MANUAL OF REGULATIONS
FOR Non-Bank Financial Institutions
FOREWORD

The 2008 Manual of Regulations for Non-Bank Financial Institutions (MORNBFI) is an updated compilation of regulations and policies issued by the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) for financial institutions under its supervision. Available in hard and soft copies, it is a convenient reference and guide for said financial institutions in the conduct of their operations.

The updated MORNBFI incorporates regulatory policies issued to align banking practices on risk management, good corporate governance, and capital adequacy, accounting and reporting with international standards. It also includes rules implementing legislative reform measures, the more significant of which are the General Banking Law of 2000, the Anti-Money Laundering Act of 2001 and the Special Purpose Vehicle Act of 2002.

In providing easy access to this information, the updated MORNBFI seeks to facilitate compliance with the supervisory and regulatory requirements of BSP that will contribute to the enhancement of its partnership with financial institutions under its supervision, and ultimately to the strengthening of the Philippine Banking System and the economy.

FOREWORD

Soon after the establishment of the new Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP), the Monetary Board recognized the need to revise and regularly update the Manual of Regulations for Banks and Other Financial Intermediaries to enable the industry to better keep pace with the anticipated rapid regulatory changes that are unavoidable in a dynamic economic environment. A revised Manual would also be able to appropriately take into account the strengthened supervisory and regulatory arrangements set out in the BSP’s new charter.

This Manual of Regulations for Non-Bank Financial Institutions is one of the products of that effort. It benefits from the inputs of many concerned departments of the BSP as well as the various industry associations of non-bank financial institutions. We are hopeful that this new Manual and its subsequent updates will be able to more effectively disseminate the regulatory issuances of the BSP on a timely basis and provide appropriate guidance to non-bank financial institutions.

We also believe that it will be a especially useful tool at this time when the BSP has come up with many regulations and issuances in response to the unprecedented challenges posed by the Asian financial crisis.

Nevertheless, we recognize that there will always be room for improvement. Our task is therefore a continuing one of constant search for a better product to provide more responsive services to the public.

PREFACE

The Manual of Regulations for Non-Bank Financial Institutions (the “New Manual”) is not only an updated edition but also a revision of the present Manual of Regulations for Banks and Other Financial Intermediaries, Book IV (the “Old Manual”). Its adoption was impelled by certain considerations, namely: (1) that the Central Bank of the Philippines as the administrative agency of the monetary, banking and credit system which promulgated the Old Manual has been replaced by the Bangko Sentral Ng Pilipinas (BSP) as the central monetary authority and (2) that the Old Manual was last updated as of 31 December 1989 and since that time, significant developments in the statutory law and the financial system of the country have rendered many of its provisions obsolete or irrelevant.

To accomplish the work of proposing revisions to the Old Manual, the Monetary Board of the BSP, in its Resolution No. 1203 dated 7 December 1994, directed the creation of a multi-departmental Ad Hoc Review Committee. This committee was officially constituted under Office Order No. 2, Series of 1995 and consisted of Deputy General Counsel Melvin A. Gonzaga (Office of the General Counsel and Legal Services, as chairman; Deputy Director Ma. Dolores B. Yuvienco (Supervisory Reports and Studies Office); Deputy Director Rolando A. Q. Agustin (Department of Commercial Banks I); Deputy Director Danilo A. Monasterio (Department of Rural Banks); Deputy Director Erlinda S. J. Marzan (Department of Thrift Banks and Non-Bank Financial Institutions), as members; and Managing Director Fe B. Barin (Office of the Monetary Board), as adviser. The technical staff of the Ad Hoc Committee was composed of Atty. Magdalena D. Imperio, Bank Attorney III, as head; and Mr. Fernando B. Caballa, Manager II; Mr. Lauro C. Abuzo, Bank Officer III, Atty. Policarpo G. Barcarse, Manager II; Mr. Nicanor F. Rillera, Manager II; and Mr. Aristides R. Wylengco, Manager II, as members. Deputy Governor Armando L. Suratos, the BSP General Counsel, acted as committee consultant.

Under the aforesaid office order, the Ad Hoc Committee was instructed to examine, evaluate and review the provisions of the Old Manual for purposes of (1) deleting therefrom provisions which are obsolete, redundant, irrelevant, superfluous or inconsistent with law, (2) amending provisions so as to make them consistent with each other or to harmonize them with existing statutes, executive issuances and official policies, and (3) reformulating provisions to make them more responsive to the needs and concerns of the banking and financial intermediation industry.

In discharging its mandated tasks, the Ad Hoc Review Committee sought the comments of certain departments of the BSP, particularly, Treasury, Foreign Exchange, Economic Research, Cash, Accounting, and Loans and Credit, on the proposed changes to provisions of the Old Manual relevant to their operations. Likewise consulted were the various associations in the non-bank financial intermediary industries. Their valuable suggestions contributed much to the accomplishment of this project.
The New Manual comprises substantially the regulatory issuances of the BSP, as well as those of its predecessor agency, the Central Bank of the Philippines, as they were amended or revised through the years, up to 31 December 1996. It shall serve as the principal source of all substantive regulations for non-bank financial institutions issued by the Monetary Board and the Governor of the BSP and shall be cited as the authority for enjoining compliance with the rules and regulations embodied therein.

It is fervently hoped that the publication of this long-awaited new code of regulations for non-bank financial institution will measure up to the expectations of these institutions.

INSTRUCTIONS TO USERS

The Manual of Regulations for Non-Bank Financial Institutions (the “Manual”) is the comprehensive authority on the specific subjects covered therein. New rules and amendments to the rules shall immediately form part of the affected section or subsection of the Manual while repealed rules shall be deleted so that the user shall no longer refer to a separate issuance, i.e., circular or memorandum, but shall instead cite the particular section or subsection of the Manual. Non-bank financial institutions (NBFIs) governed by the Manual shall comply with the provisions thereof and any violation thereof shall be punishable under the specific and/or general provisions on sanctions.

The Manual contains the rules and regulations on NBFIs subject to supervision by the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) under the law. Specifically, these institutions are as follows: NBFIs performing quasi-banking functions, or quasi-banks, which are subject to BSP supervision under R.A. No. 7653, The New Central Bank Act and R.A. No. 8791, The General Banking Law of 2000; NBFIs performing trust and other fiduciary activities, under R.A. No. 337, as amended; non-stock savings and loans association (NSSLAs), under R.A. 3779; and pawnshops, under P.D. No. 114. The regulations addressed to these institutions are grouped as follows: the Q Regulations, which are addressed to quasi-banks; the S Regulations, which are addressed to NSSLAs; the P Regulations, which are addressed to pawnshops; and N Regulations, which are addressed to other NBFIs subject to BSP supervision.

As a code of regulations, the Manual contains the basic features of division into Parts, further subdivided into major topic headings which introduce the corresponding sections and subsections making up the provisions governing a major operation of the institutions subject to the regulations. Parts and major topic headings as well as coded section numbers and headings are made uniform for all the groups of regulations.

Coding of sections utilizes six (6) digits; i.e., 4123Q.44. The first digit (4 in the example) refers to the type of financial institution (i.e., non-bank financial institutions as distinguished from banks or banking institutions, the regulations addressed to which institutions are contained in another Manual) to which the regulation is applicable; the second digit (1 in the example), to the Part number, and the third and fourth digits (23 in the example), to the section number. The other two (2) digits after the decimal point (44 in the example) refer to the subsection number. The letters Q, S, P and N are appended to the pertinent code numbers of the sections to indicate the particular category of NBFIs the regulations are addressed to, namely: quasi-banks, NSSLAs, pawnshops and other NBFIs subject to BSP supervision, respectively. For example, Sections 4161Q, 4161S, and 4161P refer to provisions of reporting requirements of quasi-banks, NSSLAs, and pawnshops, in that order.
To illustrate, the code numbers 4161Q.2 indicates:

