring correlations, recognition of empirical correlations across broad risk categories (e.g., interest rates, equity prices and exchange rates, including related options volatilities in each risk factor category) may be allowed. The VaR for the aggregate of all risk categories will therefore not necessarily be equal to an arithmetic sum of the VaR for the individual risk category.

60. Report also in this part the number of backtesting exceptions for the past 250 trading days (from the reference quarter-end going backwards), based on:
- actual daily changes in portfolio value, in item 1.4 column (c), and
- hypothetical changes in portfolio value that would occur were end-of-day positions to remain unchanged during the 1 day holding period, in item 1.4 column (d), for the aggregate of the broad risk categories.

61. The multiplication factor to be reported in item 1.4 column (e) is the summation of the following 3 elements:
(a) the minimum multiplication factor of 3;
(b) the “plus” factor ranging from 0 to 1 based on the number of backtesting exceptions (i.e., the larger of item 1.4 column (c) or item 1.4 column (d)) for the past 250 trading days as set out in Table 5 below; and
(c) any additional “plus” factor as may be prescribed by the BSP.

62. Capital charge for general market risk calculated by internal models reported in item 1.6 is larger of:
(a) Item 1.4 column (a), i.e., VaR for the aggregate of all risk categories, as at the last trading day of the reference quarter; or
(b) Item 1.5, i.e., the average VaR for the last 60 trading days of the reference quarter [item 1.4 column (b)] times the multiplication factor [item 1.4 column (e)] set out in paragraph 61 above.

2. Specific risk

63. Capital charge for the specific risk of debt securities and other debt related derivatives, and equities and equity derivatives is to be reported using either of the following two methods:
(a) For banks which incorporate the specific risk into their models, report the capital charge for the total specific risk calculated by the models in item 1.7 of Part V.1; or
(b) For banks which do not incorporate the specific risk into their models, report the specific risk of debt securities and other debt related derivatives in Part I.1 according to the instructions in paragraphs 15-19 and 29-30. For equities and equity derivatives, report the specific risk in Part II according to the instructions in paragraphs 35 to 40.

3. Largest daily losses over the quarter

64. Report in this part in descending order (i.e., the largest loss first) the 5 largest daily losses over the reference quarter and their respective VaRs for the risk exposures which are measured by the internal models approach. If the number of daily losses during the quarter is less than 5, report only all such daily losses.

Part VI Adjusted Capital Adequacy Ratio

65. The market risk capital charges should be aggregated and converted to a market risk-weighted exposure. The total market risk capital charges is the sum of the capital charges for individual market risk categories computed using either (a) the standardized approach, or (b) the internal models approach. The total capital charges for individual market risk categories using the standardized approach should be multiplied by 125% (to be consistent with the higher capital charge for credit risk, i.e., 10% as opposed to the BIS recommended 8%).

66. The total market risk-weighted exposure is computed by multiplying the total market risk capital charges by 10. (The multiplier 10 is the reciprocal of the BSP required minimum capital ratio for credit risk of 10%). The qualifying capital and total credit risk-weighted exposures are extracted from Part V.A and Part V.B, respectively, of the Report on the Computation of Risk-Based Capital Adequacy Ratio covering credit risk.

67. For on-balance-sheet debt securities and equities in the trading book included in Parts I, II and V of this Report, the credit risk-weighted exposures reported in Part II of the Report on the Computation of the Risk-Based Capital Adequacy Ratio covering credit risk should be excluded in calculating the adjusted ratio covering combined credit risk and market risk. The market risk capital charges for these positions calculated in this Report cover all the capital requirements for absorbing potential losses arising from carrying such positions.
Suppose as at 31 December, 200X, ABC Bank Corporation has the following trading book positions:

1. Long position in US Treasury Bond (7.5% annual coupon) with face value equivalent to PHP507.000MM and residual maturity of 8 years. Market value based on quoted price: PHP518.914MM equivalent.
2. Long position in an unrated floating rate note (6.25% current annual coupon) issued by a US corporate with face value equivalent of PHP260.000MM and next repricing 9 months after. Market value based on quoted price: PHP264.758MM equivalent.
3. Long 10 futures contracts involving 5-year US Treasury Note (face value USD0.100MM per contract) for delivery 3 months after. Selected deliverable: US Treasury Note (coupon 6.375%) maturing 5.25 years, current price at 100.0625, conversion factor 0.9423.
4. Single currency interest rate swap with face value PHP975.000MM and residual maturity of 2.5 years, bank receives annual floating rate interest and pays fixed at 8% per annum. The current floating rate is fixed at 5.5% with next repricing after 6 months.
5. Long 10 futures contracts involving 3-month LIBOR interest rate (face value GBP6.500MM per contract) for delivery 6 months after.
6. An FRA sold on 6-month PHIBOR with nominal amount PHP130.000MM and settlement date 9 months after.
7. A GBP2.000MM 2 year cap written on GBP 6 month LIBOR at cap rate 8%, next repricing after 6 months and remaining maturity 2 years (i.e., the cap is written on the reporting date).
8. Forward foreign exchange position of EUR5.000MM (long) against PHP250.000MM equivalent maturing in 3 months.
9. Long 1000 shares of a US listed company with current market price of PHP713.000MM equivalent.
10. Long 50,000 shares of a Philippine listed company hedged by a long position in 25 put option contracts (each contract represents 1,000 shares) for the same share. The current market price for the share is PHP195.00 and the exercise price of all the option contracts is PHP214.50.
11. Short one Hang Seng Index Futures for delivery 3 months after, current index at 10,000.
12. Currency swap with residual maturity of 6 months. Bank receives USD19.500MM at 9.5% per annum and pays PHP975.000MM at 11% per annum.

Treatments:
1. Report market value (PHP518.914MM) of the long position in Part I.1, item 1.2 and Part I.2, USD ladder, 7 to 10 years time band.
2. Report market value (PHP264.758MM) of the long position in Part I.1, item 1.9' and Part I.2, USD ladder, 6 to 12 months time band.
3. Report selected Treasury Note (long position) in Part I.1, item I.2 and Part I.2, USD ladder, 5 to 7 year time band. Report the same amount in short position, 1 to 3 months time band.
4. Assume spot exchange rate PHP50.00

Amount to be reported:

\text{USD0.100MM} \times 10 \times 100.0625\% \times 0.9423 = \text{USD1.062MM}
\text{PHP53.095MM}

(4) Report the fixed rate leg as a short 2.5-year bond in Part I.2, Peso ladder, 2 to 3 years time band. Report the floating rate leg as a long 6 months security in the 3 to 6 months time band.

Assume the Peso zero coupon yields are as follows:

(Zero coupon yields within 1 year can be taken as cash rates, i.e., PHIBOR, zero coupon yields beyond 1 year can be constructed from, say, swap rates.)

Cash flows of Peso swap: 2 legs

Pay – fixed rate bond
8% of PHP975.000MM in 6 months

Zero-coupon rates at 18 months can be obtained from the linear interpolation between the 1Y and 2Y zero coupon rates.

ZC(18 months) = (6.16% + 6.69%)/2 = 6.425%

Similarly,

(5) Report a long 9 months zero coupon security in Part I.2, GBP ladder, 6 to 12 months time band and a short 6 months zero coupon security in 3 to 6 months time band.

Assume the GBP 6 months zero-coupon yield is 6.74% while the interpolated 9 months zero-coupon yield is 6.87%.

Assume spot exchange rate is PHP75.000.

Amount to be reported:

9 months = GBP65.000MM/(1 + 0.0687 x 0.75) = GBP65.000MM x 0.951 = PHP6,636.124MM equivalent

6 months = GBP65.000MM/(1 + 0.0674 x 0.5) = GBP65.000MM x 0.9674 = PHP6,166.069MM equivalent

(6) Report a long 15 months zero coupon security in Part I.2, Peso ladder, 1.0 to 1.9 years time band and a short 9 months zero coupon security in 6 to 12 months time band.

Calculations similar to (4) above,

ZC(15 months) = 6.16% + (6.69%-6.16%)(0.25) = 6.2925%

15 months = PHP130.000MM/(1 + 0.062925x0.75) = PHP130.000MM

9 months = PHP130.000MM x 0.957 = PHP124.410MM

(7) Report the cap as 3 written call options on 6-month FRA, i.e., 6 against 12, 12 against 18 and 18 against 24.

  = GBP2.000MM x 0.225 x 0.9009
  = PHP30.405MM equivalent

(8) Report a long 3 months zero coupon security in Part I.2, EUR ladder, 1 to 3 months time band and a short 3 months zero coupon security in the Peso ladder, 1 to 3 months time band.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCOMPLISHING THE REPORT ON COMPUTATION OF THE ADJUSTED RISK-BASED CAPITAL ADEQUACY RATIO COVERING COMBINED CREDIT RISK AND MARKET RISK
(For Universal Banks and Commercial Banks with Expanded Derivatives Authority But Without Options Transactions)

General Instructions
1. All universal banks and commercial banks are required to complete this Report both on a solo basis (i.e., head office plus branches) and on a consolidated basis (i.e., parent bank plus subsidiary financial allied undertakings, but excluding insurance companies).

2. The Report should be submitted as follows:
   (a) Solo report - within 15 banking days after the end of each reference quarter; and
   (b) Consolidated report - within 30 banking days after the end of each reference quarter.

3. Current market value should be used for reporting. For leveraged instruments where the apparent notional amount differs from the effective notional amount, the bank should use the effective notional amount in calculating the market value for reporting, e.g., a swap contract with a stated notional amount of PHP1.0 million, the terms of which call for a quarterly settlement of the difference between 5% and PHIBOR multiplied by 10 has an effective notional amount of PHP10.0 million.

4. Securities transactions are to be reported on a “trade date” basis.

Definitions and Clarifications
5. Market risk is defined as the risk of losses in on- and off-balance sheet positions arising from movements in market prices. The risks subject to this reporting requirement are:
   (a) the risks pertaining to interest rate-related instruments and equities in the bank’s trading book; and
   (b) foreign exchange risk throughout the bank.

   The Report should include the reporting bank’s positions in on-balance sheet financial instruments and off-balance sheet derivatives, the latter being defined as financial contracts whose values depend on the values of one or more underlying assets or indices.

6. For the purpose of the Report, the trading book of a bank shall consist of:
   (a) its proprietary positions in financial instruments which are taken on with the intention of short-term resale or benefiting in the short term from actual or expected differences between the buying and selling prices or from other price or interest rate variations;
   (b) positions which arise from the execution of trade orders from customers and market making; and
   (c) positions taken in order to hedge other elements of the trading book.

7. The financial instruments referred to in the preceding paragraph include:
   (a) (i) transferable securities;
      (ii) units in collective investment undertakings;
   (b) certificates of deposit and other similar capital market instruments;
   (c) financial futures contracts;
(d) forward contracts including forward rate agreements; and
(e) swaps

8. Banks are expected to have an established policy for allocating transactions (including internal deals) to the trading or non-trading (i.e., banking) book, as well as procedures to ensure compliance with such policy. There must be a clear audit trail at the time each transaction is entered into and the BSP will examine the adequacy of such policy and procedures and their consistent implementation when it is considered necessary. For this purpose, banks which engage in trading activities should submit to the BSP a policy statement covering:
   (a) the definition of trading activities;
   (b) the financial instruments which can be traded or used for hedging the trading book portfolio; and
   (c) the principles for transferring positions between the trading and the banking books.

9. In general, the BSP will have regard to the bank’s intention in entering into a particular transaction when determining whether such transaction should fall into the trading book. Transactions will likely be considered to carry a trading intent on the part of the bank if:
   (a) the positions arising from the transactions are marked to market on a daily basis as part of the internal risk management process;
   (b) the positions are not (or not intended to be) held to maturity; and
   (c) the positions satisfy other criteria the bank applies to its trading portfolio on a consistent basis.

10. Debt securities include both fixed-rate and floating-rate instruments, negotiable certificates of deposit, non-convertible preference shares, and also convertible bonds (i.e., debt issues or preference shares that are convertible, at a stated price, into common shares of the issuer) which trade like debt securities. Debt-related derivatives include bond futures.

11. Interest rate derivatives include all derivatives contracts and off-balance sheet instruments which react to changes in interest rates, e.g., interest rate futures, forward rate agreements (FRAs), interest rate and cross currency swaps, and forward foreign exchange positions.

12. Detailed offsetting rules applicable to the reporting of positions are set out in the relevant parts of Specific Instructions. These offsetting rules can be applied on both the solo and consolidated basis, provided that in the latter case there are no obstacles to the quick repatriation of profits from a foreign subsidiary to the Philippines and the bank performs daily management of risks on a consolidated basis. For this purpose, offsetting means the exclusion of matched positions of a bank from reporting and hence exclusion of such positions from the calculation of the adjusted capital adequacy ratio.

13. For avoidance of doubt, items that are deductible from the qualifying capital of the bank in the calculation of the risk-based capital adequacy ratio pursuant to Subsections X116.2.a to X116.2.c are excluded from market risk capital requirement.

14. In general, banks are only required to complete Parts I to III and V of the Report. Banks which have obtained the BSP’s approval to adopt their internal value-at-risk (VaR) models to calculate their market risk capital charge (in all or individual risk categories) should complete Part IV (in lieu of Parts I to III). Where the internal model is used to calculate only selected risk categories, the capital charge for the risk categories measured under the internal models approach should be reported in Part IV while that for the other risk categories measured under the standardized approach should be reported in the relevant sections of Parts I to III. This combination of the standardized approach and the internal models approach is allowed on a transitional basis. Banks which adopt the internal models approach will not be permitted, save in exceptional circumstances, to revert to the standardized approach.

Specific Instructions

Part I Interest Rate Exposures

1. Debt securities and debt related derivatives – specific risk

15. Report in this part the long and short positions in debt securities and debt derivatives (e.g., bond futures) in the trading book by category of the issuer. Offsetting will be allowed between long and short positions in identical issues (including positions in derivatives) with exactly the same issuer, coupon, currency and maturity. For items 1.4 to 1.7 of the Report, positions should be slotted into the appropriate time bands according to the residual maturities of the debt securities (or the underlying securities in case of debt derivatives). (Refer to examples (1) and (2) in Annex A).

16. A security, which is the subject of a repurchase agreement, will be treated as if it were still owned by the seller of the security, i.e., to be reported by the seller. This principle applies also in Part 1.2 of the Report. Commitments to buy and sell securities should be reported as long and short positions, respectively.

17. Foreign countries, foreign incorporated banks and Philippine incorporated banks/QBs with the “highest credit quality”, as well as debt securities with the “highest credit quality” refer to rates/debt securities given the minimum credit ratings as indicated below by any two of the following internationally accepted rating agencies:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Rating Agency</th>
<th>Credit Rating</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>(a) Moody’s</td>
<td>“Aa3” and above</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(b) Standard and Poor’s</td>
<td>“AA-” and above</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(c) Fitch IBCA</td>
<td>“AA-” and above</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

and such other recognized international rating agencies as may be approved by the Monetary Board.

The ratings of domestic rating agencies may likewise be used for this purpose provided that such rating agencies meet the criteria to be prescribed by the Monetary Board.

18. Multilateral development banks refer to the World Bank Group comprised of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) and the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the Asian Development Bank (ADB), the African Development Bank (AfDB), the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD), the Inter-American Development Bank (IADB), the European Investment Bank (EIB); the Nordic Investment Bank (NIB); the Caribbean Development Bank (CDB), the Council of Europe Development Bank (CEDB) and such others as may be recognized by the BSP.

19. Non-central government public sector entities of a foreign country refer to entities which are regarded as such by a recognized banking supervisory authority in the country in which they are incorporated.
2. Debt securities, debt related derivatives and interest rate derivatives – general market risk

20. Report in this part the long and short trading book positions in debt securities and debt derivatives described above, as well as interest rate derivatives. Report also interest rate exposures arising from futures contracts and forward positions in equities. A Maturity Method is adopted for the reporting of these positions as detailed below. Banks that possess the necessary capability to calculate the duration and price sensitivity of each position separately and wish to adopt such a duration approach for reporting in this part may seek approval from BSP.

21. Positions should be reported separately for each currency, i.e., banks should use separate sheets (Part I.2 of the Report) to report positions of different currencies. The unadjusted market risk capital charge is then calculated for each currency according to procedures set out in paragraphs 31 to 34 with no offsetting between different currencies.

22. Under the Maturity Method, positions are slotted into the time bands of the maturity ladder (as shown in Part I.2 of the Report) by remaining maturity if fixed rate and by the period to the next repricing date if floating rate. (Refer to examples (1) and (2) in Annex A). Derivatives should be treated as combinations of long and short positions. The maturity of an interest rate future or a forward rate agreement will be the period until delivery or exercise of the contract, plus – where applicable – the life of the underlying instrument. For example, a long position in a June 3-month interest rate future taken in December is to be reported at end of December as a long position in a zero coupon government security in that particular currency with a maturity of 9 months and a short position in a zero coupon government security with a maturity of 6 months. (Refer to examples (5) and (6) in Annex A). The market values of the two positions should be reported. For forward foreign exchange positions in the trading book, they should be treated as long and as short positions in a zero coupon government security of the 2 currencies with the same maturity as the forward contract. (Refer to example (7) in Annex A).

23. For a bond future, where a range of deliverable instruments may be delivered to fulfill the contract, the bank has flexibility to elect which deliverable security goes into the maturity ladder but should take account of any conversion factor defined by the exchange. A two-leg approach will be adopted similar to the above. A long bond future will be taken as a long position in a deliverable bond and a short position in a zero coupon security maturing at the future’s delivery date. For example, a long futures contract on a 5 year fixed rate security with delivery 3 months from the reporting date will be reported as a long position in say, a 5.25 year security, i.e., a specific security which is within the range of deliverables under the futures contract (as opposed to a notional/theoretical security), and a short position in a 3 months zero coupon security. (Refer to example (3) in Annex A).

The amount to be reported in the above example for both legs will be the contract face value divided by the relevant conversion factor and multiplied by the current cash price of the selected deliverable bond. A forward bond transaction (i.e., with a settlement period longer than the market norm) will be treated similarly, i.e., a long bond forward will be reported as long position in the bond and a short position in a zero coupon security up to the forward delivery date. The current market value (at spot price) of the bond should be reported.
24. Swaps will be treated as two positions in securities with the relevant maturities. For example, an interest rate swap under which a bank is receiving floating rate interest and paying fixed will be treated as a long position in a floating rate instrument of maturity equivalent to the period until the next interest fixing and a short position in a fixed-rate instrument of maturity equivalent to the residual life of the swap. The market values of the 2 instruments should be reported. (Refer to example (4) in Annex A). For swaps that pay or receive a fixed or floating interest rate against some other reference price, e.g., an equity price, the interest rate component should be slotted into the appropriate maturity category, with the equity component being included in the equity framework. The separate legs of cross-currency swaps are to be reported in the relevant maturity ladders for the currencies concerned. (Refer to example (10) in Annex A).

25. As with the reporting under Part I.1 of the Report, banks can offset long and short positions in identical instruments with exactly the same issuer, coupon, currency and maturity for general market risk purposes. Similarly, a matched position in a futures or forward contract and its underlying may be fully offset. However, the leg representing the time to expiry of the futures or forward contract should be reported.

For example, a bank has a long position in a particular bond and sells forward (i.e., beyond the normal settlement period for the security) such a bond as at the reporting date. The long and short positions in the bond can be offset but a long position in a (notional) zero coupon security with maturity at the forward delivery date should be reported, at the current market value of the bond. Similarly, if the bank has a short position in a bond future and a long position in the underlying bond, such positions can be offset. A long position up to the future's delivery date should, however, be reported.

When the futures contract comprises a range of deliverable instruments, offsetting of positions in the futures contract and its underlying is only permissible in cases where there is a readily identifiable underlying security which is most profitable for the trader with a short position to deliver, i.e., the "cheapest to deliver". This means that offsetting is only permitted between a short future and a long bond, not between a long future and a short bond; and the long bond must be the one that is "cheapest to deliver". The amount to be reported for the remaining long position up to the futures contract's delivery date will be the face value of the contract divided by the relevant conversion factor and multiplied by the current spot price of the "cheapest to deliver" bond.

26. Opposite positions in the same category of derivatives instruments can in certain circumstances be regarded as matched and allowed to offset fully. The separate legs of different swaps may also be "matched" subject to the same conditions. To qualify for this treatment, the positions must relate to the same underlying instruments, be of the same nominal value and be denominated in the same currency. In addition:

(a) for futures: offsetting positions in the notional or underlying instruments to which the futures contract relates must be for identical products and mature within 7 days of each other;

(b) for swaps and forward rate agreements (FRAs): the reference rate (for floating rate positions) must be identical and the coupon closely matched (i.e., within 15 basis points); and

(c) for swaps, FRAs and forwards: the next interest fixing date or, for fixed coupon positions or forwards, the residual maturity must correspond within the following limits:

- if either of the instruments for offsetting has an interest fixing date or residual maturity up to 1 month, the interest fixing date or residual maturity must be the same for both instruments;
- if either of the instruments for offsetting has an interest fixing date or residual maturity greater than 1 month and up to 1 year, those dates or residual maturities must be within 7 days of each other; and
- if either of the instruments for offsetting has an interest fixing date or residual maturity over 1 year, those dates or residual maturities must be within 30 days of each other.

For example, a bought and a sold FRA in the same currency with the same face value and settlement date as well as notional deposit maturity date can be offset against each other and excluded from reporting if the contract rates are within 15 basis points of each other. Similarly, opposite swap positions in the same currency with the same face value and reference dates can be offset if, say, the floating rate in both cases is 6 months PHIBOR and the fixed rates are within 15 basis points of each other. The positions can still be offset if the reference dates (i.e., the next interest fixing date or remaining maturity) of the opposite positions are different but within the range as set out in (c) above. Opposite bond futures can, for example, be offset against each other if the deliverable bonds are of the same type and mature within 7 days of each other.

27. Banks with the necessary expertise and systems may use alternative formulae (the so called “pre-processing” techniques) to calculate the positions to be included in the maturity ladder. This applies to all interest rate sensitive positions, arising from both physical and derivative instruments.

One method is to first convert the payments required under each transaction into their present values. For that purpose, each cash flow should be discounted using zero-coupon yields. A single net figure of all of the cash flows within each time band may be reported. Banks wishing to adopt this or other methods for reporting should seek the BSP’s prior approval. The “pre-processing” models would be subject to review by the BSP.

Calculation of capital charges for interest rate exposures reported in Part I

28. The unadjusted minimum capital requirement is expressed in terms of two separately calculated charges, one applying to the “specific risk” of each trading book position in debt securities or debt derivatives, whether it is a short or long position, and the other to the overall interest rate risk in the trading book portfolio (termed “general market risk”) where long and short positions in different securities or derivatives can be offset subject to certain “disallowances”.

Specific risk

29. The unadjusted specific risk charge is graduated into five broad categories by types of issuer, as follows:

| Government and multilateral development banks* | 0.00% |
| Qualifying | 0.25% (residual maturity of 6 months or less) |
| | 0.40% (residual maturity of over 6 months to 24 months) |
| | 1.60% (residual maturity of over 24 months) |
| LGU bonds | 4.00% |
| Others | 8.00% |

* “Government and multilateral development banks” refers to the issuers as described under items 1.1 and 1.3 in Part I.1 of the Report.
 “Qualifying” refers to the issuers/issues as described under items 1.4 to 1.7 in Part I.1 of the Report.
 “LGU bonds” refers to bonds issued by local government units (LGUs), covered by Deed of Assignment of Internal Revenue Allotment of the LGU and guaranteed by LGU Guarantee Corporation.
30. Interest rate and currency swaps, FRAs, forward foreign exchange contracts and interest rate futures will not be subject to a specific risk charge. In the case of futures contracts where the underlying is a debt security, a specific risk charge will apply according to the issuer (and the remaining maturity) as set out in the above paragraph.

General market risk

31. General market risk applies to positions in all debt securities, debt derivatives and interest rate derivatives, subject only to an exemption for fully or very closely matched positions in identical instruments as described in paragraphs 25 to 26 above. The unadjusted capital charge is the sum of the following components:

(a) the net short or long weighted position in the whole trading book;

(b) a small proportion of the matched positions in each time band (the “vertical disallowance”); and

(c) a larger proportion of the matched positions across different time-bands (the “horizontal disallowance”).

32. In the maturity ladder, first calculate the weighted positions by multiplying the positions reported in each time band by a risk-factor according to the following table:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Maturity method: time bands and weights</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Coupon</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3% or more</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over 2 years to 3 years</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over 1.9 years</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over 1.75%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

33. The weighted longs and shorts in each time band will be offset resulting in a single short or long position for each band. A 10% capital charge (“vertical disallowance”) will be levied on the smaller of the offsetting positions, be it long or short. Thus, if the sum of the weighted longs in a time band is $100.0 million and the sum of the weighted shorts is $90.0 million, the vertical disallowance would be 10% of $90.0 million (i.e., $9.0 million).

34. Two rounds of “horizontal offsetting” will then be conducted, first between the net positions in each of 3 zones (zero to 1 year, over 1 year to 4 years and over 4 years), and subsequently between the net positions in the 3 different zones. The offsetting will be subject to a scale of disallowances expressed as a fraction of the matched positions, as set out in Table 2 below. The weighted long and short positions in each of 3 zones may be offset, subject to the matched portion attracting a disallowance factor that is part of the capital charge. The residual net position in each zone may be carried over and offset against opposite positions in other zones, subject to a second set of disallowance factors.
35. Report in this part the long and short positions in equities and equity derivatives in the trading book, including instruments that exhibit market behavior similar to equities. The instruments covered include common stock (whether voting or non-voting), convertible bonds (i.e., debt issues or preference shares that are convertible, at a stated price, into common shares of the issuer) which trade like equities and commitments to buy or sell equity securities. For non-convertible preference shares and those convertible bonds which trade like debt securities, they should be reported under Part I. Equity derivatives include forwards, futures and swaps on both individual equities and or stock indices. Long and short positions in the same issue may be reported on a net basis.

36. The positions are to be reported on a market-by-market basis, i.e., under separate columns to indicate the exchange where the reported equities are listed/traded. For foreign markets, banks should indicate the country where the market is located. (Refer to example (8) in Annex A) Equities with listing in more than one market should be reported as positions in the market of their primary listing.

37. Equity derivatives are to be converted into positions in the relevant underlying. Futures and forward contracts relating to an individual equity should be reported at current market values. Futures relating to equity indices can be reported either as the current index value times the monetary value of one index point set by the exchange, i.e., the “tick” value, or the marked-to-market value of the notional underlying equity portfolio. (Refer to example (9) in Annex A).

38. Matched positions in each identical equity or index (same delivery months) in each market may be fully offset, resulting in a single net short or long position. A future in a given equity may be offset against an opposite cash position in the same equity but the interest rate exposure arising out of the equity futures should be reported in Part I. For example, a short futures contract on a specific stock with delivery 3 months from the reporting date can be offset against a long position in the underlying stock. However, the interest rate exposure arising out of the equity futures should be reported as a long position in the “1 to 3 months” time band of the stock denominated currency in Part I.
The position should be reported as the current market value of the stock.

39. An equity swap obligates a bank to receive an amount based on the change in value of a particular equity or equity index and also to pay an amount based on the change in value of a different equity or equity index. Accordingly, the receipt side and the payment side of an equity swap contract should be reported as a long and a short position, respectively. For an equity swap contract which involves a leg relating to a financial instrument other than equities or equity derivatives, for example, receiving/paying a fixed or floating interest rate, the exposure should be slotted into the appropriate maturity band in Part I. Where equities are part of a forward contract (equities to be received or to be delivered), any interest rate exposure from the other leg of the contract should be reported in Part I. The treatment is similar to that set out in paragraph 38. The same arrangement applies for index futures. (Refer to example (9) in Annex A).

40. As with interest rate exposures, the capital charge is levied to separately cover both the specific risk and the general market risk. Calculation is done on an individual market basis. The unadjusted capital charge for specific risk will be 8% on the gross (i.e., long plus short) positions. The unadjusted general market risk charge will be 8% on the net position. Net long and short positions in different markets cannot be offset for the purpose of calculating general market risk charge.

Part III Foreign Exchange Exposures

41. Report in this part the amount in US dollars (USD) of net long or net short position in each currency. In addition, structural positions taken deliberately to hedge against the effects of exchange rate movements on the capital adequacy of the reporting bank may be excluded. This should be cleared with the BSP prior to reporting.

42. Net long/short position shall refer to FX assets (excluding FX items allowed under existing regulations to be excluded from FX assets in the computation of a bank’s net FX position limits) less FX liabilities (excluding FX items allowed under existing regulations to be excluded from FX liabilities in the computation of a bank’s net FX position limits), plus contingent FX assets less contingent FX liabilities.

43. Banks which base their normal management accounting of forward currency positions on net present values shall use the net present values of each position, discounted using current interest rates, for measuring their positions. Otherwise, forward currency positions shall be measured based on notional amount.

44. The total USD amount of net long or net short position in each currency should then be converted at spot rates into Philippine peso. The overall net open position is the greater of the absolute value of the sum of net long position or sum of net short position.

45. The unadjusted capital charge will be 8% of the overall net open position.

Part IV Internal Models Approach

46. Only those banks which have obtained the BSP’s approval to adopt their internal value-at-risk (VaR) models to calculate their market risk capital charges in lieu of the standardized methodology are required to report in this part.

1. Value-at-risk results

47. Report in this part the value-at-risk (VaR) results as at the last trading day of the reference quarter in column (a) and the average VaR over the most recent 60 trading days of the reference quarter in column (b), both for each individual market risk category using internal models approach, i.e., item 1.1 to 1.3, and for the aggregate of these risk categories, i.e., item 1.4.

48. Provided that the BSP is satisfied with the bank’s system for measuring correlations, recognition of empirical correlations across broad risk categories (e.g., interest rates, equity prices and exchange rates) may be allowed. The VaR for the aggregate of all risk categories will therefore not necessarily be equal to an arithmetic sum of the VaR for the individual risk category.

49. Report also in this part the number of backtesting exceptions for the past 250 trading days (from the reference quarter-end going backwards), based on:
   - actual daily changes in portfolio value, in item 1.4 column (c), and
   - hypothetical changes in portfolio value that would occur were end-of-day positions to remain unchanged during the 1 day holding period, in item 1.4 column (d), for the aggregate of the broad risk categories.

50. The multiplication factor to be reported in item 1.4 column (e) is the summation of the following 3 elements:
   - the minimum multiplication factor of 3;
   - the “plus” factor ranging from 0 to 1 based on the number of backtesting exceptions (i.e., the larger of item 1.4 column (c) or item 1.4 column (d)) for the past 250 trading days as set out in Table 3 below; and
   - any additional “plus” factor as may be prescribed by the BSP.

51. Capital charge for general market risk calculated by internal models reported in item 1.6 is larger of:
   - Item 1.4 column (a), i.e., VaR for the aggregate of all risk categories, as at the last trading day of the reference quarter; or
   - Item 1.5, i.e., the average VaR for the last 60 trading days of the reference quarter (item 1.4 column (b)) times the multiplication factor (item 1.4 column (e)) set out in paragraph 50 above.

2. Specific risk

52. Capital charge for the specific risk of debt securities and other debt related derivatives, and equities and equity derivatives is to be reported using either of the following two methods:
   - For banks which incorporate the specific risk into their models, report the specific risk of debt securities and other debt related derivatives in item 1.7 of Part IV.1; or
   - For banks which do not incorporate the specific risk into their models, report the specific risk of debt securities and other
3. Largest daily losses over the quarter

53. Report in this part in descending order (i.e., the largest loss first) the 5 largest daily losses over the reference quarter and their respective VaRs for the risk exposures which are measured by the internal models approach. If the number of daily losses during the quarter is less than 5, report only all such daily losses.

Part V Adjusted Capital Adequacy Ratio

54. The market risk capital charges should be aggregated and converted to a market risk-weighted exposure. The total market risk capital charges is the sum of the capital charges for individual market risk categories computed using either (a) the standardized approach, or (b) the internal models approach. The total capital charges for individual market risk categories using the standardized approach should be multiplied by 125% (to be consistent with the higher capital charge for credit risk, i.e., 10% as opposed to the BIS recommended 8%).

55. The total market risk-weighted exposures is computed by multiplying the total market risk capital charges by 10. (The multiplier 10 is the reciprocal of the BSP required minimum capital ratio for credit risk of 10%.) The qualifying capital and total credit risk weighted exposures are extracted from Part V.A and Part V.B, respectively, of the Report on the Computation of Risk-Based Capital Adequacy Ratio covering credit risk.

56. For on-balance-sheet debt securities and equities in the trading book included in Parts I, II and IV of this Report, the credit risk-weighted exposures reported in Part II of the Report on the Computation of the Risk-Based Capital Adequacy Ratio covering credit risk should be excluded in calculating the adjusted ratio covering combined credit risk and market risk. The market risk capital charges for these positions calculated in this Report cover all the capital requirements for absorbing potential losses arising from carrying such positions.
Suppose as at 31 December, 200X, ABC Bank Corporation has the following trading book positions:

(1) Long position in US Treasury Bond (7.5% annual coupon) with face value equivalent to PHP507.000MM and residual maturity of 8 years. Market value based on quoted price: PHP518.914MM equivalent

(2) Long position in an unrated floating rate note (6.25% current annual coupon) issued by a US corporate with face value equivalent of PHP260.000MM and next repricing 9 months after. Market value based on quoted price: PHP264.758MM equivalent

(3) Long 10 futures contracts involving 5-year US Treasury Note (face value USD0.100MM per contract) for delivery 3 months after. Selected deliverable: US Treasury Note (coupon 6.375%) maturing 5.25 years, current price at 100.0625, conversion factor 0.9423.

(4) Single currency interest rate swap with face value PHP975.000MM and residual maturity of 2.5 years, bank receives annual floating rate interest and pays fixed at 8% per annum. The current floating rate is fixed at 5.5% with next repricing after 6 months.

(5) Long 10 futures contracts involving 3-month LIBOR interest rate (face value GBP6.500MM per contract) for delivery 6 months after.

(6) An FRA sold on 6-month PHIBOR with nominal amount PHP130.000MM and settlement date 9 months after.

(7) Forward foreign exchange position of EUR3.000MM (long) against PHP250.000MM equivalent maturing in 3 months.

(8) Long 1000 shares of a US listed company with current market price of PHP715.000MM equivalent.

(9) Short one Hang Seng Index Futures for delivery 3 months after, current index at 10,000.

(10) Currency swap with residual maturity of 6 months. Bank receives USD19.500MM at 9.5% per annum and pays PHP975.000MM at 11% per annum.

(1) Report market value (PHP518.914MM) of the long position in Part I.1, item I.2 and Part I.2, USD ladder, 7 to 10 years time band.

(2) Report market value (PHP264.758MM) of the long position in Part I.1, item 1.9' and Part I.2, USD ladder, 6 to 12 months time band.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ACCOMPLISHING THE REPORT ON COMPUTATION OF THE ADJUSTED RISK-BASED CAPITAL ADEQUACY RATIO COVERING COMBINED CREDIT RISK AND MARKET RISK
(For Universal Banks and Commercial Banks Without Expanded Derivatives Authority)

General Instructions

1. All universal banks and commercial banks are required to complete this Report both on a solo basis (i.e., head office plus branches) and on a consolidated basis (i.e., parent bank plus subsidiary financial allied undertakings, but excluding insurance companies).

2. The Report should be submitted as follows:
   (a) Solo report - within 15 banking days after the end of each reference quarter; and
   (b) Consolidated report - within 30 banking days after the end of each reference quarter.

3. Current market value should be used for reporting. For leveraged instruments where the apparent notional amount differs from the effective notional amount, the bank should use the effective notional amount in calculating the market value for reporting, e.g., a swap contract with a stated notional amount of PhP1.0 million, the terms of which call for a quarterly settlement of the difference between 5% and PHIBOR multiplied by 10 has an effective notional amount of PhP10.0 million.

4. Securities transactions are to be reported on a “trade date” basis.

Definitions and Clarifications

5. Market risk is defined as the risk of losses in on- and off-balance sheet positions arising from movements in market prices. The risks subject to this reporting requirement are:
   (a) the risks pertaining to interest rate-related instruments and equities in the bank’s trading book; and
   (b) foreign exchange risk throughout the bank.

The Report should include the reporting bank’s positions in on-balance sheet financial instruments and off-balance sheet derivatives, the latter being defined as financial contracts whose values depend on the values of one or more underlying assets or indices.

6. For the purpose of the Report, the trading book of a bank shall consist of:
   (a) its proprietary positions in financial instruments which are taken on with the intention of short-term resale or benefiting in the short term from actual or expected differences between the buying and selling prices or from other price or interest rate variations;
   (b) positions which arise from the execution of trade orders from customers and market making; and
   (c) positions taken in order to hedge other elements of the trading book.

7. The financial instruments referred to in the preceding paragraph include:
   (a) (i) transferable securities;
   (ii) units in collective investment undertakings;
   (b) certificates of deposit and other similar capital market instruments;
   (c) currency forwards with tenor of one (1) year or less; and
(d) currency swaps with tenor of one (1) year or less and which for this purpose refer to the simultaneous buying and selling of a currency in approximately equal amounts for different maturity dates with the same party.

8. Banks are expected to have an established policy for allocating transactions (including internal deals) to the trading or non-trading (i.e., banking) book, as well as procedures to ensure compliance with such policy. There must be a clear audit trail at the time each transaction is entered into and the BSP will examine the adequacy of such policy and procedures and their consistent implementation when it is considered necessary. For this purpose, banks which engage in trading activities should submit to the BSP a policy statement covering:

(a) the definition of trading activities;
(b) the financial instruments which can be traded or used for hedging the trading book portfolio; and
(c) the principles for transferring positions between the trading and the banking books.

9. In general, the BSP will have regard to the bank's intention in entering into a particular transaction when determining whether such transaction should fall into the trading book. Transactions will likely be considered to carry a trading intent on the part of the bank if:

(a) the positions arising from the transactions are marked to market on a daily basis as part of the internal risk management process;
(b) the positions are not (or not intended to be) held to maturity; and
(c) the positions satisfy other criteria the bank applies to its trading portfolio on a consistent basis.

10. Debt securities include both fixed-rate and floating-rate instruments, negotiable certificates of deposit, non-convertible preference shares, and also convertible bonds (i.e., debt issues or preference shares that are convertible, at a stated price, into common shares of the issuer) which trade like debt securities.

11. Detailed offsetting rules applicable to the reporting of positions are set out in the relevant parts of Specific Instructions. These offsetting rules can be applied on both the solo and consolidated basis, provided that in the latter case there are no obstacles to the quick repatriation of profits from a foreign subsidiary to the Philippines and the bank performs daily management of risks on a consolidated basis. For this purpose, offsetting means the exclusion of matched positions of a bank from reporting and hence exclusion of such positions from the calculation of the adjusted capital adequacy ratio.

12. For avoidance of doubt, items that are deductible from the qualifying capital of the bank in the calculation of the risk-based capital adequacy ratio pursuant to Subsections X116.2.a to X116.2.c are excluded from market risk capital requirement.

13. In general, banks are only required to complete Parts I to III and V of the Report. Banks which have obtained the BSP's approval to adopt their internal value-at-risk (VaR) models to calculate their market risk capital charge (in all or individual risk categories) should complete Part IV (in lieu of Parts I to III). Where the internal model is used to calculate only selected risk categories, the capital charge for the risk categories measured under the internal models approach should be reported in Part IV while that for the other risk categories measured under the standardized approach should be reported in the relevant sections of Parts I to III. This combination of the standardized approach and the internal models approach is allowed on a transitional basis. Banks which adopt the internal

Part I Interest Rate Exposures

1. Debt securities – specific risk

14. Report in this part the long and short positions in debt securities in the trading book by category of the issuer. Offsetting will be allowed between long and short positions in identical issues with exactly the same issuer, coupon, currency and maturity. For items 1.4 to 1.7 of the Report, positions should be slotted into the appropriate time bands according to the residual maturities of the debt securities. (Refer to examples (1) and (2) in Annex A).

15. A security, which is the subject of a repurchase agreement, will be treated as if it were still owned by the seller of the security, i.e., to be reported by the seller. This principle applies also in Part 1.2 of the Report.

16. Foreign countries, foreign incorporated banks and Philippine incorporated banks/ QBs with the “highest credit quality”, as well as debt securities with the “highest credit quality” refer to rates/debt securities given the minimum credit ratings as indicated below by any two of the following internationally accepted rating agencies:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Rating Agency</th>
<th>Credit Rating</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>(a) Moody’s</td>
<td>“Aa3” and above</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(b) Standard and Poor’s</td>
<td>“AA-” and above</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(b) Fitch IBCA</td>
<td>“AA-” and above</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

and such other recognized international rating agencies as may be approved by the Monetary Board.

The ratings of domestic rating agencies may likewise be used for this purpose provided that such rating agencies meet the criteria to be prescribed by the Monetary Board.

17. Multilateral development banks refer to the World Bank Group comprised of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) and the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the Asian Development Bank (ADB), the African Development Bank (AfDB), the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD), the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), the European Investment Bank (EIB); the Nordic Investment Bank (NIB); the Caribbean Development Bank (CDB), the Council of Europe Development Bank (CEDB) and such others as may be recognized by the BSP.

18. Non-central government public sector entities of a foreign country refer to entities which are regarded as such by a recognized banking supervisory authority in the country in which they are incorporated.

2. Debt securities – general market risk

19. Report in this part the long and short trading book positions in debt securities and forward foreign exchange positions. A Maturity Method is adopted for the reporting of these positions as detailed below. Banks that possess the necessary capability to calculate the duration and price sensitivity of each position separately and wish to adopt such a duration approach for reporting in this part may seek approval from BSP.

20. Positions should be reported separately for each currency, i.e., banks should use separate sheets (Part 1.2 of the Report) to report positions of different currencies. The unadjusted market risk capital charge is then calculated for each currency according to procedures set out in paragraphs 28 to 31 with no offsetting between different currencies.
21. Under the Maturity Method, positions are slotted into the time bands of the maturity ladder (as shown in Part I.2 of the Report) by remaining maturity if fixed rate and by the period to the next repricing date if floating rate. (Refer to examples (1) and (2) in Annex A). For forward foreign exchange positions in the trading book, they should be treated as long and as short positions in a zero coupon government security of the 2 currencies with the same maturity as the forward contract. (Refer to example (3) in Annex A).

22. As with the reporting under Part I.1 of the Report, banks can offset long and short positions in identical instruments with exactly the same issuer, coupon, currency and maturity for general market risk purposes.

23. Opposite forward foreign exchange positions can in certain circumstances be regarded as matched and allowed to offset fully. The separate legs of different currency swaps may also be “matched” subject to the same conditions. To qualify for this treatment, the positions must relate to the same underlying currency and be of the same nominal value. In addition, the residual maturity must correspond within the following limits:
- if either of the instruments for offsetting has a residual maturity up to 1 month, the residual maturity must be the same for both instruments; and
- if either of the instruments for offsetting has a residual maturity greater than 1 month and up to 1 year, those residual maturities must be within 7 days of each other.

24. Banks with the necessary expertise and systems may use alternative formulae (the so called “pre-processing” techniques) to calculate the positions to be included in the maturity ladder. This applies to all interest rate sensitive positions, arising from physical instruments and currency forwards and swaps. One method is to first convert the payments required under each transaction into their present values. For that purpose, each cash flow should be discounted using zero-coupon yields. A single net figure of all of the cash flows within each time band may be reported. Banks wishing to adopt this or other methods for reporting should seek the BSP’s prior approval. The “pre-processing” models would be subject to review by the BSP.

Calculation of capital charges for interest rate exposures reported in Part I

25. The unadjusted minimum capital requirement is expressed in terms of two separately calculated charges, one applying to the “specific risk” of each trading book position in debt securities, whether it is a short or long position, and the other to the overall interest rate risk in the trading book portfolio (termed “general market risk”) where long and short positions in different securities and currency forwards and swaps can be offset subject to certain “disallowances”.

Specific risk

26. The unadjusted specific risk charge is graduated into five broad categories by types of issuer, as follows:

| Government and multilateral development banks* | 0.00% | 0.15% (residual maturity of 6 months or less) |
| Qualifying | 1.00% (residual maturity of over 6 months to 24 months) | 1.60% (residual maturity of over 24 months) |
| LGU bonds | 0.60% |
| Others | 4.00% |

* “Government and multilateral development banks” refers to the issuers as described under items 1.1 and 1.3 in Part I.1 of the Report.
 “Qualifying” refers to the issuers/issues as described under items 1.4 to 1.7 in Part I.1 of the Report.
 “LGU bonds” refers to bonds issued by local government units (LGUs), covered by Deed of Assignment of Internal Revenue Allotment of the LGU and guaranteed by LGU Guarantee Corporation.
27. Currency swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts will not be subject to a specific risk charge.

General market risk

28. General market risk applies to positions in all debt securities and currency forwards and swaps subject only to an exemption for fully or very closely matched positions in identical instruments as described in paragraphs 22 to 23 above. The unadjusted capital charge is the sum of the following components:
(a) the net short or long weighted position in the whole trading book;
(b) a small proportion of the matched positions in each time band (the “vertical disallowance”); and
(c) a larger proportion of the matched positions across different time-bands (the “horizontal disallowance”).

29. In the maturity ladder, first calculate the weighted positions by multiplying the positions reported in each time band by a risk-factor according to the following table:

30. The weighted longs and shorts in each time band will be offset resulting in a single short or long position for each band. A 10% capital charge (“vertical disallowance”) will be levied on the smaller of the offsetting positions, be it long or short. Thus, if the sum of the weighted longs in a time band is ₱100.0 million and the sum of the weighted shorts is ₱90.0 million, the vertical disallowance would be 10% of ₱90.0 million (i.e., ₱9.0 million).

31. Two rounds of “horizontal offsetting” will then be conducted, first between the net positions in each of 3 zones (zero to 1 year, over 1 year to 4 years and over 4 years), and subsequently between the net positions in the 3 different zones. The offsetting will be subject to a scale of disallowances expressed as a fraction of the matched positions, as set out in Table 2 below. The weighted long and short positions in each of 3 zones may be offset, subject to the matched portion attracting a disallowance factor that is part of the capital charge. The residual net position in each zone may be carried over and offset against opposite positions in other zones, subject to a second set of disallowance factors.

Part II Equity Exposures

32. Report in this part the long and short positions in equities in the trading book, including instruments that exhibit market behavior similar to equities. The instruments covered include common stock (whether voting or non-voting), and convertible bonds (i.e., debt issues or preference shares that are convertible, at a stated price, into common shares of the issuer) which trade like equities. For non-convertible preference shares and those convertible bonds which trade like debt securities, they should be reported under Part I. Long and short positions in the same issue may be reported on a net basis.

33. The positions are to be reported on a market-by-market basis, i.e., under separate columns to indicate the exchange where the reported equities are listed/traded. For foreign markets, banks should indicate the country where the market is located. (Refer to example (4) in Annex A) Equities with listing in more than one market should be reported as positions in the market of their primary listing.

34. Matched positions in each identical equity in each market may be fully offset, resulting in a single net short or long position.

35. As with interest rate exposures, the capital charge is levied to separately cover both the specific risk and the general market risk. Calculation is done on an individual market basis. The unadjusted capital charge for specific risk will be 8% on the gross (i.e., long plus short) positions. The unadjusted general market risk charge will be 8% on the net position. Net long and short positions in different markets cannot be offset for the purpose of calculating general market risk charge.

Part III Foreign Exchange Exposures

36. Report in this part the amount in US dollars (USD) of net long or net short position in each currency. In addition, structural positions taken deliberately to hedge against the effects of exchange rate movements on the capital adequacy of the reporting bank may be excluded. This should be cleared with the BSP prior to reporting.
37. Net long/(short) position shall refer to FX assets (excluding FX items allowed under existing regulations to be excluded from FX assets in the computation of a bank’s net FX position limits) less FX liabilities (excluding FX items allowed under existing regulations to be excluded from FX liabilities in the computation of a bank’s net FX position limits), plus contingent FX assets less contingent FX liabilities.

38. Banks which base their normal management accounting of forward currency positions on net present values shall use the net present values of each position, discounted using current interest rates, for measuring their positions. Otherwise, forward currency positions shall be measured based on notional amount.

39. The total USD amount of net long or net short position in each currency should then be converted at spot rates into Philippine peso. The overall net open position is the greater of the absolute value of the sum of net long position or sum of net short position.

40. The unadjusted capital charge will be 8% of the overall net open position.

Part IV Internal Models Approach

41. Only those banks which have obtained the BSP’s approval to adopt their internal value-at-risk (VaR) models to calculate their market risk capital charges in lieu of the standardized methodology are required to report in this part.

1. Value-at-risk results

42. Report in this part the value-at-risk (VaR) results as at the last trading day of the reference quarter in column (a) and the average VaR over the most recent 60 trading days of the reference quarter in column (b), both for each individual market risk category using internal models approach, i.e., items 1.1 to 1.3, and for the aggregate of these risk categories, i.e., item 1.4.

43. Provided that the BSP is satisfied with the bank’s system for measuring correlations, recognition of empirical correlations across broad risk categories (e.g., interest rates, equity prices and exchange rates) may be allowed. The VaR for the aggregate of all risk categories will therefore not necessarily be equal to an arithmetic sum of the VaR for the individual risk category.

44. Report also in this part the number of backtesting exceptions for the past 250 trading days (from the reference quarter-end going backwards), based on:
   - actual daily changes in portfolio value, in item 1.4. column (c), and
   - hypothetical changes in portfolio value that would occur were end-of-day positions to remain unchanged during the 1 day holding period, in item 1.4 column (d), for the aggregate of the broad risk categories.