4 1 6 1 Q . 2
```

- Main caption on “Records”
- Subcaption on “SFAS”
- Regulation addressed to quasi-banks
- Part One on “Organization, Management and Administration”
- Regulations addressed to NBFIs

The paging is by Parts, each Part beginning with page 1, and so on, corresponding to the number of pages of the particular Part. For example, Part I, consisting of six (6) pages will start with a first page indicated as “Part I - Page 1”, and “Part I - Page 6” as its last page. The pages for updates will follow the same pagination, with letters added to indicate inserted pages, in the event amendatory regulations require additional pages. Paging is further identified as to the group of regulations the particular page belong; for example, Q Regulations.

To facilitate reference, running section headings consisting of the coded numbers of the sections/subsections whose provisions are contained in a particular page are indicated at either the upper right- or left-hand corner of the page preceded by the symbols § or §§. The cut-off date is indicated immediately below the running section heads, as: 05.12.31. Thereafter, the date of the pages affected by subsequent new issuances or amendments/repeals will be changed at the end of the semestral period during the semestral updating which shall reflect the changes that shall have occurred.

PART ONE

ORGANIZATION, MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

A. SCOPE OF AUTHORITY

Section 4101Q Quasi-Banking Functions
Quasi-banking functions consist of the following:

a. Borrowing funds for the borrower’s own account;

b. Twenty (20) or more lenders at any one time;

c. Methods of borrowing: issuance, endorsement, or acceptance of debt instruments of any kind, other than deposits, such as:
   (1) acceptances;
   (2) promissory notes;
   (3) participations;
   (4) certificates of assignment or similar instruments with recourse;
   (5) trust certificates;
   (6) repurchase agreements; and
   (7) such other instruments as the Monetary Board may determine.

d. Purpose:
   (1) relending; or
   (2) purchasing receivables or other obligations.

As used in the definition of quasi-banking functions, the following terms and phrases shall be understood, as follows:

Borrowing shall refer to all forms of obtaining or raising funds through any of the methods and for any of the purposes provided in c and d above, whether the borrower’s liability thereby is treated as real or contingent.

For the borrower’s own account shall refer to the assumption of liability in one’s own capacity and not in representation, or as an agent or trustee, of another.

Purchasing of receivables or other obligations shall refer to the acquisition of claims collectible in money, including interbank borrowings or borrowings between financial institutions, or of securities, of any amount and maturity, from domestic or foreign sources.

Relending shall refer to the extension of loans by an institution with antecedent borrowing transactions. Relending shall be presumed in the absence of express stipulation, when the institution is regularly engaged in lending.

Regularly engaged in lending shall refer to the practice of extending loans, advances, discounts or rediscounts as a matter of business, i.e., continuous or consistent lending as distinguished from isolated lending transactions.

§ 4101Q.1 Financial intermediaries
Financial intermediaries shall mean persons or entities whose principal functions include the lending, investing or placement of funds or evidences of indebtedness or equity deposited with them, acquired by them, or otherwise coursed through them either for their own account or for the account of others.

Principal shall mean chief, main, most considerable or important, of first importance, leading, primary, foremost, dominant or preponderant, as distinguished from secondary or incidental.

Functions shall mean actions, activities or operations of a person or entity by which his/its business or purpose is fulfilled or carried out. The business or purpose of a person or entity may be determined from the purpose clause in its articles of incorporation/partnership, and from the nature of the business indicated in his/its application for registration of business filed with the appropriate government agency.
To be considered a financial intermediary, a person or entity must perform any of the following functions on a regular and recurring, not on an isolated basis:

a. Receive funds from one (1) group of persons, irrespective of number, through traditional deposits, or issuance of debt or equity securities; and make available/lend these funds to another person or entity, and in the process acquire debt or equity securities;

b. Use principally the funds received for acquiring various types of debt or equity securities;

c. Borrow against, or lend on, or buy or sell debt or equity securities;

d. Hold assets consisting principally of debt or equity securities such as promissory notes, bills of exchange, mortgages, stocks, bonds, and commercial papers;

e. Realize regular income in the nature of, but need not be limited to, interest, discounts, capital gains, underwriting fees, guarantees, fees, commissions, and service fees, principally from transactions in debt or equity securities or by being an intermediary between suppliers and users of funds.

Non-banking financial intermediaries shall include the following:

(1) A person or entity licensed and/or registered with any government regulatory body as a non-bank financial intermediary, such as investment house, investment company, financing company, securities dealer/broker, lending investor, pawnshop, money broker, fund manager, cooperative, insurance company, non-stock savings and loan association and building and loan association.

(2) A person or entity which holds itself out as a non-banking financial intermediary, such as by the use of a business name, which includes the term financing, finance, investment, lending and/or any word/phrase of similar import which connotes financial intermediation, or an entity which advertises itself as a financial intermediary and is engaged in the function(s) where financial intermediation is implied.

(3) A person or entity performing any of the functions enumerated in Items a to e of this Subsection.

§ 4101Q.2 Guidelines on lender count. The following guidelines shall govern lender count on borrowings or funds mobilized by non-bank financial intermediaries:

a. For purposes of ascertaining the number of lenders/placers to determine whether or not a non-bank financial intermediary is engaged in quasi-banking functions, the names of payees on the face of each debt instrument shall serve as the primary basis for counting the lenders/placers except when proof to the contrary is adduced such as the official receipts or documents other than the debt instrument itself. In such case the actual/real lenders/placers as appearing in such proof, shall be the basis for counting the number of lenders/placers.

In a debt instrument issued to two (2) or more named payees under an and/or arrangement, the number of payees appearing on the instrument shall be the basis for counting the number of lenders/placers: Provided, however, That a debt instrument issued in the name of a husband and wife followed by the word spouses, whether under an and, and/or or or arrangement or in the name of a designated payee under an in trust for (ITF) arrangement, shall be counted as one (1) borrowing/placement.

b. Each debt instrument payable to bearer shall be counted as one (1) lender/placer except when the non-bank financial intermediary can prove that there is only one (1) owner for several debt instruments so payable.
c. Two (2) or more debt instruments issued to the same payee, irrespective of the date and amount shall be counted as one (1) borrowing or placement.

d. Debt instruments underwritten by investment houses or traded by securities dealers/brokers whether on a firm, standby or best efforts basis shall be counted on the basis of the number of purchasers thereof and shall not be treated as having been issued solely to the underwriter or trader. Provided, however, That in case of unsold debt instruments in a firm commitment underwriting, the underwriter shall be counted as a lender.

e. Each buyer, assignee, and/or indorsee shall be counted in determining the number of lenders/placers of funds mobilized through sale, assignment, and/or indorsement of securities, or receivables on a without recourse basis, whenever the terms and/or attendant documentation, practice, or circumstances indicate that the sale, assignment, and/or indorsement thereof legally obligates the non-bank financial intermediary to repurchase or reacquire the securities/receivables sold, assigned, indorsed or to pay the buyer, assignee, or indorsee at some subsequent time.

C. MERGER/CONSOLIDATION

Sec. 4111Q Merger/Consolidation Involving Quasi-Banks. The merger/consolidation of QBs is encouraged to meet minimum capital requirements and to develop larger and stronger FIs. QBs which are investment houses are likewise encouraged to merge with banks to obtain authority to perform expanded commercial banking functions. Mergers/consolidations involving QBs shall comply with the provisions of applicable law and shall be subject to approval by the BSP.

For purposes of merger and consolidation of QBs, the following definitions shall apply:

a. Merger is the absorption of one (1) or more corporations by another existing corporation, which retains its identity and takes over the rights, privileges, franchises, and properties, and assumes all the liabilities and obligations of the absorbed corporation(s) in the same manner as if it had itself incurred such liabilities or obligations. The absorbing corporation continues its existence while the life or lives of the other corporation(s) is/are terminated.

b. Consolidation is the union of two (2) or more corporations into a single new corporation, called the consolidated corporation, all the constituent corporations thereby ceasing to exist as separate entities. The consolidated corporation shall thereupon and thereafter possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, franchises and properties, and assume all the liabilities and obligations of each of the constituent corporations in the same manner as if it had itself incurred such liabilities or obligations.

Sec. 4112Q Merger/Consolidation Incentives. In pursuance of the policy to promote mergers and consolidations among banks and other financial intermediaries as a means to develop larger and stronger FIs, constituent entities may, subject to BSP approval, avail themselves of any or all of the following incentives:

a. Revaluation of premises, improvements and equipment of the institutions: Provided, That such revaluation shall be based on fair valuation of the property conducted by a reputable appraisal company which shall be subject to review and approval by the BSP;
The following rules shall govern the revaluation of assets:

(1) The revaluation of the QB’s premises, improvements and equipment shall be allowed only to all institutions participating in a merger/consolidation if all of them belong to the same category, or at least two (2) of them belong to the highest category among the merging/consolidating institutions.
(2) In case the merging/consolidating institutions do not belong to the same category or only one (1) of them falls under the highest category, all of them may be allowed to revalue their premises, improvements and equipment: Provided, That the amount of appraisal increment resulting from such revaluation shall be limited to the amount of the total resources of the institution belonging to the lower category or categories.

(3) The appraisal increment resulting from the revaluation shall form part of capital for purposes of determining the single borrower’s limit and capital-to-risk assets ratio. The use of appraisal increment for cash dividend shall be governed by the provisions of the Corporation Code.

(4) The revaluation of premises, improvements, and equipment of the institution as well as the recognition of goodwill as an incentive to mergers/consolidations shall only be allowed if the following conditions are met:

(i) The surviving or consolidated entity will meet the existing capital requirements after all adjustments are taken up in the books of accounts of the merging/consolidating entities but before considering appraisal increments and goodwill, or there will be infusion of fresh capital to meet said existing capital requirements; and

(ii) The merger/consolidation will result in a more viable FI as a result of cost savings and improve competitive position.

In case of purchase or acquisition of the majority or all of the outstanding shares of stock of a QB, the same conditions must be satisfied.

b. Unbooked valuation reserves based upon BSP examination and other capital adjustments resulting from the merger/consolidation may be booked on staggered basis over a maximum period of five (5) years:

The following guidelines shall govern the staggered booking of valuation reserves:

(1) The booking on staggered basis over a maximum period of five (5) years of unbooked valuation reserves based upon examination by the BSP may be allowed to all institutions participating in a merger/consolidation if all of them belong to the same category, or at least two (2) of them belong to the highest category among the merging/consolidating institutions.

(2) In case the merging/consolidating institutions do not belong to the same category or only one (1) of them falls under the highest category, all of them may be allowed to book the required valuation reserves based upon examination by the BSP on a staggered basis over a maximum period of five (5) years: Provided, That the aggregate amount of the required valuation reserves shall be limited to the amount of the total resources of the institution belonging to the lower category or categories.

c. If by reason of merger/consolidation, the resulting QB is unable to comply fully with the prescribed net worth-to-risk assets ratio, the Monetary Board may, at its discretion, temporarily relieve the QB from full compliance with this requirement under such conditions as it may prescribe;

In the case of purchase or acquisition of majority or all of the outstanding shares of a QB by a bank/another QB, the revaluation of assets and the booking of the required valuation reserves based upon examination by the BSP over a period of five (5) years shall be allowed only if such purchase or acquisition is for the purpose of rehabilitating the former QB: Provided, That the revaluation of assets and staggered booking of reserves shall be allowed in full only if the purchaser is another QB and both the QBs belong to the same category. Otherwise, only the QB being acquired/rehabilitated shall be allowed to recognize in full the appraisal increment resulting from revaluation of assets and to book valuation reserves on a staggered basis, while in the case of the acquiring bank/QB, the appraisal increment resulting from revaluation of assets and the privilege of staggered booking of valuation reserves shall each be limited to the amount of the total resources of the QB being acquired/rehabilitated.

d. Conversion or upgrading of the existing head offices, branches and/or other offices of the merged/absorbed institutions into branches of the new or surviving FI;

e. (Deleted by Cir. 494 dated 20 Sept. 2005)

f. Relocation of branches/offices may be allowed within one (1) year from date of merger/consolidation in cases where the merger/consolidation resulted in duplication of branches/offices in a service area, or in such other cases/circumstances as the Monetary Board may prescribe;

g. Outstanding penalties in legal reserve deficiencies and interest on overdrafts with the BSP as of the date of merger/consolidation may be paid in installments over a period of one (1) year;

h. Restructuring/plan of payment of past due obligations of the proponents with the BSP as of the date of merger/consolidation over a period not exceeding ten (10) years;

i. Subject to approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent officerships between a merged/consolidated bank/FI and another bank/FI may be allowed; and

j. Any right or privilege granted a merging bank under a rehabilitation program previously approved by the Monetary Board or under any special authority previously granted by the Monetary Board shall continue to be in effect.

The revaluation of assets and staggered booking of valuation reserves shall be available for a period of two (2) years from 19 February 1999 while the rest of the incentives enumerated under Sec. 4112Q shall be available for a period of three (3) years from 31 August 1998.

The foregoing incentives may also be granted in cases of purchases or acquisitions of majority or all of the outstanding shares of stock of a QB.

This shall apply to commitments with an original maturity of up to one (1) year. This shall also apply to those not involving credit risk, and shall include—
(a) Items held for safekeeping/custodianship;
(b) Trust department accounts;
(c) Items held as collaterals; etc.

Second, the credit equivalent amount shall be treated like any on-balance sheet asset and shall be assigned the appropriate risk weight, i.e., according to the obligor, or if relevant, the qualified guarantor or the nature of collateral.

c. Derivative contracts. The credit equivalent amount shall be the sum of the current credit exposure (or replacement cost) and an estimate of the potential future credit exposure (or add-on): Provided, That the following shall not be included in the computation:

(1) Instruments which are traded on exchange where they are subject to daily receipt and payment of cash variation margin; and

(2) Exchange rate contracts with original maturity of fourteen (14) calendar days or less.

The potential future credit exposure shall be the product of the notional principal amount of the contract multiplied by the appropriate potential future credit conversion factor, as indicated below:

Provided, That for contracts with multiple exchanges of principal, the factors are to be multiplied by the number of remaining payments in the contract: Provided, further, That for contracts that are structured to settle outstanding exposure following specified payment dates and where the terms are reset such that the market value of the contract is zero on these specified dates, the residual maturity would be set equal to the time until the next reset date, and in the case of interest rate contracts with remaining maturities of more than one (1) year that meet these criteria, the potential future credit conversion factor is subject to a floor of five tenths percent (0.5%): Provided, furthermore, That no potential future credit exposure shall be calculated for single currency floating/floating interest rate swaps, i.e., the credit exposure on these contracts would be evaluated solely on the basis of their mark-to-market value.

The credit equivalent amount shall be treated like any on-balance sheet asset, and shall be assigned the appropriate risk weight, i.e., according to the obligor, or if relevant, the qualified guarantor or the nature of collateral: Provided, That a fifty percent (50%) risk weight shall be applied in respect of obligors which would otherwise attract a 100% risk weight.

The extent to which a claim is guaranteed/collateralized shall be determined by the amount of guarantee/current market value of securities pledged, in comparison with the book value of the on-balance sheet asset or the notional principal amount of the off-balance sheet exposure, except for derivative contracts, for which determination is generally made in relation to credit equivalent amount.

The foregoing qualifications for directors shall be in addition to those required or prescribed under R.A. No. 8791 and other existing applicable laws and regulations.

§ 4141Q.3 Powers/responsibilities and duties of board of directors and directors

a. Powers of the board of directors. The corporate powers of a quasi-bank/trust entity shall be exercised, its business conducted and all its property shall be controlled and held by its board of directors. The powers of the board of directors as conferred by law are original and cannot be revoked by the stockholders. The directors hold their office charged with the duty to act for the quasi-bank/trust entity in accordance with their best judgment.

b. General responsibility of the board of directors. The position of a quasi-bank/trust entity director is a position of trust. A director assumes certain responsibilities to different constituencies or stakeholders, i.e., the quasi-bank/trust entity itself, its stockholders, its clients and other creditors, its management and employees, and the public at large. These constituencies or stakeholders have the right to expect that the institution is being run in a prudent and sound manner.

The board of directors is primarily responsible for the corporate governance of the quasi-bank/trust entity. To ensure good governance of the quasi-bank/trust entity, the board of directors should establish strategic objectives, policies and procedures that will guide and direct the activities of the quasi-bank/trust entity and the means to attain the same as well as the mechanism for monitoring management's performance. While the management of the day-to-day affairs of the institution is the responsibility of the management team, the board of directors is, however, responsible for monitoring and overseeing management action.

c. Specific duties and responsibilities of the board of directors

(1) To select and appoint officers who are qualified to administer the quasi-bank's/trust entity's affairs effectively and soundly and to establish adequate selection process for all personnel. It is the primary responsibility of the board of directors to appoint competent management team at all times. The board of directors should apply fit and proper standards on key personnel. Integrity, technical expertise and experience in the institution’s business, either current or planned, should be the key considerations in the selection process. And because mutual trust and a close working relationship are important, the board’s choice should share its general operating philosophy and vision for the institution. The board of directors shall establish an appropriate compensation package for all personnel which shall be consistent with the interest of all stakeholders.

(2) To establish objectives and draw up a business strategy for achieving them. Consistent with the institution’s objectives, business plans should be established to direct its ongoing activities. The board should ensure that performance against plan is regularly reviewed, with corrective action taken as needed.

(3) To conduct the affairs of the institution with high degree of integrity. Since reputation is a very valuable asset, it is in the institution’s best interest that in dealings with the public, it observes a high standard of integrity. The board of directors should prescribe corporate values, codes of conduct and other standards of appropriate behaviour for itself, the senior management and other employees. Among others, activities and transactions that could result or potentially result in conflict of interest, personal gain at the expense of the institution, or unethical conduct shall be strictly prohibited. It should provide policies that will prevent the use of the facilities of the quasi-bank/trust entity in furtherance of criminal and other illegal activities.

(5) To prescribe a clear assignment of responsibilities and decision-making authorities, incorporating a hierarchy of required approvals from individuals to the board of directors. The board should establish in writing the limits of the discretionary powers of each officer, committee, sub-committee and such other group for the purpose of lending, investing or committing the quasi-bank/trust entity to any financial undertaking or exposure to risk at any time. The board should have a schedule of matters and authorities reserved to it for decision, such as major capital expenditures, equity investments and divestments.

(6) To effectively supervise the quasi-bank/trust entity's affairs. As quasi-banks/trust entities are entrusted with the handling and investment of public funds, the supervision required from the board involves a higher degree of wisdom, prudence, good business judgment and competence than that of directors of ordinary companies. Although directors may delegate certain authority to senior officers, it is their responsibility to supervise and be responsible for the institution’s sound management, as well as its problems. The board of directors should establish a system of checks and balances which applies in the first instance to the board itself. Among the members of the board, an effective system of checks and balances must exist. The system should also provide a mechanism for effective check and control by the board over the chief executive officer and key managers and by the latter over the line officers of the quasi-bank/trust entity.

(7) To monitor, assess and control the performance of management. The board shall put in place an appropriate reporting system so that it is provided with relevant and timely information to be able to effectively assess the performance of management. For this purpose, it may constitute a governance committee.

(8) To adopt and maintain adequate risk management policy. The board of directors shall be responsible for the formulation and maintenance of written policies and procedures relating to the management of risks throughout the institution. The risk management policy shall include:
(a) a comprehensive risk management approach;
(b) a detailed structure of limits, guidelines and other parameters used to govern risk-taking;
(c) a clear delineation of lines of responsibilities for managing risk;
(d) an adequate system for measuring risk; and
(e) effective internal controls and a comprehensive risk-reporting process.

The board may constitute a committee for this purpose.

(9) To constitute the following committees:
(a) Audit committee. The audit committee shall be composed of members of the board of directors, at least two (2) of whom shall be independent directors, including the chairman, preferably with accounting, auditing, or related financial management expertise or experience. The audit committee provides oversight of the institution’s financial reporting and control and internal and external audit functions. It shall be responsible for the setting up of the internal audit department and for the appointment of the internal auditor as well as the independent external auditor who shall both report directly to the audit committee. It shall monitor and evaluate the adequacy and effectiveness of the internal control system.

Upon setting up the audit committee, the board of directors shall draw up a written charter or terms of reference which clearly sets out the audit committee’s authority and duties, as well as the reporting relationship with the board of directors. This charter shall be approved by the board of directors and reviewed and updated periodically.

The audit committee shall have explicit authority to investigate any matter within its terms of reference, full access to and cooperation by management and full discretion to invite any director or executive officer to attend its meetings, and adequate resources to enable it to effectively discharge its functions.

The audit committee shall ensure that a review of the effectiveness of the institution’s internal controls, including financial, operational and compliance controls, and risk management, is conducted at least annually.

The Audit Committee shall establish and maintain mechanisms by which officers and staff may, in confidence, raise concerns about possible improprieties or malpractices in matters of financial reporting, internal control, auditing or other issues to persons or entities that have the power to take corrective action. It shall ensure that arrangements are in place for the independent investigation, appropriate follow-up action, and subsequent resolution of complaints.

(b) Corporate governance committee. The corporate governance committee shall assist the board of directors in fulfilling its corporate governance responsibilities. It shall review and evaluate the qualifications of all persons nominated to the board as well as those nominated to other positions requiring appointment by the board of directors. The committee shall be composed of at least three (3) members of the board of directors, two (2) of whom shall be independent directors.

The corporate governance committee shall have a written charter that describes the duties and responsibilities of its members. This charter shall be approved by the board of directors and reviewed and updated at least annually.

The committee shall be responsible for ensuring the board’s effectiveness and due observance of corporate governance principles and guidelines. It shall oversee the periodic performance evaluation of the board and its committees and executive management; and shall also conduct an annual self-evaluation of its performance. The committee shall also decide whether or not a director is able to and has been adequately carrying out his/her duties as director bearing in mind the director’s contribution and performance (e.g., competence, candor, attendance, preparedness and participation). Internal guidelines shall be adopted that address the competing time commitments that are faced when directors serve on multiple boards.

The committee shall make recommendations to the board regarding the continuing education of directors, assignment to board committees, succession plan for the board members and senior officers, and their remuneration commensurate with corporate and individual performance.

The corporate governance committee shall decide the manner by which the board’s performance may be evaluated and propose an objective performance criteria approved by the board. Such performance indicators shall address how the board has enhanced long term shareholders’ value.

(c) Risk management committee. The risk management committee shall be responsible for the development and oversight of the institution’s risk management program. The committee shall be composed of at least three (3) members of the board of directors who shall possess a range of expertise as well as adequate knowledge of the institution’s risk exposures to be able to develop appropriate strategies for preventing losses and minimizing the impact of losses when they occur. It shall oversee the system of limits to discretionary authority that the board delegates to management, ensure that the system remains effective, that the limits are observed and that immediate corrective actions are taken whenever limits are breached.

The risk management committee shall have a written charter that defines the duties and responsibilities of its members. The charter shall be approved by the board of directors and reviewed and refined periodically.

The core responsibility of the risk management committee are:

(i) Identify and evaluate exposures. The committee shall assess the probability of each risk becoming reality and shall estimate its possible effect and cost. Priority areas of concern are those risks that are the most likely to occur and are costly when they happen.

(ii) Develop risk management strategies. The risk management committee shall develop a written plan defining the strategies for managing and controlling the major risks. It shall identify practical strategies to reduce the chance of harm and failure or minimize losses if the risk becomes real.

(iii) Implement the risk management plan. The risk management committee shall communicate the risk management plan and loss control procedures to affected parties. The committee shall conduct regular discussions on the institution’s current risk exposure based on regular management reports and direct concerned units or offices on how to reduce these risks.

(iv) Review and revise the plan as needed. The committee shall evaluate the risk management plan to ensure its continued relevancy, comprehensiveness, and effectiveness. It shall revisit strategies, look for emerging or changing exposures, and stay abreast of developments that affect the likelihood of harm or loss. The committee shall report regularly to the board of directors the entity’s over-all risk exposure, actions taken to reduce the risks, and recommend further action or plans as necessary.

(10) To meet regularly. To properly discharge its function, the board of directors shall meet regularly. Independent views in board meetings shall be given full consideration and all such meetings shall be duly minuted.

The meetings of the board of directors may be conducted through modern technologies such as, but not limited to, teleconferencing and video-conferencing as long as the director who is taking part in said meetings can actively participate in the deliberations on matters taken up therein: Provided, That every member of the board shall be physically present in at least fifty percent (50%) of all board meetings in every year.

(11) To keep the individual members of the board and the shareholders informed. It is the duty of the board to present to all its members and to the shareholders a balanced and understandable assessment of the quasi-bank/trust entity’s performance and financial condition. It should also provide appropriate information that flows internally and to the public. All members of the board shall have reasonable access to any information about the institution.

(12) To ensure that the quasi-bank/trust entity has beneficial influence on the economy. The board has a continuing responsibility to provide those services and facilities which will be supportive of the national economy.

(13) To assess at least annually its performance and effectiveness as a body, as well as its various committees, the chief executive officer and the quasi-bank/trust entity itself. The composition of the board shall also be reviewed regularly with the end in view of having a balanced membership. Towards this end, a system and procedure for evaluation shall be adopted which may include, but not limited to, the setting of benchmark and peer group analysis.

(14) To keep their authority within the powers of the institution as prescribed in the articles of incorporation, charter, by-laws and in existing laws, rules and regulations. To conduct and maintain the affairs of the institution within the scope of its authority as prescribed in its charter and in existing laws, rules and regulations, the board shall appoint a compliance officer who shall be responsible for coordinating, monitoring and facilitating compliance with existing laws, rules and regulations. The compliance officer shall be vested with appropriate authority and provided with appropriate support and resources. It may also constitute a compliance committee.

If the directors carry the institution into a transaction outside the scope of the business agreed upon in the articles, with resulting loss to the institution, they may be called upon to reimburse the institution for that loss. If directors willfully do an act, which they know or ought to know to be unauthorized, they are clearly liable to the institution for resulting damages.
d. Specific duties and responsibilities of a director

(1) To conduct fair business transactions with the quasi-bank/trust entity and to ensure that personal interest does not bias board decisions. A director should, whenever possible, avoid situations that would give rise to a conflict of interest. If transactions with the institution cannot be avoided, it should be done in the regular course of business and upon terms not less favorable to the institution than those offered to others. The basic principle to be observed is that a director should not use his position to make profit or to acquire benefit or advantage for himself and/or his related interests. He should avoid situations that would compromise his impartiality.

(2) To act honestly and in good faith, with loyalty and in the best interest of the institution, its stockholders, regardless of the amount of their stockholdings, and other stakeholders such as its investors, borrowers, other clients and the general public. A director must always act in good faith, with the care which an ordinarily prudent man would exercise under similar circumstances. While a director should always strive to promote the interest of all stockholders, he should also give due regard to the rights and interests of other stakeholders.

(3) To devote time and attention necessary to properly discharge his duties and responsibilities. A director should devote sufficient time to familiarize himself with the institution’s business. He must be constantly aware of the institution’s condition and be knowledgeable enough to contribute meaningfully to the board’s work. He must attend and actively participate in board and committee meetings, request and review meeting materials, ask questions, and request explanations and be familiar with audits and supervisory communications. If a person cannot give sufficient time and attention to the affairs of the institution, he should neither accept his nomination nor run for election as member of the board.

(4) To act judiciously. Before deciding on any matter brought before the board of directors, every director should thoroughly evaluate the issues, ask questions and seek clarifications when necessary.

(5) To exercise independent judgment. A director should view each problem/situation objectively. When a disagreement with others occurs, he should carefully evaluate the situation and state his position. He should not be afraid to take a position even though it might be unpopular. Corollarily, he should support plans and ideas that he thinks will be beneficial to the institution.

(6) To be generally informed of both the quasi-bank’s/trust entity’s business environment and legal and regulatory framework controlling its activities. A director should have a working knowledge of the statutory and regulatory requirements affecting the institution, including the content of its articles of incorporation and by-laws, the requirements of the BSP and where applicable, the requirements of other regulatory agencies and must exercise care to see that these are not violated. He should also keep himself informed of the industry developments and business trends in order to safeguard the institution’s competitiveness.

(7) To observe confidentiality. A director must observe the confidentiality of non-public information acquired by reason of his position as director. He may not disclose said information to any other person without the authority of the board.

(9) Those under preventive suspension;

(10) Persons with derogatory records as certified by, or on the official files of, the judiciary, NBI, Philippine National Police (PNP), quasi-judicial bodies, other government agencies, international police, monetary authorities and similar agencies or authorities of foreign countries for irregularities or violations of any law, rules and regulations that would adversely affect the integrity of the director/trustee/officer or the ability to effectively discharge his duties. This disqualification applies until they have cleared themselves of the alleged irregularities/violations or after a lapse of five (5) years from the time the complaint, which was the basis of the derogatory record, was initiated;

(11) Directors/trustees and officers of QBs found by the Monetary Board as administratively liable for violation of banking laws, rules and regulations where a penalty of suspension from office or fine is imposed, regardless whether the finding of the Monetary Board is final and executory or pending appeal before the appellate court, unless execution or enforcement thereof is restrained by the court. The disqualification shall be in effect during the period of suspension or so long as the fine is not fully paid.

a. The disqualifications for directors/trustees mentioned in Subsec. 4143Q.1 shall likewise apply to officers, except those stated in Items "b(2)" and "b(7)".

b. Except as may be authorized by the Monetary Board or the Governor, the spouse or a relative within the second degree of consanguinity or affinity of any person holding the position of chairman, president, executive vice president or any position of equivalent rank, general manager, treasurer, chief cashier or chief accountant is disqualified from holding or being elected or appointed to any of said positions in the same QB/trust entity; and the spouse or relative within the second degree of consanguinity or affinity of any person holding the position of manager, cashier, or accountant of a branch or office of a QB/trust entity is disqualified from holding or being appointed to any of said positions in the same branch or office.

confirmed by the confirming authority under Subsec. 4141Q.4 and shall be removed from office even if he/she assumed the position to which he/she was elected or appointed. Confirmed director/trustee/officer or officer not requiring confirmation possessing any of the disqualifications, as enumerated in the abovementioned subsections shall be subject to the disqualification procedures provided under Subsec. 4143Q.4. Director/trustee/officer, prior to assuming the position to which he/she was elected/appointed, must submit to the appropriate department of the SES a verified statement that he/she has all the aforesaid qualifications and none of the disqualifications. The submission of verified statement will apply to directors/trustees/officers elected/appointed after 14 March 2006.

a. The board of directors/trustees and management of every institution shall be responsible for determining the existence of the ground for disqualification of the institution’s director/trustee/officer or employee and for reporting the same to the BSP. While the concerned institution may conduct its own investigation and impose appropriate sanction/s as are allowable, this shall be without prejudice to the authority of the Monetary Board to disqualify a director/trustee/officer/employee from being elected/appointed as director/trustee/officer in any FI under the supervision of the BSP. Grounds for disqualification made known to the institution, shall be reported to the appropriate department of the SES within seventy-two (72) hours from knowledge thereof.

b. On the basis of knowledge and evidence on the existence of any of the grounds for disqualification mentioned in Subsecs. 4143Q.1 and 4143Q.2, the director/trustee or officer concerned shall be notified in writing either by personal service or through registered mail with registry return receipt card at his/her last known address by the appropriate department of the SES of the existence of the ground for his/her disqualification and shall be allowed to submit within fifteen (15) calendar days from receipt of such notice an explanation on why he/she should not be disqualified and included in the watchlisted file, together with the evidence in support of his/her position. The head of said department may allow an extension on meritorious ground.

c. Upon receipt of the reply/explanation of the director/trustee/officer concerned, the appropriate department of the SES shall proceed to evaluate the case. The director/trustee/officer concerned shall be afforded the opportunity to defend/clear himself/herself.

d. If no reply has been received from the director/trustee/officer concerned upon the expiration of the period prescribed under Item "b" above, said failure to reply shall be deemed a waiver and the appropriate department of the SES shall proceed to evaluate the case based on available records/evidence.

e. If the ground for disqualification is delinquency in the payment of obligation, the concerned director/trustee or officer shall be given a period of thirty (30) calendar days within which to settle said obligation or, restore it to its current status or, to explain why he/she should not be disqualified and included in the watchlisted file, before the evaluation on his disqualification and watchlisting is elevated to the Monetary Board.

f. For directors/trustees/officers of closed banks, the concerned department of the SES shall make appropriate recommendation to the Monetary Board clearing said directors/trustees/officers when there is no pending case/complaint or evidence against them. When there is evidence that a director/trustee/officer has committed irregularity, the appropriate department of the SES shall make recommendation to the Monetary Board that his/her case be referred to the Office of Special Investigation (OSI) for further investigation and that he/she be included in the masterlist of temporarily disqualified persons until the final resolution of his/her case. Directors/trustees/officers with pending cases/complaints shall also be included in said masterlist of temporarily disqualified persons upon approval by the Monetary Board until the final resolution of their cases. If the director/trustee/officer is cleared from involvement in any irregularity, the appropriate department of the SES shall recommend to the Monetary Board his/her delisting. On the other hand, if the director/trustee/officer concerned is found to be responsible for the closure of the institution, the concerned department of the SES shall recommend to the Monetary Board his/her delisting from the masterlist of permanently disqualified persons.

h. If the disqualification is based on dismissal from employment for cause, the appropriate department of the SES shall, as much as practicable, endeavor to establish the specific acts or omissions constituting the offense or the ultimate facts which resulted in the dismissal to be able to determine if the disqualification of the director/trustee/officer concerned is warranted or not. The evaluation of the case shall be made for the purpose of determining if disqualification would be appropriate and not for the purpose of passing judgment on the findings and decision of the entity concerned. The appropriate department of the SES may decide to recommend to the Monetary Board a penalty lower than disqualification (e.g., reprimand, suspension, etc.) if, in its judgment the act committed or omitted by the director/trustee/officer concerned does not warrant disqualification.

i. All other cases of disqualification, whether permanent or temporary shall be elevated to the Monetary Board for approval and shall be subject to the procedures provided in Items "a", "b", "c" and "d" above.

j. Upon approval by the Monetary Board, the concerned director/trustee/officer shall be informed by the appropriate department of the SES in writing either by personal service or through registered mail with registry return receipt card, at his/her last known address of his/her disqualification from being elected/appointed as director/trustee/officer in any FI under the supervision of BSP and/or of his/her inclusion in the masterlist of watchlisted persons so disqualified.

k. The board of directors/trustees of the concerned institution shall be immediately informed of cases of disqualification approved by the Monetary Board and shall be directed to act thereon not later than the following board meeting. Within seventy-two (72) hours thereafter, the corporate secretary shall report to the Governor of the BSP through the appropriate department of the SES the action taken by the board on the director/trustee/officer involved.

l. Persons who are elected or appointed as director/trustee or officer in any of the BSP-supervised institutions for the first time but are subject to any of the grounds for disqualification provided for under Subsecs. 4143Q.1 and 4143Q.2, shall be afforded the procedural due process prescribed above.

m. Whenever a director/trustee/officer is cleared in the process mentioned under Item "c" above or, when the ground for disqualification ceases to exist, he/she would be eligible to become director/trustee or officer of any bank, Q&F, trust entity or any institution under the supervision of the BSP only upon prior approval by the Monetary Board. It shall be the responsibility of the appropriate department of the SES to elevate to the Monetary Board the lifting of the disqualification of the concerned director/trustee/officer and his/her delisting from the masterlist of watchlisted persons.

§ 4143Q.5 Watchlisting. To provide the BSP with a central information file to be used as reference in passing upon and reviewing the qualifications of persons elected or appointed as director/trustee or officer of a bank, Q&F or trust entity, the SES shall maintain a watchlist of persons disqualified to be a director/trustee or officer of such entities under its supervision under the following procedures:

a. Watchlist categories. Watchlisting shall be categorized as follows:

(1) Disqualification File “A” (Permanent)

- Directors/trustees/officers/employees permanently disqualified by the Monetary Board from holding a director/trustee/officer position.

(2) Disqualification File “B” (Temporary)

- Directors/trustees/officers/employees temporarily disqualified by the Monetary Board from holding a director/trustee/officer position.

b. Inclusion of directors/trustees/officers/employees in the watchlist. Directors/trustees/officers/employees disqualified under Subsec. 4143Q.4 included in the watchlist disqualification files “A” or “B”.

c. Confidentiality. Watchlist files shall be for internal use only of the BSP and may not be accessed or queried upon by outside parties including banks, Q&Fs and trust entities except with the authority of the person concerned and with the approval of the Deputy Governor, SES or the Governor or the Monetary Board. BSP will disclose information on its watchlist files only upon submission of a duly accomplished and notarized authorization from the concerned person and approval of such request by the Deputy Governor, SES or the Governor or the Monetary Board. The prescribed authorization form to be submitted to the concerned department of SES is Appendix Q-45.

Q&Fs can gain access to information in the said watchlist for the sole purpose of screening their applicants for hiring and/or confirming their elected directors/trustees and appointed officers. Q&Fs must obtain the said authorization on an individual basis.

d. Delisting. All delistings shall be approved by the Monetary Board upon recommendation of the operating departments of SES except in cases of persons known to be dead where delisting shall be automatic upon proof of death and need not be elevated to the Monetary Board. Delisting may be approved by the Monetary Board in the following cases:

(1) Watchlist - Disqualification File “B” (Temporary)

(a) After the lapse of the specific period of disqualification;

(b) When the conviction by the court for crimes involving dishonesty, breach of trust and/or violation of banking law becomes final and executory, in which case the director/trustee/officer/employee is relisted to Watchlist - Disqualification File “A” (Permanent); and

(c) Upon favorable decision or clearance by the appropriate body, i.e., court, NBI, BSP, bank, Q&F, trust entity or such other agency/body where the concerned individual had derogatory record.

Directors/trustees/officers/employees delisted from the Watchlist.
07.12.31

- Disqualification File “B” other than those upgraded to Watchlist
- Disqualification File “A” shall be eligible for re-employment with any bank, QB or trust entity.

§ 4143Q.6 Prohibition against foreign officers/employees of financing companies
Except in the case of technical personnel whose employment may be specifically authorized by the Secretary of Justice, foreigners cannot be officers or employees of financing companies.

Sec. 4144Q Interlocking Directorships and/or Officerships. In order to safeguard against the excessive concentration of economic power, unfair competitive advantage or conflict of interest situations to the detriment of others through the exercise by the same person or group of persons of undue influence over the policy-making and/or management functions of similar FIs while at the same time allowing banks, QBs and NBFIs without quasi-banking functions to benefit from organizational synergy or economies of scale and effective sharing of managerial and technical expertise, the following regulations shall govern interlocking directorships and/or officerships within the financial system consisting of banks, QBs and NBFIs.

For purposes of this Section, QBs shall refer to investment houses, finance companies, trust entities and all other NBFIs with quasi-banking functions while NBFIs shall refer to investment houses (IHs), finance companies, trust entities, insurance companies, securities dealers/brokers, credit card companies, non-stock savings and loan associations (NSSLAs), holding companies, investment companies, government NBFIs, asset management companies, insurance agencies/brokers, venture capital corporations, foreign exchange (FX) dealers, money changers, lending investors, pawnshops, fund managers, mutual building and loan associations, remittance agents and all other NBFIs without quasi-banking functions.

a. Interlocking directorships
While concurrent directorship may be the least prejudicial of the various relationships cited in this Section to the interests of the FIs involved, certain measures are still necessary to safeguard against the disadvantages that could result from indiscriminate concurrent directorship.

(1) Except as may be authorized by the Monetary Board or as otherwise provided hereunder, there shall be no concurrent directorships between QBs or between a QB and a bank; and

(2) Without the need for prior approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent directorships between entities not involving an investment house shall be allowed in the following cases:
   (a) A QB and a bank without quasi-banking functions; and
   (b) A bank and one (1) or more of its subsidiary bank/s, QB/s, and NBFI/s; and
   (c) A QB and an NBFI.

For purposes of the foregoing, a husband and his wife shall be considered as one (1) person.

b. Interlocking directorships and officerships
In order to prevent any conflict of interest resulting from the exercise of directorship coupled with the reinforcing influence of an officer’s decision-making and implementing powers, the following rules shall be observed.

(1) Except as may be authorized by the Monetary Board or as otherwise provided hereunder, there shall be no concurrent directorship and officership between QBs, or between a QB and a bank, and between a QB and an NBFI.
Without the need for prior approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent directorship and officership between a bank and one (1) or more of its subsidiary bank/s, QB/s, and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s, shall be allowed.

c. Interlocking officerships

A concurrent officership in different FIs may present more serious problems of self-dealing and conflict of interest. Multiple positions may result in poor governance or unfair competitive advantage. Considering the full-time nature of officer positions, the difficulties of serving two (2) offices at the same time, and the need for effective and efficient management, the following rules shall be observed:

As a general rule, there shall be no concurrent officerships, including secondments, between QBs or between a QB and a bank or between a QB and an NBFI. For this purpose, secondment shall refer to the transfer/detachment of a person from his regular organization for temporary assignment elsewhere where the seconded employee remains the employee of the home employer although his salaries and other remuneration may be borne by the host organization.

However, subject to prior approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent officerships, including secondments, may be allowed in the following cases:

1. Between a QB, other than an investment house, and not more than two (2) of its subsidiary bank/s, QB/s, and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s; or
2. Between two (2) QBs, or between a QB, other than an investment house, and a bank, or between a QB and an NBFI: Provided, That at least twenty percent (20%) of the equity of each of the banks, QBs or NBFI/s is owned by a holding company or a QB/bank and the interlocking arrangement is necessary for the holding company or the QB/bank to provide technical expertise or managerial assistance to its subsidiaries/affiliates.

3. Between a QB and not more than two (2) of its subsidiary QB/s, and NBFI/s; or
4. Between a bank and not more than two (2) of its subsidiary bank/s, QB/s, and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s; or
5. Between a bank and not more than two (2) of its subsidiary QB/s, and NBFI/s.

Aforementioned concurrent officerships may be allowed, subject to the following conditions:

a. That the positions do not involve any functional conflict of interests;

b. That any officer holding the positions of president, chief executive officer, chief operating officer or chief financial officer may not be concurrently appointed to any of said positions or their equivalent;

c. That the officer involved, or his spouse or any of his relatives within the first degree of consanguinity or affinity or by legal adoption, or a corporation, association or firm wholly- or majority-owned or controlled by such officer or his relatives enumerated above, does not own in his/its own capacity more than twenty percent (20%) of the subscribed capital stock of the entities in which the QB has equity investments; and

d. That where any of the positions involved is held on full-time basis, adequate justification shall be submitted to the Monetary Board.

(6) Concurrent officership position in the same capacity which do not involve management functions, i.e., internal auditors, corporate secretary, assistant corporate secretary and security officer, between a QB and one or more of its subsidiary QB/s and NBFI/s, or between a bank and one or more of its subsidiary QBs and NBFI/s, or between bank/s, QB/s and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s: Provided, That at least twenty percent (20%) of the equity of each of the banks, QBs and NBFI/s is owned by a holding company or by any of the banks/QBs within the group.
For purposes of this Section, members of a group or committee, including sub-groups or sub-committees, whose duties include functions of management such as those ordinarily performed by regular officers, shall likewise be considered as officers.

It shall be the responsibility of the Corporate Governance Committee to conduct an annual performance evaluation of the board of directors/trustees and senior management. When a director/trustee or officer has multiple positions, the Committee should determine whether or not said director/trustee or officer is able to and has been adequately carrying out his/her duties and, if necessary, recommend changes to the board based upon said performance review.

§ 4144Q.1 Representatives of government. The provisions of this Subsection shall apply to persons appointed to such positions as representatives of the government or government-owned or controlled entities unless otherwise provided under existing laws.

(As amended by Circular No. 592 dated 28 December 2007)

Sec. 4145Q Profit Sharing of Directors/Trustees/Officers and Employees. Profit sharing programs adopted in favor of directors/trustees/officers and employees shall be reflected in the by-laws of QBs, subject to the following guidelines:

a. The base in any profit sharing program shall be the net income for the year of the QB, as shown in its Consolidated Statement of Income and Expenses for the year, net of the following:

(1) All cumulative dividends accruing to preferred stock to the extent not covered by earned surplus;

(2) Accrued interest receivable credited to income but not yet collected, net of reserves already set up for uncollected interest on loans;

(3) Unbooked valuation reserves on loans or an amount required to update valuation reserves in accordance with the schedule approved by the Monetary Board, as well as all amortizations due on deferred charges;

(4) Provisions for the current year’s taxes;

(5) Income tax deferred for the year: Provided, however, That in case of reversal of deferred income taxes excluded from net income in previous years’ profit sharings, the deferred income tax reversed to expense shall be added back to net income to arrive at the basis for profit sharing for the year during which the reversal is made;

(6) Accumulated profits not yet received but already recorded by a QB representing its share in profits of its subsidiaries under the equity method of accounting; and

b. The QB may provide in its by-laws for other priorities in the computation of net profits for purposes of profit sharing: Provided, That in no case shall profit sharing take precedence over any of the items in the preceding paragraph.

Sec. 4146Q Monetary Board Confirmation of Directors/Trustees and Senior Officers. The election/appointment of directors/trustees and officers with the rank of senior vice-president and up shall require confirmation by the Monetary Board.

The election/appointment of the directors/trustees and such officers shall be deemed to have been confirmed by the Monetary Board if after sixty (60) business days from receipt of the reports required in Appendix Q-3 by the BSP, no advice against said election/appointment has been received by the QB concerned.

If the Monetary Board finds grounds for disqualification, the director/trustee/officer so elected/appointed may be removed from office even if he/she has assumed the position to which he/she was elected/appointed pursuant to Section 9-A of R.A. No. 337, as amended.

Sec. 4147Q Compensation and Other Benefits of Directors/Trustees and Officers. To protect the funds of creditors, the Monetary Board may regulate/restrict the payment by the QB/trust entity of compensation, allowances, fees, bonuses, stock options, profit sharing and fringe benefits to its directors/trustees and officers in exceptional cases and when the circumstances warrant, such as, but not limited to, the following:

a. When the QB/trust entity is under controllership, conservatorship or when it has outstanding emergency loans and advances and such other forms of credit accommodation from the BSP which are intended to provide it with liquidity in times of need;

b. When the institution is found by the Monetary Board to be conducting business in an unsafe or unsound manner;

c. When it is found by the Monetary Board to be in an unsatisfactory financial condition such as, but not limited to, the following cases:

(1) Its capital is impaired;

(2) It has suffered continuous losses from operations for the past three (3) years;

(3) Its composite CAMELS rating in the latest examination is below “3”; and

(4) It is under rehabilitation by the BSP/PDIC which rehabilitation may include debt-to-equity conversion, etc.

In the presence of any one (1) or more of the circumstances mentioned above, the Monetary Board may impose the following restrictions in the compensation and other benefits of directors and officers:

a. In the case of profit sharing, the provision of Sec. 4145Q shall be observed except that for purposes of this Section, the total amount of unbooked valuation reserves and deferred charges shall be deducted from the net income.

b. Except for the financial assistance to meet expenses for the medical, maternity, education and other emergency needs of the directors/trustees or officers or their immediate family, the other forms of financial assistance may be suspended.

c. When the total compensation package including salaries, allowances, fees and bonuses of directors/trustees and officers are significantly excessive as compared with peer group averages, the Monetary Board may order their reduction to reasonable levels: Provided, That even if a QB/trust entity is in financial trouble, it may nevertheless be allowed to grant relatively higher salary packages in order to attract competent officers and quality staff as part of its rehabilitation program.

The foregoing provisions founded on Section 18 of R.A. No. 8791 shall be deemed part of the benefits and compensation programs of quasi-banks/trust entities.

Sec. 4148Q (Reserved)

Sec. 4149Q Conducting Business in an Unsafe/Unsound Manner. Whether a particular activity may be considered as conducting business in an unsafe or unsound manner, all relevant facts must be considered. An analysis of the impact thereof on the quasi-bank/trust entity's operations and financial conditions must be undertaken, including evaluation of capital position, asset condition, management, earnings posture and liquidity position.

In determining whether a particular act or omission, which is not otherwise prohibited by any law, rule or regulation affecting quasi-banks/trust entities, may be deemed as conducting business in an unsafe or unsound manner, the Monetary Board, upon report of the head of the supervising or examining department based on findings in an examination or a complaint, shall consider any of the following circumstances:

a. The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage, or abnormal risk or danger to the safety, stability, liquidity or solvency of the institution;

b. The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage or abnormal risk to the institutions, creditors, investors, stockholders, or to the BSP, or to the public in general;

c. The act or omission has caused any undue injury, or has given unwarranted benefits, advantage or preference to the quasi-bank/trust entity or any party in the discharge by the director or officer of his duties and responsibilities through manifest partiality, evident bad faith or gross inexcusable negligence; or

d. The act or omission involves entering into any contract or transaction manifestly and grossly disadvantageous to the quasi-bank/trust entity, whether or not the director or officer profited or will profit thereby.

The list of activities which may be considered unsafe and unsound is shown in Appendix Q-24.

§§ 4149Q.1 - 4149Q.8 (Reserved)

§ 4149Q.9 Sanctions. The Monetary Board may, at its discretion and based on the seriousness and materiality of the acts or omissions, impose any or all of the following sanctions provided under Section 37 of R.A. No. 7653 and Section 56 of R.A. No. 8791, whenever a quasi-bank/trust entity conducts business in an unsafe and unsound manner:

The imposition of the above sanctions is without prejudice to the filing of appropriate criminal charges against culpable persons as provided in Sections 34, 35 and 36 of R.A. No. 7653.

Sec. 4150Q Rules of Procedure on Administrative Cases Involving Directors and Officers of Quasi-banks. The rules of procedure on administrative cases involving directors and officers of quasi-banks are shown in Appendix Q-35.

H. BRANCHES AND OTHER OFFICES

However, in cases where there are differences between BSP regulations and PFRS/PAS as when more than one (1) option are allowed or certain maximum or minimum limits are prescribed by the PFRS/ PAS, the option or limit prescribed by BSP regulations shall be adopted by FIs.

For purposes hereof, the PFRS/PAS shall refer to issuances of the Accounting Standards Council (ASC) and approved by the Professional Regulation Commission (PRC).

Financial/non-financial allied/non-allied associates shall be accounted for using the equity method.

b. For purposes of preparing separate financial statements, financial/non-financial allied/non-allied subsidiaries/associates, including insurance subsidiaries/associates, shall also be accounted for using the equity method; and

c. FIs shall be required to meet the BSP recommended valuation reserves.

Government grants extended in the form of loans bearing nil or low interest rates shall be measured upon initial recognition at its fair value (i.e., the present value of the future cash flows of the financial instrument discounted using the market interest rate). The difference between the fair value and the net proceeds of the loan shall be recorded under “Unearned Income-Others”, which shall be amortized over the term of the loan using the effective interest method.

The provisions on government grants shall be applied retroactively to all outstanding government grants received. FIs that adopted an accounting treatment other than the foregoing shall consider the adjustment as a change in accounting policy, which shall be accounted for in accordance with PAS 8.

Notwithstanding the exceptions in Items “a”, “b” and “c”, the audited annual financial statements required to be submitted to the BSP in accordance with the provision of Sec. 4172Q shall in all respect be PFRS/PAS compliant. Provided, that FIs shall submit to the BSP adjusting entries reconciling the balances in the financial statements for prudential reporting with that in the audited annual financial statements.

The standards address independence and objectivity, professional proficiency, scope of work, performance of audit work, management of internal audit, quality assurance reviews, communication and monitoring of results.

Secs. 4165Q - 4170Q (Reserved)

K. INTERNAL CONTROL

Sec. 4171Q Internal Control Systems. The minimum internal control standards established in Appendix Q-5 shall guide all QBs. The following records/data shall be compiled and made available for the inspection of BSP examiners.

records should indicate the accounts and the periodic balancing procedures performed.

b. Statements of actual duties of persons assigned to handle cash and securities.

c. All internal control audit reports or their equivalent.

d. Information/data on the direct and/or indirect equity holdings and/or connection with any firm, partnership or

e. Information/data pertaining to electronic data processing (EDP) department or service bureau of the QB particularly on organization, input control, processing control, output control, software, program and documentation standards, logs on the operations of mainframes and peripherals, hardware control and such other EDP control standards prescribed by the BSP in separate rules and regulations.

Sec. 4172Q. Audited Financial Statements of Quasi-Banks; Financial Audit.
The following rules shall govern the utilization and submission of AFS of QBs.

For purposes of this Section, AFS shall include the balance sheets, income statements, statements of changes in equity, statements of cash flows and notes to financial statements which shall include among other information, disclosure of the volume of past due loans as well as loan-loss provisions. On the other hand, financial audit report shall refer to the AFS and the opinion of the auditor. The AFS of QBs with subsidiaries shall be presented side by side on a solo basis (parent) and on a consolidated basis (parent and subsidiaries).

QB shall cause an annual financial audit by an external auditor acceptable to the BSP not later than thirty (30) calendar days after the close of the calendar year or the fiscal year adopted by the QB. Report of such audit shall be submitted to the board of directors and the appropriate department of the SES not later than 120 calendar days after the close of the calendar year or the fiscal year adopted by the QB. The report to the BSP shall be accompanied by the: (1) certification by the external auditor on the: (a) dates of start and termination of audit; (b) date of submission of the financial audit report and certification under oath stating that no material weakness or breach in the internal control and risk management systems was noted in the course of the audit of the QB to the board of directors; and (c) the absence of any direct or indirect financial interest and other circumstances that may impair the independence of the external auditor; (2) reconciliation statement between the AFS and the balance sheet and income statement for the QB and trust department submitted to the BSP including copies of adjusting entries on the reconciling items; and (3) other information that may be required by the BSP.

In addition, the external auditor shall be required by the QB to submit to the board of directors, a LOC indicating any material weakness or breach in the institution’s internal control and risk management systems within thirty (30) calendar days after submission of the financial audit report. If no material weakness or breach is noted to warrant the issuance of an LOC, a certification under oath stating that no material weakness or breach in the internal control and risk management systems was noted in the course of the audit of the QB shall be submitted in its stead, together with the financial audit report.

Material weakness shall be defined as a significant control deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be detected or prevented by the institution’s internal control. A material weakness does not mean that a material misstatement has occurred or will occur, but that it could occur. A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the institution’s ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The term more than remote likelihood shall mean that future events are likely to occur or are reasonably possible to occur.

The board of directors, in a regular or special meeting, shall consider and act on the financial audit report and the certification under oath submitted in lieu of the LOC and shall submit, within thirty (30) banking days after receipt of the reports, a copy of its resolution to the appropriate department of the SES. The resolution shall show, among other things, the action(s) taken on the reports and the names of the directors present and absent.

The board shall likewise consider and act on the LOC and shall submit, within thirty (30) banking days after receipt thereof, a copy of its resolution together with said LOC to the appropriate department of the SES. The resolution shall show the action(s) taken on the findings and recommendations and the names of the directors present and absent, among other things.

The LOC shall be accompanied by the certification of the external auditor of the date of its submission to the board of directors.

Government-owned or -controlled banks, including their subsidiaries and affiliates, as well as other financial institutions under BSP supervision which are under the concurrent jurisdiction of the Commission on Audit (COA) shall be exempt from the aforementioned annual financial audit by an acceptable external auditor: Provided, That when warranted by supervisory concern such as material weakness/breach in internal control and/or risk management systems, the Monetary Board may, upon recommendation of the appropriate department of the SES, require the financial audit to be conducted by an external auditor acceptable to the BSP, at the expense of the QB: Provided, further, That when circumstances such as, but not limited to loans from multilateral financial institutions, privatization, or public listing warrant, the financial audit of the QB concerned by an acceptable external auditor may also be allowed.

QBs and other financial institutions under the concurrent jurisdiction of the BSP and COA shall, however, submit a copy of the annual audit report (AAR) of the COA to the appropriate department of the SES of the BSP within thirty (30) banking days after receipt of the report by the board of directors. The AAR shall be accompanied by the: (1) certification by the institution concerned on the date of receipt of the AAR by the board of directors; (2) reconciliation statement between the AFS in the AAR and the balance sheet and income statement of the QB and trust department submitted to the BSP, including copies of adjusting entries on the reconciling items; and (3) other information that may be required by the BSP.

The board of directors of said institutions, in a regular or special meeting, shall consider and act on the AAR, as well as on the comments and observations and shall submit, within thirty (30) banking days after receipt of the report, a copy of its resolution to the appropriate department of the SES. The resolution shall show the action(s) taken on the report, including the comments and observations and the names of the directors present and absent, among other things.

The AFS required to be submitted shall in all respect be PFRS/PAS compliant: Provided, That financial institutions shall submit to the BSP adjusting entries reconciling the balances in the financial statements for prudential reporting with that in the audited annual financial statements.