45. The multiplication factor to be reported in item 1.4 column (e) is the summation of the following 3 elements:
   (a) the minimum multiplication factor of 3;
   (b) the “plus” factor ranging from 0 to 1 based on the number of backtesting exceptions (i.e., the larger of item 1.4 column (c) or item 1.4 column (d)) for the past 250 trading days as set out in Table 3 below; and
   (c) any additional “plus” factor as may be prescribed by the BSP.

46. Capital charge for general market risk calculated by internal models reported in item 1.6 is larger of:
(a) Item 1.4 column (a), i.e., VaR for the aggregate of all risk categories, as at the last trading day of the reference quarter; or
(b) Item 1.5, i.e., the average VaR for the last 60 trading days of the reference quarter [item 1.4 column (b)] times the multiplication factor [item 1.4 column (e)] set out in paragraph 45 above.

2. Specific risk

47. Capital charge for the specific risk of debt securities and equities is to be reported using either of the following two methods:
(a) For banks which incorporate the specific risk into their models, report the capital charge for the total specific risk calculated by the models in item 1.7 of Part IV.1; or
(b) For banks which do not incorporate the specific risk into their models, report the specific risk of debt securities in Part I.1 according to the instructions in paragraphs 14-18 and 26-27. For equities, report the specific risk in Part II according to the instructions in paragraphs 32 to 35.

3. Largest daily losses over the quarter

48. Report in this part in descending order (i.e., the largest loss first) the 5 largest daily losses over the reference quarter and their respective VaRs for the risk exposures which are measured by the internal models approach. If the number of daily losses during the quarter is less than 5, report only all such daily losses.

Part V Adjusted Capital Adequacy Ratio

49. The market risk capital charges should be aggregated and converted to a market risk-weighted exposure. The total market risk capital charge is the sum of the capital charges for individual market risk categories computed using either (a) the standardized approach, or (b) the internal models approach. The total capital charges for individual market risk categories using the standardized approach should be multiplied by 125% (to be consistent with the higher capital charge for credit risk, i.e., 10% as opposed to the BIS recommended 8%).

50. The total market risk-weighted exposures is computed by multiplying the total market risk capital charges by 10. (The multiplier 10 is the reciprocal of the BSP required minimum capital ratio for credit risk of 10%.) The qualifying capital and total credit risk weighted exposures are extracted from Part V.A and Part V.B, respectively, of the Report on the Computation of Risk-Based Capital Adequacy Ratio covering credit risk.

51. For on-balance-sheet debt securities and equities in the trading book included in Parts I, II and IV of this Report, the credit risk-weighted exposures reported in Part II of the Report on the Computation of the Risk-Based Capital Adequacy Ratio covering credit risk should be excluded in calculating the adjusted ratio covering combined credit risk and market risk. The market risk capital charges for these positions calculated in this Report cover all the capital requirements for absorbing potential losses arising from carrying such positions.
Suppose as at 31 December, 200X, ABC Bank Corporation has the following trading book positions:

(1) Long position in US Treasury Bond (7.5% annual coupon) with face value equivalent to PHP507.000MM and residual maturity of 8 years. Market value based on quoted price: PHP518.914MM equivalent.

(2) Long position in an unrated floating rate note (6.25% current annual coupon) issued by a US corporate with face value equivalent of PHP260.000MM and next repricing 9 months after. Market value based on quoted price: PHP264.758MM equivalent.

(3) Forward foreign exchange position of EUR5.000MM (long) against PHP250.000MM equivalent maturing in 3 months.

(4) Long 1000 shares of a US listed company with current market price of PHP715.000MM equivalent.

Treatments:

(1) Report market value (PHP518.914MM) of the long position in Part I.1, item I.2 and Part I.2, USD ladder, 7 to 10 years time band.

(2) Report market value (PHP264.758MM) of the long position in Part I.1, item 1.9 and Part I.2, USD ladder, 6 to 12 months time band.

(3) Report a long 3 months zero coupon security in Part I.2, EUR ladder, 1 to 3 months time band and a short 3 months zero coupon security in the Peso ladder, 1 to 3 months time band. Assume 3 months EUR cash rate at 3.25%, 3-month Peso zero-coupon yield at 5.63% and spot exchange rate is 46.

PV of the EUR leg (i.e. receive side)

\[ PV_{EUR} = \frac{EUR5.000\text{MM}}{1 + 0.0325 \times 0.25} = 228.146\text{MM equivalent} \]

PV of the PHP leg (i.e. pay side)

\[ PV_{PHP} = \frac{PHP250.000\text{MM}}{1 + 0.0563 \times 0.25} = 246.530\text{MM} \]

(For simplicity Part III of the report is not presented in this example.)

(4) Report market value in Part II, item 1 (US column).
A. Bank’s own self-assessment
A bank intending to use its own internal Value-at-Risk (VaR) models, in lieu of the standardized approach, for calculating market risk capital charge should conduct a self-assessment of its compliance with the requirements for the use of such models as prescribed in Appendix 46e, using the attached questionnaire in Annex A.

B. Offsite assessment by BSP
If a bank believes that it is in compliance with the abovementioned requirements for the use of internal models, it should submit a written application to the appropriate supervision and examination department of the BSP, together with the following:
1. Accomplished questionnaire;
2. A listing of the products to be included in the risk models;
3. Details as of end of the preceding quarter, by each product listed above, of:
   a. The size of positions in terms of market value; and
   b. The currencies in which it is traded;
4. Organizational structure and personnel;
   The bank should submit latest organizational chart showing the names, reporting lines, and responsibilities of key personnel in-charge of trading, and of functions supporting the trading operations such as risk control, back office, internal audit, etc., and those at board level to whom they report. For those responsible for trading, the bank should provide details of their relevant qualifications and experience in the area of trading. For those responsible for risk control, the bank should provide details of their relevant qualifications and experience, particularly on the use of bank’s models.

The bank should also provide information on the number of staff within the risk control unit, their internal reporting structure, responsibilities, qualifications and experience.
5. Full technical description of the model, indicating, among others, the following:
   a. the type of VaR model used (e.g., variance-covariance matrix, historical simulation or Monte Carlo simulation);
   b. the parameters which are integral to the VaR calculations, including assumptions regarding:
      (1) confidence interval;
      (2) holding period;
      (3) length of historical data used to calculate volatility parameters;
      (4) scaling factors applied to VaR numbers to convert shorter holding periods to longer holding periods;
      (5) weighting scheme applied to historical data (e.g., giving recent observations more weight than less recent observations);
      (6) probability distribution functions of input variables to the Monte Carlo simulation model;
      (7) the frequency of input data updates (e.g., how often are historical data series updated, when are variance-covariance matrices revised, etc.);
      (8) the other models which are used as inputs to the VaR model (e.g., option pricing models, interest rate sensitivity models, etc.) and how they interface with the model; and
      (9) the frequency of VaR calculation;
   c. an outline of the VaR risk measurement calculation and processes, including, where necessary, mathematical formulae. This should also include:

(1) the manner in which non-linear products, like options, are incorporated in the model;
(2) the extent to which correlation is allowed both within and across risk categories (i.e., interest rates, equity prices, exchange rates); and
(3) the means by which specific risk is addressed within the VaR framework, if appropriate, and the explanation of the techniques by which this is achieved.

   The bank should describe the methods of backtesting employed, including the treatment of intra-day trading profits and loss and fee income within the daily profit and loss figures. While the formal implementation of the BSP prescribed backtesting program should begin on the quarter following the date of BSP's recognition of the bank's internal model and thus implies that the formal accounting of exceptions under the BSP prescribed backtesting program would be a year later, the bank should, at initial assessment, submit at least the latest backtesting result based on its own backtesting program, including the confidence level used in calculating the VaR numbers. The confidence level used shall dictate the number of daily observations on which the backtesting will be applied (e.g., 250 number of observations for a ninety-nine percent (99%) confidence level, and a higher number of observations for a confidence level higher than ninety-nine percent (99%), subject to a minimum of 250 observations.

7. Policies and procedures for stress testing.

8. Internal validation reports which should include the following:
   a. the latest review of the overall risk management process by the applicant bank's internal auditors; and
   b. the latest validation of the formulae used in the calculation process, as well as for the pricing of options and other complex instruments by a qualified unit which is independent from the trading area; and

9. Validation reports of external auditor.
   The bank should stand ready to make a presentation to the BSP on its compliance with the abovementioned requirements for the use of internal models.

C. On-site assessment by BSP
   The BSP shall conduct an on-site assessment of the models to review both the technical details of the models and the risk management practices that govern their use.
   During the on-site assessment, the bank should give a brief demonstration of how its models work. The demonstration should cover the following:
   1. how model inputs are fed into the system including extent of manual inputs;
   2. how VaR numbers are calculated;
   3. how results are generated and interpreted;
   4. accuracy in terms of back testing results;
   5. stress testing capability;
   6. use of model outputs in risk management; and
   7. limitations of the model.
   The on-site assessment shall also include interview with the concerned officers and personnel of the bank.

D. Assessment on an ongoing basis by the BSP.
   After initial recognition of the models by the BSP, the bank should inform the BSP of any material change to the models, including change in the methodology or scope to cover new products and instruments. The BSP shall determine whether the models remain acceptable for calculating the market risk capital charge. The BSP shall likewise conduct a periodic assessment of the models and the controls surrounding the models at least annually to ensure that they remain compliant with the minimum qualitative and quantitative requirements prescribed under Appendix 46 on an ongoing basis. Non-compliance with the minimum requirements shall be ground for disallowing the use of such models.

III. Specification of Market Risk Factors

A. Interest Rates

- Is there a set of risk factors corresponding to interest rates in each currency in which the bank has interest rate-sensitive on- or off-balance sheet positions?

- Does the risk measurement system model the yield curve using one (1) of a number of generally accepted approaches, e.g., by estimating forward rates of zero coupon yields?

- Is the yield curve divided into various maturity segments in order to capture variation in the volatility of rates along the yield curve, with one (1) risk factor corresponding to each maturity segment?

- For material exposures to interest rate movements in the major currencies and markets, does the bank model the yield curve using a minimum of six (6) risk factors?

- Does the risk measurement system incorporate separate risk factors to capture spread risk (e.g., between bonds and swaps)?

¹ The questions in this checklist may already be addressed by other materials submitted by the Bank. In such cases, please indicate in this column the appropriate reference document.
B. Equity Prices

1. Are there risk factors corresponding to each of the equity markets in which the bank holds significant positions?
2. Is there, at a minimum, a risk factor that is designed to capture market-wide movements in equity prices (e.g., a market index)?
3. Does the sophistication and nature of the modeling technique for a given market correspond to the bank’s exposure to the overall market as well as its concentration in individual equity issues in that market?

C. Exchange Rates

Does the risk measurement system incorporate risk factors corresponding to the individual foreign currencies in which the bank’s positions are denominated, i.e., are there risk factors corresponding to the exchange rate between the Philippine peso and each foreign currency in which the bank has a significant exposure?

IV. Quantitative Standards

1. Is “Value-at-risk” (VaR) computed on a daily basis?
2. Is a 99th percentile, one-tailed confidence interval used?
3. Is an instantaneous price shock equivalent to a ten (10) day movement in prices used, i.e., is the minimum “holding period” ten (10) trading days?
   · If VaR numbers are calculated according to a shorter holding period, is this scaled up to ten (10) days by the square root of time?

1 The questions in this checklist may already be addressed by other materials submitted by the Bank. In such cases, please indicate in this column the appropriate reference document.
4. Is the historical observation period (sample period) at least one (1) year?
   - If a weighting scheme or other methods for the historical observation period are used, is the “effective” observation period at least one (1) year (that is, the weighted average time lag of the individual observations is not less than six (6) months)?

5. Are data sets updated no less frequently than once every three (3) months?
   - Are data sets reassessed whenever market prices are subject to material changes?

6. For banks with option transactions
   - Does the bank’s model capture the non-linear price characteristics of options positions?
   - Is a ten (10)-day price shock applied to options positions or positions that display option-like characteristics?
   - Does the bank’s risk measurement system have a set of risk factors that captures the volatilities of the rates and prices underlying option positions, i.e., vega risk?
   - For banks with relatively large and/or complex options portfolios, does the bank have detailed specifications of the relevant options volatilities, i.e., does the bank measure the volatilities of options positions broken down by different maturities?

V. Stress Testing

1. Does the bank have a rigorous and comprehensive stress-testing program in place?

VI. External Validation

Is the model accuracy validated by external auditor?

- If yes, does the validation include -
  - Verification of the internal auditors’ report on their review of the bank’s overall risk management process?
  - Ensuring that the formula used in the calculation process, as well as for pricing of options and other complex instruments, are validated by a qualified unit, which is independent from the trading area?
  - Checking the adequacy of the structure of the internal models with respect to the bank’s activities?
  - Checking the results of the backtesting to ensure that the internal model provides a reliable measure of potential loss over time?
  - Ensuring the transparency and accessibility of the data flows and processes associated with the risk measurement system?

All covered institutions, including banks insofar as non-deposit and non-government bond investment transactions are concerned, shall incorporate in their money laundering programs the provisions of these Rules and such other guidelines for reporting to the AMLC of all transactions that engender the reasonable belief that a money laundering offense is about to be, is being, or has been committed.

1. All covered institutions are required to file STRs on transactions involving all kinds of monetary instruments or property.

2. Banks shall file CTRs on transactions involving all kinds of monetary instruments or property, i.e., in cash or non-cash, whether in domestic or foreign currency.

3. Covered institutions, other than banks, shall file CTRs on transactions in cash or foreign currency or other monetary instruments (other than checks) or properties. Due to the nature of the transactions in the stock exchange, only the brokers-dealers shall be required to file CTRs and STRs. The PSE, PCD, SCCP and transfer agents are exempt from filing CTRs. They, however, required to file STRs when the transactions that pass through them are deemed to be suspicious.

4. Where the covered institution engages in bulk transactions with a bank, i.e., deposits of premium payments in bulk or settlements of trade, and the bulk transactions do not distinguish clients and their respective transaction amounts, said covered institutions shall be required to file CTRs on its clients whose transactions exceed P500,000 and are included in the bulk transactions.

5. With respect to insurance companies, when the total amount of the premiums for the entire year, regardless of the mode of payment (monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually), exceeds P500,000, such amount shall be reported as a covered transaction, even if the amounts of the amortizations are less than the threshold amount. The CTR shall be filed upon payment of the first premium amount, regardless of the mode of payment. Under this rule, the insurance company shall file the CTR only once every year until the policy matures or rescinded, whichever comes first.

6. The submission of CTRs is deferred until the AMLC directs otherwise. Submission of STRs, however, are not deferred and covered institutions are mandated to submit such STRs when the circumstances so require.

* The Anti-Money Laundering Council (AMLC), in the exercise of its authority under Sections 7(1) and 9 of Republic Act No. 9160, otherwise known as the "Anti-Money Laundering Act of 2001", as amended, and its Revised Implementing Rules and Regulations, resolved to:

1. Defer reporting by covered institutions to AMLC of the following "non-cash, no/low risk covered transactions:
   - Transactions between banks and the BSP;
   - Transactions between banks operating in the Philippines;
   - Internal operating expenses of the banks;
   - Transactions involving transfer of funds from one deposit account to another deposit account of the same person within the same bank;
   - Roll-overs of placements of time deposits; and
   - Loan interest/principal payment debited against borrower’s deposit account maintained with the lending bank.

2. Request the BSP-supervised institutions, through the Association of Bank Compliance Officers (ABCOMP), to determine and report to AMLC the specific transactions falling within the purview of the aforesaid BSP-identified categories on "non-cash, no/low risk" covered transactions.

b. All covered institutions should:

1. Submit corresponding electronic copy version, in the required format, of those STRs previously submitted in hard copy or the hard copy version of those submitted only in electronic form, as the case may be, retroactive to 05 January 2004; and

2. Re-submit in required electronic form, those CTRs that have been submitted previously in hard copy or on diskette not in the required format, retroactive to 23 March 2003.
Anti-Money Laundering Council Resolution No. 10

It has come to the Council’s attention that a number of banks failed to file Suspicious Transaction Reports (STRs) in cases involving deposit of fraudulent or spurious checks based on the impression that only either the original depository bank or drawee bank has the obligation to file the required STR.

Some banks are also of the impression that the filing to the BSP of Reports on Crimes and Losses involving deposit of fraudulent or spurious checks dispenses with the filing of STR with the AMLC.

A check deposit usually involves three (3) parties: the depositor, the depository bank and the drawee bank. In cases where the depository bank has no clearing facilities, the check is deposited to another bank (presenting bank) which has clearing facilities, which shall then present the check to the drawee bank for payment. Necessarily, each movement of the check creates a contractual relationship between the transacting parties, i.e., between the depositor and the depository bank; between the depository bank and the presenting bank; and between the presenting bank and the drawee bank. In other words, the initial deposit of a check with a depository bank, its deposit with another bank (in case the original depository bank has no clearing facilities), and its presentment to the drawee bank for payment are all deemed separate or individual “transactions”, as defined under Section 3 (h) of R.A. 9160, as amended.

In case a fraudulent or spurious check is deposited and the drawee bank detects the fraudulent issuance and/or negotiation thereof, it necessarily informs the presenting bank of the dishonor of the check and the reason for such dishonor. It becomes incumbent upon the drawee bank to report to the AMLC the fraudulent transaction. The presenting bank, in turn, informs the depository bank of the dishonor of the check. Evidently, all the transacting banks are actually informed of the fraudulent character of the check.

As the deposit and presentment of the fraudulent check are related to the unlawful activity of Estafa, such transactions are deemed suspicious and all transacting banks should file STRs with the AMLC within five (5) working days from occurrence thereof, or from the time they are notified or become aware of the fraudulent or spurious character of the check involved in the transactions, pursuant to Section 9 (c) of the AMLA.

The Council resolved to enjoin all banks to strictly comply with the requirement on reporting of suspicious transactions and remind them of the following:

1. A bank through which a fraudulent or spurious check passes, either as depository, presenting, or drawee bank, shall file the corresponding STR pursuant to Section 9 (c) of R.A. No. 9160, as amended.
2. The STR shall be filed within five (5) working days from the occurrence of the transaction, or from the time the concerned bank is notified or becomes aware of the spurious character of the check or the fraudulent nature of the transaction.
3. The filing with the BSP of a Report on Crimes and Losses relating to the deposit of a fraudulent or spurious check does not dispense with the filing of the STR with the AMLC pursuant to Section 9 (c) of R.A. 9160, as amended.

(CL-2007-010 dated 28 February 2007)
1. Customer acceptance policy

Banks should develop clear customer acceptance policies and procedures, including a description of the types of customer that are unacceptable to bank management. In preparing such policies, factors such as customers' background, country of origin, public or high profile position, business activities or other risk indicators should be considered. Banks should develop graduated customer acceptance policies and procedures that require more extensive due diligence for high risk customers. For example, the policies may require the most basic account-opening requirements for a working individual with a small account balance, whereas quite extensive due diligence may be deemed essential for an individual with a high net worth whose source of funds is unclear. Decisions to enter into business relationships with high risk customers, such as individuals holding important/prominent positions, public or private (see below), should be taken exclusively at senior management level.

2. Customer identification

Customer identification is an essential element of KYC standards. A customer is defined as any person or entity that keeps an account with a bank and any person or entity on whose behalf an account is maintained, as well as the beneficiaries of transactions conducted by professional financial intermediaries. Specifically, a customer should include an account holder and the beneficial owner of an account. A customer should also include the beneficiary of a trust, an investment fund, a pension fund or a company whose assets are managed by an asset manager, or the grantor of a trust.

Banks should establish a systematic procedure for verifying the identity of new customers and should never enter into a business relationship until the identity of a new customer is satisfactorily established. Banks should "document and enforce policies for identification of customers and those acting on their behalf". The best documents for verifying the identity of customers are those most difficult to obtain illicitly and to counterfeit, such as passport, driver's license or alien certificate of registration. Special attention should be exercised in the case of non-resident customers and in no case should a bank short-circuit identity procedures just because the new customer is unable to present himself for interview. The bank should always ask itself why the customer has chosen to open an account in a foreign jurisdiction.

The customer identification process applies naturally at the outset of the relationship, but there is also a need to apply KYC standards to existing customer accounts. Where such standards have been introduced only recently and do not as yet apply fully to existing customers, a risk assessment exercise can be undertaken and priority given to obtaining necessary information, where it is deficient, in respect of the higher risk cases. An appropriate time to review the information available on existing customers is when a transaction of significance takes place, or when there is a material change in the way that the account is operated. However, if a bank is aware that it lacks sufficient information about an existing high-risk customer, it should take steps to ensure that all relevant information is obtained as quickly as possible. In addition, the supervisor needs to set an appropriate target date for completion of a KYC review and regularization of all existing accounts. In any event, a bank should undertake regular reviews of its customer base to establish that it has up-to-date information and a proper understanding of its account holders’ identity and of their business.

Banks that offer private banking services are particularly exposed to reputational risk.
Private banking by nature involves a large measure of confidentiality. Private banking accounts can be opened in the name of an individual, a commercial business, a trust, an intermediary or a personalized investment company. In each case reputational risk may arise if the bank does not diligently follow established KYC procedures. In no circumstances should private banking operations function autonomously, or as a “bank within a bank”, and no part of the bank should ever escape the required procedures. This means that all new clients and new accounts should be approved by at least one person other than the private banking relationship manager. If particular safeguards are put in place internally to protect confidentiality of private banking customers and their business, banks must still ensure that at least equivalent scrutiny and monitoring of these customers and their business can be conducted, e.g., they must be open to review by compliance officers and auditors.

2.1 General identification requirements

Banks need to obtain all information necessary to establish to their full satisfaction the identity of each new customer and the purpose and intended nature of the business relationship. The extent and nature of the information depends on the type of applicant (personal, corporate, etc.) and the expected size of the account. National supervisors are encouraged to provide guidance to assist banks in their designing their own identification procedures. Examples of the type of information that would be appropriate are set out in Annex B-1.

Banks should apply their full KYC procedures to applicants that plan to transfer an opening balance from another FI, bearing in mind that the previous account manager may have asked for the account to be removed because of a concern about dubious activities.

Banks should never agree to open an account or conduct ongoing business with a customer who insists on anonymity or “bearer” status or who gives a fictitious name. Nor should confidential numbered accounts function as anonymous accounts but they should be subject to exactly the same KYC procedures as all other customer accounts, even if the test is carried out by selected staff. Whereas a numbered account can offer additional protection for the identity of the account-holder, the identity must be known to a sufficient number of staff to operate proper due diligence. Such accounts should in no circumstances be used to hide the customer identity from a bank’s compliance function or from the supervisors.

Banks need to be vigilant in preventing corporate business entities from being used by natural persons as a method of operating anonymous accounts.
Personal asset holding vehicles, such as international business companies (IBCs), may make proper identification of customers or beneficial owners difficult.

1 Some banks insulate their private banking functions or create Chinese walls as a means of providing additional protection for customer confidentiality.

2 In a numbered account, the name of the beneficial owner is known to the bank but is substituted by an account number or code name in subsequent documentation.
A bank should take all steps necessary to satisfy itself that it knows the true identity of the ultimate owner of all such entities.

2.2 Specific identification issues

There are a number of more detailed issues relating to customer identification which need to be addressed. Particular comments are invited on the issues mentioned in this section. Several of these are currently under consideration by the FATF as part of a general review of its forty (40) recommendations, and the Working Group recognizes the need to be consistent with the FATF.

2.2.1 Trust, nominee and fiduciary accounts or client accounts opened by professional intermediaries

Trust, nominee and fiduciary accounts can be used to avoid customer identification procedures. While it may be legitimate under certain circumstances to provide an extra layer of security to protect the confidentiality of legitimate private banking customers, it is essential that the true relationship is understood. Banks should establish whether the customer is acting on behalf of another person as trustee, nominee or professional intermediary (e.g., a lawyer or an accountant). If so, a necessary precondition is receipt of satisfactory evidence of the identity of any intermediaries and of the persons upon whose behalf they are acting, as well as details of the nature of the trust or other arrangements in place.

Banks may hold "pooled" accounts (e.g., client accounts managed by law firms) or accounts opened on behalf of pooled entities, such as mutual funds and money managers. In such cases, banks have to decide, given the circumstances, whether the customer is the intermediary, or whether it would be more appropriate to look through the intermediary to the ultimate beneficial owners. In each case, the identity of the customer that is subject to due diligence should be clearly established. The beneficial owners should be verified where possible. Where not, the banks should perform due diligence on the intermediary and establish to its complete satisfaction that the intermediary has a sound due diligence process for each of its clients.

Special care needs to be exercised in initiating business transactions with companies that have nominee shareholders or shares in bearer form. Satisfactory evidence of the identity of beneficial owners of all companies needs to be obtained.

The above procedures may prove difficult for banks in some countries to follow. In the case of professional intermediaries such as lawyers, there might exist professional codes of conduct preventing the dissemination of information concerning their clients. The FATF is currently engaged in a review of KYC procedures governing accounts opened by lawyers on behalf of clients. The Working Group has therefore not taken a definitive position on this issue.

2.2.2 Introduced business

The performance of identification procedures can be time consuming and there is a natural desire to limit any inconvenience for new customers. In some countries, it has therefore become customary for banks to rely on the procedures undertaken by other banks or introducers when business is being referred. In doing so, banks risk placing excessive reliance on the due diligence procedures that they expect the introducers to have performed. Relying on due diligence conducted by an introducer, however reputable, does not in any way remove the ultimate responsibility of the recipient bank to know its customers and their business. In particular, banks should not rely on introducers that are subject to weaker standards than those governing the banks’ own KYC procedures or that are unwilling to share copies of due diligence documentation.

The FATF is currently engaged in a review of the appropriateness of eligible introducers, i.e., whether they should be confined to reputable banks only or should extend to other regulated institutions, whether a bank should establish a contractual relationship with its introducers and whether it is appropriate to rely on a third party introducer at all. The Working Group is still developing its thinking on this topic.

2.2.3 Reputational risk

Business relationship with individuals holding important/prominent positions, public or private, and with persons or companies clearly related to them may expose a bank to significant reputational and/or legal risks.

Accepting and managing funds from such persons could put at risk the bank’s own reputation and can undermine public confidence in the ethical standards of an entire financial centre, since such cases usually receive extensive media attention and strong political reaction, even if the illegal origin of the assets is often difficult to prove. In addition, the bank may be subject to costly information requests and seizure orders from law enforcement or judicial authorities (including international mutual assistance procedures in criminal matters) and could be liable to actions for damages by the state concerned or the victims of a regime.

Under certain circumstances, the bank and/or its officers and employees themselves can be exposed to charges of money laundering, if they know or should have known that the funds stemmed from corruption or other serious crimes.

3. On-going monitoring of high risk accounts

On-going monitoring of accounts and transactions is an essential aspect of effective KYC procedures. Banks can only effectively control and reduce their risk if they have an understanding of normal and reasonable account activity of their customers. Without such knowledge, they are likely to fail in their duty to report suspicious transactions to the appropriate authorities in cases where they are required to do so. The on-going monitoring process includes the following:

- Banks should develop “clear standards on what records must be kept on customer identification and individual transactions and the retention period”.

  As the starting point and natural follow-up of the identification process, banks should obtain and keep up to date customer identification papers and retain them for at least five (5) years after an account is closed. They should also retain all financial transaction records for at least five (5) years after the transaction has taken place.

- Banks should ensure that they have adequate management information systems to provide managers and compliance officers with timely information needed to identify, analyze and effectively monitor higher risk customer accounts. The types of reports that may be needed include reports of missing account opening documentation, transactions made through a customer account that are unusual, and aggregations of a customer’s total relationship with the bank.

- Senior management of a bank in charge of private banking business should know the personal circumstances of the bank’s large/important customers and be alert to sources of third party information. Every bank should draw its own distinction between large/important customers and others, and set threshold indicators for them accordingly, taking into account the country of origin and other risk factors. Significant transactions by high-risk customers should be approved by a senior manager.

- Banks should have systems in place to detect unusual or suspicious patterns of activity. This can be done by establishing limits for a particular class or category of accounts. Particular attention should be paid to transactions that exceed these limits. Certain types of transactions should alert banks to the possibility that the customer is conducting undesirable activities. They may include transactions that do not make economic or commercial sense, or that involve large amounts of cash deposits that are not consistent with the normal and expected transactions of the customer. Very high account turnover, inconsistent with the size of the balance, may indicate that funds are being "washed" through the account. A list of suspicious activities drawn up by supervisors can be very helpful to banks.

- Bank should develop a clear policy and internal guidelines, procedures and controls and remain especially vigilant regarding business relationships with individuals holding important/prominent positions, public or private, and high profile individuals or with persons and companies that are clearly related to or associated with them.1

4. Risk Management

Effective KYC procedures embrace routines for proper management oversight, systems and controls, segregation of duties, training and other related policies. The board of directors of the bank should be fully committed to an effective KYC programme by establishing appropriate procedures and ensuring their effectiveness. Banks should appoint a senior officer with explicit responsibility for ensuring that the bank’s policies and procedures are, at a minimum, in accordance with local supervisory practice. Banks should have clear written procedures, communicated to all personnel, for staff to report suspicious transactions to a specified senior manager. That manager must then assess whether the bank’s statutory obligations under recognized suspicious activity reporting regimes require the transaction to be reported to the appropriate law enforcement and supervisory authorities.

All banks must have an ongoing employee-training programme so that bank staff is adequately trained in KYC procedures. The timing and content of training for various sectors of staff will need to be adapted by the bank for its own needs. Training requirements should have a different focus for new staff, front-line staff, compliance staff or staff dealing with new customers. New staff should be educated in the importance of KYC policies and the basic requirements at the bank. Front-line staff members who deal directly with the public should be trained to verify the customer identity for new customers, to exercise due diligence in handling accounts of existing customers on an ongoing basis and to detect patterns of suspicious activity. Regular refresher training should be provided to ensure that staff is reminded of their responsibilities.

1 It is unrealistic to expect the bank to know or investigate every distant family, political or business connection of a foreign customer. The need to pursue suspicions will depend on the size of the assets or turnover, pattern of transactions, economic background, reputation of the country, plausibility of the customer’s explanations etc. It should however be noted that individuals holding important/prominent positions, public or private (or rather their family members and friends) would not necessarily present themselves in that capacity, but rather as ordinary (albeit wealthy) business people, masking the fact they owe their high position in a legitimate business corporation only to their privileged relation with the holder of the public office.
It is crucial that all relevant staff fully understand the need for and implement KYC policies consistently. A culture within banks that promotes such understanding is the key to successful implementation.

Banks’ internal audit and compliance functions have important responsibilities in evaluating and ensuring adherence to KYC policies and procedures. As a general rule, the compliance function provides an independent evaluation of the bank’s own policies and procedures, including legal and regulatory requirements. Its responsibilities should include ongoing monitoring of staff performance through sample testing of compliance and review of exception reports to alert senior management or the Board of Directors if it believes management is failing to address KYC procedures in a responsible manner.

Internal audit plays an important role in independently evaluating the risk management and controls, discharging its responsibility to the Audit Committee of the board of directors or a similar oversight body through periodic evaluations of the effectiveness of compliance with KYC policies and procedures. Management should ensure that audit functions are staffed adequately with individuals who are well-versed in such policies and procedures. In addition, internal auditors should be proactive in following-up their findings and criticisms.
This annex presents a suggested list of identification requirements for personal customers and corporates. National supervisors are encouraged to provide guidance to assist banks in designing their own identification procedures.

Personal customers

For personal customers, banks need to obtain the following information:
1. Name and/or names used;
2. Permanent residential address;
3. Date and place of birth;
4. Name of employer or nature of self-employment/business;
5. Specimen signature; and Additional information would relate to nationality or country of origin, public or high profile position, etc. Banks should verify the information against original documents of identity issued by an official authority (examples including identity cards and passports). Such documents should be those that are most difficult to obtain illicitly. In countries where new customers do not possess the prime identity documents, e.g., identity cards, passports or driving licenses, some flexibility may be required. However, particular care should be taken in accepting documents that are easily forged or which can be easily obtained in false identities. Where there is face to face contact, the appearance should be verified against an official document bearing a photograph. Any subsequent changes to the above information should also be recorded and verified.

Corporate and other business customers

For corporate and other business customers, banks should obtain evidence of their legal status, such as an incorporation document, partnership agreement, association documents or a business licence. For large corporate accounts, a financial statement of the business or a description of the customer’s principal line of business should also be obtained. In addition, if significant changes to the company structure or ownership occur subsequently, further checks should be made. In all cases, banks need to verify that the corporation or business entity exists and engages in its stated business. The original documents or certified copies of certificates should be produced for verification.
General Guide to Account Opening and Customer Identification

1. The Basel Committee on Banking Supervision in its paper on Customer Due Diligence for Banks published in October 2001 referred to the intention of the Working Group on Cross-border Banking to develop guidance on customer identification. Customer identification is an essential element of an effective customer due diligence programme which banks need to put in place to guard against reputational, operational, legal and concentration risks. It is also necessary in order to comply with anti-money laundering legal requirements and a prerequisite for the identification of bank accounts related to terrorism.

2. What follows is account opening and customer identification guidelines and a general guide to good practice based on the principles of the Basel Committee's Customer Due Diligence for Banks paper. This document, which has been developed by the Working Group on Cross-border Banking, does not cover every eventuality, but instead focuses on some of the mechanisms that banks can use in developing an effective customer identification programme.

3. These guidelines represent a starting point for supervisors and banks in the area of customer identification. This document does not address the other elements of the Customer Due Diligence for Banks paper, such as the ongoing monitoring of accounts. However, these elements should be considered in the development of effective customer due diligence, anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism procedures.

4. These guidelines may be adapted for use by national supervisors who are seeking to develop or enhance customer identification programmes. However, supervisors should recognize that any customer identification programme should reflect the different types of customers (individual vs. institution) and the different levels of risk resulting from a customer's relationship with a bank. Higher risk transactions and relationships, such as those with politically exposed persons or organizations, will clearly require greater scrutiny than lower risk transactions and accounts.

5. Guidelines and best practices created by national supervisors should also reflect the various types of transactions that are most prevalent in the national banking system. For example, non-face-to-face opening of accounts may be more prevalent in one country than another. For this reason the customer identification procedures may differ between countries.

6. Some identification documents are more vulnerable to fraud than others. For those that are most susceptible to fraud, or where there is uncertainty concerning the validity of the document(s) presented, the bank should verify the information provided by the customer through additional inquiries or other sources of information.

7. Customer identification documents should be retained for at least five (5) years after an account is closed. All financial transaction records should be retained for at least five (5) years after the transaction has taken place.

1 The Working Group on Cross-border Banking is a joint group consisting of members of the Basel Committee and of the Offshore Group of Banking Supervisors.
8. These guidelines are divided into two (2) sections covering different aspects of customer identification. Section A describes what types of information should be collected and verified for natural persons seeking to open accounts or perform transactions. Section B describes what types of information should be collected and verified for institutions and is in two (2) parts, the first relating to corporate vehicles and the second to other types of institutions.

9. All the terms used in these guidelines have the same meaning as in the Customer Due Diligence for Banks paper.

Section A. Natural Persons

10. For natural persons the following information should be obtained, where applicable:
- legal name and any other names used (such as maiden name);
- correct permanent address (the full address should be obtained; a Post Office box number is not sufficient);
- telephone number, fax number, and e-mail address;
- date and place of birth;
- nationality;
- occupation, public position held and/or name of employer;
- an official person identification number or other unique identifier contained in an unexpired official document (e.g., passport, identification card, social security records, driving license) that bears a photograph of the customer;
- type of account and nature of the banking relationship;
- signature.

11. The bank should verify this information by at least one of the following methods:
- confirming the date of birth from an official document (e.g., birth certificate, passport, identity card, social security records);
- confirming the permanent address (e.g., utility bill, tax assessment, bank statement, a letter from a public authority);
- contacting the customer by telephone, by letter or by e-mail to confirm the information supplied after an account has been opened (e.g., a disconnected phone, returned mail, or incorrect e-mail address should warrant further investigation);
- confirming the validity of the official documentation provided through certification by an authorized person (e.g., embassy official, notary public).

12. The examples quoted above are not the only possibilities. In particular jurisdictions there may be other documents of an equivalent nature which may be produced as satisfactory evidence of customer’s identity.

13. FIs should apply equally effective customer identification procedures for non-face-to-face customers as for those available for interview.

14. From the information provided in paragraph 10, FIs should be able to make an initial assessment of a customer’s risk profile. Particular attention needs to be focused on those customers identified thereby as having a higher risk profile and additional inquiries made or information obtained in respect of those customers to include the following:
- evidence of an individual’s permanent address sought through a credit reference agency search, or through independent verification by home visits;
- personal reference (i.e., by an existing customer of the same institution);
- prior bank reference and contact with the bank regarding the customer;
- source of wealth; and verification of employment, public position held (where appropriate).

15. For one-off or occasional transactions where the amount of the transaction or series of linked transactions does not exceed an established minimum monetary value, it might be sufficient to require and record only name and address.

16. It is important that the customer acceptance policy is not so restrictive that it results in a denial of access by the general public to banking services, especially for people who are financially or socially disadvantaged.

Section B. Institutions

17. The underlying principles of customer identification for natural persons have equal application to customer identification for all institutions. Where in the following the identification and verification of natural persons is involved, the foregoing guidance in respect of such persons should have equal application.

18. The term institution includes any entity that is not a natural person. In considering the customer identification guidance for the different types of institutions, particular attention should be given to the different levels of risk involved.

I. Corporate Entities

19. For corporate entities (i.e., corporations and partnerships), the following information should be obtained:

- name of institution;
- principal place of institution’s business operations;
- mailing address of institution;
- contact telephone and fax numbers;
- some form of official identification number, if available (e.g., TIN);
- the original or certified copy of the Certificate of Incorporation and Memorandum and Articles of Association;
- the resolution of the Board of Directors to open an account and identification of those who have authority to operate the account; and
- nature and purpose of business and its legitimacy.

20. The bank should verify this information by at least one of the following methods:

- for established corporate entities - reviewing a copy of the latest report and accounts (audited if available);
- conducting an enquiry by a business information service, or an undertaking from a reputable and known firm of lawyers or accountants confirming the documents submitted;
- undertaking a company search and/or other commercial inquiries to see that the institution has not been, or is not in the process of being, dissolved, struck off, wound up or terminated;
- utilizing an independent information verification process, such as by accessing public and private databases;
- obtaining prior bank references;
- visiting the corporate entity, where practical; and
- contacting the corporate entity by telephone, mail or e-mail.

21. The bank should also take reasonable steps to verify the identity and reputation of any agent that opens an account on behalf of a corporate customer, if that agent is not an officer of the corporate customer.

Corporations/Partnerships

22. For corporations/partnerships, the principal guidance is to look behind the institution to identify those who have control over the business and the company’s/partnership’s assets, including those who have ultimate control. For corporations, particular attention should be paid to shareholders, signatories, or others who inject a significant proportion of the capital or financial support or otherwise exercise control. Where the owner is another corporate entity or trust, the objective is to undertake reasonable measures to look behind that company or entity and to verify the identity of the principals. What constitutes control for this purpose will depend on the nature of a company, and may rest in those who are mandated to manage funds, accounts or investments without requiring further authorization, and who would be in a position to override internal procedures and control mechanisms. For partnerships, each partner should be identified and it is also important to identify immediate family members that have ownership control.

23. Where a company is listed on a recognized stock exchange or is a subsidiary of such a company then the company itself may be considered to be the principal to be identified. However, consideration should be given to whether there is effective control of a listed company by an individual, small group of individuals or another corporate entity or trust. If this is the case then those controllers should also be considered to be principals and identified accordingly.

II. Other Types of Institution

24. For the account categories referred to paragraphs 26 to 34, the following information should be obtained in addition to that required to verify the identity of the principals:
   - name of account;
   - mailing address;
   - contact telephone and fax numbers;
   - some form of official identification number, if available (e.g., TIN);
   - description of the purpose/activities of the account holder (e.g., in a formal constitution); and
   - copy of documentation confirming the legal existence of the account holder (e.g., register of charities).

25. The bank should verify this information by at least one of the following:
   - obtaining an independent undertaking from a reputable and known firm of lawyers or accountants confirming the documents submitted;
   - obtaining prior bank references; and
   - accessing public and private databases or official sources.

Retirement Benefit Programmes

26. Where an occupational pension programme, employee benefit trust or share option plan is an applicant for an account the trustee and any other person who has control over the relationship (e.g., administrator, programme manager, and account signatories) should be considered as principals and the bank should take steps to verify their identities.

Mutuals/Friendly Societies, Cooperatives and Provident Societies

27. Where these entities are an applicant for an account, the principals to be identified should be considered to be those persons exercising control or significant influence over the organization's assets. This will often include board members plus executives and account signatories.

Charities, Clubs and Associations

28. In the case of accounts to be opened for charities, clubs, and societies, the bank should take reasonable steps to identify and verify at least two signatories along with the institution itself. The principals who should be identified should be considered to be those persons exercising control or significant influence over the organization's assets. This will often include members of a governing body.
or committee, the president, any board members, the treasurer, and all signatories.

29. In all cases, independent verification should be obtained that the persons involved are true representatives of the institution. Independent confirmation should also be obtained of the purpose of the institution.

Trusts and Foundations

30. When opening an account for a trust, the bank should take reasonable steps to verify the trustee(s), the settler(s) of the trust (including any persons settling assets into the trust) any protector(s), beneficiary(ies), and signatories. Beneficiaries should be identified when they are defined. In the case of a foundation, steps should be taken to verify the founder, the managers/directors and the beneficiaries.

Professional Intermediaries

31. When a professional intermediary opens a client account on behalf of a single client that client must be identified. Professional intermediaries will often open "pooled" accounts on behalf of a number of entities. Where funds held by the intermediary are not co-mingled but where there are "sub-accounts" which can be attributable to each beneficial owner, all beneficial owners of the account held by the intermediary should be identified. Where the funds are co-mingled, the bank should look through to the beneficial owners; however, there may be circumstances which should be set out in supervisory guidance where the bank may not need to look beyond the intermediary (e.g., when the intermediary is subject to the same due diligence standards in respect of its client base as the bank).

32. Where such circumstances apply and an account is opened for an open or close-ended investment company, unit trust or limited partnership which is also subject to the same diligence standards in respect of its client base as the bank, the following should be considered as principals and the bank should take steps to identify:
- the fund itself;
- its directors or any controlling board where it is a company;
- its trustee where it is a unit trust;
- its managing (general) partner where it is a limited partnership;
- account signatories; and
- any other person who has control over the relationship, e.g., fund administrator or manager.

33. Where other investment vehicles are involved, the same steps should be taken as in paragraph 32 where it is appropriate to do so. In addition, all reasonable steps should be taken to verify the identity of the beneficial owners of the funds and of those who have control of the funds.

34. Intermediaries should be treated as individual customers of the bank and the standing of the intermediary should be separately verified by obtaining the appropriate information drawn from the itemized lists included in paragraphs 19-20 above.

(As amended by CL-2007-010 dated 28 February 2007)
Pursuant to Section 9-c of the Anti-Money Laundering Act, as amended, covered institutions (CIs) shall report to the AMLC all covered transactions and suspicious transactions within five (5) working days from occurrence thereof, subject to the circumstances described in Resolution No. 292 dated 24 October 2003 which remains in full force and effect.

WHEREFORE, the Council, resolves as it hereby resolved, to approve the following policies and guidelines in reckoning CIs’ compliance with the prescribed reporting period:

1. The following non-working days are excluded from the counting of the prescribed reporting period:
   - weekend (Saturday and Sunday)
   - official regular national holiday
   - officially declared national holiday
   - officially declared non-working day nationwide
   - officially declared local holiday in the locality where the AMLC Secretariat Office is located

2. A "non-reporting day" may be declared by the AMLC Secretariat when the File Transfer and Reporting Facility (FTRF), used by the CIs in transmitting their electronic reports to AMLC, is unavailable to all CIs for at least five (5) consecutive hours during the day. AMLC-declared “non-reporting day” is excluded from the counting of the prescribed reporting period.

3. Local holidays, except for officially declared local holidays in the locality where the AMLC Secretariat Office is located, are treated as working days even for CIs located in such locality declared as on holiday, and hence, included in the counting of the prescribed reporting period. However, the CIs affected may file a deviation request with the AMLC Secretariat.
   - CI’s request for deviation shall be subject to approval of the Executive Director of the AMLC Secretariat (or the Officer-in-charge) upon recommendation of the Deputy Director of IMAS AMLC Secretariat. It shall be the basis of manually recomputing whatever penalties that would be automatically computed by TMAS.

4. Officially-declared non-working days in localities or regions affected by natural calamities such as flood, typhoon, earthquake, etc. may be excluded from the counting of the prescribed reporting period for CIs located in affected localities or regions subject to submission of deviation request by the CI.
   - CI’s request for deviation shall be subject to approval of the Executive Director of the AMLC Secretariat (or the Officer-in-charge) upon recommendation of the Deputy Director of IMAS AMLC Secretariat. It shall be the basis of manually recomputing whatever penalties that would be automatically computed by TMAS.

WHEREFORE, the Council, resolves as it hereby resolved, to consider and include the foregoing policies and guidelines in the ongoing development and implementation of AMLC’s Transaction Monitoring and Analysis System (TMAS) and specifically, for the computation of the penalty for delayed reporting by the CIs.

DETAILS ON THE COMPUTATION OF QUARTERLY INTEREST PAYMENTS CREDITED TO THE DEMAND DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS OF BANKS' LEGAL RESERVE DEPOSITS WITH BSP
(Appendix to Subsec. X254.3)

The following are the pertinent information on the computation of quarterly interest payments credited to the demand deposit accounts (DDAs) of banks’ legal reserve deposits with BSP.

1. BSP Circular No. 262, as amended, (for regular DDA) and Memorandum to All Banks and Other Financial Intermediaries Performing Trust, Other Fiduciary Business and Investment Management Activities (for CTF and TOFA), as amended, both dated 18 October 2000 state that computation of quarterly interest payments due on banks’ non-banks’ legal reserve deposits with the BSP is based on the lower of their outstanding daily DDA balance and forty percent (40%) of the reserve requirement (excluding liquidity reserve). Interest rate is at four percent (4%) per annum and interest base at 365 days.

2. The daily DDA balance used in the computation of interest may be obtained from the semi-monthly demand deposit statements of account balances that are available electronically to banks through EFTIS (for PhilPaSS participants) or monthly through the DDA statements sent by mail (for non-PhilPaSS participants).

3. The data on reserve requirements are based on the institutions’ Consolidated Daily Report of Condition (CDRC) (CBP7.16.01) submitted to the SRSO on a weekly basis that includes Schedule of Required and Available Reserves on Deposits and Deposit Substitutes Liabilities. Unless SRSO furnishes an amended data, the bank’s computation in the Schedule is used in determining the forty percent (40%) of the reserve requirement that shall be compared with the outstanding daily balance, in arriving at the amount of interest credit.

4. The interest credit to each DDA is supported by a credit advice which indicates the period covered by the payment. For PhilPaSS participants, the credit advices are released through their authorized bank representatives together with the cancelled checks drawn against the institutions’ DDA with the BSP while for non-PhilPaSS participants, the credit advices are sent by mail together with their DDA Statement of Accounts.

The following procedures shall govern the transfer/sale of NPAs to a SPV or to an individual that involves a single family residential unit, or transactions involving dacion en pago by the borrower or third party of a non-performing loan (NPL), for the purpose of obtaining the COE which is required to avail of the incentives provided under R.A. No. 9182, as amended by R.A. No. 9343.

a. Prior to the filing of any application for transfer/sale of NPAs, a bank shall coordinate with the BSP through the SDC and the appropriate department of the SES to develop a reconciled and finalized master list of its eligible NPAs.