QB as well as external auditors shall strictly observe the requirements in the submission of the financial audit report and reports required to be submitted under Appendix Q-33.

The reports and certifications of QBs, schedules and attachments required under this Subsec. shall be considered Category B reports, delayed submission of which shall be subject to the penalties under Subsec. 4162.Q.3.b.II.

§ 4172Q.1 Posting of audited financial statements. QBs shall post in conspicuous places in their head offices, all their branches and other offices, as well as in their respective websites, their latest financial audit report.

(As amended by Circular No. 540 dated 9 August 2006)

§ 4172Q.2 Disclosure of external auditor’s adverse findings to the Bangko Sentral; sanction

a. Findings to be disclosed. QBs shall require their external auditors to report to the BSP any matter adversely affecting the condition or soundness of the bank, such as, but not limited to:

(1) Any serious irregularity, including those involving fraud or dishonesty, that may jeopardize the interest of creditors;
(2) Losses incurred which substantially reduce the capital funds of the QB; and
(3) Inability of the auditor to confirm that the claims of creditors are still covered by the QB’s assets.

The disclosure of information by the external auditor to the BSP shall not be a ground for civil, criminal or disciplinary proceedings against the former.

QB management shall be present during discussions or at least be informed of the adverse findings in order to preserve the concerns of the supervisory authority and external auditors regarding the confidentiality of information.

b. Sanction. The auditing firm(s) shall be blacklisted by the Monetary Board for a period as the Board may deem appropriate for their failure to perform their duty of reporting to the BSP any matter adversely affecting the condition or soundness of the QB. QBs shall not be allowed to engage the services of the blacklisted auditing firm.

§ 4172Q.3 Disclosure requirement in the notes to the audited financial statements. QBs shall require their external auditors to include the following additional information in the notes to financial statements:

a. Basic quantitative indicators of financial performance such as return on average equity, return on average assets and net interest margin;

g. Provisions and allowances for losses and how these are determined;

h. Aggregate amount of secured liabilities and assets pledged as security; and Accounting policies which shall include, but shall not be limited to, general accounting principles, changes in accounting policies/practices, principles of consolidation, policies and methods for determining when assets are impaired, recognizing income on impaired assets and losses on non-performing credits, income recognition, valuation policies and accounting policies on securitizations, foreign currency translations, loan fees, premiums and discounts, repurchase agreements, premises/fixed assets, income taxes, derivatives, etc.

For purposes of computing the indicators in Item “a” above, the following formulas shall be used:

a. Return on Average Equity (%) = \( \frac{\text{Net Income (or Loss) after Income Tax}}{\text{Average Total Capital Accounts}} \times 100 \)

Where:
- Average Total Capital Accounts = Sum of Total Capital Accounts as of the 12 month-ends in the calendar/fiscal year adopted by the QB

b. Return on Average Assets (%) = \( \frac{\text{Net Income (or Loss) after Income Tax} \times 100}{\text{Average Total Assets}} \)

c. Net Interest Margin (%) = \( \frac{\text{Net Interest Income} \times 100}{\text{Average Interest Earning Assets}} \)

Where:
- Net Interest Income = Total Interest Income – Total Interest Expense
- Average Interest Earning Assets = Sum of Total Interest Earning Assets as of the 12 month-ends in the calendar/fiscal year adopted by the QB

§ 4172Q.4 Disclosure requirements in the annual report. QBs shall prepare an annual report which shall include, in addition to the AFS and other usual information contained therein, a discussion and/or analysis of the following information:

Secs. 4173Q - 4179Q (Reserved)
Sec. 4180Q Selection, Appointment and Reporting Requirements for External Auditors; Sanction; Effectivity. Under Section 58, R.A. No. 8791, the Monetary Board may require a QB and/or trust entity to engage the services of an independent auditor to be chosen by the QBs and/or trust entities concerned from a list of certified public accountants acceptable to the Monetary Board. It is the policy of the BSP to promote high ethical and professional standards in public accounting practice and to encourage coordination and sharing of information between external auditors and regulatory authorities of banks, QBs, trust entities and/or NSSLAs to ensure effective audit and supervision of these institutions and to avoid unnecessary duplication of efforts. In furtherance of this policy and to ensure that reliance by regulatory authorities and the public on the opinion of external auditors is well placed, the BSP hereby prescribes the rules and regulations that shall govern the selection, appointment, reporting requirements and delisting for external auditors of banks, QBs, trust entities and/or NSSLAs, their subsidiaries and affiliates engaged in allied activities and other financial institutions which under special laws are subject to BSP supervision. The selection of external auditors shall be valid for a period of three (3) years. BSP selected external auditors shall apply for the renewal of their selection every three (3) years. The provisions of Items “A” and “B” of Appendix Q-30 shall likewise apply for each application for renewal.

The SES shall make an annual assessment of the performance of external auditors and will recommend deletion from the list even prior to the three (3)-year renewal period, if based on assessment, the external auditors’ report did not comply with BSP requirements.

External auditors who meet the requirements specified in this Section shall be included in the list of BSP selected external auditors. In case of partnership, inclusion in the list of BSP selected external auditors shall apply to the audit firm only and not to the individual signing partners or auditors under its employment.

The BSP will circulate to all banks, QBs, trust entities and NSSLAs the list of selected external auditors once a year. The BSP, however, shall not be liable for any damage or loss that may arise from its selection of the external auditors to be engaged by banks, QBs, trust entities or NSSLAs for regular audit or special engagements.

a. Rules and regulations. The rules and regulations to govern the selection and delisting by the BSP of external auditors of QBs and/or trust entities, their subsidiaries and affiliates engaged in allied activities are shown in Appendix Q-30.

b. Sanctions. The applicable sanctions/penalties prescribed under Sections 36 and 37 of R. A. No. 7653 to the extent applicable shall be imposed on the QB or trust entity, its audit committee and the directors approving the hiring of external auditors who are not in the BSP list of selected auditors for banks, QBs, trust entities and NSSLAs or for hiring, and/or retaining the services of the external auditor in violation of any of the provisions of this Section and for non-compliance with the Monetary Board directive under Item “I” in Appendix Q-30. Erring external auditors may also be reported by the BSP to the PRC for appropriate disciplinary action.

Compliance risk is the risk of legal or regulatory sanctions, financial loss, or loss to reputation a QB may suffer as a result of its failure to comply with all applicable laws, regulations, codes of conduct and standards of good practice.

§ 4191Q.4 Responsibilities of the board of directors and senior management on compliance. Aside from the duties and responsibilities of the board of directors mentioned under Subsec. 4141Q.3, the board should oversee the implementation of the compliance policy and ensure that compliance issues are resolved expeditiously. Senior management should be responsible for establishing a compliance policy, ensuring that it is observed, reporting to the board of directors on its ongoing implementation and assessing its effectiveness and appropriateness. Senior management should, at least once a year, report to the board of directors or a committee of the board on matters relevant to the compliance policy and its implementation, recommending any required changes to the policy. The report should assist the board members in making an informed assessment as to whether the institution is managing its compliance risk effectively. However, any material breaches of laws, rules and standards shall be reported promptly.

§ 4191Q.5 Status. The compliance function should have a formal status within the organization established by a charter or other formal document approved by the board of directors that defines the compliance function’s standing, authority and independence, and addresses the following issues:
(1) measures to ensure the independence of the compliance function from the business activities of the QB;
(2) its role and responsibilities;
(3) its relationship with other functions or units within the organization;
(4) its right to obtain access to information necessary to carry out its responsibilities;
(5) its right to conduct investigations of possible breaches of the compliance policy;
(6) its formal reporting relationships to senior management and the board of directors; and
(7) its right of direct access to the board of directors or an appropriate committee of the board.

The compliance charter or other formal document defining the status of the compliance function shall be communicated throughout the organization.

§ 4191Q.6 Independence. The compliance function should be independent from the business activities of the institution. It should be able to carry out its responsibilities on its own initiative in all units or departments where compliance risk exists and must be provided with sufficient resources to carry out its responsibilities effectively. It must be free to report to senior management and the board or a committee of the board on any irregularities or breaches of laws, rules and standards discovered, without fear of retaliation or disfavor from management or other affected parties. The compliance function should have access to all operational areas as well as any records or files necessary to enable it to carry out its duties and responsibilities.

The organization and structure of the compliance function and its responsibilities should be in accordance with local legal and regulatory requirements.

§ 4191Q.8 Outsourcing. QBs should establish policies for managing the risks associated with outsourcing activities. Outsourcing of services/activities can reduce the institution’s risk profile by transferring activities to others with the necessary expertise to manage the risks associated with specialized business activities. However, the use of third parties does not diminish the responsibility of the board of directors and senior management to ensure that the outsourced activity is conducted in a safe and sound manner and in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. Compliance risk assessment and testing may be outsourced, subject to appropriate oversight by the compliance officer: Provided, That a copy of the outsourcing agreement stating the duties and responsibilities as well as rights and obligations of the contracting parties, which agreement shall be approved by the board of directors of the institution concerned, must be submitted to the appropriate department of the SES at least thirty (30) days prior to its execution to enable review of its compliance with existing regulations on outsourcing of quasi-banking functions.

The service level agreement shall ensure a clear allocation of responsibilities between the external service providers and the QB. Furthermore, the outsourcing QB should manage residual risks associated with outsourcing arrangements, including default, operational failures, and possible disruption of services.

Sec. 4192Q Prompt Corrective Action Framework. The framework for the enforcement of prompt corrective action (PCA) on banks which is in Appendix Q-40, shall govern the PCA taken on QBs to the extent applicable, or by analogy. (Circular No. 523 dated 23 March 2006) more consistency in how the risk-focused supervision function is applied to this risk. QBs are expected to have an integrated approach to risk management to identify, measure, monitor and control risks. Market risk should be reviewed together with other risks to determine overall risk profile.

The BSP is aware of the increasing diversity of financial products and that industry techniques for measuring and managing market risk are continuously evolving. As such, the guidelines are intended for general application; specific application will depend to some extent on the size, complexity and range of activities undertaken by individual QBs.

Sec. 4195Q Liquidity Risk Management. The guidelines on liquidity risk management in Appendix Q-44 set forth the expectations of the BSP with respect to the management of liquidity risk and are intended to provide more consistency in how the risk-focused supervision function is applied to this risk. Only the buying/lending QB in a resale agreement covering eligible government securities may use such securities as reserves against deposit substitute liabilities. Conversely, the selling/borrowing QB in a repo agreement covering eligible government securities may not use such securities as reserves against deposit substitute liabilities.

The reserve eligibility of government securities under the reverse repo operations of the BSP shall be suspended during the term of the repo agreement. The phrase non-reserve eligible shall be stamped on the face of the custodian receipt being issued by the BSP to buyer FIs.

It shall be based on the amount reported by QBs in their weekly Consolidated Daily Report of Condition. The adjusted Tier 1 capital reported daily should approximate the quarterly adjusted Tier 1 capital as submitted by banks in compliance with the provisions of Sec. 4116Q.

b. Any material differences that may be noted by the SDC between the daily and the quarterly report shall be considered as erroneous reporting and shall be subject to the penalties under existing regulations. The SDC shall also make a re-run of its computation of the QB’s reserve position and in the event that the reserve position resulted to a reserve deficiency, the corresponding penalties on reserve deficiencies shall also apply.

c. The lagged system in the measurement of a QB’s reserve requirement, as provided in Subsec. 4246Q.2, shall also be adopted in the calculation of the two percent (2%) statutory reserve requirements for repo agreements covering government securities.

PART THREE

LOANS, INVESTMENTS AND SPECIAL CREDITS

Section 4301Q Management of Risk Assets/Minimum Guidelines on Lending Operations. It shall be the responsibility of the board of directors of a quasi-bank to formulate written policies on the extension of credit and risk diversification and to set the guidelines for evaluation of risk assets. Well-defined lending policies and sound lending practices are essential if a quasi-bank is to perform its credit-extension function effectively and minimize the risk inherent in any extension of credit. The responsibility should be approached in a way that will provide assurance to the public, the stockholders and supervisory authorities that timely and adequate action will be taken to maintain the quality of the loan portfolio and other risk assets.

a. Requirement of lending policies Quasi-banks shall have well-defined lending policies which shall ensure that lending shall be upon terms which are in the best interest of the institution and in accordance with existing policy, rules and regulations of the Monetary Board. Such policies shall be in writing to form part of the institution's permanent records and shall be made available for inspection by the Bangko Sentral.

b. Lending operations, definition Lending operations refer to any credit accommodation and purchase of receivables and commercial papers, including purchase of commercial papers in the secondary market.

c. Creditworthiness of borrowers
Before extending credit in any form, the quasi-bank must exercise proper caution to ascertain that the debtors, co-makers, indorsers, sureties and/or guarantors are capable of fulfilling their commitments. For this purpose, credit investigations must be conducted and appropriate statements of assets and liabilities and of income and expenditures shall be required of credit applicants.

d. Amounts, purpose and terms of credit accommodations Loans/credit accommodations shall be granted only in amounts and for periods necessary for the completion of the operations to be financed, and for purposes which are attuned to government economic policies. The amount and period of the loan shall be justified by the financial statements submitted or by specific feasibility/project studies for a particular operation to be financed by the loan applied for.

e. Documentation of loans
All loans/credit extensions shall be supported by evidences of indebtedness and/or loan agreements which shall contain, among other things, a statement of the purpose of the loan and a program of repayment of the obligation.

f. Credit files
Adequate credit files of borrowers shall be maintained which shall contain documents such as credit investigation reports, balance sheets, statements of assets and liabilities, income and expense statements, income tax returns, bank and trade checkings, and other documents/papers showing information which form the bases for the credit extension.

g. Periodic review
A periodic review of the loan portfolio and the credit standing of borrowers shall be made.

h. Arm's length transactions
A quasi-bank shall not relend to or purchase receivables or other obligations of other corporations, majority of the voting stock of which is owned by subject corporation, unless the terms of the transactions are not more favorable than those of other similar transactions.
§ 4301Q.6 Large exposures and credit risk concentrations. The following guidelines shall govern managing large exposures and credit risk concentrations in line with the objective of strengthening risk management in the quasi-banking system.

a. General principles

(1) A quasi-bank can be exposed to various forms of credit risk concentration which if not properly managed may cause significant losses that could threaten its financial strength and undermine public confidence in the quasi-bank.

(2) Credit risk concentrations may arise from excessive exposures to individual counterparties, groups of related counterparties and groups of counterparties with similar characteristics (e.g. counterparties in specific geographical locations, economic or industry sectors).

(3) Diversification of risk is essential in quasi-banking. Many past quasi-bank failures have been due to credit risk concentrations of some kind. It is essential for quasi-banks to prevent undue credit risk concentrations from excessive exposures to particular counterparties, industries, economic sectors, regions or countries.

(4) While concentration of credit risks is inherent in quasi-banking and cannot be totally eliminated, they can be limited and reduced by adopting proper risk control and diversification strategies. Safeguarding against credit risk concentrations should form an important component of a quasi-bank's risk management system.

(5) The board of directors of a quasi-bank shall be responsible for establishing and monitoring compliance with policies governing large exposures and credit risk concentrations of the quasi-bank. The board should review these policies regularly (at least annually) to ensure that they remain adequate and appropriate for the quasi-bank. Subsequent changes to the established policies must be approved by the board.

(6) The policy on large exposures and credit risk concentrations shall, at a minimum, cover the following:

(a) Exposure limits that are reasonable in relation to capital and resources for –
   (i) Various types of borrowers/counterparties (e.g. government, banks and other financial institutions, corporate and individual borrowers);
   (ii) A group of related borrowers/counterparties;
   (iii) Individual industry sectors;
   (iv) Individual countries; and
   (v) Various types of investments.

(b) The circumstances in which the above limits can be exceeded and the party authorized to approve such excesses, e.g. the quasi-bank's board of directors or credit committee with delegated authority from the board;

(c) The delegation of credit authority within the quasi-bank for approving large exposures;

(d) The procedures for identifying, reviewing, managing and reporting large exposures of the quasi-bank;

(e) The definition of exposure. Quasi-banks should take into account the nature of their business and the complexity of their products. In any case, a quasi-bank's exposures to a counterparty should include its on and off-balance sheet exposures and indirect exposures; and

(f) The criteria to be used for identifying a group of related persons;

(7) The board and senior management of a quasi-bank should ensure that:

(a) Adequate systems and controls are in place to identify, measure, monitor and report large exposures and credit risk concentrations of the quasi-bank in a timely manner; and

(b) Large exposures of the quasi-bank are kept under regular review. “Large exposures” shall refer to exposures to a

counterparty or a group of related counterparties equal or greater than five percent (5%) of QB’s qualifying capital as defined under Section 4116Q.

(8) A QB should, where appropriate, conduct stress testing and scenario analysis of its large exposures to assess the impact of changes in market conditions or key risk factors (e.g. economic cycles, interest rate, liquidity conditions or other market movements) on its profile and earnings.

(9) It is expected that QBs would generally observe a lower internal single borrower’s limit than the prescribed limit of twenty-five percent (25%) as a matter of sound practice.

b. Monitoring of large exposures/credit risk concentrations

(1) QBs should have a central liability record (preferably based on automated system) for each loan exposure. QBs should be able to monitor such exposures against prescribed and internal limits on a daily basis.

(2) Every QB should have adequate management information and reporting systems that enable management to identify credit risk concentrations within the asset portfolio of the QB or of the group (including subsidiaries and overseas branches) on a timely basis. If a concentration does exist, QBs should reduce it in accordance with their prescribed policies. Large exposures shall be subject to more intensive monitoring.

(3) QBs should ensure that their internal or external auditors conduct at least an annual review of the quality of large exposures and controls to safeguard against credit risk concentrations. Their review should ascertain whether:

(a) The QB’s relevant policies, limits and procedures are complied with; and

(b) The existing policies and controls remain adequate and appropriate for the QB’s business.

(4) Management should take prompt corrective action to address concerns and exceptions raised.

(5) There should also be an independent compliance function to ensure that all relevant internal and prescribed requirements and limits are complied with. Breaches of prescribed requirements and deviations from established policies and limits should be reported to senior management in a timely manner.

c. Unsafe and unsound practice

Non-observance of the principles and the requirements of Items "a" and "b" above may be a ground for a finding of unsafe and unsound practice under Section 56 of the General Banking Law of 2000 (Appendix Q-24) and may be subject to appropriate sanction as may be determined by the Monetary Board.

d. Notification requirements

A QB must inform BSP immediately where it has concerns that its large exposures or credit risk concentrations have the potential to impact materially upon its capital adequacy, along with proposed measures to address these concerns.

e. Reporting

QB’s records on monitoring of large exposures shall be made available to the BSP examiners for verification at any given time. When warranted, the BSP may impose additional reporting requirements on QB in relation to its large exposures and credit risk concentrations.

f. Sanction

Any failure or delay in complying with the requirements under Items "d" and "e" of this Subsection shall be subject to penalty applicable to those involving major reports.

Sec. 4302Q Loan Portfolio and Other Risk Assets Review System. To ensure that timely and adequate management action is taken to maintain the quality of the loan portfolio and other risk assets and that adequate loss reserves are set up and maintained at a level sufficient to absorb the loss inherent in the loan portfolio and other risk assets. QBs shall establish a system of identifying and monitoring existing or potential problem loans and other risk assets and of evaluating credit policies vis-à-vis prevailing circumstances and emerging portfolio trends. Management must also recognize that loss reserve is a stabilizing factor and that failure to account appropriately for losses or make adequate provisions for estimated future losses may result in misrepresentation of the QB's financial condition.

The system of identifying and monitoring problem loans and other risk assets and setting up of allowance for probable losses shall include, but is not limited to, the guidelines in Appendix Q-10.

§ 4302Q.1 Provisions for losses; booking. The board of directors of QBs are responsible for ensuring that their institutions have controls in place to determine the allowance for probable losses on loans, other credit accommodations, advances and other assets consistent with the institutions’ stated policies and procedures, generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), the BSP rules and regulations and the safe and sound banking practices. The board of directors, in fulfilling this responsibility, shall require management to develop and maintain an appropriate, systematic and uniformly applied process consistent and in compliance with existing BSP rules and regulations to determine the amount of reserves for bad debts or doubtful accounts or other contingencies.

The specific allowance for probable losses for classified loans and other risk assets and the general loan loss provision as required in Appendix Q-10 shall be set up immediately.

§ 4302Q.2 Sanctions. Non-compliance with the requirement to book the valuation reserves required under the preceding Subsection shall be a ground for the imposition of any or all of the following sanctions:

a. Denial of requests for authority to establish branches/offices; and

b. Fine of P5,000 a day, counted as follows:

(1) from the date the QB was informed that the recommendation of the appropriate department of the SES was confirmed by the Monetary Board up to the date that said recommended valuation reserves were actually booked, in case of the allowance for probable losses for loans and other risk assets classified as Substandard (Unsecured), Doubtful and Loss as required by the BSP;

(2) from the dates prescribed under the preceding Subsection up to the date of the actual booking in cases of the two percent (2%) general provision for probable loan losses, the twenty-five percent (25%) allowance for probable losses on secured loans classified as Substandard, and the five percent (5%) allowance for probable losses on Loans Especially Mentioned.

The total liabilities of any borrower may amount to a further fifteen percent (15%) of the combined capital accounts of such quasi-bank: Provided, That the additional liabilities are adequately secured by real estate mortgage, assignment or pledge of readily marketable bonds and other high-grade debt securities, except those issued by the lending entity.

For purposes of this Section, the term liabilities shall mean the direct liability of the maker or acceptor of paper discounted with or sold to such quasi-bank and the liability of the indorser, drawer or guarantor who obtains a loan from or discounts paper with or sells papers under his guaranty to such quasi-bank and shall include in the case of liabilities of a co-partnership or association, the liabilities of the several members thereof and shall include, in the case of liabilities of a corporation, all liabilities of its subsidiaries: Provided, That even in cases where the parent corporation, co-partnership or association has no liability to the quasi-bank, the liabilities of subsidiary corporations or members of the co-partnership or association shall be combined for purposes of the single borrower's limit (SBL).

§ 4306Q.1 Exclusions from loan limit
In addition to those enumerated in Sec. 4306Q, the total liabilities of a commercial paper issuer for commercial papers held by a quasi-bank as a firm underwriter shall not be counted in determining compliance with the SBL within a period of 180 days from the acquisition of the commercial paper by an quasi-bank: Provided, That in no case shall such liabilities exceed five percent (5%) of the net worth of the selling agent beyond the normal applicable SBL.

Outstanding foreign and domestic standby and deferred letters of credit less margin deposits, and outstanding guarantees, the nature of which requires the guarantor to assume the liabilities/obligations of third parties in case of their inability to pay, shall be included in determining the SBL except those fully secured by cash, hold-out on deposit substitutes, or government securities.

§ 4306Q.3 Sanctions.
Violations of the provisions of the foregoing rules shall be subject to the following sanctions/penalties:

a. Fines. Fines of one-tenth of one percent (1/10 of 1%) of the excess but not to exceed ₱30,000 a day for each violation, reckoned from the date the excess started up to the date when such excess was eliminated, shall be assessed on the quasi-bank.

b. Other sanctions
First Offense
Reprimand for the directors/officers who approved the credit line or availment which resulted in the excess with a warning that subsequent violations will be subject to more severe sanctions.

Subsequent offenses
(1) For the duration of each violation, imposition of a fine of ₱500 a day for each of the directors/officers who approved the credit line or availment which resulted in an excess.
(2) Suspension of the quasi-bank from branching privileges until the excess is eliminated.

Sec. 4307Q Interest and Other Charges

The following rules shall govern the rates of interest on loans by quasi-banks.

§ 4307Q.1 Rate ceilings. The rate of interest, including commissions, premiums, fees and other charges on loan transactions, regardless of maturity and whether secured or unsecured, shall not be subject to any ceiling.

§ 4307Q.2 Floating rates of interest

The rate of interest on a floating rate loan during each interest period shall be stated based on the Manila Reference Rate (MRR), Treasury Bill Rate (TBR) or other market-based reference rates, plus a margin as may be agreed upon by the parties.

The MRRs for various interest periods shall be determined and announced by the BSP every week and shall be based on the weighted average of the interest rates paid during the immediately preceding week by the ten (10) commercial banks with the highest combined levels of outstanding deposit substitutes and time deposits, in promissory notes issued and time deposits received by such banks, of P100,000 and over per transaction account, with maturities corresponding to the interest periods for which such MRRs are being determined. Such rates and the composition of the sample commercial banks shall be reviewed and determined at the beginning of every calendar semester on the basis of the banks’ combined levels of outstanding deposit substitutes and time deposits as of May 31 or November 30, as the case may be.

The rate of interest on floating rate loans existing and outstanding as of 23 December 1995 shall continue to be determined on the basis of the MRRs obtained in accordance with the provisions of the rules existing as of 1 January 1989: Provided, however, that the parties to such existing floating rate loan agreements are not precluded from amending or modifying their loan agreements by adopting a floating rate of interest determined on the basis of TBR or other market-based reference rates.

Where the loan agreement provides for a floating interest rate, the interest period, which shall be such period of time for which the rate of interest is fixed, shall be such period as may be agreed upon by the parties.

§ 4307Q.3 Effect of prepayment. If there is no agreement on the rebate of interest in the event of prepayment of the loan, the quasi-bank is not under any legal obligation to return the interest corresponding to the period from date of prepayment to the stipulated maturity date of the loan. Any prepayment made by the debtor should not, therefore, affect computation of the effective rate stipulated in the loan contract.

a. No accrual of interest income is allowed if a loan has become non-performing as defined in Sec. 4311Q. Likewise, interest income shall not be accrued for unmatured loans/receivables with indications that collectibility thereof has become doubtful. These indications include declaration of bankruptcy, insolvency, cessation of operations, or such other conditions of financial difficulties or inability to meet financial obligations as they mature. For this purpose, the term installments shall refer to principal and/or interest amortizations that are due on several dates as indicated/specified in the loan documents.

(1) In the case of secured loans, QBs may write-off loans, other credit accommodations and other assets in an amount corresponding to the booked valuation reserves: Provided, That the balance of the secured loans, other credit accommodations, advances and other assets shall remain in the books.

(2) In the cases of unsecured loans, other credit accommodations, advances and other assets, QBs shall write-off said loans, other credit accommodations, advances and other assets in full amount outstanding.

05.12.31

Sec. 4309Q “Truth in Lending Act” Disclosure Requirement. QBs are required to strictly adhere to the provisions of R.A. No. 3765, otherwise known as the “Truth in Lending Act”, and shall make the true and effective cost of borrowing an integral part of every loan contract.

The following regulations shall apply to all QBs engaged in the following types of credit transactions:

a. Any loan, mortgage, deed of trust, advance and discount;
b. Any conditional sales contract, any contract to sell, or sale or contract of sale of property or services, either for present or future delivery, under which part or all of the price is payable subsequent to the making of such sale or contract;
c. Any rental-purchase contract;
d. Any contract or arrangement for the hire, bailment, or leasing of property;
e. Any option, demand, lien, pledge, or other claim against, or for delivery of property or money;
f. Any purchase, or other acquisition of, or any credit upon the security of, any obligation or claim arising out of any of the foregoing; and
g. Any transaction or series of transactions having a similar purpose or effect.

The following categories of credit transactions are outside the scope of these regulations:

(1) Credit transactions which do not involve the payment of any finance charge by the debtor; and
(2) Credit transactions in which the debtor is the one specifying a definite and fixed set of credit terms such as bank deposits, insurance contracts, sale of bonds, etc.

§ 4309Q.1 Definition of terms

a. Person means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other organized group of persons, or the legal successor or representative of the foregoing, and includes the Philippine Government or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing.
b. Cash price or delivered price, in case of trade transactions, is the amount of money which would constitute full payment upon delivery of the property (except money) or service purchased at the QB’s place of business. In the case of financial transactions, cash price represents the amount of money received by the debtor upon consummation of the credit transaction, net of finance charges collected at the time the credit is extended, if any.
c. Down payment represents the amount paid by the debtor at the time of the transaction in partial payment for the property or service purchased.
d. Trade-in represents the value of an asset agreed upon by the QB and debtor, given at the time of the transaction as partial payment for the property or service purchased.
e. Non-finance charges correspond to the amounts advanced by the QB for items normally associated with the ownership of the property or the availment of the service purchased which are not incidental to the extension of credit. For example, in the case of the purchase of an automobile on credit, the QB may advance the insurance premium as well as the registration fee for the account of the debtor.
f. Amount to be financed consists of the cash price plus non-finance charges less the amount of the down payment and value of the trade-in.
g. Finance charge represents the amount to be paid by the debtor incidental to the extension of credit such as interest or discount, collection fee, credit investigation fee, attorney’s fee and other service charges.
The total finance charge represents the difference between (i) the aggregate consideration (down payment plus installments) on the part of the debtor, and (ii) the sum of the cash price and non-finance charges.

h. Simple annual rate is the uniform percentage which represents the ratio, on an annual basis, between the finance charges and amount to be financed.

In the case of single payment upon maturity, the simple annual rate (R) in percent is determined by the following method:

In the case of the normal installment type of credit of at least one (1) year in duration, where installment payments of equal amount are made in regular time periods spaced not more than one (1) year apart, the R in percent is computed by the following method:

R = \frac{2 \times \frac{\text{finance charge}}{\text{amount to be financed}} \times 100}{\text{number of payments in a year} + 1}

In cases where the credit matures in less than one (1) year (e.g., installment payments are required every month for six (6) months), the same formula will apply except that number of payments in a year would refer to the number of installment periods, as defined in the credit contract, as if the credit matures in one (1) year. For example, number of payments in a year would be twelve (12) for this purpose in cases where six (6) monthly installment payments are called for in the credit transaction.1 In cases where credit terms provide for premium or penalty charges depending on, for instance, the timeliness of the debtor’s payments, the annual rate to be disclosed in writing shall be the rate for regular payments, i.e., the premium and penalty need not be taken into account in the determination of the annual rate. Such premium or penalty charges shall, however, be indicated in the credit contract.

§ 4309Q.2 Information to be disclosed. QBs shall furnish to each person to whom credit is extended, prior to the consummation of the transaction, a clear statement in writing setting forth the following information:

a. The cash price or delivered price of the property or service to be acquired;

b. The amounts, if any, to be credited as down payment and/or trade-in;

c. The difference between the amounts set forth under Items “a” and “b”;

d. The charges, individually itemized, which are paid or to be paid by such person in connection with the transaction but which are not incident to the extension of credit;

e. The total amount to be financed;

f. The finance charges expressed in terms of pesos and centavos; and

g. The percentage that the finance charge bears to the total amount to be financed expressed as a simple annual rate on the outstanding unpaid balance of the obligation.

The contract covering the credit transaction, or any other document to be acknowledged and signed by the debtor, shall indicate the above seven (7) items of information. In addition, the contract or document shall specify additional charges, if any, which will be collected in case certain stipulations in the contract are not met by the debtor.

In case the seven (7) items of information mentioned are not disclosed in the contract covering the credit transaction, all of the items, to the extent applicable, shall be disclosed in another document in the form (Appendix Q-11) prescribed by the Monetary Board, to be signed by the debtor and appended to the main contract. A copy of such disclosure statement shall be furnished to the borrower.

§ 4309Q.3 Inspection of contracts covering credit transactions. QBs shall keep in their office or place of business copies of contracts which involve the extension of credit and the payment of finance charges therefor. Such copies shall be available for inspection or examination by the appropriate department of the SES.

1 This can be determined by dividing twelve, the number of months in a year, by the number or fraction of months between installment payments.
§ 4309Q.4 Posters. An abstract of R.A. No. 3765 (Appendix Q-12) shall be reproduced in a format sixty (60) cm. wide and seventy-five (75) cm. long and posted on a conspicuous place in the QB’s place(s) of business.

Secs. 4338Q - 4350Q (Reserved)

D. RESTRUCTURED LOANS

Sec. 4351Q Restructured Loans; General Policy. Quasi-banks shall have full discretion in the restructuring of loans in order to provide flexibility in arranging the repayment of such loans without impairing or endangering the lending quasi-bank’s financial interest, except in special cases approved by the Monetary Board such as loans funded partly or wholly by foreign currency obligations. However, the restructuring of loans granted to DOSRI shall be upon terms not less favorable to the quasi-bank than those offered to others. While agreements on loan restructuring should be considered as management tools to maintain or improve the soundness of the quasi-bank’s lending operations, these should be drawn mainly to assist borrowers towards the settlement of their loan obligations, taking into account their capacity to pay.

Restructured loans are loans the principal terms and conditions of which have been modified in accordance with a restructuring agreement setting forth a new plan of payment or a schedule of payment on a periodic basis. The modification may include, but is not limited to, change in maturity, interest rate, collateral or increase in the face amount of the debt resulting from the capitalization of accrued interest/accumulated charges. Items in litigation and loans subject of judicially-approved compromise, as well as those covered by petitions for suspension or for new plans of payment approved by the court or the SEC, shall not be classified as restructured loans.

A loan which is restructured shall be considered non-performing except:

1. When the loan is current and performing (i.e., with updated principal and interest payments) on the date of restructuring, in which case, the loan shall retain its performing status; and

2. Fully secured by real estate with loan value of up to sixty percent (60%) of the appraised value of the real estate security and the insured improvements thereon, and such other first class collaterals as may be deemed appropriate by the Monetary Board: Provided, That a restructured loan, with or without capitalized interest, must be yielding a rate of interest equal to or greater than the quasi-bank’s average cost of funds at the date of restructuring, otherwise, it shall be considered non-performing.

The restoration to a performing loan shall only be effective after a satisfactory track record of payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest has been established.
For this purpose, a satisfactory track record of payments of principal and/or interest shall mean three (3) consecutive payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest have been made. However, in the case of a restructured loan with capitalized interest but not fully secured by real estate with loan value of up to sixty percent (60%) of the appraised value of the real estate security and the insured improvements thereon or other first class collaterals, six (6) consecutive payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest must have been made.

A restructured loan which has been restored to a performing loan status shall be immediately considered non-performing in case of default of any principal or interest payment in accordance with Sec. 4308Q.

§ 4351Q.2 Procedural requirements
a. A loan may be restructured subject to the approval of the quasi-bank’s board of directors in a resolution which shall embody, among other things:
   (1) the basis of or justification for the approval;
   (2) determination of the borrower’s capacity to pay, such as viability of the business; and
   (3) the nature and extent of protection of the quasi-bank’s exposure.

The authority to approve the restructuring of loans may be delegated by the quasi-bank’s board of directors to a committee or officer(s); Provided, That there are board-prescribed guidelines specifically on restructuring of loans: Provided, further, That said guidelines shall be submitted to the appropriate SED of the BSP within thirty (30) days following the date of approval thereof. However, loans previously approved by the executive committee as well as those granted to DOSRI shall be subject to approval by the board as provided under existing rules and regulations. Loans restructured other than those approved by the board shall be reported to it for confirmation.

b. A second restructuring of a loan shall be allowed only if there are reasonable justifications: Provided that it shall be considered a non-performing loan and classified, at least, “Substandard”. The restoration to a performing loan status and/or the upgrading of loan classification, e.g., from “Substandard” to “Loans Especially Mentioned”, if circumstances warrant an upgrading in accordance with the criteria under Appendix Q-10, shall only be allowed after a satisfactory track record of at least six (6) consecutive payments of the required amortization of principal and/or interest has been established.

c. In the restructuring process, the quasi-bank shall encourage the borrower to improve the quality of the loan either by strengthening financial capacity or providing additional collateral.

The real estate security and/or other first class collaterals offered shall be appraised at the time of restructuring to ensure that current market values are being used. Real estate security shall be appraised by an independent appraisal company acceptable to the BSP and shall be reappraised every year thereafter.

The term “first class collaterals” refers to assets and securities which have relatively stable and clearly definable value and/or greater liquidity and are free from lien/encumbrance, such as:
(1) Real estate;
(2) Evidences of indebtedness of the Republic of the Philippines and of the BSP, and other evidences of indebtedness or obligations the servicing and repayment of which are fully guaranteed by the Republic of the Philippines;
(3) Hold-out on and/or assignment of deposit substitutes maintained in the lending institutions;
(4) “Blue chip” shares of stocks, except those issued by the lending entity or by its parent company which owns more than fifty percent (50%) of its outstanding shares of stocks. For this purpose, the issuer corporation must be a listed corporation with a net worth of at least P1.0 billion and with annual net earnings during the immediately preceding five (5) years; and

(5) Such other collaterals that the Monetary Board may declare as first class collaterals from time to time.

It is understood that the loan value to be assigned the collateral shall be as prescribed under existing regulations.

§ 4351Q.3 Classification. The classification of a loan prior to restructuring, e.g., “Loans Especially Mentioned”, “Substandard” or “Doubtful” shall be retained: Provided, That a loan that is not classified but which is non-performing prior to restructuring shall be classified, at least, “Loans Especially Mentioned”: Provided, further, That restructured loans with capitalized interest shall be classified, at least, “Substandard” and the required valuation reserves shall be set up accordingly: Provided, finally, That a more adverse classification may be given, i.e., “Substandard”, “Doubtful” or “Loss”, if the circumstances warrant it as provided under Appendix Q-10.

The upgrading of loan classification, e.g., from “Substandard” to “Loans Especially Mentioned”, if circumstances warrant an upgrading in accordance with the criteria in Appendix Q-10, shall only be effective after a satisfactory track record of payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest has been established.

For this purpose, a satisfactory track record of payments of principal and/or interest shall mean three (3) consecutive payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest have been made.

However, in the case of a restructured loan with capitalized interest but not fully secured by real estate with loan value of up to sixty percent (60%) of the appraised value of the real estate security and the insured improvements thereon or other first class collaterals, six (6) consecutive payments of the required amortizations of principal and/or interest must have been made.

a. Statement of policy. It is the policy of the BSP to encourage QBs to dispose of their ROPA in settlement of loans and other advances either through foreclosure or dacion en pago as well as other properties acquired as a consequence of a merger/consolidation which are no longer necessary for their quasi-banking operations. Towards this end, QBs are hereby authorized to enter into Joint Venture Agreements (JVA) with real estate development companies for the development of said properties, subject to the requirements prescribed under this Subsection.

b. For purposes of this Subsection, joint venture shall refer to a contractual arrangement/undertaking between a QB and a duly registered real estate development company (developer) for the purpose of developing the abovementioned properties of the QB. The QB contributes said properties to the undertaking while the developer contributes all the development funds, resources, technical expertise, equipment, personnel and all other requirements desired or needed for the implementation and completion of the undertaking including marketing, where applicable. The QB and the developer shall be bound by the contract that establishes joint control of the undertaking. Although the developer may be designated as operator or manager of the undertaking, it does not, however, absolutely control the undertaking but only acts in accordance with the authorities granted to him under the JVA.

c. Forms of a joint venture. A QB and a developer may undertake a joint venture under the following forms:

(1) A jointly-controlled operation/undertaking, which does not involve the establishment of a corporation, partnership or other entity, or a financial structure that is separate from the QB and the developer themselves. Under this form of joint venture, the rights and obligations of the QB and the developer shall be governed primarily by their contract that must clearly specify the following:

(a) authority of the developer to develop/subdivide the property and subsequently, to sell the individual lots under a special power of attorney;

(b) sharing in the sales proceeds of the developed ROPAs or in the developed lots;

(c) sharing in taxes;

(d) sharing in the assets of the joint venture particularly in the developed/subdivided lots should there still be unsold lots at the time of termination of the joint venture; and

(e) name under which the subdivided lots shall be registered pending their sale.

(2) A jointly-controlled entity, which involves the establishment of a new juridical entity, preferably a corporation that is separate and distinct from the QB and the developer. A jointly controlled corporation may be established either for the purpose of developing properties of QBs for immediate sale or converting them into earning assets such as hotels and shopping malls.

d. Requirements and limitations in a joint venture. A QB desiring to enter into a JVA with a developer for the purpose of developing its ROPAs and/or other properties acquired as a consequence of the QB’s merger/consolidation shall comply with the following:

(1) The JVA shall be approved by the board of directors of the QB.

(2) The QB’s contribution to the joint venture, in whatever form undertaken, shall be limited to ROPAs and properties acquired as a consequence of the QB’s merger/consolidation with another QB/financial institution.

(3) The QB shall not recognize income out of its contribution to the joint venture, regardless of the agreed valuation of said properties.

(4) The QB shall not provide funds to the joint venture either as a loan or capital contribution.

(5) The JVA or contractual arrangement shall clearly stipulate the rights and obligations of the QB and the developer.

(6) The QB shall secure prior Monetary Board approval of the JVA.

e. Application for authority to enter into JVA. A QB desiring to enter into a JVA with a developer for the purpose of developing its ROPAs and other properties acquired as a consequence of its merger/consolidation with another QB/FI shall secure prior Monetary Board approval of said agreement. For that purpose, the concerned QB shall submit an application for Monetary Board approval to the appropriate department of the SES. The application shall be signed by the QB’s president or officer of equivalent rank and shall be accompanied by the following documents/information:

(1) The name of the developer;

(2) Name of the principal stockholders and officers as well as members of the board of directors of said company;

(3) Relationship of the QB with the developer, if any;

(4) List and brief description of the properties to be contributed by the QB including their market values, book values and the valuation agreed upon under the proposed JVA;

(5) Certification by the QB’s president or officer of equivalent rank that the JVA is strictly in compliance or will strictly comply with the requirements of this Subsection; and

(6) Such other documents/information that the concerned department of the SES may require.

f. Non-financial allied undertaking

All types of QBs are hereby authorized to invest in the equities of companies engaged in real estate development as a non-financial allied undertaking, subject to the following conditions:

(1) Investments shall be limited to ROPAs and other properties acquired as a consequence of a QB’s merger/consolidation with another QB/FI;

(2) Investments shall be subject to existing BSP requirements applicable to investments in non-financial allied undertakings; and

(3) If there is already an existing subsidiary or affiliate relationship between the QB and the investee corporation prior to the investment, the QB shall not recognize income out of its invested properties. The excess of the value of the capital stock received by the QB over the book value of its invested properties shall be booked as “Deferred Credits”.

g. Accounting treatment. Accounting treatment of the properties contributed by a QB to a joint venture or invested in the equities of developers.

(1) In a joint venture in the form of a jointly controlled operation/undertaking, which does not involve the establishment of a corporation or other entity, the QB shall continue to recognize in its books the properties contributed to the undertaking. However, the regular provisioning against probable losses required under existing regulations may be discontinued upon execution and implementation of the JVA.

(2) In a joint venture in which a corporation is created, the QB shall book the properties contributed to the undertaking as investment pursuant to the provisions of PAS 31. It shall also recognize its interest in the corporation using the proportionate consolidation method or the equity method as long as it continues to have joint control over the corporation: Provided, That the QB shall not recognize income out of its contribution to the joint venture. The excess of the value of the capital stock received by the QB over the book value... of the contributed properties shall be credited to the account “Deferred Credits”.

(3) Properties invested in equities of developers shall be booked in accordance with the PAS: Provided, That the QB shall not recognize income out of the properties invested if there is already an existing subsidiary or affiliate relationship between the QB and the investee corporation prior to the investment, regardless of the agreed valuation of said properties. The excess of the agreed valuation of said properties over their book value shall be booked as “Deferred Credits”.

h. Coverage. The provisions of this Subsection shall apply to ROPAs existing, as well as those which may be acquired by QBs in settlement of non-performing or past due loans and advances outstanding, as of 09 March 2006 and to properties acquired as a consequence of merger or consolidation which are outstanding in the books of QBs as of said date.

i. Sanctions. Any violation of the provisions of this Subsection and/or any misrepresentation in the certification and information required to be submitted to the BSP under this Subsection shall subject the QB and the officer or officers responsible therefore, to the penalties provided under Sections 35, 36 and 37 of R. A. No. 7653.

Policies predicated upon this principle are directed towards confidentiality, scrupulous care, safety and prudent management of property including reasonable probability of income with proper accounting and appropriate reporting thereon. Practices are designed in accordance with the basic standards for trust, other fiduciary and investment management accounts (IMAs) in Appendix Q-48 to promote efficiency in administration and operation; to adhere and conform to the terms of the instrument or contract; and to maintain absolute separation of property free from any intrusion of conflict of interest.

Sec. 4407Q Non-Trust, Non-Fiduciary and/or Non-Investment Management Activities. The basic characteristic of trust, other fiduciary and investment management relationship is the absolute non-existence of a debtor-creditor relationship, thus, there is no obligation on the part of the trustee, fiduciary or investment manager to guarantee returns on the funds or properties regardless of the results of the investment. The trustee, fiduciary or investment manager is entitled to fees/commissions which shall be stipulated and fixed in the contract or indenture and the trustor or principal is entitled to all the funds or properties and earnings less fees/commissions, losses and other charges. Any agreement/arrangement that does not conform to these shall not be considered as trust, other fiduciary or investment management relationship.

The following shall not constitute a trust, other fiduciary and/or investment management relationship:

a. When there is a preponderance of purpose or of intent that the arrangement creates or establishes a relationship other than a trust, fiduciary and/or investment management;

b. When the agreement or contract is used as a certificate of indebtedness in exchange for money placement from clients and/or as the medium for confirming placements and investment thereof;

c. When the agreement or contract of an account is accepted under the signature(s) of those other than the trust officer or subordinate officer of the trust department or those authorized by the board of directors to represent the trust officer:

d. Where there is a fixed rate or guaranty of interest, income or return in favor of its client or beneficiary: Provided, however, That where funds are placed in fixed income-generating investments, a quotation of income expectation or like terms, shall neither be considered as arrangements with a fixed rate nor a guaranty of interest, income or return when the agreement or indenture categorically states in bold letters that the quoted income expectation or like terms is neither assured nor guaranteed by the trustee or fiduciary and it does not, therefore, entitle the client to a fixed interest or return on his investments; Provided, further, That any of the following practices or practices similar and/or tantamount thereto shall be construed as fixing or guaranteeing the rate of interest, income or return:

(1) Issuance of certificates, side agreements, letters of undertaking, or other similar documents providing for fixed rates or guaranteeing interest, income or return;

(2) Paying trust earnings based on indicated or expected yield regardless of the actual investment results;

(3) Increasing or reducing fees in order to meet a quoted or expected yield; and

(4) Entering into any arrangement, scheme or practice which results in the payment of fixed rates or yield on trust investments or in the payment of the indicated or expected yield regardless of the actual investment results; and

e. Where the risk or responsibility is exclusively with the trustee, fiduciary or investment manager in case of loss in the investment of trust, fiduciary or investment management funds, when such loss is not due to the failure of the trustee or fiduciary to exercise the skill, care, prudence and diligence required by law.

Trust, other fiduciary and investment management activities involving any of the foregoing which are accepted, renewed or extended after 16 October 1990 shall be reported as deposit substitutes and shall be subject to the reserve requirement for deposit substitutes from the time of inception, without prejudice to the imposition of the applicable sanctions provided for in Sections 36 and 37 of R.A. No. 7653, and Sections 12 and 16 of P.D. No. 129, as amended.

Sec. 4408Q Unsafe and Unsound Practices. Whether a particular activity may be considered as conducting business in an unsafe or unsound manner, all relevant facts must be considered. An analysis of the impact thereof on the QB’s/trust entity’s operations and financial conditions must be undertaken, including evaluation of capital position, asset condition, management, earnings posture and liquidity position.

In determining whether a particular act or omission, which is not otherwise prohibited by any law, rule or regulation affecting QBs/trust entities, may be deemed as conducting business in an unsafe or unsound manner, the Monetary Board, upon report of the head of the SES based on findings in an examination or a complaint, shall consider any of the following circumstances:

a. The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage, or abnormal risk or danger to the safety, stability, liquidity or solvency of the institution;

b. The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage or abnormal risk to the institution’s depositors, creditors, investors, stockholders, or to the BSP, or to the public in general;

c. The act or omission has caused any undue injury, or has given unwarranted benefits, advantage or preference to the QB/trust entity or any party in the discharge by the director or officer of his duties and responsibilities through manifest partiality, evident bad faith or gross inexcusable negligence; or

d. The act or omission involves entering into any contract or transaction manifestly and grossly disadvantageous to the QB/trust entity, whether or not the director or officer profited or will profit thereby.

The list of activities which may be considered unsafe and unsound is shown in Appendix Q-24.

In line with the statement of principles governing trust and other fiduciary business under Sec. 4401Q, the trustee, fiduciary or investment manager shall desist from the following unsound practices:

a. Entering in an arrangement whereby the client is at the same time the borrower of his own fund placement, or whereby the trustor or principal is a borrower of other trust, fiduciary or investment management funds belonging to the same family or business group of such trustor or principal;

Sec. 4410Q Unit Investment Trust Funds/ Common Trust Funds. The following rules and regulations shall govern the creation, administration and investment/s of Unit Investment Trust (UIT) Funds.

The rules and regulations on Common Trust Funds (CTFs) are in Appendix Q-32.

§ 4410Q.1 Definition

a. Unit Investment Trust Funds. Unit Investment Trust Funds are open-ended pooled trust funds denominated in pesos or any acceptable currency, which are operated and administered by a trust entity and made available by participation. The term Unit Investment Trust Fund is synonymous to CTFs. As an open-ended fund, participation or redemption is allowed as often as stated in its plan rules. UIT Funds shall not include long term funds designed for the primary purpose of availing the tax incentives/exemption under Section 24(B)(1) of R.A. No. 8424 (The Tax Reform Act of 1997).

b. Trust entity. Any bank, IH or a stock corporation duly authorized by the Monetary Board to engage in trust, investment management and fiduciary business.

c. Board of directors. For this purpose, the term shall include a trust entity’s duly constituted board of directors or its functional oversight equivalent which shall include the country head in the case of foreign institutions.

§ 4410Q.2 Establishment of a Unit Investment Trust Fund. Any trust entity authorized to perform trust functions may establish, administer and maintain one (1) or more UIT Funds subject to applicable provisions under this Section.

§ 4410Q.3 Administration of a Unit Investment Trust Fund. The trustee shall have exclusive management and control of each UIT Fund under its administration, and the sole right at any time to sell, convert, reinvest, exchange, transfer or otherwise change or dispose of the assets comprising the fund: Provided, That no participant in a UIT Fund shall have or be deemed to have any ownership or interest in any particular account or investment in the UIT Fund but shall have only its proportionate beneficial interest in the fund as a whole.

§ 4410Q.4 Relationship of trustee with Unit Investment Trust Fund. A trustee administering a UIT Fund shall not have any other relationship with such fund other than its capacity as trustee of the UIT Fund: Provided, however, That a trustee which simultaneously administers other trust, fiduciary or investment management funds may invest such funds in the trustee’s UIT Fund, if allowed under a policy approved by the board of directors.

§ 4410Q.5 Operating and accounting methodology. A UIT Fund shall be operated and accounted for in accordance with the following:

a. The total assets and accountabilities of each fund shall be accounted for as a single account referred to as pooled-fund accounting method.

b. Contributions to each fund by clients shall always be through participation in units of the fund and each unit shall have uniform rights or privileges, as any other unit.

c. All such participations shall be pooled and invested as one (1) account (referred to as collective investments).

d. The beneficial interest of each participation unit shall be determined under a unitized net asset value per unit (NAVPu) valuation methodology defined in the written plan of the UIT Fund, and no participation shall be admitted to, or redeemed from, the fund except on the basis of such valuation. To arrive at a fund’s NAVPu, the fund’s total Net Assets is divided by the total outstanding units. Total Net Assets is a summation of the market value of each investment less fees, taxes, and other qualified expenses, as defined under the plan rules.

§ 4410Q.6 Plan rules. Each UIT Fund shall be established, administered and maintained in accordance with a written trust agreement drawn by the trustee, referred to as the “Plan” which shall be approved by the board of directors of the trustee and a copy of which shall be submitted to the BSP for processing and approval prior to its implementation. Each new UIT Fund Plan filed for approval shall be charged a processing fee of P10,000.00.

The Plan shall contain the following minimum elements:

a. Title of the Plan. This shall correspond to the product/brand name by which the UIT Fund is proposed to be known and made available to its clients. The Plan rules shall state the classification of the UIT Fund (e.g., money market fund, bond fund, balanced fund and equity fund).

b. Manner by which the fund is to be operated. A statement of the fund’s investment objectives and policies including limitations, if any.

c. Risk disclosure. The Plan rules shall state both the general risks and risks specific to the type of fund.

d. Investment powers of the trustee with respect to the fund, including the character and kind of investments, which may be purchased, by the fund. There must be an unequivocal statement of the full discretionary powers of the trustee as far as the fund’s investments are concerned. These powers shall be limited only by the duly stated investment objective and policies of the fund.

e. The unitized NAVPu valuation methodology as prescribed under Subsec. 4410Q.5.d shall be employed.

f. Terms and conditions governing the admission or redemption of units of participation in the fund. The Plan rules shall state that the trustee, prior to admission of a client’s initial participation in the UIT Fund, shall conduct a client suitability assessment to profile the risk-return orientation and suitability of the client to the specific type of fund. If the frequency of admission or redemption is other than daily; that is, any business day, the same should be explicitly stated in the Plan rules: Provided, That the admission and redemption shall be based on the end of day NAVPu of the fund computed after the cut-off time for fund participation and redemption for that reference day, in accordance with existing BSP regulations on mark to market valuation of investment securities.

g. Aside from the regular audit requirement applicable to all trust accounts, an external audit of each UIT fund shall be conducted annually by an independent auditor acceptable to the BSP and the results thereof made available to participants. The external audit shall be conducted by the same external auditor engaged for the audit of the trust entity.

h. Basis upon which the fund may be terminated. The Plan rules shall state the rights of participants in case of termination of the fund. Termination of the fund shall be duly approved by the trustee’s board of directors and a copy of the resolution submitted to the appropriate department of the BSP.

i. Liability clause of the trustee. There must be a clear and prominent statement adjacent to where a client is required to sign the participating trust agreement that (1) the UIT Fund is a trust product and not a deposit account or an obligation of, or guaranteed, or insured by the trust entity or its affiliates or subsidiaries; (2) the UIT Fund is not insured or governed by the PDIC;
(3) due to the nature of the investment, yields and potential yields cannot be guaranteed;
(4) any loss/income arising from market fluctuations and price volatility of the securities held by the UIT Fund, even if invested in government securities, is for the account of the client/participant; (5) as such, the units of participation of the investor in the UIT Fund, when redeemed, may be worth more or be worth less than his/her initial investment/contributions; (6) historical performance, when presented, is purely for reference purposes and is not a guarantee of similar future result; and (7) the trustee is not liable for losses unless upon willful default, bad faith or gross negligence.

j. Amount of fees/commission and other charges to be deducted from the fund. The amount of fees that shall be charged to a fund shall cover the fund’s fair and equitable share of the routine administrative expenses of the trustee such as salaries and wages, stationery and supplies, credit investigation, collateral appraisal, security, messengerial and janitorial services, EDP expenses, BSP supervision fees and internal audit fees. However, the trustee may charge a UIT Fund for special expenses in case such expenses are (1) necessary to preserve or enhance the value of the fund, (2) payable to a third party covered by a separate contract, and (3) disclosed to participants. The trustee shall secure prior BSP approval for outsourcing services provided under existing regulations. No other fees shall be charged to the fund.

Marketing or other promotional related expenses shall be for the account of the trustee and shall be presumed covered by the trust fee.

k. Such other matters as may be necessary or proper to define clearly the rights of participants in the UIT Fund. The provisions of the Plan shall govern participation in the fund including the rights and benefits of persons having interest in such participation, as beneficiaries or otherwise. The Plan may be amended by a resolution of the board of directors of the trustee: Provided, however, That participants in the fund shall be immediately notified of such amendments and shall be allowed to withdraw their participations within a reasonable time but in no case less than thirty (30) calendar days after the amendments are approved, if they are not in conformity with the amendments made thereto: Provided further, That amendments to the Plan shall be submitted to the BSP within ten (10) business days from approval of the amendments by the board of directors. For purposes of imposing monetary penalties provided under Subsec. 4162Q.3 for delayed submission of reports, the amendments to the Plan shall be considered as “Category A-3” report. The amendments shall be deemed approved after thirty (30) business days from date of completion of requirements.

A copy of the Plan shall be available at the principal office of the trustee during regular office hours, for inspection by any person having an interest in the fund or by his authorized representative. Upon request, a copy of the Plan shall be furnished such interested person.

For QBs which maintain DDA with the BSP, penalties which remain unpaid after the lapse of the fifteen-day period shall be automatically debited against their corresponding DDA on the following business day without additional charge. If the balance of the concerned QB’s DDA is insufficient to cover the amount of the penalty, said penalty shall already be subject to an additional charge of six percent (6%) per annum to be reckoned from the business day immediately following the end of said fifteen (15)-day period up to the day of actual payment.

d. Appeal or request for reconsideration. A one (1)-time appeal or request for reconsideration on the... monetary penalty approved by the Governor/Monetary Board to be imposed on the QB, its directors and/or officers shall be allowed: Provided, That the same is filed with the appropriate department of the SES within fifteen (15) calendar days from receipt of the Statement of Account/billing letter. GUIDELINES TO EVALUATE INVESTMENT HOUSES

a. Capital - The requirement is a minimum paid-in capital of P200.0 million for an investment house to be established in Metro Manila and P100.0 million for all others. Foreign equity, if any, shall be registered with and approved by the Board of Investments and the BSP.

b. Citizenship - Majority (51%) of the voting stock shall be owned by Filipinos.

c. Directorship/Officership - Majority of the board members shall be Filipinos. Resident foreign directors and technicians shall register with the Bureau of Immigration and Deportation. Compliance with the prohibition on interlocking directorship/officership between banks and investment houses and between quasi-banks shall be observed.

d. Promotion of Public Interest and Economic Growth -

(1) Submission of a one (1)-year investment program indicating:
   (a) Underwriting and distribution activities. These shall show in details the various stages leading to the completion of an agreement. Target dates for each stage in the underwriting process shall be indicated which should serve as reference points in the event that an investment house is unable to bring the program and its components to fruition. Target volume of underwriting would be set initially at twenty-five percent (25%) of paid-in capital.
   (b) Fund mobilization. Emphasis shall be on maturities beyond one (1) year. Domestic and foreign sources shall be indicated and the latter shall be evaluated in terms of pertinent BSP regulations.
   (c) Fund usage. Support of priority investment areas of the Government and other projects which may be determined by the BSP shall be emphasized. Funds placed on maturities beyond one (1) year shall be preferred.
   (d) Planned distribution of portfolio activities indicating money-market services and investment in subsidiaries and affiliates, while necessary to sustain the investment house, shall be subordinated to the preferred activities above-indicated. Other activities as financial management, counseling, distribution of equity and debentures for "public" ownership, etc., shall be considered.

(2) The one (1)-year investment program of the investment house shall be related to the government development plan by indicating the portion of the investment and savings targets in the plan which would be supported by the investment house industry.

(3) A one (1)-year projected income statement showing major sources of income and expense items.

(4) Operational agreement with other financial institutions.

(5) A statement justifying the operation of the investment house as not in conflict with public interest and economic growth, taking into account the existing number of investment houses, indicating:
   (a) record of underwriting;
   (b) evidence of medium and long-term loans;
   (c) evidence of obtaining funds with maturities beyond one (1) year; and
   (d) equity investments which were subsequently distributed to the public.
e. Organization, Direction and Administration - The organizational/functional chart should match the organization framework with operational objectives. The management of the company, board of directors and the managerial staff, must be firmly designated before it can be granted a license to operate as an investment house.

f. Integrity, Experience and Expertise of Board and Management Staff
(1) Formal training, academic or others;
(2) Experience along financial management, securities dealing, fund management, project evaluation and feasibility studies;
(3) Absence of administrative or criminal conviction; and
(4) Affiliation with professional organizations.

g. Branching - The rate at which branch offices are to be established shall depend upon the ability of the company to conduct operations from headquarters/head offices as well as on correspondent (banking) arrangements. Other factors to be considered are the following:
(1) Reserve and liquidity position; and
(2) Profitability and capacity to absorb losses.

Add: xx% of above xxx xxx

Capital Accounts - (Base Period) P xxx
Capital Accounts - (Previous Year) xxx Increase P xxx

*Rate of Increase = \[
\frac{\text{Increase}}{\text{Capital Accounts of Previous Year}} = \frac{xxx}{xxx} = xx% \]

F. Estimated Excess of Capital over Minimum Capital Required or Additional Amount of Capital Applicant Must Put Up, as the case may be P xxx

*The computation to arrive at the "rate of increase" in capital accounts shall only be considered if there is sufficient indication or evidence that the NBQB will continue to follow the same amount of increase in capital accounts for the succeeding year. If no evidence is found that the NBQB will continue to increase its capital accounts for the same amount for the succeeding year, then computations should consider only the amount of net profits (after dividends) plowed into the business for the year immediately preceding the date of application plus the amount of capital that the NBQB promised to put up per its schedule or program submitted to the Bangko Sentral. If no such schedule or program was submitted, then only the amount of net profits (after dividends) for the year immediately preceding the date of application should be considered.

GUIDELINES IN IDENTIFYING AND MONITORING PROBLEM LOANS AND OTHER RISK ASSETS AND SETTING UP OF ALLOWANCE FOR PROBABLE LOSSES
(Appendix to Sec. 4302Q)

I. Classification of loans. In addition to classifying loans as either current or past due, the same should be qualitatively appraised and grouped as Unclassified or Classified.

A. Unclassified loans. These are loans that do not have a greater-than-normal risk and do not possess the characteristics of classified loans as defined below. The borrower has the apparent ability to satisfy his obligations in full and therefore no loss in ultimate collection is anticipated. The following loans, among others, shall not be subject to classification:

1. Loans or portions thereof secured by hold-outs on deposit substitutes maintained in the lending institutions, margin deposits, or government-supported securities;
2. Loans with technical defects and deficiencies in documentation and/or collateral requirements. These deficiencies are isolated cases where the exceptions involved are not material nor is the QB’s chance to be repaid or the borrower’s ability to liquidate the loan in an orderly manner undermined. These exceptions should be brought to management’s attention for corrective action during the examination and those not corrected shall be included in the Report of Examination under “Miscellaneous Exceptions – Loans”. Moreover, deficiencies which remained uncorrected in the following examination shall be classified as “Loans Especially Mentioned”.

The following are examples of loans to be cited under “Miscellaneous Exceptions – Loans”:

a. Loans with unregistered mortgage instrument which is not in compliance with the loan approval;

b. Loans with improperly executed supporting deed of assignment/pledge agreement/chattel mortgage/real estate mortgage;

c. Loans with unnotarized mortgage instruments/agreements;

d. Loans with collaterals not covered by appraisal reports or appraisal reports not updated;

e. Loan availments against expired credit line; availments in excess of credit line; availments against credit line without prior approval by appropriate authority;

f. Loans with collaterals not insured or with inadequate/expired insurance policies or the insurance policy is not endorsed in favor of the QB;

g. Loans granted beyond the limits of approving authority;

h. Loans granted without compliance with conditions stated in the approval; and

i. Loans secured by property the title to which bears an uncancelled annotation or lien or encumbrance.

B. Classified loans. These are loans which possess the characteristics outlined hereunder. Classified loans are subdivided into (1) loans especially mentioned; (2) substandard; (3) doubtful; and (4) loss.

1. Loans especially mentioned. These are loans that have potential weaknesses that deserve management’s close attention. These potential weaknesses, if left uncorrected, may affect the repayment of the loan and thus increase credit risk to the QB. Their basic characteristics are as follows:
08.12.31

a. Loans with unlocated collateral folders and documents including, but not limited to, title papers, mortgage instruments and promissory notes;
b. Loans to firms not supported by board resolutions authorizing the borrowings;
c. Loans without credit investigation report;
d. Loans not supported by the documents required under Subsec. 4312Q.1 except:
   (1) consumer loans, with original amounts not exceeding P2.0 million:
       Provided, That these loans are current, and are supported by latest ITR or by BIR Form 2316 or payslips for at least three (3) months immediately preceding the date of loan application, and financial statements submitted for taxation purposes to the BIR, as may be applicable, at the time they were granted, renewed, restructured or extended. For this purpose, consumer loans is defined to include housing loans, loans for purchase of car, household appliance(s), furniture and fixtures, loans for payment of educational and hospital bills, salary loans and loans for personal consumption, including credit card loans.
   (2) Loans which are exempted from the additional documentary requirements under Subsec. 4312Q.1;

e. Loans the repayment of which may be endangered by economic or market conditions that in the future may affect the borrower’s ability to meet scheduled repayments as evidenced by a declining trend in operations, illiquidity, or increasing leverage trend in the borrower’s financial statements;
f. Loans to borrowers whose properties securing the loan (previously well-secured by collaterals) have declined in value or with other adverse information;
g. Loans past due for more than thirty (30) days up to ninety (90) days; and
h. Loans previously cited as Miscellaneous Exceptions still uncorrected in the current BSP examination.

2. Substandard. These are loans or portions thereof which appear to involve a substantial and unreasonable degree of risk to the institution because of unfavorable record or unsatisfactory characteristics. There exists in such loans the possibility of future loss to the institution unless given closer supervision. Those classified as “Substandard” must have a well-defined weakness or weaknesses that jeopardize their liquidation. Such well-defined weaknesses may include adverse trends or development of financial, managerial, economic or political nature, or a significant weakness in collateral. Their basic characteristics are as follows:
   a. Secured loans
      (1) Past due and circumstances are such that there is an imminent possibility of foreclosure or acquisition of the collateral because of failure of all collection efforts;
      (2) Past due loans to borrowers whose properties securing the loan have declined in value materially or have been found with defects as to ownership or other adverse information; and
      (3) Current loans to borrowers whose AFs show impaired/negative net worth except for start-up firms which should be evaluated on a case-to-case basis.
   b. Unsecured loans
      (1) Renewed/extended loans of borrowers with declining trend in operations, illiquidity, or increasing leverage trend in the borrower’s financial statements without at least twenty percent (20%) repayment of the principal before renewal or extension; and
      (2) Current loans to borrowers with unfavorable results of operations for two (2) consecutive years or with impaired/negative net worth except for start-up firms which should be evaluated on a case-to-case basis.

c. Loans under litigation;
d. Loans past due for more than ninety (90) days;
e. Loans granted without requiring submission of the latest AFS/ITR and/or statements of assets and liabilities to determine paying capacity of the borrower;
f. Loans with unsigned promissory notes or signed by unauthorized officers of the borrowing firm; and

g. Loans classified as “Loans Especially Mentioned” in the last BSP examination which remained uncorrected in the current examination.

3. Doubtful. These are loans or portions thereof which have the weaknesses inherent in those classified as “Substandard”, with the added characteristics that existing facts, conditions, and values make collection or liquidation in full highly improbable and in which substantial loss is probable.
Their basic characteristics are as follows:
a. Past due clean loans classified as “Substandard” in the last BSP examination without at least twenty percent (20%) repayment of principal during the succeeding twelve (12) months or with current unfavorable credit information;
b. Past due loans secured by collaterals which have declined in value materially such as, inventories, receivables, equipment, and other chattels without the borrower offering additional collateral for the loans and previously classified “Substandard” in the last BSP examination;
c. Past due loans secured by real estate mortgage, the title to which is subject to an adverse claim rendering settlement of the loan through foreclosure doubtful;
and
d. Loans wherein the possibility of loss is extremely high but because of certain important and reasonably specific pending factors that may work to the advantage and strengthening of the asset, its classification as an estimated loss is deferred until a more exact status is determined.

4. Loss. These are loans or portions thereof which are considered uncollectible or worthless and of such little value that their continuance as bankable assets is not warranted although the loans may have some recovery or salvage value. The amount of loss is difficult to measure and it is not practical or desirable to defer writing off these basically worthless assets even though partial recovery may be obtained in the future. Their basic characteristics are as follows:
a. Past due clean loans the interest of which is unpaid for a period of six (6) months;
b. Loans payable in installments where amortization applicable to interest is past due for a period of six (6) months, unless the loan is well secured;
c. When the borrower’s whereabouts is unknown, or he is insolvent, or his earning power is permanently impaired and his co-makers or guarantors are insolvent or that their guaranty is not financially supported;
d. Where the collaterals securing the loans are considered worthless and the borrower and/or his co-makers are insolvent;
e. Loans considered as absolutely uncollectible; and
f. Loans classified as “Doubtful” in the last BSP examination and without any payment of interest or substantial reduction of principals during the succeeding twelve (12) months, or have current unfavorable credit information which renders collection of the loans highly improbable.
C. Credit card receivables. Credit card receivables shall be classified in accordance with age as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>No. of days past due</th>
<th>Classification</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>91 - 120</td>
<td>Substandard</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>121 - 180</td>
<td>Doubtful</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>181 or more</td>
<td>Loss</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The foregoing is the minimum classification requirement. Management may therefore formulate additional specific guidelines.

II. Investments and Other Risk Assets

A. Investment in debt securities and marketable equity securities. The classification, accounting procedures, valuation and sales and transfers of investment in all debt securities and marketable equity securities is in Appendix Q-20.

B. Equity investment in affiliates shall be booked at cost or book value whichever is lower on the date of acquisition. If cost is greater than book value, the excess shall be charged in full to operations or booked as deferred charges and amortized as expense over a period not exceeding five (5) years. Subsequent to acquisition, if there is an impairment in the recorded value, the impairment should adequately be provided with allowance for probable losses.

C. Other property owned or acquired

1. The basic characteristics of real estate property acquired subject to “Substandard” classification are as follows:
   a. Acquired for less than five (5) years unless worthless.
   b. Converted into a Sales Contract Receivable.
   c. Sold subject to a firm purchase commitment from a third party before the close of the examination.

2. The basic characteristics of real estate property acquired subject to “Loss” classification are as follows:
   a. Foreclosure expenses and other charges included in the book value of the property, excluding the amount of non-refundable capital gains tax and documentary stamp tax paid in connection with the foreclosure/purchase which meet the criteria for inclusion in the book value of the acquired property.
   b. The excess of the book value over the appraised value.
   c. Property whose title is definitely lost to a third party or is being contested in court.
   d. Property wherein the exercise of the right of usufruct is not practicable or possible as when it is eroded by a river or is under any like circumstances.

Real estate property acquired are not sound bank assets. Because of their nature, that is, non-liquid and non-productive, their immediate disposal through sale is highly recommended.

D. Acquired or repossessed personal property

1. All personal property owned or acquired held for three (3) years or less from date of acquisition shall be classified as Substandard assets.

2. The basic characteristics of acquired or repossessed personal property classified as Loss are as follows:
   a. Property not sold for more than three (3) years from date of acquisition;
   b. Property which is worthless or not saleable;
   c. Property whose title is lost or is being contested in court;
   d. Foreclosure expenses and other charges included in the book value of the property; and
   e. The excess of the book value of the property over its appraised or realizable value.
APP. Q-10
08.12.31

E. Accounts Receivable
1. Accounts receivable arising from loan and investment accounts still uncollected after six (6) months from the date such loans or loan installments have matured or have become past due shall be provided with a 100% allowance for uncollected accounts receivable.
2. All other accounts receivable should be classified in accordance with age as follows, unless there is good reason for non-classification:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>No. of Days Outstanding</th>
<th>Classification</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>61 - 180</td>
<td>Substandard</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>181 - 360</td>
<td>Doubtful</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>361 or more</td>
<td>Loss</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The classification according to age of accounts receivable should be used in classifying other risk assets not covered above. However, their classification should be tempered by favorable information gathered in the review.

F. Accrued Interest Receivable
1. Accrued interest receivable on loans or loan installments still uncollected after three (3) months from the date such loans or loan installments have matured or have become non-performing shall be provided with a 100% allowance for uncollected interest on loans.
2. All other accrued interest receivable on loans or loan installments shall be classified similar to the classification of their respective loan accounts.

III. Allowance for probable losses. An allowance for probable losses on the loan accounts should be set up as follows:

A. Specific allowance

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Classification</th>
<th>Allowance (Percent)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Unclassified</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Loans Especially Mentioned</td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Substandard</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(a) Secured</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(b) Unsecured</td>
<td>25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Doubtful</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Loss</td>
<td>100</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

B. General allowance. In addition to the allowance for probable losses required under Item "A", a general provision for loan losses shall also be set up as follows:
1. Five percent (5%) of the outstanding balance of unclassified restructured loans less the outstanding balance of restructured loans which are considered non-risk under existing laws, rules and regulations; and 2. One percent (1%) of the outstanding balance of unclassified loans other than restructured loans less loans which are considered non-risk under existing laws, rules and regulations.

The general loan loss provision shall be computed as follows:

For Loans Not Restructured

   Gross Loan Portfolio (Excluding Restructured Loans)
   Less: Classified Loans
      (based on latest BSP examination)
      Loans especially mentioned
      Secured
      Unsecured
      Doubtful
      Substandard
      Loss
      Unclassified Loans
      Loans considered non-risk
      under existing regulations
      Loan Portfolio, net of exclusions
      General Loan Loss Provision
      (1% of net loan portfolio)

For Restructured Loans

   Restructured Loans (Gross)
   Less: Classified Loans
      (based on latest BSP examination)
      Loans especially mentioned
      Secured
      Unsecured
      Doubtful
      Substandard
      Loss
      Unclassified Restructured Loans
      Loans considered non-risk
      under existing regulations
      Restructured Loans, net of exclusions
      General Loan Loss Provision
      (5% of net restructured loans)

The excess of the booked general loan loss provisions over the amount required as a result of the reduction of the amount required to be set up to one percent (1%) shall first be applied to unbooked specific valuation reserves, whether or not authorized to be booked on a staggered basis and only the remainder can be considered as income.

The specific and general allowances for probable losses shall be adjusted accordingly for additional allowance required by the BSP: Provided, That in cases of partially secured loans, only ten percent (10%) allowance shall be required for the portion thereof which are covered by the appraised value of the collateral.

Provided, further, That said collateral is reappraised at least annually.

Management is, however, encouraged to provide additional allowance as it deems prudent and to formulate additional specific guidelines within the context of the herein-described system.

(Appendix to Subsec. 4309Q.4)

Section 1. This Act shall be known as the "Truth in Lending Act."

Sec. 2. Declaration of Policy. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the State to protect its citizens from a lack of awareness of the true cost of credit to the user by assuring a full disclosure of such cost with a view of preventing the uninformed use of credit to the detriment of the national economy.

Sec. 3. As used in this Act, the term -

(3) "Finance charge" includes interest, fees, service charges, discounts, and such other charges incident to the extension of credit as the Board may by regulation prescribe.

Sec. 4. Any creditor shall furnish to each person to whom credit is extended, prior to the consummation of the transaction, a clear statement in writing setting forth, to the extent applicable and in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Board, the following information:

(1) the cash price or delivered price of the property or service to be acquired;
(2) the amounts, if any, to be credited as down payment and/or trade-in;
(3) the difference between the amounts set forth under clauses (1) and (2);
(4) the charges, individually itemized, which are paid or to be paid by such person in connection with the transaction but which are not incident to the extension of credit;
(5) the total amount to be financed;
(6) the finance charge expressed in terms of pesos and centavos; and
(7) the percentage that the finance charge bears to the total amount to be financed expressed as a simple annual rate on the outstanding unpaid balance of the obligation.

Sec. 6. (a) Any creditor who in connection with any credit transaction fails to disclose to any person any information in violation of this Act or any regulation issued thereunder shall be liable to such person in the amount of P100 or in an amount equal to twice the finance charge required by such creditor in connection with such transaction, whichever is the greater, except that such liability shall not exceed P2,000 on any credit transaction.

(c) Any person who willfully violates any provision of this Act or any regulation issued thereunder shall be fined by not less than P1,000 nor more than P5,000 or imprisonment for not less than 6 months nor more than one year or both.

(d) Any final judgment hereafter rendered in any criminal proceeding under this Act to the effect that a defendant has willfully violated this Act shall be prima facie evidence against such defendant in an action or proceeding brought by any other party against such defendant under this Act as to all matters respecting which said judgment would be an estoppel as between the parties thereto.

Sec. 7. This Act shall become effective upon approval.

AGREEMENT FOR THE ENHANCED INTERBANK CALL LOAN FUNDS TRANSFER SYSTEM
(Appendix to Subsecs. 4376Q.1 and 4601Q.1)

(As superseded by the agreement for PhilPaSS between the BSP and BAP/CTB/RBAP/IHAP and MMAP)
SETTLEMENT PROCEDURES FOR INTERBANK LOAN TRANSACTIONS AND PURCHASE AND SALE OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES
UNDER REPURCHASE AGREEMENTS WITH THE BANGKO SENTRAL
(Appendix to Subsecs. 4376Q.4 and 4601Q.1)

(As superseded by the agreement for PhilPaSS between the BSP and BAP/CTB/RBAP/IHAP and MMAP)
Given the increasing volume of PhilPaSS transactions as well as concerns of having temporary gridlocks in the PhilPaSS, the current features of the Intraday Liquidity Facility (ILF) had been enhanced, specifically on the following areas:

a. Flexibility in changing the securities that will be used for the ILF;

b. Availment of the facility on an "as the need arises" basis; and

c. Removal of commitment fees

The revised features of the ILF are described below.

A. Access to ILF

Government securities (GS) held by an Eligible Participant QB in its Regular Principal Securities Account that will be used for ILF purposes shall be delivered to a sub-account under the BSP-ILF Securities Account with the Bureau of the Treasury’s (BTr) Registry of Scripless Securities (RoSS). The delivered GS to be used for ILF purposes shall be recorded by RoSS in a sub-account (the "Client Securities Account (CSA)"-ILF) under the BSP-ILF Securities Account in the name of the Eligible Participant QB.

QB's without RoSS securities accounts who intend/desire to avail of the ILF shall be required to open/maintain a Securities Account with the RoSS. The documentation requirements for RoSS membership shall be prescribed by the BTr.

QB's desiring to avail of the ILF shall be required to open a sub-account under the BSP-ILF Securities Account with the BTr’s RoSS by accomplishing an application letter addressed to the Treasurer of the Philippines, Attn: The Director, Liability Management Service and the Chief, Scripless Securities Registration Division. The application letter shall be in the form of Annex 1 hereto.

B. Timeline

From 9:00 am to 9:30 am of each banking day, an Eligible Participant QB shall electronically instruct the BTr to move/transfer from its Principal Securities Account with the BTr’s RoSS to the CSA-ILF under the name of the Eligible Participant QB, the pool of peso-denominated GS to be set aside for the ILF purpose. The Eligible Participant QB hereby confirms to the BTr that pursuant to an ILF availment, it has authorized the transfer without consideration unto the CSA-ILF the pool of GS to be used for ILF purposes.

From 9:30 am to 10:00 am, the BTr RoSS shall electronically submit a consolidated report to BSP showing the details of the GS that were transferred to the BSP-ILF Securities Account.

From 10:00 am to 4:00 pm, Eligible Participant QBs with insufficient balances in its Demand Deposit Account No.2 (PhilPaSS Account) may avail of the ILF.

Eligible Participant QBs may avail of the ILF as necessary to fund pending payment instructions. Thus, when the ILF system detects queued transactions in the PhilPaSS-Central Accounting System, the Eligible Participant QB with insufficient balance in its PhilPaSS Account will automatically sell to the BSP-Treasury the GS in the CSA-ILF pool corresponding to the amount which may be needed to cover any pending payment instruction, and the proceeds of the sale of securities shall be immediately credited to the bank’s PhilPaSS Account. There may be more than one availment during the day.

Until a sale to the BSP or an Overnight Repo (O/N-RP) transaction with the BSP is executed, the beneficial ownership of the GS that have been transferred to the CSA-ILF still belongs to the QBs.

At 5:00 pm, the BSP shall sell back to the Eligible Participant QB the GS at the same price as the original BSP purchase. Partial repayment of a particular availment will not be allowed.

In case the PhilPaSS Account balance of the participating QB is not sufficient to cover the afternoon repayment transaction, the BSP and the participating QB may agree on the following:

a. BSP shall extend to the Eligible participant QB an O/N-RP at 600 basis points over the BSP’s regular overnight lending rate for the day. The O/N-RP shall be paid not later than 11:00 am on maturity date. Unpaid O/N-RP shall be automatically converted into an absolute sale to the BSP of the subject GS earlier delivered/transferred to the CSA-ILF, pursuant to an ILF availment by the Eligible Participant QB, in which case, BSP shall issue an instruction to BTr to deliver/transfer the subject GS from the BSP-ILF Securities Account to the BSP regular Principal Securities Account. The sale shall be evidenced by the issue of Confirmation of Sale by the Eligible Participant QB (Annex 2) and the Confirmation of Purchase by the BSP Treasury Department (Annex 3), or,
b. Only in extreme cases, the BSP shall sell back to the participating QBs GS up to the extent of the PhilPaSS Account balance. The BSP shall issue an instruction to the BTr to transfer the remaining GS amounting to the unpaid ILF availment from the BSP-ILF Securities Account to the BSP’s Regular Principal Securities Account.

At the end of the day and after BSP’s sell-back of the GS to ILF participants, normally by 5:45 pm, the BSP Treasury Department shall electronically instruct RoSS, using the ILF RoSS system developed for herein purpose, to return/deliver from the CSA-ILF of the participating QBs to their respective Regular Principal Securities Accounts with the RoSS all unused/unencumbered GS. GS used for O/N-RP shall remain in the CSA-ILF until repayment of subject O/N-RP or conversion to outright sale the following day.

Upon receipt of BSP’s electronic instruction for the return of GS back to the participating QBs’ regular Principal Securities Accounts, the BTr shall update their database after which participating QBs may request/download statements of securities accounts for their verification.

C. Eligible Securities

Peso-denominated scripless securities of the National Government that are free and unencumbered and with remaining maturity of eleven (11) days to ten (10) years shall be eligible for the ILF. GS that will be used for ILF purposes would be reclassified with due consideration to the original booking of the security, as follows:

F. Transaction Fee
The BTr shall collect a monthly maintenance fee of One Thousand Pesos (P1,000.00) from each Eligible Participant QB for the use of the CSA-ILF Securities Account. The maintenance fees herein required to be paid by each Eligible Participant QB shall be separate from and exclusive of any other fees being assessed and collected by BTr for membership in the RoSS. For this purpose, the Eligible Participant QB shall issue to the BTr an autodebit instruction to authorize the BTr to debit its DDA with BSP for the above-mentioned monthly maintenance fee. The BTr will inform the Eligible Participant QBs of any change in fee at least fifteen (15) days prior to implementation.

G. DDA Statements/Transaction Details
Eligible Participating QBs will be able to verify the status of their accounts by initiating the SWIFT/PPS-Front-end System inquiry request.

Availability of Service
The ILF is covered by a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) dated 25 March 2008 by and among the BSP, the BTr, the Bankers Association of the Philippines (for BAP members) and the Money Market Association of the Philippines (for non-BAP members). Participating QBs shall sign individual participation agreements. The services outlined in the MOA shall be available at the BSP and the BTr at a fixed hour on all banking days. Banking days refer to the days banking institutions are open for business, Mondays thru Fridays as authorized by the BSP.

                      By:

                      SIGNED IN THE PRESENCE OF:
I. Foreword

These guidelines, which are based on the "Risk Management Guidelines For Derivatives" issued by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision in July 1994, are expected to facilitate the further development of a prudent approach to the risk management of derivatives.

The BSP recognizes that sound internal risk management is essential to the prudent operations of financial institutions and that supervisory tools, such as capital requirements, are not by themselves sufficient. Sound internal risk management is also essential to promoting stability in the financial system as a whole.

While the precise applicability of these guidelines will depend on the size and complexity of an institution's derivatives activities, we believe that the application of the basic principles embodied therein are very relevant even for risks inherent in more traditional activities.

II. Introduction and Basic Principles

1. Derivatives instruments have become increasingly important to the overall risk profile and profitability of banking organizations throughout the world. Broadly defined, a derivatives instrument is a financial contract whose value depends on the values of one or more underlying assets or indices. Derivatives activities include a wide assortment of financial contracts, including forwards, futures, swaps and options. In addition, other traded instruments incorporate derivatives characteristics, such as those with embedded options. While some derivatives instruments may have very complex structures, all of them can be divided into the basic building blocks of options, swaps, futures and forwards or some combination thereof. The use of these basic building blocks in structuring derivatives instruments allows the transfer of various financial risk to parties who are more willing, or better suited, to take or manage them.

2. Derivatives are used by banking organizations both as risk management tools and a source of revenue. From a risk management perspective, they allow financial institutions and other participants to identify, isolate and manage separately the market risks in financial instruments and commodities. When used prudently, derivatives can offer managers efficient and effective methods for reducing certain risks through hedging. Derivatives may also be used to reduce financing costs and to increase the yield of certain assets. For a growing number of banking organizations, derivatives activities are becoming a direct source of revenue through "market-making" functions and "position-taking":

- "MARKET-MAKING" functions involve entering into derivatives activities with customers and with other market-makers while maintaining a generally balanced portfolio with the expectation of earning fees generated by a bid/offer spread; and

- "POSITION-TAKING", on the other hand, represents efforts to profit by accepting the risk that stems from taking outright positions in anticipation of price movements.

3. Participants in the derivatives markets are generally grouped into two categories based primarily on their motivations for entering into derivatives contracts. End-users typically enter into derivatives activities to achieve specified objectives related to hedging, financing or position-taking on the normal course of their business operations. A wide variety of business enterprises are end-users. They include, but are not limited to, a broad range of financial institutions such as banks, securities firms and insurance companies; funds and specialized investment partnerships; and corporations, local and state governments, government agencies and international agencies.

4. Intermediaries, which are sometimes referred to as “Dealers”, cater to the needs of end-users by “making markets” in over-the-counter derivatives instruments. In doing so, they expect to generate income from transaction fees, bid/offer spreads and their own trading positions. Important intermediaries, or derivatives dealers, include major banks and securities firms. As intermediaries, banks have traditionally offered foreign exchange and interest rate risk management products to their customers and generally view derivatives products as a financial risk management service.

5. The basic risks associated with derivatives activities are not new to banking organizations. In general, these risks are credit risk, market risk, liquidity risk, operations risk and legal risk. Because they facilitate the specific identification and management of these risks, derivatives have the potential to enhance the safety and soundness of financial institutions and to produce a more efficient allocation of financial risks. However, since derivatives also have these basic risks in combinations that can be quite complex, they can also threaten the safety and soundness of institutions if they are not clearly understood and properly managed.

6. Recognizing the importance of sound risk management to the effective use of derivatives instruments, the following guidelines are intended to highlight the key elements and basic principles of sound management practice for both dealers and end-users of derivatives instruments. These basic principles include:

a. appropriate oversight by Boards of Directors and/or Management Committee and Senior Management;

b. adequate risk management process that integrates prudent risk limits, sound measurement procedures and information systems, continuous risk monitoring and frequent management reporting; and

c. comprehensive internal controls and audit procedures.

III. Oversight of the Risk Management Process. Written policies and procedures on derivatives activities must be set forth and documented in a policy manual duly approved by its Board of Directors. The manual should include the following minimum features:

1. Scope of derivatives activities and types of services and products offered to clients;

2. Authorities and Responsibilities of:
   a. Board of Directors
   b. Management Committees
   c. Chief Executive Officer
   d. Other Senior Officers
   e. Department Managers
   f. Trading or Dealing Officers/Staff

3. Policies and procedures to govern trading, including trading, exposure and gap limits, and documentation of transactions;

4. Policies and procedures for controlling and measuring risk;

5. Accounting policies and procedures;

6. Internal control system;

7. Internal audit policies;

8. Policy review;

9. Reporting requirements;

10. Job description of key positions and minimum qualification standards; and

11. Client-oriented safety nets.
A. Oversight by Board of Directors and/or Management Committee

1. The Board of Directors or appropriate Management Committee should approve all significant policies relating to the management of risks throughout the institution. These policies, which should include those related to derivatives activities, should be consistent with the organization's broader business strategies, capital strength, management expertise and overall willingness to take risk.

2. The Board of Directors or appropriate management committee shall structure a compensation package for risk management officers and staff in such a way that the said package is sufficiently independent of the performance of trading activities.

B. Oversight by Senior Management

1. Senior management should be responsible for ensuring that there are adequate policies and procedures for conducting derivatives operations on both a long-range and day-to-day basis. This responsibility includes: a) ensuring that there are clear delineations of lines of responsibility for managing risk, adequate systems for measuring risk, appropriately structured limits on risk taking, effective internal controls and a comprehensive risk-reporting process; b) ensuring that all appropriate approvals are obtained and that adequate operational procedures and risk control systems are in place.

2. Any significant changes in any derivatives activities or any new derivatives activities should be approved by the Board of Directors or an appropriate level of senior management as designated by the Board of Directors.

3. Senior management should regularly evaluate the procedures in place to manage risk to ensure that those procedures are appropriate and sound.

C. Independent Risk Management Functions

1. An independent body shall manage the measurement, monitoring and control of risks consistent with established policies and procedures. It shall directly report to the Board of Directors or to the appropriate management committee.

2. The personnel performing independent risk management functions should have a complete understanding of the risks associated with all of the bank's derivatives activities. Accordingly, compensation policies for these individuals should be adequate to attract and retain personnel qualified to assess these risks.

IV. The Risk Management Process

1. The primary components of a sound risk management process are: comprehensive risk measurement approach; detailed structure of limits, guidelines and other parameters used to govern risk-taking; and strong management information system for controlling, monitoring and reporting risks.

2. To enable an institution to manage its risk exposure more effectively, its risk management process for derivatives activities should be integrated into its overall risk management system using a conceptual framework common to its other activities.

3. The risk exposures in derivatives activities should be fully supported by an adequate capital position.

A. Risk Measurement

1. Risk should be measured and aggregated across trading and non-trading activities on an institution-wide basis to the fullest extent possible. In derivatives activities, assessment of the following risks should be included: credit risk, market risk, liquidity risk, operations risk and legal risk (Section VI of these Guidelines).
2. Risk measurement procedures should be understood by all relevant personnel - from individual traders to the Board of Directors.

3. Mark-to-Market valuation of derivatives positions is fundamental to measuring and reporting exposures accurately and on a timely basis. A daily report to management indicating the gain or loss on derivatives activities should be submitted. Monitoring of credit exposures, trading positions and market improvements should be done at least daily.

4. Sound risk measurement practices include analysis of stress situations and identification of changes in market behavior that could have unfavorable effects on the institution and assessment of the ability of the institution to withstand them.

B. Limiting Risks

1. A sound system of integrated institution-wide limits should set boundaries for organizational risk-taking and should ensure that position which exceeds pre-determined levels receive prompt management attention. Such a system should define, among others, the following limits:

   a. Earnings or capital-at-risk limits - This defines the limit on potential loss which could be expressed as a percentage of projected earnings or capital; and

   b. Exposure limits - This defines maximum exposure to the various derivatives products.

2. Should pre-determined limits be exceeded, a report to senior management must be made for information and appropriate action.

C. Reporting. An accurate, informative, and timely reporting system to the appropriate level of management is essential to the prudent operation of derivatives activities. Top management should be provided with adequate and timely information, on a regular basis, to judge the changing nature of the institution's risk profile.

D. Management Evaluation and Review

1. Risk management guidelines should be evaluated and reviewed regularly since any change in either the institution's activities or the market environment may have created exposure that requires additional attention.

2. The review should include assessment of the methodologies, models and assumptions used in measuring risk. Limit structures should be altered whenever necessary to reflect the institution's past performance and current position. These reviews should be made at least annually, or more often as market conditions dictate, to ensure that they are appropriate and consistent.

3. Before being involved in new products, all relevant personnel (including those in risk management, internal control, legal, accounting and auditing) should understand the product and should be able to integrate it into the institution's risk measurement and control systems.

V. Internal Controls and Audit

1. A sound system of internal controls should promote effective and efficient operations, reliable financial and regulatory reporting, and compliance with relevant laws, regulations and policies of the institution. In determining whether internal controls meet those objectives, the institution should consider the overall control environment of the organization; the process of identifying, analyzing and managing risk; the adequacy of management information systems; and adherence to control activities such as approvals, confirmations and reconciliations. Reconciliation control is particularly important where there are differences in the valuation methodologies or systems used by the front and back offices.

2. Internal auditors should audit and test the risk management process and internal controls on a periodic basis, with the frequency based on a careful risk assessment. The depth and frequency of internal audits should be increased if weaknesses and significant issues are discovered, or if significant changes have been made to product lines, modeling methodologies, the risk oversight process, internal controls or the overall risk profile of the institution. To facilitate the development of adequate controls, internal auditors should be brought into the product development process at the earliest possible stage.

3. The institution should develop internal controls for key activities which should include the following features:
   a. A chart of subsidiary accounts adequately describing each account and designed to complement the Manual of Accounts prescribed by the BSP; and
   b. Written policies/procedures for handling/recording confirmation and settlement of transactions; segregation of duties between the front office and back room personnel; revaluation of positions indicating sources of revaluation rates; documentation of review and approval of limits and sub-limits; and evaluation and reporting to the Board of Directors/ Senior Management of audit findings/exceptions; and such other key activities the institution is engaged in.

4. Internal auditors are expected to continuously evaluate the independence and overall effectiveness of the institution’s risk management functions. They should be involved in the periodic review and evaluation of all bank policies, limits, internal controls and procedures developed for the institution’s key activities.

5. Bank management should ensure that a mechanism exists whereby financial derivatives contract documentation is confirmed, maintained, and safeguarded. Documentation exceptions should be properly monitored and resolved.

   Controls must be in place to ensure that the appropriate contract documentation is timely and properly executed and maintained. The bank should establish a process through which documentation exceptions are monitored and appropriately reviewed by senior management and legal counsel. Banks with more active derivatives businesses may consider establishing a separate documentation unit to control financial derivatives contracts and supporting documents. Such a unit may be a part of a broader documentation unit of the legal department.

VI. Sound Risk Management Practices for Each Type of Risk

A. Credit Risk - is the risk that a counterparty will fail to perform on an obligation to the institution.

Credit risk management should parallel the prudent controls expected in traditional lending activities. Policies and procedures should be formalized to address concerns such as significant counterparty exposures, concentration of credit, risk ratings, non-performing contracts, and allowance allocations.

An institution should include in its credit risk policy, the credit exposures to an individual counter-party. Internal limits that are prudent in the light of its financial condition and management expertise should be established. Policies and procedures should reflect the Board of Director’s risk tolerance for concentration of credit. Policies addressing credit management functions, such as risk ratings, non-performing contracts, and allowance allocations should be consistent.

Credit Approval Function
1. Management should make sure that credit authorizations are provided by personnel independent of the trading unit to ensure safe and sound management of derivatives credit risk exposure. Credit officers and approving officers should: familiar with credit risk; able to analyze the impact of proposed derivatives activities on the financial condition of the customer; responsible for establishing and changing financial derivatives credit lines; and able to understand the applicability of financial derivatives instruments to the risks the bank customer is attempting to manage.

2. Credit analysis should be documented and necessary information should be provided to customer/s.

Pre-settlement Risk
1. The system to be used to quantify the pre-settlement credit risk exposure should: a) take into account current exposure (“mark-to-market”) as well as potential credit risk due to possible future changes in applicable market rates or prices (“add-on”); b) use a reliable source for determining the credit risk factor used to calculate the credit risk add-on; and c) produce a number representing a reasonable approximation of loan equivalency, that is, the amount of credit exposure inherent in a comparable extension of credit.

The mark-to-market calculation should incorporate the same controls as the mark-to-market calculation used to identify profits and losses. Prices should be obtained independently from qualified sources on a periodic basis. The traders should not be used as the source of market valuations.

2. The sophistication of credit risk measurement system should be consistent with the level of activity and degree of risk assumed in derivatives activities. An internal control system to determine potential credit risk should be in place.

Settlement Risk
This is the risk that an institution faces when it has performed its obligations under a contract, but has not yet received value from its counterparty. Management should establish limits and monitoring procedures for settlement risk exposures. Settlement risk limits should be established separately from pre-settlement credit limits and should consider capital adequacy, operations efficiency and credit analysis expertise. Monitoring reports should provide sufficient detail to identify credit risk arising from settlement versus pre-settlement exposure.

Credit Risk Monitoring
1. Credit risk monitoring should be independent of the units that create financial derivatives exposures. The risk monitoring unit should be responsible for producing and distributing timely and accurate information about credit exposures, such as concentration of credit, credit quality, limit exceptions, and significant counterparty exposures.

2. This methodology adopted to measure and monitor credit risk should be controlled by personnel independent of the trading unit.

B. Market Risk - is the risk that adverse movements in the level or volatility of market prices will affect the institution's financial condition.
Dealers and Active Position-Takers
1. There should be a risk measurement system that can quantify risk exposures arising from changes in market factors. This system should be structured to enable management to initiate prompt remedial action, facilitate stress testing, and assess the potential impact of various changes in market factors on earnings and capital. At a minimum, all risk measurement applications and models should be reviewed and validated annually, and management should maintain adequate documentation to support the reliability of the validation process.

2. Statistical analyses should be used to characterize market scenarios and price behavior. Before they are used, and whenever market conditions change significantly, the analyses should be validated by a source independent of the trading desk or risk assumption unit.

Limited End-Users
The senior management should ensure that all significant risks arising from their derivatives activities can be quantified, monitored, and controlled. At a minimum, risk management systems should evaluate the possible impact of derivatives activities on earnings and capital which may result from adverse changes in interest rates and other market conditions that are relevant to risk exposure and the effectiveness of financial derivatives activities.

C. Liquidity Risk - is the risk that an institution will not be able to, or cannot easily, exit or unwind its position at a desired market price (market/product liquidity risk); or to meet its cash flow obligations as they fall due or upon margin calls (cash flow/funding liquidity risk).

1. Management should evaluate these risks in the broader context of the institution’s overall liquidity because neither type of liquidity risk is necessarily unique to derivatives activities.

2. In developing guidelines for controlling liquidity risks, an institution should consider the possibility that it could lose access to one or more markets, either because of concerns about the institution’s own credit worthiness, the credit worthiness of a major counterparty or because of generally stressful market conditions. At such times, the institution may have less flexibility in managing its market, credit and liquidity risk exposures. An institution that makes markets in over-the-counter derivatives or that dynamically hedges\(^1\) its positions requires constant access to financial markets and that need may increase in times of market stress. The institution’s liquidity plan should reflect its ability to turn to alternative markets, such as futures or cash markets, or to provide sufficient collateral or other credit enhancements in order to continue trading under a broad range of scenarios.

3. An institution that participates in over-the-counter derivatives markets should assess the potential liquidity risks associated with the early termination of derivatives contracts. Many forms of standardized contracts for derivatives activities allow counterparties to request collateral or to terminate their contracts early if the institution experiences an adverse credit event or a deterioration in its financial condition. In addition, under conditions of market stress, customers may ask for the early termination of some contracts within the context of the dealer’s market making activities. In such situations, an institution that owes money

\(^{1}\)Dynamic hedging refers generally to the continuous process of buying and selling of instruments to offset exposures as market conditions change (e.g., an option writer selling an underlying asset as its price falls.) on derivatives activities may be required to deliver collateral or settle a contract early and possibly at a time when it may face other funding and liquidity pressures. Early terminations may also open up additional, unintended, market positions. Management and directors should be aware of these potential liquidity risks and should address them in the institution liquidity plan and in the broader context of the institution’s liquidity management process.

D. Operational Risk - is the risk that an institution will suffer an unexpected loss due to deficiencies in information systems or internal controls.

1. The Board of Directors/Management Committee and senior management should ensure the proper dedication of resources to support operations and systems development and maintenance. The operation unit should report to an independent unit and should be managed independently of the business unit. The sophistication of the systems support and operational capacity should be commensurate with the size and complexity of the derivatives business activity.

2. Systems support and operational capacity should be adequate to accommodate the types of derivatives activities in which the institution engages. This includes the ability to efficiently process and settle the volume transacted through the business unit, to provide support for the complexity of the transactions booked and to provide accurate and timely input. Support systems and the systems developed to interface with the official databases should generate accurate information sufficient to allow business unit management and senior management to promptly monitor risk exposures.

3. Segregation of operational duties, exposure reporting and risk monitoring from the business unit is critical to proper internal control.

4. Management should ensure that a mechanism exists whereby derivatives contract documentation is confirmed, maintained and safeguarded. An institution should establish a process through which documentation exceptions are monitored and resolved and appropriately reviewed by senior management and legal counsel. The institution should also have approved policies that specify documentation requirements for derivatives activities and formal procedures for savings and safeguarding important documents that are consistent with legal requirements and internal policies.

E. Legal Risk - is the risk that contracts are not legally enforceable or correctly documented.

1. Before engaging in derivatives activities, an institution, in consultation with its legal counsel, should be satisfied that its counterparties have the legal authority to engage in such activities.

2. The terms of any contract governing derivatives activities should be legally sound.

3. The institution should use the International Swap Dealers Association, Inc. (ISDA) Master Agreement insofar as the same is not inconsistent with existing laws, rules and regulations.
Similar to other financial transactions, derivatives activities may provide significant benefits and involve a variety of significant risks.

Before entering into any derivatives activity, you should carefully consider whether the transaction is appropriate for you in light of your objectives, experience, financial and operational resources, and other relevant circumstances. You should ensure that you fully understand the nature and extent of your exposure to risk of loss, which may significantly exceed the amount of any initial payment by or to you.

In general, all derivatives activities involve risks, which include, among others, the risk of adverse or unanticipated market, financial or political developments, risk of counterparty or issuer default and other credit and enforcement risks, and risk of illiquidity and related risks. In addition, you may be subject to operational risks in the event that you do not have in place appropriate internal systems and controls to monitor the various risks, funding and other requirements to which you may be subject by virtue of your activities in derivatives and other financial markets.

As in any financial transaction, you should ensure that you understand the requirements applicable to you that are established by your regulators or by your board of directors or other governing body. You should also consider the legal, tax and accounting implications of entering into any derivatives activity.

In entering into any derivatives activity with, or arranged by, us or any of our subsidiaries/affiliates, you should also understand that is acting solely in the capacity of an arm’s length contractual counterparty and not in the capacity of your financial adviser or fiduciary unless has so agreed in writing and then only to the extent so provided. Whether or not you and have established a written financial advisory or fiduciary relationship, may, from time to time, have substantial long or short positions in, and may make a market in or otherwise buy or sell instruments identical or economically related to, the derivatives activity entered into with you; may also have an investment banking, corporate advisory, or other commercial relationship with the issuer of any security or financial instrument underlying the derivatives activity entered into with you.

THIS BRIEF STATEMENT DOES NOT PURPORT TO DISCLOSE ALL OF THE RISKS OR OTHER RELEVANT CONSIDERATIONS OF ENTERING INTO DERIVATIVES ACTIVITIES. YOU SHOULD REFRAIN FROM ENTERING INTO ANY SUCH ACTIVITY UNLESS YOU FULLY UNDERSTAND ALL SUCH RISKS AND HAVE INDEPENDENTLY DETERMINED THAT THE ACTIVITY IS APPROPRIATE FOR YOU.

Sec. 16. Cease and Desist Order - The Commission may, on its own motion or upon verified complaint of any aggrieved party, issue a Cease and Desist Order ex parte, if the violation(s) mentioned in the preceding sections may cause grave or irreparable injury to the public or may amount to culpable fraud or violation of these Rules and Regulations, implementing circulars, certificates of authority issued by the Commission, or of any order, decision or ruling thereof.

The issuance of such Cease and Desist Order automatically suspends the authority to operate as a financing company. Immediately upon the issuance of an ex-parte Cease and Desist Order, the Commission shall notify the parties involved and schedule a hearing on whether to lift such order or to impose administrative sanctions provided for in Section 16 not later than fifteen (15) days after service of notice.

CLASSIFICATION, ACCOUNTING PROCEDURES, VALUATION AND SALES AND TRANSFERS OF INVESTMENTS IN DEBT SECURITIES AND MARKETABLE EQUITY SECURITIES
(Appendix to Subsec. 4391Q.3)

Section 1. Statement of Policy. It is the policy of the BSP to promote full transparency of the financial statements of banks and other supervised institutions in order to strengthen market discipline, encourage sound risk management practices, and stimulate the domestic capital market. Towards these ends, the BSP desires to align local financial accounting standards with international accounting standards as prescribed by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) to the greatest extent possible.

Sec. 2. Scope. This Appendix covers accounting for investments in debt and equity securities except:

a. those that are part of hedging relationship;

b. those that are hybrid financial instruments;

c. those financial liabilities that are held for trading;

d. those financial assets and financial liabilities which, upon initial recognition, are designated by the FIs as at fair value through profit or loss; and

e. those that are classified as loans and receivables.

It also does not include accounting for derivatives and non-derivative financial instruments other than debt and equity securities. The foregoing exceptions and exclusions shall be covered by separate regulations.

Sec. 3. Investments in Debt and Equity Securities. Depending on the intent, investments in debt and equity securities shall be classified into one (1) of four (4) categories and accounted for as follows:

a. Held to Maturity (HTM) Securities
- These are debt securities with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity that an FI has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity other than:

(1) those that meet the definition of Securities at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss; and

(2) those that the FI designates as Available-for-Sale Securities.

An FI shall not classify any debt security as HTM if the FI has, during the current financial year or during the two (2) preceding financial years, sold or reclassified more than an insignificant amount of HTM investments before maturity (more than insignificant in relation to the total amount of HTM investments) other than sales or reclassifications that:

(a) are so close to maturity or the security’s call date (i.e., less than three (3) months before maturity) that changes in the market rate of interest would not have a significant effect on the security’s fair value;

(b) occur after the FI has substantially collected all [i.e., at least eighty-five percent (85%)] of the security’s original principal through scheduled payments or prepayments; or

(c) are attributable to an isolated event that is beyond the FI’s control, is non-recurring and could not have been reasonably anticipated by the FI.

For this purpose, the phrase “more than an insignificant amount” refers to sales or reclassification of one percent (1%) or more of the outstanding balance of the HTM portfolio. Provided, however, that sales or reclassifications of less than one percent (1%) shall be evaluated on case-to-case basis.

Reclassification allowed until 30 Nov. 2005 as per MAB dated 23 Nov. 2005
Sales or reclassifications before maturity that do not meet any of the conditions prescribed in this Appendix shall require the entire HTM portfolio to be reclassified to Available-for-Sale. Further, the FI shall be prohibited from using the HTM account during the reporting year of the date of sales or reclassifications and for the succeeding two (2) full financial years. Failure to reclassify the HTM portfolio to Available-for-Sale on the date of sales or reclassifications, shall subject the FI and concerned officers to penalties and sanctions provided under 4391Q.3. This provision shall be applied prospectively, i.e., on prohibited sales or reclassifications occurring on 13 March 2005 (effectivity date of Circular No. 476 dated 16 February 2005) and thereafter.

Securities held in compliance with BSP regulations, e.g., securities held as liquidity reserves and for the faithful performance of trust duties, may be classified either as HTM, Securities Held-for-Trading (HFT) or Available for Sale: Provided, That the provision of Item (4) of paragraph 2 of Section 3.a.1 shall not apply to sales or reclassifications of the said securities booked under HTM.

a.1. Positive intention and ability to hold investments in HTM securities to maturity – An FI does not have a positive intention to hold to maturity an HTM security if:

(a) the FI intends to hold the security for an undefined period;

(b) the FI stands ready to sell the security (other than if a situation arises that is non-recurring and could not have been reasonably anticipated by the FI in response to changes in market interest rates or risks, liquidity needs, changes in the availability of and the yield on alternative investments, changes in financing sources and terms or changes in foreign currency risk; or

(c) the issuer has a right to settle the security at an amount significantly below its amortized cost.

Sales before maturity could satisfy the condition of HTM classification and therefore need not raise a question about the FI’s intention to hold other HTM securities to maturity if they are attributable to any of the following:

(i) A significant deterioration in the issuer’s creditworthiness; for example, a sale following a downgrade in a credit rating by an external rating agency would not necessarily raise a question about the FI’s intention to hold other investments to maturity if the downgrade provides evidence of a significant deterioration in the issuer’s creditworthiness judged by reference to the credit rating at initial recognition. Similarly, if an FI uses internal ratings for assessing exposures, changes in those internal ratings may help to identify issuers for which there has been a significant deterioration in creditworthiness, provided the FI’s approach to assigning internal ratings and changes in those ratings give a consistent, reliable and objective measure of the credit quality of the issuers. If there is evidence that an instrument is impaired, the deterioration in creditworthiness is often regarded as significant.

(ii) A change in tax law that eliminates or significantly reduces the tax-exempt status of interest on the HTM security (but not a change in tax law that revises the marginal tax rates applicable to interest income);

(iii) A major business combination or major disposition (such as sale of a segment) that necessitates the sale or transfer of HTM securities to maintain the FI’s existing interest rate risk position or credit risk policy: Provided, That the sale or transfer of HTM security shall be done only once and within a period of six (6) months from the date of the business combination or major disposition: Provided, further, That prior BSP approval is required for sales or transfers occurring after the prescribed six (6)-month time frame. In this case, FIs shall submit to the appropriate department of the SES, a plan stating the reason for the extension and the proposed schedule for the disposition of the HTM security.

(iv) A change in statutory or regulatory requirements significantly modifying either what constitutes a permissible investment or the maximum level of particular types of investments, thereby causing an FI to dispose of an HTM security;

(v) A significant increase in the industry’s regulatory capital requirements that causes the FI to downsize by selling HTM securities; or

(vi) A significant increase in the risk weights of HTM securities used for regulatory risk-based capital purposes.

An FI does not have a demonstrated ability to hold to maturity an investment in HTM security if:

(aa) it does not have the financial resources available to continue to finance the investment until maturity; or

(bb) it is subject to an existing legal or other constraint that could frustrate its intention to hold the security to maturity.

Sales before maturity due to events that are non-recurring and could not have been reasonably anticipated by the FI such as a run on a bank, likewise satisfy the condition of HTM classification and therefore need not raise a question about the FI’s intention and ability to hold other HTM investments to maturity.

An FI assesses its intention and ability to hold its investment in HTM securities to maturity not only when those securities are initially recognized, but also at each time that the FI prepares its financial statements.

a.2. HTM securities shall be measured upon initial recognition at their fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the securities.

For this purpose, transactions costs include fees and commissions paid to agents (including employees acting as selling agents), advisers, brokers and dealers, levies by regulatory agencies and securities exchanges, and transfer taxes and duties. Transaction costs do not include debt premiums or discounts, financing costs or internal administrative or holding costs.

After initial recognition, an FI shall measure HTM securities at their amortized cost using the effective interest method.

For this purpose, the effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a security (or group of securities) and of allocating the interest income over the relevant period using the effective interest rate. The effective interest rate shall refer to the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the security or when appropriate, a shorter period to the net carrying amount of the security. When calculating the effective interest rate, an FI shall estimate cash flows considering all contractual terms of the security (for example, prepayment, call and similar options) but shall not consider future credit losses. The calculation includes all fees and points paid to the other party to the contract that are an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs, and all other premiums or discounts. There is a presumption that the cash flows and the expected life of a group of similar securities can be estimated reliably. However, in those rare cases when it is not possible to estimate reliably the cash flows or the expected life of a security (or group of securities), the FI shall use the contractual cash flows over the full contractual terms of the security.

A gain or loss arising from the change in the fair value of the HTM security shall be recognized in profit or loss when the security is derecognized or impaired, and through the amortization process.

An FI shall assess at each time it prepares its financial statements whether there is any objective evidence that an HTM security is impaired.
If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on HTM securities has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the security's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the security's original effective interest rate (i.e., the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition). The carrying amount of the security shall be reduced through the use of an allowance account. The amount of the loss shall be recognized in profit or loss.

As a practical expedient, a creditor may measure impairment of HTM securities on the basis of an instrument's fair value using an observable market price.

An FI first assesses whether objective evidence of impairment exists individually for HTM securities that are individually significant, and individually or collectively for HTM securities that are not individually significant. If an entity determines that no objective evidence of impairment exists for an individually assessed HTM security, whether significant or not, it includes the asset in a group of HTM securities with similar credit risk characteristics and collectively assesses them for impairment. HTM securities that are individually assessed for impairment and for which an impairment loss is or continues to be recognized are not included in a collective assessment of impairment.

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized (such as an improvement in the debtor's credit rating), the previously recognized impairment loss shall be reversed by adjusting the allowance account. The reversal shall not result in a carrying amount of the security that exceeds what the amortized cost would have been had the impairment not been recognized at the date the impairment is reversed. The amount of the reversal shall be recognized in profit or loss.

b. Securities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss – These consist initially of HFT securities. HFT are debt and equity securities that are:

1. acquired principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing them in the near term; or
2. part of a portfolio of identified securities that are managed together and for which there is evidence of a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking.

For this purpose, an FI shall adopt its own definition of short-term which shall be within a (twelve) 12-month period. Said definition which shall be included in its manual of operations, shall be applied and used consistently.

b.1 HFT securities shall be measured upon initial recognition at their fair value. Transaction costs incurred at the acquisition of HFT securities shall be recognized directly in profit or loss. After initial recognition, an FI shall measure HFT securities at their fair values without any deduction for transaction costs that it may incur on sale or other disposal. A gain or loss arising from a change in the fair value of HFT securities shall be recognized in profit or loss under the account "Trading Gain/(Loss)".

c. Available-for-Sale Securities. These are debt or equity securities that are designated as Available-for-Sale or are not classified/designated as (a) HTM, (b) Securities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss, or (d) Investment in Non-Marketable Equity Securities (INMES).

c.1 Available-for-Sale securities shall be measured upon initial recognition at their fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the securities. After initial recognition, an FI shall measure Available-for-Sale securities at their fair values, without any deduction.
for transaction costs it may incur on sale or other disposal. A gain or loss arising from a change in the fair value of an Available-for-Sale security shall be recognized directly in equity under the account “Net Unrealized Gains/(Losses) on Securities Available-for-Sale” and reflected in the statement of changes in equity, except for impairment losses and foreign exchange gains and losses, until the security is derecognized, at which time the cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in equity shall be recognized in profit or loss. However, interest calculated using the effective interest method is recognized in profit or loss. Dividends on an Available-for-Sale equity security are recognized in profit or loss when the FI’s right to receive payment is established.