For this purpose, banks were requested to submit a complete inventory of their NPAs in the format prescribed under Circular Letter dated 07 January 2003. Only NPAs included in the master list that meet the definition of NPA, NPL and ROPA under R.A. No. 9182 may qualify for the COE. The banks shall be provided a copy of their reconciled and finalized master list for their guidance.

b. An application for eligibility of specific NPAs shall be filed in writing (hard copy) by the selling bank with the BSP through the appropriate department of the SES for each proposed transfer of asset/s. Although no specific form is prescribed, the applicant shall describe in sufficient detail its proposed transaction, identifying its counterparty/ies and disclosing the terms, conditions and all material commitments related to the transaction.

c. For applications involving more than ten (10) NPA accounts, the list of NPAs to be transferred/sold shall be submitted in soft copy (by electronic mail or diskette) in excel format using the prescribed data structure/format for NPLs and ROPAs to the appropriate department of the SES of the applicant bank at the following addresses:

SEDI-SPV@bsp.gov.ph
SEDII-SPV@bsp.gov.ph
SEDIII-SPV@bsp.gov.ph
SEDIV-SPV@bsp.gov.ph

For applications involving ten (10) NPA accounts or less, it is preferable that the list be submitted also in soft copy. The applicant may opt to submit the list in hard copy, provided all the necessary information shown in the prescribed data structure that are relevant to each NPL or ROPA to be transferred/sold will be indicated. The list to be submitted in hard copy would be ideal for the sale/transfer of NPAs that involve one (1) promissory note and/or one (1) asset item per account.

d. The application shall be accompanied by a written certification signed by a senior officer with a rank of at least senior vice president or equivalent, who is authorized by the board of directors, or by the country head, in the case of foreign banks, that:
(1) the assets to be sold/transferred are NPAs as defined under the SPV Act of 2002;
(2) the proposed sale/transfer of said NPAs is under a true sale;
(3) the notification requirement to the borrowers has been complied with; and
(4) the maximum ninety (90)-day period for renegotiation and restructuring has been complied with.
Items "3" and "4" above shall not apply if the NPL has become a ROPA after 30 June 2002.
e. In the case of dacion en pago by the borrower or a third party to a bank, the application for COE on the NPL being settled shall be accompanied by a Deed of Dacion executed by the borrower, the third party, the registered owner of the property and the bank.
f. The appropriate department of the SES may conduct an on-site review of the NPLs and ROPAs proposed to be transferred/sold. After the on-site review, the application for transfer/sale shall be submitted to the Deputy Governor, SES for approval and for the issuance of the corresponding COE.
g. Upon the issuance of the SPV Application Number by the BSP, a bank shall be charged a processing fee, as follows:
(1) 1/100 of one percent (1%) of the book value of NPAs transferred or the transfer price, whichever is higher, but not below ₱25,000 if the transfer is made to an SPV;
(2) 1/100 of 1% of the book value of the NPL but not below ₱5,000 in case of a dacion en pago arrangement by an individual or corporate borrower;
(3) ₱5,000 if the transfer involves a single family residential unit to an individual.
h. An SPV that intends to transfer/sell to a third party an NPA that is covered by a COE previously issued by the BSP shall file an application for such transfer/sale with the SEC which shall issue the corresponding COE based on the data base of COEs maintained at the BSP.
An individual who intends to transfer/sell an NPA that involves a single family residential unit he had acquired that is covered by a COE shall file an application for another COE with the BSP through the bank from which the NPA was acquired. The individual shall indicate in his application the previous COE issued for the NPA he had acquired and the name, address and TIN of the transferee/buyer of the NPA. (As amended by M-2006-001 dated 11 May 2006)
ACCOUNTING GUIDELINES ON THE SALE OF NON-PERFORMING ASSETS TO SPECIAL PURPOSE VEHICLES AND TO QUALIFIED INDIVIDUALS FOR HOUSING UNDER “THE SPECIAL PURPOSE VEHICLE ACT OF 2002”
(Appendix to Subsec. X394.10)

General Principles

These guidelines set out alternative regulatory accounting treatment of the sale of non-performing assets (NPAs) by banks and other financial institutions (FIs) under BSP supervision to Special Purpose Vehicles (SPVs) and to qualified individuals for housing under R.A. No. 9182, otherwise known as “The Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) Act of 2002”.

The guidelines recognize that banks/FIs may need temporary regulatory relief, in addition to tax relief under the SPV Law, particularly in the timing of recognition of losses, so that they may be encouraged to maximize the sale of their NPAs even at substantial discounts: Provided, however, That in the interest of upholding full transparency and sustaining market discipline, banks/FIs that avail of such regulatory relief shall fully disclose its impact in all relevant financial reports.

The guidelines cover the following areas:

1. Derecognition of NPAs Sold and Initial Recognition of Financial Instruments Received

A bank/FI should derecognize an NPA in accordance with the provisions of PAS 39 (for financial assets such as loans and securities) and PASs 16 and 40 (for non-financial assets such as land, building and equipment).

A sale of NPA qualifying as a true sale pursuant to Section 13 of the SPV Law and its Implementing Rules and Regulations but not qualifying for derecognition under PASs 39, 16 and 40 may nonetheless, be derecognized. Provided: That the bank/FI shall disclose such fact, in addition to all other disclosures provided in this Memorandum.

On derecognition, any excess of the carrying amount of the NPA (i.e., net of specific allowance for probable loss after booking the BSP recommended valuation reserve) over the proceeds received in the form of cash and/or financial instruments issued by the SPV represents an actual loss that should be charged to current period’s operations.

However, a bank/FI may use any existing specific allowance for probable losses on NPA sold:

1) to cover any unbooked (specific/general) allowance for probable losses; and
2) to apply the excess, if any, as additional (specific/general) allowance for probable losses on remaining assets, in which case the carrying amount of the NPA (which is compared with the proceeds received for purposes of determining the actual loss shall be the gross amount of the NPA. Provided, that the use of such existing specific allowance for probable losses on the NPA sold as provisions against remaining assets shall be properly disclosed.

The loss may, moreover, be booked under "Deferred Charges" account which should be written down over the next ten (10) years based on the following schedule:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>End of Period From Date of Transaction</th>
<th>Cumulative Write-down of Deferred Charges</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Year 1</td>
<td>5%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 2</td>
<td>10%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 3</td>
<td>15%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 4</td>
<td>25%</td>
</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

<td>70%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 9</td>
<td>85%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 10</td>
<td>100%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Provided, That the staggered booking of actual loss on sale/transfer of the NPA shall be properly disclosed.

In case the face amounts of the financial instruments exceed the excess of the carrying amount of the NPA over the cash proceeds, the same shall be adjusted by setting up specific allowance for probable losses so that no gain shall be recognized from the transaction.

The carrying amount of the NPA shall be initially assumed to be the NPA's fair value. The excess of the carrying amount of the NPA over the cash proceeds or the face amounts of the financial instruments, whichever is lower, shall then be the initial cost of financial instruments received.

Banks/FIs shall book such financial instruments under the general ledger account "Unquoted Debt Securities Classified as Loans" for debt instruments or "Investments in Non-Marketable Equity Securities (INmES)" for equity instruments.

Consolidation of SPV with Bank/FI

Even if the sale of NPA to SPV qualifies for derecognition, a bank/FI shall consolidate the SPV in the audited consolidated financial statements when the relationship between the bank/FI and the SPV indicates that the SPV is controlled by the bank/FI in accordance with the provisions of SIC (Standing Interpretations Committee) - 12 Consolidation - Special Purpose Entities.”

II. Subsequent Measurement of Financial Instruments Received

(a) A bank/FI should assess at end of each fiscal year or more frequently whether there is any objective evidence or indication based on analysis of expected net cash inflows that the carrying amount of financial instruments issued by an SPV may be impaired. A financial instrument is impaired if its carrying amount (i.e., net of specific allowance for probable loss) is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. The estimated recoverable amount is determined based on the net present value of expected future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of interest for a similar financial instrument.

In applying discounted cash flow analysis, a bank/FI should use the discount rate(s) equal to the prevailing rate of return for financial instruments having substantially the same terms and characteristics, including the creditworthiness of the issuer.

(b) Alternatively, the estimated recoverable amount of the financial instruments may be determined based on an updated estimate of residual net present value (NPV) of the issuing SPV.

The estimated recoverable amount of the financial instrument shall be the present value of the excess of expected cash inflows (e.g., proceeds from the sale of collaterals and/or ROPAs, which in no case shall exceed the contract price of the NPAs sold/ transferred, interest on the reinvestment of proceeds over expected cash outflows (e.g., direct costs to sell, administrative expenses, principal and interest payments on senior obligations, interest payments on the financial instruments).

The fair market value of the collateral and/or ROPAs should under this method be considered only under the following conditions:

(1) The appraisal was performed by an independent appraiser acceptable to the BSP; and

(2) The valuation of the independent appraiser is based on current market valuation of similar assets in the same locality as underlying collateral rather than other valuation methods such as replacement cost, etc.

The assumptions regarding the timing of sale, the direct cost to sell, administrative expenses, reinvestments rate and current market rate should be disclosed in sufficient detail in the audited financial statements.

The applicable discount rate should be based on the implied stripped yield of the Treasury note or bond for the tenor plus an appropriate risk premium.

c) In case of impairment, the carrying amount of the financial instrument should be reduced to its estimated recoverable amount, through the use of specific allowance for probable losses account that should be charged to current period’s operations. However, at the end of the fiscal year the sale/ transfer of NPA occurred, such setting up of specific allowance for probable losses account may be booked on a staggered basis over the next ten (10) years based on the following schedule:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>End of Period From Date of Transaction</th>
<th>Cumulative Booking of Allowance for Probable Losses</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Year 1</td>
<td>5%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 2</td>
<td>10%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 3</td>
<td>15%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 4</td>
<td>25%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 5</td>
<td>35%</td>
</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 9</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 10</td>
<td>100%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Provided, That the staggered booking of impairment, if any, upon remeasurement of financial instruments at end of the fiscal year the sale/transfer of the NPA occurred shall be properly disclosed.

After initially recognizing an impairment loss, the bank/FI should review the financial instruments for future impairment in subsequent financial reporting date.

If in a subsequent period, the estimated recoverable amount of the financial instrument decreases, the bank/FI should immediately book additional allowance for probable losses corresponding to the decrease. However, a bank/FI may stagger the booking of such additional allowance for probable losses in such a way that it catches up and keeps pace with the original deferral schedule (e.g., if the impairment occurred in Year 8, a bank/FI should immediately book seventy percent (70%) at end of Year 8, and thereafter, additional fifteen percent (15%) each at end of Year 9 and Year 10, respectively): Provided, That the staggered booking of impairment, if any, upon remeasurement of financial instruments shall be properly disclosed.

If in a subsequent period, the estimated recoverable amount of the financial instrument increases exceeding its carrying amount, and the increase can be objectively related to an event occurring after the write-down, the write-down of the financial instruments should be reversed by adjusting the specific allowance for probable losses account. The reversal should not result in a carrying amount of the financial instrument that exceeds what the cost would have been had the impairment not been recognized at the date the write-down of the financial instrument is reversed.
The amount of the reversal should be included in the profit for the period.

Illustrative accounting entries for derrecognition of NPAs, initial recognition of financial instruments issued by the SPV, and subsequent measurement of the carrying amount of the financial instrument are in Annex A.

III. Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR)
Calculation

Banks/FIs may, for purposes of calculating capital adequacy ratio (CAR), likewise stagger over a period of seven (7) years the recognition of:
(1) actual loss on sale/transfer of NPAs;
and
(2) impairment, if any, upon re-measurement of financial instruments, in accordance with the following schedule:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>End of Period From Date of Transaction</th>

The financial instruments received by the selling bank/FI shall be risk weighted in accordance with Sec. X116.

A bank/FI may declare cash dividend on common and/or preferred stock notwithstanding deferred recognition of loss duly authorized by the BSP.

IV. Disclosure

Banks/FIs should disclose as "Additional Information" in periodic reports submitted to the BSP, as well as in published reports and audited financial statements and all relevant financial reports the specific allowance for probable losses on NPAs sold used as provisions against remaining assets, the staggered recognition of actual loss on sale/transfer of NPAs and/or impairment, if any, on the remeasurement of financial instruments.

In addition, banks/FIs which receive financial instruments issued by the SPVs as partial or full settlement of the NPAs transferred to the SPVs should disclose in the audited financial statements the method used and the significant assumptions applied in estimating the recoverable amount of the financial instruments, including the timing of the sale, the direct cost to sell, administrative expenses, reinvestment rate, current market rate, etc. (The pro-forma disclosure requirements on the staggered recognition of actual loss on sale/transfer of NPAs and/or impairment,
if any, on the remeasurement of financial instruments are shown in Annex B.)

B. Documentary Requirements
The proposal shall be accompanied by the following documents:
1. An original copy (or a certified true copy) of the ordinance duly signed by the appropriate officers pursuant to the Local Government Code. In accordance with the Local Government Code, the ordinance authorizing the bond flotation should:
   a) state the specific purpose/project(s) for which the proposed indebtedness is to be incurred;
   b) certify that the project(s) to be financed by the bond flotation is/are a self liquidating, income-producing development or livelihood project/s pursuant to the priorities established in the approved local development program or the public investment program; and
   c) state the terms and conditions of the bond flotation, including sinking fund or other funding arrangements.
2. A copy of the resolution designating the LGU representative, including the specific acts/services that the representative has been authorized to perform.
3. A waiver letter on the confidentiality of information (Annex 1) under Sections 2 and 3 of R.A. No. 1405, as amended, authorizing all banks and FIs under the supervision of the BSP and which have transactions with the concerned LGU to disclose to the BSP all information pertaining to the deposits, investments, loans and other transactions of the concerned LGU (including the history or status of the LGU’s dealings with said banks and FIs); the waiver letter should be duly executed by the mayor or governor as the case may be.
4. A Department of Finance (DOF) certification that the debt service and borrowing capacity of the proponent LGU satisfies the legal requirements for a bond issue.

C. Monetary Board Opinion
1. Upon submission of all the above requirements, including other additional data or information it may deem necessary in the issuance of its opinion, and if the same are found to be in order, the Monetary Board shall, within a reasonable period of time, render an opinion on the probable effects of the proposed indebtedness on monetary aggregates, the price level, and the balance of payments.
2. The opinion of the Monetary Board shall be forwarded to the concerned LGU through the DOF.
3. The opinion of the Monetary Board does not constitute an endorsement by the BSP of the project since it is limited to the assessment of the monetary implications of the bond flotation. The said opinion is based on: (a) the information contained in the documents submitted by the LGU; and (b) the assumption that the proceeds of the bond flotation will actually be used for the intended projects described in the documents submitted. Hence, investors shall be responsible for assessing the quality of the bonds in terms of risks and returns.

D. Post-Issuance Reports
The LGU or its representative or its trustee bank, as the case may be, shall submit to the BSP a post flotation report (Annex 2) that will indicate the actual amount of the issue as well as the final terms

IV. Sanctions

Any violation of this Circular shall be subject to the sanctions provided under Sections 36 and 37 of R.A. No. 7653.

VI. Effectivity

1 The rules and regulations on common trust funds (CTFs) were previously under Sec. X410 and the Subsections enclosed in parentheses. The UIT Funds regulations which are now in said section/subsections took effect on 01 October 2004 (effectivity of Circular 447 dated 03 September 2004).
plan shall be submitted to the appropriate supervising and examining department of the BSP within ten (10) banking days from approval of the amendments by the board of directors.

A copy of the plan shall be available at the principal office of the trustee during regular office hours for inspection by any person having an interest in a trust whose funds are invested in the plan or by his authorized representative. Upon request, a copy of the plan shall be furnished such person. (Subsec. X410.2)

4. Management of common trust funds. The trustee shall have the exclusive management and control of each CTF administered by it, and the sole right at any time to sell, convert, reinvest, exchange, transfer or otherwise change or dispose of the assets comprising the fund.

The trustee shall designate clearly in its records the trust accounts owning participation in the CTF and the extent of the interests of such account. The trustee shall not negotiate nor assign the trustor’s beneficial interest in the CTF without prior written consent of the trustor or beneficiary. No trust account holding a participation in a CTF shall have or be deemed to have any ownership or interest in any particular asset or investment in the CTF but shall have only its proportionate beneficial interest in the fund as a whole. (Subsec. X410.3)

5. Trustee as participant in common trust funds. A trustee administering a CTF shall not have any interest in such fund other than in its capacity as trustee of the CTF nor grant any loan on the security of a participation in such fund: That a trustee which administers funds representing employee benefit plans under trust or investment management may invest funds in the CTF: Provided, further, That in the case of employee benefit plans belonging to employees of entities other than that of the trustee, the trustee may invest such funds in its own CTF only on a temporary basis in accordance with Subsec. X409.5. (Subsec. X410.4)

6. Exposure limit of common trust fund to a single person or entity. No investment for a CTF shall be made in stocks, bonds, bank deposits or other obligations of any one (1) person, firm or corporation, if as a result of such investment the total amount invested in stocks, bonds, bank deposits or other obligations issued or guaranteed by such person, firm or corporation shall aggregate to an amount in excess of fifteen percent (15%) of the market value of the CTF: Provided, That this limitation shall not apply to investments in government securities or other evidences of indebtedness of the Republic of the Philippines and of the BSP, and any other evidences of indebtedness or obligations the servicing and repayment of which are fully guaranteed by the Republic of the Philippines. (Subsec. X410.5)

7. Operating and accounting methodology. By its inherent nature, a CTF shall be operated and accounted for in accordance with the following:

c. Contributions to each fund by clients shall always be through participation in the fund;

d. All such participations shall be pooled and invested as one (1) account (referred to as collective investments); and
e. The interest of each participant shall be determined by a formal method of participation valuation established in the written plan of the CTF, and no participation shall be admitted to, or withdrawn from, the fund except on the basis of such valuation. (Subsec. X410.6)

8. Tax-exempt common trust funds

The following shall be the features/requirements of CTFs which may qualify for exemption from the twenty percent (20%) final tax under Section 24(B)(1) of R.A. No. 8424 (The Tax Reform Act of 1997):

a. The tax exemption shall apply to CTFs established on or after January 3, 2000;

No. 8424, interest income of the CTF derived from investments in interest-bearing instruments (e.g., time deposits, government securities, loans and other debt instruments) which are otherwise subject to the twenty percent (20%) final tax, shall be exempt from said final tax provided participation in the CTF is for a period of at least five (5) years. If participation is for a period less than five (5) years, interest income shall be subject to a final tax which shall be deducted and withheld based on the following schedule –

<tr>
<td>Less than three (3) years</td>

e. Tax-exempt CTFs established under this Subsection shall be subject to the provisions of Subsecs. X409.1(c), X409.2 up to X409.7, and Items “2 to 7” of this Appendix.

Regarding the required prior authority and disclosure under Subsecs. Average daily net asset value of the UIT Fund for the quarter ended _______________ P _______________.
The UIT Fund is not a deposit and not insured by PDIC. Due to the nature of the investments yield and potential yields cannot be guaranteed. Any income or loss arising from market fluctuations and price volatility of the securities held by the UIT Fund, even if invested in government securities, is for the account of the investor. As such, the units of participation of the investor in the UIT Fund, when redeemed, may be worth more or be worth less than his/her initial investment/contributions. Historical performance, when presented, is purely for reference purposes and is not a guarantee of future results. The trustee is not liable for losses, unless upon willful default, bad faith or gross negligence.

(As amended by Circular No. 593 dated 08 January 2008)
Prior to making an investment in any of the (Name of Trust Entity) Unit Investment Trust Funds (UITFs), (Name of Trust Entity) is hereby informing you of the nature of the UITFs and the risks involved in investing therein. As investments in UITFs carry different degrees of risk, it is necessary that before you participate/invest in these funds, you should have: 1. Fully understood the nature of the investment in UITFs and the extent of your exposure to risks; 2. Read this Risk disclosure Statement completely; and 3. Independently determined that the investment in the UITFs is appropriate for you.

There are risks involved in investing in the UITFs because the value of your investment is based on the Net Asset Value per unit (NAVpu) of the Fund which uses a marked-to-market valuation and therefore may fluctuate daily. The NAVpu is computed by dividing the Net Asset Value (NAV) of the Fund by the number of outstanding units. The NAV is derived from the summation of the market value of the underlying securities of the Fund plus accrued interest income less liabilities and qualified expenses.

Investment in the UITF does not provide guaranteed returns even if invested in government securities and high-grade prime investment outlets. Your principal and earnings from investment in the Fund can be lost in whole or in part when the NAVpu at the time of redemption is lower than the NAVpu at the time of participation. Gains from investment is realized when the NAVpu at the time of redemption is higher than the NAVpu at the time of participation.

Your investment in any of the (Name of Trust Entity) UITFs exposes you to the various types of risks enumerated and defined hereunder:

Interest Rate Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.

The UITF portfolio, being market-to-market, is affected by changes in interest rates thereby affecting the value of fixed income investments such as bonds. Interest rate changes may affect the prices of fixed income securities inversely, i.e., as interest rates rise, bond prices fall and when interest rates decline, bond prices rise. As the prices of bonds in a Fund adjust to a rise in interest rates, the Fund’s unit price may decline.

Market/Price Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in market prices of securities (e.g., bonds and equities). It is the exposure to the uncertain market value of a portfolio due to price fluctuations.

It is the risk of the UITF to lose value due to a decline in securities prices, which may sometimes happen rapidly or unpredictably. The value of investments fluctuates over a given time period because of general market conditions, economic changes or other events that impact large portions of the market such as political events, natural calamities, etc. As a result, the NAVpu may increase to make profit or decrease to incur loss.

Liquidity Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a loss. These may be caused by different reasons such as trading in securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers, limited buy/sell activity or underdeveloped capital market.

Liquidity risk occurs when certain securities in the UITF portfolio may be difficult or impossible to sell at a particular time which may prevent the redemption of investment in UITF until its assets can be converted to cash. Even government securities which are the most liquid of fixed income securities may be subjected to liquidity risk particularly if a sizeable volume is involved.

Credit Risk/Default Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower’s failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of security which the borrower issued. This inability of the borrower to make good on its financial obligations may have resulted from adverse changes in its financial condition thus, lowering credit quality of the security, and consequently lowering the price (market/price risk) which contributes to the difficulty in selling such security. It also includes risk on a counterparty (a party the UITF Manager trades with) defaulting on a contract to deliver its obligation either in cash or securities.

This is the risk of losing value in the UITF portfolio in the event the borrower defaults on his obligation or in the case of a counterparty, when it fails to deliver on the agreed trade. This decline in the value of the UITF happens because the default/failure would make the price of the security go down and may make the security difficult to sell. As these happen, the UITFs NAVpu will be affected by a decline in value.

Reinvestment Risks. This is the risk associated with the possibility of having lower returns or earnings when maturing funds or the interest earnings of funds are reinvested.

Investors in the UITF who redeem and realize their gains run the risk of reinvesting their funds in an alternative investment outlet with lower yields. Similarly, the UITF manager is faced with the risk of not being able to find good or better alternative investment outlets as some of the securities in the fund matures.

In case of a foreign-currency denominated UITF or a peso denominated UITF allowed to invest in securities denominated in currencies other than its base currency, the UITF is also exposed to the following risks:

Foreign Exchange Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. The exchange rates depend upon a variety of global and local factors, e.g., interest rates, economic performance, and political developments.

It is the risk of the UITF to currency fluctuations when the value of investments in securities denominated in currencies other than the base currency of the UITF depreciates. Conversely, it is the risk of the UITF to lose value when the base currency of the UITF appreciates. The NAVpu of a peso-denominated UITF invested in foreign currency-denominated securities may decrease to incur loss when the peso appreciates.

Country Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses arising from investments in securities issued by/in foreign countries due to the political, economic and social structures of such countries. There are risks in foreign investments due to the possible internal and external conflicts, currency devaluations, foreign ownership limitations and tax increases of the foreign country involved which are difficult to predict but must be taken into account in making such investments.

Likewise, brokerage commissions and other fees may be higher in foreign securities. Government supervision and regulation of foreign stock exchanges, currency markets, trading systems and brokers may be less than those in the Philippines. The procedures and rules governing foreign transactions and custody of securities may also involve delays in payment, delivery or recovery of investments.
Other Risks. Your participation in the UITFs may be further exposed to the risk of any actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of in-house or related party transactions by (Name of Trust Entity). These transactions may include own-bank deposits; purchase of own-institution or affiliate obligations (stock, mortgaged); purchase of assets from or sales to own institution, directors, officers, subsidiaries, affiliates or other related interests/parties; or purchases or sales between fiduciary/managed accounts.

I/we have completely read and fully understood this risk disclosure statement and the same was clearly explained to me/us by a (Name of Trust Entity) UIT marketing personnel before I/we affixed my/our signature/s herein. I/we hereby voluntarily and willingly agree to comply with any and all laws, regulations, the plan rules, terms and conditions governing my/our investment in the (Name of Trust Entity) UITFs.

IMPLEMENTATION PLANS UNDER THE NEW INTERNATIONAL CAPITAL STANDARDS AS CONTAINED IN THE BASEL COMMITTEE ON BANKING SUPERVISION DOCUMENT INTERNATIONAL CONVERGENCE OF CAPITAL MEASUREMENT AND CAPITAL STANDARDS
(Appendix to Sec. X116)

A. General approach
UBs/KBs are expected to comply with the standardized approach for credit risk, and the basic indicator or standardized approaches for operational risk by 2007. By 2010, these banks may move to the foundation internal ratings based (IRB) or advanced IRB approaches for credit risk, and advanced measurement approaches for operational risk.

TBs, on the other hand, are classified into two (2). TBs are generally expected to be subject to an enhanced Basel 1-type approach by 2007. However, TBs affiliated with UBs/KBs should use the same approach used by the UBs/KBs.

RBs/Coop banks, meanwhile, are expected to be subject to an enhanced Basel 1-type approach also by 2007.

An enhanced Basel 1-type approach is basically the same as the current framework (Sec. X116) but with certain elements of Basel 2 already incorporated such as higher risk weight for past due accounts, and expanded disclosures.

B. Timetable
Between 2004 and 2007, certain provisions of Basel 2 will be gradually incorporated into the current risk-based capital adequacy framework. These would include:

(1) Giving lower risk weights for highly-rated corporate exposures;
(2) Giving higher risk weights for past due claims (net of specific provisions);
(3) Adopting the standardized approach for investments in securitization structures (i.e., risk weights would depend on external ratings);
(4) Implementing a standard computation of liquidity risk and interest rate risk in the banking book; and
(5) Issuing broad guidelines on operational risk management.

The rest of the provisions of Basel 2 standardized approach for credit risk, and basic indicator and standardized approaches for operational risk will be implemented by 2007. Under the standardized approach for credit risk, risk weights would mainly depend on the external rating of the counterparty. Under the basic indicator approach for operational risk, capital charge is fifteen percent (15%) of the 3-year average of a bank’s gross income. Under the standardized approach for operational risk, on the other hand, banks will compute capital charge separately for each business line. Business line operational risk charge is a fraction (between 12%-18%) of the 3-year average of a business line’s gross income. Total operational risk charge is the sum of the operational risk charges for all business lines.

The expanded disclosure requirements prescribed under Basel 2, as may be appropriate, will also be implemented by 2007.

The draft implementation guidelines containing all these provisions will be exposed for comment by the BSP in the first quarter of 2005. The final implementation guidelines are expected to be issued by end-December 2005.

By 2010, banks may already be allowed to use the advanced approaches prescribed under Basel 2. For credit risk, banks may use the internal ratings based (IRB) approach, where the credit risk capital charge would depend on banks’ internal rating of the counterparty, including estimates of probability of default, loss given default, and other risk parameters. For operational risk, banks may use statistical modeling and other advanced measurement tools in determining the capital charge.

To facilitate a successful implementation of Basel 2, the BSP will continue to engage the banking community, particularly through the BAP’s Risk Management Committee, in its preparations especially those involving the eventual implementation of the advanced approaches by 2010. The BSP likewise strongly encourages banks to assess the likely impact of this shift in risk-based capital framework on their capital adequacy ratio. Banks needing assistance in performing this self-analysis may contact the Office of the Assistant Governor, Supervision and Examination Sector at email address srso@bsp.gov.ph.
QUALIFYING CAPITAL UNDER THE RISK BASED CAPITAL ADEQUACY FRAMEWORK

[Appendix to Subsec. X116.2 and X119.4 (2008 - X116.1 and X119.4)]

Qualifying Capital: The qualifying capital shall be the sum of:

a. Tier 1 capital:
   (1) Core Tier 1 capital
      (a) Paid-up common stock;
      (b) Paid-up perpetual and non-cumulative preferred stock;
      (c) Common stock dividends distributable;
      (d) Perpetual and non-cumulative preferred stock dividends distributable;
      (e) Surplus;
      (f) Surplus reserves;
      (g) Undivided profits (for domestic banks only); and
      (h) Minority interest in the equity of subsidiary financial allied undertakings which are less than wholly-owned:
      Provided, That a bank shall not use minority interests in the equity accounts of consolidated subsidiaries as avenue for introducing into its capital structure elements that might not otherwise qualify as Tier 1 capital or that would, in effect, result in an excessive reliance on preferred stock within Tier 1:
      Provided, further, that the following items shall be deducted from the total of Tier 1 capital:
      (i) Common stock treasury shares;
      (ii) Perpetual and non-cumulative preferred stock treasury shares;
      (iii) Net unrealized losses on underwritten listed equity securities purchased (for domestic banks and Philippine branches of foreign banks);
      (iv) Unbooked valuation reserves and other capital adjustments based on the latest report of examination as approved by the Monetary Board;
      (v) Total outstanding unsecured credit accommodations, both direct and indirect, to DOSRI;
      (vi) Unsecured loans, other credit accommodations and guarantees granted to subsidiaries and affiliates;
      (vii) Deferred income tax; and (viii) Goodwill; and
   (2) Hybrid Tier 1 (HT1)
      (a) With prior BSP approval, perpetual preferred stock and perpetual UnSD, subject to the following conditions:
      (i) The HT1 must be issued and fully paid-up. Only the net proceeds received from the issuance of HT1 shall be included as capital;
      (ii) The dividends/coupons on the HT1 must be non-cumulative. It is acceptable to pay dividends/coupons in scrip or shares of stock if a cash dividend/coupon is withheld: Provided, That this does not result on issuing lower quality capital: Provided, further, That where such dividend/coupon stock settlement feature is included, the bank should ensure that it has an appropriate buffer of authorized capital stock and appropriate stockholders and board authorization, if necessary, to fulfill their potential obligations under such issues;
      (iii) The HT1 must be available to absorb losses of the bank without it being obliged to cease carrying on business. The agreement governing the issuance of the HT1 should specifically provide for the dividend/coupon and principal to absorb losses where the bank would otherwise be insolvent, or for the holders of the HT1 to be treated as if they were holders of a specified class of share capital in any proceedings commenced for the winding up of the bank. Issue documentation must disclose to prospective investors the manner by which the instrument is to be treated in loss situation.
Alternatively, the agreement governing the issuance of the HT1 can provide for automatic conversion into common shares or perpetual and non-cumulative preferred shares upon occurrence of certain trigger events, as follows:

- (aa) Breach of minimum capital ratio;
- (bb) Commencement of proceedings for winding up of the bank; or
- (cc) Upon appointment of receiver for the bank.

The rate of conversion must be fixed at the time of subscription to the instrument. The bank must also ensure that it has appropriate buffer of authorized capital stock and appropriate stockholders and board authorization for conversion/issue to take place anytime;

- (iv) The holders of the HT1 must not have a priority claim, in respect of principal and dividend/coupon payments of the HT1 in the event of winding up of the bank, which is higher than or equal with that of depositors, other creditors of the bank and holders of LT2 and UT2 capital instruments. The holder of the HT1 must waive his right to set-off any amount he owes the bank against any subordinated amount owed to him due to the HT1;
- (v) The HT1 must be perpetual;
- (vi) The HT1 must neither be secured nor covered by a guarantee of the issuer or related party or other arrangement that legally or economically enhances the priority of the claim of any holder of the HT1 as against depositors, other creditors of the bank and holders of LT2 and UT2 capital instruments.
- (vii) The HT1 must not be redeemable at the initiative of the holder. It must not be repayable prior to maturity without the prior approval of the BSP: Provided, That repayment may be allowed only in connection with call option after a minimum of five (5) years from issue date: Provided, however, That a call option may be exercised within the first five (5) years from issue date when –

- (aa) The HT1 was issued for the purpose of a merger with or acquisition by the bank and the merger or acquisition is aborted;
- (bb) There is a change in tax status of the HT1 due to changes in the tax laws and/or regulations; or
- (cc) The HT1 does not qualify as Hybrid Tier 1 capital as determined by the BSP:

Provided, further, That such repayment prior to maturity shall be approved by the BSP only if the preferred share/debt is simultaneously replaced with issues of new capital which is neither smaller in size nor of lower quality than the original issue, unless the bank’s capital ratio remains more than adequate after redemption.

It must not contain any clause which requires acceleration of payment of principal, except in the event of insolvency. The agreement governing the issuance of the HT1 must not contain any provision that mandates or creates an incentive for the bank to repay the outstanding principal of the instrument, e.g., a cross-default or negative pledge or a restrictive covenant, other than a call option which may be exercised by the bank;

- (viii) The main features of the HT1 must be publicly disclosed by annotating the same on the instrument and in a manner that is easily understood by the investor;
- (ix) The proceeds of the HT1 must be immediately available without limitation to the bank;
- (x) The bank must have full discretion over the amount and timing of dividends/coupons under the HT1 where the bank –

- (aa) Has not paid or declared a dividend on its common shares in the preceding financial year; or
- (bb) Determines that no dividend is to be paid on such shares in the current financial year.

The bank must have full control and access to waived payments;
(xi) Any dividend/coupon to be paid under the HT1 must be paid only to the extent that the bank has profits distributable determined in accordance with existing BSP regulations. The dividend/coupon rate, or the formulation for calculating dividend/coupon payments must be fixed at the time of issuance of the HT1 and must not be linked to the credit standing of the bank;

(xii) The HT1 may allow only one (1) moderate step-up in the dividend/coupon rate in conjunction with a call option, only if the step-up occurs at a minimum of ten (10) years after the issue date and if it results in an increase over the initial rate that is not more than –

(aa) 100 basis points less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis; or

(bb) Fifty percent (50%) of the initial credit spread less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis.

The swap spread should be fixed as of the pricing date and reflect the differential in pricing on that date between the initial reference security or rate and the stepped-up reference security or rate (Refer to Annex A for computation of dividend/coupon rate step-up);

(xiii) The HT1 must be underwritten or purchased by a third party not related to the issuer bank nor acting in reciprocity for and in behalf of the issuer bank;

(xiv) The HT1 must be issued in minimum denominations of at least ₱500,000.00 or its equivalent;

(xv) The HT1 must clearly state on its face that it is not a deposit and is not insured by the PDIC; and

(xvi) The bank must submit a written external legal opinion that the above mentioned requirements, including the subordination and loss absorption features, have been met:

Provided, That for purposes of reserve requirement regulation, the HT1 shall not be treated as time deposit liability, deposit substitute liability or other forms of borrowings: Provided, further, That the total amount of HT1 that may be included in the Tier 1 capital shall be limited to a maximum of fifteen percent (15%) of total Tier 1 capital (net of deductions therefrom): Provided, furthermore, That the amount of HT1 capital in excess of the maximum allowable limit shall be eligible for inclusion in the Upper Tier 2 capital, subject to the limit on total Tier 2 capital. To determine the allowable amount of HT1, the amount of total Tier 1 capital (net of deductions therefrom) excluding the HT1 should be multiplied by seventeen and sixty five percent (17.65%), the number derived from the proportion of fifteen percent (15%) to eighty five percent (85%) (i.e., 15%/85% = 17.65%);

b. Tier 2 (supplementary) capital which shall be the sum of –

(1) Upper Tier 2 capital -

(a) Paid-up perpetual and cumulative preferred stock;

(b) Paid-up limited life redeemable preferred stock issued with the condition that redemption thereof shall be allowed only if the shares redeemed are replaced with at least an equivalent amount of newly paid-in shares so that the total paid-in capital stock is maintained at the same level prior to redemption;

(c) Perpetual and cumulative preferred stock dividends distributable;

(d) Limited life redeemable preferred stock with the replacement requirement upon redemption dividends distributable;

(e) Appraisal increment reserve - bank premises, as authorized by the Monetary Board;

Provided, That the amount thereof that may be included in upper Tier 2 capital shall be limited to a maximum of one and one-fourth percent (1-1/4%) of gross risk-weighted assets, and any amount in excess thereof shall be deducted from the total risk-weighted assets in computing the denominator of the risk-based capital ratio;

(h) With prior BSP approval, unsecured subordinated debt with a minimum original maturity of at least ten (10) years, hereinafter referred to as “UT2”, subject to the following conditions:

(i) The UT2 must be issued and fully paid-up. Only the net proceeds received from the issuance of UT2 shall be included as capital;

(ii) The UT2 must be available to absorb losses of the bank without it being obliged to cease carrying on business. The agreement governing the issuance of the UT2 should specifically provide for the coupon and principal to absorb losses where the bank would otherwise be insolvent, or for the holders of the UT2 to be treated as if they were holder of a specified class of share capital in any proceedings commenced for the winding up of the bank. Issue documentation must disclose to prospective investors the manner by which the instrument is to be treated in loss situation.

Alternatively, the agreement governing the issuance of the UT2 can provide for automatic conversion into common shares or perpetual and non-cumulative preferred shares upon occurrence of certain trigger events, as follows:

(aa) Breach of minimum capital ratio;

(bb) Commencement of proceedings for winding up of the bank or

(cc) Upon appointment of receiver for the bank.

The rate of conversion must be fixed at the time of subscription to the instrument. The bank must also ensure that it has appropriate buffer of authorized capital stock and appropriate stockholders and board authorization for conversion/issue to take place anytime;

(iii) The holders of the UT2 must not have a priority claim, in respect of principal and coupon payments of the UT2 in the event of winding up of the bank, which is higher than or equal with that of depositors, other creditors of the bank, and holders of LT2 capital instruments. (v) The UT2 must not be redeemable at the initiative of the holder. It must not be repayable prior to maturity without the prior approval of the BSP: Provided, That repayment may be allowed only in connection with call option after a minimum of five (5) years from issue date: Provided, however, That a call option may be exercised within the first five (5) years from issue date when –

(aa) The UT2 was issued for the purpose of a merger with or acquisition by the bank and the merger or acquisition is aborted;

(bb) There is a change in tax status of the UT2 due to changes in the tax laws and/or regulations; or

(cc) The UT2 does not qualify as Upper Tier 2 capital as determined by the BSP: Provided, further, That such repayment prior to maturity shall be approved by the BSP only if the debt is simultaneously replaced with issues of new capital which is neither smaller in size nor of lower quality than the original issue, unless the bank’s capital ratio remains more than adequate after redemption.

It must not contain any clause which requires acceleration of payment of principal, except in the event of insolvency. The agreement governing the issuance of the UT2 must not contain any provision that mandates or creates an incentive for the bank to repay the outstanding principal of the instrument, e.g., a cross-default or negative pledge or a restrictive covenant, other than a call option which may be exercised by the bank;

(vi) The main features of the UT2 must be publicly disclosed by annotating the same on the instrument and in a manner that is easily understood by the investor;

(vii) The proceeds of the UT2 must be immediately available without limitation to the bank;

It is acceptable for the deferred coupon to bear interest but the interest rate payable must not exceed market rates;

(ix) The coupon rate, or the formulation for calculating coupon payments must be fixed at the time of issuance of the UT2 and must not be linked to the credit standing of the bank;

(x) The UT2 may allow only one (1) moderate step-up in the coupon rate in conjunction with a call option, only if the step-up occurs at a minimum of ten (10) years after the issue date and if it results in an increase over the initial rate that is not more than–

(aa) 100 basis points less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis; or

(bb) fifty percent (50%) of the initial credit spread less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis.

The swap spread should be fixed as of the pricing date and reflect the differential in pricing on that date between the initial reference security or rate and the stepped-up reference or rate (Refer to Annex A for computation of coupon rate step-up);

(xi) The UT2 must be underwritten or purchased by a third party not related to the issuer bank nor acting in reciprocity for and in behalf of the issuer bank;

(xii) The UT2 must be issued in minimum denominations of at least ₱500,000.00 or its equivalent;

(xiii) The UT2 must clearly state on its face that it is not a deposit and is not insured by the PDIC; and

Introduction

This Appendix outlines the BSP implementing guidelines of the revised International Convergence of Capital Measurement and Capital Standards, or popularly known as Basel II. Basel II is the new international capital standards set by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (BCBS). It aims to replace Basel I, which was issued in 1988 with an amendment in 1996, to make the risk-based capital framework more risk-sensitive. Banks are enjoined to submit their group-wide (including subsidiary banks and QBs) Basel II implementation plans from 2007-2010, not later than 31 December 2006. The guidelines contained in this Appendix shall take effect on 1 July 2007. (As amended by M-2006-022 dated 24 November 2006)

Part I. Risk-based capital adequacy ratio

1. The risk-based CAR of UBs and KBs and their subsidiary banks and QBs, expressed as a percentage of qualifying capital to risk-weighted assets, shall not be less than ten percent (10%).

2. Qualifying capital is computed in accordance with the provisions of Part II. Risk-weighted assets is the sum of (1) credit risk-weighted assets (Parts III, IV, and V), (2) market risk-weighted assets (Parts IV and VI), and (3) operational risk-weighted assets (Part VII).

3. The CAR requirement will be applied to all UBs and KBs and their subsidiary banks, and QBs on both solo and consolidated bases. The application of the requirement on a consolidated basis is the best means to preserve the integrity of capital in banks with subsidiaries by eliminating double gearing. However, as one of the principal objectives of supervision is the protection of depositors, it is essential to ensure that capital recognized in capital adequacy measures is readily available for those depositors. Accordingly, individual banks should likewise be adequately capitalized on a stand-alone basis.

4. To the greatest extent possible, all banking and other relevant financial activities (both regulated and unregulated) conducted by a bank and its subsidiaries will be captured through consolidation. Thus, majority-owned or-controlled financial allied undertakings should be fully consolidated on a line by line basis. Exemptions from consolidation shall only be made in cases where such holdings are acquired through debt previously contracted and held on a temporary basis, are subject to different regulation, or where non-consolidation for regulatory capital purposes is otherwise required by law. All cases of exemption from consolidation must be made with prior clearance from the BSP.

5. Banks shall comply with the minimum CAR at all times notwithstanding that supervisory reporting shall only be on quarterly basis. Any breach, even if only temporary, shall be reported to the bank’s Board of Directors and to BSP, SES within three (3) banking days. For this purpose, banks shall develop an appropriate system to properly monitor their compliance.

6. The BSP reserves the right, upon authority of the Deputy Governor, SES, to conduct on-site inspection outside of regular or special examination, for the purpose of ascertaining the accuracy of CAR calculations as well as the integrity of CAR monitoring and reporting systems.

Part II. Qualifying capital

1. Qualifying capital consists of Tier 1 (core plus hybrid) capital and Tier 2 (supplementary) capital elements, net of required deductions from capital.

A. Tier 1 Capital

2. Tier 1 capital is the sum of core Tier 1 capital and allowable amount of hybrid Tier 1 capital, as set in paragraph 12.

3. Core Tier 1 capital consists of:

   b) Paid-up perpetual and non-cumulative preferred stock;
   c) Additional paid-in capital;
   d) Retained earnings;
   e) Undivided profits (for domestic banks only);
   f) Net gains on fair value adjustment of hedging instruments in a cash flow hedge of available for sale equity securities;
   g) Cumulative foreign currency translation; and
   h) Minority interest in subsidiary financial allied undertakings which are less than wholly-owned: Provided, That a bank shall not use minority interests in the equity accounts of consolidated subsidiaries as an avenue for introducing into its capital structure elements that might not otherwise qualify as Tier 1 capital or that would, in effect, result in an excessive reliance on preferred stock within Tier 1: Less:
      i. Common stock treasury shares;
      ii. Perpetual and non-cumulative preferred stock treasury shares;
      iii. Net unrealized losses on available for sale equity securities purchased;
      iv. Gains (Losses) resulting from designating financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss that are due to own credit worthiness;
      v. Unbooked valuation reserves and other capital adjustments based on the latest report of examination as approved by the Monetary Board;
      vi. Total outstanding unsecured credit accommodations, both direct and indirect, to DOSRI and unsecured loans, other credit accommodations and guarantees granted to subsidiaries and affiliates;
      vii. Deferred income tax;
      viii. Goodwill, including that relating to unconsolidated subsidiary banks, financial allied undertakings, excluding subsidiary securities dealers/brokers and insurance companies, (on solo basis) and unconsolidated subsidiary securities dealers/brokers, insurance companies and non-financial allied undertakings (on solo and consolidated bases); and
      ix. Gain on sale resulting from a securitization transaction.

4. Hybrid Tier 1 capital in the form of perpetual preferred stock and perpetual UnSD may be issued subject to prior BSP approval and to the conditions in paragraph 12.

5. In the case of foreign banks, Tier 1 capital is equivalent to:
   a) Assigned capital including earnings not remitted to the head office which the bank elects to consider as part of assigned capital (in which case it can no longer be remitted to the head office); and
   b) “Net due to” head office, branches, subsidiaries and other offices outside the Philippines as defined under Subsec. X105.5.d (inclusive of earnings not remitted to head office per Subsec. X105.5.c, unless considered as part of the assigned capital by the bank), subject to the limit prescribed under Subsec. X105.6, Less:
      i. Any balance in the “Net due from” account.

(As amended by Circular No. 560 dated 31 January 2007)
B. Tier 2 Capital

6. Tier 2 capital is the sum of upper Tier 2 capital and lower Tier 2 capital.

8. Upper Tier 2 capital consists of:
   a) Paid-up perpetual and cumulative preferred stock;

   d) Net unrealized gains on available for sale equity securities purchased subject to a fifty five percent (55%) discount;

   f) With prior BSP approval, UnSD with a minimum original maturity of at least ten (10) years issued subject to the conditions in paragraph 13, in an amount equivalent to its carrying amount discounted by the following rates:

h) Materiality thresholds in credit derivative contracts purchased;
i) Securitization tranches which are rated below investment grade or are unrated; and

D. Eligible instruments under hybrid Tier 1 capital

12. Perpetual preferred stock and perpetual UnSD issuances of banks should comply with the following minimum conditions in order to be eligible as hybrid Tier 1 (HT1) capital:
a) It must be issued and fully paid-up. Only the net proceeds received from the issuance shall be included as capital;
b) The dividends/coupons must be non-cumulative. It is acceptable to pay dividends/coupons in scrip or shares of stock if a cash dividend/coupon is withheld: Provided, That this does not result on issuing lower quality capital: Provided, further, That where such dividend/coupon stock settlement feature is included, the bank should ensure that it has an appropriate buffer of authorized capital stock and appropriate stockholders and board authorization, if necessary, to fulfill their potential obligations under such issues;

i. Breach of minimum capital ratio;
ii. Commencement of proceedings for winding up of the bank; or
iii. Upon appointment of receiver for the bank.

The rate of conversion must be fixed at the time of subscription to the instrument. The bank must also ensure that it has appropriate buffer of authorized capital stock and appropriate stockholders and board authorization for conversion/issue to take place anytime;
d) Its holders must not have a priority claim, in respect of principal and dividend/coupon payments in the event of winding up of the bank, which is higher than or equal with that of depositors, other creditors of the bank and holders of LT2 and UT2 capital instruments. Its holder must waive his right to set-off any amount he owes the bank against any subordinated amount owed to him due to the HT1 capital instrument;
e) It must neither be secured nor covered by a guarantee of the issuer or related party or other arrangement that legally or economically enhances the priority of the claim of any holder as against depositors, other creditors of the bank and holders of LT2 and UT2 capital instruments;
f) It must not be redeemable at the initiative of the holder. It must not be repayable without the prior approval of the BSP: Provided, That repayment may be allowed only in connection with call option after a minimum of five (5) years from issue date: Provided, however, That a call option may be exercised within the first five (5) years from issue date when –

i. It was issued for the purpose of a merger with or acquisition by the bank and the merger or acquisition is aborted;
ii. There is a change in tax status of the HT1 capital instrument due to changes in the tax laws and/or regulations; or
iii. It does not qualify as HT1 capital as determined by the BSP: Provided, further, That such repayment shall be approved by the BSP only if the preferred share/debt is simultaneously replaced with issues of new capital which is neither smaller in size nor of lower quality than the original issue, unless the bank’s capital ratio remains more than adequate after redemption.

It must not contain any clause which requires acceleration of payment of principal, except in the event of insolvency. The agreement governing its issuance must not contain any provision that mandates or creates an incentive for the bank to repay the outstanding principal of the instrument, e.g., a cross-default or negative pledge or a restrictive covenant, other than a call option which may be exercised by the bank;

- Its main features must be publicly disclosed by annotating the same on the instrument and in a manner that is easily understood by the investor;

- The proceeds of the issuance must be immediately available without limitation to the bank;

- The bank must have full discretion over the amount and timing of dividends/coupons where the bank –
  - Has not paid or declared a dividend on its common shares in the preceding financial year; or
  - Determines that no dividend is to be paid on such shares in the current financial year.

- The bank must have full control and access to waived payments;

- Any dividend/coupon to be paid must be paid only to the extent that the bank has profits distributable determined in accordance with existing BSP regulations. The dividend/coupon rate, or the formulation for calculating dividend/coupon payments must be fixed at the time of issuance and must not be linked to the credit standing of the bank;

- It may allow only one (1) moderate step-up in the dividend/coupon rate in conjunction with a call option, only if the step-up occurs at a minimum of ten (10) years after the issue date and if it results in an increase over the initial rate that is not more than:
  - 100 basis points less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis;
  - Fifty percent (50%) of the initial credit spread less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis.

The swap spread should be fixed as of the pricing date and reflect the differential in pricing on that date between the initial reference security or rate and the stepped-up reference security or rate.

- It must be underwritten by a third party not related to the issuer bank nor acting in reciprocity for and in behalf of the issuer bank;

- It must be issued in minimum denominations of at least P500,000.00 or its equivalent;

- It must clearly state on its face that it is not a deposit and is not insured by the PDIC; and

- The bank must submit a written external legal opinion that the abovementioned requirements, including the subordination and loss absorption features, have been met:

- Provided, That for purposes of reserve requirement regulation, it shall not be treated as time deposit liability, deposit substitute liability or other forms of borrowings: Provided, further, That the total amount of HT1 capital that may be included in the Tier 1 capital shall be limited to a maximum of fifteen percent (15%) of total Tier 1 capital (net of deductions enumerated in paragraph 3); Provided, furthermore, That the amount of HT1 capital in excess of the maximum limit shall be eligible for inclusion in the UT2 capital, subject to the limit in total Tier 2 capital. To determine the allowable amount of HT1 capital, the amount of total core Tier 1 capital (net of deductions enumerated in paragraph 3) should be multiplied by seventeen and sixty five percent (17.65%), the number derived from the proportion of fifteen percent (15%) to eighty five percent (85%), i.e., 15%/85% = 17.65%.

E. Eligible unsecured subordinated debt

13. UnSD issuances by banks should comply with the following minimum conditions in order to be eligible as UT2 capital:

a. It must be issued and fully paid-up. Only the net proceeds received from the issuance shall be included as capital;

b. It must be available to absorb losses of the bank without it being obliged to cease carrying on business. The agreement governing its issuance should specifically provide for the coupon and principal to absorb losses where the bank would otherwise be insolvent, or for its holders to be treated as if they were holders of a specified class of share capital in any proceedings commenced for the winding up of the bank. Issue documentation must disclose to prospective investors the manner by which the instrument is to be treated in loss situation.

Alternatively, the agreement governing its issuance can provide for automatic conversion into common shares or perpetual and non-cumulative shares or perpetual and cumulative preferred shares upon occurrence of certain trigger events, as follows:

i. Breach of minimum capital ratio;
ii. Commencement of proceedings for winding up of the bank; or
iii. Upon appointment of receiver for the bank.

The rate of conversion must be fixed at the time of subscription to the instrument. The bank must also ensure that it has appropriate buffer of authorized capital stock and appropriate stockholders and board authorization for conversion/issue to take place anytime:

c. Its holders must not have priority claim, in respect of principal and coupon payments in the event of winding up of the bank, which is higher than or equal with that of depositors, other creditors of the bank, and holders of LT2 capital instruments. Its holder must waive his right to set off any amount he owes the bank against any subordinated amount owed to him due to the UT2 capital instrument;

d. It must neither be secured nor covered by a guarantee of the issuer or related party or other arrangement that legally or economically enhances the priority of the claim of any holder as against depositors, other creditors of the bank, and holders of LT2 capital instruments;

e. It must not be redeemable at the initiative of the holder. It must not be repayable prior to maturity without the prior approval of the BSP. Provided, That repayment may be allowed only in connection with a call option after a minimum of five (5) years from issue date; Provided, however, That a call option may be exercised within the first five (5) years from issue date when:

i. It was issued for the purpose of a merger with or acquisition by the bank and the merger or acquisition is aborted;

ii. There is a change in tax status of the UT2 capital instrument due to changes in the tax laws and/or regulations; or

iii. It does not qualify as UT2 capital as determined by the BSP:

Provided, further, That such repayment prior to maturity shall be approved by the BSP only if the debt is simultaneously replaced with issues of new capital which is neither smaller in size nor of lower quality than the original issue, unless the bank’s capital ratio remains more than adequate after redemption.

It must not contain any clause which requires acceleration of payment of principal, except in the event of insolvency. The agreement governing its issuance must not contain any provision that mandates or creates an incentive for the bank to repay the outstanding principal of the instrument, e.g., a cross-default or negative pledge or a restrictive covenant, other than a call option which may be exercised by the bank;

f. Its main features must be publicly disclosed by annotating the same on the instrument and in a manner that is easily understood by the investor;

\[ g \] The proceeds of the issuance must be immediately available without limitation to the bank;

\[ h \] The bank must have the option to defer any coupon payment where the bank:

\[ i \] has not paid or declared a dividend on its common shares in the preceding financial year; or

\[ ii \] determines that no dividend is to be paid on such shares in the current financial year;

It is acceptable for the deferred coupon to bear interest but the interest rate payable must not exceed market rates;

\[ i \] The coupon rate, or the formulation for calculating coupon payments must be fixed at the time of issuance and must not be linked to the credit standing of the bank;

\[ j \] It may allow only one (1) moderate step-up in the coupon rate in conjunction with a call option, only if the step-up occurs at a minimum of ten (10) years after the issue date and if it results in an increase over the initial rate that is not more than:

\[ i \] 100 basis points less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis; or

\[ ii \] fifty percent (50%) of the initial credit spread less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis.

The swap spread should be fixed as of the pricing date and reflect the differential in pricing on that date between the initial reference security or rate and the stepped-up reference security or rate;

\[ k \] It must be underwritten by a third party not related to the issuer bank nor acting in reciprocity for and in behalf of the issuer bank;

\[ l \] It must be issued in minimum denominations of at least ₱500,000.00 or its equivalent;

\[ m \] It must clearly state on its face that it is not a deposit and is not insured by the PDIC; and \[ n \] The bank must submit a written external legal opinion that the abovementioned requirements, including the subordination and loss absorption features, have been met:

Provided, That it shall be subject to a cumulative discount factor of twenty percent (20%) per year during the last five (5) years to maturity [i.e., twenty percent (20%) if the remaining life is four (4) years to less than five (5) years, forty percent (40%) if the remaining life is three (3) years to less than four (4) years, etc.]: Provided, further, That where it is denominated in a foreign currency, it shall be revalued in accordance with PAS 21: Provided, furthermore, That for purposes of reserve requirement regulation, it shall not be treated as time deposit liability, deposit substitute liability or other forms of borrowings.

14. UnSD issuances by banks should comply with the following minimum conditions in order to be eligible as LT2 capital:

\[ a \] It must be issued and fully paid-up. Only the net proceeds received from the issuance shall be included as capital;

\[ b \] Its holders must not have priority claim, in respect of principal and coupon payments in the event of winding up of the bank, which is higher than or equal with that of depositors and other creditors of the bank. Its holder must waive his right to set-off any amount he owes the bank against any subordinated amount owed to him due to the LT2 capital instrument;

\[ c \] It must neither be secured nor covered by a guarantee of the issuer or related party or other arrangement that legally or economically enhances the priority of the claim of any holder as against depositors and other creditors of the bank;

\[ d \] It must not be redeemable at the initiative of the holder. It must not be repayable prior to maturity without the prior approval of the BSP:

Provided, That repayment may be allowed only in connection with a call option after a minimum of five (5) years from issue date: Provided, however, That a call option may be exercised within the first five (5) years from issue date when:

i. It was issued for the purpose of a merger with or acquisition by the bank and the merger or acquisition is aborted;

ii. There is a change in tax status of the LT2 capital instrument due to changes in the tax laws and/or regulations; or

iii. It does not qualify as LT2 capital as determined by the BSP:

Provided, further, That such repayment prior to maturity shall be approved by the BSP only if the debt is simultaneously replaced with issues of new capital which is neither smaller in size nor of lower quality than the original issue, unless the bank’s capital ratio remains more than adequate after redemption.

It must not contain any clause which requires acceleration of payment of principal, except in the event of insolvency. The agreement governing its issuance must not contain any provision that mandates or creates an incentive for the bank to repay the outstanding principal of the instrument, e.g., a cross-default or negative pledge or a restrictive covenant, other than a call option which may be exercised by the bank;

e) Its main features must be publicly disclosed by annotating the same on the instrument and in a manner that is easily understood by the investor;

f) The proceeds of the issuance must be immediately available without limitation to the bank;

g) The coupon rate, or the formulation for calculating coupon payments must be fixed at the time of issuance and must not be linked to the credit standing of the bank;

h) It may allow only one (1) moderate step-up in the coupon rate in conjunction with a call option, only if the step-up occurs at a minimum of five (5) years after the issue date and if it results in an increase over the initial rate that is not more than:

i. 100 basis points less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis; or

ii. fifty percent (50%) of the initial credit spread less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis.

The swap spread should be fixed as of the pricing date and reflect the differential in pricing on that date between the initial reference security or rate and the stepped-up reference security or rate.

i. It must be underwritten by a third party not related to the issuer bank nor acting in reciprocity for and in behalf of the issuer bank;

j) It must be issued in minimum denominations of at least ₱500,000.00 or its equivalent;

k) It must clearly state on its face that it is not a deposit and is not insured by the PDIC; and

l) The bank must submit a written external legal opinion that the abovementioned requirements, including the subordination features, have been met:

Provided, That it shall be subject to a cumulative discount factor of twenty percent (20%) per year during the last five (5) years to maturity [i.e., twenty percent (20%) if the remaining life is four (4) years to less than five (5) years, forty percent (40%) if the remaining life is three (3) years to less than four (4) years, etc.: Provided, further, That where it is denominated in a foreign currency, it shall be revalued in accordance with PAS 21: Provided, furthermore, That for purposes of reserve requirement regulation, it shall not be treated as time deposit liability, deposit substitute liability or other forms of borrowings.
Part III. Credit risk-weighted assets

A. Risk-weighting

1. Banking book exposures shall be risk-weighted based on third party credit assessment of the individual exposure given by eligible external credit assessment institutions listed in Part III.C. The table below sets out the mapping of external credit assessments with the corresponding risk weights for banking book exposures. Exposures related to credit derivatives and securitizations are dealt with in Parts IV and V, respectively. Exposures should be risk-weighted net of specific provisions.

Sovereign Exposures

2. These include all exposures to central governments and central banks. All Philippine peso (Php) denominated exposures to the Philippine National Government (NG) and the BSP shall be risk-weighted at zero percent (0%). Foreign currency-denominated exposures to the NG and the BSP, however, shall be risk-weighted according to the table above: Provided, That only one-third (1/3) of the applicable risk weight shall be applied from 01 July 2007, two-thirds (2/3) from 01 January 2008, and the full risk weight from 01 January 2009. Exposures to the Bank for International Settlements (BIS), the International Monetary Fund (IMF), and the European Central Bank (ECB) and the European Community (EC) shall also receive zero percent (0%) risk weight. (As amended by Circular No. 588 dated 11 December 2007)

MDB Exposures

3. These include all exposures to multilateral development banks. Exposures to the World Bank Group comprised of the IBRD and the IFC, the ADB, the AfDB, the EBRD, the IDAB, the EIB, the European Investment Fund (EIF), the NIB, the CDB, the Islamic Development Bank (IDB), and the CEDB currently receive zero percent (0%) risk weight. However, it is the responsibility of the bank to monitor the external credit assessments of multilateral development banks to which they have an exposure to reflect in the risk weights any change therein.

1. The notations follow the rating symbols used by Standard & Poor’s. The mapping of ratings of all recognized external rating agencies is in Part III.C.

2. Or risk weight applicable to sovereign of incorporation, whichever is higher

3. The capital treatment of banks holdings of ROP Global Bonds paired with Warrants under the BSP’s revised risk-based capital adequacy framework is contained in Appendix 63b-1.
Bank Exposures
4. These include all exposures to Philippine-incorporated banks/QBs, as well as foreign-incorporated banks.

Interbank Call Loans
5. Interbank call loans refer to interbank loans that pass through the Interbank Call Loan Funds Transfer System of the BSP, the BAP, and the PCHC.

Exposures to Local Government Units
6. These include all exposures to non-central government public sector entities. Bonds issued by Philippine local government units (LGU Bonds), which are covered by Deed of Assignment of Internal Revenue Allotment of the LGU and guaranteed by the LGU Guarantee Corporation shall be risk-weighted at the lower of fifty percent (50%) or the appropriate risk weight indicated in the table above.

Exposures to Government Corporations
7. These include all exposures to commercial undertakings owned by central or local governments. Exposures to Philippine GOCCs that are not explicitly guaranteed by the Philippine NG are also included in this category.

Corporate Exposures
8. These include all exposures to business entities, which are not considered as micro, small, or medium enterprises (MSME), whether in the form of a corporation, partnership, or sole-proprietorship. These also include all exposures to FIs, including securities dealers/brokers and insurance companies, not falling under the definition of Bank in paragraph 4.

Housing Loans
9. These include all current loans to individuals for housing purpose, fully secured by first mortgage on residential property that is or will be occupied by the borrower. (As amended by M-2008-015 dated 19 March 2008)

Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSME)
10. An exposure must meet the following criteria to be considered as an MSME exposure:
   a) The exposure must be to an MSME as defined under existing BSP regulations; and
   b) The exposure must be in the form of direct loans, or unavailed portion of committed credit lines and other business facilities such as outstanding guarantees issued and unused letters of credit. Provided, That the credit equivalent amounts thereof shall be determined in accordance with the methodology for off-balance sheet items.

Qualified portfolio
11. For a bank’s portfolio of MSME exposures to be considered as qualified, it must be a highly diversified portfolio, i.e., it has at least 500 borrowers that are distributed over a number of industries. In addition, all MSME exposures in the qualified portfolio must be current exposures. All non-current MSME exposures are excluded from count and are to be treated as ordinary non-performing loans. Current MSME exposures not qualifying under highly diversified MSME portfolio will be risk-weighted based on external rating and shall be risk-weighted in the same manner as corporate exposures.

Defaulted Exposures
12. A default is considered to have occurred in the following cases:
   a) If a credit obligation is considered non-performing under existing rules and regulations. For non-performing debt securities, they shall be defined as follows:
      i. For zero-coupon debt securities, and debt securities with quarterly, semi-annual, or annual coupon payments, they shall be considered non-performing when principal and/or coupon payment, as may be applicable, is unpaid for thirty (30) days or more after due date; and

ii. For debt securities with monthly coupon payments, they shall be considered non-performing when three (3) or more coupon payments are in arrears: Provided, however, That when the total amount of arrearages reaches twenty percent (20%) of the total outstanding balance of the debt security, the total outstanding balance of the debt security shall be considered as non-performing.

b) If a borrower/obligor has sought or has been placed in bankruptcy, has been found insolvent, or has ceased operations in the case of businesses;

c) If the bank sells a credit obligation at a material credit-related loss, i.e., excluding gains and losses due to interest rate movements. Banks’ board-approved internal policies must specifically define when a material credit-related loss occurs; and
d) If a credit obligation of a borrower/obligor is considered to be in default, all credit obligations of the borrower/obligor with the same bank shall also be considered to be in default.

Housing loans
13. These include all loans to individuals for housing purpose, fully secured by first mortgage on residential property that is or will be occupied by the borrower, which are considered to be in default in accordance with paragraph 12.

Others
14. These include the total amounts or portions of all other defaulted exposures, which are not secured by eligible collateral or guarantee as defined in Part III.B.

ROPA
15. All real and other properties acquired and classified as such under existing regulations.

Other Assets
16. The standard risk weight for all other assets, including bank premises, furniture, fixtures and equipment, will be 100%, except in the following cases:

a) Cash on hand and gold, which shall be risk-weighted at zero percent (0%); and
b) Checks and other cash items, which shall be risk-weighted at twenty percent (20%).

Accruals on a claim shall be classified and risk-weighted in the same way as the claim. Bills purchased shall be classified and risk-weighted as claims on the drawee bank. The treatments of credit derivatives and securitization exposures are presented separately in Parts IV and V, respectively.

Investments in equity or other regulatory capital instruments issued by banks or other financial/non-financial allied/non-allied undertakings will be risk-weighted at 100%, unless deductible from the capital base as required in Part II.

Off-balance sheet items
17. For off-balance sheet items, the risk-weighted amount shall be calculated using a two-step process. First, the credit equivalent amount of an off-balance sheet item shall be determined by multiplying its notional principal amount by the appropriate credit conversion factor, as follows:

a) 100% credit conversion factor - this shall apply to direct credit substitutes, e.g., general guarantees of indebtedness (including standby letters of credit serving as financial guarantees for loans and securities) and acceptances (including endorsements with the character of acceptances), and shall include:

i. Guarantees issued other than shipside bonds/airway bills;
ii. Financial standby letters of credit

b) Fifty percent (50%) credit conversion factor – this shall apply to certain transaction-related contingent items, e.g., performance bonds, bid bonds, warranties and standby letters of credit related to particular transactions, and shall include:

i. Performance standby letters of credit (net of margin deposit), established as a guarantee that a business transaction will be performed;

This shall also apply to –

i. Note issuance facilities and revolving underwriting facilities; and

ii. Other commitments, e.g., formal standby facilities and credit lines with an original maturity of more than one (1) year, and this shall also include Underwritten Accounts Unsold.

c) Twenty percent (20%) credit conversion factor – this shall apply to short-term, self-liquidating trade-related contingencies arising from movement of goods, e.g., documentary credits collateralized by the underlying shipments, and shall include:

i. Trade-related guarantees:
   - Shipside bonds/airway bills
   - Letters of credit – confirmed

ii. Sight letters of credit outstanding (net of margin deposit);

iii. Usance letters of credit outstanding (net of margin deposit);

iv. Deferred letters of credit (net of margin deposit); and

v. Revolving letters of credit (net of margin deposit) arising from movement of goods and/or services;

This shall also apply to commitments with an original maturity of up to one (1) year, and shall include Committed Credit Line for Commercial Paper Issued.

d) Zero percent (0%) credit conversion factor – this shall apply to commitments which can be unconditionally cancelled at any time by the bank without prior notice, and shall include Credit Card Lines.

This shall also apply to those not involving credit risk, and shall include:

i. Late deposits/payments received;

ii. Inward bills for collection;

iii. Outward bills for collection;

iv. Travelers’ checks unsold;

v. Trust department accounts;

vi. Items held for safekeeping/custodianship;

vii. Items held as collaterals;

viii. Deficiency claims receivable; and

ix. Others.

18. For derivative contracts, the credit equivalent amount shall be the sum of the current credit exposure (or replacement cost) and an estimate of the potential future credit exposure (or add-on). However, the following shall not be included in the computation:

a) Instruments which are traded in an exchange where they are subject to daily receipt and payment of cash variation margin; and

b) Exchange rate contract with original maturity of fourteen (14) calendar days or less.

19. The current credit exposure shall be the positive mark-to-market value of the contract (or zero if the mark-to-market value is zero or negative). The potential future credit exposure shall be the product of the notional principal amount of the contract multiplied by the appropriate potential future credit conversion factor, as indicated below:

Provided, That:

a) For contracts with multiple exchanges of principal, the factors are to be multiplied by the number of remaining payments in the contract;

b) For contracts that are structured to settle outstanding exposure following specified payment dates and where the terms are reset such that the market value of the contract is zero on these specified dates, the residual maturity would be set.
equal to the time until the next reset date, and in the case of interest rate contracts with remaining maturities of more than one (1) year that meet these criteria, the potential future credit conversion factor is subject to a floor of one-half percent (1/2%); and

c) No potential future credit exposure shall be calculated for single currency floating/floating interest rate swaps, i.e., the credit exposure on these contracts would be evaluated solely on the basis of their mark-to-market value.

20. The credit equivalent amount shall be treated like any on-balance sheet asset, and shall be assigned the appropriate risk weight, i.e., according to the third party credit assessment of the counterparty exposure.

B. Credit risk mitigation (CRM)

21. Banks use a number of techniques to mitigate the credit risks to which they are exposed. For example, exposures may be collateralized by first priority claims, in whole or in part with cash or securities, or a loan exposure may be guaranteed by a third party. Physical collateral, such as real estate, buildings, machineries, and inventories are not recognized at this time for credit risk mitigation purposes in line with Basel II recommendations.

22. In order for banks to obtain capital relief for any use of CRM techniques, all documentation used in collateralized transactions and for documenting guarantees must be binding on all parties and legally enforceable in all relevant jurisdictions. Banks must have conducted sufficient legal review to verify this and have a well-founded legal basis to reach this conclusion, and undertake such further review as necessary to ensure continuing enforceability.

23. The effects of CRM will not be double counted. Therefore, no additional supervisory recognition of CRM for regulatory capital purposes will be granted on claims for which an issue-specific rating is used that already reflects that CRM. Principal-only ratings will not be allowed within the framework of CRM.

24. While the use of CRM techniques reduces or transfers credit risk, it simultaneously may increase other risks (residual risks). Residual risks include legal, operational, liquidity and market risks. Therefore, it is imperative that banks employ robust procedures and processes to control these risks, including strategy; consideration of the underlying credit; valuation; policies and procedures; systems; control of roll-off risks; and management of concentration risk arising from the bank’s use of CRM techniques and its interaction with the bank’s overall credit risk profile.

25. The disclosure requirements under Part VIII of this document must also be observed for banks to obtain capital relief (i.e., adjustments in the risk weights of collateralized or guaranteed exposures) in respect of any CRM techniques.

Collateralized transactions

26. A collateralized transaction is one in which:

a) banks have a credit exposure or potential credit exposure; and

b) that credit exposure or potential credit exposure is hedged in whole or in part by collateral posted by a counterparty or by a third party in behalf of the counterparty.

27. In addition to the general requirement for legal certainty set out in paragraph 22, the legal mechanism by which collateral is pledged or transferred must ensure that the bank has the right to liquidate or take legal possession of it, in a timely manner, in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy (or one or more otherwise-defined credit events set out in the transaction documentation) of the counterparty (and, where applicable, of the counterparty referred to in paragraph 26).

1 Counterparty refers to a party to whom a bank has an on- or off-balance sheet credit exposure or a potential credit exposure.
Furthermore, banks must take all steps necessary to fulfill those requirements under the law applicable to the bank's interest in the collateral for obtaining and maintaining an enforceable security interest, e.g., by registering it with a registrar, or for exercising a right to net or set off in relation to title transfer collateral.

28. In order for collateral to provide protection, the credit quality of the counterparty and the value of the collateral must not have a material positive correlation. For example, securities issued by the counterparty – or by any related group entity – would provide little protection and so would be ineligible.

29. Banks must have clear and robust procedures for the timely liquidation of collateral to ensure that any legal conditions required for declaring the default of the counterparty and liquidating the collateral are observed, and that collateral can be liquidated promptly.

30. Where the collateral is required to be held by a custodian, the BSP will only recognize the collateral for regulatory capital purposes if it is held by BSP-authorized third party custodians.

31. A capital requirement will be applied to a bank on either side of the collateralized transaction: for example, both repos and reverse repos will be subject to capital requirements. Likewise, both sides of a securities lending and borrowing transaction will be subject to explicit capital charges, as will the posting of securities in connection with a derivative exposure or other borrowing.

Banking book

32. Where banks take eligible collateral, as listed in paragraph 34, and satisfies the requirements under paragraphs 27 to 31, they are allowed to apply the risk weight of the collateral to the collateralized portion of the credit exposure (equivalent to the fair market value of recognized collateral), subject to a floor of twenty percent (20%). The twenty percent (20%) floor shall not apply and a zero percent (0%) risk weight can be applied when the exposure and the collateral are denominated in the same currency, and either:

a) The collateral is cash as defined in paragraph 34.a; or

b) The collateral is a sovereign debt security eligible for zero percent (0%) risk weight, or a Php-denominated debt obligation issued by the Philippine NG or the BSP, which fair market value has been discounted by twenty percent (20%).

33. For collateral to be recognized, however, the collateral must be pledged for at least the life of the exposure and it must be marked to market and revalued with a minimum frequency of every six (6) months.

34. The following are the eligible collateral instruments:

a) Cash (as well as certificates of deposit or comparable instruments issued by the lending bank) on deposit with the bank which is incurring the counterparty exposure;

b) Gold;

c) Debt obligations issued by the Philippine NG or the BSP;

d) Debt securities issued by central governments and central banks (and PSEs treated as sovereigns) of foreign countries as well as MDBs with at least investment grade external credit ratings;

e) Other debt securities with external credit ratings of at least BBB- or its equivalent;

f) Unrated senior debt securities issued by banks with an issuer rating of at least BBB- or its equivalent, or with other debt issues of the same seniority with a rating of at least BBB- or its equivalent;

g) Equities included in the main index of an organized exchange; and
h) Investments in Unit Investment Trust Funds (UITF) and the Asian Bond Fund 2 (ABF2) duly approved by the BSP.

Trading book

35. A credit risk capital requirement should also be applied to banks’ counterparty exposures in the trading book (e.g., repo-style transactions, OTC derivatives contracts). Where banks take eligible collateral for these trading book transactions, as listed in paragraph 34, and satisfies the requirements under paragraphs 27 to 31, they are to compute for the credit risk capital requirement according to the following paragraphs: Provided, That, for repo-style transactions in the trading book, all instruments which are included in the trading book may be used as eligible collateral.

36. For collateralized transactions in the trading book, the exposure amount after risk mitigation is calculated as follows: $E^* = \max \{0, [E \times (1 + H_e) - C \times (1 - H_c - H_{fx})]\}$

Where:
- $E^*$ = the exposure value after risk mitigation
- $E$ = the current value of the exposure
- $H_e$ = haircut appropriate to the exposure
- $C$ = the current value of the collateral received
- $H_c$ = haircut appropriate to the collateral
- $H_{fx}$ = haircut appropriate for currency mismatch between the collateral and exposure set at 8% (based on a 10-business day holding period and daily marking to market)

37. The treatment of transactions where there is a maturity mismatch between the maturity of the counterparty exposure and the collateral is given in paragraphs 50 to 54.

38. These are the haircuts to be used (based on a 10-business day holding period, daily marking to market and daily remargining), expressed as percentages:

39. Where the collateral is a basket of assets, the haircut on the basket will be $H = \Sigma a_i H_i$, where $a_i$ is the weight of the asset in the basket and $H_i$ is the haircut applicable to that asset.

40. For collateralized OTC derivatives transactions in the trading book, the credit equivalent amount will be computed according to paragraphs 18 to 19, but adjusted by deducting the volatility adjusted collateral amount as computed according to paragraphs 36 to 39.

1 The notations follow the rating symbols used by Standard & Poor’s. The mapping of ratings of all recognized external rating agencies is in Part III.C.
41. The exposure amount after risk mitigation will be multiplied by the risk weight of the counterparty to obtain the risk-weighted asset amount for the collateralized transaction.

Guarantees

42. Where guarantees are direct, explicit, irrevocable and unconditional, banks may be allowed to take account of such credit protection in calculating capital requirements.

43. A guarantee must represent a direct claim on the protection provider and must be explicitly referenced to specific exposures or a pool of exposures, so that the extent of the cover is clearly defined and incontrovertible. Other than non-payment by a protection purchaser of money due in respect of the credit protection contract, the guarantee must be irrevocable; there must be no clause in the contract that would allow the protection provider unilaterally to cancel the credit cover or that would increase the effective cost of cover as a result of deteriorating credit quality in the hedged exposure. It must also be unconditional; there should be no clause in the protection contract outside the direct control of the bank that could prevent the protection provider from being obliged to pay out in a timely manner in the event that the original counterparty fails to make the payment(s) due.

44. In addition to the legal certainty requirement in paragraph 22, in order for a guarantee to be recognized, the following conditions must be satisfied:

a) On the qualifying default/non-payment of the counterparty, the bank may in a timely manner pursue the guarantor for any monies outstanding under the documentation governing the transaction. The guarantor may make one lump sum payment of all monies under such documentation to the bank, or the guarantor may assume the future payment obligations of the counterparty covered by the guarantee. The bank must have the right to receive any such payments from the guarantor without first having to take legal actions in order to pursue the counterparty for payment;

b) The guarantee is an explicitly documented obligation assumed by the guarantor; and

c) The guarantee must cover all types of payments the underlying obligor is expected to make under the documentation governing the transaction, for example, notional amount, margin payments, etc. Where a guarantee covers payment of principal only, interests and other uncovered payments should be treated as an unsecured amount.

45. Where the bank’s exposure is guaranteed by an eligible guarantor, as listed in paragraph 47, and satisfies the requirements under paragraphs 42 to 44, the bank is allowed to apply the risk weight of the guarantor to the guaranteed portion of the credit exposure.

46. The treatment of transactions where there is a mismatch between the maturity of the counterparty exposure and the guarantee is given in paragraphs 50 to 54.

47. The following are the eligible guarantors:

a) Philippine NG and the BSP;

b) Central governments and central banks and PSEs of foreign countries as well as MDBs with a lower risk weight than the counterparty;

c) Banks with a lower risk weight than the counterparty; and

d) Other entities with external credit assessment of at least A- or its equivalent.

48. Where a bank provides a credit protection to another bank in the form of a guarantee that a third party will perform on its obligations, the risk to the guarantor bank is the same as if the bank had entered into the transaction as a principal. In such circumstances, the guarantor bank will be required to calculate capital requirement on the guaranteed amount according to the risk weight corresponding to the third party exposure. In this instance, and provided the credit protection is deemed to be legally effective, the credit risk is considered transferred to the bank providing credit protection. However, the bank receiving credit protection on its exposure to a third party shall recognize a corresponding risk-weighted credit exposure to the bank providing credit protection.

49. An exposure that is covered by a guarantee that is counter-guaranteed by the Philippine NG or BSP, may be considered as covered by the guarantee of the Philippine NG or BSP: Provided, That:

a) the counter-guarantee covers all credit risk element of the exposure;

b) both the original guarantee and the counter-guarantee meet all operational requirements for guarantees, except that the counter guarantee need not be direct and explicit to the original exposure; and

c) the cover is robust and that no historical evidence suggests that the coverage of the counter-guarantee is less than effectively equivalent to that of a direct guarantee of the Philippine NG and BSP.

Currently, Php-denominated exposures to the extent guaranteed by Industrial Guarantee and Loan Fund (IGLF), Home Guaranty Corporation (HGC), and Trade and Investment Development Corporation of the Philippines (TIDCORP), which guarantees are counter-guaranteed by the Philippine NG receive zero percent (0%) risk weight.

(As amended by M-2008-015 dated 19 March 2008)

Maturity mismatch

50. For collateralized transactions in the trading book and guaranteed transactions, the credit risk mitigating effects of such transactions will still be recognized even if a maturity mismatch occurs between the hedge and the underlying exposure, subject to appropriate adjustments.

51. For purposes of calculating risk-weighted assets, a maturity mismatch occurs when the residual maturity of a hedge is less than that of the underlying exposure.

52. The maturity of the hedge and the maturity of the underlying exposure should both be defined conservatively. For the hedge, embedded options which may reduce the term of the hedge should be taken into account so that the shortest possible effective maturity is used. Where a call is at the discretion of the guarantor/protection seller, the maturity will always be at the first call date. If the call is at the discretion of the protection buying bank but the terms of the arrangement at origination of the hedge contain a positive incentive for the bank to call the transaction before contractual maturity, the remaining time to the first call date will be deemed to be the effective maturity. For example, where there is a step-up in cost in conjunction with a call feature or where the effective cost of cover increases over time even if credit quality remains the same or increases, the effective maturity will be the remaining time to the first call. The effective maturity of the underlying, on the other hand, should be gauged as the longest remaining time before the counterparty is scheduled to fulfill its obligation, taking into account any applicable grace period.

53. Hedges with maturity mismatches are only recognized when their original maturities are greater than or equal to one year. As a result, the maturity of hedges for exposures with original maturities of less than one (1) year must be matched to be recognized. In all cases, hedges will no longer be recognized when they have a residual maturity of three months or less.

54. When there is a maturity mismatch with recognized credit risk mitigants, the following adjustment will be applied.

Pa = P \times \left( t - 0.25 \right) / \left( T - 0.25 \right)
\]

Where:

\[
Pa = \text{value of the credit protection adjusted for maturity mismatch}
\]

P = \text{original credit protection value}
\]

\[
t = \text{effective maturity of the hedge}
\]

\[
T = \text{longest remaining time before the counterparty is scheduled to fulfill its obligation}
\]

5 Housing microfinance loans under Sec. X361.5 to the extent guaranteed by the HGC, shall be subject to a zero percent (0%) risk weight.
P = credit protection (e.g., collateral amount, guarantee amount) adjusted for any haircuts
\[ t = \min (T, \text{residual maturity of the credit protection arrangement}) \text{ expressed in years} \]
\[ T = \min (5, \text{residual maturity of the exposure}) \text{ expressed in years} \]

57. The BSP will issue the mapping of ratings of other rating agencies as soon as it is recognized by the BSP for regulatory capital purposes.

National Rating Systems
58. With prior BSP approval, international credit rating agencies may have national rating systems developed exclusively for use in the Philippines using the Philippine sovereign as reference highest credit quality anchor.

Multiple Assessments
59. If an exposure has only one rating by any of the BSP recognized credit assessment agencies, that rating shall be used to determine the risk weight of the exposure; in cases where there are two or more ratings which map into different risk weights, the BSP will issue the mapping of ratings of other rating agencies as soon as it is recognized by the BSP for regulatory capital purposes.
weights, the higher of the two lowest risk weights should be used.

Issuer versus issue assessments

60. Any reference to credit rating shall refer to issue-specific rating; the issuer rating may be used only if the exposure being risk-weighted is:
   a) an unsecured senior obligation of the issuer and is of the same denomination applicable to the issuer rating (e.g., local currency issuer rating may be used for risk weighting local currency denominated senior claims);
   b) short-term; and
   c) in cases of guarantees.

61. For loans, risk weighting shall depend on either the rating of the borrower or the rating of the unsecured senior obligation of the borrower. Provided, That in case of the latter, the loan is of the same currency denomination as the unsecured senior obligation.

Domestic versus international debt issuances

62. Domestic debt issuances may be rated by BSP-recognized domestic credit assessment agencies or by international credit assessment agencies which have developed a national rating system acceptable to the BSP. Internationally-issued debt obligations shall be rated by BSP-recognized international credit assessment agencies only.

Level of application of the assessment

63. External credit assessments for one entity within a corporate group cannot be used to proxy for the credit assessment of other entities within the same group. Such other entities should secure their own ratings.

Part IV. Credit Derivatives

1. This Part sets out the capital treatment for credit derivatives. Banks may use credit derivatives to mitigate its credit risks or to acquire credit risks. For credit derivatives that are used as credit risk mitigants (CRM), the general requirements for the use of CRM techniques in paragraphs 21 to 25, Part III.B, have to be satisfied, in addition to the specific operational requirements for credit derivatives in paragraphs 8 to 14.

2. The contents of this Part are just the general rules to be followed in computing capital requirements for credit derivatives. A bank, therefore, is expected to consult the BSP-SES when there is uncertainty about the computation of capital requirements, or even about whether a given transaction should be treated under the credit derivatives framework.

A. Definitions and general terminology

3. Credit derivative – a contract wherein one party called the protection buyer or credit risk seller transfers the credit risk of a reference asset or assets issued by a reference entity or entities, which it may or may not own, to another party called the protection seller or credit risk buyer. In return, the protection buyer pays a premium or interest-related payments to the protection seller reflecting the underlying credit risk of the reference asset/s. Credit derivatives may refer to credit default swaps (CDS), total return swaps (TRS), and credit-linked notes (CLN) and similar products.

4. Credit default swap – a credit derivative wherein the protection buyer may exchange the reference asset or any deliverable obligation of the reference entity for cash equal to a specified amount, or get compensated to the extent of the difference between the par value and market value of the asset upon the occurrence of a defined credit event.

5. Total return swap – a credit derivative wherein the protection buyer exchanges the actual collections and variations in the prices of the reference asset with the protection seller in return for a fixed premium.

6. Credit-linked note – a pre-funded credit derivative wherein the note holder acts as a protection seller while the note issuer is the protection buyer. As such, the repayment of the principal to the note holder is contingent upon the non-occurrence of a defined credit event. All references to CLNs shall be taken to generically include similar instruments, such as credit-linked deposits (CLDs).

7. Special purpose vehicle – refers to an entity specifically established to issue CLNs of a single, homogeneous risk class that are fully collateralized as to principal by eligible collateral instruments listed in paragraph 34, Part III.B, and which are purchased out of the proceeds of the note issuance.

B. Operational requirements for credit derivatives

8. A credit derivative must represent a direct claim on the protection seller and must be explicitly referenced to specific exposures or a pool of exposures, so that the extent of the cover is clearly defined and incontrovertible. Other than non-payment by a protection buyer of money due in respect of the credit derivative contract, it must be irrevocable; there must be no clause in the contract that would allow the protection seller unilaterally to cancel the credit cover or that would increase the effective cost of cover as a result of deteriorating credit quality in the hedged exposure. It must also be unconditional; there should be no clause in the credit derivative contract outside the direct control of the protection buyer that could prevent the protection seller from being obliged to pay out in a timely manner in the event of a defined credit event.

9. The credit events specified by the contracting parties must at a minimum cover:

   a) failure to pay the amounts due under terms of the underlying obligation that are in effect at the time of such failure (with a grace period that is closely in line with the grace period in the underlying obligation);
   b) bankruptcy, insolvency or inability of the obligor to pay its debts, or its failure or admission in writing of its inability generally to pay its debts as they become due, and analogous events; and
   c) restructuring of the underlying obligation involving forgiveness or postponement of principal, interest or fees that results in a credit loss event (i.e., charge-off, specific provision or other similar debit to the profit and loss account).

10. The credit derivative shall not terminate prior to expiration of any grace period required for a default on the underlying obligation to occur as a result of a failure to pay, subject to the provisions of paragraph 52 of Part III.B.

11. Credit derivatives allowing for cash settlement are recognized for capital purposes insofar as a robust valuation process is in place in order to estimate loss reliably. There must be a clearly specified period for obtaining post-credit event valuations of the underlying obligation.

12. If the protection buyer’s right or ability to transfer the underlying obligation to the protection seller is required for settlement, the terms of the underlying obligation must provide that any required consent to such transfer may not be unreasonably withheld.

13. The identity of the parties responsible for determining whether a credit event has occurred must be clearly defined. This determination must not be the sole responsibility of the protection seller. The bank as protection buyer must have the right/ability to inform the protection seller of the occurrence of a credit event.

14. Asset mismatches (underlying obligation is different from the obligation... used for purposes of determining cash settlement or the deliverable obligation, or the obligation used for purposes of determining whether a credit event has occurred are permissible if:

a) the obligation used for purposes of determining cash settlement or the deliverable obligation, or the obligation used for purposes of determining whether a credit event has occurred ranks pari passu with or is junior to the underlying obligation; and

b) both obligations share the same obligor (i.e., the same legal entity) and legally enforceable cross-default or cross-acceleration clauses are in place.

C. Capital treatment for protection buyers

15. A bank that enters into a credit derivative transaction as a protection buyer in order to hedge an existing exposure in the banking book may only get capital relief if all the general requirements for the use of CRM techniques in paragraphs 21 to 25, Part III.B and the conditions in paragraphs 8 to 14 are satisfied. In addition, only the eligible guarantors listed in paragraph 47, Part III.B are considered as eligible protection sellers.

16. If all of the conditions in paragraph 15 are satisfied, banks that are protection buyers may apply the risk weight of the protection seller to the protected portion of the exposure being hedged. The risk weight of the protection seller should therefore be lower than the risk weight of the exposure being hedged for capital relief to be recognized. Exposures that are protected through the issuance of CLNs will be treated as transactions collateralized by cash and a zero percent (0%) risk weight is applied to the protected portion. The uncovered portion shall retain the risk weight of the bank’s underlying counterparty.

17. The protected portion of an exposure is measured as follows:

a) The fixed amount, if such is to be paid upon the occurrence of a credit event; or

b) The notional value of the contract if either (1) par is to be paid in exchange for physical delivery of the reference asset, or (2) par less market value of the asset is to be paid upon the occurrence of a credit event.

18. A bank may obtain credit protection for a basket of reference entities where the contract terminates and pays out on the first entity to default. In this case, the bank may substitute the risk weight of the protection seller for the risk weight of the asset within the basket with the lowest risk-weighted amount, but only if the notional amount is less than or equal to the notional amount of the credit derivative.

19. Where the contract terminates and pays out on the n th (other than the first) entity to default, the bank will only be able to recognize any reductions in the risk weight of the underlying asset if (n-1) th default-protection has also been obtained or when n-1 of the assets within the basket has already defaulted.

20. Where the contract is referenced to entities in the basket proportionately, reductions in the risk weight will only apply to the extent of the underlying asset’s share of protection in the contract.

21. When a bank conducts an internal hedge using a credit derivative (i.e., hedging the credit risk of an exposure in the banking book with a credit derivative booked in the trading book), in order for the bank to receive any reduction in the capital requirement for the exposure in the trading book, the credit risk in the trading book must be transferred to an outside third party (i.e., an eligible protection seller).

22. Where a bank buys credit protection through a TRS and records the net payments received on the swap as net income, but does not record offsetting deterioration in the value of the asset that is protected (either through reductions in fair value or by an addition to reserves), the credit protection will not be recognized.

23. Materiality thresholds on payments below which no payment is made in the event of loss are equivalent to retained first loss positions and must be deducted in full from the capital of the bank buying the credit protection.

24. Where the credit protection is denominated in a currency different from that in which the exposure is denominated – i.e., there is a currency mismatch – the protected portion of the exposure will be reduced by the application of a haircut, as follows:

\[ G_a = G \times (1 - H_{FX}) \]

Where:
- \( G_a \) = adjusted protected portion of the exposure
- \( G \) = protected portion of the exposure prior to haircut
- \( H_{FX} \) = haircut appropriate for currency mismatch between the credit protection and underlying obligation set at eight percent (8%) (based on a 10-business day holding period and daily marking to market)

25. Where a maturity mismatch occurs between the credit protection and the underlying exposure, the protected portion of the exposure adjusted for maturity mismatch will be computed according to paragraph 50 to 54, Part III.B.

D. Capital treatment for protection sellers

26. Where a bank is a protection seller in a CDS or TRS transaction, it must calculate a capital requirement on the reference asset as if it were a direct investor in the reference asset. The risk weight of the reference asset is multiplied by the nominal amount of the protection provided by the credit derivative to obtain the risk-weighted exposure.

27. For a bank holding a CLN, credit exposure is acquired on two fronts. As such, the on-balance sheet exposure arising from the note should be weighted by adding the risk weights of the reference entity and the risk weight of the note issuer. The amount of exposure is the carrying amount of the note. If the CLN principal is fully collateralized by an eligible collateral listed in paragraph 34, Part III.B, and which satisfies the requirements in paragraphs 27 to 31, Part III.B, the risk weight of the note issuer is substituted with the risk weight associated with the relevant collateral.

28. When the credit derivative is referenced to a basket of reference entities and the contract terminates and pays out on the first entity to default in the basket, capital should be held to consider the cumulative risk of all the reference entities in the basket. This means that the risk weights of all the reference entities are added up and multiplied by the amount of the protection provided by the credit derivative to obtain the risk-weighted exposure to the basket. However, the risk-weighted exposure is capped at ten (10) times the protection provided under the contract. Accordingly, the maximum capital charge is 100% of the protection provided under the contract. The multiplier ten (10) is the reciprocal of the BSP-required minimum CAR of ten percent (10%). For CLNs, the risk weight of the issuer is likewise included in the summing of the risk weights.

29. When the contract terminates and pays out on the \( n^{th} \) (other than the first) entity to default, the treatment above shall apply except that in aggregating the risk weights of the reference entities, the risk weight of the \( n-1 \) lowest risk-weighted entity/ies is/are excluded from the computation. For CLNs, the risk weight of the issuer is likewise included in the summing of the risk weights.
30. When a first or an \( n \)-th-to-default credit derivative has an external credit rating acceptable to the BSP, the risk weight in paragraph 21, Part V.F will be applied.

31. A contract that is referenced to entities in the basket proportionately should be risk-weighted according to each reference entity’s share of protection under the contract.

E. Credit derivatives in the trading book

32. The following describes the positions to be reported for credit derivative transactions for purposes of calculating specific risk and general market risk charges under the standardized approach.

33. A CDS creates a notional position in the specific risk of the reference obligation. A TRS creates notional positions on the specific and general market risks of the reference obligation, and an opposite notional position on a zero coupon government security representing the fixed payments or premium under the TRS. A CLN creates a notional position in the specific risk of the reference obligation, a position on the specific risk associated with the issuer, and a position on the general market risk of the note.

Specific risk

34. The specific risk position/s on the reference obligation/s created by credit derivatives are reported as short positions by protection buyers and long positions by protection sellers. In addition, holders of CLNs should report a long position on the specific risk of the note issuer.

35. The protection buyer in a first-to-default transaction should report a short position in the reference obligation with the lowest specific risk charge. A protection buyer in an \( n \)-th (other than the first)-to-default transaction shall only be allowed to report a short position in a reference obligation only if \( n-1 \) obligations in the reference basket has/have already defaulted.

36. When a credit derivative is referenced to multiple entities and the contract terminates and pays out on the first obligation to default in the basket, the transaction should be reported by the protection seller as long positions in each of the reference obligations in the basket. A CLN should likewise be reported as a long position on the note issuer. The total capital charge is capped at the notional amount of the derivative or, in the case of a CLN, the carrying amount of the note.

37. When the contract terminates and pays out on the \( n \)-th (other than the first) entity to default in the basket, the treatment above shall apply except that the protection seller may exclude the long position/s on \( n-1 \) reference obligations with the lowest risk-weighted exposures in its report. A CLN should likewise be reported as a long position on the note issuer. The total capital charge is capped at the notional amount of the derivative or, in the case of a CLN, the carrying amount of the note.

38. When an \( n \)-th-to-default credit derivative has an external credit rating acceptable to the BSP, the specific risk weights in Part VI.B will be applied.

39. When the contract is referenced to multiple obligations under a proportionate structure, positions in the reference obligations should be reported according to their respective proportions in the contract.

General market risk

40. A protection buyer/seller in a TRS should report a short/long notional position on the reference obligation and a long/short notional position on a zero coupon government security representing the fixed payment under the contract.

41. A protection buyer/seller in a CLN should report a short/long position on the note.
Counterparty credit risk

42. CDS and TRS transactions in the trading book attract counterparty credit risk charges. A five percent (5%) add-on factor for the computation of the potential future credit exposure shall be used by both protection buyers and protection sellers if the reference obligation has an external credit rating of at least BBB- or its equivalent. A ten percent (10%) add-on factor applies to all other reference obligations. However, a protection seller in a CDS shall only be subject to the add-on factor if it is subject to closeout upon the insolvency of the protection buyer while the underlying is still solvent. The add-on in this case should be capped to the amount of unpaid premiums.

43. Where the credit derivative is a first to default transaction, the add-on will be determined by the lowest credit quality underlying in the basket, i.e., if there are any non-investment grade or unrated items in the basket, the ten percent (10%) add-on should be used. For second and subsequent to default transactions, underlying assets should continue to be allocated according to the credit quality, i.e., the second lowest credit quality will determine the add-on for a second to default transaction, etc.

44. Where the credit derivative is referenced proportionately to multiple obligations, the add-on factor will follow the add-on factor applicable for the obligation with the biggest share. If the protection is equally proportioned, the highest add-on factor should be used.

Part V. Securitization

1. Banks must apply the securitization framework for determining regulatory capital requirements on their securitization exposures. Securitization exposures can include but are not restricted to the following: asset-backed securities, mortgage-backed securities, credit enhancements, liquidity facilities, interest rate or currency swaps, and credit derivatives. Underlying instruments in the pool being securitized may include but are not restricted to the following: loans, commitments, asset-backed and mortgage-backed securities, corporate bonds, equity securities, and private equity investments.

2. Since securitizations may be structured in many different ways, the capital treatment of a securitization exposure must be determined on the basis of its economic substance rather than its legal form. The contents of this Part are just the general rules to be followed in computing capital requirements for securitization exposures. A bank should therefore consult the BSP-SES when there is uncertainty about the computation of capital requirements, or even about whether a given transaction should be considered a securitization.

A. Definitions and general terminology

3. Traditional securitization – a structure where the cash flow from an underlying pool of exposures is used to service at least two (2) different stratified risk positions or tranches reflecting different degrees of credit risk. Payments to the investors depend upon the performance of the specified underlying exposures, as opposed to being derived from an obligation of the entity originating those exposures. The stratified/tranched structures that characterize securitizations differ from ordinary senior/subordinated debt instruments in that junior securitization tranches can absorb losses without interrupting contractual payments to more senior tranches, whereas subordination in a senior/subordinated debt structure is a matter of priority of rights to the proceeds of liquidation.

4. Synthetic securitization – a structure with at least two (2) different stratified risk positions or tranches that reflect different degrees of credit risk where credit risk of an underlying pool of exposures is transferred, in whole or in part, through the use of funded (e.g., credit-linked notes) or unfunded (e.g., credit default swaps) credit derivatives or guarantees that serve to hedge the credit risk of the portfolio. Accordingly, the investors’ potential risk is dependent upon the performance of the underlying pool.

5. Originating bank – a bank that originates directly or indirectly underlying exposures included in the securitization.

6. Clean-up call – an option that permits the securitization exposures to be called before all of the underlying exposures or securitization exposures have been repaid. In the case of traditional securitizations, this is generally accomplished by repurchasing the remaining securitization exposures once the pool balance or outstanding securities have fallen below some specified level. In the case of a synthetic transaction, the clean-up call may take the form of a clause that extinguishes the credit protection.

7. Credit enhancement – a contractual arrangement in which the bank retains or assumes a securitization exposure and, in substance, provides some degree of added protection to other parties to the transaction.

8. Early amortization provisions – mechanisms that, once triggered, allow investors to be paid out prior to the originally stated maturity of the securities issued. For risk-based capital purposes, an early amortization provision will be considered either controlled or non-controlled. A controlled early amortization provision must meet all of the following conditions:
   a) The bank must have an appropriate capital/liquidity plan in place to ensure that it has sufficient capital and liquidity available in the event of an early amortization;
   b) Throughout the duration of the transaction, including the amortization period, there is the same pro rata sharing of interest, principal, expenses, losses and recoveries based on the bank’s and investors’ relative shares of the receivables outstanding at the beginning of each month;
   c) The bank must set a period for amortization that would be sufficient for at least ninety percent (90%) of the total debt outstanding at the beginning of the early amortization period to have been repaid or recognized as in default; and
   d) The pace of repayment should not be any more rapid than would be allowed by straight-line amortization over the period set out in criterion (c).

An early amortization provision that does not satisfy the conditions for a controlled early amortization provision will be treated as non-controlled early amortization provision.

9. Eligible liquidity facilities – an off-balance sheet securitization exposure shall be treated as an eligible liquidity facility if the following minimum requirements are satisfied:
   a) The facility documentation must clearly identify and limit the circumstances under which it may be drawn. Draws under the facility must be limited to the amount that is likely to be repaid fully from the liquidation of the underlying exposures and any seller-provided credit enhancements. In addition, the facility must not cover any losses incurred in the underlying pool of exposures prior to a draw, or be structured such that draw-down is certain (as indicated by regular or continuous draws);
   b) The facility must be subject to an asset quality test that precludes it from being drawn to cover credit risk exposures that are considered non-performing under existing BSP regulations. In addition, liquidity facilities should only fund exposures that are externally rated investment grade at the time of funding;
   c) The facility cannot be drawn after all applicable (e.g., transaction-specific and program-wide) credit enhancements from which the liquidity would benefit have been exhausted; and
d) Repayment of draws on the facility (i.e., assets acquired under a purchase agreement or loans made under a lending agreement) must not be subordinated to any interests of any note holder in the program or subject to deferral or waiver.