For the purpose of recognizing foreign exchange gains and losses on a monetary Available-for-Sale-security that is denominated in a foreign currency, it shall be treated as if it were carried at amortized cost in the foreign currency. Accordingly, for such an Available-for-Sale security, exchange differences resulting from changes in amortized cost are recognized in profit or loss and other changes in carrying amount are recognized directly in equity. For Available-for-Sale securities that are not monetary items (for example, equity instruments), the gain or loss that is recognized directly in equity includes any related foreign exchange component.

An FI shall assess at each time it prepares its financial statements whether there is any objective evidence that an Available-for-Sale security is impaired. When a decline in the fair value of an Available-for-Sale security has been recognized directly in equity and there is objective evidence that the asset is impaired, the cumulative loss that had been recognized directly in equity shall be removed from equity and recognized in profit or loss even though the security has not been derecognized.

The amount of the cumulative loss that is removed from equity and recognized in profit or loss shall be the difference between the acquisition cost (net of any principal repayment and amortization) and current fair value, less any impairment loss on that security previously recognized in profit or loss.

Impairment losses recognized in profit or loss for an investment in an equity instrument classified as Available-for-Sale shall not be reversed through profit or loss.

If, in a subsequent period, the fair value of a debt instrument classified as Available-for-Sale increases and the increase can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognized in profit or loss, the impairment loss shall be reversed, with the amount of the reversal recognized in profit or loss. c. Underwriting Accounts (UA) shall be a sub-account under Available-for-Sale. These are debt and equity securities purchased which have remained unsold/locked-in from underwriting ventures on a firm basis. UA account is applicable only to UBs and IHs.

d. INMES - These are equity instruments that do not have a quoted market price in an active market, and whose fair value cannot be reliably measured. INMES shall be measured upon initial recognition at its fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the security. After initial recognition, an FI shall measure INMES at cost. A gain or loss arising from the change in fair value of the INMES shall be recognized in profit or loss when the security is derecognized or impaired.

An FI shall assess each time it prepares its financial statements whether there is any objective evidence that an INMES is impaired.
If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss has been incurred on an INMES, the amount of impairment loss is measured as the difference between the carrying amount of the security and the estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial instrument. Such impairment loss shall not be reversed.

For Securities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss and Available-for-Sale, an FI is required to book the mark-to-market valuation on a daily basis. However, an FI may opt to book the mark-to-market valuation every end of the month: Provided, That an adequate mechanism is in place to determine the daily fair values of securities.

An FI shall recognize an investment in debt or equity security on its balance sheet when, and only when, the FI becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument. A regular way purchase or sale of financial assets shall be recognized and derecognized, as applicable using trade date accounting or settlement date accounting. The method used is applied consistently for all purchases and sale of financial assets that belong to the same category.

Sec. 4. Reclassifications

a. An FI shall not reclassify a security into or out of the Fair Value through Profit Loss category while it is held.

b. If, as a result of a change in intention or ability, it is no longer appropriate to classify a debt security as HTM, it shall be reclassified as Available-for-Sale and remeasured at fair value, and the difference between its carrying amount and fair value shall be accounted for in accordance with Section 3.c.1.

c. Whenever sales or reclassifications of more than an insignificant amount of HTM investments do not meet any of the conditions in Section 3.a, any remaining HTM investments shall be reclassified as Available-for-Sale. On such reclassification, the difference between the carrying amount and fair value shall be accounted for in accordance with Section 3.c.1.

d. If a reliable measure becomes available for an INMES, it shall be reclassified as Available-for-Sale and remeasured at fair value, and the difference between its carrying amount and the fair value shall be accounted for in accordance with Section 3.c.1.

e. If, as a result of a change in intention or ability, or because the two (2) preceding financial years referred to in Section 3.a have passed, it becomes appropriate to carry the debt security at amortized cost (i.e., HTM) rather than at fair value (i.e., Available-for-Sale), the fair value carrying amount of the security on that date becomes its new amortized cost. Any previous gain or loss on that debt security that has been recognized directly in equity is recognized in profit or loss over the remaining life of the HTM using the effective interest method. Any difference between the new amortized cost and maturity amount shall also be amortized over the remaining life of the security using the effective interest method, similar to the amortization of a premium and a discount. If the security is subsequently impaired, any gain or loss on that equity security that has been recognized directly in equity is recognized in profit or loss in accordance with Section 3.c.1.

f. If, in the rare circumstance that a reliable measure of fair value is no longer available, it becomes appropriate to carry the equity security at cost (i.e., INMES) rather than at fair value (i.e., Available-for-Sale), the fair value carrying amount of the security on that date becomes its new cost. Any previous gain or loss on that equity security that has been recognized directly in equity in accordance with Section 3.c.1 shall remain in equity until the security is sold or otherwise disposed of, when it shall be recognized... recognized in profit or loss. If the financial asset is subsequently impaired, any previous gain or loss that has been recognized directly in equity is recognized in profit or loss in accordance with Section 3.c.1.

g. The following securities booked under the HTM category, shall be exempted from the “tainting” provision for prudential reporting purposes which prohibits FIs from using the HTM category and requires reclassification of the entire HTM portfolio to the Available-for-Sale category during the reporting year and for the succeeding two full financial years whenever an FI sells or reclassifies more than an insignificant amount of HTM investments before maturity, other than for reasons specified in Items “a(a)” to “a(c)” of Section 3 of this Appendix: Provided, That securities rejected under items “i” and “ii” shall continue to be booked under the HTM category:

i. Securities exchanged pursuant to the Domestic Debt Exchange Offer of the Republic of the Philippines;

ii. Securities offered and accepted in the Global Bond Offering of the Republic of the Philippines; and

iii. Foreign currency denominated NG/BSP bonds/debt securities, outstanding as of 10 February 2007, which were reclassified from the HTM category in view of the increased risk-weights of said securities under Appendix 63b within thirty (30) calendar days after 10 February 2007. The subject securities once reclassified shall be accounted for in accordance with the measurement requirements of their new category (i.e., Available-for-Sale securities).

Sec. 5. Impairment. A debt or equity security is impaired and impairment losses are incurred if, and only if, there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of event that occurred after the initial recognition of the security (a “loss event”) and that loss event has impact on the estimated future cash flows of the securities. Losses expected as a result of future events, no matter how likely, are not recognized. Objective evidence that the security is impaired includes observable data that comes to the attention of the holder of the security about the following loss events:

a. significant financial difficulty of the issuer or obligor;

b. a breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;

c. the FI, for economic or legal reasons relating to the issuer’s financial difficulty, granting to the issuer a concession that the FI would not otherwise consider;

d. it becoming probable that the issuer will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization;

e. the disappearance of an active market for that security because of financial difficulties; or

f. observable data indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows from a portfolio of securities since the initial recognition of those assets, although the decrease cannot yet be identified with the individual securities in the portfolio, including:

(1) adverse change in the payment status of issuers in the portfolio; or

(2) national or local economic conditions that correlate with defaults on the securities in the portfolio.

The disappearance of an active market because an FI’s held securities are no longer publicly traded is not evidence of impairment. A downgrade of an issuer’s credit rating is not, of itself, evidence of impairment, although it may be evidence of impairment when considered with other available information. A decline in the fair value of a security below its cost or amortized cost is not necessarily evidence of impairment (for example, a decline in fair value of an investment in a debt security that results from an increase in the risk free interest rate).

In addition to the types of events enumerated in Items "a" to "f" in this Section, objective evidence of impairment for an investment in an equity instrument includes information about significant changes with an adverse effect that have taken place in the technological, market, economic or legal environment in which the issuer operates and indicates that the cost of the investment in the equity instrument may not be recovered. A significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of an investment in an equity security below its cost is also objective evidence of impairment.

Sec. 6. Operations Manual. The FI shall maintain an operations manual for booking and valuation of HTM, Securities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss, Available for Sale and INMES.

ESTABLISHING THE MARKET BENCHMARKS/REFERENCE PRICES AND COMPUTATION METHOD USED TO MARK-TO-MARKET DEBT AND MARKETABLE EQUITY SECURITIES
(Appendix to Subsec. 4391Q.3)

General Principle
As a general rule, to the extent a credible market pricing mechanism as determined by the BSP exists for a given security, that market price shall be the basis of marking-to-market. However, in the absence of a market price, a calculated price shall be used as prescribed herein.

Marking-to-Market Guidelines
To ensure consistency, the following shall be used as bases in marking-to-market debt and equity securities:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Type of Security</th>
<th>Market Price Basis</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A. Equity Securities Listed in the Stock Exchange</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1. Traded in the Philippines</td>
<td>Same day closing price as quoted at the Philippine Stock Exchange. In case of halt trading/suspension or holidays, use the last available closing price.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Traded Abroad</td>
<td>Latest available closing price from the exchange where the securities are traded.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B. Foreign Currency-Denominated Debt Securities Quoted in Major Information Systems (e.g., Bloomberg, Reuters)</td>

<td>1. US Treasuries</td>
<td>Price as of end of day, Manila time.</td>

* Based on done rates if available. If done rates are not available, use the mid rate between bid and offer. If no mid rates are available, use the bid rate.
C. Foreign Currency Denominated Debt Securities Traded in a Local Registered Exchange or Market

The basis for marking-to-market foreign currency-denominated debt securities traded in a local registered exchange or market shall be the same as those used in Peso-Denominated Government Securities in Section D below.

D. Peso-Denominated Government Securities

The benchmark or reference prices shall be based on the weighted average of done or executed deals in a trading market registered with the SEC. In the absence of done deals, the best firm bid per benchmark tenor shall be used in calculating the benchmark: Provided, That the best firm offer per benchmark tenor shall likewise be included as soon as permissible under securities laws and regulations.

The benchmark or reference rate shall be computed and published in accordance with prescribed guidelines on the computation of reference rates by a Calculation Agent which is recognized by the Bankers Association of the Philippines (BAP): Provided, That both the Calculation Agent and its method of computation are acceptable to the BSP.

To ensure the integrity of the benchmark or reference prices, the Calculation Agent shall perform the following:

1. Monitor the quality of the contributed source rates for the benchmark;
2. Monitor the data contributors and replace participants, upon consultation with the BAP, that fail to meet commitments to the benchmark;
3. Monitor the activities of the participants to ensure compliance with their commitments and for possible market manipulation and enforce sanctions on errant participants and immediately inform BAP and the BSP thereon; and
4. Review and upgrade the benchmark setting methodology upon consultation with BAP on a continuing basis, including documentation and publications thereof.

Accordingly, all data on done and firm bids/offers must be credible and verifiable and preferably sourced from trade executions and reporting systems that are part of a regulated and organized market duly licensed by the SEC where the data contributors are bound to uphold the principles of transparency, fair trading and best execution.

E. Peso-Denominated Private Debt Securities

The basis for marking-to-market peso-denominated debt securities traded in an organized market shall be the same as those used in Peso-Denominated Government Securities in Section D above.

For private debt securities which are not traded in an organized market, the marked to market value shall be based on the corresponding government security benchmark plus risk premium. The corresponding government security benchmark shall be determined according to Section D above. In determining the risk premium, the credit risk rating of the securities involved given by a BSP-recognized credit risk rating agency shall be established and taken into account whenever available. In the absence of such credit risk rating, alternative analyses may be used: Provided, That these are well-justified by sound risk analysis principles.
Other Guidelines

For the market valuation of securities with odd tenors, interpolated yields derived from the benchmark or reference rates in accordance with the BSP - approved guidelines for computation of reference rates in Section D above shall be used.

Penalties and Sanctions

FIs and the concerned officers found to have violated the provisions of these regulations shall be subject to the penalties prescribed under Subsec. 4391Q.3: Provided, That non-compliance with the above guidelines may be a basis for a finding of unsafe and unsound banking practice.

(As amended by M-2007-006 dated 28 February 2007)

A. Basic Requirements

1. The BSP-SES shall file with BTr an application to open a RoSS Principal Securities Account where RoSS securities of trust institutions used as security deposit for trust duties shall be held. BSP-SES shall use Annex 1 for this purpose.

2. Using Annex 1-A, BSP-SES shall also apply for a Client Securities Account (sub-account) for each trust institution under its RoSS Principal Securities Account to enable BSP-SES to keep track of the security deposit. BTr shall maintain Client Securities Accounts for P1,000 each month per account.

3. A trust institution which has a DDA with BSP-Accounting shall act as its own settlement bank. A trust institution which does not have a DDA with the BSP-Accounting shall designate a settlement bank which will act as conduit for transferring securities for trust duties to the BSP-SES account and for paying interest, interest coupons and redemption proceeds. The trust institution shall inform the appropriate supervising and examining department (SED) of the BSP of the designation of a settlement bank.

4. Each trust institution shall accomplish an “Autodebit/Autocredit Authorization” for its client securities account under the BSP-SES RoSS account. The document will authorize the BTr and the BSP to credit the DDA of the trust institution with BSP-Accounting for coupons/interest payments on securities in the BSP-SES RoSS accounts and to debit the DDA for the monthly fees payable to BTr for maintaining its client securities accounts with BSP-SES. It will also authorize the BTR and BSP to credit the deposit account of BSP-SES with BSP-Accounting for the redemption proceeds of securities that mature while in the BSP-SES RoSS account.

A trust institution with a DDA with BSP-Accounting shall use Annex 2-A while a trust institution with a settlement arrangement shall use Annex 2-B.

5. BSP-SES shall open a deposit account with BSP-Accounting where the redemption value of securities shall be credited, in the event such securities mature while lodged in the RoSS account of BSP-SES.

6. SRSO shall be responsible for keeping track of the deposit and withdrawal of securities held under the BSP-SES Principal Securities Account and the Client Securities Accounts of the trust institutions. SRSO shall instruct BTr to transfer securities out of the BSP-SES account and the corresponding client securities accounts of trust institutions only after receiving authorization from the Director (or in his absence, the designated alternate officer) of the appropriate SED of SES.

7. SRSO shall also be responsible for keeping track of the BSP-SES deposit account with the BSP-Accounting representing credits for the redemption value of security deposit of trust institutions that have matured while in the RoSS account of BSP-SES. SRSO shall maintain sub-accounts for each trust institution for the purpose. SRSO shall instruct BSP-Accounting to transfer balances out of the deposit account and the corresponding sub-account of the trust institution only after receiving authorization from the Director (or in his absence, the designated alternate officer) of the appropriate SED of SES.

8. Every trust institution must ensure that it has adequate security deposit for trust duties pursuant to the provisions of Subsecs. 4405Q.1, 4405Q.2, 4405Q.3 and 4405Q.4 of the MOR.

9. BTr shall provide BSP-SES with the end-of-day transaction report whenever a transaction in any client securities account is made. BTr shall also provide BSP-SES a monthly report of balances of each client securities account.

10. Every quarter, the responsible SED of BSP-SES shall determine, based on the Report of Trust and Other Fiduciary Business and Investment Management Activities (BSP 7-26-23) submitted by the trust institution, whether or not the trust institution’s security deposit for trust duties is sufficient pursuant to the provisions of the MOR mentioned above. In case of deficiency, the department shall recommend the imposition of sanctions and/or any other appropriate action to higher authorities.

B. Procedures for Assigning RoSS Securities as Security Deposit for Trust Duties

1. The trust institution shall advise the appropriate BSP-SES department that it will transfer RoSS securities to BSP-SES. The advice should be received by the BSP-SES at least two (2) business days before the date of transfer using the prescribed form (Annex 3) and checking Box “b” of said form. (Box “a” shall be checked by a new trust institution that is making an initial security deposit pursuant to Subsec. 4404Q.2 of the MOR.) The advice should be sent by cc mail or by fax to be followed by an official letter duly signed by an authorized trust officer.

2. The trust institution shall electronically instruct BTr to transfer securities from its own RoSS account to the BSP-SES RoSS and its corresponding Client Securities Account on the specified date. In the case of a trust institution with a settlement arrangement, the instruction shall be coursed through the settlement bank and the securities shall come from the RoSS account of the same bank.
3. BTr shall effect the transfer upon verification of RoSS balances. At the end of the day, BTr shall transmit a transaction report to SRSO containing the transfer.

appropriate BSP-SES department a copy of the report.

concerned shall check from the report whether BTr effected the transfer indicated in the advice (Annex 3) sent earlier by the trust institution.

C. Procedures for Replacing RoSS Securities
1. The trust institution shall advise the appropriate SED of BSP-SES that it will replace existing RoSS securities assigned as security deposit. The advice should be received by the BSP-SES at least two (2) business days before the date of replacement using the prescribed form (Annex 3). The trust institution shall check Box "c" of the form and indicate the details of the securities to be withdrawn.
The advice should be sent by cc mail or by fax to be followed by an official letter duly signed by an authorized trust officer.
2. The responsible BSP-SES department shall verify whether the securities to be replaced are in the RoSS account of BSP-SES and the sub-account of the trust institution and whether the book value of the securities to be deposited is equal to or greater than those to be withdrawn. The department concerned shall immediately communicate with the trust institution in case of a discrepancy.
3. The trust institution shall electronically instruct BTr to transfer securities from its own RoSS account to the BSP-SES RoSS accounts and its corresponding Client Securities Account on the specified date. In the case of a trust institution with a settlement arrangement, the instruction shall be coursed through the settlement bank and the securities shall come from the RoSS account of the same bank.
4. BTr shall effect the transfer upon verification of RoSS balances. At the end of the day, BTr shall transmit a transaction
report to SRSO containing the transfer.
5. SRSO shall immediately provide the appropriate BSP-SES department a copy of the report.
6. The BSP-SES department concerned shall immediately check from the report whether the securities transferred to the BSP-SES account are the same securities described in the advice (Annex 3) sent earlier. If in order, the Director (or in his absence, the designated alternate officer) of the department concerned shall authorize SRSO to instruct BTr to transfer the securities specified to be withdrawn from the BSP-SES account to the trust institution's (or the settlement bank's) RoSS account. The Department concerned shall use Annex 5 and check Boxes "a" and "d". Should there be any discrepancy, the department shall inform the trust institution immediately. The authority to allow the withdrawal should be transmitted to SRSO not later than the day after the replacement securities were transferred to the BSP-SES account.
The BSP-SES department concerned shall also advise the trust institution that it has approved the replacement of security deposit by using Annex 6 and checking Boxes "a" and "d" and the appropriate box under "d" depending on whether or not the trust institution has a settlement arrangement.

7. On the same day, SRSO shall instruct BTr to transfer the securities specified to be withdrawn from the BSP-SES account to the RoSS account of the trust institution (or its settlement bank).

8. BTr shall effect the transfer/withdrawal. At the end of the day, BTr shall send a report to SRSO containing the transfer/withdrawal.

9. SRSO shall provide the appropriate BSP-SES department a copy of the report.

10. The responsible BSP-SES department shall check from the report whether BTr effected the transfer/withdrawal.

D. Procedures for Withdrawing RoSS Securities

1. The trust institution shall advise the appropriate BSP-SES department that it will withdraw existing RoSS securities assigned as security deposit. The advice should be received by the BSP-SES at least two (2) banking days before the date of withdrawal using the prescribed form (Annex 4) and indicating therein details of the securities to be withdrawn. The advice should be sent by cc mail or by fax to be followed by an official letter duly signed by an authorized trust officer.

2. The responsible BSP-SES department shall verify whether the securities to be withdrawn are in the RoSS account of BSP-SES and the Client Securities Account of the trust institution. The department shall also determine whether the amount of remaining security deposit will still be adequate in spite of the proposed withdrawal. If in order, the Director (or in his absence, the designated alternate officer) of the department concerned shall authorize SRSO to instruct BTr to transfer the securities specified to be withdrawn from the BSP-SES account to the trust institution’s own RoSS account (or its settlement bank). The Department concerned shall use Annex 5 and check Boxes “b” and “d”. Should there be any discrepancy, the department shall inform the trust institution immediately. 2. BTr shall send to SRSO a copy of the credit advice.

3. SRSO shall immediately provide the appropriate BSP-SES department a copy of the credit advice.

4. The responsible BSP-SES department shall immediately inform the trust institution concerned of the cash credit and shall inquire whether the trust institution intends to transfer securities to the RoSS account of the BSP-SES to replace the matured securities.

5. The trust institution shall advise the appropriate BSP-SES department that it will transfer RoSS securities to BSP-SES in place of the cash credited to the deposit account of BSP-SES with BSP-Accounting for matured securities. The concerned department shall determine if the book value of the securities to be transferred is equal to or greater than the cash credit.

6. The trust institution shall electronically instruct BTr to transfer securities from its own RoSS accounts to the BSP-SES RoSS account and its corresponding Client Securities Account on the specified date. In the case of a trust institution with a settlement arrangement, the instruction shall be coursed through the settlement bank and the securities shall come from the RoSS account of the same bank.

The guidelines on Customer Due Diligence for quasi-banks issued by the BASEL Committee on Banking Supervision which highlights the Know-Your-Customer (KYC) standards to be observed in the design of KYC programs are shown in Annex Q-23-c.

The guidelines on the Account Opening and Customer Identification issued by the BASEL Committee on Banking Supervision represent the starting point, which can be used by banks in the area of customer identification are shown in Annex Q-23-d.

When establishing business relations or conducting transactions (particularly opening of deposit accounts, accepting deposit substitutes, entering into trust and other fiduciary transactions, renting of safety deposit boxes, performing remittances and other large cash transactions) covered institutions should take reasonable measures to establish and record the true identity of their clients. Said client identification may be based on official or other reliable documents and records.

a. In cases of corporate and other legal entities, the following measures should be taken, when necessary:

1. Verification of the legal existence and structure of the client from the appropriate agency or from the client itself or both, proof of incorporation, including information concerning the customer’s name, legal form, address, directors, principal officers and provisions regulating the power behind the entity.

2. Verification of the authority and identification of the person purporting to act on behalf of the client.

b. In case of doubt as to whether their purported clients or customers are acting for themselves or for another, reasonable measures should be taken to obtain the true identity of the persons on whose behalf an account is opened or a transaction conducted.

c. The provisions of existing laws to the contrary notwithstanding, anonymous accounts, accounts under fictitious names, and all other similar accounts shall be absolutely prohibited. In case where numbered accounts is allowed (i.e., peso and foreign currency non-checking numbered accounts), covered institutions should ensure that the client is identified in an official or other identifying documents. The BSP may conduct annual testing solely limited to the determination of the existence and the identity of the owners of such accounts.

d. The identity of existing clients or beneficial owners of deposits and other funds held or being managed by covered institutions should be renewed/updated at least every other year.
APP. Q-23

e. All records of all transactions of covered institutions shall be maintained and safely stored for five (5) years from the dates of transactions. With respect to closed accounts, the records on customer identification, account files and business correspondence, shall be preserved and safely stored for at least five (5) years from the dates when they were closed.

Such records must be sufficient to permit reconstruction of individual transactions so as to provide, if necessary, evidence for prosecution of criminal behaviour.

f. Special attention should be given to all complex, unusual large transactions, and all unusual patterns of transactions, which have no apparent or visible lawful purpose. The background and purpose of such transactions should, as far as possible, be examined, the findings established in writing, and be available to help supervisors, auditors and law enforcement agencies.

g. Covered institutions should not, or should at least avoid, transacting business with criminals. Reasonable measures should be adopted to prevent the use of their facilities for laundering of proceeds of crimes and other illegal activities.

2. Programs against money laundering. Programs against money laundering should be developed. These programs, should include, as a minimum:

a. The development of internal policies, procedures and controls, including the designation of compliance officers at management level, and adequate screening procedures to ensure high standards when hiring employees;

b. An ongoing employee training program; and

c. An audit function to test the system.

3. Submission of plans of action. Covered institutions shall submit a plan of action on how to comply with the requirements of App. Q-23 nos. 1, 2 and 4 within thirty (30) business days from 31 July 2000 or from opening of the institution.

4. Required reporting of certain transactions. If there is reasonable ground to believe that the funds are proceeds of an unlawful activity as defined under R.A. No. 9160 and/or its IRRs, the transactions involving such funds or attempts to transact the same, should be reported to the Anti-Money Laundering Council (AMLC) in accordance with Rules 5.2 and 5.3 of the AMLA IRRs.

a. Report on suspicious transactions. Banks shall report covered transactions and suspicious transactions, as defined in Rules 5.2 and 5.3 of the AMLA IRRs, to the AMLC using the forms prescribed by the AMLC. Reportable transactions shall include the following:

(1) Outward remittances without visible lawful purpose;

(2) Inward remittances without visible lawful purpose or without underlying trade transactions;

(3) Unusual purchases of foreign exchange without visible lawful purpose;

(4) Unusual sales of foreign exchange whose sources are not satisfactorily established;

(5) Complex, unusual large transactions, and all unusual patterns of transactions, which have no apparent or visible lawful purpose;

(6) Funds being managed or held as deposit substitutes if there is reasonable ground to believe that the same are proceeds of criminal and other illegal activities; and

(7) Suspicious Transaction Indicators or “Red Flags” as a Guide in the Submission to the AMLC of Reports of Suspicious Transactions Relating To Potential or Actual Financing of Terrorism.

(a) Wire transfers between accounts, without visible economic or business purpose, especially if the wire transfers are effected through countries which are identified or connected with terrorist activities.

(b) Sources and/or beneficiaries of wire transfers are citizens of countries which are identified or connected with terrorist activities.

(c) Repetitive deposits or withdrawals that cannot be explained or do not make sense.

(d) Value of the transaction is over and above what the client is capable of earning.

(e) Client is conducting a transaction that is out of the ordinary for his known business interest.

(f) Deposits being made by individuals who have no known connection or relation with the account holder.

(g) An individual receiving remittances, but has no family members working in the country from which the remittance is made.

(h) Client was reported and/or mentioned in the news to be involved in terrorist activities.

(i) Client is under investigation by law enforcement agencies for possible involvement in terrorist activities.

(j) Transactions of individuals, companies or non-governmental organizations (NGOs) that are affiliated or related to people suspected of being connected to a terrorist group or a group that advocates violent overthrow of a government.

(k) Transactions of individuals, companies or NGOs that are suspected as being used to pay or receive funds from revolutionary taxes.

(l) The NGO does not appear to have expenses normally related to relief or humanitarian effort.

(m) The absence of contributions from donors located within the country of origin of the NGO.

(n) A mismatch between the pattern and size of financial transactions on the one hand and the stated purpose and activity of the NGO on the other.

(o) Incongruities between apparent sources and amount of funds raised or moved by the NGO.

(p) Any other transaction that is similar, identical or analogous to any of the foregoing.

(8) All other suspicious transactions/activities which can be reported without violating any law.

The report on suspicious transactions shall provide the following minimum information:

(a) Name or names of the parties involved.

(b) A brief description of the transaction or transactions.

(c) Date or date the transaction(s) occurred.

(d) Amount(s) involved in every transaction.

(e) Such other relevant information which can be of help to the authorities should there be an investigation.

b. Exemption from Bank Secrecy Law.

When reporting covered transactions to the AMLC, covered institutions and their officers, employees, representatives, agents, advisors, consultants or associates shall not be deemed to have violated R.A. No. 1405, as amended; R.A. No. 6426, as amended; R.A. No. 8791 and other similar laws, but are prohibited from communicating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or by any means, to any person the fact that a covered transaction report was made, the contents thereof, or any other information in relation thereto. In case of violation thereof, the concerned officer, employee, representative, agent, advisor, consultant or associate of the covered institution, shall be criminally liable. However, no administrative, criminal or civil proceedings, shall lie against any person for having made a covered transaction report in the regular performance of his duties and in good faith, whether or not such reporting results in any criminal prosecution under R.A. No. 9160 or any other Philippine law.

c. Prohibition from disclosure of the covered transaction report. When reporting covered transactions to the AMLC, covered institutions and their officers, employees, representatives, agents, advisors, consultants or associates are prohibited from communicating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or by any means, to any person, entity, the media, the fact that a covered transaction report was made, the contents thereof, or any other information in relation thereto. Neither may such reporting be published or aired in any manner or form by the mass media, electronic mail, or other similar devices. In case of violation thereof, the concerned officer, employee, representative, agent, advisor, consultant or associate of the covered institution, or media shall be held criminally liable.

5. Certification of compliance with anti-money laundering regulations. Covered institution shall submit annually to the BSP thru the appropriate supervising and examining department a certification (Annex Q-23-a) signed by the President or officer of equivalent rank and by their Compliance Officer to the effect that they have monitored compliance with existing anti-money laundering regulations.

The certification shall be submitted in accordance with Appendix Q-3 and shall be considered a Category A-2 report.

1. All covered institutions are required to file Suspicious Transaction Reports (STRs) on transactions involving all kinds of monetary instruments or property.
2. Banks shall file covered transaction reports (CTRs) on transactions involving all kinds of monetary instruments or property, i.e., in cash or non-cash, whether in domestic or foreign currency.
3. Covered institutions, other than banks, shall file CTRs on transactions in cash or foreign currency or other monetary instruments (other than checks) or properties. Due to the nature of the transactions in the stock exchange, only the brokers-dealers shall be required to file STRs and CTRs. The PSE, PCD, SCCP and transfer agents are exempt from filing CTRs. They, however, are required to file STRs when the transactions that pass through them are deemed to be suspicious.
4. Where the covered institution engages in bulk transactions with a bank, i.e., deposits of premium payments in bulk or settlements of trade, and the bulk transactions do not distinguish clients and their respective transaction amounts, said covered institutions shall be required to file CTRs on its clients whose transactions exceed P500,000 and are included in the bulk transactions.
5. With respect to insurance companies, when the total amount of the premiums for the entire year, regardless of the mode of payment (monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually), exceeds P500,000, such amount shall be reported as a covered transaction, even if the amounts of the amortizations are less than the threshold amount. The CTR shall be filed upon payment of the first premium amount, regardless of the mode of payment. Under this rule, the insurance company shall file the CTR only once every year until the policy matures or rescinded, whichever comes first.
6. The submission of CTRs is deferred until the AMLC directs otherwise. Submission of STRs, however, are not deferred and covered institutions are mandated to submit such STRs when the circumstances so require.

ANNEX Q-23-b

AMLC Resolution No. 292

RULES ON SUBMISSION OF COVERED TRANSACTION REPORTS AND SUSPICIOUS TRANSACTION REPORTS BY COVERED INSTITUTIONS

a The Anti-Money Laundering Council (AMLC), in the exercise of its authority under Sections 7(1) and 9 of Republic Act No. 9160, otherwise known as the “Anti-Money Laundering Act of 2001”, as amended, and its Revised Implementing Rules and Regulations, resolved to:

1. Delete reporting by covered institutions to AMLC of the following “non-cash, no/low risk covered transactions:
   - Transactions between banks and the BSP;
   - Transactions between banks operating in the Philippines;
   - Internal operating expenses of the banks;
   - Transactions between banks and government agencies;
   - Transactions involving transfer of funds from one deposit account to another deposit account of the same person within the same bank;
   - Roll-over of placements of time deposits; and
   - Loan interest/principal payment debited against borrower’s deposit account maintained with the lending bank.
2. Request the BSP-supervised institutions, through the Association of Bank Compliance Officers (ABCOMP), to determine and report to AMLC the specific transactions falling within the purview of the abovementioned categories on “non-cash, no/low risk” covered transactions.

b. All covered institutions should:
   1. Submit corresponding electronic copy versions, in the required format, of those STRs previously submitted in hard copy or the hard copy version of those submitted only in electronic form, as the case may be, retroactive to 05 January 2004; and
   2. Resubmit in the required electronic format, those CTRs that have been submitted previously in hard copy or in diskitte not in the required format, retroactive to 23 March 2003.
1. Customer acceptance policy

Quasi-banks should develop clear customer acceptance policies and procedures, including a description of the types of customer that are unacceptable to quasi-bank management. In preparing such policies, factors such as customers’ background, country of origin, public or high profile position, business activities or other risk indicators should be considered. Quasi-banks should develop graduated customer acceptance policies and procedures that require more extensive due diligence for high risk customers. For example, the policies may require the most basic account-opening requirements for a working individual with a small account balance, whereas quite extensive due diligence may be deemed essential for an individual with a high net worth whose source of funds is unclear.

Decisions to enter into business relationships with high risk customers, such as individuals holding important/prominent positions, public or private (see below), should be taken exclusively at senior management level.

2. Customer identification

Customer identification is an essential element of KYC standards. A customer is defined as any person or entity that keeps an account with a quasi-bank and any person or entity on whose behalf an account is maintained, as well as the beneficiaries of transactions conducted by professional financial intermediaries. Specifically, a customer should include an account-holder and the beneficial owner of an account. A customer should also include the beneficiary of a trust, an investment fund, a pension fund or a company whose assets are managed by an asset manager, or the grantor of a trust.

Quasi-banks should establish a systematic procedure for verifying the identity of new customers and should never enter a business relationship until the identity of a new customer is satisfactorily established. Quasi-banks should “document and enforce policies for identification of customers and those acting on their behalf”. The best documents for verifying the identity of customers are those most difficult to obtain illicitly and to counterfeit, such as passport, driver’s license or alien certificate of registration. Special attention should be exercised in the case of non-resident customers and in no case should a quasi-bank short-circuit identity procedures just because the new customer is unable to present himself for interview. The quasi-bank should always ask itself why the customer has chosen to open an account in a foreign jurisdiction.

The customer identification process applies naturally at the outset of the relationship, but there is also a need to apply KYC standards to existing customer accounts. Where such standards have been introduced only recently and do not as yet apply fully to existing customers, a risk assessment exercise can be undertaken and priority given to obtaining necessary information, where it is deficient, in respect of the higher risk cases. An appropriate time to review the information available on existing customers is when a transaction of significance takes place, or when there is a material change in the way that the account is operated. However, if a quasi-bank is aware that it... lacks sufficient information about an existing high-risk customer, it should take steps to ensure that all relevant information is obtained as quickly as possible. In addition, the supervisor needs to set an appropriate target date for completion of a KYC review and regularization of all existing accounts. In any event, a quasi-bank should undertake regular reviews of its customer base to establish that it has up-to-date information and a proper understanding of its account holders’ identity and of their business.

Quasi-banks that offer private banking services are particularly exposed to reputational risk. Private quasi-banking by nature involves a large measure of confidentiality. Private quasi-banking accounts can be opened in the name of an individual, a commercial business, a trust, an intermediary or a personalized investment company. In each case reputational risk may arise if the quasi-bank does not diligently follow established KYC procedures. In no circumstances should private quasi-banking operations function autonomously, or as a “quasi-bank within a quasi-bank”\(^1\), and no part of the quasi-bank should ever escape the required procedures. This means that all new clients and new accounts should be approved by at least one person other than the private quasi-banking relationship manager. If particular safeguards are put in place internally to protect confidentiality of private quasi-banking customers and their business, quasi-banks must still ensure that at least equivalent scrutiny and monitoring of these customers and their business can be conducted, e.g. they must be open to review by compliance officers and auditors.

2.1 General identification requirements

Quasi-banks need to obtain all information necessary to establish to their full satisfaction the identity of each new customer and the purpose and intended nature of the business relationship. The extent and nature of the information depends on the type of applicant (personal, corporate, etc.) and the expected size of the account. National supervisors are encouraged to provide guidance to assist quasi-banks in their designing their own identification procedures. Examples of the type of information that would be appropriate are set out in Annex Q-23-c-1.

Quasi-banks should apply their full KYC procedures to applicants that plan to transfer an opening balance from another financial institution, bearing in mind that the previous account manager may have asked for the account to be removed because of a concern about dubious activities.

Quasi-banks should never agree to open an account or conduct ongoing business with a customer who insists on anonymity or “bearer” status or who gives a fictitious name. Nor should confidential numbered accounts function as anonymous accounts but they should be subject to exactly the same KYC procedures as all other customer accounts, even if the test is carried out by selected staff. Whereas a numbered account can offer additional protection for the identity of the account-holder, the identity must be known to a sufficient number of staff to operate proper due diligence. Such accounts should in no circumstances be used to hide the customer identity from a quasi-bank’s compliance function or from the supervisors.

Quasi-banks need to be vigilant in preventing corporate business entities from being used by natural persons as a method of operating anonymous accounts. Personal asset holding vehicles, such as

\(^1\) Some quasi-banks insulate their private quasi-banking functions or create Chinese walls as a means of providing additional protection for customer confidentiality.

\(^2\) In a numbered account, the name of the beneficial owner is known to the quasi-bank but is substituted by an account number or code name in subsequent documentation.
international business companies (IBCs), may make proper identification of customers or beneficial owners difficult.
A quasi-bank should take all steps necessary to satisfy itself that it knows the true identity of the ultimate owner of all such entities.

2.2 Specific identification issues
There are a number of more detailed issues relating to customer identification which need to be addressed. Particular comments are invited on the issues mentioned in this section. Several of these are currently under consideration by the FATF as part of a general review of its forty recommendations, and the Working Group recognizes the need to be consistent with the FATF.

2.2.1 Trust, nominee and fiduciary accounts or client accounts opened by professional intermediaries
Trust, nominee and fiduciary accounts can be used to avoid customer identification procedures. While it may be legitimate under certain circumstances to provide an extra layer of security to protect the confidentiality of legitimate private quasi-banking customers, it is essential that the true relationship is understood. Quasi-banks should establish whether the customer is acting on behalf of another person as trustee, nominee or professional intermediary (e.g. a lawyer or an accountant). If so, a necessary precondition is receipt of satisfactory evidence of the identity of any intermediaries and of the persons upon whose behalf they are acting, as well as details of the nature of the trust or other arrangements in place.

Quasi-banks may hold “pooled” accounts (e.g. client accounts managed by law firms) or accounts opened on behalf of pooled entities, such as mutual funds and money managers. In such cases, quasi-banks have to decide, given the circumstances, whether the customer is the intermediary, or whether it would be more appropriate to look through the intermediary to the ultimate beneficial owners. In each case, the identity of the customer that is subject to due diligence should be clearly established. The beneficial owners should be verified where possible. Where not, the quasi-banks should perform due diligence on the intermediary and establish to its complete satisfaction that the intermediary has a sound due diligence process for each of its clients.

Special care needs to be exercised in initiating business transactions with companies that have nominee shareholders or shares in bearer form.
Satisfactory evidence of the identity of beneficial owners of all companies needs to be obtained.

The above procedures may prove difficult for quasi-banks in some countries to follow. In the case of professional intermediaries such as lawyers, there might exist professional codes of conduct preventing the dissemination of information concerning their clients. The FATF is currently engaged in a review of KYC procedures governing accounts opened by lawyers on behalf of clients.
The Working Group has therefore not taken a definitive position on this issue.

2.2.2 Introduced business
The performance of identification procedures can be time consuming and there is a natural desire to limit any inconvenience for new customers. In some countries, it has therefore become customary for quasi-banks to rely on the procedures undertaken by other quasi-banks or introducers when business is being referred. In doing so, quasi-banks risk placing excessive reliance on the due diligence procedures that they expect the introducers to have performed. Relying on due diligence conducted by an introducer, however reputable, does not in any way remove the ultimate responsibility of the recipient quasi-bank to know its customers and their business. In particular, quasi-banks should not rely on introducers that are subject to weaker standards than those governing the quasi-banks’ own KYC procedures or that are unwilling to share copies of due diligence documentation.

The FATF is currently engaged in a review of the appropriateness of eligible introducers, i.e. whether they should be confined to reputable quasi-banks only or should extend to other regulated institutions, whether a quasi-bank should establish a contractual relationship with its introducers and whether it is appropriate to rely on a third party introducer at all. The Working Group is still developing its thinking on this topic.

2.2.3 Reputational risk

Business relationship with individuals holding important/prominent positions, public or private, and with persons or companies clearly related to them may expose a quasi-bank to significant reputational and/or legal risks.

Accepting and managing funds from such persons could put at risk the quasi-bank’s own reputation and can undermine public confidence in the ethical standards of an entire financial centre, since such cases usually receive extensive media attention and strong political reaction, even if the illegal origin of the assets is often difficult to prove. In addition, the quasi-bank may be subject to costly information requests and seizure orders from law enforcement or judicial authorities (including international mutual assistance procedures in criminal matters) and could be liable to actions for damages by the state concerned or the victims of a regime.

Under certain circumstances, the quasi-bank and/or its officers and employees themselves can be exposed to charges of money laundering, if they know or should have known that the funds stemmed from corruption or other serious crimes.

3. On-going monitoring of high risk accounts

On-going monitoring of accounts and transactions is an essential aspect of effective KYC procedures. Quasi-banks can only effectively control and reduce their risk if they have an understanding of normal and reasonable account activity of their customers. Without such knowledge, they are likely to fail in their duty to report suspicious transactions to the appropriate authorities in cases where they are required to do so. The on-going monitoring process includes the following:

- Quasi-banks should develop “clear standards on what records must be kept on customer identification and individual transactions and the retention period”. As the starting point and natural follow-up of the identification process, quasi-banks should obtain and keep up to date customer identification papers and retain them for at least five years after an account is closed. They should also retain all financial transaction records for at least five years after the transaction has taken place.

- Quasi-banks should ensure that they have adequate management information systems to provide managers and compliance officers with timely information needed to identify, analyse and effectively monitor higher risk customer accounts. The types of reports that may be needed include reports of missing account opening documentation, transactions made through a customer account that are unusual, and aggregations of a customer’s total relationship with the quasi-bank.

1 Core Principles Methodology, Essential Criterion 2.
• Senior management of a quasi-bank in charge of private quasi-banking business should know the personal circumstances of the quasi-bank’s large/important customers and be alert to sources of third party information. Every quasi-bank should draw its own distinction between large/important customers and others, and set threshold indicators for them accordingly, taking into account the country of origin and other risk factors. Significant transactions by high-risk customers should be approved by a senior manager.

• Quasi-banks should have systems in place to detect unusual or suspicious patterns of activity. This can be done by establishing limits for a particular class or category of accounts. Particular attention should be paid to transactions that exceed these limits. Certain types of transactions should alert quasi-banks to the possibility that the customer is conducting undesirable activities. They may include transactions that do not make economic or commercial sense, or that involve large amounts of cash deposits that are not consistent with the normal and expected transactions of the customer. Very high account turnover, inconsistent with the size of the balance, may indicate that funds are being “washed” through the account. A list of suspicious activities drawn up by supervisors can be very helpful to quasi-banks.

• Quasi-banks should develop a clear policy and internal guidelines, procedures and controls and remain especially vigilant regarding business relationships with individuals holding important/prominent positions, public or private, and high profile individuals or with persons and companies that are clearly related to or associated with them.¹

4. Risk Management

Effective KYC procedures embrace routines for proper management oversight, systems and controls, segregation of duties, training and other related policies. The board of directors of the quasi-bank should be fully committed to an effective KYC programme by establishing appropriate procedures and ensuring their effectiveness. Quasi-banks should appoint a senior officer with explicit responsibility for ensuring that the quasi-bank’s policies and procedures are, at a minimum, in accordance with local supervisory practice. Quasi-banks should have clear written procedures, communicated to all personnel, for staff to report suspicious transactions to a specified senior manager. That manager must then assess whether the quasi-bank’s statutory obligations under recognized suspicious activity reporting regimes require the transaction to be reported to the appropriate law enforcement and supervisory authorities.

All quasi-banks must have an ongoing employee-training programme so that quasi-bank staff is adequately trained in KYC procedures. The timing and content of training for various sectors of staff will need to be adapted by the quasi-bank for its own needs. Training requirements should have a different focus for new staff, front-line staff, compliance staff or staff dealing with new customers. New staff should be educated in the importance of KYC policies and the basic requirements of KYC policies and the basic requirements at the quasi-bank. Front-line staff members who deal directly with the public should be trained to verify the customer identity for new customers, to exercise due diligence in handling accounts of existing customers on an ongoing basis and to detect patterns of suspicious activity. Regular refresher training should be provided to ensure that staff is reminded of their responsibilities and is kept informed of new developments. It is crucial that all relevant staff fully understand the need for and implement KYC policies consistently. A culture within quasi-banks that promotes such understanding is the key to successful implementation.

Quasi-banks’ internal audit and compliance functions have important responsibilities in evaluating and ensuring adherence to KYC policies and procedures.
As a general rule, the compliance function provides an independent evaluation of the quasi-bank’s own policies and procedures, including legal and regulatory requirements. Its responsibilities should include ongoing monitoring of staff performance through sample testing of compliance and review of exception reports to alert senior management or the Board of Directors if it believes management is failing to address KYC procedures in a responsible manner.

Internal audit plays an important role in independently evaluating the risk management and controls, discharging its responsibility to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors or a similar oversight body through periodic evaluations of the effectiveness of compliance with KYC policies and procedures. Management should ensure that audit functions are staffed adequately with individuals who are well-versed in such policies and procedures. In addition, internal auditors should be proactive in following-up their findings and criticisms.
GENERAL IDENTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

This annex presents a suggested list of identification requirements for personal customers and corporates. National supervisors are encouraged to provide guidance to assist quasi-banks in designing their own identification procedures.

Personal customers

For personal customers, quasi-banks need to obtain the following information:

- Name and/or names used,
- permanent residential address,
- date and place of birth,
- name of employer or nature of self-employment/business,
- specimen signature, and
- source of funds.

Additional information would relate to nationality or country of origin, public or high profile position, etc. Quasi-banks should verify the information against original documents of identity issued by an official authority (examples including identity cards and passports). Such documents should be those that are most difficult to obtain illicitly. In countries where new customers do not possess the prime identity documents, e.g., identity cards, passports or driving licenses, some flexibility may be required. However, particular care should be taken in accepting documents that are easily forged or which can be easily obtained in false identities. Where there is face to face contact, the appearance should be verified against an official document bearing a photograph. Any subsequent changes to the above information should also be recorded and verified.

Corporate and other business customers

For corporate and other business customers, quasi-banks should obtain evidence of their legal status, such as an incorporation document, partnership agreement, association documents or a business licence. For large corporate accounts, a financial statement of the business or a description of the customer’s principal line of business should also be obtained. In addition, if significant changes to the company structure or ownership occur subsequently, further checks should be made. In all cases, quasi-banks need to verify that the corporation or business entity exists and engages in its stated business. The original documents or certified copies of certificates should be produced for verification.
1. The Basel Committee on Banking Supervision in its paper on Customer Due Diligence for Banks published in October 2001 referred to the intention of the Working Group on Cross-border Banking1 to develop guidance on customer identification. Customer identification is an essential element of an effective customer due diligence programme which banks need to put in place to guard against reputational, operational, legal and concentration risks. It is also necessary in order to comply with anti-money laundering legal requirements and a prerequisite for the identification of bank accounts related to terrorism.

2. What follows is account opening and customer identification guidelines and a general guide to good practice based on the principles of the Basel Committee’s Customer due diligence for banks paper. This document, which has been developed by the Working Group on Cross-border Banking, does not cover every eventuality, but instead focuses on some of the mechanisms that banks can use in developing an effective customer identification programme.

3. These guidelines represent a starting point for supervisors and banks in the area of customer identification. This document does not address the other elements of the Customer Due Diligence for banks paper, such as the ongoing monitoring of accounts. However, these elements should be considered in the development of effective customer due diligence, anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism procedures.

4. These guidelines may be adapted for use by national supervisors who are seeking to develop or enhance customer identification programmes. However, supervisors should recognize that any customer identification programme should reflect the different types of customers (individual vs. institution) and the different levels of risk resulting from a customer’s relationship with a bank. Higher risk transactions and relationships, such as those with politically exposed persons or organizations, will clearly require greater scrutiny than lower risk transactions and accounts.

5. Guidelines and best practices created by national supervisors should also reflect the various types of transactions that are most prevalent in the national banking system. For example, non-face-to-face opening of accounts may be more prevalent in one country than another. For this reason the customer identification procedures may differ between countries.

6. Some identification documents are more vulnerable to fraud than others. For those that are most susceptible to fraud, or where there is uncertainty concerning the validity of the document(s) presented, the bank should verify the information provided by the customer through additional inquiries or other sources of information.

7. Customer identification documents should be retained for at least five years after an account is closed. All financial transaction records should be retained for at least five years after the transaction has taken place.

8. These guidelines are divided into two sections covering different aspects of customer identification. Section A describes what types of information should be collected and verified for natural persons seeking to open accounts or perform transactions. Section B describes what types of information should be collected and verified for institutions and is in two parts, the first relating to corporate vehicles and the second to other types of institutions.

9. All the terms used in these guidelines have the same meaning as in the Customer due diligence for banks paper.

A. Natural Persons

10. For natural persons the following information should be obtained, where applicable:

• legal name and any other names used (such as maiden name);
• correct permanent address (the full address should be obtained; a Post Office box number is not sufficient);
• telephone number, fax number, and e-mail address;
• date and place of birth;
• nationality;
• occupation, public position held and/or name of employer;
• an official person identification number or other unique identifier contained in an unexpired official document (e.g. passport, identification card, residence permit, social security records, driving license) that bears a photograph of the customer;
• type of account and nature of the banking relationship;
• signature.

11. The bank should verify this information by at least one of the following methods:

• confirming the date of birth from an official document (e.g. birth certificate, passport, identity card, social security records);
• confirming the permanent address (e.g. utility bill, tax assessment, bank statement, a letter from a public authority);
• contacting the customer by telephone, by letter or by e-mail to confirm the information supplied after an account has been opened (e.g. a disconnected phone, returned mail, or incorrect e-mail address should warrant further investigation);
• confirming the validity of the official documentation provided through certification by an authorised person (e.g. embassy official, notary public).

12. The examples quoted above are not the only possibilities. In particular jurisdictions there may be other documents of an equivalent nature which may be produced as satisfactory evidence of customer’s identity.

13. Financial institutions should apply equally effective customer identification procedures for non-face-to-face customers as for those available for interview.

14. From the information provided in paragraph 10, financial institutions should be able to make an initial assessment of a customer’s risk profile. Particular attention needs to be focused on those customers identified thereby as having a higher risk profile and additional inquiries made or information obtained in respect of those customers to include the following:

• evidence of an individual’s permanent address sought through a credit reference agency search, or through independent verification by home visits;
• personal reference (i.e. by an existing customer of the same institution);
• prior bank reference and contact with the bank regarding the customer;
• source of wealth;
• verification of employment, public position held (where appropriate).

15. For one-off or occasional transactions where the amount of the transaction or series of linked transactions does not exceed an established minimum monetary value, it might be sufficient to require and record only name and address.

16. It is important that the customer acceptance policy is not so restrictive that it results in a denial of access by the general public to banking services, especially for people who are financially or socially disadvantaged.

B. Institutions

17. The underlying principles of customer identification for natural persons have equal application to customer identification for all institutions. Where in the following the identification and verification of natural persons is involved, the foregoing guidance in respect of such persons should have equal application.

18. The term institution includes any entity that is not a natural person. In considering the customer identification guidance for the different types of institutions, particular attention should be given to the different levels of risk involved.

I. Corporate Entities

19. For corporate entities (i.e. corporations and partnerships), the following information should be obtained:
   - name of institution;
   - principal place of institution’s business operations;
   - mailing address of institution;
   - contact telephone and fax numbers;
   - some form of official identification number, if available (e.g. tax identification number);
   - the original or certified copy of the Certificate of Incorporation and Memorandum and Articles of Association;
   - the resolution of the Board of Directors to open an account and identification of those who have authority to operate the account;
   - nature and purpose of business and its legitimacy.

20. The bank should verify this information by at least one of the following methods:
   - for established corporate entities – reviewing a copy of the latest report and accounts (audited, if available);
   - conducting an enquiry by a business information service, or an undertaking from a reputable and known firm of lawyers or accountants confirming the documents submitted;
   - undertaking a company search and/or other commercial enquiries to see that the institution has not been, or is not in the process of being, dissolved, struck off, wound up or terminated;
   - utilising an independent information verification process, such as by accessing public and private databases;
   - obtaining prior bank references;
   - visiting the corporate entity, where practical;
   - contacting the corporate entity by telephone, mail or e-mail.

21. The bank should also take reasonable steps to verify the identity and reputation of any agent that opens an account on behalf of a corporate customer, if that agent is not an officer of the corporate customer.

Corporations/Partnerships

22. For corporations/partnerships, the principal guidance is to look behind the institution to identify those who have control over the business and the company’s/partnership’s assets, including those who have ultimate control. For corporations, particular attention should be paid to shareholders, signatories, or others who inject a significant proportion of the capital or financial support or otherwise exercise control. Where the owner is another corporate entity or trust, the objective is to undertake reasonable measures to look behind that company or entity and to verify the identity of the principals. What constitutes control for this purpose will depend on the nature of a company, and may rest in those who are mandated to manage funds, accounts or investments without requiring further authorisation, and who would be in a position to override internal procedures and control mechanisms. For partnerships, each partner should be identified and it is also important to identify immediate family members that have ownership control.

23. Where a company is listed on a recognised stock exchange or is a subsidiary of such a company then the company itself may be considered to be the principal to be identified. However, consideration should be given to whether there is effective control of a listed company by an individual, small group of individuals or another corporate entity or trust. If this is the case then those controllers should also be considered to be principals and identified accordingly.

II. Other Types of Institution

24. For the account categories referred to paragraphs 26 to 34, the following information should be obtained in addition to that required to verify the identity of the principals:

- name of account;
- mailing address;
- contact telephone and fax numbers;
- some form of official identification number, if available (e.g. tax identification number);
- description of the purpose/activities of the account holder (e.g. in a formal constitution);
- copy of documentation confirming the legal existence of the account holder (e.g. register of charities).

25. The bank should verify this information by at least one of the following:

- obtaining an independent undertaking from a reputable and known firm of lawyers or accountants confirming the documents submitted;
- obtaining prior bank references;
- accessing public and private databases or official sources.

Retirement Benefit Programmes

26. Where an occupational pension programme, employee benefit trust or share option plan is an applicant for an account the trustee and any other person who has control over the relationship (e.g. administrator, programme manager, and account signatories) should be considered as principals and the bank should take steps to verify their identities.

Mutuals/Friendly Societies, Cooperatives and Provident Societies

27. Where these entities are an applicant for an account, the principals to be identified should be considered to be those persons exercising control or significant influence over the organisation’s assets. This will often include board members plus executives and account signatories.

Charities, Clubs and Associations

28. In the case of accounts to be opened for charities, clubs, and societies, the bank should take reasonable steps to identify and verify at least two signatories along with the institution itself. The principals who should be identified should be considered to be those persons exercising control or significant influence over the organisation’s assets. This will often include members of a governing body or committee, the President, any board members, the treasurer, and all signatories.

29. In all cases independent verification should be obtained that the persons involved are true representatives of the institution. Independent confirmation should also be obtained of the purpose of the institution.
30. When opening an account for a trust, the bank should take reasonable steps to verify the trustee(s), the settler(s) of the trust (including any persons settling assets into the trust) any protector(s), beneficiary(ies), and signatories. Beneficiaries should be identified when they are defined. In the case of a foundation, steps should be taken to verify the founder, the managers/directors and the beneficiaries.

Professional Intermediaries

31. When a professional intermediary opens a client account on behalf of a single client that client must be identified. Professional intermediaries will often open "pooled" accounts on behalf of a number of entities. Where funds held by the intermediary are not co-mingled but where there are "sub-accounts" which can be attributable to each beneficial owner, all beneficial owners of the account held by the intermediary should be identified. Where the funds are co-mingled, the bank should look through to the beneficial owners; however, there may be circumstances which should be set out in supervisory guidance where the bank may not need to look beyond the intermediary (e.g. when the intermediary is subject to the same due diligence standards in respect of its client base as the bank).

32. Where such circumstances apply and an account is opened for an open or closed ended investment company, unit trust or limited partnership which is also subject to the same diligence standards in respect of its client base as the bank, the following should be considered as principals and the bank should take steps to identify:

- the fund itself;
- its directors or any controlling board where it is a company;
- its trustee where it is a unit trust;
- its managing (general) partner where it is a limited partnership;