10. Eligible servicer cash advance facilities – cash advance that may be provided by servicers to ensure an uninterrupted flow of payments to investors. The servicer should be entitled to full reimbursement and this right is senior to other claims on cash flows from the underlying pool of exposures.

11. Excess spread – generally defined as gross finance charge collections and other income received by the trust or special-purpose entity (SPE, specified in paragraph 13) minus certificate interest, servicing fees, charge-offs, and other senior trust or SPE expenses.

12. Implicit support – arises when a bank provides support to a securitization in excess of its predetermined contractual obligation.

13. Special purpose entity – a corporation, trust, or other entity organized for a specific purpose, the activities of which are limited to those appropriate to accomplish the purpose of the SPE, and the structure of which is intended to isolate the SPE from the credit risk of an originator or seller of exposures. SPEs are commonly used as financing vehicles in which exposures are sold to a trust or similar entity in exchange for cash or other assets funded by debt issued by the trust.

B. Operational requirements for the recognition of risk transference in traditional securitizations

14. An originating bank may exclude securitized exposures from the calculation of risk-weighted assets only if all of the following conditions have been met. Banks meeting these conditions, however, must still hold regulatory capital against any securitization exposures they retain.

a) Significant credit risk associated with the securitized exposures has been transferred to third parties.

b) The transferor does not maintain effective or indirect control over the transferred exposures. The assets are legally isolated from the transferor in such a way (e.g., through the sale of assets or through subparticipation) that the exposures are put beyond the reach of the transferor and its creditors, even in bankruptcy or receivership. These conditions must be supported by an opinion provided by a qualified legal counsel.

The transferor is deemed to have maintained effective control over the transferred credit risk exposures if it:

i. is able to repurchase from the transferee the previously transferred exposures in order to realize their benefits; or

ii. is obligated to retain the risk of the transferred exposures.

The transferor’s retention of servicing rights to the exposures will not necessarily constitute indirect control of the exposures.

c) The securities issued are not obligations of the transferor. Thus, investors who purchase the securities only have claim to the underlying pool of exposures.

d) The transferee is an SPE and the holders of the beneficial interests in that entity have the right to pledge or exchange them without restriction.

e) Clean-up calls must satisfy the conditions set out in paragraph 17.

f) The securitization does not contain clauses that (i) require the originating bank to alter systematically the underlying exposures such that the pool’s weighted average credit quality is improved unless this is achieved by selling assets to independent and unaffiliated third parties at market prices; (ii) allow for increases in a retained first loss position or credit enhancement provided by the originating bank after the transaction’s inception; or (iii) increase the yield payable to parties other than the originating bank, such as investors.

and third-party providers of credit enhancements, in response to a deterioration in the credit quality of the underlying pool.

C. Operational requirements for the recognition of risk transference in synthetic securitizations

15. For synthetic securitizations, the use of CRM techniques (i.e., collateral, guarantees and credit derivatives) for hedging the underlying exposure may be recognized for risk-based capital purposes only if the conditions outlined below are satisfied:
   a) Credit risk mitigants must comply with the requirements as set out in Part III.B and Part IV of this Framework.
   b) Eligible collateral is limited to that specified in paragraph 34, Part III.B. Eligible collateral pledged by SPEs may be recognized.
   c) Eligible guarantors are defined in paragraph 47, Part III.B. SPEs are not recognized as eligible guarantors in the securitization framework.
   d) Banks must transfer significant credit risk associated with the underlying exposure to third parties.
   e) The instruments used to transfer credit risk must not contain terms or conditions that limit the amount of credit risk transferred, such as those provided below:
      i. Clauses that materially limit the credit protection or credit risk transference (e.g., significant materiality thresholds below which credit protection is deemed not to be triggered even if a credit event occurs or those that allow for the termination of the protection due to deterioration in the credit quality of the underlying exposures);
      ii. Clauses that require the originating bank to alter the underlying exposures to improve the pool’s weighted average credit quality;
      iii. Clauses that increase the banks’ cost of credit protection in response to deterioration in the pool’s quality;
      iv. Clauses that increase the yield payable to parties other than the originating bank, such as investors and third-party providers of credit enhancements, in response to a deterioration in the credit quality of the underlying pool; and
      v. Clauses that provide for increases in a retained first loss position or credit enhancement provided by the originating bank after the transaction’s inception.
   f) An opinion must be obtained from a qualified legal counsel that confirms the enforceability of the contracts in all relevant jurisdictions.
   g) Clean-up calls must satisfy the conditions set out in paragraph 17.

16. For synthetic securitizations, the effect of applying CRM techniques for hedging the underlying exposure are treated according to Part III.B and Part IV of this Framework. In case there is a maturity mismatch, the capital requirement will be determined in accordance with paragraphs 50 to 54, Part III.B. When the exposures in the underlying pool have different maturities, the longest maturity must be taken as the maturity of the pool. Maturity mismatches may arise in the context of synthetic securitizations when, for example, a bank uses credit derivatives to transfer part or all of the credit risk of a specific pool of assets to third parties. When the credit derivatives unwind, the transaction will terminate. This implies that the effective maturity of the tranches of the synthetic securitization may differ from that of the underlying exposures. Originating banks of synthetic securitizations with such maturity mismatches must deduct all retained positions that are unrated or rated below investment grade. Accordingly, when deduction is required, maturity mismatches are not taken into account. For all other securitization exposures, the bank must apply the maturity mismatch treatment set forth in paragraphs 50 to 54, Part III.B.
D. Operational requirements and treatment of clean-up calls

17. For securitization transactions that include a clean-up call, no capital will be required due to the presence of a clean-up call if the following conditions are met: (i) the exercise of the clean-up call must not be mandatory, in form or in substance, but rather must be at the discretion of the originating bank; (ii) the clean-up call must not be structured to avoid allocating losses to credit enhancements or positions held by investors or otherwise structured to provide credit enhancement; and (iii) the clean-up call must only be exercisable when ten percent (10%) or less of the original underlying portfolio, or securities issued remain, or, for synthetic securitizations, when ten percent (10%) or less of the original reference portfolio value remains.

18. Securitization transactions that include a clean-up call that does not meet all of the criteria stated in paragraph 17 result in a capital requirement for the originating bank. For a traditional securitization, the underlying exposures must be treated as if they were not securitized. Additionally, banks must not recognize in regulatory capital any gain-on-sale, as defined in paragraph 23. For synthetic securitizations, the bank purchasing protection must hold capital against the entire amount of the securitized exposures as if they did not benefit from any credit protection. Same treatment applies for synthetic securitization that incorporates a call, other than a clean-up call, that effectively terminates the transaction and the purchased credit protection on a specified date.

19. If a clean-up call, when exercised, is found to serve as a credit enhancement, the exercise of the clean-up call must be considered a form of implicit support provided by the bank and must be treated in accordance with paragraph 26.

E. Operational requirements for use of external credit assessments

20. The following operational criteria concerning the use of external credit assessments apply in the securitization framework:

a) To be eligible for risk-weighting purposes, the external credit assessment must take into account and reflect the entire amount of credit risk exposure the bank has with regard to all payments owed to it. For example, if a bank is owed both principal and interest, the assessment must fully take into account and reflect the credit risk associated with timely repayment of both principal and interest.

b) The external credit assessments must be from an eligible ECAI as recognized by the bank’s national supervisor in accordance with Part III.C. An eligible credit assessment must be publicly available. In other words, a rating must be published in an accessible form and included in the ECAI’s transition matrix. Consequently, ratings that are made available only to the parties to a transaction do not satisfy this requirement.

c) Eligible ECAIs must have a demonstrated expertise in assessing securitizations, which may be evidenced by strong market acceptance.

d) A bank must apply external credit assessments from eligible ECAIs consistently across a given type of securitization exposure. Furthermore, a bank cannot use the credit assessments issued by one ECAI for one or more tranches and those of another ECAI for other positions (whether retained or purchased) within the same securitization structure that may or may not be rated by the first ECAI. Where two or more eligible ECAIs can be used and these assess the credit risk of the same securitization exposure differently, paragraph 59 of Part III.C will apply.

e) Where CRM is provided directly to an SPE by an eligible guarantor defined in paragraph 47 of Part III.B and is reflected in the external credit assessment assigned to a securitization exposure(s), the risk weight associated with that external credit assessment should be used. In order to avoid any double counting, no additional capital recognition is permitted. If the CRM provider is not an eligible guarantor, the covered securitization exposures should be treated as unrated.

f) In the situation where a credit risk mitigant is not obtained by the SPE but rather applied to a specific securitization exposure within a given structure (e.g., ABS tranche), the bank must treat the exposure as if it is unrated and then use the CRM treatment outlined in Part III.B to recognize the hedge.

F. Risk-weighting

21. The risk-weighted asset amount of a securitization exposure is computed by multiplying the amount of the position by the appropriate risk weight determined in accordance with the following table. For off-balance sheet exposures, banks must apply a credit conversion factor (CCF) and then risk weight the resultant credit equivalent amount.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Credit assessment</th>
<th>AAA to AA</th>
<th>A+ to A-</th>
<th>BBB+ to BBB-</th>

<td>20%</td>
<td>50%</td>
<td>100%</td>
<td>Deduction from capital (50% from Tier 1 and 50% from Tier 2)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

22. The capital treatment of implicit support, liquidity facilities, securitizations of revolving exposures, and credit risk mitigants are identified separately.

23. Banks must deduct from Tier 1 capital any increase in equity capital resulting from a securitization transaction, such as that associated with expected future margin income resulting in a gain-on-sale that is recognized in regulatory capital. Such an increase in capital is referred to as a “gain-on-sale” for the purposes of the securitization framework.

24. Credit enhancing IOs (interest only), net of the amount that must be deducted from Tier 1 as in paragraph 23, are to be deducted fifty percent (50%) from Tier 1 capital and fifty percent (50%) from Tier 2 capital.

25. Deductions from capital may be calculated net of any specific provisions taken against the relevant securitization exposures.

26. When a bank provides implicit support to a securitization, it must, at a minimum, hold capital against all of the exposures associated with the securitization transaction as if they had not been securitized. Additionally, banks would not be permitted to recognize in regulatory capital any gain-on-sale, as defined in paragraph 23. Furthermore, the bank is required to disclose publicly that (a) it has provided non-contractual support and (b) the capital impact of doing so.

27. As a general rule, off-balance sheet securitization exposures will receive a CCF of 100%, except in the cases below.

28. A CCF of twenty percent (20%) and fifty percent (50%) will be applied to eligible liquidity facilities as defined in paragraph 9 above with original maturity of one year or less and more than one year, respectively. However, if an external rating of the facility itself is used for risk weighting the facility, a 100% CCF must be applied. A zero percent (0%) CCF may be applied to eligible liquidity facilities that are only available in the event of a general market disruption (i.e., whereupon more than one SPE across different transactions are unable to roll over maturing commercial paper, and that inability is not the result of an impairment in the SPE's credit quality or in the credit quality of the underlying exposures. To qualify for this treatment, the conditions provided in paragraph 9 must be satisfied. Additionally, the funds advanced by the bank to pay holders of the capital market instruments (e.g., commercial paper) when there is a general market disruption must be secured by the underlying assets, and must rank at least pari passu with the claims of holders of the capital market instruments.

29. A CCF of zero percent (0%) will be applied to undrawn amount of eligible servicer cash advance facilities, as defined in paragraph 10 above, that are unconditionally cancellable without prior notice.

30. An originating bank is required to hold capital against the investors' interest (i.e., against both the drawn and undrawn balances related to the securitized exposures) when:
   a) It sells exposures into a structure that contains an early amortization feature; and
   b) The exposures sold are of a revolving nature. These involve exposures where the borrower is permitted to vary the drawn amount and repayments within an agreed limit under a line of credit (e.g., credit card receivables and corporate loan commitments).

31. Originating banks, though, are not required to calculate a capital requirement for early amortizations in the following situations:
   a) Replenishment structures where the underlying exposures do not rotate and the early amortization ends the ability of the bank to add new exposures;
   b) Transactions of revolving assets containing early amortization features that mimic term structures (i.e., where the risk of the underlying facilities does not return to the originating bank);
   c) Structures where a bank securitizes one or more credit line(s) and where investors remain fully exposed to future draws by borrowers even after an early amortization event has occurred; and
   d) The early amortization clause is solely triggered by events not related to the performance of the securitized assets or the selling bank, such as material changes in tax laws or regulations.

32. As described below, the CCFs depend upon whether the early amortization repays investors through a controlled or non-controlled mechanism. They also differ according to whether the securitized exposures are uncommitted retail credit lines (e.g., credit card receivables) or other credit lines (e.g., revolving corporate facilities). A line is considered uncommitted if it is unconditionally cancellable without prior notice.

33. For uncommitted retail credit lines (e.g., credit card receivables) that have either controlled or non-controlled early amortization features, banks must compare the three-month average excess spread defined in paragraph 11 to the point at which the bank is required to trap excess spread as economically required by the structure (i.e., excess spread trapping point). In cases where such a transaction does not require excess spread to be trapped, the trapping point is deemed to be 4.5 percentage points.

34. The bank must divide the excess spread level by the transaction's excess spread trapping point to determine the appropriate segments and apply the corresponding conversion factors, as outlined in the following tables.

35. All other securitized revolving exposures with controlled and non-controlled early amortization features will be subject to CCFs of ninety percent (90%) and 100%, respectively, against the off-balance sheet exposures.

36. The CCF will be applied to the amount of the investors’ interest. The resultant credit equivalent amount shall then be applied a risk weight applicable to the underlying exposure type, as if the exposures had not been securitized.

37. For a bank subject to the early amortization treatment, the total capital charge for all of its positions will be subject to a maximum capital requirement (i.e., a ‘cap’) equal to the greater of (i) that required for retained securitization exposures, or (ii) the capital requirement that would apply had the exposures not been securitized. In addition, banks must deduct the entire amount of any gain-on-sale and credit enhancing IOs arising from the securitization transaction in accordance with paragraphs 23 and 25.
G. Credit risk mitigation
38. The treatment below applies to a bank that has obtained or given a credit risk mitigant on a securitization exposure. Credit risk mitigants include collateral, guarantees, and credit derivatives. Collateral in this context refers to that used to hedge the credit risk of a securitization exposure rather than the underlying exposures of the securitization transaction.

Collateral
39. Eligible collateral is limited to that recognized in paragraph 34, Part III.B. Collateral pledged by SPEs may be recognized.

Guarantees and credit derivatives
40. Credit protection provided by the entities listed in paragraph 47, Part III.B may be recognized. SPEs cannot be recognized as eligible guarantors.
41. Where guarantees or credit derivatives fulfill the minimum operational requirements as specified in Part III.B and Part IV, respectively, banks can take account of such credit protection in calculating capital requirements for securitization exposures.
42. Capital requirements for the collateralized or guaranteed/protected portion will be calculated according to Part III.B and Part IV.

Maturity mismatches
44. For the purpose of setting regulatory capital against a maturity mismatch, the capital requirement will be determined in accordance with paragraphs 50 to 54, Part III.B, except for synthetic securitizations which will be determined in accordance with paragraph 16.

Part VI. Market risk-weighted assets
1. Market risk is defined as the risk of losses in on- and off-balance sheet positions arising from movements in market prices. The risks addressed in these guidelines are:
   a) The risks pertaining to interest rate-related instruments and equities in the trading book; and
   b) Foreign exchange risk throughout the bank.

A. Definition of the trading book
2. A trading book consists of positions in financial instruments held either with trading intent or in order to hedge other elements of the trading book. To be eligible for trading book capital treatment, financial instruments must either be free of any restrictive covenants on their tradability or able to be hedged completely. In addition, positions should be frequently and accurately valued, and the portfolio should be actively managed.
3. A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to both a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity. Financial instruments include both primary financial instruments (or cash instruments) and derivative financial instruments. A financial asset is any asset that is cash, the right to receive cash or another financial asset; or the contractual right to exchange financial assets on potentially favorable terms, or an equity instrument. A financial liability is the contractual obligation to deliver cash or another financial asset or to exchange financial liabilities under conditions that are potentially unfavorable.
4. Positions held with trading intent are those held intentionally for short-term resale and/or with the intent of benefiting from actual or expected short-term price movements or to lock in arbitrage profits, and may include for example proprietary positions, positions arising from client servicing (e.g. matched principal brokering) and market making.

5. The following will be the basic requirements for positions eligible to receive trading book capital treatment:
   a) Clearly documented trading strategy for the position/instrument or portfolios, approved by senior management (which would include expected holding horizon);
   b) Clearly defined policies and procedures for the active management of the position, which must include:
      i. positions are managed on a trading desk;
      ii. position limits are set and monitored for appropriateness;
      iii. dealers have the autonomy to enter into/management the position within agreed limits and according to the agreed strategy;
   c) Clearly defined policy and procedures to monitor the positions against the bank’s trading strategy including the monitoring of turnover and stale positions in the bank’s trading book.

6. The documentation of the basic requirements of paragraph 5 should be submitted to the BSP.

7. In addition to the above documentation requirements, the bank should also submit to the BSP a documentation of its systems and controls for the prudent valuation of positions in the trading book, including the valuation methodologies.

B. Measurement of capital charge

8. The market risk capital charge shall be computed according to the methodology set under Subsec. 1115.2, subject to certain modifications as outlined in the succeeding paragraphs.

9. The specific risk weights for trading book positions in debt securities and debt derivatives shall depend on the third party credit assessment of the issue or the type of issuer, as may be appropriate, as follows:

1 The notations follow the rating symbols used by Standard & Poor’s. The mapping of ratings of all recognized external rating agencies is in Part II.C. For purposes of this framework, debt securities/derivatives issued by sovereigns include foreign currency denominated debt securities/derivatives issued by the Philippine NG.
10. Foreign currency denominated debt securities/derivatives issued by the Philippine NG and BSP shall be risk-weighted according to the table above: Provided, That only one-third (1/3) of the applicable risk weight shall be applied from 01 July 2007, two-thirds (2/3) from 01 January 2008, and the full risk weight from 01 January 2009.

11. A security, which is the subject of a repo-style transaction, shall be treated as if it were still owned by the seller/lender of the security, i.e., to be reported by the seller/lender.

12. In addition to capital charge for specific and general market risk, a credit risk capital charge should be applied to banks’ counterparty exposures in repo-style transactions and OTC derivatives contracts. The computation of the credit risk capital charge for counterparty exposures arising from trading book positions are discussed in paragraphs 35 to 41 of Part III.B.

C. Measurement of risk-weighted assets

13. Market risk-weighted assets are determined by multiplying the market risk capital charge by ten (10) [i.e., the reciprocal of the minimum capital ratio of ten percent (10%)].

Part VII. Operational risk-weighted assets

A. Definition of operational risk

1. Operational risk is defined as the risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems or from external events. This definition includes legal risk, but excludes strategic and reputational risk.

2. Banks should be guided by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision’s recommendations on Sound Practices for the Management and Supervision of Operational Risk (February 2003). The same may be downloaded from the BIS website (www.bis.org).

B. Measurement of capital charge

3. In computing for the operational risk capital charge, banks may use either the basic indicator approach or the standardized approach.

4. Under the basic indicator approach, banks must hold capital for operational risk equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the average gross income over the previous three (3) years of positive annual gross income. Figures for any year in which annual gross income is negative or zero should be excluded from both the numerator and denominator when calculating the average.

5. Banks that have the capability to map their income accounts into the various business lines given in paragraph 7 may use the standardized approach subject to prior BSP approval. In order to qualify for use of the standardized approach, a bank must satisfy BSP that, at a minimum:

   a) Its board of directors and senior management are actively involved in the oversight of the operational risk management framework;

   b) It has an operational risk management system that is conceptually sound and is implemented with integrity; and

   c) It has sufficient resources in the use of the approach in the major business lines as well as the control and audit areas.

6. Operational risk capital charge is calculated as the three (3)-year average of the simple summation of the regulatory capital charges across each of the business lines in each year. In any given year, negative capital charges (resulting from negative gross income) in any business line may offset positive capital charges in other business lines without limit. However, where the aggregate capital charge across all business lines within a given year is negative, then figures for that year shall be excluded from both the numerator and denominator.

7. The business lines and their corresponding beta factors are listed below:

8. Gross income, for the purpose of computing for operational risk capital charge, is defined as net interest income plus non-interest income. This measure should:
   a) be gross of any provisions for losses on accrued interest income from financial assets;
   b) be gross of operating expenses, including fees paid to outsourcing service providers;
   c) include fees and commissions;
   d) exclude gains/(losses) from the sale/redemption/derecognition of non-trading financial assets and liabilities;
   e) exclude gains/(losses) from sale/ derecognition of non-financial assets; and
   f) include other income (i.e., rental income, miscellaneous income, etc.)

(As amended by M-2007-019 dated 21 June 2007)

GUIDELINES ON THE CAPITAL TREATMENT OF BANKS’ HOLDINGS OF REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES GLOBAL BONDS PAIRED WITH WARRANTS
(Appendix to Sec. X116)

A bank’s holdings of ROP Global Bonds that are paired with Warrants (paired Bonds), which give the bank the option or right to exchange its holdings of ROP Global Bonds into Peso-denominated government securities upon occurrence of a predetermined credit event, shall be risk weighted at zero percent (0%): Provided, That the zero percent (0%) risk weight shall be applied only to bank’s holdings of paired Bonds equivalent to not more than fifty percent (50%) of the total qualifying capital, as defined under Appendix 63-b.

(Circular 588 dated 11 December 2007)
GUIDELINES ON THE USE OF THE STANDARDIZED APPROACH IN COMPUTING THE CAPITAL CHARGE FOR OPERATIONAL RISKS (Appendix to Sec. X116)

Banks applying for the use of the Standardized Approach (TSA) must satisfy the following requirements/criteria:

General Criteria
1. The use of TSA shall be conditional upon the explicit prior approval of the BSP.
2. The BSP will only give approval to an applicant bank if at a minimum:
   a. Its board of directors (or equivalent management committee in the case of foreign bank branches) and senior management are actively involved in the oversight of the operational risk management framework;
   b. It has an operational risk management system that is conceptually sound and is implemented with integrity; and,
   c. It has sufficient resources in the use of the approach in the major business lines as well as in the control and audit areas.
3. The above criteria should be supported by a written documentation of the board-approved operational risk management framework of the bank which should cover the following:
   a. Overall objectives and policies
   b. Strategies and processes
   c. Operational risk management structure and organization
   d. Scope and nature of risk reporting/assessment systems
   e. Policies and procedure for mitigating operational risk
4. This operational risk management framework of the bank should be disclosed in its annual report, as provided under Appendix 63b.

Mapping of Gross Income
5. Banks using TSA in computing operational risk capital charge must develop specific written policies and criteria for mapping gross income of their current business lines into the standard business lines prescribed under Appendix 63b. They must also put in place a review process to adjust these policies and criteria for new or changing business activities or products as appropriate.
6. Banks must adopt the following principles for mapping their business activities to the appropriate business lines:
   a. Activities or products must be mapped into only one (1) of the eight (8) standard business lines, as follows:
      (1) Corporate finance- This includes banking arrangements and facilities [e.g., mergers and acquisitions, underwriting, privatizations, securitization, research, debt (government, high yield), equity, syndications, Initial Public Offering (IPO), secondary private placements] provided to large commercial enterprises, multinational companies, NBFI, government departments, etc.
      (2) Trading and sales- This includes treasury operations, buying and selling of securities, currencies and others for proprietary and client account.
      (3) Retail banking- This includes financing arrangements for private individuals, retail clients and small businesses such as personal loans, credit cards, auto loans, etc. as well as other facilities such as trust and estates and investment advice.
      (4) Commercial banking- This includes financing arrangements for commercial enterprises, including project finance, real estate, export finance, trade finance, factoring, leasing, guarantees, bills of exchange, etc.

(5) Payment and settlement - This includes activities relating to payments and collections, inter-bank funds transfer, clearing and settlement.

(6) Agency services - This refers to activities of the banks acting as issuing and paying agents for corporate clients, providing custodial services, etc.

(7) Asset management - This includes managing funds of clients on a pooled, segregated, retail, institutional, open or closed basis under a mandate.

(8) Retail brokerage - This includes brokering services provided to customers that are retail investors rather than institutional investors.

(a) Any activity or product which cannot be readily mapped into one (1) of the standardized business lines but which is ancillary to a business line shall be allocated to the business line to which it is ancillary. If the activity is ancillary to two (2) or more business lines, an objective criteria or qualification must be made to allocate the annual gross income derived from that activity to the relevant business lines.

(b) Any activity that cannot be mapped into a particular business line and is not an ancillary activity to a business line shall be mapped into one (1) of the business lines with the highest associated beta factor eighteen percent (18%). Any ancillary activity to that activity will follow the same business line treatment.

(c) Banks may use internal pricing methods to allocate gross income between business lines: Provided, That the sum of gross income for the eight (8) business lines must be equal to the gross income as would be recorded if the bank uses the Basic Indicator Approach (BIA).

(d) The process by which banks map their business activities into the standardized business lines must be regularly reviewed by party independent from that process.

7. In computing the gross income of the bank, the amounts of the income accounts reported in the operational risk template must be equal to the year-end balance reported in the FRP. Any discrepancy must be properly accounted and supported by a reconciliation statement.

Application Process for the Use of TSA

8. Banks applying for the use of TSA should submit the following documents to their respective Central Points of Contact (CPCs) of the BSP:

(a) An application letter signed by the president/CEO (or equivalent management committee in the case of foreign bank branches) of the bank signifying its intention to use TSA in computing the capital charge for operational risk;

(b) Written documentation of the Board-approved operational risk management framework as described in paragraph 3.

(c) Written policies and criteria for mapping business activities and their corresponding gross income into the standard business lines as described in paragraphs 5 to 7.

(d) An overall roll-out plan of the bank including project plans and execution processes, with the appropriate time lines.

Initial Monitoring Period

9. The BSP may require a six (6)-month period of initial monitoring of a bank’s TSA before it is used for supervisory capital purposes.

Reversion from TSA to BIA

10. A bank which has been approved to use TSA in computing its capital charge

---

1 Ancillary function is an activity/function that is not the main activity of a given business line but only as a support activity
2 Part V of the revised CAR report template for operational risk will not be allowed to revert to the simpler approach, i.e., the BIA. However, if the BSP determines that the bank no longer meets the qualifying criteria for TSA, it may require the bank to revert to BIA. The bank shall be required to repeat the whole application process should it opt to return to the use of TSA, but only after a year of using the BIA.

These guidelines shall take effect on 21 July 2007.

(M-2007-019 dated 21 June 2007)

Doc. No. __________________

Series of __________________
In line with the policy of promoting fairness and accuracy in reporting financial transactions, banks are enjoined to observe the following guidelines on accounting for investments in credit-linked notes (CLNs) and other structured products (SPs) in addition to those prescribed under PAS 39:

CLNs and other SPs are financial instruments which consist of the host contract (e.g., debt or equity contract) and one or more embedded derivatives. Said financial instruments may be accounted for as compound financial instruments or as bifurcated financial instruments where the embedded derivatives shall be separated from the host contracts. PAS 39 provides the conditions on when the embedded derivative may be bifurcated from the host contract.

Booking of CLNs and other SPs as a compound instrument

1. CLNs may be booked under the “Held for Trading” (HFT) or “Designated at Fair Value through Profit or Loss” (DFVPL) category according to intention as provided under Circular No. 494 dated 20 September 2005.
2. Other SPs shall also be booked under the HFT or DFVPL category according to intention as provided in PAS 39.

In either case, the compound instrument (host contract and embedded derivatives) shall be carried at fair value with fair value changes reflected in profit or loss.

Booking of CLNs and other SPs as bifurcated financial instrument

Investment in CLNs and other SPs that are not intended to be traded (i.e., not to be booked as HFT) or to be designated at fair value through profit or loss shall be accounted for as bifurcated financial instruments.

Accounting for host contracts. When the embedded derivatives are bifurcated (separated) from the host contract, the host contract shall be accounted for as follows:

1. In the case of CLN, the host contract shall be booked under the “Available for Sale” (ASS) but not under the “Held to Maturity” (HTM) nor under the “Unquoted Debt Securities Classified as Loans” (UDSCL) category in accordance with Circular No. 494.
2. In the case of other SPs, the host contract shall be booked under the ASS, HTM or UDSCL category in accordance with X388.5.

Host contracts of investments in CLNs and Other SPs shall in no case be booked under the “Due from Other Banks” or “Interbank Loans Receivable” accounts.

Accounting for embedded derivatives

The bifurcated embedded derivatives shall be accounted for as “Derivatives Held for Trading” with fair value changes reflected in profit or loss, except in cases where the bifurcated embedded derivatives are designated and effective hedging instruments, which shall be booked under the “Derivatives Held for Hedging” account. The following shall be observed for purposes of FRP reporting of bifurcated embedded derivatives:

- The entire notional amount (or leveraged notional amount in cases of leveraged exposures) of the hybrid contract and the corresponding positive/negative fair value of the embedded derivatives shall be reported in Schedule 4 (Derivatives Held for Trading – Embedded Derivatives) of the FRP.

- In the case of CLNs and Other SPs that have more than one embedded derivatives (multiple embedded derivatives) that are required to be separated from the hybrid contract, the entire notional amount (or leveraged notional amount in cases of leveraged exposures) of the hybrid contract and the corresponding positive/negative fair value of the embedded derivatives shall be reported in Schedule 4 (Derivatives Held for Trading – Embedded Derivatives) of the FRP for each type of bifurcated derivatives.

Generally, multiple embedded derivatives in a single instrument are treated as a single compound embedded derivative. However, embedded derivatives that are classified as equity are accounted for separately from those classified as assets or liabilities. In addition, if an instrument has more than one embedded derivatives and those derivatives relate to different risk exposures and are readily separable and independent of each other, they are accounted for separately from each other.

Marking to market guidance
In addition to the marking to market guidelines provided under PAS 39, banks should likewise consider apart from the carrying amount of the host contract the notional amount (or leveraged notional amount in cases of leveraged exposures) of embedded derivatives in marking to market the hybrid financial instrument.

For this purpose, the term CLN shall include similar instruments such as credit linked deposits (CLDs) and credit linked loans (CLLs) where the repayment of the principal to the note holder is contingent upon the occurrence of a defined credit event. On the other hand, other SPs (as defined under X625.2) shall refer to a financial instrument where the total return is a function of one or more underlying indices, such as interest rates, equities and exchange rates. It is composed of a host contract (e.g., plain vanilla debt or equity securities) and an embedded derivative (e.g., swaps, forwards or options) that re-shape the risk-return pattern of the hybrid instrument. The term SP does not include asset-backed securities.

For purposes of this Regulation, the following definition of terms shall mean:

1. Serious Offense - This refers to unsafe or unsound banking practice. An unsafe or unsound practice is one (1) in which there has been some conduct, whether act or omission, which is contrary to accepted standards of prudent banking operation and may result to the exposure of the bank and its shareholders to abnormal risk or loss.

   (a) In determining the acts or omissions included under the unsafe or unsound banking practice, an analysis of the impact thereof on the banks/quasi-banks/trust entities’ operations and financial condition must be undertaken, including evaluation of capital position, asset condition, management, earnings posture and liquidity position. The following circumstances shall be considered:

   (b) The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage, or abnormal risk or danger to the safety, stability, liquidity or solvency of the institution;

c. The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage or abnormal risk to the institution’s depositors, creditors, investors, stockholders or to the Bangko Sentral or to the public in general;

d. The act or omission has caused any undue injury, or has given unwarranted benefits, advantage or preference to the bank or any party in the discharge by the director or officer of his duties and responsibilities through manifest partiality, evident bad faith or gross inexcusable negligence; or

e. The act or omission involves entering into any contract or transaction manifestly and grossly disadvantageous to the bank, QB or trust entity, whether or not the director or officer profited or will profit thereby.

Certain acts or omissions as falling under this classification maybe determined based on the guidelines provided under Appendix 48.

2. Less Serious Offense - These include major acts or omissions defined as bank/individual’s failure to comply with the requirements of banking laws, rules and regulations, provisions of Manual of Regulations (MOR)/Circulars/ Memorandum as well as Monetary Board directives/instructions having material\(^1\) impact on Bank’s solvency, liquidity or profitability and/or those violations classified as major offenses under the Report of Examination, except those classified under unsafe or unsound banking practice.

3. Minor Offense - These include acts or omissions which are procedural in nature, can be corrected immediately and do not have material impact on the solvency, liquidity and profitability of the Bank. All other acts or omissions that cannot be classified under the major offenses/violations will be classified under this category.

4. Minimum refers to the range of penalties to be imposed if the mitigating factor(s) outweigh the aggravating circumstances.

5. Medium refers to the penalty to be imposed in the absence of any mitigating and aggravating circumstances or if the mitigating factor(s) offset the aggravating factor(s).

6. Maximum refers to the penalty to be imposed if the aggravating circumstances outweigh the mitigating factor(s).

In determining the amount of penalty, a two-stage assessment shall be conducted as follows:

Step 1: Determine the nature of offense whether it is: (a) Serious; (b) Less Serious; or (c) Minor Offense; and

Step 2: Determine whether there are aggravating and/or mitigating factors (as listed and defined in Annex A).

Both the aggravating and mitigating factors shall be considered for initial penalty imposition and subsequent requests for reconsideration thereto.

The foregoing monetary penalties shall be without prejudice to the imposition of non-monetary sanctions, if and when deemed applicable by the Monetary Board. Violations of banking laws and Bangko Sentral regulations with specific penal clause are not covered by this Regulation.

\(^1\) SFAS/IAS defines materiality as any information, which if omitted or misstated, could influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements. Per Financial Accounting Standard Board (FASB), it is defined as the magnitude of an omission or misstatement of accounting information xxx.
Aggravating and Mitigating Factors to be Considered in the Imposition of Penalty

1. Aggravating Factors
   (a) Frequency of the commission of specific violation. This pertains to commission or omission of a specific offense involving either the same or different transaction. This will also refer to a violation which may have been corrected in the past but found repeated in another transaction/account in the subsequent examination.

   In determining frequency, the number of times of commission or omission of a specific offense during the preceding three (3) - year period shall also be considered.

   The word offense pertains to a violation that connotes infraction of existing BSP rules and regulations as well as non-compliance with BSP/MB directives.

   (b) Duration of violations prior to notification. This pertains to the length of time prior to the latest notification on the violation. Violations that have been existing for a long time before it was revealed/discovered in the regular examination or are under evaluation for a long time due to pending requests or correspondences from banks on whether a violation has actually occurred shall be dealt with through this criterion. Violations outstanding for more than one (1) year prior to notification, at the minimum, will qualify as violations outstanding for a long time.

   (c) Continuation of offense or omission after notification. This pertains to the persistence of an act or offense after the latest notification on the existence of the violation, either from the appropriate department of the SES or from the Monetary Board and/or Deputy Governor, in cases where the violation has been elevated accordingly. This covers the period after the final notification of the existence of the violation until such time that the violation has been corrected and/or remedied. The corrective action shall be reckoned with from the date of notification.

   (d) Concealment. This factor pertains to the cover up of a violation. In evaluating this factor, one shall consider the intention of the party(ies) involved and whether pecuniary benefit may accrue accordingly.

   Intention precedes concealment. The act of concealing an offense or omission carries with it the intention to defraud regulators. Moreover, the amount of pecuniary benefit, which may or may not accrue from the offense or omission, shall also be considered under this factor.

   Concealment may be apparent in cases when bank officers purposely complicates the transaction to make it difficult to uncover or refuse to provide information/documents that would support the violation/offense committed.

   Inasmuch as concealment and intention are speculative matters and may be difficult to establish, appropriate support of facts or circumstantial evidence in this factor shall be considered.

   (e) Loss or risk of loss to bank. In assessing this factor, potential loss refers to any time at which the bank was in danger of sustaining a loss.

      Substantial actual loss. The Bank has been exposed to a significant loss of earnings and capital. The volume of accounts involved in the loss is substantial/significant in relation to the institution’s assets and capital. The bank/individual may have substantial/serious violations that could impact the reputation and earnings of the bank.

      Minimal actual loss or substantial risk of loss. The Bank has incurred minimal loss or will be exposed to substantial risk of loss of earnings or capital although both do not materially impact financial condition The volume of accounts involved for minimal loss or substantial risk of loss is reasonable and manageable. While a loss was incurred, the bank could absorb the loss in the normal course of business. Substantial risk of loss includes any potential losses the aggregate of which amounts to at least one percent (1%) of the capital of the bank. Minimal risk of loss. The risk exposure on earnings or capital is minimal. Bank is not vulnerable to significant loss. The volume of accounts involved for potential loss/risk is minimal/negligible. The risk of loss would have little impact on the bank or its financial condition. The risk of loss aggregating to less than one percent (1%) of the capital of the bank will fall under this classification.

Substantial impact on banking industry or on public perception of banking industry. This is a worst-case scenario. The violations/irregular activities of the bank may totally erode the trust and confidence of the banking public resulting to a nationwide bank run. Pessimistic perception of the banking public on the banking industry is highly observed.

2. Mitigating Factors
(a) Good faith. Good faith is the absence of intention of the erring individual entity in the commission of a violation. Full cooperation. This is determined by the actions of the individual and/or bank towards the regulators after or even before notification of the offense and/or omission. Assistance rendered by the Bank during the investigation and/or examination conducted relative to the cited offense and/or omission may be viewed favorably when computing the amount of penalty to be imposed on the Bank/individual.

With positive measures/action undertaken although not corrected immediately. The bank is willing to remedy/ correct the violation but is being restrained of its capacity to take immediate action thus, will undertake a Memorandum of Undertaking/Commitment for a specified period as a sign of good faith. The bank has started to rectify the infraction by instituting reforms in their operations or systems.

Voluntary disclosure of offense. Voluntary disclosure of the bank of the offense committed before it is discovered by BSP examiners in the regular/special examination or in the supervisory work (e.g. submission of reports to the BSP disclosing the violation committed by the bank based on the internal auditor’s findings) may be considered as the highest level of mitigation under this factor. The burden of proof, however, falls on the bank/individual to support its/his/her claim of good faith and may be used as basis to mitigate the amount of penalty that may be imposed.

1/ Circular 410 dated 29 October 2003 provides that external auditors of banks must report to BSP, among others, any potential losses the aggregate of which amounts to at least one percent (1%) of the capital to enable the BSP to take timely and appropriate remedial action.
IMPLEMENTATION OF THE DELIVERY BY THE SELLER OF SECURITIES TO THE BUYER OR TO HIS DESIGNATED THIRD PARTY CUSTODIAN
(Appendix to Sec. X441 and Subsecs. X235.5 & X238.1)

Section 1. Statement of Policy. Pursuant to the policy of the BSP to promote the protection of investors in order to gain their confidence in the securities market as enunciated under Circular Nos. 392 and 428 dated 23 July 2003 and 27 April 2004, respectively, the following rules/guidelines shall be observed by banks and NBFI under BSP supervision in their dealings in securities whether they are acting as seller, buyer, agent or custodian. The disposition of compliance issues of this Appendix is shown in Appendix 68a. The guidelines on the delivery of government securities by the selling bank to an investor’s Principal Securities Account with the RoSS through the Client Interface System facility are in Appendix 68b.

The disposition of compliance issues of this Appendix is shown in Appendix 68a. The guidelines on the delivery of government securities by the selling bank to an investor’s Principal Securities Account with the RoSS through the Client Interface System facility are in Appendix 68b.

Sec. 2. Distinction Between a Custodian and a Registry. A securities custodian is a BSP-accredited bank or NBFI designated by the investor to perform the functions of safekeeping, holding title to the securities either in a nominee or trustee capacity, reports rendition, mark-to-market valuation, administration of dividends or interest earnings and representation of clients in corporate actions. It may also perform value added services such as collecting and paying and securities borrowing and lending as agent. A BSP-accredited custodian is considered a third party if it has no subsidiary or affiliate relationship with the issuer or seller of securities.

On the other hand, a securities registry, other than the Bureau of Treasury, is a BSP-accredited bank or NBFI designated or appointed by the issuer to maintain the securities registry book either in electronic or in printed form. It records the initial issuance of the securities and subsequent transfer of ownership and issues registry confirmation to the buyers/holders. Except as otherwise provided in existing BSP regulations, a BSP-accredited securities registry is considered a third party if it has no subsidiary or affiliate relationship with the issuer of securities.

Sec. 3. Registry of Scripless Securities of the Bureau of Treasury. The Bureau of Treasury, as operator of the RoSS, which serves as the official registry for government securities, is not subject to BSP accreditation and is exempted from the independence requirement under the existing BSP regulations.

Sec. 4. Delivery of Securities. Pursuant to existing BSP regulations, securities sold on a without recourse basis shall be delivered by the seller to the purchaser, or to his designated BSP-accredited custodian which must not be a subsidiary or affiliate of the issuer or seller.

Sec. 5. Mode of Delivery. If the securities sold are certificated, delivery shall be effected physically to the purchaser, or to his designated BSP-accredited custodian. The certificate must be transferred to and registered under the name of the purchaser and properly recorded in the registry book. On the other hand, delivery of immobilized or dematerialized securities shall be effected by means of book entry transfer to the appropriate securities account of either: (1) the purchaser in a registry of said securities; or (2) the purchaser’s designated custodian in a registry of said securities. Book-entry transfer to a sub-account for clients under the primary account of the seller will not be deemed compliant with this requirement. The delivery must be supported by a confirmation of book-entry transfer to be issued by the securities registry in case of name on registry or by a confirmation receipt to be issued by the custodian in case of delivery to the purchaser’s designated custodian.

Sec. 6. Client Information. Selling or dealing banks shall inform their clients of the requirements under Secs. 3 and 4 above, together with the complete list of all BSP-accredited custodians. The selling or dealing bank or NBFI must inform their clients that the choice of custodian is the sole prerogative of the securities purchaser. The seller or dealer may, however, indicate to their clients their preferred custodian. Attached as Annex “A” is a suggested template of the letter to the client.

Sec. 7. Custodianship Agreement. The securities owner/purchaser shall enter into a custodianship agreement with a BSP-accredited third-party custodian of his choice. However, the securities purchasers/owners may designate/appoint through a special power of attorney (SPA) a representative or agent for the purpose of opening and maintaining an account with the BSP-accredited third-party custodian: Provided, That if the securities seller or dealer is appointed as an agent, its authority shall be limited to the opening of the custodianship account and the execution of trade transactions (i.e. buying and selling instructions including relaying of instructions to the custodian to receive or deliver securities in order to consummate the buy/sell transactions). It shall be the responsibility of the custodian to protect the interest of the client by ensuring that the agent is acting within the scope of his authority.

Sec. 8. Authority of the Securities Owner/Purchaser To Revoke Special Power of Attorney (SPA). Whenever a securities owner/purchaser executes an SPA designating/appointing an agent to open and maintain a custodianship account with a BSP-accredited third party custodian pursuant to Sec. 6 above, said SPA shall clearly stipulate that the appointment of the agent is revocable at the instance of the securities owner/purchaser or his agent. Any revocation by either party shall be made in writing and must be given to the other party and to the custodian. The custodian is hereby enjoined to acknowledge and respect said right of the client. It is, however, understood that the revocation of the SPA shall be without prejudice to any transaction executed by the agent or custodian prior to said party’s knowledge of the revocation. Upon revocation of the SPA, the custodian shall deal directly with the securities owner or his newly appointed agent. However, the custodian has the right to impose additional reasonable conditions similar to those being imposed on separate custody accounts maintained directly by individual or corporate clients.

Sec. 9. Reports of the Custodian. Periodic reports of the custodian on account balances shall be rendered at least quarterly and shall reflect the mark-to-market valuation of the security in accordance with existing BSP regulations. It shall be delivered, mailed or electronically transmitted directly to the securities owner unless the securities owner gives a written request or instruction directly to the custodian to deliver said reports to a person/entity named therein. Said request/instruction of the securities owner shall indicate that he is appointing an agent/representative for the purpose, notwithstanding contrary advice of the BSP.
Aside from the periodic reports, the custodian shall also issue confirmation of transfers of ownership as they occur in either electronic or printed form delivered directly to the securities owner, unless the securities owner gives a written request or instruction directly to the custodian to deliver the confirmation reports to a person/entity named therein.

Sec. 10. Right of the Securities Owner to Sell his Securities. Subject to the requirements of existing laws and regulations, securities owners shall have the right to choose the best buyers of his securities in the secondary market, without limiting himself to the original selling or dealing bank that he transacted with. The securities seller or dealer shall not impose any condition that will impair this right of the securities owner or leave him no alternative except to sell his securities exclusively to the selling or dealing bank.

Sec. 11. Undelivered Securities. In cases where banks or NBFIs under BSP supervision maintain custody of securities which were sold prior to the effectivity of Circular No. 457 dated 14 October 2004 to clients who are unable or unwilling to take delivery of said securities pursuant to the provisions of Circular No. 392 dated 23 July 2003 but who declined to deliver their existing securities to a BSP-accredited third party custodian, said banks/FIs shall:

a. report on a quarterly basis to the appropriate department of the SES the volume of said securities broken down into maturity dates, type of security, ISIN or applicable certificate or reference number, and registry; and

b. ensure that said securities under custody are segregated from their proprietary holdings.

Sec. 12. Compliance with the Anti-Money Laundering Act of 2001. For purposes of compliance with the requirements of R.A. No. 9160, otherwise known as the "Anti-Money Laundering Act of 2001", as amended, particularly the provisions regarding customer identification, recordkeeping and reporting of suspicious transactions, a BSP-accredited custodian may rely on referral by the seller/issuer of securities, in lieu of the face-to-face contact with client, subject to the following conditions:

a. the seller/issuer is also a covered institution;

b. the seller/issuer certifies to the custodian that it has performed its own KYC screening on the client;

c. the custodian has unchallenged access to the KYC records/documents of the referring seller/issuer pertaining to the referral client;

d. the custodian maintains a record of the referral together with the minimum information/documents required under the law and its implementing rules and regulations; and

e. the seller/issuer must provide the custodian with the following minimum information/documents:

For individual clients:
1. Name;
2. Present address;
3. Permanent address;
4. Date and place of birth;
5. Nationality;
6. Nature of work and name of employer or nature of self-employment/business;
7. Contact numbers;
8. Tax identification number, SSS number or GSIS number;
9. Specimen signature; and
10. Source of fund(s);

For corporate clients:
1. Articles of Incorporation/Partnership;
2. By-laws;
3. Official address or principal business address;
4. List of directors/partners;
5. List of principal stockholders owning at least two percent (2%) of the capital stock;
6. Contact numbers;
7. Beneficial owners, if any;
8. Authorized signatories;
9. Board/Partnership Resolution on the authority of the signatories; and
10. Verification of the identification and authority of the person purporting to act on behalf of the client.

Sec. 13. Safekeeping of Customers’ Identification Documents. The BSP accredited third-party custodian may entrust to the referring seller/dealer the safekeeping and maintenance of the customer identification documents supporting its KYC certification: Provided, That:

a. The BSP accredited custodian has received a certification from the seller/dealer that it has in its possession all required KYC documents and the custodian shall maintain a list of such documents;

b. The accredited custodian shall have unhampered access to the KYC documents for its own verification; and

c. KYC or customer identification documents shall be made available to regulators for verification upon request.

Notwithstanding Secs. 12 and 13, the custodian is not precluded from conducting its own KYC activities and maintaining direct custody of the KYC documents of its clients.

Dear Investor:

We wish to inform you that the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP), in July of 2003 issued Circular No. 392, Series of 2003, which requires all securities sold by banks on a "without recourse basis" (i.e. the bank has no liability to the buyer of securities in paying the obligation due on the security) to be delivered to the buyer/purchaser of securities through any of the following means:

(a) If the security is evidenced by a certificate of indebtedness, the certificate must be transferred in the name of the purchaser/buyer and physically delivered to the purchaser/buyer or to his designated BSP-accredited third party custodian.

(b) If the security is immobilized or dematerialized (i.e., that the security is not evidenced by a certificate of indebtedness and instead security account is created in the electronic books of the registry in the name of the purchaser/buyer or his designated custodian):

i. The security must be delivered by book-entry transfer to the appropriate securities account of the buyer in the registry of said securities which must be evidenced by a confirmation in writing by the registrar to the buyer. The confirmation of sale or document of conveyance shall be physically delivered by the seller or dealer to the buyer, or

ii. The security must be delivered by book-entry transfer to the appropriate securities account of the BSP-accredited third party custodian designated by the buyer/purchaser in the registry of said securities which must be evidenced by a confirmation in writing by the registrar to the said BSP-accredited third party custodian, who shall in turn issue to the securities owner a delivery receipt acknowledging receipt of the securities.

Circular No. 392 is part of a package of reforms to support the development of the domestic capital market through enhanced investor protection and greater market transparency. It provides for a more defined role and responsibilities for the custodians and registrars and a stricter supervision and regulation thereof by the BSP. It aims to provide the client with the following benefits:

a. Full control and possession of the securities purchased;
b. Independent validation of the existence of securities purchased;
c. Regular reporting of securities holdings; and
d. Capability to choose most competitive counter-parties in case of sale, pledge, transfer, and lending of securities.
Moreover, Circular No. 392, which amends CBP Circular 437-74, seeks to address the changes in the legal framework brought by the developments in the market, i.e., where purchase of securities may be evidenced not only by transfer of certificates but also by electronic book-entry transfer of ownership in the books of the registrar for said security.

As an investor, therefore, of securities which is dematerialized or scripless, you have the option to require your dealer/broker to deliver the securities to you by requiring them to have the securities registered directly in your name in the registry of said securities or by requiring them to have the securities registered in the name of the BSP accredited third party custodian of your choice who in turn will credit your securities account with them.