- account signatories;
- any other person who has control over the relationship e.g. fund administrator or manager.

33. Where other investment vehicles are involved, the same steps should be taken as in paragraph 32 where it is appropriate to do so. In addition all reasonable steps should be taken to verify the identity of the beneficial owners of the funds and of those who have control of the funds.

34. Intermediaries should be treated as individual customers of the bank and the standing of the intermediary should be separately verified by obtaining the appropriate information drawn from the itemised lists included in paragraphs 19-20 above.
Pursuant to Section 9-c of the Anti-Money Laundering Act, as amended, covered institutions (CIs) shall report to the AMLC all covered transactions and suspicious transactions within five (5) working days from occurrence thereof, subject to the circumstances described in Resolution No. 292 dated 24 October 2003 which remains in full force and effect.

   - CI’s request for deviation shall be subject to approval of the Executive Director of the AMLC Secretariat (or the Officer-in-charge) upon recommendation of the Deputy Director of IMAS AMLC Secretariat. It shall be the basis of manually recomputing whatever penalties that would be automatically computed by TMAS.

4. Officially-declared non-working days in localities or regions affected by natural calamities such as flood, typhoon, earthquake, etc. may be excluded from the counting of the prescribed reporting period for CIs located in affected localities or regions subject to submission of deviation request by the CI.
   - CI’s request for deviation shall be subject to approval of the Executive Director of the AMLC Secretariat (or the Officer-in-charge) upon recommendation of the Deputy Director of IMAS AMLC Secretariat. It shall be the basis of manually recomputing whatever penalties that would be automatically computed by TMAS.

DETAILS ON THE COMPUTATION OF QUARTERLY INTEREST PAYMENTS CREDITED TO THE DEMAND DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS (DDAs) OF QUASI-BANKS' LEGAL RESERVE DEPOSITS WITH BSP
(Appendix to Subsec. 4246Q.7)

The following are the pertinent information on the computation of quarterly interest payments credited to the demand deposit accounts (DDAs) of quasi-banks' legal reserve deposits with BSP.

1. BSP Circular No. 262, as amended, (for regular DDA) and Memorandum to All Banks and Other Financial Intermediaries Performing Trust, Other Fiduciary Business and Investment Management Activities (for CTF and TOFA), as amended, both dated 18 October 2000 state that computation of quarterly interest payments due on quasi-banks' legal reserve deposits with the BSP is based on the lower of their outstanding daily DDA balance and forty percent (40%) of the reserve requirement (excluding liquidity reserve). Interest rate is at four percent (4%) per annum and interest base at 365 days.

2. The daily DDA balance used in the computation of interest may be obtained from the semi-monthly demand deposit statements of account balances that are available electronically to quasi-banks through EFTIS (for PhilPaSS participants) or monthly through the DDA statements sent by mail (for non-PhilPaSS participants).

3. The data on reserve requirements are based on the institutions' Consolidated Report of Condition Required and Available Reserves against deposit substitutes and special financing submitted to the SDC on a weekly basis. Unless SDC furnishes an amended data, the quasi-bank's computation is used in determining the forty percent (40%) of the reserve requirement that shall be compared with the outstanding daily balance, in arriving at the amount of interest credit.

4. The interest credit to each DDA is supported by a credit advice which indicates the period covered by the payment. For PhilPaSS participants, the credit advices are released through their authorized quasi-bank representatives together with the cancelled checks drawn against the institutions' DDA with the BSP while for non-PhilPaSS participants, the credit advices are sent by mail together with their DDA Statement of Accounts.
The following procedures shall govern the transfer/sale of non-performing assets (NPAs) to a Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) or to an individual that involves a single family residential unit, or transactions involving dacion en pago by the borrower or third party of a non-performing loan (NPL), for the purpose of obtaining the Certificate of Eligibility (COE) which is required to avail of the incentives provided under R.A. No. 9182, as amended by R.A. No. 9343.

a. Prior to the filing of any application for transfer/sale of NPAs, a QB shall coordinate with the BSP through the Supervisory Data Center (SDC) and the appropriate department of the SES to develop a reconciled and finalized master list of its eligible NPAs. For this purpose, QBs were requested to submit a complete inventory of their NPAs in the format prescribed under Circular Letter dated 7 January 2003. Only NPAs included in the masterlist that meet the definition of NPA, NPL and ROPA under R.A. No. 9182 may qualify for the COE. The QBs shall be provided a copy of their reconciled and finalized masterlist for their guidance.

Only QBs which have not yet submitted their masterlist of NPAs and intend to avail of the incentives and fee privileges of the SPV Act 2nd Phase implementation are allowed to submit a complete inventory of their NPAs in the format prescribed under Circular Letter dated 07 January 2003. QBs which have already submitted to BSP a masterlist of NPAs as of 30 June 2002 in the 1st Phase implementation of the SPV Act will not be allowed to submit a new/amended masterlist.

b. An application for eligibility of specific NPAs shall be filed in writing (hard copy) by the selling QB with the BSP through the appropriate department of the SES for each proposed transfer of asset/s. Although no specific form is prescribed, the applicant shall describe in sufficient detail its proposed transaction, identifying its counterparty/ies and disclosing the terms, conditions and all material commitments related to the transaction.

c. For applications involving more than ten (10) NPA accounts, the list of NPAs to be transferred/sold shall be submitted in soft copy (by electronic mail or diskette) in excel format using the prescribed data structure/format for NPLs and ROPAs to the appropriate department of the SES of the applicant QB at the following addresses:

- SEDI-SPV@bsp.gov.ph
- SEDII-SPV@bsp.gov.ph
- SEDIII-SPV@bsp.gov.ph
- SEDIV-SPV@bsp.gov.ph

For applications involving ten (10) NPA accounts or less, it is preferable that the list be submitted also in soft copy. The applicant may opt to submit the list in hard copy, provided all the necessary information shown in the prescribed data structure that are relevant to each NPL or ROPA to be transferred/sold will be indicated. The list to be submitted in hard copy would be ideal for the sale/transfer of NPAs that involve one (1) promissory note and/or one (1) asset item per account.

d. The application shall be accompanied by a written certification signed by a senior officer with a rank of at... least senior vice president or equivalent, who is authorized by the board of directors, or by the country head, in the case of foreign banks, that:

(1) the assets to be sold/transfered are NPAs as defined under the SPV Act of 2002;

(2) the proposed sale/transfer of said NPAs is under a true sale;

(3) the notification requirement to the borrowers has been complied with; and

(4) the maximum ninety (90)-day period for renegotiation and restructuring has been complied with.

Items (3) and (4) above shall not apply if the NPL has become a ROPA after 30 June 2002.

e. In the case of dacion en pago by the borrower or a third party to a QB, the application for COE on the NPL being settled shall be accompanied by a Deed of Dacion executed by the borrower, the third party, the registered owner of the property and the QB.

f. The appropriate department of the SES may conduct an on-site review of the NPLs and ROPAs proposed to be transferred/sold. After the on-site review, the application for transfer/sale shall be submitted to the Deputy Governor, SES for approval and for the issuance of the corresponding COE.

g. Upon the issuance of the SPV Application Number by the BSP, a QB shall be charged a processing fee, as follows:

   (2) 1/100 of 1% of the book value of the NPL but not below P5,000 in case of a dacion en pago arrangement by an individual or corporate borrower;

(As amended by M-2006-001 dated 11 May 2006)
ACCOUNTING GUIDELINES ON THE SALE OF NON-PERFORMING ASSETS TO SPECIAL PURPOSE VEHICLES AND TO QUALIFIED INDIVIDUALS FOR HOUSING UNDER “THE SPECIAL PURPOSE VEHICLE (SPV) ACT OF 2002” (Appendix to Sec. 4396Q)

General Principles

These guidelines set out alternative regulatory accounting treatment of the sale of non-performing assets (NPAs) by banks and other financial institutions (FIs) under BSP supervision to Special Purpose Vehicles (SPVs) and to qualified individuals for housing under R.A. No. 9182, otherwise known as “The Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) Act of 2002”.

The guidelines recognize that banks/FIs may need temporary regulatory relief, in addition to tax relief under the SPV Law, particularly in the timing of recognition of losses, so that they may be encouraged to maximize the sale of their NPAs even at substantial discounts: Provided, however, That in the interest of upholding full transparency and sustaining market discipline, banks/FIs that avail of such regulatory relief shall fully disclose its impact in all relevant financial reports.

The guidelines cover the following areas:

1. Derecognition of NPAs sold and initial recognition of financial instruments received

A bank/FI should derecognize an NPA in accordance with the provisions of PAS 39 (for financial assets such as loans and securities) and PAS 16 and 40 (for non-financial assets such as land, building, and equipment).

A sale of NPA qualifying as a true sale pursuant to Section 13 of the SPV Law and its Implementing Rules and Regulations but not qualifying for derecognition under PASs 39, 16 and 40 may nonetheless, be derecognized. Provided: That the bank/FI shall disclose such fact, in addition to all other disclosures provided in this Appendix.

On derecognition, any excess of the carrying amount of the NPA (i.e., net of specific allowance for probable losses after booking the BSP recommended valuation reserve) over the proceeds received in the form of cash and/or financial instruments issued by the SPV represents an actual loss that should be charged to current period’s operations.

However, a bank/FI may use any existing specific allowance for probable losses on NPA sold:

1. To cover any unbooked (specific/general) allowance for probable losses; and
2. To apply the excess, if any, as additional (specific/general) allowance for probable losses, on remaining assets, in which case the carrying amount of the NPA

Manual of Regulations for Non-Bank Financial Institutions  Q Regulations
Appendix Q-28-a - Page 1
(which is compared with the proceeds received for purposes of determining the actual loss) shall be the gross amount of the NPA. Provided, That the use of such existing specific allowance for probable losses on the NPA sold as provisions against remaining assets shall be properly disclosed.

The loss may, moreover, be booked under “Deferred Charges” account which should be written down over the next ten (10) years based on the following schedule:

<tr>

<th>Cumulative Write-down of Deferred Charges</th>
</tr>

</tbody>

Provided, That the staggered booking of actual loss on sale/transfer of the NPA shall be properly disclosed.

In case the face amounts of the financial instruments exceed the excess of the carrying amount of the NPA over the cash proceeds, the same shall be adjusted by setting up specific allowance for probable losses so that no gain shall be recognized from the transaction.

The carrying amount of the NPA shall be initially assumed to be the NPA’s fair value. The excess of the carrying amount of the NPA over the cash proceeds or the face amounts of the financial instruments, whichever is lower, shall then be the initial cost of financial instruments received.

Banks/FIs shall book such financial instruments under the general ledger account “Unquoted Debt Securities Classified as Loans” for debt instruments or “Investments in Non-Marketable Equity Securities (INMES)” for equity instruments.

Consolidation of SPV with Bank/FI. Even if the sale of NPAs to SPVs qualifies for derecognition, a bank/FI shall consolidate the SPV in the audited consolidated financial statements when the relationship between the bank/FI and the SPV indicates that the SPV is controlled by the bank/FI in accordance with the provisions of SIC (Standing Interpretations Committee)-12 Consolidation – Special Purpose Entities.

II. Subsequent Measurement of Financial Instruments Received

(a) A bank/FI should assess at end of each fiscal year or more frequently whether there is any objective evidence or indication based on analysis of expected net cash inflows that the carrying amount of financial instruments issued by an SPV may be impaired. A financial instrument is impaired if its carrying amount (i.e., net of specific allowance for probable loss) is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. The estimated recoverable amount is determined based on the net present value of expected future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of interest for a similar financial instrument.

In applying discounted cash flow analysis, a bank/FI should use the discount rate(s) equal to the prevailing rate of return for financial instruments having substantially the same terms and characteristics, including the creditworthiness of the issuer.

(b) Alternatively, the estimated recoverable amount of the financial instruments may be determined based on an updated estimate of residual net present value (NPV) of the issuing SPV.
The estimated recoverable amount of the financial instrument shall be the present value of the excess of expected cash inflows (e.g., proceeds from the sale of collaterals and/or ROPAs, which in no case shall exceed the contract price of the NPAs sold/transferred, interest on the reinvestment of proceeds) over expected cash outflows (e.g., direct costs to sell, administrative expenses, principal and interest payments on senior obligations, interest payments on the financial instruments).

The fair market value of the collateral and/or ROPAs should under this method be considered only under the following conditions:

1. The appraisal was performed by an independent appraiser acceptable to the BSP; and
2. The valuation of the independent appraiser is based on current market valuation of similar assets in the same locality as underlying collateral rather than other valuation methods such as replacement cost, etc.

The assumptions regarding the timing of sale, the direct cost to sell, administrative expenses, reinvestments rate and current market rate should be disclosed in sufficient detail in the audited financial statements. The applicable discount rate should be based on the implied stripped yield of the Treasury note or bond for the tenor plus an appropriate risk premium.

(c) In case of impairment, the carrying amount of the financial instrument should be reduced to its estimated recoverable amount, through the use of specific allowance for probable losses account that should be charged to current period’s operations. However, at the end of the fiscal year the sale/transfer of NPA occurred, such setting up of specific allowance for probable losses account may be booked on a staggered basis over the next ten (10) years based on the following schedule:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year of Transaction</th>
<th>Cumulative Booking of Allowance for Probable Losses</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Year 1</td>
<td>5%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 2</td>
<td>10%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Year 3</td>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>

Provided, That the staggered booking of impairment, if any, upon remeasurement of financial instruments at end of the fiscal year the sale/transfer of the NPA occurred shall be properly disclosed.

After initially recognizing an impairment loss, the bank/FI should review the financial instruments for future impairment in subsequent financial reporting date.

If in a subsequent period, the estimated recoverable amount of the financial instrument decreases, the bank/FI should immediately book additional allowance for probable losses corresponding to the decrease. However, a bank/FI may stagger the booking of such additional allowance for probable losses in such a way that it catches up and keeps pace with the original deferral schedule (e.g., if the impairment occurred in Year 8, a bank/FI should immediately book 70 percent (70%) at end of Year 8, and thereafter, additional 15 percent (15%) each at end of Year 9 and Year 10, respectively). Provided, That the staggered booking of impairment, if any, upon remeasurement of financial instruments shall be properly disclosed.

If in a subsequent period, the estimated recoverable amount of the financial instrument increases exceeding its carrying amount, and the increase can be objectively related to an event occurring after the write-down, the write-down of the financial instruments should be reversed by adjusting the specific allowance for probable losses account. The reversal should not result in a carrying amount of the financial instrument that exceeds what the cost would have been had the impairment not been recognized at the date the write-down of the financial instrument is reversed. The amount of the reversal should be included in the profit for the period.

Illustrative accounting entries for derecognition of NPAs, initial recognition of financial instruments issued by the SPV, and subsequent measurement of the carrying amount of the financial instrument are in Annex Q-28-a-1.

III. Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) Calculation

Banks/FIs may, for purposes of calculating capital adequacy ratio (CAR), likewise stagger over a period of seven (7) years the recognition of:

1. actual loss on sale/transfer of NPAs; and
2. impairment, if any, upon remeasurement of financial instruments, in accordance with the following schedule:

Provided, That no cash dividend on common stock and/or preferred stock shall be declared by the bank/FI while the staggered recognition of actual loss on sale/transfer of NPA and/or impairment, if any, on the remeasurement of financial instruments at end of the first fiscal year following the sale/transfer of NPA exist.

The financial instruments received by the selling bank/FI shall be risk weighted in accordance with Sec. 4116Q.

A bank/FI may declare cash dividend on common and/or preferred stock notwithstanding deferred recognition of loss duly authorized by the BSP.

IV. Disclosure

Banks/FIs should disclose as "Additional Information" in periodic reports submitted to the BSP, as well as in published reports and audited financial statements and all relevant financial reports the specific allowance for probable losses on NPAs sold used as provisions against remaining assets, the staggered recognition of actual loss on sale/transfer of NPAs and/or impairment, if any, on the remeasurement of financial instruments.

In addition, banks/FIs which receive financial instruments issued by the SPVs as partial or full settlement of the NPAs transferred to the SPVs should disclose in the audited financial statements the method used and the significant assumptions applied in estimating the recoverable amount of the financial instruments, including the timing of the sale, the direct cost to sell, administrative expenses, reinvestment rate, current market rate, etc. (The pro-forma disclosure requirements on the staggered recognition of actual loss on sale/transfer of NPAs and/or impairment, if any, on the remeasurement of financial instruments are shown in Annex Q-28-a-2.)

Prospective Investments:
The following names/securities are among the fund's approved investment outlets where the Trustee intends to invest in depending on its availability or other market driven circumstances:
Prior to making an investment in any of the (Name of Trust Entity) Unit Investment Trust Funds (UITFs), (Name of Trust Entity) is hereby informing you of the nature of the UITFs and the risks involved in investing therein. As investments in UITFs carry different degrees of risk, it is necessary that before you participate/invest in these funds, you should have: 1. Fully understood the nature of the investment in UITFs and the extent of your exposure to risks; 2. Read this Risk disclosure Statement completely; and 3. Independently determined that the investment in the UITFs is appropriate for you.

There are risks involved in investing in the UITFs because the value of your investment is based on the Net Asset Value per unit (NAVpu) of the Fund which uses a marked-to-market valuation and therefore may fluctuate daily. The NAVpu is computed by dividing the Net Asset Value (NAV) of the Fund by the number of outstanding units. The NAV is derived from the summation of the market value of the underlying securities of the Fund plus accrued interest income less liabilities and qualified expenses.

Investment in the UITF does not provide guaranteed returns even if invested in government securities and high-grade prime investment outlets. Your principal and earnings from investment in the Fund can be lost in whole or in part when the NAVpu at the time of redemption is lower than the NAVpu at the time of participation. Gains from investment is realized when the NAVpu at the time of redemption is higher than the NAVpu at the time of participation.

Your investment in any of the (Name of Trust Entity) UITFs exposes you to the various types of risks enumerated and defined hereunder:

Interest Rate Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates. The UITF portfolio, being market-to-market, is affected by changes in interest rates thereby affecting the value of fixed income investments such as bonds. Interest rate changes may affect the prices of fixed income securities inversely, i.e., as interest rates rise, bond prices fall and when interest rates decline, bond prices rise. As the prices of bonds in a Fund adjust to a rise in interest rates, the Fund's unit price may decline.

Market/Price Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in market prices of securities (e.g., bonds and equities). It is the exposure to the uncertain market value of a portfolio due to price fluctuations.

It is the risk of the UITF to lose value due to a decline in securities prices, which may sometimes happen rapidly or unpredictably. The value of investments fluctuates over a given time period because of general market conditions, economic changes or other events that impact large portions of the market such as political events, natural calamities, etc. As a result, the NAVpu may increase to make profit or decrease to incur loss.

Liquidity Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a loss. These may be caused by different reasons such as trading in securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers, limited buy/sell activity or underdeveloped capital market.

Liquidity risk occurs when certain securities in the UITF portfolio may be difficult or impossible to sell at a particular time which may prevent the redemption of investment in UITF until its assets can be converted to cash. Even government securities which are the most liquid of fixed income securities may be subjected to liquidity risk particularly if a sizeable volume is involved.

Credit Risk/Default Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower’s failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of security which the borrower issued. This inability of the borrower to make good on its financial obligations may have resulted from adverse changes in its financial condition thus, lowering credit quality of the security, and consequently lowering the price (market/price risk) which contributes to the difficulty in selling such security. It also includes risk on a counterparty (a party the UITF Manager trades with) defaulting on a contract to deliver its obligation either in cash or securities.

This is the risk of losing value in the UITF portfolio in the event the borrower defaults on its obligation or in the case of a counterparty, when it fails to deliver on the agreed trade. This decline in the value of the UITF...
Reinvestment Risks. This is the risk associated with the possibility of having lower returns or earnings when maturing funds or the interest earnings of funds are reinvested.

Investors in the UITF who redeem and realize their gains run the risk of reinvesting their funds in an alternative investment outlet with lower yields. Similarly, the UITF manager is faced with the risk of not being able to find good or better alternative investment outlets as some of the securities in the fund matures.

In case of a foreign-currency denominated UITF or a peso-denominated UITF allowed to invest in securities denominated in currencies other than its base currency, the UITF is also exposed to the following risks:

Foreign Exchange Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. The exchange rates depend upon a variety of global and local factors, e.g., interest rates, economic performance, and political developments.

It is the risk of the UITF to currency fluctuations when the value of investments in securities denominated in currencies other than the base currency of the UITF depreciates. Conversely, it is the risk of the UITF to lose value when the base currency of the UITF appreciates. The NAVpu of a peso-denominated UITF invested in foreign currency-denominated securities may decrease to incur loss when the peso appreciates.

Country Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses arising from investments in securities issued by foreign countries due to the political, economic and social structures of such countries. There are risks in foreign investments due to the possible internal and external conflicts, currency devaluations, foreign ownership limitations and tax increases of the foreign country involved which are difficult to predict but must be taken into account in making such investments.

Likewise, brokerage commissions and other fees may be higher in foreign securities. Government supervision and regulation of foreign stock exchanges, currency markets, trading systems and brokers may be less than those in the Philippines. The procedures and rules governing foreign transactions and custody of securities may also involve delays in payment, delivery or recovery of investments.

Other Risks. Your participation in the UITFs may be further exposed to the risk of any actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of in-house or related party transactions by [Name of Trust Entity]. These transactions may include own-bank deposits; purchase of own-institution or affiliate obligations (stock, mortgages); purchase of assets from or sales to own institution, directors, officers, subsidiaries, affiliates or other related interests/parties; or purchases or sales between fiduciary/managed accounts.

I/we have completely read and fully understood this risk disclosure statement and the same was clearly explained to me/us by [Name of Trust Entity] UIT marketing personnel before I/we affixed my/our signature/s herein. I/we hereby voluntarily and willingly agree to comply with any and all laws, regulations, the plan rules, terms and conditions governing my/our investment in the [Name of Trust Entity] UITFs.

Signature over Printed Name                                                                                                         Date

I acknowledge that I have (1) advised the client to read this Risk Disclosure Statement, (2) encouraged the client to ask questions on matters contained in this Risk Disclosure Statement, and (3) fully explained the same to the client.

Signature over Printed Name/Position of UIT Marketing Personnel                                                                                                                   Date

IMPLEMENTATION OF THE DELIVERY BY THE SELLER OF SECURITIES TO THE BUYER OR TO HIS DESIGNATED THIRD PARTY CUSTODIAN
(Appendix to Secs. 4441Q and 4144N and Subsecs. 4101Q.4, 4211Q.4 and 4103N.3)

Section 1. Statement of Policy. Pursuant to the policy of the BSP to promote the protection of investors in order to gain their confidence in the securities market as enunciated under Circular Nos. 392 and 428 dated 23 July 2003 and 27 April 2004, respectively, the following rules/guidelines shall be observed by banks and NBFI under BSP supervision in their dealings in securities whether they are acting as seller, buyer, agent or custodian.

The disposition of compliance issues of this Appendix is shown in Appendix Q-38a.

The guidelines on the delivery of government securities by the selling bank to an investor’s Principal Securities Account with the RoSS through the Client Interface System facility are in Appendix Q-38b.

Sec. 2. Distinction Between a Custodian and a Registry. A securities custodian is a BSP-accredited bank or NBFI designated by the investor to perform the functions of safekeeping, holding title to the securities either in a nominee or trustee capacity, reports rendition, mark-to-market valuation, administration of dividends or interest earnings and representation of clients in corporate actions. It may also perform value added services such as collecting and paying and securities borrowing and lending as agent. A BSP-accredited custodian is considered a third party if it has no subsidiary or affiliate relationship with the issuer or seller.

On the other hand, a securities registry, other than the Bureau of Treasury, is a BSP-accredited bank or NBFI designated or appointed by the issuer to maintain the securities registry book either in electronic or in printed form. It records the initial issuance of the securities and subsequent transfer of ownership and issues registry confirmation to the buyers/holders. Except as otherwise provided in existing BSP regulations, a BSP-accredited securities registry is considered a third party if it has no subsidiary or affiliate relationship with the issuer of securities.

Sec. 3. Registry of Scripless Securities of the Bureau of Treasury. The Bureau of Treasury, as operator of the RoSS, which serves as the official registry for government securities, is not subject to BSP accreditation and is exempted from the independence requirement under the existing BSP regulations.

Sec. 4. Delivery of Securities. Pursuant to existing BSP regulations, securities sold on a without recourse basis shall be delivered by the seller to the purchaser, or to his designated BSP-accredited custodian which must not be a subsidiary or affiliate of the issuer or seller.

Sec. 5. Mode of Delivery. If the securities sold are certificated, delivery shall be effected physically to the purchaser, or to his designated BSP-accredited custodian. The certificate must be transferred to and registered under the name of the purchaser and properly recorded in the registry book. On the other hand, delivery of immobilized or dematerialized securities shall be effected by means of book entry transfer to the appropriate securities account of either: (1) the purchaser in a registry of said securities; or (2) the purchaser’s designated custodian in a registry of said securities. Book-entry transfer to a sub-account for clients under the primary account of the seller will not be deemed compliant with this requirement. The delivery must be supported by a confirmation of book-entry transfer to be issued by the securities registry in case of name on registry or by a confirmation receipt to be issued by the custodian in case of delivery to the purchaser’s designated custodian.

Sec. 6. Client Information. Selling or dealing banks shall inform their clients of the requirements under Secs. 3 and 4 above, together with the complete list of all BSP-accredited custodians. The selling or dealing bank or NBFI must inform their clients that the choice of custodian is the sole prerogative of the securities purchaser. The seller or dealer may, however, indicate to their clients their preferred custodian. Attached as Annex “A” is a suggested template of the letter to the client.

Sec. 7. Custodianship Agreement. The securities owner/purchaser shall enter into a custodianship agreement with a BSP-accredited third-party custodian of his choice. However, the securities purchasers/owners may designate/appoint through a special power of attorney (SPA) a representative or agent for the purpose of opening and maintaining an account with the BSP-accredited third-party custodian: Provided, That if the securities seller or dealer is appointed as an agent, its authority shall be limited to the opening of the custodianship account and the execution of trade transactions (i.e. buying and selling instructions including relaying of instructions to the custodian to receive or deliver securities in order to consummate the buy/sell transactions). It shall be the responsibility of the custodian to protect the interest of the client by ensuring that the agent is acting within the scope of his authority.

Sec. 8. Authority of the Securities Owner/Purchaser to Revoke Special Power of Attorney (SPA). Whenever a securities owner/purchaser executes an SPA designating/appointing an agent to open and maintain a custodianship account with a BSP-accredited third party custodian pursuant to Sec. 6 above, said SPA shall clearly stipulate that the appointment of the agent is revocable at the instance of the securities owner/purchaser or his agent. Any revocation by either party shall be made in writing and must be given to the other party and to the custodian. The custodian is hereby enjoined to acknowledge and respect said right of the client. It is, however, understood that the revocation of the SPA shall be without prejudice to any transaction executed by the agent or custodian prior to said party’s knowledge of the revocation. Upon revocation of the SPA, the custodian shall deal directly with the securities owner or his newly appointed agent. However, the custodian has the right to impose additional reasonable conditions similar to those being imposed on separate custody accounts maintained directly by individual or corporate clients.

Sec. 9. Reports of the Custodian. Periodic reports of the custodian on account balances shall be rendered at least quarterly and shall reflect the mark-to-market valuation of the security in accordance with existing BSP regulations. It shall be delivered, mailed or electronically transmitted directly to the securities owner unless the securities owner gives a written request or instruction directly to the custodian to deliver said reports to a person/entity named therein. Said request/instruction of the securities owner shall indicate that he is appointing an agent/representative for the purpose, notwithstanding contrary advice of the BSP.
Aside from the periodic reports, the custodian shall also issue confirmation of transfers of ownership as they occur in either electronic or printed form delivered directly to the securities owner, unless the securities owner gives a written request or instruction directly to the custodian to deliver the confirmation reports to a person/entity named therein.

Sec. 10. Right of the Securities Owner to Sell his Securities. Subject to the requirements of existing laws and regulations, securities owners shall have the right to choose the best buyers of his securities in the secondary market, without limiting himself to the original selling or dealing bank that he transacted with. The securities seller or dealer shall not impose any condition that will impair this right of the securities owner or leave him no alternative except to sell his securities exclusively to the selling or dealing bank.

Sec. 11. Undelivered Securities. In cases where banks or NBIs under BSP supervision maintain custody of securities which were sold prior to the effectivity of Circular No. 457 dated 14 October 2004 to clients who are unable or unwilling to take delivery of said securities pursuant to the provisions of Circular No. 392 dated 23 July 2003 but who declined to deliver their existing securities to a BSP-accredited third party custodian, said banks/financial institutions shall:

a. report on a quarterly basis to the appropriate department of the SES the volume of said securities broken down into maturity dates, type of security, ISIN or applicable certificate or reference number, and registry; and
b. ensure that said securities under custody are segregated from their proprietary holdings.

Sec. 12. Compliance with the Anti-Money Laundering Act of 2001. For purposes of compliance with the requirements of R.A. No. 9160, otherwise known as the “Anti-Money Laundering Act of 2001”, as amended, particularly the provisions regarding customer identification, recordkeeping and reporting of suspicious transactions, a BSP-accredited custodian may rely on referral by the seller/issuer of securities, in lieu of the face-to-face contact with client, subject to the following conditions:

a. the seller/issuer is also a covered institution;
b. the seller/issuer certifies to the custodian that it has performed its own KYC screening on the client;
c. the custodian has unchallenged access to the KYC records/documents of the referring seller/issuer pertaining to the referral client;
d. the custodian maintains a record of the referral together with the minimum information/documents required under the law and its implementing rules and regulations; and

e. the seller/issuer must provide the custodian with the following minimum information/documents:

For individual clients:
1. Name;
2. Present address;
3. Permanent address;
4. Date and place of birth;
5. Nationality;
6. Nature of work and name of employer or nature of self-employment/business;
7. Contact numbers;
8. Tax identification number, SSS number or GSIS number;
9. Specimen signature; and
10. Source of fund(s);

For corporate clients:
1. Articles of Incorporation/Partnership;
2. By-laws;
3. Official address or principal business address;
4. List of directors/partners;
5. List of principal stockholders owning at least two percent (2%) of the capital stock;
6. Contact numbers;
7. Beneficial owners, if any;
8. Authorized signatories;
9. Board/Partnership Resolution on the authority of the signatories; and
10. Verification of the identification and authority of the person purporting to act on behalf of the client.

Sec. 13. Safekeeping of Customers’ Identification Documents. The BSP accredited third-party custodian may entrust to the referring seller/dealer the safekeeping and maintenance of the customer identification documents supporting its KYC certification: Provided, That:

a. The BSP accredited custodian has received a certification from the seller/dealer that it has in its possession all required KYC documents and the custodian shall maintain a list of such documents;
b. The accredited custodian shall have unhampered access to the KYC documents for its own verification; and
c. KYC or customer identification documents shall be made available to regulators for verification upon request.

Notwithstanding Secs. 12 and 13, the custodian is not precluded from conducting its own KYC activities and maintaining direct custody of the KYC documents of its clients.

Dear Investor:

We wish to inform you that the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP), in July of 2003 issued Circular No. 392, Series of 2003, which requires all securities sold by banks on a "without recourse basis" (i.e. the bank has no liability to the buyer of securities in paying the obligation due on the security) to be delivered to the buyer/purchaser of securities through any of the following means:

(a) If the security is evidenced by a certificate of indebtedness, the certificate must be transferred in the name of the purchaser/buyer and physically delivered to the purchaser/buyer or to his designated BSP-accredited third party custodian.

(b) If the security is immobilized or dematerialized (i.e., that the security is not evidenced by a certificate of indebtedness and instead security account is created in the electronic books of the registry in the name of the purchaser/buyer or his designated custodian):

i. The security must be delivered by book-entry transfer to the appropriate securities account of the buyer in the registry of said securities which must be evidenced by a confirmation in writing by the registrar to the buyer. The confirmation of sale or document of conveyance shall be physically delivered by the seller or dealer to the buyer, or

ii. The security must be delivered by book-entry transfer to the appropriate securities account of the BSP-accredited third party custodian designated by the buyer/purchaser in the registry of said securities which must be evidenced by a confirmation in writing by the registrar to the said BSP-accredited third party custodian, who shall in turn issue to the securities owner a delivery receipt acknowledging receipt of the securities.

Circular No. 392 is part of a package of reforms to support the development of the domestic capital market through enhanced investor protection and greater market transparency. It provides for a more defined role and responsibilities for the custodians and registrars and a stricter supervision and regulation thereof by the BSP. It aims to provide the client with the following benefits:

a. Full control and possession of the securities purchased;
b. Independent validation of the existence of securities purchased;
c. Regular reporting of securities holdings; and
d. Capability to choose most competitive counter-parties in case of sale, pledge, transfer, and lending of securities.
Moreover, Circular No. 392, which amends CBP Circular 437-74, seeks to address the changes in the legal framework brought by the developments in the market, i.e. where purchase of securities may be evidenced not only by transfer of certificates but also by electronic book-entry transfer of ownership in the books of the registrar for said security.

As an investor, therefore, of securities which is dematerialized or scripless, you have the option to require your dealer/broker to deliver the securities to you by requiring them to have the securities registered directly in your name in the registry of said securities or by requiring them to have the securities registered in the name of the BSP accredited third party custodian of your choice who in turn will credit your securities account with them.

The registry is a BSP-accredited bank or non-bank financial institution (NBFI) designated or appointed by the Issuer to (1) maintain the securities registry book; (2) record the a) issuance of the securities and b) subsequent transfers of ownership thereof; and (3) issue registry confirmation to the buyers/holders of security.

The custodian, on the other hand, is a BSP-accredited bank or NBFI designated by the investor to safekeep the security by allowing it to hold title to the security, either in a nominee or trustee capacity, to enable it to perform the following administrative functions/services related to investing in a security or various securities: i) Mark to market valuation of security that will enable the client to know the value of his investment at any period in time; ii) compute and collect the interest due on the security; iii) render statements on outstanding securities under safekeeping; iv) represents the client (per its instruction) in the events of default or breach of contract of the issuer; and v) lend the security of the clients as “agent” that will enable the client to earn additional income on the security.

The registrars and custodians underwent a rigorous evaluation process by the BSP to determine whether they have the following: i) adequate capital to cover for potential operating risks related to performing its custody functions; ii) competent management team to manage the company with responsibility and proper corporate ethics; iii) robust technology system to operate the custody business efficiently; and iv) favorable track record or significant experience in the custody business or related business. They will also undergo regular audit by the BSP to ensure that they comply with BSP rules and regulations and will be subject to penalties and administrative sanctions for any violation thereof.

As of date, BSP has accredited the following registrars and custodians: Bank of the Philippine Islands, CITIBANK N.A., Deutsche Bank, Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, Philippine Depository and Trust Corporation, and Standard Chartered Bank.

The Registry of Scripless Securities (RoSS) operated by the Bureau of Treasury (BTR) which is acting as a registry for government securities, is automatically accredited as securities registry. However, the BTR, as registry, cannot act as custodian of government securities pursuant to the opinion of the Secretary of Justice rendered on 17 January 2005 due to irreconcilable conflict of loyalties that is anathema to agency if the same institution were to act as registrar and custodian at the same time.
The custodian shall render periodic reports on your account balances on a quarterly basis, or at such interval as you may require. Moreover, the custodian shall issue to you a confirmation of any transfer of ownership as it occurs, in either electronic or printed forms. Said reports shall be delivered/mailed directly at your address unless you give a written instruction directly to the custodian to deliver the said reports to your designated person/entity. You are, however, required to acknowledge in the written instruction that you are designating another person/entity to receive the periodic reports from the custodian, notwithstanding contrary advice of the BSP.

Please note that the abovementioned arrangements may change once the BSP issues more detailed implementing rules and guidelines to the abovementioned circulars. We will update you if and when these developments occur.

Please fill up and sign the required documentation of your chosen custodian and we will forward the same to them so that your securities account can be opened as soon as possible. You may, however, designate/appoint an agent for this purpose. In either case, the custody arrangement may or may not entail additional fees.

If you have any further questions, please call us so that we can refer the matter to the appropriate custodian/registrar.

Very truly yours,

A. The Monetary Board, in its Resolution No. 581 dated 5 May 2006 approved a thirty (30) calendar day period from 05 June 2006 within which banks/non-banks will effect revisions to non-conforming SPAs issued by investor-clients to strictly conform to the limited authority provisions of Section 7 of Appendix Q-38, subject to the following conditions:

1. The clean-up of SPAs will cover those issued by clients prior to Circular No. 524 dated 31 March 2006;

2. Custodians will allow transfers of securities from proprietary accounts of dealers to their omnibus principal custody accounts within the period;

3. There will be no penalties imposed for dealer-banks and accredited securities custodians that allowed non-compliant SPAs prior to Circular No. 524 dated 31 March 2006 or those issued under Circular Letter dated 4 August 2005 if corrected within the thirty (30)-day period; and

4. Non-compliance with other provisions of Appendix Q-38 are not covered/qualified to be corrected within the thirty (30)-day period and are therefore subject to the usual penalty/sanctions under existing regulations.

B. The Monetary Board, in its Resolution No. 876 dated 06 July 2006 approved the following disposition of compliance issues for the period of 05 July 2006 - 04 August 2006:

1. The sending by a dealing bank to all its clients of:
   (a) a notice indicating a limitation on the authority of the dealing bank pursuant to Section 7 of Appendix Q-38; and
   (b) compliant SPA for execution will be deemed substantial compliance only as of 05 July 2006. Proof thereof should be preserved for examination purposes.

2. Custodians will be deemed in substantial compliance as of 05 July 2006 if they have obtained confirmation from the dealing banks that notifications on the limitation of the dealing bank’s authority, together with a compliant SPA for the clients’ signature, have been sent to all their clients. Absent confirmation from the dealing bank of the sending of notices and the revised SPA, the custodian should immediately freeze (i.e., no new movements in the security, except sale or disposition thereof) the account to be considered in substantial compliance.

3. Absent a compliant SPA, the dealing bank and custodian should “freeze” the account of the client. Accordingly, if a client wants to transact with securities, the dealing bank must require the submission of an executed compliant SPA before any new transaction can be entered into. Otherwise, the dealing bank will be subject to the appropriate penalties prescribed under Subsec. X441.29. However, for the period of 05 July 2006 - 04 August 2006, transactions by the dealing bank with its clients, absent a compliant SPA but to which an advice on the limitation of the authority of the dealing bank and a compliant SPA for signature have been sent, will be subject to a fine of ₱10,000.00 per transaction/day. Provided, that the total penalty arising from that class of violation for the said period shall not exceed ₱100,000.00, computed in accordance with Section 37 of Republic Act No. 7653 (The New Central Bank Act). Furthermore, the custodian will not be subject to any penalties for accepting securities subject of the transaction.

4. Starting on 05 August 2006, the penalties under Subsec. X441.29 shall be applied for any violation of the provisions of Appendix Q-38. Custodians shall be required to freeze the securities account for those without a compliant SPA from the investor.

The same KYC or customer identification documents shall likewise be made available to regulators for verification upon request.

3. Transmit the investor’s instructions to the RoSS for the creation/opening of a Principal Securities Account. For this purpose, the Dealer shall submit and/or inform the investor to submit to the BTr his/her settlement account maintained in a settlement bank of his/her choice, through which all relevant payments on the securities will be made by the BTr;

4. For purposes of this Regulation, the following definition of terms shall mean:

1. Serious Offense - This refers to unsafe or unsound quasi-banking practice. An unsafe or unsound practice is one (1) in which there has been some conduct, whether act or omission, which is contrary to accepted standards of prudent quasi-banking operation and may result to the exposure of the quasi-bank and its shareholders to abnormal risk or loss.
In determining the acts or omissions included under the unsafe or unsound banking practice, an analysis of the impact thereof on the banks/quasi-banks/trust entities’ operations and financial condition must be undertaken, including evaluation of capital position, asset condition, management, earnings posture and liquidity position. The following circumstances shall be considered:

(a) The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage, or abnormal risk or danger to the safety, stability, liquidity or solvency of the institution;

(b) The act or omission has resulted or may result in material loss or damage or abnormal risk to the institution’s depositors, creditors, investors, stockholders or to the Bangko Sentral or to the public in general;

(c) The act or omission has caused any undue injury, or has given unwarranted benefits, advantage or preference to the quasi-bank or any party in the discharge by the director or officer of his duties and responsibilities through manifest partiality, evident bad faith or gross inexcusable negligence; or

(d) The act or omission involves entering into any contract or transaction manifestly and grossly disadvantageous to the bank, quasi-bank or trust entity, whether or not the director or officer profited or will profit thereby.

Certain acts or omissions as falling under this classification maybe determined based on the guidelines provided under Appendix Q-24.

2. Less Serious Offense - These include major acts or omissions defined as quasi-bank/individual’s failure to comply with the requirements of banking laws, rules and regulations, provisions of Manual of Regulations/MOR/Circulars/Memorandum as well as Monetary Board directives/instructions having material\(^1\) impact on quasi-bank’s solvency, liquidity or profitability and/or those violations classified as major offenses under the Report of Examination, except those classified under unsafe or unsound banking practice.

3. Minor Offense - These include acts or omissions which are procedural in nature, can be corrected immediately and do not have material impact on the solvency, liquidity and profitability of the quasi-bank. All other acts or omissions that cannot be classified under the major offenses/violations will be classified under this category.

4. Minimum refers to the range of penalties to be imposed if the mitigating factor(s) outweigh the aggravating circumstances.

5. Medium refers to the penalty to be imposed in the absence of any mitigating and aggravating circumstances or if the mitigating factor(s) offset the aggravating factor(s).

\(^1\) SFAS/IAS defines materiality as any information, which if omitted or misstated, could influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements. Per Financial Accounting Standard Board (FASB), it is defined as the magnitude of an omission or misstatement of accounting information.
6. Maximum refers to the penalty to be imposed if the aggravating circumstances outweigh the mitigating factor(s).

In determining the amount of penalty, a two-stage assessment shall be conducted as follows:

Step 1: Determine the nature of offense whether it is: (a) Serious; (b) Less Serious; or (c) Minor Offense; and

Step 2: Determine whether there are aggravating and/or mitigating factors (as listed and defined in Annex A).

Both the aggravating and mitigating factors shall be considered for initial penalty imposition and subsequent requests for reconsideration thereto.

The foregoing monetary penalties shall be without prejudice to the imposition of non-monetary sanctions, if and when deemed applicable by the Monetary Board. Violations of banking laws and Bangko Sentral regulations with specific penal clause are not covered by this Regulation.
Aggravating and Mitigating Factors to be Considered in the Imposition of Penalty

1. Aggravating Factors:

   (a) Frequency of the commission of specific violation – This pertains to commission or omission of a specific offense involving either the same or different transaction. This will also refer to a violation which may have been corrected in the past but found repeated in another transaction/account in the subsequent examination.

   In determining frequency, the number of times of commission or omission of a specific offense during the preceding three (3) - year period shall also be considered.

   The word “offense” pertains to a violation that connotes infraction of existing BSP rules and regulations as well as non-compliance with BSP/MB directives.

   (b) Duration of Violations Prior to Notification – This pertains to the length of time prior to the latest notification on the violation. Violations that have been existing for a long time before it was revealed/discovered in the regular examination or are under evaluation for a long time due to pending requests or correspondences from quasi-banks on whether a violation has actually occurred shall be dealt with through this criterion. Violations outstanding for more than one (1) year prior to notification, at the minimum, will qualify as violations outstanding for a long time.

   (c) Continuation of offense or omission after notification – This pertains to the persistence of an act or offense after the latest notification on the existence of the violation, either from the appropriate Supervision and Examination Department or from the Monetary Board and/or Deputy Governor, in cases where the violation has been elevated accordingly. This covers the period after the final notification of the existence of the violation until such time that the violation has been corrected and/or remedied. The corrective action shall be reckoned with from the date of notification.

   (d) Concealment – This factor pertains to the cover up of a violation. In evaluating this factor, one shall consider the intention of the party(ies) involved and whether pecuniary benefit may accrue accordingly.

   Intention precedes concealment. The act of concealing an offense or omission carries with it the intention to defraud regulators. Moreover, the amount of pecuniary benefit, which may or may not accrue from the offense or omission, shall also be considered under this factor.

   Concealment may be apparent in cases when quasi-bank officers purposely complicates the transaction to make it difficult to uncover or refuse to provide information/documents that would support the violation/offense committed.

   Inasmuch as concealment and intention are speculative matters and may be difficult to establish, appropriate support of facts or circumstantial evidence in this factor shall be considered.

   (e) Loss or risk of loss to quasi-bank – In assessing this factor, “potential loss” refers to any time at which the quasi-bank was in danger of sustaining a loss.

   Substantial actual loss – The quasi-bank has been exposed to a significant loss of earnings and capital. The volume of accounts involved in the loss is substantial/significant in relation to the institution’s assets and capital. The quasi-bank/individual may have substantial/serious violations that could impact the reputation and earnings of the quasi-bank.

- Minimal actual loss or substantial risk of loss – The quasi-bank has incurred minimal loss or will be exposed to substantial risk of loss of earnings or capital although both do not materially impact financial condition. The volume of accounts involved for minimal loss or substantial risk of loss is reasonable and manageable. While a loss was incurred, the quasi-bank could absorb the loss in the normal course of business. Substantial risk of loss includes any potential losses the aggregate of which amounts to at least one percent (1%) of the capital of the quasi-bank1.

- Minimal risk of loss – The risk exposure on earnings or capital is minimal. Quasi-bank is not vulnerable to significant loss. The volume of accounts involved for potential loss/risk is minimal/negligible. The risk of loss would have little impact on the quasi-bank or its financial condition. The risk of loss aggregating to less than one percent (1%) of the capital of the quasi-bank will fall under this classification.

(f) Impact to quasi-bank/banking industry – In assessing this factor, it is appropriate to consider any possible negative impact or harm to the quasi-bank. e.g. A violation of law involving insider abuse may result in adverse publicity for the institution, possibly causing a run on deposits and affecting the quasi-bank’s liquidity. Resulting effect on the banking industry on the violation/offenses committed by the quasi-bank, if any, will also be considered. Sources of data may come from news reports.

- Substantial impact on quasi-bank. No impact on banking industry. This may involve reputational risk of the quasi-bank as a result of negative publicity generated for example, by involvement of quasi-bank’s director/officer in activities not acceptable to the regulatory bodies, e.g. pyramiding, investment scams etc. This may also involve insider abuse of authority/power. However, the banking industry is not affected for this isolated case.

- Moderate impact on banking industry or on public perception of banking industry. This may involve poor corporate governance and mismanagement of quasi-bank that may result to erosion of public confidence leading to bank run in various branches. This may also trigger a bank run in other subsidiaries.

- Substantial impact on banking industry or on public perception of banking industry. This is a worst-case scenario. The violations/irregular activities of the quasi-bank may totally erode the trust and confidence of the quasi-banking public resulting to a nationwide bank run. Pessimistic perception of the banking public on the banking industry is highly observed.

2. Mitigating Factors

(a) Good Faith – Good faith is the absence of intention of the erring individual/entity in the commission of a violation.

- Full Cooperation - This is determined by the actions of the individual and/or quasi-bank towards the regulators after or even before notification of the offense and/or omission. Assistance rendered by the quasi-bank during the investigation and/or examination conducted relative to the cited offense and/or omission may be viewed favorably when computing the amount of penalty to be imposed on the quasi-Bank/individual.

- With positive measures/action undertaken although not corrected immediately. The quasi-bank is willing to

1 Cir. 410 dated 29 October 2003 provides that external auditors of quasi-banks must report to BSP, among others, any potential losses the aggregate of which amounts to at least one percent (1%) of the capital to enable the BSP to take timely and appropriate remedial action.
remedy/correct the violation but is being restrained of its capacity to take immediate action thus, will undertake a Memorandum of Undertaking/Commitment for a specified period as a sign of good faith. The quasi-bank has started to rectify the infraction by instituting reforms in their operations or systems.

Voluntary disclosure of offense - Voluntary disclosure of the quasi-bank of the offense committed before it is discovered by BSP examiners in the regular/special examination or in the supervisory work (e.g. submission of reports to the BSP disclosing the violation committed by the quasi-bank based on the internal auditor’s findings) may be considered as the highest level of mitigation under this factor.

The burden of proof, however, falls on the quasi-bank/individual to support its/his/her claim of good faith and may be used as basis to mitigate the amount of penalty that may be imposed.
In carrying out its primary objective of maintaining price stability conducive to a balanced and sustainable growth of the economy, the BSP must necessarily maintain stability of the financial system through preservation of confidence therein. While preservation of confidence in the financial system may call for closure of mismanaged banks and/or financial entities under its jurisdiction, such closure is not the only option available to the BSP. When a bank’s closure, for instance, is adjudged by the Monetary Board to have adverse systemic consequences, the State may act in accordance with law to avert potential financial system instability or economic disruption.

It is recognized that the closure of a bank or its intervention can be a costly and painful exercise. For this reason, the BSP, as supervisor, can enforce prompt corrective action (“PCA”) as soon as a bank’s condition indicates higher-than-normal risk of failure. PCA essentially involves the BSP directing the board of directors of a bank, prior to an open outbreak of crisis, to institute strong measures to restore the entity to normal operating condition within a reasonable period, ideally within one (1) year. These measures may include any or all of the following components:

1. Implementation of a capital restoration plan;
2. Implementation of a business improvement plan; and
3. Implementation of corporate governance reforms.

Capital restoration plan – this component contains the schedule for building up a bank’s capital base (primarily through an increase in Tier 1 capital) to a level commensurate to the underlying risk exposure and in full compliance with minimum capital adequacy requirement. In conjunction with this plan, the BSP may also require any one (1), or a combination of the following:

1. Limit or curtail dividend payments to common stockholders;
2. Limit or curtail dividend payments to preferred stockholders; and
3. Limit or curtail fees and/or other payments to related parties.

Business improvement plan – this component contains the set of actions to be taken immediately to bring about an improvement in the entity’s operating condition, including but not limited to any one (1), or a combination of the following:

1. Reduce risk exposures to manageable levels;
2. Strengthen risk management;
3. Curtail or limit the bank’s scope of operations including those of its subsidiaries or affiliates where it exercises control;
4. Change or replace management officials;
5. Reduce expenses; and
6. Other measures to improve the quality of earnings.

Corporate governance reforms – this component contains the actions to be immediately taken to improve the composition and/or independence of the board of directors and to enhance the quality of its oversight over the management and operation of the entity. This also includes measures to minimize potential shareholder conflicts of interest detrimental to the economic stability of the nation.

to its creditors, particularly, depositors in a bank. This likewise lays down measures to provide an acceptable level of financial transparency to all stakeholders. Such actions could include, but are not limited to, any one (1), or a combination of the following:

1. A change in the composition of the board of directors or any of the mandatory committees [under the Manual of Regulations for Non-Bank Financial Institutions (MORNBFI)];

2. An enhancement to the frequency and/or depth of reporting to the board of directors;

3. A reduction in exposures to and/or a termination or reduction of business relationships with affiliates that pose excessive risk or are inherently disadvantageous to the supervised financial institution; and

4. A change of external auditor.

A bank may be subject to PCA whenever any or all of the following conditions obtain:

(1) When either of the Total Risk-Based Ratio\(^1\), Tier 1 Risk-Based Ratio, or Leverage Ratio\(^2\) falls below ten percent (10%), six percent (6%) and five percent (5%), respectively, or such other minimum levels that may be prescribed for the said ratios under relevant regulations, and/or the combined capital account falls below the minimum capital requirement prescribed under Sec. 4106Q;

(2) The Capital Adequacy, Asset Quality, Management, Earnings, Liquidity and Sensitivity to Market Risk ("CAMELS") composite rating is less than “3” or a Management component rating of less than “3”;

(3) A serious supervisory concern has been identified that places a bank at more-than-normal risk of failure in the opinion of the director of the Examination Department concerned, which opinion is confirmed by the Monetary Board. Such concerns could include, but are not limited, to any one (1) or a combination of the following:

a. Finding of unsafe and unsound activities that could adversely affect the interest of depositors and/or creditors;

b. A finding of repeat violations of law or the continuing failure to comply with Monetary Board directives; and

c. Significant reporting errors that materially misrepresent the bank’s financial condition.

The initiation of PCA shall be recommended by the Deputy Governor, SES to the Monetary Board for approval. Any initiation of PCA shall be reported to the PDIC for notation. Upon PCA initiation, the BSP shall require the bank to enter into a MOU committing to the PCA plan. The MOU shall be subject to confirmation by the Monetary Board.

In order to monitor compliance with the PCA, quarterly progress reports shall be made. The BSP reserves the right to conduct periodic on-site visits outside of regular examination to validate compliance with the PCA plan.

Subject to Monetary Board approval, sanctions may be imposed on any bank subject to PCA whenever there is unreasonable delay in entering into a PCA plan or when PCA is not being complied with. These may include any or all of the following:

(1) monetary penalty on or curtailment or suspension of privileges enjoyed by the board of directors or responsible officers;

(2) restriction on existing activities that the supervised financial institution may undertake;

(3) denial of application for branching and other special authorities;

(4) denial or restriction of access to BSP credit facilities; and

(5) restriction on declaration of dividends.

\(^1\) Otherwise known as Capital Adequacy Ratio ("CAR")

\(^2\) Total Capital / Total Assets
On the other hand, if the bank subject to PCA promptly implements a PCA plan and substantially complies with its conditions, it may continue to have access to BSP credit facilities notwithstanding non-compliance with standard conditions of access to such facilities. The Deputy Governor, SES shall recommend such exemption to the Monetary Board for approval.

In cases where a bank’s problems are deemed to be exceptionally serious from the outset, or when a bank is unwilling to submit to the PCA or unable to substantially comply with an agreed PCA plan, the Deputy Governor, SES may immediately recommend to the Monetary Board more drastic actions as prescribed under Sec. 29 (conservatorship) and Sec. 30 (receivership) of R.A. 7653.

Subject to Monetary Board approval, the PCA status of a bank may be lifted: Provided, That the bank fully complies with the terms and conditions of its MOU and: Provided, further, That the Deputy Governor, SES has determined that the financial and operating condition of the bank no longer presents a risk to itself or the financial system. Such improved assessment shall be immediately reported to the PDIC.

GUIDELINES FOR THE CHANGE IN THE MODE OF COMPLIANCE WITH THE LIQUIDITY RESERVE REQUIREMENT
(Appendix to Subsecs. 4246Q.1 & 4405Q.5)

The following guidelines shall be observed in implementing the change in the mode of compliance with the liquidity reserve requirement from holding government securities bought directly from the BSP:

1. Government securities previously bought from the BSP in compliance with the liquidity reserve requirement shall remain eligible for such purpose until these mature or are sold back to the BSP at yields quoted by the BSP Treasury Department (TD). Only the outstanding ERAP and PEACE bonds shall qualify as eligible securities for liquidity reserves. Future issuances will no longer carry the liquidity reserve eligibility under this section.

2. The interest rates applied to the reserve deposit account (RDA) shall be set by the TD at one-half percent (1/2%) below the prevailing market rate for comparable government securities;

3. Pre-termination of RDAs shall be allowed subject to a reduction in applicable interest rates, as prescribed by the TD;

4. Banks and QBs shall submit on placement date a written authority (see Annex A) to the TD to debit their demand deposit account with the BSP as payment for the RDA;

5. Principal and interest payments at maturity net of applicable tax shall be made by the BSP through automatic credit to the institution’s demand deposit account with the BSP. Full or partial rollover of placements in the RDA shall be settled on a gross basis;

6. Any deficiency in the liquidity reserves shall continue to be in the forms or modes prescribed under existing regulations for the composition of required reserves;

7. Banks and QBs shall continue to specify in the prescribed reports to the Supervisory Data Center (SDC) of the BSP the balance of government securities held for liquidity reserve purposes. Said balance shall decline over time as government securities previously bought from the BSP mature or are sold back to the BSP;

8. To facilitate the adoption of the change in the mode of compliance with the liquidity reserve requirement, the TD (while starting to accept placements in the reserve deposit account) shall continue to sell government securities for liquidity reserve purposes until 29 September 2006.

The above guidelines shall take effect on 25 August 2006.

I. Background

It must be recognized that banking is a business of taking risks in order to earn profits. While banking risks historically have been concentrated in traditional banking activities, the financial services industry has evolved in response to market-driven, technological, and legislative changes. These changes have allowed FIs to expand product offerings, geographic diversity, and delivery systems. They have also increased the complexity of the FI's consolidated risk exposure. Because of this complexity, FIs must evaluate, control, and manage risk according to its significance. The FI's evaluation of risk must take into account how non-bank activities within a banking organization affect the FI. Consolidated risk assessments should be a fundamental part of managing the FI. Large FIs assume varied and complex risks that warrant a risk-oriented supervisory approach.

II. Statement of policy

The existence of risk is not necessarily a reason for concern. Likewise, the existence of high risk in any area is not necessarily a concern, so long as management exhibits the ability to effectively manage that level of risk. Under this approach, the BSP will not necessarily attempt to restrict risk-taking but rather ensure that FIs identify, understand, and control the risks they assume. As an organization grows more diverse and complex, the FI's risk management processes must keep pace. When risk is not properly managed, BSP will direct FI management to take corrective action such as reducing exposures, increasing capital, strengthening risk management processes or a combination of these actions. In all cases, the primary concern of the BSP is that the FI operates in a safe and sound manner and maintains capital commensurate with its risks. Further guidance on risk management issues will be addressed in subsequent issuances that are part of the overall risk assessment program.

III. Guidelines for risk management

For purposes of the discussion of risk, the BSP will evaluate banking risk relative to its impact on capital and earnings. From a supervisory perspective, risk is the potential that events, expected or unanticipated, may have an adverse impact on the FI's capital or earnings.

The BSP-SES has defined eight (8) categories of risk for FI supervision purposes. These risks are: credit, market, interest rate, liquidity, operational, compliance, strategic, and reputation. These categories are not mutually exclusive; any product or service may expose the FI to multiple risks. In addition, they can be interdependent. Increased risk in one (1) category can increase risk in other categories.

Types and definitions of risk

1. Credit risk arises from counterparty's failure to meet the terms of any contract with the FI or otherwise perform as agreed. Credit risk is found in all activities where success depends on counterparty, issuer, or borrower performance. It arises any time FI funds are extended, committed, invested, or otherwise exposed through actual or implied contractual agreements, whether reflected on or off the balance sheet. Credit risk is not limited to the loan portfolio.

2. Market risk is the risk to earnings or capital arising from changes in the value of traded portfolios of financial instruments. This risk arises from market-making, dealing, and position-taking in interest rate, foreign exchange, equity and commodities markets.

3. Interest rate risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from movements in interest rates. Interest rate risk arises from differences between the timing of rate changes and the timing of cash flows (repricing risk); from changing rate relationships among different yield curves affecting FI activities (basis risk); from changing rate relationships across the spectrum of maturities (yield curve risk); and from interest-related options embedded in FI products (options risk).

4. Liquidity risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from an FI’s inability to meet its obligations when they come due without incurring unacceptable losses. Liquidity risk includes the inability to manage unplanned decreases or changes in funding sources. Liquidity risk also arises from the failure to recognize or address changes in market conditions that affect the ability to liquidate assets quickly and with minimal loss in value.

5. Operational risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from fraud, error, and the inability to deliver products or services, maintain a competitive position, and manage information. Risk is inherent in efforts to gain strategic advantage, and in the failure to keep pace with changes in the financial services marketplace. Operational risk is evident in each product and service offered. Operational risk encompasses: product development and delivery, operational processing, systems development, computing systems, complexity of products and services, and the internal control environment.

6. Compliance risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from violations of, or non-conformance with, laws, rules, regulations, prescribed practices, internal policies and procedures, or ethical standards. Compliance risk also arises in situations where the laws or rules governing certain FI products or activities of the FI’s clients may be ambiguous or untested. This risk exposes the FI to fines, payment of damages, and the voiding of contracts. Compliance risk can lead to diminished reputation, reduced franchise value, limited business opportunities, reduced expansion potential, and lack of contract enforceability.

7. Strategic risk is the current and prospective impact on earnings or capital arising from adverse business decisions, improper implementation of decisions, or lack of responsiveness to industry changes. This risk is a function of the compatibility of an organization’s strategic goals, the business strategies developed to achieve those goals, the resources deployed against these goals, and the quality of implementation. The resources needed to carry out business strategies are both tangible and intangible. They include communication channels, operating systems, delivery networks, and managerial capacities and capabilities. The organization's internal characteristics must be evaluated against the impact of economic, technological, competitive, regulatory, and other environmental changes.

8. Reputation risk is the current and prospective impact on earnings or capital arising from negative public opinion. This affects the FI’s ability to establish new relationships or services or continue servicing existing relationships. This risk may expose the FI to litigation, financial loss, or a decline in its customer base. In extreme cases, FIs that lose their reputation may suffer a run on deposits. Reputation risk exposure is present throughout the organization and requires the responsibility to exercise an abundance of caution in dealing with customers and the community.
IV. FI management of risk

Because market conditions and company structures vary, there is no single risk management system that works for all FIs. Each FI should tailor its risk management program to its needs and circumstances. Sound risk management systems, however, have several things in common; for example, they are independent of risk-taking activities. Regardless of the risk management program’s design, each program should:

1. Identify risk: To properly identify risks, an FI must recognize and understand existing risks or risks that may arise from new business initiatives, including risks that originate in non-bank subsidiaries and affiliates. Risk identification should be a continuing process, and should occur at both the transaction and portfolio level.

2. Measure risk: Accurate and timely measurement of risk is essential to effective risk management systems. An FI that does not have a risk measurement system has limited ability to control or monitor risk levels. Further, the more complex the risk, the more sophisticated should be the tools that measure it. Risk identification should be a continuing process, and should occur at both the transaction and portfolio level.

3. Monitor risk: FIs should monitor risk levels to ensure timely review of risk positions and exceptions. Monitoring reports should be frequent, timely, accurate, and informative and should be distributed to appropriate individuals to ensure action, when needed. For large, complex FIs, monitoring is essential to ensure that management’s decisions are implemented for all geographies, products, and legal entities.

4. Control risk: The FI should establish and communicate risk limits through policies, standards, and procedures that define responsibility and authority. These control limits should be valid tools that management should be able to adjust when conditions or risk tolerances change. The FI should have a process to authorize exceptions or changes to risk limits when warranted. In merging or consolidating FIs, the transition should be tightly controlled; business plans, lines of authority, and accountability should be clear. Large, diversified FIs should have strong risk controls covering all geographies, products, and legal entities.

The Board must establish the FI’s strategic direction and risk tolerances. In carrying out these responsibilities, the Board should approve policies that set operational standards and risk limits. Well-designed monitoring systems will allow the Board to hold management accountable for operating within established tolerances. Capable management and appropriate staffing are also essential to effective risk management. FI management is responsible for the implementation, integrity, and maintenance of risk management systems. Management also must keep the directors adequately informed. Management must:

a. Implement the FI’s strategy;

b. Develop policies that define the FI’s risk tolerance and ensure that they are compatible with strategic goals;
c. Ensure that strategic direction and risk tolerances are effectively communicated and adhered to throughout the organization.
d. Oversee the development and maintenance of management information systems to ensure that information is timely, accurate, and pertinent.

V. Assessment of risk management

When assessing risk management systems, the BSP will consider the FI's policies, processes, personnel, and control systems. Significant deficiencies in any one of these areas will cause the BSP to expect the FI to compensate for these deficiencies in their overall risk management process.

1. Policies are statements of the FIs' commitment to pursue certain results. Policies often set standards (on risk tolerances, for example) and recommend courses of action. Policies should express an FI's underlying mission, values, and principles. A policy review should always be triggered when an FI's activities or risk tolerances change.

2. Processes are the procedures, programs, and practices that impose order on the FI's pursuit of its objectives. Processes define how daily activities are carried out. Effective processes are consistent with the underlying policies, are efficient, and are governed by checks and balances.

3. Personnel are the staff and managers that execute or oversee processes. Good staff and managers perform as expected, are qualified, and competent. They understand the FI's mission, values, policies, and processes. Compensation programs should be designed to attract, develop, and retain qualified personnel. In addition, compensation should be structured to reward contributions to effective risk management.

4. Control systems include the tools and information systems (e.g., internal/external audit programs) that FI managers use to measure performance, make decisions about risk, and assess the effectiveness of processes. Feedback should be timely, accurate, and pertinent.

VI. Supervision by Risk

Using the core assessment standards of the BSP as guide, an examiner will obtain both a current and prospective view of an FI's risk profile. When appropriate, this profile will incorporate potential material risks to the FI from non-bank affiliates' activities conducted by the FI. Subsidiaries and branches of foreign FIs should maintain sufficient documentation onsite to support the analysis of their risk management. This risk assessment drives supervisory strategies and activities. It also facilitates discussions with FI management and directors and helps to ensure more efficient examinations. The core assessment complements the risk assessment system (RAS). Examiners document their conclusions regarding the quantity of risk, the quality of risk management, the level of supervisory concern (measured as aggregate risk), and the direction of risk using the RAS. Together, the core assessment and RAS give the appropriate department of the SES the means to assess existing and emerging risks in FIs, regardless of size or complexity.

Specifically, supervision by risk allocates greater resources to areas with higher risks. The appropriate department of the SES will accomplish this by:

1. Identifying risks using common definitions. The categories of risk, as they are defined, are the foundation for supervisory activities.

be quantified in pesos. For example, numerous internal control deficiencies may indicate excessive operational risk.

3. Evaluating risk management to determine whether FI systems and processes permit management to manage and control existing and prospective levels of risk.

The appropriate department of the SES will discuss preliminary conclusions regarding risks with FI management. Following these discussions, it will adjust conclusions when appropriate. Once the risks have been clearly identified and communicated, it can then focus supervisory efforts on the areas of greater risk within the FI, the consolidated banking organization, and the banking system.

To fully implement supervision by risk, the appropriate department of the SES will also assign CAMELS ratings to the lead FI and all affiliated FIs. It may determine that risks in individual FIs are increased, reduced, or mitigated in light of the consolidated risk profile of the FI as a whole. To perform a consolidated analysis, it obtain pertinent information from FIs and affiliates, and verify transactions flowing between FIs and affiliates.

GUIDELINES ON MARKET RISK MANAGEMENT
(Appendix to Sec. 4194Q, 4194S, 4194P and 4194N)

I. Background
The globalization of financial markets, increased transaction volume and volatility, and the introduction of complex products and trading strategies have made market risk management take on a more important role in risk management. FIs now use a wide range of financial products and strategies, ranging from the most liquid fixed income securities to complex derivative instruments and structured products. The risk dimensions of these products and strategies must be fully understood, monitored, and controlled by a financial institution.

II. Statement of policy
For purposes of these guidelines, financial institutions refer to banks and NBFIs supervised by the BSP and their respective financial subsidiaries. The level of market risk assumed by an FI is not necessarily a concern, so long as the FI has the ability to effectively manage the risk. Therefore, the BSP will not restrict the level of risk assumed by an FI, or the scope of its financial market activities, so long as the FI is authorized to engage in such activities and:
- Understands, measures, monitors and controls the risk assumed,
- Adopts risk management practices whose sophistication and effectiveness are commensurate to the risk being monitored and controlled, and
- Maintains capital commensurate with the risk exposure assumed.

If the BSP determines that an FI’s risk exposures are excessive relative to the FI’s capital, or that the risk assumed is not well managed, the BSP will direct the FI to reduce its exposure to an appropriate level and/or strengthen its risk management systems. In evaluating the above parameters, the BSP expects FIs to have sufficient knowledge, skills and appropriate system and technology necessary to understand and effectively manage their market risk exposures. The principles set forth in these guidelines shall be used in determining the adequacy and effectiveness of an FI’s market risk management process, the level and trend of market risk exposure and adequacy of capital relative to exposure. The BSP shall consider the following factors:

1. The major sources of market risk exposure and the complexity and level of risk posed by the assets, liabilities, and off-balance-sheet activities of the FI;

2. The FI’s actual and prospective level of market risk in relation to its earnings, capital, and risk management systems;

3. The adequacy and effectiveness of the FI’s risk management practices and strategies as evidenced by:
   - The adequacy and effectiveness of board and senior management oversight;
   - Management’s knowledge and ability to identify and manage sources of market risk as measured by past and projected financial performance;
   - The adequacy of internal measurement, monitoring, and management information systems;
   - The adequacy and effectiveness of risk limits and controls that set tolerances on income and capital losses;
   - The adequacy and frequency of the FI’s internal review and audit of its market risk management process.

Further, an FI’s market risk management system shall be assessed under the FI’s general risk management framework, consistent with the guidelines on supervision by risk as set forth under Appendix Q-42.
III. Market risk management process

An FI's market risk management process should be consistent with its general risk management framework and should be commensurate with the level of risk assumed. Although there is no single market risk management system that works for all FIs, an FI's market risk management process should:

1. Identify market risk. Identifying current and prospective market risk exposures involves understanding the sources of market risk arising from an FI's existing or new business initiatives. An FI should have procedures in place to identify and address the risk posed by new products and activities prior to initiating the new products or activities.

   Identifying market risk also includes identifying an FI's desired level of risk exposure based on its ability and willingness to assume market risk. An FI's ability to assume market risk depends on its capital base and the skills/capabilities of its management team. In any case, market risk identification should be a continuing process and should occur at both the transaction and portfolio level.

2. Measure market risk. Once the sources and desired level of market risk have been identified, market risk measurement models can be applied to quantify an FI's market risk exposures. However, market risk cannot be managed in isolation. Market risk measurement systems should be integrated into an FI's general risk measurement system and results from models should be interpreted in coordination with other risk exposures. Further, the more complex an FI's financial market activities are, the more sophisticated the tools that measure market risk exposures arising from such complex activities should be.

3. Control market risk. Quantifying market risk exposures help an FI align existing exposures with the identified desired level of exposures. Controlling market risk usually involves establishing market risk limits that are consistent with an FI's market risk measurement methodologies. Limits may be applied through an outright prohibition on exposures above a pre-set threshold, by restraining activities or deploying strategies that alter the risk-return characteristics of on- and off-balance sheet positions. Appropriate pricing strategies may likewise be used to control market risk exposures.

4. Monitor market risk. Ensuring that market risk exposures are adequately controlled requires the timely review of market risk positions and exceptions. Monitoring reports should be frequent, timely and accurate. For large, complex FIs, consolidated monitoring should be employed to ensure that management's decisions are implemented for all geographies, products, and legal entities.

IV. Definition and sources of market risk

Market risk is the risk to earnings or capital arising from adverse movements in factors that affect the market value of instruments, products, and transactions in an institution's overall portfolio, both on- and off-balance sheet. Market risk arises from market-making, dealing, and position-taking in interest rate, foreign exchange, equity and commodities markets.

Interest rate risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from movements in interest rates.

Foreign exchange risk refers to the risk to earnings or capital arising from adverse movements in foreign exchange rates.

Equity risk is the risk to earnings or capital arising from movements in the value of an institution's equity-related holdings.

Commodity risk is the risk to earnings or capital due to adverse changes in the value of an institution's commodity-related holdings.

While there are generally four sources of market risk, as defined herein, the focus... of this Appendix is interest rate risk and foreign exchange risk. Nevertheless, the principles set forth in the market risk management process and sound risk management practices are generally applicable to all sources of market risk.

a. Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that changes in market interest rates will reduce current or future earnings and/or the economic value of a financial institution. Accepting interest rate risk is a normal part of financial intermediation and is a major source of profitability and shareholder value. Excessive or inadequately understood and controlled interest rate risk, however, can pose a significant threat to an FI's earnings and capital. Thus, an effective risk management process that maintains interest rate risk within prudent levels is essential to the safety and soundness of FIs.

b. Basis risk

Basis risk arises from imperfect correlations among the various interest rates earned and paid on financial instruments with otherwise similar re-pricing characteristics. A shift in the relationship between these rates or interest rates in different markets can give rise to unexpected changes in the cash flows and earnings spread between assets, liabilities and OBS instruments of similar maturities or re-pricing frequencies.

c. Yield curve risk

Yield curve risk is the risk that rates of different maturities may change by a different magnitude. It arises from variations in the movement of interest rates across the maturity spectrum of the same index or market. Yield curves can steepen, flatten or even invert. Unanticipated shifts of the yield curve may have adverse effects on an FI's earnings or underlying economic value.

d. Option risk

Option risk is the risk that the payment patterns of assets and liabilities will change when interest rates change. Formally, an option gives the option holder the right, but not the obligation to buy, sell, or in some manner alter the cash flow of an instrument or financial contract. Options may be stand-alone instruments or may be embedded within otherwise standard instruments. Examples of instruments with embedded options include various types of bonds, notes, loans or even deposits which give a counter-party the right to prepay or even extend the maturity of an instrument or to change the rate paid. In some cases, the holder of an option can force a counter-party to pay additional notional, or to forfeit notional already paid.

The option holder's ability to choose to alter cash flows creates an asymmetric performance pattern. If not adequately managed, the asymmetrical payoff characteristics of instruments with optionality can pose significant risk particularly to those who sell the options, since the options held, both explicit and embedded, are generally exercised to the advantage of the holder and the disadvantage of the seller.

2. Measuring the effects of interest rate risk

Changes in interest rates affect both earnings and the economic value of an FI. This has given rise to two separate, but complementary, perspectives for evaluating an FI's exposure to interest rate risk.
Exposure to earnings typically receives the most attention. Many FIs use a modified interest rate gap or earnings simulation model to forecast earnings over a running next twelve (12) month time horizon under a variety of interest rate scenarios. Given that a large portion of a typical FI’s liabilities and even assets re-price in less than one (1) year, there is value in such a system. For example, earnings are a key measure in determining if the board of directors is creating value for the shareholders.

However, earnings over the next twelve (12) months do not present a complete picture of an FI’s exposure to interest rate risk. Many FIs hold assets such as bonds and fixed rate loans with extended terms. The full effect of changes in interest rates on the value of these assets cannot be fully captured by a short-term earnings model. Thus, it is also important to consider a more comprehensive picture of the FI’s exposure to interest rate risk through an assessment of the FI’s economic value.

The BSP will not consider market risk to be “well managed” unless the FI has fully implemented an effective risk measurement system whose sophistication is commensurate with the nature and complexity of the risk assumed. Smaller FIs with non-complex single currency balance sheets may be able to use a single non-complex measurement methodology, such as re-pricing gap analysis to manage their interest rate risk. However, large commercial or universal banks with complex, multi-currency balance sheets, or FIs that accept large exposures of interest rate risk relative to capital should incorporate more severe rate movements (e.g., ±100, 200 and 300 basis points) to determine what happens if strike prices are breached or “events” are triggered. Further, the BSP will expect an FI to employ alternative scenarios such as changes to the shape of the yield curve if the FI is exposed to significant levels of yield curve or basis risk.

Changes in market interest rates may also affect the volume of activities that generate fee income and other non-interest income. Thus, FIs should incorporate a broader focus on overall net income – incorporating both interest and non-interest income and expenses – if the FI reports significant levels of interest rate sensitive non-interest income.

The economic value of an FI can be viewed as the present value of an FI’s earnings perspective is the impact of changes in interest rates on accrual or reported earnings. Volatility in earnings should be monitored and controlled because reduced earnings or outright losses can threaten the financial stability of an FI by undermining its capital adequacy. Further, unexpected volatility in earnings can undermine an FI’s reputation and result in an erosion of public confidence.

Fluctuations in interest rates generally have the greatest impact on reported earnings through changes in net interest income (i.e., the difference between total interest income and total interest expense). Thus, the BSP will expect FIs to adopt systems that are capable of estimating changes to net interest income under a variety of interest rate scenarios. For example, non-complex FIs with traditional business lines and balance sheets could potentially limit their simulations to a single ±100 basis point parallel rate shock. However, FIs that hold significant levels of derivatives and structured products relative to capital should incorporate more severe rate movements (e.g., ±100, 200 and 300 basis points) to determine what happens if strike prices are breached or “events” are triggered. Further, the BSP will expect an FI to employ alternative scenarios such as changes to the shape of the yield curve if the FI is exposed to significant levels of yield curve or basis risk.

Changes in market interest rates may also affect the volume of activities that generate fee income and other non-interest income. Thus, FIs should incorporate a broader focus on overall net income – incorporating both interest and non-interest income and expenses – if the FI reports significant levels of interest rate sensitive non-interest income.

The economic value of an FI can be viewed as the present value of an FI's... expected net cash flows, defined as the expected cash flows from assets minus the expected cash flows from liabilities plus the expected net cash flows on off-balance sheet (OBS) positions. As such, it provides a more comprehensive view of the potential long-term effects of changes in interest rates than is offered by the earnings perspective.

While a variety of models are available, the BSP expects that economic value models will incorporate all significant classes of assets, liabilities and OBS. As with earnings at risk, the FI should incorporate a variety of interest rate scenarios to ensure that any strike prices, caps, limits, or “events” are breached in the simulation. Also, FIs with significant levels of basis or yield curve risk are expected to add scenarios such as alternative correlations between interest rates and/or a flatter or steeper yield curve.

Managing earnings and economic exposures Management must make certain tradeoffs when immunizing earnings and economic value from interest rate risk. When earnings are immunized, economic value becomes more vulnerable, and vice versa. The economic value of equity, like that of other financial instruments, is a function of the discounted net cash flows it is expected to earn in the future. If an FI has immunized earnings, such that expected earnings remain constant for any change in interest rates, the discounted value of those earnings will be lower if interest rates rise. Hence, its economic value will fluctuate with rate changes. Conversely, if an FI fully immunizes its economic value, its periodic earnings must increase when rates rise and decline when interest rates fall.

b. Foreign exchange risk
Foreign exchange risk (FX risk) is the risk to earnings or capital arising from changes in foreign exchange rates.

In contracting to meet clients’ foreign currency needs or simply buying and selling foreign exchange for its own account, a financial institution undertakes a risk that exchange rates might change subsequent to the time the contract is consummated. Foreign exchange risk may also arise from maintaining an open foreign exchange (FX) position. Thus, managing FX risk includes monitoring an FI’s net FX position.

An FI has a net position in a foreign currency when its assets, including spot and future contracts to purchase, and its liabilities, including spot and future contracts to sell, in that currency are not equal. An excess of assets over liabilities is called a net “long” position and liabilities in excess of assets, a net “short” position.

It should be noted that when engaging in foreign exchange activities, FIs are also exposed to other risks including liquidity and credit risks, particularly related to the settlement of foreign exchange contracts. FIs should have an integrated approach to risk management in relation to its foreign exchange activities: FX risk should be reviewed together with other risks to determine the FI’s overall risk profile. Liquidity and settlement risks related to foreign exchange activities are outside the scope of these guidelines. Nevertheless, future guidelines may be issued on these risk areas.

V. Sound market risk management practices
When assessing an FI’s market risk management system, the BSP expects an FI to address the four (4) basic elements of a sound risk management system:

1. Active and appropriate Board and senior management oversight;
2. Adequate risk management policies and procedures;
3. Appropriate risk measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring and management information systems; and
4. Comprehensive internal controls and independent audits.

The specific manner in which an FI applies these elements in managing its market risk will depend upon the complexity and nature of its activities, as well as the level of market risk exposure assumed. What constitutes adequate market risk management practices can therefore vary considerably. Regardless of the systems used, the BSP will not consider market risk to be well managed unless all four of the above elements are deemed to be at least "satisfactory".

As with other risk factor categories, banking groups (banks and subsidiaries/affiliates) should monitor and manage market risk exposures of the group on a consolidated and comprehensive basis. At the same time, however, FIs should fully recognize any legal distinctions and possible obstacles to cash flow movements among affiliates and adjust their risk management practices accordingly. While consolidation may provide a comprehensive measure in respect of market risk, it may also underestimate risk when positions in one affiliate are used to offset positions in another affiliate. This is because a conventional accounting consolidation may allow theoretical offsets between such positions from which an FI may not in practice be able to benefit because of legal or operational constraints.

A. Active and appropriate board and senior management oversight

Effective board and senior management oversight of an FI's market risk activities is critical to a sound market risk management process. It is important that these individuals are aware of their responsibilities with regard to market risk management and how market risk fits within the organization's overall risk management framework.

Responsibilities of the board of directors

The board of directors has the ultimate responsibility for understanding the nature and the level of market risk taken by the FI. In order to carry out its responsibilities, the Board should:

1. Establish and guide the FI's strategic direction and tolerance for market risk. While it is not possible to provide a comprehensive list of documents to consider, the BSP should see a clear and documented pattern whereby the Board reviews, discusses and approves strategies and policies with respect to market risk management. In addition, there should be evidence that the Board periodically reviews and discusses the overall objectives of the FI with respect to the level of market risk acceptable to the FI.

2. Identify senior management who has the authority and responsibility for managing market risk and ensure that senior management takes the necessary steps to monitor and control market risk consistent with the approved strategies and policies. The BSP should be able to discern a clear hierarchal structure with a clear assignment of responsibility and authority.

3. Monitor the FI's performance and overall market risk profile, ensuring that the level of market risk is maintained within tolerance and at prudent levels supported by adequate capital. The Board should be regularly informed of the market risk exposure of the FI and any breaches to established limits for appropriate action. Reporting should be timely and clearly

1 This section refers to a management structure composed of a board of directors and senior management. The BSP is aware that there may be differences in some FIs as regards the organizational framework and functions of the board of directors and senior management. For instance, branches of foreign banks have board of directors located outside of the Philippines and are overseeing multiple branches in various countries. In this case, "board-equivalent" committees are appointed. Owing to these differences, the notions of the board of directors and the senior management are used in these guidelines not to identify legal constructs but rather to label two decision-making functions within a FI.
presented. In assessing an FI's capital adequacy for market risk, the Board should consider the FI's current and potential market risk exposure as well as other risks that may impair the FI's capital, such as credit, liquidity, operational, strategic, and reputation risks.

4. Ensure that the FI implements sound fundamental principles that facilitate the identification, measurement, monitoring and control of market risk. The board of directors should encourage discussions among its members and senior management – as well as between senior management and others in the FI – regarding the FI's market risk exposures and management process.

5. Ensure that adequate resources, both technical and human resources, are devoted to market risk management. While board members need not have detailed technical knowledge of complex financial instruments, legal issues or sophisticated risk management techniques, they have the responsibility to ensure that the FI has personnel available who have the necessary technical skills to evaluate and control market risk. This responsibility includes ensuring that there is continuous training of personnel on market risk management and providing competent technical staff for the internal audit function.

Responsibilities of senior management

Senior management is responsible for ensuring that market risk is adequately managed for both long-term and day-to-day basis. In managing the FI's activities, senior management should:

1. Develop and implement policies, procedures and practices that translate the board's goals, objectives and risk tolerances into operating standards that are well understood by personnel and that are consistent with the board's intent. Senior management should also periodically review the organization's market risk management policies and procedures to ensure that they remain appropriate and sound.

2. Ensure adherence to the lines of authority and responsibility that the board has established for measuring, managing, and reporting market risk exposures.

4. Oversee the implementation and maintenance of management information and other systems to identify, measure, monitor, and control the FI's market risk.

5. Establish effective internal controls over the market risk management process.

6. Ensure that adequate resources are available for evaluating and controlling market risk. Senior management of FIs, including branches of foreign banks, should ensure that analysis and market risk management activities are conducted by competent staff with technical knowledge and experience consistent with the nature and scope of the FI’s activities. There should be sufficient depth in staff resources to manage these activities and to accommodate the temporary absence of key personnel and normal succession.

In evaluating the quality of oversight, the BSP shall evaluate how the board and senior management carry out the above functions/responsibilities. Further, sound management oversight is highly related to the quality of other areas/elements of an FI's risk management system. Thus, even if board and senior management exhibit active oversight, the FI's policies, procedures, measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring and information systems, controls and audit must be considered adequate before quality of board and senior management can be considered at least “satisfactory”.
Lines of responsibility and authority

FIs should clearly define the individuals and/or committees responsible for managing market risk and should ensure that there is adequate separation of duties in key elements of the risk management process to avoid potential conflicts of interest. Management should ensure that sufficient safeguards exist to minimize the potential that individuals initiating risk-taking positions may inappropriately influence key control functions of the market risk management process. FIs should therefore have risk measurement, monitoring, and control functions with clearly defined duties that are sufficiently independent from position-taking functions of the FI and which report risk exposures directly to the board of directors.

The nature and scope of safeguards to minimize potential conflicts of interest should be in accordance with the size and structure of an FI. Larger or more complex FIs should have a designated independent unit responsible for the design and administration of the FI’s market risk measurement, monitoring and control functions.

B. Adequate risk management policies and procedures

An FI’s market risk policies and procedures should be clearly defined, documented and duly approved by the board of directors. Policies and procedures should be consistent with the nature and complexity of the FI’s activities. When reviewing banking groups, the BSP will assess whether adequate and effective policies and procedures have been adopted and implemented across all levels of the organization.

Policies and procedures should delineate lines of responsibility and accountability and should clearly define authorized instruments, hedging strategies, position-taking opportunities, and the market risk models used to quantify market risk. Market risk policies should also identify quantitative parameters that define the acceptable level of market risk for the FI. Where appropriate, limits should be further specified for certain types of instruments, portfolios, and activities. All market risk policies should be reviewed periodically and revised as needed. Management should define the specific procedures to be used for identifying, reporting and approving exceptions to policies, limits, and authorizations.

It is important that FIs identify market risk, as well as other risks, inherent in new products and activities and ensure these are subject to adequate procedures and controls before the new products and activities are introduced or undertaken. Specifically, new products and activities should undergo a careful pre-acquisition review to ensure that the FI understands their market risk characteristics and can incorporate them into its risk management process. Major hedging or risk management initiatives should be approved in advance by the board or its appropriate delegated committee.

Proposals and the subsequent new product/activity review should be formal and written. For purposes of managing market risk inherent in new products, proposals should, at a minimum, contain the following features:

1. Description of the relevant product or strategy;
2. Use/purpose of the new product/activity;
3. Identification of the resources required and unit/s responsible for establishing sound and effective market risk management of the product or activity;
4. Analysis of the reasonableness of the proposed activities in relation to the FI’s overall financial condition and capital levels; and
5. Procedures to be used to measure, monitor, and control the risks of the proposed product or activity.

C. Appropriate risk measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring, and management information system

Market risk measurement models/methodologies

It is essential that FIs have market risk measurement systems that capture all material sources of market risk and that assess the effect of changes in market risk factors in ways that are consistent with the scope of their activities. Depending upon the size, complexity, and nature of activities that give rise to market risk, the ability to capture all material sources of market risk in a timely manner may require an FI’s market risk measurement system to be interfaced with other systems, such as the treasury system or loan system. The assumptions underlying the measurement system should be clearly understood by risk managers and senior management.

Market risk measurement systems should:
1. Assess all material market risk associated with an FI’s assets, liabilities, and OBS positions;
2. Utilize generally accepted financial concepts and risk measurement techniques; and
3. Have well-documented assumptions and parameters.

There are a number of methods/techniques for measuring market risks. Complexity ranges from simple marking-to-market or valuation techniques to more advanced static simulations using current holdings to highly sophisticated dynamic modeling techniques that reflect potential future business activities. In designing market risk measurement systems, FIs should ensure that the degree of detail regarding the nature of their positions is commensurate with the complexity and risk inherent in those positions.

At a minimum, smaller non-complex FIs should have the ability to mark-to-market or revalue their investment portfolio and construct a simple re-pricing gap. When using gap analysis, the precision of interest rate risk measurement depends in part on the number of time bands into which positions are aggregated. Clearly, aggregation of positions/cash flows into broad time bands implies some loss of precision. In addition, the use of reasonable and valid assumptions is important for a measurement system to be precise. In practice, the FI must assess the significance of the potential loss of precision in determining the extent of aggregation and simplification to be built into the measurement approach. Assumptions and limitations of the measurement approach, such as the loss of precision, should be documented.

On the other hand, banks holding an expanded derivatives license and FIs engaging in options or structured products with embedded options cannot capture all material sources of market risk by using static models such as the re-pricing gap. These FIs should have interest rate risk measurement systems that assess the effects of rate changes on both earnings and economic value. These systems should provide meaningful measures of an FI’s current levels of interest rate risk exposure, and should be capable of identifying any excessive exposures that might arise. Pricing models and simulation techniques will probably be required.

There is also a question on the extent to which market risk should be viewed on a whole institution basis or whether the trading book, which is marked to market, and the accrual book, which is often not, should be treated separately. As a general rule, it is desirable for any measurement system to incorporate market risk exposures arising from the full scope of an FI’s activities, including both trading and non-trading sources. A single measurement system can facilitate analysis of market risk exposure. However, this does not preclude different measurement systems and risk management approaches being used for similar or different activities. For example, a bank with expanded derivatives license will use pricing models as basic tools in valuing position from its derivatives activities and structured products. In addition, the bank should use simulation models to assess the potential effects of changes in market risk factors by simulating the future path of market risk factors and their impact on cash flows from these activities.

Different methodologies may also be applied to the trading and accrual books. Regardless of the number of models or measurement systems used, management should have an integrated view of market risk across products and business lines. Regardless of the measurement system used, the BSP will expect the FI to ensure that input data are timely and correct, assumptions can be supported and are valid, the methodologies used produce accurate results, and the results can be easily understood by senior management and the board.

(1) Model input. All market risk measurement methodologies require various types of inputs, including hard data, readily observable parameters such as asset prices, and both quantitatively and qualitatively-derived assumptions. This applies equally to simple gap as well as complex simulation models.

The integrity and timeliness of data is a key component of the market risk measurement process. The BSP expects that adequate controls will be established to ensure that all material positions and cash flows from on- and off-balance sheet positions are incorporated into the measurement system on a consistent and timely basis. Inputs should be verified through a process that validates data integrity. Assumptions and inputs should be subject to control and oversight review. Any manual adjustments to underlying data should be documented, and the nature and reasons for the adjustments should also be clearly understood.

Critical to model accuracy is the validity of underlying assumptions. Assumptions regarding maturity of deposits, for example, are critical in measuring interest rate risk. The treatment of positions where behavioral maturity is different from contractual maturity requires the use of assumptions and may complicate the measurement of interest rate risk exposure, particularly when using the economic value approach. The validity of correlation assumptions to aggregate market risk exposures is likewise important as breakdowns in correlations may significantly affect the validity of model results. Key assumptions should therefore be subject to rigorous documentation and review. Any significant changes should be approved in advance by the board of directors.

(2) Model risk. While accuracy is key to an effective market risk measurement system, methodologies cannot be expected to flawlessly predict potential losses arising from market risk. The use of models introduces the potential for model risk. Thus, model risk is the risk of loss arising from inaccurate or incorrect quantification of market risk exposures due to weaknesses in market risk methodologies. It may arise from relying on assumptions that are inconsistent with market realities, from employing input parameters that are unreliable, or from calibrating, applying and implementing models incorrectly.
Model risk is more likely to arise for instruments that have non-standard or option-like features. The use of proprietary models that employ unconventional techniques that are not widely agreed upon by market participants is likewise more sensitive to model risk. Even the use of standard models may lead to errors if the financial tools are not appropriate for a given instrument.

The BSP expects FIs to implement effective policies and procedures to manage model risk. The scope of policies and procedures will depend upon the type and complexity of models developed or purchased. However, FIs holding an expanded license or significant levels of complex investments, including structured products, should at a minimum implement the following controls:

a. Model development/acquisition, implementation and revisions. The BSP expects larger, complex FIs to adopt policies governing development/acquisition, implementation and revision of market risk models. These policies should clearly define the responsibilities of staff involved in the development/acquisition process. FIs should ensure that modeling techniques and assumptions are consistent with widely accepted financial theories and market practices. Policies and procedures should be duly approved by the board of directors and properly documented. An inventory of the models in use should be maintained along with documentation explaining how they operate.

The BSP also expects that revisions to models will be performed in a controlled environment by authorized personnel and changes should be made or verified by a control function. Written policies should specify when changes to models are acceptable and how those revisions should be accomplished.

b. Model validation. Before models are authorized for use, they should be validated by individuals who are neither directly involved in the development process nor responsible for providing inputs to the model. Independent model validation is a key control in the model development process and should be specifically addressed in an FI’s policies. Further, the BSP expects that the staff validating the models will have the necessary technical expertise.

A sound validation process should rigorously and comprehensively evaluate the sensitivity of the model to material sources of model risk and includes the following:

1. Tests of internal logic and mathematical accuracy;
2. Development of empirical support for the model’s assumptions;
3. Back-testing. The BSP expects FIs to conduct backtesting of model results. Back-testing is a method of periodically evaluating the accuracy and predictive capability of an FI’s market risk measurement system by monitoring and comparing actual movements in market prices or market risk factors with projections produced by the model. To be more effective, back-testing should be conducted by parties independent of those developing or using the model. Policies should address the scope of the back-testing process, frequency of back-testing, documentation requirements, and management responses. Complex models should be back-tested continually while simple models can be back-tested periodically. Significant discrepancies should prompt a model review.
4. Periodic review of methodologies and assumptions. The BSP expects that FIs will periodically review or reassess their modeling methodologies and assumptions. Again, the frequency of review will depend on the model but... complex models should be reviewed at least once a year, when changes are made, or when a new product or activity is introduced. Model review could also be prompted when there is a need for the model to be updated to reflect changes in the FI or market. The review process should be performed by an independent group as it is considered to be part of the risk control and audit function.

The use of vendor models can present special challenges, as vendors often claim proprietary privilege to avoid disclosing information about their models. Thus, FIs may be constrained from performing validation procedures related to internal logic, mathematical accuracy and model assumptions. However, vendors should provide adequate information on how the models were constructed and validated so that FIs have reasonable assurances that the model works as intended.

c. Stress testing

The underlying statistical models used to measure market risk summarize the exposures that reflect the most probable market conditions. Regardless of size and complexity of activities, the BSP expects FIs to supplement their market risk measurement models with stress tests. Stress testing are simulations that show how a portfolio or balance sheet might perform during extreme events or highly volatile markets.

Stress testing should be designed to provide information on the kinds of conditions under which the FI’s strategies or positions would be most vulnerable. Thus stress tests must be tailored to the risk characteristics of the FI. Possible stress scenarios might include abrupt changes in the general level of interest rates, changes in the relationships among key market rates (i.e., basis risk), changes in the slope and the shape of the yield curve (i.e., yield curve risk), changes in the liquidity of key financial markets, or changes in the volatility of market rates.

In addition, stress scenarios should include conditions under which key business assumptions and parameters break down. The stress testing of assumptions used for illiquid instruments and instruments with uncertain contractual maturities are particularly critical to achieving an understanding of the FI’s risk profile. When conducting stress tests, special consideration should be given to instruments or markets where concentrations exist. FIs should consider also “worst case” scenarios in addition to more probable events.

Further, the BSP will expect FIs with material market risk exposure, particularly from derivatives and/or structured products to supplement their stress testing with an analysis of their exposure to “interconnection risk.” While stress testing typically considers the movement of a single market factor (e.g., interest rates), interconnection risk considers the linkages across markets (e.g., interest rates and foreign exchange rates) and across the various categories of risk (e.g., credit, and liquidity risk). For example, stress from one market may transmit shocks to other markets and give rise to otherwise dormant risks, such as liquidity risk. Evaluating interconnected risk involves assessing the total or aggregate impact of singular events.

Guidelines for performing stress testing should be detailed in the risk management policy statement. Management and the board of directors should periodically review the design, major assumptions, and the results of such stress tests to ensure that appropriate contingency plans are in place.

(3) Model output. Reports should be provided to senior management and the Board as a basis for making decisions. Report content should be clear and straightforward, indicating the purpose of the model, significant limitations, the quantitative level of risk estimated by the simulation, a comparison to Board approved limits and a qualitative discussion regarding the appropriateness of the FI's current exposures. Sophisticated simulations should be used carefully so that they do not become “black boxes” producing numbers that have the appearance of precision but may not be very accurate when their specific assumptions and parameters are revealed.

Market limits structure

The FI's board of directors should set the institution’s tolerance for market risk and communicate that tolerance to senior management. Based on these tolerances, senior management should establish appropriate risk limits, duly approved by the Board, to maintain the FI's exposure within the set tolerances over a range of possible changes in market risk factors such as interest rates.

Limits represent the FI's actual willingness and ability to accept real losses. In setting risk limits, the board and senior management should consider the nature of the FI's strategies and activities, past performance, and management skills. Most importantly, the board and senior management should consider the level of the FI's earnings and capital and ensure that both are sufficient to absorb losses equal to the proposed limits. Limits should be approved by the board of directors. Furthermore, limits should be flexible to changes in conditions or risk tolerances and should be reviewed periodically.

An FI's limits should be consistent with its overall approach to measuring market risk. At a minimum, FIs using simple gap should establish limits on mismatches in each time bucket on a stand-alone and cumulative basis. In addition, limits should be adopted to control potential losses in the investment portfolio to a pre-set percentage of capital.

Larger, more complex FIs should establish limits on the potential impact of changes in market risk factors on reported earnings or/and the FI's economic value of equity. Market risk limits may include limits on net and gross positions, volume limits, stop-loss limits, value-at-risk limits, re-pricing gap limits, earnings-at-risk limits and other limits that capture either notional or (un)expected loss exposures. In assigning interest rate risk limits under the earnings perspective, FIs should explore limits on the variability of net income as well as net interest income in order to fully assess the contribution of non-interest income to the interest rate risk exposure of the FI. Such limits usually specify acceptable levels of earnings volatility under specified interest rate scenarios.

For example, interest rate risk limits may be keyed to specific scenarios of movements in market interest rates such as an increase or decrease of a particular magnitude. The rate movements used in developing these limits should represent meaningful stress situations taking into account historic rate volatility and the time required for management to address exposures. Limits may also be based on measures derived from the underlying statistical distribution of interest rates, such as earnings at risk or economic value-at-risk techniques. Moreover, specified scenarios should take account of the full range of possible sources of interest rate risk to the FI including re-pricing, yield curve, basis, and option risks. Simple scenarios using parallel shifts in interest rates may be insufficient to identify such risks. This is particularly important for FIs with significant exposures to these sources of market risk.

The form of limits for addressing the effect of rates on an FI's economic value of equity should be appropriate for the size and complexity of its underlying positions. For FIs engaged in traditional banking activities, relatively simple limits may suffice. However, for FIs with significant holdings of long-term instruments, options, instruments with embedded options, or other structured instruments, more detailed limit systems may be required.

Depending on the nature of an FI’s holdings and its general sophistication, limits can also be identified for individual business units, portfolios, instrument types, or specific instruments. The level of detail of risk limits should reflect the characteristics of the FI’s holdings including the various sources of market risk the FI is exposed to.

The BSP also expects that the limits system will ensure that positions that exceed predetermined levels receive prompt management attention. Limit exceptions should be communicated to appropriate senior management without delay. Policies should include how senior management will be informed and what action should be taken by management in such cases. Particularly important is whether limits are absolute in the sense that they should never be exceeded or whether, under specific circumstances, breaches of limits can be tolerated for a short period of time. The circumstances leading to a tolerance of breaches should be clearly described.

Market risk monitoring and reporting

An accurate, informative, and timely management information system is essential for managing market risk exposures both to inform management and to support compliance with board policy. Reporting of risk measures should be done regularly and should clearly compare current exposure to policy limits. In addition, past forecasts or risk estimates should be compared with actual results to identify any modeling shortcomings.

Reports detailing the market risk exposure of the FI should be reviewed by the board on a regular basis. While the types of reports prepared for the board and for various levels of management will vary based on the FI’s market risk profile, they should at a minimum include the following:

1. Summaries of the FI’s aggregate exposures;
2. Reports demonstrating the FI’s compliance with policies and limits;
3. Summary of key assumptions, for example, non-maturity deposit behavior, prepayment information, and correlation assumptions;
4. Results of stress tests, including those assessing breakdowns in key assumptions and parameters; and
5. Summaries of the findings of reviews of market risk policies, procedures, and the adequacy of the market risk measurement systems, including any findings of internal and external auditors and retained consultants.

D. Risk controls and audit

Adequate internal controls ensure the integrity of an FI’s market risk management process. These internal controls should be an integral part of the institution’s overall system of internal control and should promote effective and efficient operations, reliable financial and regulatory reporting, and compliance with relevant laws, regulations, and institutional policies. An effective system of internal control for market risk includes:

1. A strong control environment;
2. An adequate process for identifying and evaluating risk;
3. The establishment of control activities such as policies, procedures, and methodologies;
4. Adequate information systems;
5. Continual review of adherence to established policies and procedures; and
6. An effective internal audit and independent validation process.
Policies and procedures should specify the approval processes, exposure limits, reconciliations, reviews, and other control mechanisms designed to provide a reasonable assurance that the institution’s market risk management objectives are achieved. Many attributes of a sound risk management process, including risk measurement, monitoring, and control functions, are actually key aspects of an effective system of internal control. FIs should ensure that all aspects of the internal control system are effective, including those aspects that are not directly part of the risk management process.

An important element of an FI’s internal control system is regular evaluation and review. The BSP expects that FIs will establish a process to ensure that its personnel are following established policies and procedures, and that its procedures are actually accomplishing their intended objectives. Such reviews and evaluations should also address any significant change that may impact the effectiveness of controls, and that appropriate follow-up action was implemented when limits were breached. Management should ensure that all such reviews and evaluations are conducted regularly by individuals who are independent of the function they are assigned to review. When revisions or enhancements to internal controls are warranted, there should be a mechanism in place to ensure that these are implemented in a timely manner.

Independent reviews of the market risk measurement system should also include assessments of the assumptions, parameters, and methodologies used. Such reviews should seek to understand, test, and document the current measurement process, evaluate the system’s accuracy, and recommend solutions to any identified weaknesses. If the measurement system incorporates one or more subsidiary systems or processes, the review should include testing aimed at ensuring that the subsidiary systems are well-integrated and consistent with each other in all critical respects. The results of this review, along with any recommendations for improvement, should be reported to senior management and/or the board.

The BSP expects that FIs with complex risk exposures should have their measurement, monitoring, and control functions reviewed on a regular basis by an independent party (such as an internal or external auditor). In such cases, reports written by external auditors or other outside parties should be available to the BSP. It is essential that any independent reviewer ensures that the FI’s risk measurement system is sufficient to capture all material elements of market risk, whether arising from on- or off-balance-sheet activities. Among the items that an audit should review and validate are:

1. The appropriateness of the FI’s risk measurement system(s) given the nature, scope, and complexity of its activities.
2. The accuracy and completeness of the data inputs—This includes verifying that balances and contractual terms are correctly specified and that all major instruments, portfolios, and business units are captured in the model. The review should also investigate whether data extracts and model inputs have been reconciled with transactions and general ledger systems.1
3. The reasonableness and validity of scenarios and assumptions—This includes a review of the appropriateness of the interest rate scenarios as well as customer behaviors and pricing/volume relationships to ensure that these assumptions are reasonable and internally consistent.\footnote{Key areas of review include the statistical methods that were used to generate scenarios and assumptions (if applicable), and whether senior management reviewed and approved key assumptions. The review should also compare actual pricing spreads and balance sheet behavior to model assumptions. For some instruments, estimates of value changes can be compared with market value changes. Unfavorable results may lead the FI to revise model relationships.}

4. The validity of the risk measurement calculations - The scope and formality of the measurement validation will depend on the size and complexity of the FI. At large FIs, internal and external auditors may have their own models against which the FI’s model is tested. FIs with more complex risk profiles and measurement systems should have the model or calculations audited or validated by an independent source. At smaller and less complex FIs, periodic comparisons of actual performance with forecasts may be sufficient.\footnote{The validity of the model calculations is often tested by comparing actual with forecasted results. When doing so, FIs can compare projected net income results with actual earnings. Reconciling the results of economic valuation systems can be more difficult because market prices for all instruments are not always readily available, and the FI does not routinely mark all of its balance sheet to market. For instruments or portfolios with market prices, these prices are often used to benchmark or check model assumptions.}

The frequency and extent to which an FI should re-evaluate its risk measurement methodologies and models depend, in part, on the particular market risk exposures created by holdings and activities, the pace and nature of market rate changes, and the pace and complexity of innovation with respect to measuring and managing market risk.

VI. Capital adequacy

In addition to adequate risk management systems and controls, capital has an important role to play in mitigating and supporting market risk. FIs must hold capital commensurate with the level of market risk they undertake. As part of sound market risk management, FIs must translate the level of market risk they undertake whether as part of their trading or non-trading activities, into their overall evaluation of capital adequacy. Where market risk is undertaken as part of an FI’s trading activities, existing capital adequacy ratio requirements shall prevail.

The BSP will periodically evaluate the market risk measurement system for the accrual book to determine if the FI’s capital is adequate to support its exposure to market risk and whether the internal measurement systems of the FI are adequate. In performing this assessment, the BSP may require information regarding the market risk exposure of the FI, including re-pricing gaps, earnings and economic value simulation estimates, and the results of stress tests. This information will typically be found in internal management reports. If an FI’s internal measurement system does not adequately capture the level of market risk, the BSP may require an FI to improve its system. In cases where an FI accepts significant market risk in its accrual book, the BSP expects that a portion of capital will be allocated to cover this risk. When performing these evaluations, the BSP will determine if:

(a) All material market risk associated with an institution’s assets, liabilities, and OBS positions in the accrual book are captured by the risk management systems;
(b) Generally accepted financial concepts and risk measurement techniques are utilized. For larger, complex FIs, internal systems must be capable of measuring risk using both an earnings and economic value approach.

(c) Data inputs are adequately specified (commensurate with the nature...
This is especially important for assets and liabilities whose behavior differs markedly from contractual maturity or re-pricing, and for new products. Material changes to assumptions should be documented, justified, and approved by management.

(e) Market risk measurement systems are integrated into the institution’s daily risk management practices. The output of the systems should be used in characterizing the level of market risk to senior management and board of directors.

Circular No. 544 dated 15 September 2006
GUIDELINES ON LIQUIDITY RISK MANAGEMENT

(Appendix to Sec. 4195Q, 4195S, 4195P and 4195N)

I. Background

The on-going viability of institutions, particularly financial organizations, is heavily influenced by their ability to manage liquidity. Innovations in investment and funding products, growth in off-balance sheet activities and continuous competition for consumer funds have affected the way FIs do business and intensified the need for proactive liquidity risk management. FIs need to fully understand, measure and control the resulting liquidity risk exposures.

II. Statement of Policy

For purposes of these guidelines, FIs include banks, NBFIs supervised by the BSP and their financial subsidiaries.

The BSP recognizes the liquidity risk inherent in FI activities and how these activities expose an FI to multiple risks which may increase liquidity risk. The BSP will not restrict risk-taking activities as long as FIs are authorized to engage in such activities and:

1. Understand, measure, monitor and control the risk they assume;
2. Adopt risk management practices whose sophistication and effectiveness is commensurate to the risk assumed; and
3. Maintain capital commensurate with their risk exposures.

The principles set forth in these guidelines shall be used to determine the level and trend of liquidity risk exposure and adequacy and effectiveness of an FI’s liquidity risk management process. In evaluating the adequacy of an FI’s liquidity position, the BSP shall consider the FI’s current level and prospective sources of liquidity as compared to its funding needs. Further, the BSP will evaluate the adequacy of funds management practices relative to the FI’s size, complexity, and risk profile.

In general, liquidity risk management practices should ensure that an institution is able to maintain a level of liquidity sufficient to meet its financial obligations in a timely manner and to fulfill the legitimate funding needs of its community. Practices should reflect the ability of the institution to manage unplanned changes in funding sources, as well as react to changes in market conditions that affect the ability to quickly liquidate assets with minimal loss. In addition, funds-management practices should ensure that liquidity is not consistently maintained at a high cost, from concentrated sources, or through undue reliance on funding sources that may not be available in times of financial stress or adverse changes in market conditions.

In evaluating the above parameters, the BSP shall consider the following factors:

1. The actual and potential level of liquidity risk posed by the FI’s products and services, balance sheet structure and off-balance sheet activities;
2. The cost of an FI’s access to money markets and other alternative sources of funding;
3. The diversification of funding sources (on and off-balance sheet);
4. The adequacy and effectiveness of board and senior management oversight, particularly the Board’s ability to recognize the effects of interrelated risk areas, such as market and reputation risks, to liquidity risk;
5. The reasonableness of liquidity risk limits and controls in relation to earnings, as affected by the cost of access to money markets and other alternative sources of funding, and capital;
6. The adequacy of measurement methodologies, monitoring and management information systems;
7. The adequacy of foreign currency liquidity management;
8. The appropriateness and reasonableness of contingency plans for handling liquidity crises;
9. The adequacy of internal controls and audit of liquidity risk management process.

The sophistication of liquidity risk management shall depend on the size, nature and complexity of an FI's activities. However, in all instances, FIs are expected to measure their liquidity position on an ongoing basis, analyze net funding requirements under alternative scenarios, diversify funding sources and adopt contingency funding plans.

An FI's liquidity risk management system shall be assessed under the FI's general risk management framework, consistent with the guidelines on supervision by risk as set forth under Appendix Q-42. If an FI's risk exposures are deemed excessive relative to the FI's capital, or that the risk assumed is not well managed, the BSP will direct the FI to reduce its exposure and/or strengthen its risk management system.

III. Liquidity Risk Management Process

Liquidity risk management process should be tailored to an FI's structure and scope of operations and application can vary across institutions. Regardless of the structure, an FI's liquidity risk management process should be consistent with its general risk management framework and should be commensurate with the level of risk assumed. At a minimum, the process should:

1. Identify liquidity risk. Proper identification of liquidity risk requires that management understand both existing risk and prospective risks from new products and activities. It involves determining the volume and trends of liquidity needs and the sources of liquidity available to meet these needs. Identifying liquidity risk necessitates expressing the FI's desired level of risk exposure based on its ability and willingness to assume risk which may primarily depend on the FI's capital base and access to funds providers. Liquidity risk identification should be a continuing process and should occur at both the transaction, portfolio and entity level.

2. Measure liquidity risk. Adequate measurement systems enable FIs to quantify liquidity risk exposures on a per entity basis and across the consolidated organization. A relatively large organization with extensive scope of operations would generally require a more robust management information system to properly measure risk in a timely and comprehensive manner.

3. Control liquidity risk. The FI should establish policies and standards on acceptable product types, activities, counterparties and set risk limits on a transactional, portfolio and aggregate/consolidated basis to control liquidity risk. In setting limits, the FI should recognize any legal distinctions and possible obstacles to cash flow movements among affiliates or across separate books. Lines of authority and accountability should be clearly defined to ensure liquidity risk exposures remain reasonable and within the risk tolerance expressed by the board.

4. Monitor liquidity risk. Monitoring liquidity risk requires timely review of liquidity risk positions and exceptions, including day-to-day liquidity management. Monitoring reports should be frequent, timely, and accurate and should be distributed to appropriate levels of management.
IV. Definition of Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is generally defined as the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from an FI's inability to meet its obligations when they come due without incurring unacceptable losses or costs. Liquidity risk includes the inability to manage unplanned decreases or changes in funding sources. Liquidity risk also arises from the failure to recognize or address changes in market conditions that affect the ability to liquidate assets quickly and with minimal loss in value.

In terms of capital markets and trading activities, FIs face two (2) types of liquidity risk: funding liquidity risk and market liquidity risk. Funding liquidity risk refers to the inability to meet investment and funding requirements arising from cash flow mismatches without incurring unacceptable losses or costs. This is synonymous with the general definition of liquidity risk.

Market liquidity risk, on the other hand, refers to the risk that an institution cannot easily eliminate or offset a particular position because of inadequate liquidity in the market. The size of the bid/ask spread of instruments in a market provides a general indication of its depth, hence its liquidity, under normal circumstances. Market liquidity risk is also associated with the probability that large transactions may have a significant effect on market prices in markets that lack sufficient depth. In addition, market liquidity risk is associated with structured or complex investments as the market of potential buyers is typically small. Finally, FIs are exposed to the risk of an unexpected and sudden erosion of market liquidity. This could be the result of sharp price movement or jump in volatility, or internal to the FI such as that posed by a general loss of market confidence. Understanding market liquidity risk is particularly important for institutions with significant holdings of instruments traded in financial markets.

Market and liquidity risks are highly interrelated, particularly during times of uncertainty when there is a high correlation between the need for liquidity and market volatility. Likewise, an FI's exposure to other risks such as reputation, strategic, and credit risks, can likewise significantly affect an institution's liquidity risk. It is therefore important that an FI's liquidity risk management system is consistent with its general risk management framework.

V. Sound Liquidity Risk Management Practices

When assessing an FI's liquidity risk management system, the BSP shall consider how an FI address the four basic elements of a sound risk management system:

1. Active and appropriate board and senior management oversight;
2. Adequate risk management policies and procedures;
3. Appropriate risk measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring and management information system; and
4. Comprehensive internal controls and independent audits