The registry is a BSP-accredited bank or non-bank financial institution (NBFI) designated or appointed by the Issuer to (1) maintain the securities registry book; (2) record the (a) issuance of the securities and (b) subsequent transfers of ownership thereof; and (3) issue registry confirmation to the buyers/holders of security.

The custodian, on the other hand, is a BSP-accredited bank or NBFI designated by the investor to safekeep the security by allowing it to hold title to the security, either in a nominee or trustee capacity, to enable it to perform the following administrative functions/services related to investing in a security or various securities: i) Mark to market valuation of security that will enable the client to know the value of his investment at any period in time; ii) compute and collect the interest due on the security; iii) render statements on outstanding securities under safekeeping; iv) represents the client (per its instruction) in the events of default or breach of contract of the issuer; and v) lend the security of the clients as “agent” that will enable the client to earn additional income on the security.

The registrars and custodians underwent a rigorous evaluation process by the BSP to determine whether they have the following: i) adequate capital to cover for potential operating risks related to performing its custody functions; ii) competent management team to manage the company with responsibility and proper corporate ethics; iii) robust technology system to operate the custody business efficiently; and iv) favorable track record or significant experience in the custody business or related business. They will also undergo regular audit by the BSP to ensure that they comply with BSP rules and regulations and will be subject to penalties and administrative sanctions for any violation thereof.

As of date, BSP has accredited the following registrars and custodians: Bank of the Philippine Islands, CITIBANK N.A., Deutsche Bank, Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, Philippine Depository and Trust Corporation, and Standard Chartered Bank.

The Registry of Scripless Securities (RoSS) operated by the Bureau of Treasury (BTR) which is acting as a registry for government securities, is automatically accredited as securities registry. However, the BTR, as registry, cannot act as custodian of government securities pursuant to the opinion of the Secretary of Justice rendered on 17 January 2005 due to irreconcilable conflict of loyalties that is anathema to agency if the same institution were to act as registrar and custodian at the same time.
The custodian shall render periodic reports on your account balances on a quarterly basis, or at such interval as you may require. Moreover, the custodian shall issue to you a confirmation of any transfer of ownership as it occurs, in either electronic or printed forms. Said reports shall be delivered/mailed directly at your address unless you give a written instruction directly to the custodian to deliver the said reports to your designated person/entity. You are, however, required to acknowledge in the written instruction that you are designating another person/entity to receive the periodic reports from the custodian, notwithstanding contrary advice of the BSP.

Please note that the abovementioned arrangements may change once the BSP issues more detailed implementing rules and guidelines to the abovementioned circulars. We will update you if and when these developments occur.

Please fill up and sign the required documentation of your chosen custodian and we will forward the same to them so that your securities account can be opened as soon as possible. You may, however, designate/appoint an agent for this purpose. In either case, the custody arrangement may or may not entail additional fees.

If you have any further questions, please call us so that we can refer the matter to the appropriate custodian/registrar.

Very truly yours,

DISPOSITION OF COMPLIANCE ISSUES ON APPENDIX 68
(Appendix to Sec. X441 and Subsecs. X235.5 & X238.1)

A. The Monetary Board, in its Resolution No. 581 dated 5 May 2006 approved a thirty (30) calendar day period from 05 June 2006 within which banks/non-banks will effect revisions to non-conforming SPAs issued by investor-clients to strictly conform to the limited authority provisions of Section 7 of Appendix 68, subject to the following conditions:

1. The clean-up of SPAs will cover those issued by clients prior to Circular No. 524 dated 31 March 2006;
2. Custodians will allow transfers of securities from proprietary accounts of dealers to their omnibus principal custody accounts within the period;
3. There will be no penalties imposed for dealer-banks and accredited securities custodians that allowed non-compliant SPAs prior to Circular No. 524 dated 31 March 2006 or those issued under Circular Letter dated 4 August 2005 if corrected within the thirty (30)-day period; and
4. Non-compliance with other provisions of Appendix 68 are not covered/qualified to be corrected within the thirty (30)-day period and are therefore subject to the usual penalty/sanctions under existing regulations.

B. The Monetary Board, in its Resolution No. 876 dated 06 July 2006 approved the following disposition of compliance issues for the period of 05 July 2006 - 04 August 2006:

1. The sending by a dealing bank to all its clients of:
   (a) a notice indicating a limitation on the authority of the dealing bank pursuant to Section 7 of Appendix 68; and
   (b) compliant SPA for execution will be deemed substantial compliance only as of 05 July 2006. Proof thereof should be preserved for examination purposes.
2. Custodians will be deemed in substantial compliance as of 05 July 2006 if they have obtained confirmation from the dealing banks that notifications on the limitation of the dealing bank’s authority, together with a compliant SPA for the clients’ signature, have been sent to all their clients. Absent confirmation from the dealing bank of the sending of notices and the revised SPA, the custodian should immediately freeze (i.e., no new movements in the security, except sale or disposition thereof) the account to be considered in substantial compliance.
3. Absent a compliant SPA, the dealing bank and custodian should “freeze” the account of the client. Accordingly, if a client wants to transact with securities, the dealing bank must require the submission of an executed compliant SPA before any new transaction can be entered into. Otherwise, the dealing bank will be subject to the appropriate penalties prescribed under Subsec. X441.29. However, for the period of 05 July 2006 - 04 August 2006, transactions by the dealing bank with its clients, absent a compliant SPA but to which an advice on the limitation of the authority of the dealing bank and a compliant SPA for signature have been sent, will be subject to a fine of ₱10,000.00 per transaction/day: Provided, That the total penalty arising from that class of violation for the said period shall not exceed ₱100,000.00, computed in accordance with Section 37 of R.A. No. 7653 (The New Central Bank Act). Furthermore, the Custodian will not be subject to any penalties for accepting securities subject of the transaction.
4. Starting on 05 August 2006, the penalties under Subsec. X441.29 shall be applied for any violation of the provisions of Appendix 68. Custodians shall be required to freeze the securities account for those without a compliant SPA from the investor.

PROMPT CORRECTIVE ACTION FRAMEWORK
[Appendix to Sec. X193 (2008 - X106.4)]

In carrying out its primary objective of maintaining price stability conducive to a balanced and sustainable growth of the economy, the BSP must necessarily maintain stability of the financial system through preservation of confidence therein. While preservation of confidence in the financial system may call for closure of mismanaged banks and/or financial entities under its jurisdiction, such closure is not the only option available to the BSP. When a bank’s closure, for instance, is adjudged by the Monetary Board to have adverse systemic consequences, the State may act in accordance with law to avert potential financial system instability or economic disruption.

It is recognized that the closure of a bank or its intervention can be a costly and painful exercise. For this reason, the BSP, as supervisor, can enforce PCA as soon as a bank’s condition indicates higher-than-normal risk of failure.

PCA essentially involves the BSP directing the board of directors of a bank, prior to an open outbreak of crisis, to institute strong measures to restore the entity to normal operating condition within a reasonable period, ideally within one (1) year. These measures may include any or all of the following components:

1. Implementation of a capital restoration plan;
2. Implementation of a business improvement plan; and
3. Implementation of corporate governance reforms.

Capital restoration plan - this component contains the schedule for building up a bank’s capital base (primarily through an increase in Tier 1 capital) to a level commensurate to the underlying risk exposure and in full compliance with minimum capital adequacy requirement. In conjunction with this plan, the BSP may also require any one (1), or a combination of the following:

1. Limit or curtail dividend payments to common stockholders;
2. Limit or curtail dividend payments to preferred stockholders; and
3. Limit or curtail fees and/or other payments to related parties.

Business improvement plan - this component contains the set of actions to be taken immediately to bring about an improvement in the entity’s operating condition, including but not limited to any one (1), or a combination of the following:

1. Reduce risk exposures to manageable levels;
2. Strengthen risk management;
3. Curtail or limit the bank’s scope of operations including those of its subsidiaries or affiliates where it exercises control;
4. Change or replace management officials;
5. Reduce expenses; and
6. Other measures to improve the quality of earnings.

Corporate governance reforms - this component contains the actions to be immediately taken to improve the composition and/or independence of the board of directors and to enhance the quality of its oversight over the management and operation of the entity. This also includes measures to minimize potential shareholder conflicts of interest detrimental to its creditors, particularly, depositors in a bank. This likewise lays down measures to provide an acceptable level of financial transparency to all stakeholders. Such actions could include, but are not limited to, any one (1), or a combination of the following:

1. A change in the composition of the board of directors or any of the mandatory committees (under the MORB);

2. An enhancement to the frequency and/or depth of reporting to the board of directors;

3. A reduction in exposures to and/or a termination or reduction of business relationships with affiliates that pose excessive risk or are inherently disadvantageous to the supervised financial institution; and

4. A change of external auditor.

A bank may be subject to PCA whenever any or all of the following conditions obtain:

1. When either of the Total Risk-Based Ratio\(^1\), Tier 1 Risk-Based Ratio, or Leverage Ratio\(^2\) falls below ten percent (10%), six percent (6%), and five percent (5%), respectively, or such other minimum levels that may be prescribed for the said ratios under relevant regulations, and/or the combined capital account falls below the minimum capital requirement prescribed under Subsec. X106.1;

2. The CAMELS composite rating is less than “3” or a Management component rating of less than “3”;

3. A serious supervisory concern has been identified that places a bank at more-than-normal risk of failure in the opinion of the director of the Examination Department concerned, which opinion is confirmed by the Monetary Board. Such concerns could include, but are not limited to, any one (1) or a combination of the following:
   a. Finding of unsafe and unsound activities that could adversely affect the interest of depositors and/or creditors;
   b. A finding of repeat violations of law or the continuing failure to comply with Monetary Board Directives; and
   c. Significant reporting errors that materially misrepresent the bank’s financial condition.

The initiation of PCA shall be recommended by the Deputy Governor, SES to the Monetary Board for approval. Any initiation of PCA shall be reported to the PDIC for notation. Upon PCA initiation, the BSP shall require the bank to enter into a MOU committing to the PCA plan. The MOU shall be subject to confirmation by the MB.

In order to monitor compliance with the PCA, quarterly progress reports shall be made. The BSP reserves the right to conduct periodic on-site visits outside of regular examination to validate compliance with the PCA plan.

Subject to Monetary Board approval, sanctions may be imposed on any bank subject to PCA whenever there is unreasonable delay in entering into a PCA plan or when PCA is not being complied with. These may include any or all of the following:

1. Monetary penalty on or curtailment or suspension of privileges enjoyed by the board of directors or responsible officers;

2. Restriction on existing activities that the supervised financial institution may undertake;

3. Denial of application for branching and other special authorities;

4. Denial or restriction of access to BSP credit facilities; and

5. Restriction on declaration of dividends.

On the other hand, if the bank subject to PCA promptly implements a PCA plan and substantially complies with its conditions, it may continue to have access to BSP credit facilities notwithstanding non-compliance with standard conditions of access to such facilities. The Deputy Governor, SES shall recommend such exemption to the Monetary Board for approval.

In cases where a bank’s problems are deemed to be exceptionally serious from the outset, or when a bank is unwilling to submit to the PCA or unable to substantially comply with an agreed PCA plan, the Deputy Governor, SES may immediately recommend to the Monetary Board more drastic actions as prescribed under Section 29 (conservatorship) and Section 30 (receivership) of R.A. 7653.

Subject to Monetary Board approval, the PCA status of a bank may be lifted: Provided, That the bank fully complies with the terms and conditions of its MOU and:
Provided, further, That the Deputy Governor, SES has determined that the financial and operating condition of the bank no longer presents a risk to itself or the financial system. Such improved assessment shall be immediately reported to the PDIC.

AUTOMATED TELLER MACHINE SAFETY MEASURES

To minimize/prevent ATM frauds and crimes, banks should, at a minimum, implement the following security measures with respect to their ATM facilities:

1. Locate ATMs in highly visible areas;
2. Provide sufficient lighting at and around the ATMs;
3. Where ATM crimes (e.g., robbery, vandalism) are high in a specific area or location, banks should install surveillance cameras or cameras which shall view and record all persons entering the facility. Such recordings shall be preserved by the banks for at least thirty (30) days;
4. Implement ATM programming enhancements like masking/non-printing of card numbers;
5. Educate customers by advising them regularly of risks associated with using the ATM and how to avoid these risks;
6. Conduct and document periodic security inspection at the ATM location, and make the pertinent information available to their clients;
7. Educate bank personnel to be responsive and sensitive to customer concerns and to communicate them immediately to the responsible bank officer; and
8. Post near the ATM facility a clearly visible sign which, at a minimum, provides the telephone numbers of the bank as well as other banks’ hotline numbers for other cardholders who are allowed to transact business in the ATM, and police hotlines for emergency cases.

Banks must study and assess ATM crimes to determine the primary problem areas. Procedures for reporting ATM crime should also be established. Knowing what crimes have occurred will aid the banks in recognizing the particular crime problem and to what degree it exists so that they can implement specific prevention measures to mitigate the risk. In this connection, banks are encouraged to share information involving ATM fraud cases to deter and prevent proliferation of the crime.

INTERNET AND WIRELESS BANKING SECURITY MEASURES

1. Network controls
   a. Implement adequate security measures on the internal networks and network connections to public network or remote parties. Segregate internal networks into different segments having regard to the access control needed for the data stored in, or systems connected to, each segment.
   b. Properly design and configure the servers and firewalls used for the e-banking services either internet-based or delivered through wireless communication networks (e.g., install firewalls between internal and external networks as well as between geographically-separate sites).
   c. Deploy strong and stringent authentication and controls especially in remote access or wireless access to the internal network.
   d. Implement anti-virus software, network scanners and analyzers, intrusion detectors and security alert as well as conduct regular system and data integrity checks.
   e. Maintain access security logs and audit trails. These should be analyzed for suspicious traffic and/or intrusion attempts.
   f. Ensure that wireless software for wireless communication network includes appropriate audit capabilities (e.g., recording dropped transactions).
   g. Develop built-in redundancies for single points of failure which can bring down the entire network.

2. Operating Systems Controls
   a. Harden operating systems by configuring system software and firewall to the highest security settings consistent with the level of protection required, keeping abreast of enhancements, updates and patches recommended by system vendors.
   b. Change all default passwords for new systems immediately upon installation as they provide the most common means for intruders to break into systems.

3. Encryption
   a. Implement encryption technologies that are appropriate to the sensitivity and importance of data to protect confidentiality of information while it is stored or in passage over external and internal networks.
   b. Choose encryption technologies that make use of internationally recognized cryptographic algorithms where the strengths of the algorithms have been subjected to extensive tests.
   c. Apply strong “end-to-end” encryption to the transmission of highly sensitive data (e.g., customer passwords) so that the data are encrypted all the way between customers’ devices and bank’s internal systems for processing the data. This would ensure that highly sensitive data would not be compromised even if the banks’ web servers or internal networks were penetrated.

4. Website and Mobile Banking Authentication
   a. Authenticate official website to protect bank customers from spoofed or faked websites. Banks should determine what authentication technique to use to provide protection against these attacks.
   b. For wireless applications, adopt authentication protocols that are separate and distinct from those provided by the wireless network operator.

5. Physical Security
   a. House all critical or sensitive computers and network equipment in physically secure locations (e.g., away from environmental hazards, unauthorized entry and public disclosure, etc.).

b. Implement physical security measures such as security barriers (e.g., external walls, windows); entry controls (e.g., biometric door locks, manual or electronic logging, security guards) and physical protection facilities/devices (e.g., water and fire detectors, uninterruptible power supply [UPS], etc.) to prevent unauthorized physical access, damage to and interference with the e-banking services.

6. Development and Acquisition
   a. Separate physical/logical environments for systems development, testing and production.
   b. Provide separate environments for the development, testing, staging and production of internet facing web-based applications; connect only the production environment to the internet.

7. IT Personnel Training
   Provide appropriate and updated training to IT personnel on network, application and security risks and controls so that they understand and can respond to potential security threats.

8. Service Providers
   a. Perform due diligence regularly to evaluate the ability of the service providers (e.g., internet service provider, telecommunication provider) to maintain an adequate level of security and to keep abreast of changing technology.

   b. Ensure that the contractual agreements with the service providers have clearly defined security responsibilities.

9. Independent Audit, Vulnerability Test and Penetration Testing
   a. Conduct regular audit to assess the adequacy and effectiveness of the risk management process and the attendant controls and security measures.
   b. Perform vulnerability test or assessment to evaluate the information security policies, internal controls and procedures, as well as system and network security of the bank. Assessment should also include latest technological developments and security threats, industry standards and sound practices.
   c. Conduct penetration testing at least annually.
   d. The audit and tests should be conducted by security professionals or internal auditors who are independent in the development, implementation or operation of the e-banking services, and have the required skills to perform the evaluation.
   e. For e-banking services provided by an outside vendor or service provider, ensure that the above tests and audit are performed and the bank is provided with the results and actions taken on system security weaknesses.

10. Incident Response
    Establish an incident management and response plan and test the predetermined action plan relating to security incidents.

ELECTRONIC BANKING CONSUMER AWARENESS PROGRAM

To ensure security in their e-banking transactions and personal information, consumers should be oriented of their roles and responsibilities which, at a minimum, include the following:

1. Internet Products and Services

   a. Secure Login ID and Password or PIN
      (1) Do not disclose Login ID and Password or PIN.
      (2) Do not store Login ID and Password or PIN on the computer.
      (3) Regularly change password or PIN and avoid using easy-to-guess passwords such as names or birthdays. Password should be a combination of characters (uppercase and lowercase) and numbers and should be at least 6 digits in length.

   b. Keep personal information private.
      Do not disclose personal information such as address, mother’s maiden name, telephone number, social security number, bank account number or e-mail address - unless the one collecting the information is reliable and trustworthy.

   c. Keep records of online transactions.
      (1) Regularly check transaction history details and statements to make sure that there are no unauthorized transactions.
      (2) Review and reconcile monthly credit card and bank statements for any errors or unauthorized transactions promptly and thoroughly.
      (3) Check e-mail for contacts by merchants with whom one is doing business. Merchants may send important information about transaction histories.
      (4) Immediately notify the bank if there are unauthorized entries or transactions in the account.

   d. Check for the right and secure website.
      (1) Before doing any online transactions or sending personal information, make sure that correct website has been accessed. Beware of bogus or “look alike” websites which are designed to deceive consumers.
      (2) Check if the website is “secure” by checking the Universal Resource Locators (URLs) which should begin with “https” and a closed padlock icon on the status bar in the browser is displayed. To confirm authenticity of the site, double-click on the lock icon to display security certificate information of the site.
      (3) Always enter the URL of the website directly into the web browser. Avoid being re-directed to the website, or hyperlink it from a website that may not be as secure.
      (4) If possible, use software that encrypts or scrambles the information when sending sensitive information or performing e-banking transactions online.

   e. Protect personal computer from hackers, viruses and malicious programs.
      (1) Install a personal firewall and a reputable anti-virus program to protect personal computer from virus attacks or malicious programs.
      (2) Ensure that the anti-virus program is updated and runs at all times.
      (3) Always keep the operating system and the web browser updated with the latest security patches, in order to protect against weaknesses or vulnerabilities.
      (4) Always check with an updated anti-virus program when downloading a program or opening an attachment to ensure that it does not contain any virus.
      (5) Install updated scanner softwares to detect and eliminate malicious programs.
capable of capturing personal or financial information online.

6. Never download any file or software from sites or sources, which are not familiar or hyperlinks sent by strangers. Opening such files could expose the system to a computer virus that could hijack personal information, including password or PIN.

f. Do not leave computer unattended when logged-in.
   (1) Log-off from the internet banking site when computer is unattended, even if it is for a short while.
   (2) Always remember to log-off when e-banking transactions have been completed.
   (3) Clear the memory cache and transaction history after logging out from the website to remove account information. This would avoid incidents of the stored information being retrieved by unwanted parties.

g. Check the site’s privacy policy and disclosures.
   (1) Read and understand website disclosures specifically on refund, shipping, account debit/credit policies and other bank terms and conditions.
   (2) Before providing any personal financial information to a website, determine how the information will be used or shared with others.
   (3) Check the site’s statements about the security provided for the information divulged.
   (4) Some websites’ disclosures are easier to find than others — look at the bottom of the home page, on order forms or in the “About” or “FAQs” section of a site. If the customer is not comfortable with the policy, consider doing business elsewhere.

h. Other internet security measures:
   (1) Do not send any personal information particularly password or PIN via ordinary e-mail.
   (2) Do not open other browser windows while banking online.
   (3) Avoid using shared or public personal computers in conducting e-banking transactions.
   (4) Disable the “file and printer sharing” feature on the operating system if conducting banking transactions online.
   (5) Contact the banking institution to discuss security concerns and remedies to any online e-banking account issues.

2. Other Electronic Products

a. ATM and debit cards
   (1) Use ATMs that are familiar or that are in well-lit locations where one feels comfortable. If the machine is poorly lit or is in a hidden area, use another ATM.
   (2) Have card ready before approaching the ATM. Avoid having to go through the wallet or purse to find the card.
   (3) Do not use ATMs that appear to have been tampered with or otherwise altered. Report such condition to the bank.
   (4) Memorize ATM PIN and never disclose it to anyone. Do not keep those numbers or passwords in the wallet or purse. Never write them on the cards themselves. Avoid using easily available personal information like a birthday, nickname, mother’s maiden name or consecutive numbers.
   (5) Be mindful of “shoulder surfers” when using ATMs. Stand close to the ATM and shield the keypad with hand when keying in the PIN and transaction amount.
   (6) If the ATM is not working correctly, cancel the transaction and use a different ATM. If possible, report the problem to the bank.
   (7) Carefully secure card and cash in the wallet, handbag, or pocket before leaving the ATM.
   (8) Do not leave the receipt behind. Compare ATM receipts to monthly statement. It is the best way to guard against fraud and it makes record-keeping easier.
b. Credit cards

(1) Never disclose credit card information to anyone. The fraudulent use of credit cards is not limited to the loss or theft of actual credit cards. A capable criminal only needs to know the credit card number to fraudulently make numerous charges against the account.

(2) Endorse or sign all credit cards as soon as they are received from the bank.

(3) Like ATM card PINs, secure credit card PINs. Do not keep those numbers or passwords in the wallet or purse and never write them on the cards themselves.

(4) Photocopy both the front and back of all credit cards and keep the copies in a safe and secure location. This will facilitate in the immediate cancellation of the card if lost or stolen.

(5) Carry only the minimum number of credit cards actually needed and never leave them unattended.

(6) Never allow credit card to be used as reference (credit card number) or as an identification card.

(7) Never give your credit card account number over the telephone unless dealing with a reputable company or institution.

(8) When using credit cards, keep a constant eye on the card and the one handling it. Be aware of the “swipe and theft” scam using card skimmers. A skimmer is a machine that records the information from the magnetic stripe on a credit card to be downloaded onto a personal computer later. The card can be swiped on a skimmer by a dishonest person and that data can then be used to make duplicate copies of the credit card.

(9) Do not leave documents like bills, bank and credit card statements in an unsecure place since these documents have direct access to credit card and/or deposit account information. Consider shredding sensitive documents rather than simply throwing them away. (Some people will go through the garbage to find this information).

(10) Notify the bank in advance of a change in address.

(11) Open billing statements promptly and reconcile card amounts each month.

(12) Do not let other people use your card. If card is lost or stolen, report the incident immediately to the bank.

c. Mobile Banking

(1) Do not disclose your Mobile Banking Pin (MPIN) to anyone.

(2) Regularly change the MPIN.

(3) Do not let other people use your mobile phone enrolled in a mobile banking service. If the phone is lost or stolen, report the incident immediately to the bank.

(4) Be vigilant. Refrain from doing mobile banking transactions in a place where you observe the presence of “shoulder surfers”.

(5) Keep a copy of the transaction reference number provided by the bank whenever you perform a mobile banking transaction as evidence that the specific transaction was actually executed.

Since customers may find it difficult to take in lengthy and complex advice, banks should devise effective methods and channels for communicating with them on security precautions. Banks may make use of multiple channels (e.g., banks’ websites, alert messages on customers mobile phone, messages printed on customer statements, promotional leaflets, circumstances when banks’ frontline staff communicate with their customers) to enforce these precautionary measures.

(Circular No. 542 dated 01 September 2006)
DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS

1. General Requirement
Banks offering e-banking services have to adopt responsible privacy policies and information practices. They should provide disclosures that are clear and readily understandable, in writing, or in a form the consumers may print and keep.

Banks should also ensure that consumers who sign-up for a new banking service are provided with disclosures (e.g., pamphlet) informing them of their rights as a consumers. At a minimum, the following disclosures should be provided to protect consumers and inform them of their rights and responsibilities:
   a. Information on the duties of the banking institution and customers.
   b. Information on who will be liable for unauthorized or fraudulent transactions.
   c. Mode by which customers will be notified of changes in terms and conditions.
   d. Information relating to how customers can lodge a complaint, and how a complaint may be investigated and resolved.
   e. Disclosures that will help consumers in their decision-making (e.g., PDIC-insured, etc.)
   f. For internet environment, information that prompt in the bank’s website to notify customers that they are leaving the banking institution’s website and hence they are not protected by the privacy policies and security measures of the banking institutions when they hyperlink to third party’s website.

2. Disclosure Responsibility
   a. Compliance officers should review bank’s disclosure statements to determine whether they have been designed to meet the general and specific requirements set in this circular.
   b. For banks that advertise deposit products and services on-line, they must verify that proper advertising disclosures are made (e.g., whether the product is insured or not by the PDIC; fees and charges associated with the product or services, etc.). Advertisements should be monitored to determine whether they are current, accurate, and compliant.
   c. For banks that issue various products like stored value cards, e-wallets, debit cards and credit cards, they must provide information to consumers regarding the features of each of these products to enable consumers to meaningfully distinguish them. Additionally, consumers would find it beneficial to receive information about the terms and conditions associated with their usage. Example of these disclosures include: PDIC-insured or non-insured status of the product; fees and charges associated with the purchase, use or redemption of the product; liability for loss; expiration dates, or limits on redemption; and toll-free telephone number for customer service, malfunction and error resolution.
   d. Whenever e-banking services are outsourced to third parties or service providers, banks should ensure that the vendors comply with the disclosure requirements of the BSP.

GUIDELINES FOR THE CHANGE IN THE MODE OF COMPLIANCE WITH THE LIQUIDITY RESERVE REQUIREMENT
(Appendix to Subsecs. X253.2 & X405.5)

The following guidelines shall be observed in implementing the change in the mode of compliance with the liquidity reserve requirement from holding government securities bought directly from the BSP:

1. Government securities previously bought from the BSP in compliance with the liquidity reserve requirement shall remain eligible for such purpose until these mature or are sold back to the BSP at yields quoted by the BSP Treasury Department (TD). Only the outstanding ERAP and PEACe bonds shall qualify as eligible securities for liquidity reserves. Future issuances will no longer carry the liquidity reserve eligibility under this Section.

2. The interest rates applied to the reserve deposit account (RDA) shall be set by the TD at one-half percent (1/2%) below the prevailing market rate for comparable government securities;

3. Pre-termination of RDAs shall be allowed subject to a reduction in applicable interest rates, as prescribed by the TD;

4. Banks and QBs shall submit on placement date a written authority (see Annex A) to the TD to debit their demand deposit account with the BSP as payment for the RDA;

5. Principal and interest payments at maturity net of applicable tax shall be made by the BSP through automatic credit to the institution’s demand deposit account with the BSP. Full or partial rollover of placements in the RDA shall be settled on a gross basis;

6. Any deficiency in the liquidity reserves shall continue to be in the forms or modes prescribed under existing regulations for the composition of required reserves;

7. Banks and QBs shall continue to specify in the prescribed reports to the SDC of the BSP the balance of government securities held for liquidity reserve purposes. Said balance shall decline over time as government securities previously bought from the BSP mature or are sold back to the BSP;

8. To facilitate the adoption of the change in the mode of compliance with the liquidity reserve requirement, the TD (while starting to accept placements in the reserve deposit account) shall continue to sell government securities for liquidity reserve purposes until 29 September 2006.

The above guidelines shall take effect on 25 August 2006.

GUIDELINES ON SUPERVISION BY RISK
(Appendix to Sec. X173)

I. Background
It must be recognized that banking is a business of taking risks in order to earn profits. While banking risks historically have been concentrated in traditional banking activities, the financial services industry has evolved in response to market-driven, technological, and legislative changes. These changes have allowed FIs to expand product offerings, geographic diversity, and delivery systems. They have also increased the complexity of the FI's consolidated risk exposure. Because of this complexity, FIs must evaluate, control, and manage risk according to its significance. The FI’s evaluation of risk must take into account how non-bank activities within a banking organization affect the FI. Consolidated risk assessments should be a fundamental part of managing the FI. Large FIs assume varied and complex risks that warrant a risk-oriented supervisory approach.

II. Statement of policy
The existence of risk is not necessarily a reason for concern. Likewise, the existence of high risk in any area is not necessarily a concern, so long as management exhibits the ability to effectively manage that level of risk. Under this approach, the BSP will not necessarily attempt to restrict risk-taking but rather ensure that FIs identify, understand, and control the risks they assume. As an organization grows more diverse and complex, the FI’s risk management processes must keep pace. When risk is not properly managed, BSP will direct FI management to take corrective action such as reducing exposures, increasing capital, strengthening risk management processes or a combination of these actions. In all cases, the primary concern of the BSP is that the FI operates in a safe and sound manner and maintains capital commensurate with its risks. Further guidance on risk management issues will be addressed in subsequent issuances that are part of the overall risk assessment program.

III. Guidelines for risk management
For purposes of the discussion of risk, the BSP will evaluate banking risk relative to its impact on capital and earnings. From a supervisory perspective, risk is the potential that events, expected or unanticipated, may have an adverse impact on the FI’s capital or earnings. The BSP-SES has defined eight (8) categories of risk for FI supervision purposes. These risks are: credit, market, interest rate, liquidity, operational, compliance, strategic, and reputation. These categories are not mutually exclusive; any product or service may expose the FI to multiple risks. In addition, they can be interdependent. Increased risk in one (1) category can increase risk in other categories.

Types and definitions of risk

1. Credit risk arises from a counterparty’s failure to meet the terms of any contract with the FI or otherwise perform as agreed. Credit risk is found in all activities where success depends on counterparty, issuer, or borrower performance. It arises any time FI funds are extended, committed, invested, or otherwise exposed through actual or implied contractual agreements, whether reflected on or off the balance sheet. Credit risk is not limited to the loan portfolio.

2. Market risk is the risk to earnings or capital arising from changes in the value of traded portfolios of financial instruments.
This risk arises from market-making, dealing, and position-taking in interest rate, foreign exchange, equity and commodities markets.

3. Interest rate risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from movements in interest rates. Interest rate risk arises from differences between the timing of rate changes and the timing of cash flows (repricing risk); from changing rate relationships among different yield curves affecting FI activities (basis risk); from changing rate relationships across the spectrum of maturities (yield curve risk); and from interest-related options embedded in FI products (options risk).

4. Liquidity risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from an FI’s inability to meet its obligations when they come due without incurring unacceptable losses. Liquidity risk includes the inability to manage unplanned decreases or changes in funding sources. Liquidity risk also arises from the failure to recognize or address changes in market conditions that affect the ability to liquidate assets quickly and with minimal loss in value.

5. Operational risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from fraud, error, and the inability to deliver products or services, maintain a competitive position, and manage information. Risk is inherent in efforts to gain strategic advantage, and in the failure to keep pace with changes in the financial services marketplace. Operational risk is evident in each product and service offered. Operational risk encompasses: product development and delivery, operational processing, systems development, computing systems, complexity of products and services, and the internal control environment.

6. Compliance risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from violations of, or non-conformance with, laws, rules, regulations, prescribed practices, internal policies and procedures, or ethical standards. Compliance risk also arises in situations where the laws or rules governing certain FI products or activities of the FI’s clients may be ambiguous or untested. This risk exposes the FI to fines, payment of damages, and the avoiding of contracts. Compliance risk can lead to diminished reputation, reduced franchise value, limited business opportunities, reduced expansion potential, and lack of contract enforceability.

7. Strategic risk is the current and prospective impact on earnings or capital arising from adverse business decisions, improper implementation of decisions, or lack of responsiveness to industry changes. This risk is a function of the compatibility of an organization’s strategic goals, the business strategies developed to achieve those goals, the resources deployed against these goals, and the quality of implementation. The resources needed to carry out business strategies are both tangible and intangible. They include communication channels, operating systems, delivery networks, and managerial capacities and capabilities. The organization’s internal characteristics must be evaluated against the impact of economic, technological, competitive, regulatory, and other environmental changes.

8. Reputation risk is the current and prospective impact on earnings or capital arising from negative public opinion. This affects the FI’s ability to establish new relationships or services or continue servicing existing relationships. This risk may expose the FI to litigation, financial loss, or a decline in its customer base. In extreme cases, FIs that lose their reputation may suffer a run on deposits. Reputation risk exposure is present throughout the organization and requires the responsibility to exercise an abundance of caution in dealing with customers and the community.

IV. FI management of risk

Because market conditions and company structures vary, there is no single risk management system that works for all FIs. Each FI should tailor its risk management program to its needs and circumstances. Sound risk management systems, however, have several things in common; for example, they are independent of risk-taking activities. Regardless of the risk management program’s design, each program should:

1. Identify risk: To properly identify risks, an FI must recognize and understand existing risks or risks that may arise from new business initiatives, including risks that originate in non-bank subsidiaries and affiliates. Risk identification should be a continuing process, and should occur at both the transaction and portfolio level.

2. Measure risk: Accurate and timely measurement of risk is essential to effective risk management systems. An FI that does not have a risk measurement system has limited ability to control or monitor risk levels. Further, the more complex the risk, the more sophisticated should be the tools that measure it. An FI should periodically conduct tests to make sure that the measurement tools it uses are accurate. Good risk measurement systems assess the risks of both individual transactions and portfolios. During the transition process in FI mergers and consolidations, the effectiveness of risk measurement tools is often impaired because of the technological incompatibility of the merging systems or other problems of integration. Therefore, the resulting FI must make a strong effort to ensure that risks are appropriately measured across the consolidated entity. Larger, more complex FIs must assess the impact of increased transaction volume across all risk categories.

3. Monitor risk: FIs should monitor risk levels to ensure timely review of risk positions and exceptions. Monitoring reports should be frequent, timely, accurate, and informative and should be distributed to appropriate individuals to ensure action, when needed. For large, complex FIs, monitoring is essential to ensure that management’s decisions are implemented for all geographies, products, and legal entities.

4. Control risk: The FI should establish and communicate risk limits through policies, standards, and procedures that define responsibility and authority. These control limits should be valid tools that management should be able to adjust when conditions or risk tolerances change. The FI should have a process to authorize exceptions or changes to risk limits when warranted. In merging or consolidating FIs, the transition should be tightly controlled; business plans, lines of authority, and accountability should be clear. Large, diversified FIs should have strong risk controls covering all geographies, products, and legal entities.

   The Board must establish the FI’s strategic direction and risk tolerances. In carrying out these responsibilities, the Board should approve policies that set operational standards and risk limits. Well-designed monitoring systems will allow the Board to hold management accountable for operating within established tolerances. Capable management and appropriate staffing are also essential to effective risk management. FI management is responsible for the implementation, integrity, and maintenance of risk management systems. Management also must keep the directors adequately informed. Management must:

   a. Implement the FI’s strategy;
   b. Develop policies that define the FI’s risk tolerance and ensure that they are compatible with strategic goals;
   c. Ensure that strategic direction and risk tolerances are effectively communicated and adhered to throughout the organization:

d. Oversee the development and maintenance of management information systems to ensure that information is timely, accurate, and pertinent.

V. Assessment of risk management

When assessing risk management systems, the BSP will consider the FI's policies, processes, personnel, and control systems. Significant deficiencies in any one of these areas will cause the BSP to expect the FI to compensate for these deficiencies in their overall risk management process.

1. Policies are statements of the FI's commitment to pursue certain results. Policies often set standards (on risk tolerances, for example) and recommend courses of action. Policies should express an FI's underlying mission, values, and principles. A policy review should always be triggered when an FI's activities or risk tolerances change.

2. Processes are the procedures, programs, and practices that impose order on the FI's pursuit of its objectives. Processes define how daily activities are carried out. Effective processes are consistent with the underlying policies, are efficient, and are governed by checks and balances.

3. Personnel are the staff and managers that execute or oversee processes. Good staff and managers perform as expected, are qualified, and competent. They understand the FI's mission, values, policies, and processes. Compensation programs should be designed to attract, develop, and retain qualified personnel. In addition, compensation should be structured to reward contributions to effective risk management.

4. Control systems include the tools and information systems (e.g., internal/external audit programs) that FI managers use to measure performance, make decisions about risk, and assess the effectiveness of processes. Feedback should be timely, accurate, and pertinent.

VI. Supervision by Risk

Using the core assessment standards of the BSP as guide, an examiner will obtain both a current and prospective view of an FI's risk profile. When appropriate, this profile will incorporate potential material risks to the FI from non-bank affiliates' activities conducted by the FI. Subsidiaries and branches of foreign FIs should maintain sufficient documentation onsite to support the analysis of their risk management. This risk assessment drives supervisory strategies and activities. It also facilitates discussions with FI management and directors and helps to ensure more efficient examinations. The core assessment complements the RAS. Examiners document their conclusions regarding the quantity of risk, the quality of risk management, the level of supervisory concern (measured as aggregate risk), and the direction of risk using the RAS. Together, the core assessment and RAS give the appropriate department of the SES the means to assess existing and emerging risks in FIs, regardless of size or complexity.

Specifically, supervision by risk allocates greater resources to areas with higher risks. The appropriate department of the SES will accomplish this by:

1. Identifying risks using common definitions. The categories of risk, as they are defined, are the foundation for supervisory activities.

2. Measuring risks using common methods of evaluation. Risk cannot always be quantified in pesos. For example, numerous internal control deficiencies may indicate excessive operational risk.

3. Evaluating risk management to determine whether FI systems and processes permit management to manage and control existing and prospective levels of risk.

The appropriate department of the SES will discuss preliminary conclusions regarding risks with FI management. Following these discussions, the appropriate department of the SES will adjust conclusions when appropriate. Once the risks have been clearly identified and communicated, the appropriate department of the SES can then focus supervisory efforts on the areas of greater risk within the FI, the consolidated banking organization, and the banking system.

To fully implement supervision by risk, the appropriate department of the SES will also assign CAMELS ratings to the lead FI and all affiliated FIs. It may determine that risks in individual FIs are increased, reduced, or mitigated in light of the consolidated risk profile of the FI as a whole. To perform a consolidated analysis, it will obtain pertinent information from FIs and affiliates, and verify transactions flowing between FIs and affiliates.

GUIDELINES ON MARKET RISK MANAGEMENT
(Appendix to Sec. X174)

I. Background
The globalization of financial markets, increased transaction volume and volatility, and the introduction of complex products and trading strategies have made market risk management take on a more important role in risk management. FIs now use a wide range of financial products and strategies, ranging from the most liquid fixed income securities to complex derivative instruments and structured products. The risk dimensions of these products and strategies must be fully understood, monitored, and controlled by an FI.

II. Statement of policy
For purposes of these guidelines, FIs refer to banks and NBFIs supervised by the BSP and their respective financial subsidiaries.

The level of market risk assumed by an FI is not necessarily a concern, so long as the FI has the ability to effectively manage the risk. Therefore, the BSP will not restrict the level of risk assumed by an FI, or the scope of its financial market activities, so long as the FI is authorized to engage in such activities and:

- Understands, measures, monitors and controls the risk assumed;
- Adopts risk management practices whose sophistication and effectiveness are commensurate to the risk being monitored and controlled, and
- Maintains capital commensurate with the risk exposure assumed.

If the BSP determines that an FI’s risk exposures are excessive relative to the FI’s capital, or that the risk assumed is not well managed, the BSP will direct the FI to reduce its exposure to an appropriate level and/or strengthen its risk management systems.

In evaluating the above parameters, the BSP expects FIs to have sufficient knowledge, skills and appropriate system and technology necessary to understand and effectively manage their market risk exposures. The principles set forth in these guidelines shall be used in determining the adequacy and effectiveness of an FI’s market risk management process, the level and trend of market risk exposure and adequacy of capital relative to exposure. The BSP shall consider the following factors:

1. The major sources of market risk exposure and the complexity and level of risk posed by the assets, liabilities, and off-balance-sheet activities of the FI;
2. The FI’s actual and prospective level of market risk in relation to its earnings, capital, and risk management systems;
3. The adequacy and effectiveness of the FI’s risk management practices and strategies as evidenced by:
   - Management’s knowledge and ability to identify and manage sources of market risk as measured by past and projected financial performance;
   - The adequacy of internal measurement, monitoring, and management information systems;
   - The adequacy and effectiveness of risk limits and controls that set tolerances on income and capital losses;
   - The adequacy and frequency of the FI’s internal review and audit of its market risk management process.

Further, an FI’s market risk management system shall be assessed under the FI’s general risk management framework, consistent with the guidelines on supervision by risk as set forth under Appendix 72.
III. Market risk management process

An FI's market risk management process should be consistent with its general risk management framework and should be commensurate with the level of risk assumed. Although there is no single market risk management system that works for all FIs, an FI's market risk management process should:

1. Identify market risk. Identifying current and prospective market risk exposures involves understanding the sources of market risk arising from an FI's existing or new business initiatives. An FI should have procedures in place to identify and address the risk posed by new products and activities prior to initiating the new products or activities.

   Identifying market risk also includes identifying an FI's desired level of risk exposure based on its ability and willingness to assume market risk. An FI's ability to assume market risk depends on its capital base and the skills/capabilities of its management team. In any case, market risk identification should be a continuing process and should occur at both the transaction and portfolio level.

2. Measure market risk. Once the sources and desired level of market risk have been identified, market risk measurement models can be applied to quantify an FI's market risk exposures. However, market risk cannot be managed in isolation. Market risk measurement systems should be integrated into an FI's general risk measurement system and results from models should be interpreted in coordination with other risk exposures. Further, the more complex an FI's financial market activities are, the more sophisticated the tools that measure market risk exposures arising from such complex activities should be.

3. Control market risk. Quantifying market risk exposures help an FI align existing exposures with the identified desired level of exposures. Controlling market risk usually involves establishing market risk limits that are consistent with an FI's market risk measurement methodologies. Limits may be applied through an outright prohibition on exposures above a pre-set threshold, by restraining activities or deploying strategies that alter the risk-return characteristics of on- and off-balance sheet positions. Appropriate pricing strategies may likewise be used to control market risk exposures.

4. Monitor market risk. Ensuring that market risk exposures are adequately controlled requires the timely review of market risk positions and exceptions. Monitoring reports should be frequent, timely and accurate. For large, complex FIs, consolidated monitoring should be employed to ensure that management's decisions are implemented for all geographies, products, and legal entities.

IV. Definition and sources of market risk

Market risk is the risk to earnings or capital arising from adverse movements in factors that affect the market value of instruments, products, and transactions in an institution's overall portfolio, both on and off-balance sheet. Market risk arises from market-making, dealing, and position-taking in interest rate, foreign exchange, equity and commodities markets.

Interest rate risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from movements in interest rates.

Foreign exchange risk refers to the risk to earnings or capital arising from adverse movements in foreign exchange rates.

Equity risk is the risk to earnings or capital arising from movements in the value of an institution's equity-related holdings.

Commodity risk is the risk to earnings or capital due to adverse changes in the value of an institution's commodity-related holdings.

While there are generally four sources of market risk, as defined herein, the focus... of this Appendix is interest rate risk and foreign exchange risk. Nevertheless, the principles set forth in the market risk management process and sound risk management practices are generally applicable to all sources of market risk.

a. Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that changes in market interest rates will reduce current or future earnings and/or the economic value of an FI. Accepting interest rate risk is a normal part of financial intermediation and is a major source of profitability and shareholder value. Excessive or inadequately understood and controlled interest rate risk, however, can pose a significant threat to an FI’s earnings and capital. Thus, an effective risk management process that maintains interest rate risk within prudent levels is essential to the safety and soundness of FIs.

1. Sources of interest rate risk

a. Re-pricing risk

This is the most common type of interest rate risk and arises from differences in the maturity (for fixed-rate instruments) and re-pricing (for floating-rate instruments) of an FI’s assets, liabilities and off-balance sheet (OBS) positions. While such re-pricing mismatches are fundamental to the business of financial intermediation, they also expose an FI’s earnings and underlying economic value to changes based on fluctuations in market interest rates.

b. Basis risk

Basis risk arises from imperfect correlations among the various interest rates earned and paid on financial instruments with otherwise similar re-pricing characteristics. A shift in the relationship between these rates or interest rates in different markets can give rise to unexpected changes in the cash flows and earnings spread between assets, liabilities and OBS instruments of similar maturities or re-pricing frequencies.

c. Yield curve risk

Yield curve risk is the risk that rates of different maturities may change by a different magnitude. It arises from variations in the movement of interest rates across the maturity spectrum of the same index or market. Yield curves can steepen, flatten or even invert. Unanticipated shifts of the yield curve may have adverse effects on an FI’s earnings or underlying economic value.

d. Option risk

Option risk is the risk that the payment patterns of assets and liabilities will change when interest rates change. Formally, an option gives the option holder the right, but not the obligation to buy, sell, or in some manner alter the cash flow of an instrument or financial contract. Options may be stand-alone instruments or may be embedded within otherwise standard instruments. Examples of instruments with embedded options include various types of bonds, notes, loans or even deposits which give a counterparty the right to prepay or even extend the maturity of an instrument or to change the rate paid. In some cases, the holder of an option can force a counterparty to pay additional notional, or to forfeit notional already paid.

The option holder’s ability to choose to alter cash flows creates an asymmetric performance pattern. If not adequately managed, the asymmetrical payoff characteristics of instruments with optionality can pose significant risk particularly to those who sell the options, since the options held, both explicit and embedded, are generally exercised to the advantage of the holder and the disadvantage of the seller.

2. Measuring the effects of interest rate risk

Changes in interest rates affect both earnings and the economic value of an FI. This has given rise to two separate, but complementary, perspectives for evaluating an FI’s exposure to interest rate risk.
Exposure to earnings typically receives the most attention. Many FIs use a modified interest rate gap or earnings simulation model to forecast earnings over a running next twelve (12) month time horizon under a variety of interest rate scenarios. Given that a large portion of a typical FI’s liabilities and even assets re-price in less than one (1) year, there is value in such a system. For example, earnings are a key measure in determining if the board of directors is creating value for the shareholders.

However, earnings over the next twelve (12) months do not present a complete picture of an FI’s exposure to interest rate risk. Many FIs hold assets such as bonds and fixed rate loans with extended terms. The full effect of changes in interest rates on the value of these assets cannot be fully captured by a short-term earnings model. Thus, it is also important to consider a more comprehensive picture of the FI’s exposure to interest rate risk through an assessment of the FI’s economic value.

The BSP will not consider market risk to be “well managed” unless the FI has fully implemented an effective risk measurement system whose sophistication is commensurate with the nature and complexity of the risk assumed. Smaller FIs with non-complex single currency balance sheets may be able to use a single non-complex measurement methodology, such as re-pricing gap analysis to manage their interest rate risk. However, large commercial or universal banks with complex, multi-currency balance sheets, or FIs that accept large exposures of interest rate risk relative to capital should incorporate more severe rate movements (e.g., ±100, 200 and 300 basis points) to determine what happens if strike prices are breached or “events” are triggered. Further, the BSP will expect an FI to employ alternative scenarios such as changes to the shape of the yield curve if the FI is exposed to significant levels of yield curve or basis risk.

Changes in market interest rates may also affect the volume of activities that generate fee income and other non-interest income. Thus, FIs should incorporate a broader focus on overall net income – incorporating both interest and non-interest income and expenses – if the FI reports significant levels of interest rate sensitive non-interest income.

b. Economic value perspective

The economic value of an FI can be viewed as the present value of an FI’s

Earnings perspective

An FI should consider how changes in interest rates may affect future earnings. The focus of analysis under the earnings perspective is the impact of changes in interest rates on accrual or reported earnings. Volatility in earnings should be monitored and controlled because reduced earnings or outright losses can threaten the financial stability of an FI by undermining its capital adequacy. Further, unexpected volatility in earnings can undermine an FI’s reputation and result in an erosion of public confidence.

Fluctuations in interest rates generally have the greatest impact on reported earnings through changes in net interest income (i.e., the difference between total interest income and total interest expense). Thus, the BSP will expect FIs to adopt systems that are capable of estimating changes to net interest income under a variety of interest rate scenarios. For example, non-complex FIs with traditional business lines and balance sheets could potentially limit their simulations to a single ±100 basis point parallel rate shock. However, FIs that hold significant levels of derivatives and structured products relative to capital should incorporate more severe rate movements (e.g., ±100, 200 and 300 basis points) to determine what happens if strike prices are breached or “events” are triggered. Further, the BSP will expect an FI to employ alternative scenarios such as changes to the shape of the yield curve if the FI is exposed to significant levels of yield curve or basis risk.

Changes in market interest rates may also affect the volume of activities that generate fee income and other non-interest income. Thus, FIs should incorporate a broader focus on overall net income – incorporating both interest and non-interest income and expenses – if the FI reports significant levels of interest rate sensitive non-interest income.
expected net cash flows, defined as the expected cash flows from assets minus the expected cash flows from liabilities plus the expected net cash flows on OBS positions. As such, it provides a more comprehensive view of the potential long-term effects of changes in interest rates than is offered by the earnings perspective.

While a variety of models are available, the BSP expects that economic value models will incorporate all significant classes of assets, liabilities and OBS. As with earnings at risk, the FI should incorporate a variety of interest rate scenarios to ensure that any strike prices, caps, limits, or "events" are breached in the simulation. Also, FIs with significant levels of basis or yield curve risk are expected to add scenarios such as alternative correlations between interest rates and/or a flatter or steeper yield curve.

Managing earnings and economic exposures Management must make certain tradeoffs when immunizing earnings and economic value from interest rate risk. When earnings are immunized, economic value becomes more vulnerable, and vice versa. The economic value of equity, like that of other financial instruments, is a function of the discounted net cash flows it is expected to earn in the future. If an FI has immunized earnings, such that expected earnings remain constant for any change in interest rates, the discounted value of those earnings will be lower if interest rates rise. Hence, its economic value will fluctuate with rate changes. Conversely, if an FI fully immunizes its economic value, its periodic earnings must increase when rates rise and decline when interest rates fall.

b. Foreign exchange risk
Foreign exchange risk (FX risk) is the risk to earnings or capital arising from changes in foreign exchange rates.

In contracting to meet clients' foreign currency needs or simply buying and selling foreign exchange for its own account, an FI undertakes a risk that exchange rates might change subsequent to the time the contract is consummated. Foreign exchange risk may also arise from maintaining an open foreign exchange (FX) position. Thus, managing FX risk includes monitoring an FI's net FX position.

An FI has a net position in a foreign currency when its assets, including spot and future contracts to purchase, and its liabilities, including spot and future contracts to sell, in that currency are not equal. An excess of assets over liabilities is called a net "long" position and liabilities in excess of assets, a net "short" position.

It should be noted that when engaging in FX activities, FIs are also exposed to other risks including liquidity and credit risks, particularly related to the settlement of FX contracts. FIs should have an integrated approach to risk management in relation to its FX activities. FX risk should be reviewed together with other risks to determine the FI's overall risk profile. Liquidity and settlement risks related to FX activities are outside the scope of these guidelines. Nevertheless, future guidelines may be issued on these risk areas.

V. Sound market risk management practices
When assessing an FI's market risk management system, the BSP expects an FI to address the four (4) basic elements of a sound risk management system:
1. Active and appropriate Board and senior management oversight;
2. Adequate risk management policies and procedures;
3. Appropriate risk measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring and management information systems; and
4. Comprehensive internal controls and independent audits.

The specific manner in which an FI applies these elements in managing its market risk will depend upon the complexity and nature of its activities, as well as the level of market risk exposure assumed. What constitutes adequate market risk management practices can therefore vary considerably. Regardless of the systems used, the BSP will not consider market risk to be well managed unless all four of the above elements are deemed to be at least "satisfactory".

As with other risk factor categories, banking groups (banks and subsidiaries/affiliates) should monitor and manage market risk exposures of the group on a consolidated and comprehensive basis. At the same time, however, FIs should fully recognize any legal distinctions and possible obstacles to cash flow movements among affiliates and adjust their risk management practices accordingly. While consolidation may provide a comprehensive measure in respect of market risk, it may also underestimate risk when positions in one affiliate are used to offset positions in another affiliate. This is because a conventional accounting consolidation may allow theoretical offsets between such positions from which an FI may not in practice be able to benefit because of legal or operational constraints.

A. Active and appropriate board and senior management oversight

Effective board and senior management oversight of an FI's market risk activities is critical to a sound market risk management process. It is important that these individuals are aware of their responsibilities with regard to market risk management and how market risk fits within the organization's overall risk management framework.

Responsibilities of the board of directors

The board of directors has the ultimate responsibility for understanding the nature and the level of market risk taken by the FI. In order to carry out its responsibilities, the Board should:

1. Establish and guide the FI's strategic direction and tolerance for market risk. While it is not possible to provide a comprehensive list of documents to consider, the BSP should see a clear and documented pattern whereby the Board reviews, discusses and approves strategies and policies with respect to market risk management. In addition, there should be evidence that the Board periodically reviews and discusses the overall objectives of the FI with respect to the level of market risk acceptable to the FI.

2. Identify senior management who has the authority and responsibility for managing market risk and ensure that senior management takes the necessary steps to monitor and control market risk consistent with the approved strategies and policies. The BSP should be able to discern a clear hierarchal structure with a clear assignment of responsibility and authority.

3. Monitor the FI's performance and overall market risk profile, ensuring that the level of market risk is maintained within tolerance and at prudent levels supported by adequate capital. The Board should be regularly informed of the market risk exposure of the FI and any breaches to established limits for appropriate action. Reporting should be timely and clearly presented. In assessing an FI's capital adequacy for market risk, the Board should consider the FI's current and potential market risk exposure as well as other risks that may impair the FI's capital, such as credit, liquidity, operational, strategic, and reputation risks.

1 This section refers to a management structure composed of a board of directors and senior management. The BSP is aware that there may be differences in some FIs as regards the organizational framework and functions of the board of directors and senior management. For instance, branches of foreign banks have board of directors located outside of the Philippines and are overseeing multiple branches in various countries. In this case, "board-equivalent" committees are appointed. Owing to these differences, the notions of the board of directors and the senior management are used in these guidelines not to identify legal constructs but rather to label two decision-making functions within a FI.
4. Ensure that the FI implements sound fundamental principles that facilitate the identification, measurement, monitoring and control of market risk. The board of directors should encourage discussions among its members and senior management – as well as between senior management and others in the FI – regarding the FI’s market risk exposures and management process.

5. Ensure that adequate resources, both technical and human resources, are devoted to market risk management. While board members need not have detailed technical knowledge of complex financial instruments, legal issues or sophisticated risk management techniques, they have the responsibility to ensure that the FI has personnel available who have the necessary technical skills to evaluate and control market risk. This responsibility includes ensuring that there is continuous training of personnel on market risk management and providing competent technical staff for the internal audit function.

Responsibilities of senior management

Senior management is responsible for ensuring that market risk is adequately managed for both long-term and day-to-day basis. In managing the FI’s activities, senior management should:

1. Develop and implement policies, procedures and practices that translate the board’s goals, objectives and risk tolerances into operating standards that are well understood by personnel and that are consistent with the board’s intent. Senior management should also periodically review the organization’s market risk management policies and procedures to ensure that they remain appropriate and sound.

2. Ensure adherence to the lines of authority and responsibility that the board has established for measuring, managing, and reporting market risk exposures.

4. Oversee the implementation and maintenance of management information and other systems to identify, measure, monitor, and control the FI’s market risk.

5. Establish effective internal controls over the market risk management process.

6. Ensure that adequate resources are available for evaluating and controlling market risk. Senior management of FIs, including branches of foreign banks, should ensure that analysis and market risk management activities are conducted by competent staff with technical knowledge and experience consistent with the nature and scope of the FI’s activities. There should be sufficient depth in staff resources to manage these activities and to accommodate the temporary absence of key personnel and normal succession.

In evaluating the quality of oversight, the BSP shall evaluate how the board and senior management carry out the above functions/ responsibilities. Further, sound management oversight is highly related to the quality of other areas/elements of an FI’s risk management system. Thus, even if board and senior management exhibit active oversight, the FI’s policies, procedures, measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring and information systems, controls and audit must be considered adequate before quality of board and senior management can be considered at least “satisfactory”.

Lines of responsibility and authority

FIs should clearly define the individuals and/or committees responsible for managing market risk and should ensure that there is adequate separation of duties in key elements of the risk management process to avoid potential conflicts of interest.

Management should ensure that sufficient safeguards exist to minimize the potential that individuals initiating risk-taking positions may inappropriately influence key control functions of the market risk management process. FIs should therefore have risk measurement, monitoring, and control functions with clearly defined duties that are sufficiently independent from position-taking functions of the FI and which report risk exposures directly to the board of directors.

The nature and scope of safeguards to minimize potential conflicts of interest should be in accordance with the size and structure of an FI. Larger or more complex FIs should have a designated independent unit responsible for the design and administration of the FI's market risk measurement, monitoring and control functions.

B. Adequate risk management policies and procedures

An FI's market risk policies and procedures should be clearly defined, documented and duly approved by the board of directors. Policies and procedures should be consistent with the nature and complexity of the FI's activities. When reviewing banking groups, the BSP will assess whether adequate and effective policies and procedures have been adopted and implemented across all levels of the organization.

Policies and procedures should delineate lines of responsibility and accountability and should clearly define authorized instruments, hedging strategies, position-taking opportunities, and the market risk models used to quantify market risk. Market risk policies should also identify quantitative parameters that define the acceptable level of market risk for the FI. Where appropriate, limits should be further specified for certain types of instruments, portfolios, and activities. All market risk policies should be reviewed periodically and revised as needed. Management should define the specific procedures to be used for identifying, reporting and approving exceptions to policies, limits, and authorizations.

It is important that FIs identify market risk, as well as other risks, inherent in new products and activities and ensure these are subject to adequate procedures and controls before the new products and activities are introduced or undertaken. Specifically, new products and activities should undergo a careful pre-acquisition review to ensure that the FI understands their market risk characteristics and can incorporate them into its risk management process. Major hedging or risk management initiatives should be approved in advance by the board or its appropriate delegated committee.

Proposals and the subsequent new product/activity review should be formal and written. For purposes of managing market risk inherent in new products, proposals should, at a minimum, contain the following features:

1. Description of the relevant product or strategy;
2. Use/purpose of the new product/activity;
3. Identification of the resources required and unit/s responsible for establishing sound and effective market risk management of the product or activity;
4. Analysis of the reasonableness of the proposed activities in relation to the FI's overall financial condition and capital levels; and
5. Procedures to be used to measure, monitor, and control the risks of the proposed product or activity.

C. Appropriate risk measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring, and management information system

Market risk measurement models/methodologies

It is essential that FIs have market risk measurement systems that capture all material sources of market risk and that assess the effect of changes in market risk.
Market risk measurement systems should:

1. Assess all material market risk associated with an FI's assets, liabilities, and OBS positions;
2. Utilize generally accepted financial concepts and risk measurement techniques; and
3. Have well-documented assumptions and parameters.

There are a number of methods/techniques for measuring market risks. Complexity ranges from simple marking-to-market or valuation techniques to more advanced static simulations using current holdings to highly sophisticated dynamic modeling techniques that reflect potential future business activities. In designing market risk measurement systems, FIs should ensure that the degree of detail regarding the nature of their positions is commensurate with the complexity and risk inherent in those positions.

At a minimum, smaller non-complex FIs should have the ability to mark-to-market or revalue their investment portfolio and construct a simple re-pricing gap. When using gap analysis, the precision of interest rate risk measurement depends in part on the number of time bands into which positions are aggregated. Clearly, aggregation of positions/cash flows into broad time bands implies some loss of precision. In addition, the use of reasonable and valid assumptions is important for a measurement system to be precise. In practice, the FI must assess the significance of the potential loss of precision in determining the extent of aggregation and simplification to be built into the measurement approach. Assumptions and limitations of the measurement approach, such as the loss of precision, should be documented.

On the other hand, banks holding an expanded derivatives license and FIs engaging in options or structured products with embedded options cannot capture all material sources of market risk by using static models such as the re-pricing gap. These FIs should have interest rate risk measurement systems that assess the effects of rate changes on both earnings and economic value. These systems should provide meaningful measures of an FI's current levels of interest rate risk exposure, and should be capable of identifying any excessive exposures that might arise. Pricing models and simulation techniques will probably be required.

There is also a question on the extent to which market risk should be viewed on a whole institution basis or whether the trading book, which is marked to market, and the accrual book, which is often not, should be treated separately. As a general rule, it is desirable for any measurement system to incorporate market risk exposures arising from the full scope of an FI's activities, including both trading and non-trading sources. A single measurement system can facilitate analysis of market risk exposure. However, this does not preclude different measurement systems and risk management approaches being used for similar or different activities. For example, a bank with expanded derivatives license will use pricing models as basic tools in valuing position from its derivatives activities and structured products. In addition, the bank should use simulation models to assess the potential effects of changes in market risk factors by simulating the future path of market risk factors and their impact on cash flows from these activities.
Different methodologies may also be applied to the trading and accrual books. Regardless of the number of models or measurement systems used, management should have an integrated view of market risk across products and business lines.

Regardless of the measurement system used, the BSP will expect the FI to ensure that input data are timely and correct, assumptions can be supported and are valid, the methodologies used produce accurate results, and the results can be easily understood by senior management and the board.

(1) Model input. All market risk measurement methodologies require various types of inputs, including hard data, readily observable parameters such as asset prices, and both quantitatively and qualitatively-derived assumptions. This applies equally to simple gap as well as complex simulation models.

The integrity and timeliness of data is a key component of the market risk measurement process. The BSP expects that adequate controls will be established to ensure that all material positions and cash flows from on- and off-balance sheet positions are incorporated into the measurement system on a consistent and timely basis. Inputs should be verified through a process that validates data integrity. Assumptions and inputs should be subject to control and oversight review. Any manual adjustments to underlying data should be documented, and the nature and reasons for the adjustments should also be clearly understood.

Critical to model accuracy is the validity of underlying assumptions. Assumptions regarding maturity of deposits, for example, are critical in measuring interest rate risk. The treatment of positions where behavioral maturity is different from contractual maturity requires the use of assumptions and may complicate the measurement of interest rate risk exposure, particularly when using the economic value approach. The validity of correlation assumptions to aggregate market risk exposures is likewise important as breakdowns in correlations may significantly affect the validity of model results. Key assumptions should therefore be subject to rigorous documentation and review. Any significant changes should be approved in advance by the board of directors.

(2) Model risk. While accuracy is key to an effective market risk measurement system, methodologies cannot be expected to flawlessly predict potential losses arising from market risk. The use of models introduces the potential for model risk. Thus, model risk is the risk of loss arising from inaccurate or incorrect quantification of market risk exposures due to weaknesses in market risk methodologies. It may arise from relying on assumptions that are inconsistent with market realities, from employing input parameters that are unreliable, or from calibrating, applying and implementing models incorrectly.

Model risk is more likely to arise for instruments that have non-standard or option-like features. The use of proprietary models that employ unconventional techniques that are not widely agreed upon by market participants is likewise more sensitive to model risk. Even the use of standard models may lead to errors if the financial tools are not appropriate for a given instrument.

The BSP expects FIs to implement effective policies and procedures to manage model risk. The scope of policies and procedures will depend upon the type and complexity of models developed or purchased. However, FIs holding an expanded license or significant levels of complex investments including structured products, should at a minimum implement the following controls:

a. Model development/acquisition, implementation and revisions. The BSP expects larger, complex FIs to adopt policies...
APP. 73
08.12.31

governing development/acquisition, implementation and revision of market risk models. These policies should clearly define the responsibilities of staff involved in the development/acquisition process. FIs should ensure that modeling techniques and assumptions are consistent with widely accepted financial theories and market practices. Policies and procedures should be duly approved by the board of directors and properly documented. An inventory of the models in use should be maintained along with documentation explaining how they operate.

The BSP also expects that revisions to models will be performed in a controlled environment by authorized personnel and changes should be made or verified by a control function. Written policies should specify when changes to models are acceptable and how those revisions should be accomplished.

b. Model validation. Before models are authorized for use, they should be validated by individuals who are neither directly involved in the development process nor responsible for providing inputs to the model. Independent model validation is a key control in the model development process and should be specifically addressed in an FI’s policies. Further, the BSP expects that the staff validating the models will have the necessary technical expertise.

A sound validation process should rigorously and comprehensively evaluate the sensitivity of the model to material sources of model risk and includes the following:

1. Tests of internal logic and mathematical accuracy;
2. Development of empirical support for the model’s assumptions;
3. Back-testing. The BSP expects FIs to conduct backtesting of model results. Back-testing is a method of periodically evaluating the accuracy and predictive capability of an FI’s market risk measurement system by monitoring and comparing actual movements in market prices or market risk factors with projections produced by the model. To be more effective, back-testing should be conducted by parties independent of those developing or using the model. Policies should address the scope of the back-testing process, frequency of back-testing, documentation requirements, and management responses. Complex models should be back-tested continually while simple models can be back-tested periodically. Significant discrepancies should prompt a model review.
4. Periodic review of methodologies and assumptions. The BSP expects that FIs will periodically review or reassess their modeling methodologies and assumptions. Again, the frequency of review will depend on the model but complex models should be reviewed at least once a year, when changes are made, or when a new product or activity is introduced. Model review could also be prompted when there is a need for the model to be updated to reflect changes in the FI or market. The review process should be performed by an independent group as it is considered to be part of the risk control and audit function.

The use of vendor models can present special challenges, as vendors often claim proprietary privilege to avoid disclosing information about their models. Thus, FIs may be constrained from performing validation procedures related to internal logic, mathematical accuracy and model assumptions. However, vendors should provide adequate information on how the models were constructed and validated so that FIs have reasonable assurances that the model works as intended.

c. Stress testing. The underlying statistical models used to measure market risk summarize the exposures that reflect the most probable market conditions. Regardless of size and complexity of activities, the BSP expects FIs to supplement their market risk measurement models with stress tests. Stress testing are simulations that show how a portfolio or balance sheet might perform during extreme events or highly volatile markets.

Stress testing should be designed to provide information on the kinds of conditions under which the FI's strategies or positions would be most vulnerable. Thus stress tests must be tailored to the risk characteristics of the FI. Possible stress scenarios might include abrupt changes in the general level of interest rates, changes in the relationships among key market rates (i.e., basis risk), changes in the slope and the shape of the yield curve (i.e., yield curve risk), changes in the liquidity of key financial markets, or changes in the volatility of market rates.

In addition, stress scenarios should include conditions under which key business assumptions and parameters break down. The stress testing of assumptions used for illiquid instruments and instruments with uncertain contractual maturities are particularly critical to achieving an understanding of the FI's risk profile. When conducting stress tests, special consideration should be given to instruments or markets where concentrations exist. FIs should consider also “worst case” scenarios in addition to more probable events.

Further, the BSP will expect FIs with material market risk exposure, particularly from derivatives and/or structured products to supplement their stress testing with an analysis of their exposure to “interconnection risk.” While stress testing typically considers the movement of a single market factor (e.g., interest rates), interconnection risk considers the linkages across markets (e.g., interest rates and foreign exchange rates) and across the various categories of risk (e.g., credit, and liquidity risk). For example, stress from one market may transmit shocks to other markets and give rise to otherwise dormant risks, such as liquidity risk. Evaluating interconnected risk involves assessing the total or aggregate impact of singular events.

Guidelines for performing stress testing should be detailed in the risk management policy statement. Management and the board of directors should periodically review the design, major assumptions, and the results of such stress tests to ensure that appropriate contingency plans are in place.

(3) Model output. Reports should be provided to senior management and the board as a basis for making decisions. Report content should be clear and straightforward, indicating the purpose of the model, significant limitations, the quantitative level of risk estimated by the simulation, a comparison to Board approved limits and a qualitative discussion regarding the appropriateness of the FI's current exposures. Sophisticated simulations should be used carefully so that they do not become “black boxes” producing numbers that have the appearance of precision but may not be very accurate when their specific assumptions and parameters are revealed.

Market limits structure

The FI's board of directors should set the institution’s tolerance for market risk and communicate that tolerance to senior management. Based on these tolerances, senior management should establish appropriate risk limits, duly approved by the Board, to maintain the FI's exposure within the set tolerances over a range of possible changes in market risk factors such as interest rates.

Limits represent the FI’s actual willingness and ability to accept real losses. In setting risk limits, the board and senior management should consider the nature of the FI’s strategies and activities, past performance, and management skills. Most importantly, the board and senior management should consider the level of the FI's earnings and capital and ensure that both are sufficient to absorb losses equal to the proposed limits. Limits should be approved by the board of directors. Furthermore, limits should be flexible to changes in conditions or risk tolerances and should be reviewed periodically.

An FI's limits should be consistent with its overall approach to measuring market risk. At a minimum, FIs using simple gap should establish limits on mismatches in each time bucket on a stand-alone and cumulative basis. In addition, limits should be adopted to control potential losses in the investment portfolio to a pre-set percentage of capital. Larger, more complex FIs should establish limits on the potential impact of changes in market risk factors on reported earnings or/and the FI's economic value of equity. Market risk limits may include limits on net and gross positions, volume limits, stop-loss limits, value-at-risk limits, re-pricing gap limits, earnings-at-risk limits and other limits that capture either notional or (un)expected loss exposures. In assigning interest rate risk limits under the earnings perspective, FIs should explore limits on the variability of net income as well as net interest income in order to fully assess the contribution of non-interest income to the interest rate risk exposure of the FI. Such limits usually specify acceptable levels of earnings volatility under specified interest rate scenarios.

For example, interest rate risk limits may be keyed to specific scenarios of movements in market interest rates such as an increase or decrease of a particular magnitude. The rate movements used in developing these limits should represent meaningful stress situations taking into account historic rate volatility and the time required for management to address exposures. Limits may also be based on measures derived from the underlying statistical distribution of interest rates, such as earnings at risk or economic value-at-risk techniques. Moreover, specified scenarios should take account of the full range of possible sources of interest rate risk to the FI including re-pricing, yield curve, basis, and option risks. Simple scenarios using parallel shifts in interest rates may be insufficient to identify such risks. This is particularly important for FIs with significant exposures to these sources of market risk.

The form of limits for addressing the effect of rates on an FI's economic value of equity should be appropriate for the size and complexity of its underlying positions. For FIs engaged in traditional banking activities, relatively simple limits may suffice. However, for FIs with significant holdings of long-term instruments, options, instruments with embedded options, or other structured instruments, more detailed limit systems may be required.

Depending on the nature of an FI's holdings and its general sophistication, limits can also be identified for individual business units, portfolios, instrument types, or specific instruments. The level of detail of risk limits should reflect the characteristics of the FI's holdings including the various sources of market risk the FI is exposed to. The BSP also expects that the limits system will ensure that positions that exceed predetermined levels receive prompt management attention. Limit exceptions should be communicated to appropriate senior management without delay. Policies should include how senior management will be informed and what action should be taken by management in such cases. Particularly important is whether limits are absolute in the sense that they should never be exceeded or whether, under specific circumstances, breaches of limits can be tolerated for a short period of time. The circumstances leading to a tolerance of breaches should be clearly described.

Market risk monitoring and reporting

An accurate, informative, and timely management information system is essential for managing market risk exposures both to inform management and to support compliance with board policy. Reporting of risk measures should be done regularly and should clearly compare current exposure to policy limits. In addition, past forecasts or risk estimates should be compared with actual results to identify any modeling shortcomings.

Reports detailing the market risk exposure of the FI should be reviewed by the board on a regular basis. While the types of reports prepared for the board and for various levels of management will vary based on the FI’s market risk profile, they should at a minimum include the following:

1. Summaries of the FI’s aggregate exposures;
2. Reports demonstrating the FI’s compliance with policies and limits;
3. Summary of key assumptions, for example, non-maturity deposit behavior, prepayment information, and correlation assumptions;
4. Results of stress tests, including those assessing breakdowns in key assumptions and parameters;
5. Summaries of the findings of reviews of market risk policies, procedures, and the adequacy of the market risk measurement systems, including any findings of internal and external auditors and retained consultants.

D. Risk controls and audit

Adequate internal controls ensure the integrity of an FI’s market risk management process. These internal controls should be an integral part of the institution’s overall system of internal control and should promote effective and efficient operations, reliable financial and regulatory reporting, and compliance with relevant laws, regulations, and institutional policies. An effective system of internal control for market risk includes:

1. A strong control environment;
2. An adequate process for identifying and evaluating risk;
3. The establishment of control activities such as policies, procedures, and methodologies;
4. Adequate information systems;
5. Continual review of adherence to established policies and procedures; and
6. An effective internal audit and independent validation process.

Policies and procedures should specify the approval processes, exposure limits, reconciliations, reviews, and other control mechanisms designed to provide a reasonable assurance that the institution’s market risk management objectives are achieved. Many attributes of a sound risk management process, including risk measurement, monitoring, and control functions, are actually key aspects of an effective system of internal control. FIs should ensure that all aspects of the internal control system are effective, including those aspects that are not directly part of the risk management process.

An important element of an FI’s internal control system is regular evaluation and review. The BSP expects that FIs will establish a process to ensure that its personnel are following established policies and procedures, and that its procedures are actually accomplishing their intended objectives. Such reviews and evaluations should also address any significant change that may impact the effectiveness of controls, and that appropriate follow-up action was implemented when limits were breached. Management should ensure that all such reviews and evaluations are conducted regularly by individuals who are independent of the function they are assigned to review. When revisions or enhancements to internal controls are warranted, there should be a mechanism in place to ensure that these are implemented in a timely manner.

Independent reviews of the market risk measurement system should also include assessments of the assumptions, parameters, and methodologies used. Such reviews should seek to understand, test, and document the current measurement process, evaluate the system's accuracy, and recommend solutions to any identified weaknesses. If the measurement system incorporates one or more subsidiary systems or processes, the review should include testing aimed at ensuring that the subsidiary systems are well-integrated and consistent with each other in all critical respects. The results of this review, along with any recommendations for improvement, should be reported to senior management and/or the board.

The BSP expects that FIs with complex risk exposures should have their measurement, monitoring, and control functions reviewed on a regular basis by an independent party (such as an internal or external auditor). In such cases, reports written by external auditors or other outside parties should be available to the BSP. It is essential that any independent reviewer ensures that the FI's risk measurement system is sufficient to capture all material elements of market risk, whether arising from on- or off-balance-sheet activities. Among the items that an audit should review and validate are:

1. The appropriateness of the FI's risk measurement system(s) given the nature, scope, and complexity of its activities.
2. The accuracy and completeness of the data inputs - This includes verifying that balances and contractual terms are correctly specified and that all major instruments, portfolios, and business units are captured in the model. The review should also investigate whether data extracts and model inputs have been reconciled with transactions and general ledger systems.
3. The reasonableness and validity of scenarios and assumptions – This includes a review of the appropriateness of the interest rate scenarios as well as customer behaviors and pricing-volume relationships to ensure that these assumptions are reasonable and internally consistent.
4. The validity of the risk measurement calculations - The scope and formality of the measurement validation will depend on the size and complexity of the FI. At large FIs, internal and external auditors may have their own models against which the FI's model is tested. FIs with more complex risk profiles and measurement systems should have the model or calculations audited or validated by an independent source. At smaller and less complex FIs, periodic comparisons of actual performance with forecasts may be sufficient.

The frequency and extent to which an FI should re-evaluate its risk measurement methodologies and models depend, in part, on the particular market risk exposures created by holdings and activities, the pace and nature of market rate changes, and the pace and complexity of innovation with respect to measuring and managing market risk.

1 It is acceptable for parts of the reconciliation to be automated; e.g., routines may be programmed to investigate whether the balances being extracted from various transaction systems match the balances recorded on the FI's general ledger. Similarly, the model itself often contains various audit checks to ensure, for example, that maturing balances do not exceed original balances.
2 Key areas of review include the statistical methods that were used to generate scenarios and assumptions (if applicable), and whether senior management reviewed and approved key assumptions. The review should also compare actual pricing spreads and balance-sheet behavior to model assumptions. For some instruments, estimates of value changes can be compared with market value changes. Unfavorable results may lead the FI to revise model relationships.
3 The validity of the model calculations is often tested by comparing actual with forecasted results. When doing so, FIs can compare projected net income results with actual earnings. Reconciling the results of economic valuation systems can be more difficult because market prices for all instruments are not always readily available, and the FI does not routinely mark all of its balance sheet to market. For instruments or portfolios with market prices, these prices are often used to benchmark or check model assumptions.
VI. Capital adequacy

In addition to adequate risk management systems and controls, capital has an important role to play in mitigating and supporting market risk. FIs must hold capital commensurate with the level of market risk they undertake. As part of sound market risk management, FIs must translate the level of market risk they undertake whether as part of their trading or non-trading activities, into their overall evaluation of capital adequacy. Where market risk is undertaken as part of an FI’s trading activities, existing capital adequacy ratio requirements shall prevail.

The BSP will periodically evaluate the market risk measurement system for the accrual book to determine if the FI’s capital is adequate to support its exposure to market risk and whether the internal measurement systems of the FI are adequate. In performing this assessment, the BSP may require information regarding the market risk exposure of the FI, including re-pricing gaps, earnings and economic value simulation estimates, and the results of stress tests. This information will typically be found in internal management reports.

If an FI’s internal measurement system does not adequately capture the level of market risk, the BSP may require an FI to improve its system. In cases where an FI accepts significant market risk in its accrual book, the BSP expects that a portion of capital will be allocated to cover this risk. When performing these evaluations, the BSP will determine if:

(a) All material market risk associated with an institution’s assets, liabilities, and OBS positions in the accrual book are captured by the risk management systems;

(b) Generally accepted financial concepts and risk measurement techniques are utilized. For larger, complex FIs, internal systems must be capable of measuring risk using both an earnings and economic value approach.

(c) Data inputs are adequately specified (commensurate with the nature and complexity of an FI’s holdings) with regard to rates, maturities, re-pricing, embedded options, and other details;

(d) The system’s assumptions (used to transform positions into cash flows) are reasonable, properly documented, and stable over time.

(e) Market risk measurement systems are integrated into the institution’s daily risk management practices. The output of the systems should be used in characterizing the level of market risk to senior management and board of directors.

(Circular No. 544 dated 15 September 2006)

1 This is especially important for assets and liabilities whose behavior differs markedly from contractual maturity or repricing, and for new products. Material changes to assumptions should be documented, justified, and approved by management.
GUIDELINES ON LIQUIDITY RISK MANAGEMENT
(Appendix to Sec. X175)

I. Background
The on-going viability of institutions, particularly financial organizations, is heavily influenced by their ability to manage liquidity. Innovations in investment and funding products, growth in off-balance sheet activities and continuous competition for consumer funds have affected the way FI do business and intensified the need for proactive liquidity risk management. FIs need to fully understand, measure and control the resulting liquidity risk exposures.

II. Statement of Policy
For purposes of these guidelines, FI include banks, NBFIs supervised by the BSP and their financial subsidiaries. The BSP recognizes the liquidity risk inherent in FI activities and how these activities expose an FI to multiple risks which may increase liquidity risk.

The BSP will not restrict risk-taking activities as long as FIs are authorized to engage in such activities and:
1. Understand, measure, monitor and control the risk they assume;
2. Adopt risk management practices whose sophistication and effectiveness is commensurate to the risk assumed; and
3. Maintain capital commensurate with their risk exposures.

The principles set forth in these guidelines shall be used to determine the level and trend of liquidity risk exposure and adequacy and effectiveness of an FI’s liquidity risk management process. In evaluating the adequacy of an FI’s liquidity position, the BSP shall consider the FI’s current level and prospective sources of liquidity as compared to its funding needs.

Further, the BSP will evaluate the adequacy of funds management practices relative to the FI’s size, complexity, and risk profile.

In general, liquidity risk management practices should ensure that an institution is able to maintain a level of liquidity sufficient to meet its financial obligations in a timely manner and to fulfill the legitimate funding needs of its community. Practices should reflect the ability of the institution to manage unplanned changes in funding sources, as well as react to changes in market conditions that affect the ability to quickly liquidate assets with minimal loss. In addition, funds-management practices should ensure that liquidity is not consistently maintained at a high cost, from concentrated sources, or through undue reliance on funding sources that may not be available in times of financial stress or adverse changes in market conditions.

In evaluating the above parameters, the BSP shall consider the following factors:
1. The actual and potential level of liquidity risk posed by the FI’s products and services, balance sheet structure and off-balance sheet activities;
2. The cost of an FI’s access to money markets and other alternative sources of funding;
3. The diversification of funding sources (on and off-balance sheet);
4. The adequacy and effectiveness of board and senior management oversight, particularly the Board’s ability to recognize the effects of interrelated risk areas, such as market and reputation risks, to liquidity risk;
5. The reasonableness of liquidity risk limits and controls in relation to earnings, as affected by the cost of access to money markets and other alternative sources of funding, and capital;
6. The adequacy of measurement methodologies, monitoring and management information systems;
7. The adequacy of foreign currency liquidity management;
8. The appropriateness and reasonableness of contingency plans for handling liquidity crises;
9. The adequacy of internal controls and audit of liquidity risk management process.

The sophistication of liquidity risk management shall depend on the size, nature and complexity of an FI’s activities. However, in all instances, FIs are expected to measure their liquidity position on an ongoing basis, analyze net funding requirements under alternative scenarios, diversify funding sources and adopt contingency funding plans.

An FI’s liquidity risk management system shall be assessed under the FI’s general risk management framework, consistent with the guidelines on supervision by risk as set forth under Appendix 72. If an FI’s risk exposures are deemed excessive relative to the FI’s capital, or that the risk assumed is not well managed, the BSP will direct the FI to reduce its exposure and/or strengthen its risk management system.

III. Liquidity Risk Management Process
Liquidity risk management process should be tailored to an FI’s structure and scope of operations and application can vary across institutions. Regardless of the structure, an FI’s liquidity risk management process should be consistent with its general risk management framework and should be commensurate with the level of risk assumed. At a minimum, the process should:
1. Identify liquidity risk. Proper identification of liquidity risk requires that management understand both existing risk and prospective risks from new products and activities. It involves determining the volume and trends of liquidity needs and the sources of liquidity available to meet these needs. Identifying liquidity risk necessitates expressing the FI’s desired level of risk exposure based on its ability and willingness to assume risk which may primarily depend on the FI’s capital base and access to funds providers. Liquidity risk identification should be a continuing process and should occur at both the transaction, portfolio and entity level.
2. Measure liquidity risk. Adequate measurement systems enable FIs to quantify liquidity risk exposures on a per entity basis and across the consolidated organization. A relatively large organization with extensive scope of operations would generally require a more robust management information system to properly measure risk in a timely and comprehensive manner.
3. Control liquidity risk. The FI should establish policies and standards on acceptable product types, activities, counterparties and set risk limits on a transactional, portfolio and aggregate/consolidated basis to control liquidity risk. In setting limits, the FI should recognize any legal distinctions and possible obstacles to cash flow movements among affiliates or across separate books. Lines of authority and accountability should be clearly defined to ensure liquidity risk exposures remain reasonable and within the risk tolerance expressed by the board.
4. Monitor liquidity risk. Monitoring liquidity risk requires timely review of liquidity risk positions and exceptions, including day-to-day liquidity management. Monitoring reports should be frequent, timely, and accurate and should be distributed to appropriate levels of management.

IV. Definition of Liquidity Risk
Liquidity risk is generally defined as the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from an FI’s inability to meet its obligations when they come due without incurring unacceptable losses or costs. Liquidity risk includes the inability to manage unplanned decreases or changes in funding sources. Liquidity risk also arises from the failure to recognize or address changes in market conditions that affect the ability to liquidate assets quickly and with minimal loss in value.
In terms of capital markets and trading activities, FIs face two (2) types of liquidity risk: funding liquidity risk and market liquidity risk. Funding liquidity risk refers to the inability to meet investment and funding requirements arising from cash flow mismatches without incurring unacceptable losses or costs. This is synonymous with the general definition of liquidity risk.

Market liquidity risk, on the other hand, refers to the risk that an institution cannot easily eliminate or offset a particular position because of inadequate liquidity in the market. The size of the bid/ask spread of instruments in a market provides a general indication of its depth, hence its liquidity, under normal circumstances. Market liquidity risk is also associated with the probability that large transactions may have a significant effect on market prices in markets that lack sufficient depth. In addition, market liquidity risk is associated with structured or complex investments as the market of potential buyers is typically small. Finally, FIs are exposed to the risk of an unexpected and sudden erosion of market liquidity. This could be the result of sharp price movement or jump in volatility, or internal to the FI such as that posed by a general loss of market confidence. Understanding market liquidity risk is particularly important for institutions with significant holdings of instruments traded in financial markets.

Market and liquidity risks are highly interrelated, particularly during times of uncertainty when there is a high correlation between the need for liquidity and market volatility. Likewise, an FI’s exposure to other risks such as reputation, strategic, and credit risks, can likewise significantly affect an institution’s liquidity risk. It is therefore important that an FI’s liquidity risk management system is consistent with its general risk management framework.

V. Sound Liquidity Risk Management Practices

When assessing an FI’s liquidity risk management system, the BSP shall consider how an FI address the four basic elements of a sound risk management system:

1. Active and appropriate board and senior management oversight;
2. Adequate risk management policies and procedures;
3. Appropriate risk measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring and management information system; and
4. Comprehensive internal controls and independent audits.

Evaluation of the adequacy of the FI’s application of the above elements will be relative to the FI’s risk profile. FIs with less complex operations may generally use more basic practices while larger, and/or more complex institutions will be expected to adopt more formal and sophisticated practices. Large organizations should likewise take a comprehensive perspective to measuring and controlling liquidity risk by understanding how subsidiaries and affiliates can raise or lower the consolidated risk profile.

A. Active and appropriate Board and senior management oversight

Effective liquidity risk management requires that the Board and senior management be fully informed of the level of liquidity risk assumed by the FI and ensure that the activities undertaken are within the prescribed risk tolerance. Senior management should have a thorough understanding of how other risks such as credit, market, operational and reputation risks impact the FI’s overall liquidity strategy.

1 This section refers to a management structure composed of a board of directors and senior management. The BSP is aware that there may be differences in some financial institutions as regards the organizational framework and functions of the board of directors and senior management. For instance, branches of foreign banks have board of directors located outside of the Philippines and are overseeing multiple branches in various countries. In this case, "board-equivalent" committees are appointed. Owing to these differences, the notion of the board of directors and the senior management are used in these guidelines not to identify legal constructs but rather to label two decision-making functions within a financial institution.
Responsibilities of the board of directors

The Board has the ultimate responsibility for understanding the nature and level of liquidity risk assumed by the FI and the processes used to manage it.

The board of directors should:
1. Establish and guide the FI’s strategic direction and tolerance for liquidity risk by adopting a formal written liquidity/funding policy that specifies quantitative and qualitative targets;
2. Approve policies that govern or influence the FI’s liquidity risk, including reasonable risk limits and clear guidelines which are adequately documented and communicated to all concerned;
3. Identify the senior management staff who has the authority and responsibility for managing liquidity risk and ensure that this staff takes the necessary steps to monitor and control liquidity risk;
4. Monitor the FI’s performance and overall liquidity risk profile in a timely manner by requiring frequent reports that outline the liquidity position of the FI along with information sufficient to determine if the FI is complying with established risk limits;
5. Mandate and track the implementation of corrective action in instances of breaches in policies and procedures;
6. Establish, review and to the extent possible, test contingency plans for dealing with potential temporary and long-term liquidity disruptions; and
7. Ensure that the FI has sufficient competent personnel, including internal audit staff, and adequate measurement systems to effectively manage liquidity risk.

Responsibilities of senior management

Senior management is responsible for effectively executing the liquidity strategy and overseeing the daily and long-term management of liquidity risk. In managing the FI’s activities, senior management should:
1. Develop and implement procedures and practices that translate the Board’s goals, objectives, and risk tolerances into operating standards that are transmitted to and well understood by personnel. Operating standards should be consistent with the Board’s intent;
2. Plan for adequate sources of liquidity to meet current and potential funding needs and establish guidelines for the development of contingency funding plans;
3. Adhere to the lines of authority and responsibility that the Board has established for managing liquidity risk;
4. Oversee the implementation and maintenance of management information and other systems that identify, measure, monitor, and control the FI’s liquidity risk; and
5. Establish effective internal controls over the liquidity risk management process.

In evaluating the quality of oversight provided by the Board and senior management, the BSP will evaluate how the Board and senior management carry out the above functions/responsibilities. Further, sound management practices are highly related to the quality of other areas/elements of risk management system. Thus, even if Board and senior management exhibit active oversight, the FI’s policies, procedures, measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring and information systems, controls and audit should be adequate before quality of Board and senior management can be considered “satisfactory”.

Lines of Responsibility and Authority

Management of liquidity risk generally requires collaboration from various business areas of the FI, thus a clear delineation of responsibilities is necessary. The management structure should clearly define the duties of senior level committees, members of which have authority over the units responsible for executing liquidity-related transactions. There should be a clear delegation of day-to-day operating responsibilities to particular departments such as the Treasury Department.

To ensure proper management of liquidity risk, the FI should designate an independent unit responsible for measuring, monitoring and controlling liquidity risk. Said unit should take a comprehensive approach and directly report to the board of directors or a committee thereof.

B. Adequate risk management policies and procedures

An FI's liquidity risk policies and procedures should be comprehensive, clearly defined, documented and duly approved by the board of directors. Policies and procedures should cover the FI's liquidity risk management system in order to provide appropriate guidance to management. These policies should be applied on a consolidated basis and, as appropriate, at the level of individual affiliates, especially when recognizing legal distinctions and possible obstacles to cash movements among affiliates.

Liquidity risk policies should identify the quantitative parameters used by the FI to define the acceptable level of liquidity risk such as risk limits and financial ratios as well as describe the measurement tools and assumptions used. Qualitative guidelines should include description of the FI’s acceptable products and activities, including off-balance sheet transactions, desired composition of assets and liabilities, and approach towards managing liquidity in different currencies, geographies and across subsidiaries and affiliates. Where appropriate, a large FI should apply these policies on a consolidated basis to address risk exposures resulting from interconnected funding structures and operations among members of an FI's corporate group.

It is essential that policies include the development of a formal liquidity risk measurement system that addresses business-as-usual scenarios and a contingency funding plan that addresses a variety of stress scenarios. FIs should likewise have specific procedures for addressing breaches in policies and implementation of corrective actions.

Management should periodically review its liquidity risk policies and ensure that these remain consistent with the level and complexity of the FI’s operations. Policies should be updated to incorporate effects of new products/activities, changes in corporate structure and in light of its liquidity experience.

C. Appropriate risk measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring, and management information system

Liquidity risk measurement models/methodologies

An FI should have a measurement system in place capable of quantifying and capturing the main sources of liquidity risk in a timely and comprehensive manner. Liquidity management requires ongoing measurement, from intra-day liquidity to long-term liquidity positions. Depending on its risk profile, an FI can use techniques of simple calculations, static simulations based on current holdings or sophisticated models. What is essential is that the FI should be able to identify and avoid potential funding shortfalls such that the FI can consistently meet investment, funding and/or strategic targets.

FIs with simple operations can generally use a static approach to liquidity management. Static models are based on positions at a given point in time. While an exact definition of “simple operations” will not be provided, the BSP expects that banks using a static approach to liquidity management would limit their operations to core banking activities such as accepting plain vanilla deposits and making traditional loans. Such banks would not have active Treasury Departments, would not hold or offer structured products and would not be exposed to significant levels of FX risk. Board reporting could be less frequent than in more complex banks but in no event should be less than quarterly.

Complex FIs, on the other hand, will be expected to adopt more robust approaches such as a dynamic maturity/liquidity gap reporting or even simulation modeling. At a minimum, universal banks should use maximum cash outflow/liquidity or maturity gap models. FIs engaged in holding or offering significant levels of structured products and/or derivatives will be expected to have the capability to model the cash flows from these instruments under a variety of scenarios. Specifically, scenarios should be designed to measure the effects of a breach of the triggers (strike price) on these instruments.

Where the FI’s organizational structure and business practices indicate cash flow movements and liquidity support among corporate group members, the FI should adopt consolidated risk measurement tools to help management assess the group’s liquidity risk exposure. Depending on the degree of inter-related funding, non-complex measurement and monitoring systems may be acceptable. However, large, complex FIs that display a high degree of inter-related and inter-dependent funding will be expected to utilize more sophisticated monitoring and management systems. These systems should enable the Board of the consolidated entity to simulate and anticipate the funding needs of the FIs on both a consolidated basis and in each of its component parts.

Liquidity risk measurement methodologies/models should be documented and approved by the board and should be periodically independently reviewed for reasonableness and tested for accuracy and data integrity. Assumptions used in managing liquidity should be periodically revisited to ensure that these remain valid.

Liquidity models require projecting all relevant cash flows. As such, FIs engaged in complex activities should have the capability to model the behavior of all assets, liabilities, and off-balance sheet items both under normal/business-as usual and a variety of stressed conditions. Stressed conditions may include liquidity crisis confined within the institution, or a systemic liquidity crisis, in which all FIs are affected. For FIs operating in a global environment, cash flow projections should reflect various foreign-currency funding requirements.

When projecting cash flows, management should also estimate customer behavior in addition to contractual maturities. Many cash flows are uncertain and may not necessarily follow contractual maturities. Cash flows may be influenced by interest rates and customer behavior, or may simply follow a seasonal or cyclical pattern. When modeling liquidity risk, it is important that assumptions be documented. Assumptions should be reasonable and should be based on past experiences or with consideration of the potential impact of changes in business strategies and market conditions. Measurement tools should include a sufficient number of time bands to enable effective monitoring of both short- and long-term exposures. This expectation applies not only to complex simulation modeling, but to the construction of simple liquidity GAP models as well.

To sufficiently measure an FI’s liquidity risk, management should analyze how its liquidity position is affected by changes in internal (company-specific) and external (market-related) conditions. Management will need to assess how a shift from a normal scenario to various levels of liquidity crisis can affect its ability to source external funds and at what cost, liquidate certain assets at expected prices within expected timeframes, or hasten the need to settle obligations (e.g., limited ability to roll-over deposits).
Management should, at a minimum, consider stress scenarios where securities are sold at prices lower than anticipated and credit lines are partially or wholly cancelled. Regardless of the liquidity risk models used, an FI should adopt an appropriate contingency plan for handling liquidity crisis. Well before a liquidity crisis occurs, management should carefully plan how to handle administrative matters in a crisis. Management credibility, which is essential to maintaining the public's confidence and access to funding, can be gained or lost depending on how well or poorly some administrative matters are handled. A contingency funding/liquidity plan ensures that an FI is ready to respond to liquidity crisis.

The sophistication of a contingency plan should be commensurate with the FI’s complexity and risk exposure, activities, products and organizational structure. The plan should identify the types of events that will trigger the contingency plan, quantify potential funding needs and sources and provide the specific administrative policies and procedures to be followed in a liquidity crisis.

Specifically, the contingency plan should:

1. Clearly identify, quantify and rank all sources of funding by preference including, but not limited to:
   - Reducing assets
   - Modifying the liability structure or increasing liabilities
   - Using off-balance-sheet sources, such as securitizations
   - Using other alternatives for controlling balance sheet changes

2. Consider asset and liability strategies for responding to liquidity crisis including, but not limited to:
   - Whether to liquidate surplus money market assets
   - When (if at all) HTM securities might be liquidated
   - Whether to sell liquid securities in the repo markets
   - When to sell longer-term assets, fixed assets, or certain lines of business
   - Coordinating lead bank funding with that of the FI’s other banks and non-bank affiliates
   - Developing strategies on how to interact with non-traditional funding sources (e.g., whom to contact, what type of information and how much detail should be provided, who will be available for further questions, and how to ensure that communications are consistent)

3. Address administrative policies and procedures that should be used during a liquidity crisis:
   - The responsibilities of senior management during a funding crisis
   - Names, addresses, and telephone numbers of members of the crisis team
   - Where, geographically, team members will be assigned
   - Who will be assigned responsibility to initiate external contacts with regulators, analysts, investors, external auditors, press, significant customers, and others
   - How internal communications will flow between management, ALCO, investment portfolio managers, traders, employees, and others
   - How to ensure that the ALCO receives management reports that are pertinent and timely enough to allow members to understand the severity of the FI’s circumstances and to implement appropriate responses.

The above outline of the scope of a good contingency plan is by no means exhaustive. FIs should devote significant time and consideration to scenarios that are most likely, given their activities. Regardless of the strategies employed, an FI should consider the effects of such strategies on long-term liquidity positions and take appropriate actions to ensure that level of risk exposures shall remain or be brought down within the risk tolerance of the Board.
Limits structure

The Board and senior management should establish limits on the nature and amount of liquidity risk they are willing to assume. In setting limits, management should consider the nature of the FI's strategies and activities, its past performance, the level of earnings and capital available to absorb potential losses and costs of an FI's access to money markets and other alternative sources of funding.

Limits can take various forms. FIs should address limits on types of funding sources and uses of funds, including off-balance sheet positions. In addition, policies should set targets for minimum holdings of liquid assets relative to liabilities. Complex FIs, or FIs engaged in complex activities should set maximum cumulative cash-flow mismatches over particular time horizons and establish counterparty limits. Such limits should be applied to all currencies to which the FI has a significant exposure. In particular, FIs should take into consideration any legal distinctions and possible obstacles to cash flow movements between the RBU and the FCDU.

When evaluating a bank's liquidity position, the BSP will consider low levels of liquid assets relative to liabilities, and significant negative funding gaps to be indicative of high liquidity risk exposure. Further, negative cash-flow mismatches in the short term time buckets will receive heightened scrutiny by the BSP and should also receive the attention of senior management and the board of directors.

Before accepting negative funding gaps, or setting limits that allow negative funding gaps, the board and senior management should consider the FI's ability to fund these negative gaps. Factors include, but are not limited to: the availability of on-balance sheet liquidity, the amount of firm credit lines available from commercial sources that can be drawn to fund the shortfall, and the amount of unencumbered on-balance sheet assets that can be sold without excessive loss and in a reasonable time-frame.

Further, actual positions and limits should reflect the outcome of possible stress scenarios caused by internal and external factors, particularly those related to reputation risk. Stress scenarios should consider the possibility that securities may be sold at a greater discount and/or may take more time to sell than expected or that credit lines and other off-balance sheet sources of funding may be cancelled or may be unavailable at reasonable cost.

Management should define specific procedures for the prompt reporting and documentation of limit exceptions and the management approval and action required in such cases.

Liquidity risk monitoring and reporting

An adequate management information system is critical in the risk monitoring process. The system should be able to provide the Board, senior management and other personnel with timely information on the FI's liquidity position in all the major currencies it deals in, on an individual and aggregate basis, and for various time periods.

Effective liquidity risk monitoring requires frequent routine liquidity reviews and more in-depth and comprehensive reviews on a periodic basis. In general, monitoring should include sufficient information and a clear presentation such that the reader can determine the FI's ongoing degree of compliance with risk limits. For example, reports should address funding concentrations, funding costs, projected funding needs and available funding sources.

Monitoring and board reporting should be robust. It is not unreasonable to expect complex FIs or FIs engaged in complex activities to monitor liquidity on a daily basis. Board reporting should be no less frequent than monthly. However, the BSP would expect Board-level committees or sub-committees to receive more frequent reporting.

Comprehensive and accurate internal reports analyzing an FI’s liquidity risk should be regularly prepared and reviewed by senior management and submitted to the board of directors.

D. Risk controls and audit
An FI should have adequate internal controls in place to protect the integrity of its liquidity risk management process. Fundamental to the internal control system is for the Board to prescribe independent reviews to evaluate the effectiveness of the risk management system and check compliance with established limits, policies and procedures.

An effective system of internal controls for liquidity risk includes:
1. A strong internal control environment;
2. An adequate process for identifying and evaluating liquidity risk;
3. Adequate information systems; and
4. Continual review of adherence to established policies and procedures.

To ensure that risk management objectives are achieved, management needs to focus on the following areas: appropriate approval processes, limits monitoring, periodic reporting, segregation of duties, restricted access to information systems and the regular evaluation and review by independent competent personnel.

Internal audit reviews should cover all aspects of the liquidity risk management process, including determining the appropriateness of the risk management system, accuracy and completeness of measurement models, reasonableness of assumptions and stress testing methodology. Audit staff should have the skills commensurate with the sophistication of the FI’s risk management systems. Audit results should be promptly reported to the board. Deficiencies should be addressed in a timely manner and monitored until resolved/corrected.

E. Foreign currency liquidity management
The principles described in this Appendix also apply to the management of any foreign currency to which the FI maintains a significant exposure. Specifically, management should ensure that its measurement, monitoring and control systems account for these exposures as well. Management needs to set and regularly review limits on the size of its cash flow mismatches for each significant individual currency and in aggregate over appropriate time horizons. In addition, an FI should consider effects of other risk areas, particularly settlement risks from its off-balance sheet activities. An FI should also conservatively assess its access to foreign exchange markets when setting up its risk limits. As with overall liquidity risk management, foreign currency liquidity should be analyzed under various scenarios, including stressful conditions.

GUIDELINES ON TECHNOLOGY RISK MANAGEMENT
(Appendix to Sec. X176)

I. Background

Banks using technology-related products, services, delivery channels, and processes can be exposed to all types of risks enumerated under the BSP risk supervision framework more particularly operational, strategic, reputation, and compliance risk. With banks’ increased reliance on technology, it is important for the banks to understand how specific technologies operate and how their use or failure may expose banks to risk. The BSP expects banks to have the knowledge and skills necessary to understand and effectively manage their technology-related risks. The BSP will evaluate technology-related risks in terms of the categories of risks identified in its risk assessment system.

II. Description of technology related risks

Operational risk - This is the risk to earnings or capital arising from problems with service or product delivery. This risk is a function of internal controls, information systems, employee integrity, and operating processes. Operational risk exists in all products and services.

Technology can give rise to operational risk in many ways. Operational risk often results from deficiencies in system design, implementation, or ongoing maintenance of systems or equipment. For example, incompatible internal and external systems and incompatible equipment and software expose a bank to operational risk. Operational risk can increase when a bank hires outside contractors to design products, services, delivery channels, and processes that do not fit with the bank’s systems or customer demands. Similarly, when a bank uses vendors to perform core bank functions, such as loan underwriting and credit scoring, and does not have adequate controls in place to monitor the activities of those vendors, operational risk may increase. Also, when banks merge with other banks or acquire new businesses, the bank’s combined computer systems may produce inaccurate or incomplete information or otherwise fail to work properly. The failure to establish adequate security measures, contingency plans, testing, and auditing standards also increases operational risk.

Strategic risk - This is the risk to earnings or capital arising from adverse business decisions or improper implementation of those decisions. This risk is a function of the compatibility of an organization’s strategic goals, the business strategies developed to achieve those goals, the resources deployed against those goals, and the quality of implementation. The resources needed to carry out business strategies are both tangible and intangible. They include communication channels, operating systems, delivery networks, and managerial capacities and capabilities.

Use of technology can create strategic risk when management does not adequately plan for, manage, and monitor the performance of technology-related products, services, processes, and delivery channels. Strategic risk may arise if management fails to understand, support, or use technology that is essential for the bank to compete or if it depends on a technology that is not reliable. In seeking ways to control strategic risk, a bank should consider its overall business environment, including: the knowledge and skills of senior management and technical staff; its existing and planned resources; its ability to understand and support its technologies; the activities and plans of suppliers of technology and their ability to support the technology; and the anticipated life cycle of technology-related products and services.
Reputation risk - This is the risk to earnings or capital arising from negative public opinion. This affects the institution's ability to establish new relationships or services, or to continue servicing existing relationships. This risk can expose the institution to litigation, financial loss, or damage to its reputation. Reputation risk exposure is present throughout the organization and that is why banks have the responsibility to exercise an abundance of caution in dealing with its customers and community. This risk is present in activities such as asset management and regulatory compliance.

Reputation risk arises whenever technology-based banking products, services, delivery channels, or processes may generate adverse public opinion such that it seriously affects a bank's earnings or impairs capital. Examples may include: flawed security systems that significantly compromise customer privacy; inadequate contingency and business resumption plans that affect a bank's ability to maintain or resume operations and to provide customer services following system failures; fraud that fundamentally undermines public trust; and large-scale litigation that exposes a bank to significant liability and results in severe damage to a bank's reputation. Adverse public opinion may create a lasting, negative public image of overall bank operations and thus impair a bank's ability to establish and maintain customer and business relationships.

Compliance risk - This is the risk to earnings or capital arising from violations of, or nonconformance with laws, regulations, prescribed practices, or ethical standards. Compliance risk also arises in situations where the laws or rules governing certain bank products or activities of the bank's clients may be ambiguous or untested. Compliance risk exposes the institution to fines, civil money penalties, payment of damages, and the voiding of contracts. Compliance risk can lead to a diminished reputation, reduced franchise value, limited business opportunities, lessened expansion potential, and the lack of contract enforceability.

Compliance risk may arise in many different ways. For example, it may arise when a bank fails to comply with applicable disclosure requirements or when it discloses information to outside party that it is required to keep confidential. Compliance risk also may arise when a bank does not have systems in place to ensure compliance with mandatory reporting statutes. The use of technology to automate lending decisions also could expose a bank to compliance risks if the programs are not properly tested or if the quality of the data is not verified. For example, the use of credit scoring models to automate lending decisions could expose a bank to compliance risk if the data upon which the program rely are flawed or if the program design itself is flawed.

As banks move increasingly from paper to electronic-based transactions and information exchanges, they need to consider how laws designed for paper-based transactions apply to electronic-based transaction and information exchanges. Some new technologies raise unexpected compliance issues. Transactions conducted through the internet also can raise novel questions regarding jurisdictional authority over those transactions. Therefore, banks should be careful to monitor and respond to changes to relevant laws and regulations arising from these developments.

III. Technology risk management process
The technology risk management process is designed to help the bank to identify, measure, monitor, and control its risk exposure. The process involves three (3) essential elements, namely:
1. Planning
2. Implementing
3. Measuring and monitoring performance
It is the responsibility of bank’s board of directors and a senior management committee to ensure that an effective planning process exists, that technology is implemented properly with appropriate controls, and that measurement and monitoring efforts effectively identify ways to manage risk exposure. The process should be more complex for larger institutions, particularly for those with major technology-related initiatives.

For each IT project, the bank should adopt specific milestones and corresponding timelines up to the full implementation of the IT project.

A. Planning

Technology planning often involves strategic, business, and project planning:
- Strategic plan establishes the overall role of technology as it relates to the bank’s mission and assesses the type of technology that a bank needs to fulfill that role;
- Business plan integrates the new technology into existing lines of business and determines the level of technology best suited to meet the needs of particular business lines;
- Project plan establishes resource needs, time lines, benchmarks, and other information necessary to convert the business plan into operation.

The review and planning cycle may vary depending on the type of institution and its uses of different types of technologies. Proper planning minimizes the likelihood of computer hardware and software systems incompatibilities and failures, and maximizes the likelihood that a bank’s technology is flexible enough to adapt to future needs of the bank and its customers.

Because technology is constantly changing, bank management should periodically assess its uses of technology as part of its overall business planning. Such an enterprise-wide and ongoing approach helps to ensure that all major technology projects are consistent with the bank’s overall strategic goals. Planning should consider issues such as:
- Cost of designing, developing, testing and operating the systems whether internally or externally;
- Ability to resume operations swiftly and with all data intact in the event of system failure or unauthorized intrusions;
- Adequacy of internal controls, including controls for third party providers; and
- Ability to determine when a specific risk exposure exceeds the ability of an institution to manage and control that risk.

In cases when specialized expertise is needed to design, implement, and service new technologies, vendors may provide a valuable means to acquire expertise and resources that a bank cannot provide on its own. However, in planning on whether and how to contract for its technology needs, a bank should assess how it will manage the risks associated with these new relationships. Without adequate controls, the use of vendors to design or support new bank technologies and systems could increase a bank’s exposure to risk. While a bank can outsource many functions, management remains responsible for the performance and actions of its vendors while the vendors are performing work for the bank.

To have an effective planning process for technology-related applications, bank’s planning process should at least have the following basic components:

1. Involvement of the board of directors and senior management

The board of directors and a senior management committee play an important role in managing bank’s IT risks. Both should have knowledge of and involvement in the technology planning process.

The board of directors and the senior management committee should review, approve, and monitor technology projects that may have a significant impact on the the bank’s operations, earnings or capital. In addition, senior management is expected to have more involvement in and more knowledge about the day-to-day operations of these projects than the board of directors. At least one (1) key senior manager should have knowledge and skills to evaluate critically the design, operation and oversight of technology projects. The board should be fully informed by the senior management committee, on an ongoing basis, of the risks that technology projects may pose to the bank.

Banks that use technology extensively, particularly large banks, should have sufficient expertise and knowledge among managers and staff to provide critical review and oversight of technology projects and to manage risks associated with them. Projects should be coordinated to ensure that they adhere to appropriate policies, standards, and risk management controls. In addition, senior managers with knowledge of the bank’s technology initiatives should report periodically to the board of directors on technology-related initiatives.

2. Gathering and analysis of relevant information

Banks should consider existing systems, consumer expectations, and competitive forces in their planning for new or enhanced uses of technology. In the process of gathering and analyzing information, a bank should:

a. Make an inventory of the existing systems and operations. A bank should review their existing systems to determine whether they satisfy current and projected bank needs. They should also evaluate how new technologies will fit into existing systems and whether additional changes to those systems will be necessary to accommodate the new technologies.

b. Review industry standards. Bank management should assess current and developing industry standards in determining whether to implement specific technologies. Technical standards help to ensure that systems are compatible and inter-Operable.

c. Determine when to deploy new technology. Timing is critical because there are risks in deploying new technologies too slowly or too rapidly.

3. Assessment and Review

Bank management should carefully assess its technology needs and review its options within the context of overall planning. Management should consider whether the necessary resources, time, and project management expertise is available to successfully complete any new technology proposal. Prior to adopting new technologies, bank management should identify weaknesses or deficiencies in the bank’s ability to use them. Management should also consider whether staff can operate both new and existing systems simultaneously. These considerations will help management to choose the type and level of technology best suited to support its key business needs and objectives.

Banks should be cautious in establishing project objectives and should ensure that the objectives are neither too ambiguous nor too ambitious. Management should control the bank’s risk exposure through practical planning. This planning may include dividing projects into manageable segments and establishing specific decision points as to whether a project should be modified or terminated. Planning should also establish contingency and exit plans in the event a new project does not proceed as planned.

Management should assess and, where possible, attempt to quantify the costs and benefits of adopting new technology when reviewing its options. As part of this assessment, management should evaluate the risks, financial consequences, and likelihood that certain risks may occur. This review should also include assessment of the cost to start, run, and terminate a project.

B. Implementation

Proper implementation of projects and initiatives is needed to convert plans into better products and services, delivery channels, and processes. Banks should establish the necessary controls to avoid operational failures and unauthorized intrusions which could result in increased losses and damaged reputation. At a minimum, management should establish technology standards that set the direction for the bank in terms of the overall structure or architecture of its technology systems. Management should establish priorities to ensure proper coordination and integration of projects among managers, work units, and team members. It should provide clearly defined expectations, including user and resource requirements, cost estimates, project benchmarks, and expected deliver dates. Proper project monitoring by all relevant parties is important. Project managers should inform the senior management committee of obstacles as early as possible to ensure that proper controls are in place and corrective action can be taken to manage risk exposure.

Proper project implementation should include the following:

a. Controls

Controls comprises of policies, procedures, practices and organizational structures designed to provide reasonable assurance that business objectives will be achieved and undesired events will be prevented or detected and corrected. Banks should adopt adequate controls based on the degree of exposure and the potential risk of loss arising from the use of technology. Controls should include clear and measurable performance goals, the allocation of specific responsibilities for key project implementation, and independent mechanisms that will both measure risks and minimize excessive risk-taking. These controls should be re-evaluated periodically.

Bank information system security controls are particularly important. Security measures should be clearly defined with measurable performance standards. Responsible personnel should be assigned to ensure a comprehensive security program. Bank management should take necessary steps to protect mission-critical systems from unauthorized intrusions. Systems should be safeguarded, to the extent possible, against risks associated with fraud, negligence, and physical destruction of bank property. Control points should include facilities, personnel, policies and procedures, network controls, system controls, and vendors. For example, security access restrictions, background checks on employees, separation of duties, and audit trails are important precautions to protect system security within the bank and with vendors. As technologies and systems change or mature, security controls may need to change periodically as well.

b. Policies and procedures

Bank management should adopt and enforce appropriate policies and procedures to manage risk related to bank’s use of technology. The effectiveness of these policies and procedures depends greatly on whether they are in practice among bank personnel and vendors. Testing compliance with these policies and procedures often helps banks correct problems before they become serious. Clearly written and frequently communicated policies can establish clear assignments of duties, help employees to coordinate and perform their tasks effectively and consistently, and aid in the training of new employees. Bank management should ensure that policies, procedures, and systems are current and well-documented.

c. Expertise and training

Bank management should ensure that key employees and vendors have the expertise and skills to perform necessary functions and that they are properly trained. Management should allocate sufficient resources to hire and train employees and to ensure that there is succession planning particularly for the critical officers of the bank. Training may include technical course work, attendance at industry conferences, participation in industry working groups, as well as time allotment for appropriate staff to keep abreast of important technological and market developments. Training also includes customer orientations to ensure that bank’s customers understand how to use or access bank’s technology products and services and that they are able to do so in an appropriate and sound manner.

d. Testing

Bank management should thoroughly test new technology systems and products. Testing validates that equipment and systems function properly and produce the desired results. As part of the testing process, management should verify whether new technology systems operate effectively with the bank’s existing systems and, where appropriate, should include vendors. Pilot programs or prototypes can be helpful in developing new technology applications before they are used on a broad scale. Testing should be conducted periodically to help manage risk exposure.

e. Contingency planning and business resumption planning

Bank’s systems should be designed to reduce bank’s vulnerability to system failures, unauthorized intrusions, and other problems. Bank should have back-up systems in place and they should be maintained and tested on a regular basis to make sure that they will be readily available when the need arises. The risk of equipment failure and human error is possible in all systems. This risk may result from sources both within and beyond bank’s control. System failures and unauthorized intrusions may result from design defects, insufficient system capacity, and destruction of a facility by natural disasters or fires, security breaches, inadequate staff training, or uncontrolled reliance on vendors.

A bank should have business continuity plans in place before the bank implements new technology. They should establish a bank’s course of action in the event of a system failure or unauthorized intrusions and should be integrated with all other business continuity plans for bank operations. The plan may address data recovery, alternate data-processing capabilities, emergency staffing, and customer service support. Management should establish a communication plan that designates key personnel and outlines a program for employee notification. The plan should include a public relations and outreach strategy to respond promptly to customer and media reaction to system failure or unauthorized intrusions. Management should also plan for how it may respond to events outside the bank that may substantially affect customer confidence, such as an operational failure experienced by a competitor that relies on similar technology.

Additional reference should also be made to BSP Memorandum dated 22 January 2004 and 03 April 2003 on Back-up Operations Centers and Data Recovery Sites and Updated Business Continuity Plan, respectively.

f. Proper oversight of outsourcing activities

Bank management should ensure that all necessary controls are in place to manage risks associated with outsourcing and external alliances. Management should ensure that vendors have the necessary expertise, experience, and financial strength to fulfill their obligations. They also should ensure that the expectations and obligations of each party are clearly defined, understood and otherwise enforceable. Management should make certain that the bank has audit rights for vendors so that the bank can monitor performance under the vendor contract.

The key elements of proper project implementation apply whether a bank relies on employees, vendors, or both to develop and implement projects. Failure to establish necessary controls may result in compromised security, substandard service, and the installation of incompatible equipment, system failure, uncontrolled costs, and the disclosure of private customer information. If a bank joins or forms alliances with other banks or companies, management should perform adequate due diligence to ensure that the joint-venture partners are competent and have the financial strength to fulfill their obligations. Adequate bank resources will be required to monitor and measure performance under the terms of any third-party agreement. Additional reference should be made to Sec. X162 on Outsourcing.

C. Measurement and monitoring

As part of both planning and monitoring, banks must establish clearly defined measurement objectives and conduct periodic reviews to ensure that goals and standards established by bank management are met. Goals and standards should include an emphasis on data integrity, which is essential to any effective use of technology. Information should be complete and accurate both before and after it is processed. This is a particular concern in any significant merger with other institutions or acquisition of other businesses. Control of technology projects is complex because of the difficulty in measuring progress and determining actual costs. It is important that bank management establish benchmarks that are appropriate for particular applications. Ultimately, the success of technology depends on whether it delivers the intended results.

Management should monitor and measure the performance of technology related products, services, delivery channels, and processes in order to avoid potential operational failures and to mitigate the damage that may arise if such failures occur. Bank management should establish controls that identify and manage risks so that the bank can adequately manage them. To ensure accountability, management should specify which managers are responsible for the business goals, objectives, and results of specific technology projects or systems and should establish controls, which are independent of the business unit, to ensure that risks are properly managed. Technology processes should be reviewed periodically for quality and compliance with control requirements.

Auditing

Auditors provide an important control mechanism for detecting deficiencies and managing risks in the implementation of technology. They should be qualified to assess the specific risks that arise from specific uses of technology. Bank management should provide auditors with adequate information regarding standards, policies, procedures, applications, and systems. Auditors should consult with bank management during the planning process to ensure that technology-related systems are audited thoroughly and in a cost-effective manner.

Quality assurance

Bank management should establish procedures to ensure that quality assurance efforts take place and that the results are incorporated into future planning in order to manage and limit excessive risk taking. These procedures may include, for example, internal performance measures, focus groups and customer surveys. Bank should conduct quality assurance reviews whenever it engages in a significant combination with another institution or acquires another business.

The Financial Reporting Package (FRP) is a set of financial statements for prudential reporting purposes composed of the Balance Sheet, Income Statement and Supporting Schedules. The FRP is primarily designed to align the BSP reportorial requirements with the (1) provisions of the Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRS)/Philippine Accounting Standards (PAS) and (2) Basel 2 Capital Adequacy Framework. It is also designed to meet BSP statistical requirements.

Organization of the Instructions of the FRP

This instruction is divided into the following sections:
1. The General Instructions, which describe the overall reporting requirements;
2. Structure of the FRP;
3. Manual of Accounts, which provides in the order presented in the Balance Sheet and the Income Statement the definitions of the accounts in the FRP;
4. Line Item Instructions for the Balance Sheet, Income Statement, and Supporting Schedules; and
5. Report Formats, for solo and consolidated reports

In determining the required treatment of particular transactions or in determining the definitions of the various items, the General Instructions, the Structure of the FRP, Manual of Accounts and Line Item Instructions must be used jointly. A single section does not necessarily give the complete instructions for accomplishing the main report and schedules.

Solo basis shall refer to the combined financial statements of the head office and branches/other offices. Consolidated basis shall refer to the combined financial statements of parent bank and subsidiaries consolidated on a line by line basis. Only banks with financial allied subsidiaries, excluding insurance subsidiaries, shall submit the report on consolidated basis.

The solo and consolidated FRP shall be prepared on a quarterly basis, except for the solo balance sheet and the following selected schedules which shall be prepared on a monthly basis.

1. Schedule 1: Checks and Other Cash Items
2. Schedule 2: Due from Other Banks
4. Schedule 4a: Derivatives Held for Trading, Matrix of Counterparty and Type of Derivative Contracts
5. Schedule 5: Financial Assets Designated at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss
7. Schedule 7: Held to Maturity Financial Assets
8. Schedule 8: Unquoted Debt Securities Classified as Loans

(M-2007-027 dated 19 September 2007)
In the appraisal of real properties or rights offered as collateral substitutes under the housing microfinance program, the form of the secure tenure instrument must be considered. Generally, two (2) appraisal methodologies or approaches may be applied: the market value must be determined using the market data or sales comparison approach for properties under freehold and right to occupy and/or build (in respect of the housing unit or improvement to be used as collateral substitute), and for properties under Lease agreement and usufruct, the value of the Leasehold interest of the borrower must be determined.

Market value
Market value is the most probable price that a property should obtain in a competitive and open market under all conditions requisite of a fair sale, with the buyer and seller each acting prudently and knowledgeably, and assuming that the price is not affected by undue stimulus. In determining the market value of the property, the appraiser must use the Market Data or Sales Comparison approach. This approach attempts to compare the subject property’s value with similar properties and adjust its value according to the presence or absence of value determining characteristics. This approach is based upon the principles of supply and demand and upon the principle of substitution.

Valuation of leasehold
A leasehold is the real right of the lessee acquired from an owner (the lessor) of a piece of real estate to occupy and use it for a fixed term or period at a stipulated rental rate, and subject to conditions set forth in a written document of lease. The lease may include the right of the lessee to improve the land, mortgage the building, sublet all or part of the property, and assign or sell his leasehold.

The task of the appraiser is to estimate the present worth or “market value” of the imputed rental income of the lessee derived from the property over and above the rent required to be paid by him to the lessor under the terms of the lease and his interest in any improvements made by him. In evaluating a leasehold, the appraiser must have a thorough knowledge of all the salient terms and conditions of the primary or main lease and any subleases, for these affect the value of the leasehold considerably, such as:

a. Rental. If the rental to be paid under the terms of the lease is below the rental prevailing in the market, the leasehold may have a substantial value. Where the rental actually paid is the prevailing rental value of the property, the leasehold may have no value. Prevailing rental rates refer to the rental rates of comparable properties within comparable locations.

b. Term of Lease. A long-term lease or the right of the lessee to renew the lease at the expiration of the original term of the lease may add value to the leasehold.

c. Payment for Improvement

d. Option to Purchase

e. Leasehold Restrictions
Loan Valuation Based on Appraisal Valuation Framework or Methodology

The valuation of properties under the housing microfinance loan program will be based on prevailing market values of real estate properties (freehold and right to occupy and/or build) or prevailing rental rates (leasehold/usufruct). The standard practice of participating banks in determining the loan to collateral ratios shall be adopted. The following terms provided in the table below may be applied:

(Circular No. 614 dated 14 July 2008)
I. Introduction
Trust and other fiduciary business and investment management activities have evolved with the changes in the financial market and advancement in technology. These innovations have allowed trust entities to expand the scope of trust products and services offered to customers, thus increasing their exposure to various risks. As trust entities grow more diverse, necessarily policies and procedures as well as risk management practices must keep pace. The basic standards would provide common processes for an efficient operation and administration of trust, other fiduciary and investment management activities across the trust industry.

II. Statement of policy
It is the policy of the BSP to provide adequate level of protection to investors who, under a fiduciary arrangement, engage the services or avail of products of trust entities which are required to observe prudence in the exercise of their fiduciary responsibility. Along this line, the BSP prescribes basic standards for the efficient administration and operation of trust and other fiduciary business and investment management activities.

III. Standards
The basic standards in the administration of trust, other fiduciary and investment management accounts are meant to address the significant areas of operations and provide minimum set of requirements and procedures:
A. Account acceptance and review processes
   1. Pre-acceptance account review
      This review must document that the trust entity (TE) can effectively administer the account. It shall be covered by a written policy which shall contain, among other things, the types of trust, other fiduciary and investment management accounts that are desirable and consistent with the TE’s risk strategies and the specific conditions for accepting new accounts, and approved by the Trust Committee, or the Trust Officer, or subordinate officer of the trust department, authorized by the board of directors or its functional oversight equivalent, in the case of foreign banks and institutions.
      The review process entails the thorough and complete review of the client’s/account’s characteristics and investment profile, including the assets/properties to be contributed/delivered. Non-financial/non-traditional assets (i.e., real estate and the like) which are more likely to be illiquid shall be carefully reviewed prior to acceptance to ensure that the TE only accepts accounts which hold assets it may be able to properly manage.
      Prior to the acceptance of a fiduciary account, the TE shall review the underlying instrument (trust agreement or contract) for potential conflicts of interest. If such conflict exists, the TE shall take appropriate action to address such condition before the account is accepted.
      In cases where the TE is chosen as a successor trustee or investment manager, the TE shall perform a review and evaluation of all assets to be delivered to the TE to determine how these would serve the client’s objectives, whether the TE can properly handle such assets and to assess any possible issue/problem which may arise with respect to such assets before acceptance of such assets and/or assumption of the trust, fiduciary or investment management relationship.
2. Establishment and post-acceptance review

Acceptance policies for new accounts shall, at a minimum, include the following processes and/or requirements:

(1) Account opening process. This process defines the TE’s policies and procedures for client/account identification, consistent with the TE’s KYC policy for compliance with anti-money laundering regulations; identification of the needs of the client; the objective(s) of the engagement; the vehicle to be used; and the account’s investment parameters. The trust officer or other authorized personnel of the trust department shall conduct the account opening process for trust, fiduciary and investment management accounts. In the case of UIT Funds, only authorized branch managers/officers as well as UIT marketing personnel, who have all successfully undergone the required certification/accreditation/licensing process, may perform said process for UIT Fund clients. The account opening process shall at least involve the following:

a. Client profiling shall be performed for all UIT Fund and regular trust, other fiduciary and investment management accounts (except court trusts) via a duly acknowledged Client Suitability Assessment (CSA), which aims to provide the TE with information leading to the prudent design of investment packages, suited to a particular client or investment account. The profiling process, to be documented through a CSA Form signed by the concerned parties, shall be undertaken on a per client basis, which shall emphasize the level of risk tolerance of the client.

b. Client suitability assessment

The TE shall obtain adequate information from the client to determine the appropriateness of the fiduciary product/service to be provided and ensure the suitability of the investment product/strategy to be recommended to each client. It shall provide prospective clients with client suitability questionnaire and require them to accomplish the same prior to the acceptance of the account and execution of a transaction.

For this purpose, the TE shall make an assessment of the client’s level of financial sophistication and consider factors relevant to the creation and management of, or participation in, an investment portfolio, such as but not limited to, the specific needs and unique circumstances of the client and/or beneficiary(ies), basic characteristics of the clients’ investment and experience, financial constraints, risk tolerance, tax considerations and regulatory requirements.

The same client suitability assessment process shall be applied by the TE for directional accounts.

i. Minimum information required for CSA:

   i. Personal/Institutional data. Minimum personal/institutional information that are unique to a natural or juridical client, which shall also cover demographics and KYC information; the identity of beneficiaries, where applicable, and approximate portion of total assets administered/managed.

   ii. Investment objective. A clear statement or definition of the client’s investment goals/purposes to be achieved through a particular trust, fiduciary or investment product or service. The client may opt to open several accounts, each one with specific investment objectives separate and distinct from the other accounts.

   iii. Investment experience. A list of various types of investment the prospective client is familiar with, acquired from actual/ personal investment experience, or of similar investment circumstances.

iv. Knowledge and financial situation. For complex transactions where the level of risk involved is greater, the TE must take 1 i.e., the client, the UIT accredited marketing personnel or the officer of the trust department conducting the client profiling. The CSA Form shall be acknowledged or confirmed by the trust officer or other officer of the trust department authorized by the board of directors.

into account the knowledge, experience and financial situation of the client or potential client to assess the level of investment sophistication. This may include the careful assessment whether the specific type of financial instrument/service/ portfolio/strategy is in line with the client’s disclosed financial capacity.

Such assessment is necessary as there are significant risks involved on financial investments (e.g., derivatives), the type of transaction (e.g. sale of options), the characteristics of the order (e.g., size or price specifications) or the frequency of the trading.

v. Investment time frame and liquidity requirement. The TE is able to organize the portfolio in a manner that will provide for anticipated liquidity requirement through redemption of principal contribution or earnings.

vi. Risk tolerance. Allow the TE to classify clients in accordance with its own preset internal risk classification.

Based on the results of the CSA, classification of clients by the TE may include, but need not be limited to the following:

i. Conservative. Client wants an investment strategy where the primary goal is to prevent the loss of principal at all times, and where the client prefers investment grade and highly liquid assets, government securities, Republic of the Philippines’ bonds (ROPs), deposits with local banks/branches of foreign banks operating in the Philippines, and deposits with FIs in any foreign country: Provided, that said FI has at least an investment grade credit rating from a reputable international credit rating agency.

ii. Moderate. Client wants a portfolio which may provide potential returns on investment that are higher than the regular traditional deposit products and client is aware that a higher return is accompanied by a higher level of risk. Client is willing to expose the funds to a certain level of risks in consideration for higher returns.

iii. Aggressive. Client wants a portfolio which may provide appreciation of capital over time and is willing to accept higher risks involving volatility of returns and even possible loss of investment in return for potential higher long-term results.

• Investment policy statement

The TE shall have in place a method by which suitability of investment is determined based on the results of the CSA and formulated via an Investment Policy Statement (IPS). It shall communicate to prospective clients the results of the assessment, recommend the investment product/portfolio/strategy, and explain the reasons why, on the basis of the given information, its recommendation is to the best interest of the client as of a defined timeframe. The TE shall make a recommendation only after having reasonably determined that the proposed investment is suitable to the client’s and/or beneficiary’s financial situation, investment experience, and investment objectives.

The IPS is a clear reference frame for investment decisions and must be based on the investment objectives and risk tolerance of the client. It must include, at a minimum, a description of the following:

i. Investment objective;

ii. Investment strategy-indicating how assets will be allocated indicating the agreed portfolio mix;

iii. Investment performance review – indicating proposed market benchmarks, if any and the desired frequency of the performance review/reporting;
iv. Investment limits – identifies any limitation which the client may have for the portfolio such as investment restrictions (e.g., prohibited investments) and client's consent for taking losses.

For UIT Fund, the IPS is equivalent to the investment objective of the fund specifically stated in the Declaration of Trust.

• Option of client to re-classification

   Generally, the TE shall recommend the investment product/portfolio/strategy suitable to the client based on the results of the CSA. The TE may, however, provide a process for allowing clients to invest in investment products/portfolio/strategy with a higher risk than those corresponding to the CSA profile results. A client who exercises the option to be re-classified outside the CSA process thereby waives some of the protection afforded by these guidelines. Such re-classification may be allowed subject to the observance of the following:

   i. The client shall state in writing to the TE that:

      • He does not agree with or accept the recommendation of the TE on the investment product/portfolio/strategy appropriate to the client's profile based on the results of the CSA;
      • He would like to avail of the investment product/portfolio/strategy other than that which is consistent with the results of the CSA;
      • He requests/intends to be re-classified, either generally or in respect to a particular investment/service/transaction/product; and
      • He fully understands and is willing to take the risks incidental to the investment product/portfolio/strategy to be availed of.

   ii. The TE shall issue a clear written warning to the client of the protections he may lose and conversely, of the risks that he is exposed to.

   iii. The TE shall have taken all reasonable steps to ensure that the client meets all relevant requirements as provided for in the TE’s written policies.

   • Frequency of CSA and IPS

      i. The CSA shall be performed and the IPS shall be formulated and executed prior to the opening of the account;
      ii. The TE shall update the CSA and the IPS at least every three (3) years except in the following instances:

         • Whenever updates are necessitated by the client, upon notice/advice to the TE, on account of a change in personal/financial circumstances or preferences, the TE shall adjust/modify its investment strategy/portfolio and recommendation, subject to the conformity of the client;
         • Whenever managed trust, other fiduciary, and investment management accounts express intention to invest in complex investment products such as financial derivatives, the TE shall ensure that the CSA and the IPS are updated at least annually. Otherwise, the TE shall not make new/additional investments in complex investment products.

   iii. The TE shall ensure that periodic written notices given to clients reminding them of such updates are received/acknowledged by clients or their authorized representatives;

   iv. Updated CSA and IPS shall be acknowledged by the client;

   v. The frequency of review shall be included as a provision in the written agreement; and

   vi. The latest CSA and IPS will continue to be applied for any subsequent principal contributions to the account, until these are amended or updated by the client.

b. Identification of degree of discretion granted by client to the TE. This process involves the determination of the extent of discretion granted to the TE to manage the client’s portfolio.

   i) Discretionary. The TE has authority or discretion to invest the funds/property of the client in accordance with the parameters set forth by the client. Such authority of the TE which obtained a composite Trust Rating of "4" in the latest BSP examination will not be subject to the investment limitations provided under Subsecs. X409.2 and X409.3 for trust and other fiduciary accounts and Subsecs. X411.4 and X411.5 for investment management accounts, respectively; and

(2) Non-discretionary. Investment activity of the TE is directed by the client or limited only to specific securities or properties and expressly stipulated in the agreement or upon written instruction of the client.

(3) Documentation. The trust, fiduciary or investment management relationship shall be formally established through a written legal document such as the trust or investment management agreement. The engagement documents shall clearly specify the extent of fiduciary assignments/responsibilities of the TE and articulate the nature and limits of each party's status as trustor/principal or trustee/agent. Policies and procedures shall provide that trust or investment management agreements are signed by the trust officer or, subordinate officer of the trust department, or in the case of UIT Funds, branch managers/officers duly authorized by the board of directors.

The documentation process must also consider the following:

a. The Agreement must conform to the requirements provided under Subsec. X409.1 for trust and other fiduciary accounts and Subsec. X411.1 for investment management accounts. In addition, the Agreement shall contain the following provisions:

i. A description of the services to be provided;

ii. All charges relating to the services or instruments envisaged and how the charges are calculated;

iii. The obligations of the client with respect to the transactions envisaged, in particular his financial commitments towards the TE; and

iv. For engagements involving management of assets or properties, the degree of discretion granted to the trustee or agent must be clearly defined and stated in the agreement;

b. The Agreement shall be in plain language understandable by the client and/or personnel of the TE responsible for explaining the contents of the agreement to the client.

c. For complex investment products such as financial derivatives instruments or those that use synthetic investment vehicles, the TE shall disclose to the client and require client's prior written conformity to the following:

i. Key features of investment services and financial instruments envisaged, according to the nature of such instruments and services;

ii. The type(s) of instruments and transactions envisaged;

iii. The obligations of the TE with respect to the transactions envisaged, in particular, its reporting and notice obligations to the clients; and

iv. An appropriate disclosure bringing to the client's attention the risks involved in the transactions envisaged.

d. In order to give a fair and adequate description of the investment service or financial instrument, the TE shall provide a clearly stated and easily understood Risk Disclosure Statement to its clients, which forms part of or attached to the trust, fiduciary or investment management agreement. The Risk Disclosure Statement shall contain, among other things, the following provisions:

i. Cautionary statement on the general risks of investing or associated with financial instruments, i.e., if the market is not good, an investor may not be able to get back his principal or original investment. Such statement must be given due prominence, and not to be concealed or masked in any way by the wording, design or format of the information provided;

ii. If the investment outlet is exposed to any major or specific risks, a description and explanation of such risks shall be clearly stated; and

iii. Advisory statement that for complex investment products, said instruments can be subject to sudden and sharp falls in value such that the client may lose its/his entire investment, and, whenever applicable, be obligated to provide extra funding in case it/he is required to pay more later.

Additional risk disclosures may be provided as appropriate.

The TE must ensure that the trust, fiduciary and investment management agreements and documents have been reviewed and found to be legally in order.

B. Account administration

It is the fundamental duty of a fiduciary to administer an account solely in the interest of clients. The duty of loyalty is a paramount importance and underlies the entire administration of trust, other fiduciary and investment management accounts. A successful administration will meet the needs of both clients and beneficiaries in a safe and productive manner.

Account administration basically involves three processes, namely:

1. Periodic review of existing accounts
2. Credit process
3. Investment process

1. Periodic review of existing accounts

The board of directors and Trust Committee shall formulate and implement a policy to ensure that a comprehensive review of trust, fiduciary and investment management accounts (including collective investment schemes such as UIT Funds) shall be conducted. The periodic review of managed accounts shall be aligned with the provisions on the review and updating of the CSA and IPS. The board of directors may delegate the conduct of account review to the Trust Officer or Trust Department Committee created for that purpose. The policy shall likewise indicate the scope of the account review depending upon the nature and types of trust, fiduciary and investment management accounts managed.

A comprehensive accounts review, which shall entail an administrative as well as investments review, shall be performed on a periodic basis to ascertain that the account is being managed in accordance with the instrument creating the trust and other fiduciary relationship. The administrative review of an account is taken to determine whether the portfolio/assets are appropriate, individually and collectively, for the account, while an investment review is used to analyze the investment performance of an account and reaffirm or modify the pertinent investment policy statement, including asset allocation guidelines. Whether the administrative and investment review are performed separately or simultaneously, the reviewing authority shall be able to determine if certain portfolio/assets are no longer appropriate for the account, (i.e., not consistent with the requirements of the client) and to take proper action through prudent investment practices to change the structure or composition of the assets.

The periodic review process also involves disclosure of information on the investment portfolio and the relevant investing activities. Regardless of the degree of discretion granted by the client to the TE, the former assumes full risk on the investment and related activities, and counterparties. Relevant changes in the TE's organization or investment policies that may affect the client's decision to continue the services of the TE shall be disclosed to the client.
In the case of non-discretionary public interest accounts such as employee benefit/retirement or pension funds, due diligence review of the investment portfolio by the TE shall include providing investors with appropriate information needed to make an informed investment decision and avoid possible conflict of interest and self-dealing situations.

The TE should be able to show (in addition to the specific written directive from the client) what it has done in the exercise of due diligence and prudence on its part to protect the interest of the client and/or beneficiaries, especially for accounts of public interest like retirement/ pension fund accounts.

The TE shall keep its clients informed of the investment and related activities by rendering periodic reports and financial statements prescribed under Subsec. X425.1 and as necessary. The types of reports and statements and the frequency of their submission must be clearly specified in the TE’s written policies and procedures.

The TE shall also establish a system that enables a trust account representative or officer to periodically contact clients and/or beneficiaries to determine whether their financial objectives and circumstances have changed.

(2) Credit process

Each trust entity shall define its credit process in relation to the discharge of the TE’s investment function. The process ensures credit worthiness of investment undertakings including dealings and relationship with counterparties. It also serves to institutionalize the independence of the credit process of the TE. The credit process must at least cover the following:

a. Credit policies. Trust entities must clearly define its credit policies and processes, including the use of internal and external credit rating and approval process relative to the delivery of its instrument function. The TE can share credit information with the bank proper subject to proper delineation and documentation. The credit process shall show the following at the minimum:

   i. Clear credit process flow, from initiation of the lending activities envisioned by the TE up to the execution of actual investment;
   ii. Credit criteria and rating used;
   iii. Manner by which the TE handles the information, including confidential and material data, which is shared between and among the departments, subsidiaries or affiliates of the TE; and
   iv. Clear delineation of duties and responsibilities of each of the departments, subsidiaries and affiliates of the TE, where such groups or entities share the credit process.

b. Counterparty accreditation process.

The TE must clearly define the policies and the processes it will undertake to accredit counterparties, including the bank proper, and its subsidiaries and affiliates, for their investment trading functions. It may use or avail itself of the accreditation process of its bank proper provided there is proper delineation of functions. The counterparty accreditation process shall show the following at the minimum:

   i. Clear accreditation process flow from the initiation of credit activities up to the actual usage of lines;
   ii. Credit criteria and rating used;
   iii. Manner by which the TE handles the information, including confidential and material data, which are shared between and among the departments, subsidiaries or affiliates of the TE;
   iv. Usage, duties and responsibilities of each of the department, subsidiaries and affiliates of the TE, where there is sharing of credit lines between and among these concerned groups/entities; and
   v. Clear delineation of duties and responsibilities of each of the departments, subsidiaries and affiliates of the TE, where such groups or entities share the accreditation credit process.

(3) Investment process

This process defines the investment policies and procedures, including decision-making processes, undertaken by the TE in the execution of its fund/asset management function. The primary objective of such process is to create a structure that will assure TEs observe prudence in investment activities at all levels, preservation of capital, diversification, a reasonable level of risk as well as undivided loyalty to each client and adherence to established structure for the TE's investment undertakings. The investment process covers a broad range of activities; thus, the investment policies shall clearly outline the parameters that, at a minimum, include the following:

a. Overall investment philosophy, standards and practices. A general statement of principles that guides the portfolio manager in the management of investments outlined in the board-approved policy, along with a discussion on the practices and standards to be implemented to achieve the desired result.

b. Investment Policies and Processes. Defines the policies and the processes undertaken to create the portfolio to ensure the proper understanding of the client's preferences.

   i. Profiling of client. Aims to understand the level of maturity of the client relevant to the creation of an appropriate portfolio.

   ii. Portfolio construction for custom-made portfolios. Includes the process of researching and selecting recommended portfolio and setting objectives or strategies for diversification by types and classes of securities into general and specialized portfolios.

   • Asset allocation. Outlines the process and criteria for selecting and evaluating different asset classes identified to be appropriate for the client's profile and investment objective. It includes the allocation of desired tenors in conjunction with the client or portfolio profile based on the CSA or IPS. The asset allocation may be based on percentage to total funds managed by the TE or stated in absolute amount whichever is preferred by the client.

   • Security selection. Policies and procedures on the selection of investment outlets, including investment advisory, must be in place. This involves the selection of issuers for each of the identified asset classes. The process provides for the review of investment performance using risk parameters and comparison to appropriate benchmarks. It shall also identify the documentation required for all investment decisions.

If the TE uses approved lists of investments, there shall be an outline of the criteria for the selection and monitoring of such investments, as well as a description of the overall process for addition to and deletion from the lists.

   • Benchmark selection/creation. Selects or crafts the benchmarks to reflect the desired return of the portfolio and to measure the performance of the portfolio manager. The TE shall be required to measure performance based on benchmarks to gauge or measure the performance of the account. The TE must have clear definition of its benchmarking policy.

   • Limits. Identifies any limitations on portfolio management which the client may impose on the TE. These limitations have to be specific as to the nature of the portfolio, such as but not limited to, core holdings, investment in competitor companies, and companies engaged in vices.

   • Risk disclosure statement. A clear and appropriately worded statement/s to disclose different risks to clients of the various investment undertakings of the investment manager done in behalf of the client.
iii. Internal policies on trade allocation. Defines the institution’s policies in ensuring timely, fair and equitable allocation of investments across investing portfolios.

iv. Diversification of discretionary investments. The TE shall have a policy on the general diversification requirements for asset administration, as well as the process implemented to monitor and control deviations from policy guidelines.

v. A TE shall have access to timely and competent economic analyses and forecasts for the capital markets and other products in which its clients will be investing. TEs engaged in more complex transactions may consider providing an economic and securities research unit that continually monitors global trends and capital markets. This unit provides necessary forecasts of capital market expectations, currency relationships, interest rate movements, commodity prices, and expected returns of asset classes and individual investment instruments, which help the TE establish appropriate investment policies and strategies, select appropriate investments, and manage risks effectively.

vi. The TE shall have a process that will confirm trust personnel with investment functions know and follow the BOD-approved investment policies and processes.

c. Selection and use of brokers/dealers. The quality of execution is an important determinant in broker selection. In selecting brokers/dealers, a TE must consider the following minimum standards and criteria:

i. Execution capability and ability to handle specialized transactions;

ii. Commission rates and other compensation;

iii. Financial strength, including operating results and adequacy of capital and liquidity;

iv. Past record of good and timely delivery and payment on trades;

v. Value of services provided, including research; and

vi. Available information about the broker from other broker customers, regulators, and self-regulated organizations authorized by the SEC.

The TE with large portfolio may opt to evaluate broker performance using a formalized point scoring system. A list of approved brokers shall be made available by the TE, reviewed periodically and updated at least annually.

d. Best practices. The TE shall document best practices policies and processes to institutionalize proper safeguards for the protection of its clients and itself. At a minimum, the policies must include the following standards:

i. Best execution. The TE shall use reasonable diligence to ensure that investment trades are executed in a timely manner and on the best available terms that are favorable to the client under prevailing market conditions as can be reasonably obtained elsewhere with an acceptable counterparty. For related counterparties, no purchase/sale must be made for discretionary accounts without considering at least two (2) competitive quotes from other sources. The policy on best execution must document processes to warrant such execution is readily and operationally verifiable.

ii. Chinese wall. A clear policy on Chinese Wall aims to protect the institution from conflict of interest arising from varying functions carried by the TE in relation to credit (debt), shareholder, and investment position taking. The policy shall state the duties and responsibilities of the TE and each department including that of the bank proper and subsidiaries and affiliates should transactions involve the concerned departments and entities.

iii. Personnel investment policies. These policies aim to ensure honest and fair discharge of investment trading functions of all qualified personnel.
Qualified personnel are those that may have access to information on clients and investment position-taking of clients, investment manager or portfolios. The use of such information may be abused and detrimental to the clients. The policy shall state the duties and responsibilities of each qualified personnel in relation to trading and portfolio management activities including allowed and not allowed transactions as well as sanctions in case of violations.

iv. Confidentiality and materiality of Information. The TE must keep information about past, current and prospective clients confidential, unless disclosure is authorized in writing by the client or required by law and the information involve illegal activities perpetrated by the client. It must ensure safekeeping of confidential and material information and prevent the abuse of such information to the detriment of the institution or its clients.

v. Fair dealing. The TE shall document dealing practices to ensure fair, honest and professional practices in accordance with the best interest of the client and counterparties at all times and for the integrity of the market. It must ensure that any representations or other communications made and information provided to the client are accurate and not misleading. The TE must also take care not to discriminate against any client but treat all clients in a fair and impartial manner.

vi. Diligence and reasonable basis. In conducting its investment services, the TE shall act with skill, and care and diligence, and in the best interests of its clients and the integrity of the market. The duty of due diligence is intertwined with the duty to maintain independence and objectivity in providing investment recommendations or taking investment actions. When providing advice to a client, the TE shall act diligently and make certain that its advice and recommendations to clients are based on thorough analysis and take into account available alternatives.

- The TE shall take all reasonable steps to execute promptly client orders in accordance with the instruction of clients.
- The TE, when acting for or with clients, shall always execute client orders on the best available terms.
- The TE shall ensure that transactions executed on behalf of clients are promptly and fairly allocated to the accounts of the clients on whose behalf the transactions were executed.

Where a client opts not to accept the recommendation of the TE and chooses to purchase another investment product which is not recommended, the TE may proceed with the client’s request/instruction, provided it shall document the decision of the client and highlight to him/her that it is his/her responsibility to ensure the suitability of the product selected.

vii. In-House or related party transactions handling. The TE shall define the policies in handling related-interest transactions to ensure that the best interest of clients prevails at all times and all dealings are above board. It must conform to the requirements of Subsecs. X409.3 and X411.5.

viii. Valuation. The TE shall document the institution’s valuation process to show the sources of prices, either market or historical value, and the formula used to derive the NAV of investment portfolios. Valuation shall be understood, compliant with written policies and operating procedures, and used consistently within the TE. The TE must ensure that the valuation processes of service providers, custodians, and other subcontractors are compatible with those of the TE and in compliance with relevant statutory or regulatory valuation standards.

Risk officers shall document the accuracy and reliability of all valuation processes and data sources and ensure that valuations are completed as required by internal policies and procedures and regulatory reporting standards.

e. Conflicts of interests. These may arise when the TE exercises any discretion where mutually opposing interests are involved. The most serious conflict of interest is self-dealing, which could include transactions such as an investment in related interests of the TE or purchase of securities from or through an affiliate. Such transactions must be fully disclosed and authorized in writing by clients. Because of the complexity and sensitivity of the issue, a TE must develop policies and procedures to identify and deal with conflicts of interest situations.

3. Account termination
   Accounts may be terminated for a variety of reasons, including the occurrence of a specified event or upon written notice of either the client or the TE. The trust or investment management agreement shall provide for the terms and manner of liquidation, return and delivery of assets/portfolio to the client. Generally, the TE’s responsibilities include distribution to the client, the successor trustee and/or beneficiaries of the remaining assets held under trusteeship/agency arrangement, preparation and filing of required reports. The TE must ensure the risk control processes are observed when terminating accounts just as when accepting them.

   The TE must have a general policy with respect to the termination of trust accounts, which policy shall take into consideration the general processes to be observed in the return or delivery of different types of assets, the possible modes of distribution, fees to be paid, taxes to be imposed, the documentation required to effect the transfer of assets, the provision of terminal reports, and whenever applicable, the timing of distribution, needs and circumstances of the beneficiaries. Should the TE anticipate possible issues or problems with respect to the termination of the account, such as the liquidation of certain assets or the partition or division of assets, these issues shall be disclosed to the client for proper disposition. The policy on the termination of trust, fiduciary and investment management accounts shall likewise include the approval process to be observed for the termination of these accounts as well as the reporting requirements for accounts terminated and closed.