Evaluation of the adequacy of the FI's application of the above elements will be relative to the FI's risk profile. FIs with less complex operations may generally use more basic practices while larger, and/or more complex institutions will be expected to adopt more formal and sophisticated practices. Large organizations should likewise take a comprehensive perspective to measuring and controlling liquidity risk by understanding how subsidiaries and affiliates can raise or lower the consolidated risk profile.
A. Active and Appropriate Board and Senior Management Oversight

Effective liquidity risk management requires that the Board and senior management be fully informed of the level of liquidity risk assumed by the FI and ensure that the activities undertaken are within the prescribed risk tolerance. Senior management should have a thorough understanding of how other risks such as credit, market, operational and reputation risks impact the FI’s overall liquidity strategy.

Responsibilities of the board of directors

The Board has the ultimate responsibility for understanding the nature and level of liquidity risk assumed by the FI and the processes used to manage it. The board of directors should:

1. Establish and guide the FI’s strategic direction and tolerance for liquidity risk by adopting a formal written liquidity/funding policy that specifies quantitative and qualitative targets;
2. Approve policies that govern or influence the FI’s liquidity risk, including reasonable risk limits and clear guidelines which are adequately documented and communicated to all concerned;
3. Identify the Senior Management staff who has the authority and responsibility for managing liquidity risk and ensure that this staff takes the necessary steps to monitor and control liquidity risk;
4. Monitor the FI’s performance and overall liquidity risk profile in a timely manner by requiring frequent reports that outline the liquidity position of the FI along with information sufficient to determine if the FI is complying with established risk limits;
5. Mandate and track the implementation of corrective action in instances of breaches in policies and procedures;
6. Establish, review and to the extent possible, test contingency plans for dealing with potential temporary and long-term liquidity disruptions; and
7. Ensure that the FI has sufficient competent personnel, including internal audit staff, and adequate measurement systems to effectively manage liquidity risk.

Responsibilities of senior management

Senior management is responsible for effectively executing the liquidity strategy and overseeing the daily and long-term management of liquidity risk. In managing the FI’s activities, Senior Management should:

1. Develop and implement procedures and practices that translate the Board’s goals, objectives, and risk tolerances into operating standards that are transmitted to and well understood by personnel. Operating standards should be consistent with the Board’s intent;
2. Plan for adequate sources of liquidity to meet current and potential funding needs and establish guidelines for the development of contingency funding plans;
3. Adhere to the lines of authority and responsibility that the Board has established for managing liquidity risk;
4. Oversee the implementation and maintenance of management information and other systems that identify, measure, monitor, and control the FI’s liquidity risk; and
5. Establish effective internal controls over the liquidity risk management process.

In evaluating the quality of oversight provided by the Board and Senior Management.
Management, the BSP will evaluate how the Board and Senior Management carry out the above functions/responsibilities. Further, sound management practices are highly related to the quality of other areas/elements of risk management system. Thus, even if Board and Senior Management exhibit active oversight, the FI’s policies, procedures, measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring and information systems, controls and audit should be adequate before quality of Board and Senior Management can be considered “satisfactory”.

Management of liquidity risk generally requires collaboration from various business areas of the FI, thus a clear delineation of responsibilities is necessary. The management structure should clearly define the duties of senior level committees, members of which have authority over the units responsible for executing liquidity-related transactions. There should be a clear delegation of day-to-day operating responsibilities to particular departments such as the Treasury Department.

To ensure proper management of liquidity risk, the FI should designate an independent unit responsible for measuring, monitoring and controlling liquidity risk. Said unit should take a comprehensive approach and directly report to the board of directors or a committee thereof.

B. Adequate risk management policies and procedures

An FI’s liquidity risk policies and procedures should be comprehensive, clearly defined, documented and duly approved by the board of directors. Policies and procedures should cover the FI’s liquidity risk management system in order to provide appropriate guidance to management. These policies should be applied on a consolidated basis and, as appropriate, at the level of individual affiliates, especially when recognizing legal distinctions and possible obstacles to cash movements among affiliates.

Liquidity risk policies should identify the quantitative parameters used by the FI to define the acceptable level of liquidity risk such as risk limits and financial ratios as well as describe the measurement tools and assumptions used. Qualitative guidelines should include description of the FI’s acceptable products and activities, including off-balance sheet transactions, desired composition of assets and liabilities, and approach towards managing liquidity in different currencies, geographies and across subsidiaries and affiliates. Where appropriate, a large FI should apply these policies on a consolidated basis to address risk exposures resulting from inter-connected funding structures and operations among members of an FI’s corporate group.

It is essential that policies include the development of a formal liquidity risk measurement system that addresses business-as-usual scenarios and a contingency funding plan that addresses a variety of stress scenarios. FIs should likewise have specific procedures for addressing breaches in policies and implementation of corrective actions.

Management should periodically review its liquidity risk policies and ensure that these remain consistent with the level and complexity of the FI’s operations. Policies should be updated to incorporate effects of new products/activities, changes in corporate structure and in light of its liquidity experience.

C. Appropriate risk measurement methodologies, limits structure, monitoring, and management information system
Liquidity risk measurement models/methodologies

An FI should have a measurement system in place capable of quantifying and capturing the main sources of liquidity risk in a timely and comprehensive manner. Liquidity management requires ongoing measurement, from intra-day liquidity to long-term liquidity positions. Depending on its risk profile, an FI can use techniques of simple calculations, static simulations based on current holdings or sophisticated models. What is essential is that the FI should be able to identify and avoid potential funding shortfalls such that the FI can consistently meet investment, funding and/or strategic targets.

FIs with simple operations can generally use a static approach to liquidity management. Static models are based on positions at a given point in time. While an exact definition of “simple operations” will not be provided, the BSP expects that banks using a static approach to liquidity management would limit their operations to core banking activities such as accepting plain vanilla deposits and making traditional loans. Such banks would not have active Treasury Departments, would not hold or offer structured products and would not be exposed to significant levels of FX risk. Board reporting could be less frequent than in more complex banks but in no event should be less than quarterly.

Complex FIs, on the other hand, will be expected to adopt more robust approaches such as a dynamic maturity/liquidity gap reporting or even simulation modeling. At a minimum, universal banks should use maximum cash outflow/liquidity or maturity gap models. FIs engaged in holding or offering significant levels of structured products and/or derivatives will be expected to have the capability to model the cash flows from these instruments under a variety of scenarios. Specifically, scenarios should be designed to measure the effects of a breach of the triggers (strike price) on these instruments.

Where the FI’s organizational structure and business practices indicate cash flow movements and liquidity support among corporate group members, the FI should adopt consolidated risk measurement tools to help management assess the group’s liquidity risk exposure. Depending on the degree of inter-related funding, non-complex measurement and monitoring systems may be acceptable. However, large, complex FIs that display a high degree of inter-related and inter-dependent funding will be expected to utilize more sophisticated monitoring and management systems. These systems should enable the Board of the consolidated entity to simulate and anticipate the funding needs of the FIs on both a consolidated basis and in each of its component parts.

Liquidity risk measurement methodologies/models should be documented and approved by the board and should be periodically independently reviewed for reasonableness and tested for accuracy and data integrity. Assumptions used in managing liquidity should be periodically revisited to ensure that these remain valid.

Liquidity models require projecting all relevant cash flows. As such, FIs engaged in complex activities should have the capability to model the behavior of all assets, liabilities, and off-balance sheet items both under normal/business-as-usual and a variety of stressed conditions. Stressed conditions may include liquidity crisis confined within the institution, or a systemic liquidity crisis, in which all FIs are affected. For FIs operating in a global environment, cash flow projections should reflect various foreign-currency funding requirements.

When projecting cash flows, management should also estimate customer behavior in addition to contractual maturities. Many cash flows are uncertain and may not necessarily follow contractual maturities. Cash flows may be influenced by interest rates and customer behavior, or may simply follow a seasonal or cyclical pattern. When modeling liquidity risk, it is important that assumptions be documented. Assumptions should be reasonable and should be based on past experiences or with consideration of the potential impact of changes in business strategies and market conditions. Measurement tools should include a sufficient number of time bands to enable effective monitoring of both short- and long-term exposures. This expectation applies not only to complex simulation modeling, but to the construction of simple liquidity GAP models as well.

To sufficiently measure an FI's liquidity risk, management should analyze how its liquidity position is affected by changes in internal (company-specific) and external (market-related) conditions. Management will need to assess how a shift from a normal scenario to various levels of liquidity crisis can affect its ability to source external funds and at what cost, liquidate certain assets at expected prices within expected timeframes, or hasten the need to settle obligations (e.g., limited ability to roll-over deposits). Management should, at a minimum, consider stress scenarios where securities are sold at prices lower than anticipated and credit lines are partially or wholly cancelled.

Regardless of the liquidity risk models used, an FI should adopt an appropriate contingency plan for handling liquidity crisis. Well before a liquidity crisis occurs, management should carefully plan how to handle administrative matters in a crisis. Management credibility, which is essential to maintaining the public’s confidence and access to funding, can be gained or lost depending on how well or poorly some administrative matters are handled. A contingency funding/liquidity plan ensures that an FI is ready to respond to liquidity crisis.

The sophistication of a contingency plan should be commensurate with the FI’s complexity and risk exposure, activities, products and organizational structure. The plan should identify the types of events that will trigger the contingency plan, quantify potential funding needs and sources and provide the specific administrative policies and procedures to be followed in a liquidity crisis.

Specifically, the contingency plan should:

1. Clearly identify, quantify and rank all sources of funding by preference including, but not limited to:
   - Reducing assets
   - Modifying the liability structure or increasing liabilities
   - Using off-balance-sheet sources, such as securitizations
   - Using other alternatives for controlling balance sheet changes

2. Consider asset and liability strategies for responding to liquidity crisis including, but not limited to:
   - Whether to liquidate surplus money market assets
   - When (if at all) HTM securities might be liquidated
   - Whether to sell liquid securities in the repo markets
   - When to sell longer-term assets, fixed assets, or certain lines of business
   - Coordinating lead bank funding with that of the FI’s other banks and non-bank affiliates
   - Developing strategies on how to interact with non-traditional funding sources (e.g., whom to contact, what type of information and how much detail should be provided, who will be available for further questions, and how to ensure that communications are consistent)
3. Address administrative policies and procedures that should be used during a liquidity crisis:
   - The responsibilities of Senior Management during a funding crisis
   - Names, addresses, and telephone numbers of members of the crisis team
   - Where, geographically, team members will be assigned
   - Who will be assigned responsibility to initiate external contacts with regulators, analysts, investors, external auditors, press, significant customers, and others
   - How internal communications will flow between management, ALCO, investment portfolio managers, traders, employees, and others
   - How to ensure that the ALCO receives management reports that are pertinent and timely enough to allow members to understand the severity of the FI’s circumstances and to implement appropriate responses.

The above outline of the scope of a good contingency plan is by no means exhaustive. FIs should devote significant time and consideration to scenarios that are most likely, given their activities. Regardless of the strategies employed, an FI should consider the effects of such strategies on long-term liquidity positions and take appropriate actions to ensure that level of risk exposures shall remain or be brought down within the risk tolerance of the Board.

Limits structure
The board and senior management should establish limits on the nature and amount of liquidity risk they are willing to assume. In setting limits, management should consider the nature of the FI’s strategies and activities, its past performance, the level of earnings and capital available to absorb potential losses and costs of an FI’s access to money markets and other alternative sources of funding.

Limits can take various forms. FIs should address limits on types of funding sources and uses of funds, including off-balance sheet positions. In addition, policies should set targets for minimum holdings of liquid assets relative to liabilities. Complex FIs, or FIs engaged in complex activities should set maximum cumulative cash-flow mismatches over particular time horizons and establish counterparty limits. Such limits should be applied to all currencies to which the FI has a significant exposure. In particular, FIs should take into consideration any legal distinctions and possible obstacles to cash flow movements between the Regular Banking Unit (RBU) and the FCDU.

When evaluating a bank’s liquidity position, the BSP will consider low levels of liquid assets relative to liabilities, and significant negative funding gaps to be indicative of high liquidity risk exposure. Further, negative cash-flow mismatches in the short term time buckets will receive heightened scrutiny by the BSP and should also receive the attention of senior management and the board of directors.

Before accepting negative funding gaps, or setting limits that allow negative funding gaps, the board and senior management should consider the FI’s ability to fund these negative gaps. Factors include, but are not limited to: the availability of on-balance sheet liquidity, the amount of firm credit lines available from commercial sources that can be drawn to fund the shortfall, and the amount of unencumbered on-balance sheet assets that can be sold without excessive loss and in a reasonable time-frame.

Further, actual positions and limits should reflect the outcome of possible stress scenarios caused by internal and external factors, particularly those related to reputation risk. Stress scenarios should consider the possibility that securities may be sold at a greater discount and/or may take more time to sell than expected or that credit lines and other off-balance sheet sources of funding may be cancelled or may be unavailable at reasonable cost.

Management should define specific procedures for the prompt reporting and documentation of limit exceptions and the management approval and action required in such cases.

Liquidity risk monitoring and reporting

An adequate management information system is critical in the risk monitoring process. The system should be able to provide the Board, senior management and other personnel with timely information on the FI's liquidity position in all the major currencies it deals in, on an individual and aggregate basis, and for various time periods.

Effective liquidity risk monitoring requires frequent routine liquidity reviews and more in-depth and comprehensive reviews on a periodic basis. In general, monitoring should include sufficient information and a clear presentation such that the reader can determine the FI's ongoing degree of compliance with risk limits. For example, reports should address funding concentrations, funding costs, projected funding needs and available funding sources.

Monitoring and board reporting should be robust. It is not unreasonable to expect complex FIs or FIs engaged in complex activities to monitor liquidity on a daily basis. Board reporting should be no less frequent than monthly. However, the BSP would expect Board-level committees or sub-committees to receive more frequent reporting.

Comprehensive and accurate internal reports analyzing an FI's liquidity risk should be regularly prepared and reviewed by senior management and submitted to the board of directors.

D. Risk controls and audit

An FI should have adequate internal controls in place to protect the integrity of its liquidity risk management process. Fundamental to the internal control system is for the Board to prescribe independent reviews to evaluate the effectiveness of the risk management system and check compliance with established limits, policies and procedures.

An effective system of internal controls for liquidity risk includes:

1. A strong internal control environment;
2. An adequate process for identifying and evaluating liquidity risk;
3. Adequate information systems; and
4. Continual review of adherence to established policies and procedures.

To ensure that risk management objectives are achieved, management needs to focus on the following areas: appropriate approval processes, limits monitoring, periodic reporting, segregation of duties, restricted access to information systems and the regular evaluation and review by independent competent personnel.

Internal audit reviews should cover all aspects of the liquidity risk management process, including determining the appropriateness of the risk management system, accuracy and completeness of measurement models, reasonableness of assumptions and stress testing methodology. Audit staff should have the skills commensurate with the sophistication of the FI's risk management systems. Audit results should be promptly reported to the board. Deficiencies should be addressed in a timely manner and monitored until resolved/corrected.

E. Foreign currency liquidity management

The principles described in this Appendix also apply to the management of any foreign currency to which the FI maintains a significant exposure. Specifically, management should ensure that its measurement, monitoring and control systems account for these exposures as well. Management needs to set and regularly review limits on the size of its cash flow mismatches for each significant individual currency and in aggregate over appropriate time horizons. In addition, an FI should consider effects of other risk areas, particularly settlement risks from its off-balance sheet activities. An FI should also conservatively assess its access to foreign exchange markets when setting up its risk limits. As with overall liquidity risk management, foreign currency liquidity should be analyzed under various scenarios, including stressful conditions.

Introduction

This Appendix outlines the BSP implementing guidelines of the revised International Convergence of Capital Measurement and Capital Standards, or popularly known as Basel II. Basel II is the new international capital standards set by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (BCBS). It aims to replace Basel I, which was issued in 1988 with an amendment in 1996, to make the risk-based capital framework more risk-sensitive. Banks are enjoined to submit their group-wide (including subsidiary banks and QBs) Basel II implementation plans from 2007-2010, not later than 31 December 2006.

The guidelines contained in this Appendix shall take effect on 1 July 2007.

As amended by M-2006-022 dated 24 November 2006

Part I. Risk-based capital adequacy ratio

1. The risk-based CAR of UBs and KBs and their subsidiary banks and QBs, expressed as a percentage of qualifying capital to risk-weighted assets, shall not be less than ten percent (10%).

2. Qualifying capital is computed in accordance with the provisions of Part II. Risk-weighted assets is the sum of (1) credit risk-weighted assets (Parts III, IV, and V); (2) market risk-weighted assets (Parts IV and VI); and (3) operational risk-weighted assets (Part VII).

3. The CAR requirement will be applied to all UBs and KBs and their subsidiary banks, and QBs on both solo and consolidated bases. The application of the requirement on a consolidated basis is the best means to preserve the integrity of capital in banks with subsidiaries by eliminating double gearing. However, as one of the principal objectives of supervision is the protection of depositors, it is essential to ensure that capital recognized in capital adequacy measures is readily available for those depositors. Accordingly, individual banks should likewise be adequately capitalized on a stand-alone basis.

4. To the greatest extent possible, all banking and other relevant financial activities (both regulated and unregulated) conducted by a bank and its subsidiaries will be captured through consolidation. Thus, majority-owned or -controlled financial allied undertakings should be fully consolidated on a line by line basis. Exemptions from consolidation shall only be made in cases where such holdings are acquired through debt previously contracted and held on a temporary basis, are subject to different regulation, or where non-consolidation for regulatory capital purposes is otherwise required by law. All cases of exemption from consolidation must be made with prior clearance from the BSP.

5. Banks shall comply with the minimum CAR at all times notwithstanding that supervisory reporting shall only be on quarterly basis. Any breach, even if only temporary, shall be reported to the bank’s Board of Directors and to BSP, SES within three (3) banking days. For this purpose, banks shall develop an appropriate system to properly monitor their compliance.

6. The BSP reserves the right, upon authority of the Deputy Governor, SES, to... conduct on-site inspection outside of regular or special examination, for the purpose of ascertaining the accuracy of CAR calculations as well as the integrity of CAR monitoring and reporting systems.

Part II. Qualifying capital

1. Qualifying capital consists of Tier 1 (core plus hybrid) capital and Tier 2 (supplementary) capital elements, net of required deductions from capital.

A. Tier 1 Capital

2. Tier 1 capital is the sum of core Tier 1 capital and allowable amount of hybrid Tier 1 capital, as set in paragraph 12.

3. Core Tier 1 capital consists of:
   a) Paid-up common stock;
   b) Paid-up perpetual and non-cumulative preferred stock;
   c) Additional paid-in capital;
   d) Retained earnings;
   e) Undivided profits (for domestic banks only);
   f) Net gains on fair value adjustment of hedging instruments in a cash flow hedge of available for sale equity securities;
   g) Cumulative foreign currency translation; and
   h) Minority interest in subsidiary financial allied undertakings which are less than wholly-owned: Provided, That a bank shall not use minority interests in the equity accounts of consolidated subsidiaries as avenue for introducing into its capital structure elements that might not otherwise qualify as Tier 1 capital or that would, in effect, result in an excessive reliance on preferred stock within Tier 1:
      Less:
      i. Common stock treasury shares;
      ii. Perpetual and non-cumulative preferred stock treasury shares;
      iii. Net unrealized losses on available for sale equity securities purchased;
      iv. Gains (losses) resulting from designating financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss that are due to own credit worthiness;
   v. Unbooked valuation reserves and other capital adjustments based on the latest report of examination as approved by the Monetary Board;
   vi. Total outstanding unsecured credit accommodations, both direct and indirect, to DOSRI and unsecured loans, other credit accommodations and guarantees granted to subsidiaries and affiliates;
   vii. Deferred income tax;
   viii. Goodwill, including that relating to unconsolidated subsidiary banks, financial allied undertakings, excluding subsidiary securities dealers/brokers and insurance companies, (on solo basis) and unconsolidated subsidiary securities dealers/brokers, insurance companies and non-financial allied undertakings (on solo and consolidated bases); and
   ix. Gain on sale resulting from a securitization transaction.

4. Hybrid Tier 1 capital in the form of perpetual preferred stock and perpetual UnSD may be issued subject to prior BSP approval and to the conditions in paragraph 12.

5. In the case of foreign banks, Tier 1 capital is equivalent to:
   a) Assigned capital including earnings not remitted to the head office which the bank elects to consider as part of assigned capital (in which case it can no longer be remitted to the head office); and
   b) “Net due to” head office, branches, subsidiaries and other offices outside the Philippines as defined under Subsec. X121.5.d (inclusive of earnings not remitted to head office per Subsec. X121.5.c, unless considered as part of the assigned capital by the bank), subject to the limit prescribed under Subsec. X121.6, Less:
      i. Any balance in the “Net due from” account.

(As amended by Circular No. 560 dated 11 January 2007)
8. Tier 2 Capital

6. Tier 2 capital is the sum of upper Tier 2 capital and lower Tier 2 capital.

7. The total amount of lower Tier 2 (LT2) capital before deductions enumerated in paragraph 10 that may be included in total Tier 2 capital shall be limited to a maximum of fifty percent (50%) of total Tier 1 capital (net of deductions enumerated in paragraph 3). The total amount of upper and lower Tier 2 capital both before deductions enumerated in paragraph 10 that may be included in total qualifying capital shall be limited to a maximum of 100% of total Tier 1 capital (net of deductions enumerated in paragraph 3).

8. Upper Tier 2 capital consists of:
   a) Paid-up perpetual and cumulative preferred stock;

c) It must be available to absorb losses of the bank without it being obliged to cease carrying on business. The agreement governing its issuance should specifically provide for the dividend/coupon and principal to absorb losses where the bank would otherwise be insolvent, or for its holders to be treated as if they were holders of a specified class of share capital in any proceedings commenced for the winding up of the bank. Issue documentation must disclose to prospective investors the manner by which the instrument is to be treated in loss situation.

Its holder must waive his right to set-off any amount he owes the bank against any subordinated amount owed to him due to the HT1 capital instrument;

e) It must neither be secured nor covered by a guarantee of the issuer or related party or other arrangement that legally or economically enhances the priority of the claim of any holder as against depositors, other creditors of the bank and holders of LT2 and UT2 capital instruments;

f) It must not be redeemable at the initiative of the holder. It must not be repayable without the prior approval of the BSP: Provided, That repayment may be allowed only in connection with call option after a minimum of five (5) years from issue date: Provided, however, That a call option may be exercised within the first five (5) years from issue date when –

i. It was issued for the purpose of a merger with or acquisition by the bank and the merger or acquisition is aborted;

ii. There is a change in tax status of the HT1 capital instrument due to changes in the tax laws and/or regulations; or

iii. It must not contain any clause which requires acceleration of payment of principal, except in the event of insolvency. The agreement governing its issuance must not contain any provision that mandates or creates an incentive for the bank to repay the outstanding principal of the instrument, e.g., a cross-default or negative pledge or a restrictive covenant, other than a call option which may be exercised by the bank;

g) Its main features must be publicly disclosed by annotating the same on the instrument and in a manner that is easily understood by the investor;

i. 100 basis points less the swap spread between the initial index basis and the stepped-up index basis.

The swap spread should be fixed as of the pricing date and reflect the differential in pricing on that date between the initial reference security or rate and the stepped-up reference security or rate.

l) It must be underwritten by a third party not related to the issuer bank nor acting in reciprocity for and in behalf of the issuer bank;

Issue documentation must disclose to prospective investors the manner by which the instrument is to be treated in loss situation.

A. Risk-weighting

1. Banking book exposures shall be risk-weighted based on third party credit assessment of the individual exposure given by eligible external credit assessment institutions listed in Part III.C. The table below sets out the mapping of external credit assessments with the corresponding risk weights for banking book exposures. Exposures related to credit derivatives and securitizations are dealt with in Parts IV and V, respectively. Exposures should be risk-weighted net of specific provisions.

Foreign currency denominated exposures to the NG and the BSP, however, shall be risk-weighted according to the table above: Provided, that only one-third (1/3) of the applicable risk weight shall be applied from 01 July 2007, two-thirds (2/3) from 01 January 2008, and the full risk weight from 01 January 2009. Exposures to the Bank for International Settlements (BIS), the International Monetary Fund (IMF), and the European Central Bank (ECB) and the European Community (EC) shall also receive zero percent (0%) risk weight.

(As amended by Circular No. 588 dated 11 December 2007)

MDB Exposures

3. These include all exposures to multilateral development banks. Exposures to the World Bank Group comprised of the IBRD and the IFC, the ADB, the AIIB, the EBRD, the IADB, the EIB, the European Investment Fund (EIF), the NIB, the CDB, and the Islamic Development Bank (IDB), and the CEDB currently receive zero percent (0%) risk weight. However, it is the responsibility of the bank to monitor the external credit assessments of multilateral development banks to which they have an exposure to reflect in the risk weights any change therein.

1. The notations follow the rating symbols used by Standard & Poor's. The mapping of ratings of all recognized external rating agencies is in Part III.C.
2. Or risk weight applicable to sovereign of incorporation, whichever is higher
3. The capital treatment of QB's holdings of ROPO Global Bonds paired with Warrants under the BSP's revised risk-based capital adequacy framework is contained in Appendix Q-46a.
Bank Exposures
4. These include all exposures to Philippine-incorporated banks/QBs, as well as foreign-incorporated banks.

Interbank Call Loans
5. Interbank call loans refer to interbank loans that pass through the Interbank Call Loan Funds Transfer System of the BSP, the BAP, and the PCHC.

Exposures to Local Government Units
6. These include all exposures to non-central government public sector entities. Bonds issued by Philippine local government units (LGU Bonds), which are covered by Deed of Assignment of Internal Revenue Allotment of the LGU and guaranteed by the LGU Guarantee Corporation shall be risk-weighted at the lower of fifty percent (50%) or the appropriate risk weight indicated in the table above.

Exposures to Government Corporations
7. These include all exposures to commercial undertakings owned by central or local governments. Exposures to Philippine GOCCs that are not explicitly guaranteed by the Philippine NG are also included in this category.

Corporate Exposures
8. These include all exposures to business entities, which are not considered as micro, small, or medium enterprises (MSME), whether in the form of a corporation, partnership, or sole-proprietorship. These also include all exposures to FIs, including securities dealers' brokers and insurance companies, not falling under the definition of Bank in paragraph 4.

Housing Loans
9. These include all current loans to individuals for housing purpose, fully secured by first mortgage on residential property that is or will be occupied by the borrower.

Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSME)
10. An exposure must meet the following criteria to be considered as an MSME exposure:
   a) The exposure must be to an MSME as defined under existing BSP regulations; and
   b) The exposure must be in the form of direct loans, or unavailed portion of committed credit lines and other business facilities such as outstanding guarantees issued and unused letters of credit. Provided, That the credit equivalent amounts thereof shall be determined in accordance with the methodology for off-balance sheet items.

Qualified portfolio
11. For a bank’s portfolio of MSME exposures to be considered as qualified, it must be a highly diversified portfolio, i.e., it has at least 500 borrowers that are distributed over a number of industries. In addition, all MSME exposures in the qualified portfolio must be current exposures. All non-current MSME exposures are excluded from count and shall be risk-weighted in the same manner as corporate exposures.

Defaulted Exposures
12. A default is considered to have occurred in the following cases:
   a) If a credit obligation is considered non-performing under existing rules and regulations. For non-performing debt securities, they shall be defined as follows:
      i. For zero-coupon debt securities, and debt securities with quarterly, semi-annual, or annual coupon payments, they shall be considered non-performing... when principal and/or coupon payment, as may be applicable, is unpaid for thirty (30) days or more after due date; and

ii. For debt securities with monthly coupon payments, they shall be considered non-performing when three (3) or more coupon payments are in arrears:

Provided, however, That when the total amount of arrearages reaches twenty percent (20%) of the total outstanding balance of the debt security, the total outstanding balance of the debt security shall be considered as non-performing.

b) If a borrower/obligor has sought or has been placed in bankruptcy, has been found insolvent, or has ceased operations in the case of businesses;

c) If the bank sells a credit obligation at a material credit-related loss, i.e., excluding gains and losses due to interest rate movements. Banks' board-approved internal policies must specifically define when a material credit-related loss occurs; and

d) If a credit obligation of a borrower/obligor is considered to be in default, all credit obligations of the borrower/obligor with the same bank shall also be considered to be in default.

b) Checks and other cash items, which shall be risk-weighted at twenty percent (20%).

Accruals on a claim shall be classified and risk-weighted in the same way as the claim. Bills purchased shall be classified and risk-weighted as claims on the drawee bank. The treatments of credit derivatives and securitization exposures are presented separately in Parts IV and V, respectively. Investments in equity or other regulatory capital instruments issued by banks or other financial/non-financial allied/non-allied undertakings will be risk-weighted at 100%, unless deductible from the capital base as required in Part II.

Off-balance sheet items

17. For off-balance sheet items, the risk-weighted amount shall be calculated using a two-step process. First, the credit equivalent amount of an off-balance sheet item shall be determined by multiplying its notional principal amount by the appropriate credit conversion factor, as follows:

a) 100% credit conversion factor - this shall apply to direct credit substitutes, e.g., general guarantees of indebtedness (including standby letters of credit serving as financial guarantees for loans and securities) and acceptances (including endorsements with the character of acceptances), and shall include:

i. Guarantees issued other than shipside bonds/airway bills;

ii. Financial standby letters of credit

b) Fifty percent (50%) credit conversion factor – this shall apply to certain transaction-related contingent items, e.g., performance bonds, bid bonds, warranties and standby letters of credit related to particular transactions, and shall include:

i. Performance standby letters of credit (net of margin deposit), established as a guarantee that a business transaction will be performed;

This shall also apply to –

i. Note issuance facilities and revolving underwriting facilities; and

ii. Other commitments, e.g., formal standby facilities and credit lines with an original maturity of more than one (1) year, and this shall also include Underwritten Accounts Unsold.

c) Twenty percent (20%) credit conversion factor – this shall apply to short-term, self-liquidating trade-related contingencies arising from movement of goods, e.g., documentary credits collateralized by the underlying shipments, and shall include:

i. Trade-related guarantees:
   - Shipside bonds/airway bills
   - Letters of credit – confirmed

ii. Sight letters of credit outstanding (net of margin deposit);

iii. Usance letters of credit outstanding (net of margin deposit);

iv. Deferred letters of credit (net of margin deposit); and

v. Revolving letters of credit (net of margin deposit) arising from movement of goods and/or services;

This shall also apply to commitments with an original maturity of up to one (1) year, and shall include Committed Credit Line for Commercial Paper Issued.

d) Zero percent (0%) credit conversion factor – this shall apply to commitments which can be unconditionally cancelled at any time by the bank without prior notice, and shall include Credit Card Lines.

This shall also apply to those not involving credit risk, and shall include:

i. Late deposits/payments received;

ii. Inward bills for collection;

iii. Outward bills for collection;

iv. Travelers' checks unsold;

v. Trust department accounts;

vi. Items held for safekeeping/custodianship;

vii. Items held as collaterals;

viii. Deficiency claims receivable; and

ix. Others.

18. For derivative contracts, the credit equivalent amount shall be the sum of the current credit exposure (or replacement cost) and an estimate of the potential future credit exposure (or add-on). However, the following shall not be included in the computation:

a) Instruments which are traded in an exchange where they are subject to daily receipt and payment of cash variation margin; and

b) Exchange rate contract with original maturity of fourteen (14) calendar days or less.

19. The current credit exposure shall be the positive mark-to-market value of the contract (or zero if the mark-to-market value is zero or negative). The potential future credit exposure shall be the product of the notional principal amount of the contract multiplied by the appropriate potential future credit conversion factor, as indicated below:

</tbody>

Provided, That:

a) For contracts with multiple exchanges of principal, the factors are to be multiplied by the number of remaining payments in the contract;

b) For contracts that are structured to settle outstanding exposure following specified payment dates and where the terms are reset such that the market value of the contract is zero on these specified dates, the residual maturity would be set equal to the time until the next reset date, and in the case of interest rate contracts with remaining maturities of more than one (1) year that meet these criteria, the potential future credit conversion factor is subject to a floor of one-half percent (1/2%); and

c) No potential future credit exposure shall be calculated for single currency floating/floating interest rate swaps, i.e., the credit exposure on these contracts would be evaluated solely on the basis of their mark-to-market value.

20. The credit equivalent amount shall be treated like any on-balance sheet asset, and shall be assigned the appropriate risk weight, i.e., according to the third party credit assessment of the counterparty exposure.

B. Credit risk mitigation (CRM)

21. Banks use a number of techniques to mitigate the credit risks to which they are exposed. For example, exposures may be collateralized by first priority claims, in whole or in part with cash or securities, or a loan exposure may be guaranteed by a third party. Physical collateral, such as real estate, buildings, machineries, and inventories are not recognized at this time for credit risk mitigation purposes in line with Basel II recommendations.

22. In order for banks to obtain capital relief for any use of CRM techniques, all documentation used in collateralized transactions and for documenting guarantees must be binding on all parties and legally enforceable in all relevant jurisdictions. Banks must have conducted sufficient legal review to verify this and have a well-founded legal basis to reach this conclusion, and undertake such further review as necessary to ensure continuing enforceability.

23. The effects of CRM will not be double counted. Therefore, no additional supervisory recognition of CRM for regulatory capital purposes will be granted on claims for which an issue-specific rating is used that already reflects that CRM. Principal-only ratings will not be allowed within the framework of CRM.

24. While the use of CRM techniques reduces or transfers credit risk, it simultaneously may increase other risks (residual risks). Residual risks include legal, operational, liquidity and market risks. Therefore, it is imperative that banks employ robust procedures and processes to control these risks, including strategy; consideration of the underlying credit; valuation; policies and procedures; systems; control of roll-off risks; and management of concentration risk arising from the bank’s use of CRM techniques and its interaction with the bank’s overall credit risk profile.

25. The disclosure requirements under Part VIII of this document must also be observed for banks to obtain capital relief (i.e., adjustments in the risk weights of collateralized or guaranteed exposures) in respect of any CRM techniques.

Collateralized transactions

26. A collateralized transaction is one in which:

a) banks have a credit exposure or potential credit exposure; and
b) that credit exposure or potential credit exposure is hedged in whole or in part by collateral posted by a counterparty or by a third party in behalf of the counterparty.

27. In addition to the general requirement for legal certainty set out in paragraph 22, the legal mechanism by which collateral is pledged or transferred must ensure that the bank has the right to liquidate or take legal possession of it, in a timely manner, in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy (or one or more otherwise-defined credit events set out in the transaction documentation) of the counterparty (and, where applicable, of the

1 Counterparty refers to a party to whom a bank has an on- or off-balance sheet credit exposure or a potential credit exposure.
Furthermore, banks must take all steps necessary to fulfill those requirements under the law applicable to the bank’s interest in the collateral for obtaining and maintaining an enforceable security interest, e.g., by registering it with a registrar, or for exercising a right to net or set off in relation to title transfer collateral.

28. In order for collateral to provide protection, the credit quality of the counterparty and the value of the collateral must not have a material positive correlation. For example, securities issued by the counterparty – or by any related group entity – would provide little protection and so would be ineligible.

29. Banks must have clear and robust procedures for the timely liquidation of collateral to ensure that any legal conditions required for declaring the default of the counterparty and liquidating the collateral are observed, and that collateral can be liquidated promptly.

30. Where the collateral is required to be held by a custodian, the BSP will only recognize the collateral for regulatory capital purposes if it is held by BSP-authorized third party custodians.

Banking book

32. Where banks take eligible collateral, as listed in paragraph 34, and satisfies the requirements under paragraphs 27 to 31, they are allowed to apply the risk weight of the collateral to the collateralized portion of the credit exposure (equivalent to the fair market value of recognized collateral), subject to a floor of twenty percent (20%). The twenty percent (20%) floor shall not apply and a zero percent (0%) risk weight can be applied when the exposure and the collateral are denominated in the same currency, and either:

a) The collateral is cash as defined in paragraph 34.a; or

b) The collateral is a sovereign debt security eligible for zero percent (0%) risk weight, or a Php-denominated debt obligation issued by the Philippine NG or the BSP, which fair market value has been discounted by twenty percent (20%).

33. For collateral to be recognized, however, the collateral must be pledged for at least the life of the exposure and it must be marked to market and revalued with a minimum frequency of every six (6) months.

34. The following are the eligible collateral instruments:

a) Cash (as well as certificates of deposit or comparable instruments issued by the lending bank) on deposit with the bank which is incurring the counterparty exposure;

b) Gold;

c) Debt obligations issued by the Philippine NG or the BSP;

d) Debt securities issued by central governments and central banks (and PSEs treated as sovereigns) of foreign countries as well as MDBs with at least investment grade external credit ratings;

e) Other debt securities with external credit ratings of at least BBB- or its equivalent;

f) Unrated senior debt securities issued by banks with an issuer rating of at least BBB- or its equivalent, or with other debt issues of the same seniority with a rating of at least BBB- or its equivalent;

g) Equities included in the main index of an organized exchange; and
h) Investments in Unit Investment Trust Funds (UITF) and the Asian Bond Fund 2 (ABF2) duly approved by the BSP.

Trading book

35. A credit risk capital requirement should also be applied to banks’ counterparty exposures in the trading book (e.g., repo-style transactions, OTC derivatives contracts). Where banks take eligible collateral for these trading book transactions, as listed in paragraph 34, and satisfies the requirements under paragraphs 27 to 31, they are to compute for the credit risk capital requirement according to the following paragraphs: Provided, That, for repo-style transactions in the trading book, all instruments which are included in the trading book may be used as eligible collateral.

36. For collateralized transactions in the trading book, the exposure amount after risk mitigation is calculated as follows:

\[ E^* = \max \{0, [E x (1 + H_e) - C x (1 - H_c - H_{fx})]\} \]

Where:

- \( E^* \) = the exposure value after risk mitigation
- \( E \) = the current value of the exposure
- \( H_e \) = haircut appropriate to the exposure
- \( C \) = the current value of the collateral received
- \( H_c \) = haircut appropriate to the collateral
- \( H_{fx} \) = haircut appropriate for currency mismatch between the collateral and exposure set at 8% (based on a 10-business day holding period and daily marking to market)

37. The treatment of transactions where there is a maturity mismatch between the maturity of the counterparty exposure and the collateral is given in paragraphs 50 to 54.

38. These are the haircuts to be used (based on a 10-business day holding period, daily marking to market and daily remargining), expressed as percentages:

39. Where the collateral is a basket of assets, the haircut on the basket will be \( H = \Sigma a_i H_i \) where \( a_i \) is the weight of the asset in the basket and \( H_i \) is the haircut applicable to that asset.

40. For collateralized OTC derivatives transactions in the trading book, the credit equivalent amount will be computed according to paragraphs 18 to 19, but adjusted by deducting the volatility adjusted collateral amount as computed according to paragraphs 36 to 39.
41. The exposure amount after risk mitigation will be multiplied by the risk weight of the counterparty to obtain the risk-weighted asset amount for the collateralized transaction.

Guarantees

42. Where guarantees are direct, explicit, irrevocable and unconditional, banks may be allowed to take account of such credit protection in calculating capital requirements.

43. A guarantee must represent a direct claim on the protection provider and must be explicitly referenced to specific exposures or a pool of exposures, so that the extent of the cover is clearly defined and incontrovertible. Other than non-payment by a protection purchaser of money due in respect of the credit protection contract, the guarantee must be irrevocable; there must be no clause in the contract that would allow the protection provider unilaterally to cancel the credit cover or that would increase the effective cost of cover as a result of deteriorating credit quality in the hedged exposure. It must also be unconditional; there should be no clause in the protection contract outside the direct control of the bank that could prevent the protection provider from being obliged to pay out in a timely manner in the event that the original counterparty fails to make the payment(s) due.

44. In addition to the legal certainty requirement in paragraph 22, in order for a guarantee to be recognized, the following conditions must be satisfied:
   a) On the qualifying default/non-payment of the counterparty, the bank may in a timely manner pursue the guarantor for any monies outstanding under the documentation governing the transaction. The guarantor may make one lump sum payment of all monies under such documentation to the bank, or the guarantor may assume the future payment obligations of the counterparty covered by the guarantee. The bank must have the right to receive any such payments from the guarantor without first having to take legal actions in order to pursue the counterparty for payment;
   b) The guarantee is an explicitly documented obligation assumed by the guarantor; and
   c) The guarantee must cover all types of payments the underlying obligor is expected to make under the documentation governing the transaction, for example, notional amount, margin payments, etc. Where a guarantee covers payment of principal only, interests and other uncovered payments should be treated as an unsecured amount.

45. Where the bank’s exposure is guaranteed by an eligible guarantor, as listed in paragraph 47, and satisfies the requirements under paragraphs 42 to 44, the bank is allowed to apply the risk weight of the guarantor to the guaranteed portion of the credit exposure.

46. The treatment of transactions where there is a mismatch between the maturity of the counterparty exposure and the guarantee is given in paragraphs 50 to 54.

47. The following are the eligible guarantors:
   a) Philippine NG and the BSP;
   b) Central governments and central banks and PSEs of foreign countries as well as MDBs with a lower risk weight than the counterparty;
   c) Banks with a lower risk weight than the counterparty; and
   d) Other entities with external credit assessment of at least A- or its equivalent.

48. Where a bank provides a credit protection to another bank in the form of a guarantee that a third party will perform on its obligations, the risk to the guarantor bank is the same as if the bank had entered into the transaction as a principal. In such circumstances, the guarantor bank will be required to calculate capital requirement on the guaranteed amount according to the risk weight corresponding to the third party exposure. In this instance, and provided the credit protection is deemed to be legally effective, the credit risk is considered transferred to the bank providing credit protection. However, the bank receiving credit protection on its exposure to a third party shall recognize a corresponding risk-weighted credit exposure to the bank providing credit protection.

49. An exposure that is covered by a guarantee that is counter-guaranteed by the Philippine NG or BSP, may be considered as covered by the guarantee of the Philippine NG or BSP: Provided, That:

a) the counter-guarantee covers all credit risk element of the exposure;

b) both the original guarantee and the counter-guarantee meet all operational requirements for guarantees, except that the counter guarantee need not be direct and explicit to the original exposure; and
c) the cover is robust and that no historical evidence suggests that the coverage of the counter-guarantee is less than effectively equivalent to that of a direct guarantee of the Philippine NG and BSP.

Currently, Php-denominated exposures to the extent guaranteed by Industrial Guarantee and Loan Fund (IGLF), Home Guaranty Corporation (HGC), and Trade and Investment Development Corporation of the Philippines (TIDCORP), which guarantees are counter-guaranteed by the Philippine NG receive zero percent (0%) risk weight.

Maturity mismatch

50. For collateralized transactions in the trading book and guaranteed transactions, the credit risk mitigating effects of such transactions will still be recognized even if a maturity mismatch occurs between the hedge and the underlying exposure, subject to appropriate adjustments.

51. For purposes of calculating risk-weighted assets, a maturity mismatch occurs when the residual maturity of a hedge is less than that of the underlying exposure.

52. The maturity of the hedge and the maturity of the underlying exposure should both be defined conservatively. For the hedge, embedded options which may reduce the term of the hedge should be taken into account so that the shortest possible effective maturity is used. Where a call is at the discretion of the guarantor/protection seller, the maturity will always be at the first call date. If the call is at the discretion of the protection buying bank but the terms of the arrangement at origination of the hedge contain a positive incentive for the bank to call the transaction before contractual maturity, the remaining time to the first call date will be deemed to be the effective maturity. For example, where there is a step-up in cost in conjunction with a call feature or where the effective cost of cover increases over time even if credit quality remains the same or increases, the effective maturity will be the remaining time to the first call. The effective maturity of the underlying, on the other hand, should be gauged as the longest remaining time before the counterparty is scheduled to fulfill its obligation, taking into account any applicable grace period.

53. Hedges with maturity mismatches are only recognized when their original maturities are greater than or equal to one year. As a result, the maturity of hedges for exposures with original maturities of less than one (1) year must be matched to be recognized. In all cases, hedges will no longer be recognized when they have a residual maturity of three months or less.

54. When there is a maturity mismatch with recognized credit risk mitigants, the following adjustment will be applied.

Where:

- \( Pa \) = value of the credit protection adjusted for maturity mismatch

t = min (T, residual maturity of the credit protection arrangement) expressed in years

C. Use of third party credit assessments

57. The BSP will issue the mapping of ratings of other rating agencies as soon as it is recognized by the BSP for regulatory capital purposes.

National Rating Systems

58. With prior BSP approval, international credit rating agencies may have national rating systems developed exclusively for use in the Philippines using the Philippine sovereign as reference highest credit quality anchor.

Multiple Assessments

59. If an exposure has only one rating by any of the BSP recognized credit assessment agencies, that rating shall be used to determine the risk weight of the exposure; in cases where there are two or more ratings which map into different risk weights.
weights, the higher of the two lowest risk weights should be used.

Issuer versus issue assessments

60. Any reference to credit rating shall refer to issue-specific rating; the issuer rating may be used only if the exposure being risk-weighted is:
   a) an unsecured senior obligation of the issuer and is of the same denomination applicable to the issuer rating (e.g., local currency issuer rating may be used for risk weighting local currency denominated senior claims);
   b) short-term; and
   c) in cases of guarantees.
61. For loans, risk weighting shall depend on either the rating of the borrower or the rating of the unsecured senior obligation of the borrower. Provided, That in case of the latter, the loan is of the same currency denomination as the unsecured senior obligation.

Domestic versus international debt issuances

62. Domestic debt issuances may be rated by BSP-recognized domestic credit assessment agencies or by international credit assessment agencies which have developed a national rating system acceptable to the BSP. Internationally-issued debt obligations shall be rated by BSP-recognized international credit assessment agencies only.

Level of application of the assessment

63. External credit assessments for one entity within a corporate group cannot be used to proxy for the credit assessment of other entities within the same group. Such other entities should secure their own ratings.

Part IV. Credit Derivatives

1. This Part sets out the capital treatment for credit derivatives. Banks may use credit derivatives to mitigate its credit risks or to acquire credit risks. For credit derivatives that are used as credit risk mitigants (CRM), the general requirements for the use of CRM techniques in paragraphs 21 to 25, Part III.B, have to be satisfied, in addition to the specific operational requirements for credit derivatives in paragraphs 8 to 14.

2. The contents of this Part are just the general rules to be followed in computing capital requirements for credit derivatives. A bank, therefore, is expected to consult the BSP-SES when there is uncertainty about the computation of capital requirements, or even about whether a given transaction should be treated under the credit derivatives framework.

A. Definitions and general terminology

3. Credit derivative – a contract wherein one party called the protection buyer or credit risk seller transfers the credit risk of a reference asset or assets issued by a reference entity or entities, which it may or may not own, to another party called the protection seller or credit risk buyer. In return, the protection buyer pays a premium or interest-related payments to the protection seller reflecting the underlying credit risk of the reference asset/s. Credit derivatives may refer to credit default swaps (CDS), total return swaps (TRS), and credit-linked notes (CLN) and similar products.

4. Credit default swap – a credit derivative wherein the protection buyer may exchange the reference asset or any deliverable obligation of the reference entity for cash equal to a specified amount, or get compensated to the extent of the difference between the par value and market value of the asset upon the occurrence of a defined credit event.

5. Total return swap – a credit derivative wherein the protection buyer exchanges the actual collections and variations in the prices of the reference asset with the protection seller in return for a fixed premium.

6. Credit-linked note – a pre-funded credit derivative wherein the note holder acts as a protection seller while the note issuer is the protection buyer. As such, the repayment of the principal to the note holder is contingent upon the non-occurrence of a defined credit event. All references to CLNs shall be taken to generically include similar instruments, such as credit-linked deposits (CLDs).

7. Special purpose vehicle – refers to an entity specifically established to issue CLNs of a single, homogeneous risk class that are fully collateralized as to principal by eligible collateral instruments listed in paragraph 34, Part III.B, and which are purchased out of the proceeds of the note issuance.

B. Operational requirements for credit derivatives

8. A credit derivative must represent a direct claim on the protection seller and must be explicitly referenced to specific exposures or a pool of exposures, so that the extent of the cover is clearly defined and incontrovertible. Other than non-payment by a protection buyer of money due in respect of the credit derivative contract, it must be irrevocable; there must be no clause in the contract that would allow the protection seller unilaterally to cancel the credit cover or that would increase the effective cost of cover as a result of deteriorating credit quality in the hedged exposure. It must also be unconditional; there should be no clause in the credit derivative contract outside the direct control of the protection buyer that could prevent the protection seller from being obliged to pay out in a timely manner in the event of a defined credit event.

9. The credit events specified by the contracting parties must at a minimum cover:

   a) failure to pay the amounts due under terms of the underlying obligation that are in effect at the time of such failure (with a grace period that is closely in line with the grace period in the underlying obligation);
   b) bankruptcy, insolvency or inability of the obligor to pay its debts, or its failure or admission in writing of its inability generally to pay its debts as they become due, and analogous events; and
   c) restructuring of the underlying obligation involving forgiveness or postponement of principal, interest or fees that results in a credit loss event (i.e., charge-off, specific provision or other similar debit to the profit and loss account).

10. The credit derivative shall not terminate prior to expiration of any grace period required for a default on the underlying obligation to occur as a result of a failure to pay, subject to the provisions of paragraph 52 of Part III.B.

11. Credit derivatives allowing for cash settlement are recognized for capital purposes insofar as a robust valuation process is in place in order to estimate loss reliably. There must be a clearly specified period for obtaining post-credit event valuations of the underlying obligation.

12. If the protection buyer’s right or ability to transfer the underlying obligation to the protection seller is required for settlement, the terms of the underlying obligation must provide that any required consent to such transfer may not be unreasonably withheld.

13. The identity of the parties responsible for determining whether a credit event has occurred must be clearly defined. This determination must not be the sole responsibility of the protection seller. The bank as protection buyer must have the right/ability to inform the protection seller of the occurrence of a credit event.

14. Asset mismatches (underlying obligation is different from the obligation... used for purposes of determining cash settlement or the deliverable obligation, or the obligation used for purposes of determining whether a credit event has occurred) are permissible if:

- the obligation used for purposes of determining cash settlement or the deliverable obligation, or the obligation used for purposes of determining whether a credit event has occurred ranks pari passu with or is junior to the underlying obligation; and

- both obligations share the same obligor (i.e., the same legal entity) and legally enforceable cross-default or cross-acceleration clauses are in place.

C. Capital treatment for protection buyers

15. A bank that enters into a credit derivative transaction as a protection buyer in order to hedge an existing exposure in the banking book may only get capital relief if all the general requirements for the use of CRM techniques in paragraphs 21 to 25, Part III.B and the conditions in paragraphs 8 to 14 are satisfied. In addition, only the eligible guarantors listed in paragraph 47, Part III.B are considered as eligible protection sellers.

16. If all of the conditions in paragraph 15 are satisfied, banks that are protection buyers may apply the risk weight of the protection seller to the protected portion of the exposure being hedged. The risk weight of the protection seller should therefore be lower than the risk weight of the exposure being hedged for capital relief to be recognized. Exposures that are protected through the issuance of CLNs will be treated as transactions collateralized by cash and a zero percent (0%) risk weight is applied to the protected portion. The uncovered portion shall retain the risk weight of the bank’s underlying counterparty.

17. The protected portion of an exposure is measured as follows:

a) The fixed amount, if such is to be paid upon the occurrence of a credit event; or

b) The notional value of the contract if either (1) par is to be paid in exchange for physical delivery of the reference asset, or (2) par less market value of the asset is to be paid upon the occurrence of a credit event.

18. A bank may obtain credit protection for a basket of reference entities where the contract terminates and pays out on the first entity to default. In this case, the bank may substitute the risk weight of the protection seller for the risk weight of the asset within the basket with the lowest risk-weighted amount, but only if the notional amount is less than or equal to the notional amount of the credit derivative.

19. Where the contract terminates and pays out on the n-th (other than the first) entity to default, the bank will only be able to recognize any reductions in the risk weight of the underlying asset if (n-1)th default-protection has also been obtained or when n-1 of the assets within the basket has already defaulted.

20. Where the contract is referenced to entities in the basket proportionately, reductions in the risk weight will only apply to the extent of the underlying asset’s share of protection in the contract.

21. When a bank conducts an internal hedge using a credit derivative (i.e., hedging the credit risk of an exposure in the banking book with a credit derivative booked in the trading book), in order for the bank to receive any reduction in the risk capital requirement for the exposure in the banking book, the credit risk in the trading book must be transferred to an outside third party (i.e., an eligible protection seller).
deterioration in the value of the asset that is protected (either through reductions in fair value or by an addition to reserves), the credit protection will not be recognized.

23. Materiality thresholds on payments below which no payment is made in the event of loss are equivalent to retained first loss positions and must be deducted in full from the capital of the bank buying the credit protection.

24. Where the credit protection is denominated in a currency different from that in which the exposure is denominated – i.e., there is a currency mismatch – the protected portion of the exposure will be reduced by the application of a haircut, as follows:

\[ \text{Ga} = G \times (1 - H_{fx}) \]

Where:
- \( \text{Ga} \) = adjusted protected portion of the exposure
- \( G \) = protected portion of the exposure prior to haircut
- \( H_{fx} \) = haircut appropriate for currency mismatch between the credit protection and underlying obligation set at eight percent (8%) (based on a 10-business day holding period and daily marking to market)

25. Where a maturity mismatch occurs between the credit protection and the underlying exposure, the protected portion of the exposure adjusted for maturity mismatch will be computed according to paragraph 50 to 54, Part III.B.

D. Capital treatment for protection sellers

26. Where a bank is a protection seller in a CDS or TRS transaction, it must calculate a capital requirement on the reference asset as if it were a direct investor in the reference asset. The risk weight of the reference asset is multiplied by the nominal amount of the protection provided by the credit derivative to obtain the risk-weighted exposure.

27. For a bank holding a CLN, credit exposure is acquired on two fronts. As such, the on-balance sheet exposure arising from the note should be weighted by adding the risk weights of the reference entity and the risk weight of the note issuer. The amount of exposure is the carrying amount of the note. If the CLN principal is fully collateralized by an eligible collateral listed in paragraph 34, Part III.B, and which satisfies the requirements in paragraphs 27 to 31, Part III.B, the risk weight of the note issuer is substituted with the risk weight associated with the relevant collateral.

28. When the credit derivative is referenced to a basket of reference entities and the contract terminates and pays out on the first entity to default in the basket, capital should be held to consider the cumulative risk of all the reference entities in the basket. This means that the risk weights of all the reference entities are added up and multiplied by the amount of the protection provided by the credit derivative to obtain the risk-weighted exposure to the basket. However, the risk-weighted exposure is capped at ten (10) times the protection provided under the contract. Accordingly, the maximum capital charge is 100% of the protection provided under the contract. The multiplier ten (10) is the reciprocal of the BSP-required minimum CAR of ten percent (10%). For CLNs, the risk weight of the issuer is likewise included in the summing of the risk weights.

29. When the contract terminates and pays out on the \( n \)th (other than the first) entity to default, the treatment above shall apply except that in aggregating the risk weights of the reference entities, the risk weight of the \( n-1 \) lowest risk-weighted entity/ies is/are excluded from the computation. For CLNs, the risk weight of the issuer is likewise included in the summing of the risk weights.
30. When a first or an n\textsuperscript{th} to-default credit derivative has an external credit rating acceptable to the BSP, the risk weight in paragraph 21, Part V.F will be applied.

31. A contract that is referenced to entities in the basket proportionately should be risk-weighted according to each reference entity’s share of protection under the contract.

E. Credit derivatives in the trading book

32. The following describes the positions to be reported for credit derivative transactions for purposes of calculating specific risk and general market risk charges under the standardized approach.

33. A CDS creates a notional position in the specific risk of the reference obligation. A TRS creates notional positions on the specific and general market risks of the reference obligation, and an opposite notional position on a zero coupon government security representing the fixed payments or premium under the TRS. A CLN creates a notional position in the specific risk of the reference obligation, a position on the specific risk associated with the issuer, and a position on the general market risk of the note.

Specific risk

34. The specific risk position/s on the reference obligation/s created by credit derivatives are reported as short positions by protection buyers and long positions by protection sellers. In addition, holders of CLNs should report a long position on the specific risk of the note issuer.

35. The protection buyer in a first-to-default transaction should report a short position in the reference obligation with the lowest specific risk charge. A protection buyer in an n\textsuperscript{th} (other than the first)-to-default transaction shall only be allowed to report a short position in a reference obligation only if n-1 obligations in the reference basket have already defaulted.

36. When a credit derivative is referenced to multiple entities and the contract terminates and pays out on the first obligation to default in the basket, the transaction should be reported by the protection seller as long positions in each of the reference obligations in the basket. A CLN should likewise be reported as a long position on the note issuer. The total capital charge is capped at the notional amount of the derivative or, in the case of a CLN, the carrying amount of the note.

37. When the contract terminates and pays out on the n\textsuperscript{th} (other than the first) entity to default in the basket, the treatment above shall apply except that the protection seller may exclude the long position/s on n-1 reference obligations with the lowest risk-weighted exposures in its report. A CLN should likewise be reported as a long position on the note issuer. The total capital charge is capped at the notional amount of the derivative or, in the case of a CLN, the carrying amount of the note.

38. When an n\textsuperscript{th}-to-default credit derivative has an external credit rating acceptable to the BSP, the specific risk weights in Part VI.B will be applied.

39. When the contract is referenced to multiple obligations under a proportionate structure, positions in the reference obligations should be reported according to their respective proportions in the contract.

General market risk

40. A protection buyer/seller in a TRS should report a short/long notional position on the reference obligation and a long/short notional position on a zero coupon government security representing the fixed payment under the contract.

41. A protection buyer/seller in a CLN should report a short/long position on the note.
Counterparty credit risk

42. CDS and TRS transactions in the trading book attract counterparty credit risk charges. A five percent (5%) add-on factor for the computation of the potential future credit exposure shall be used by both protection buyers and protection sellers if the reference obligation has an external credit rating of at least BBB- or its equivalent. A ten percent (10%) add-on factor applies to all other reference obligations. However, a protection seller in a CDS shall only be subject to the add-on factor if it is subject to closeout upon the insolvency of the protection buyer while the underlying is still solvent. The add-on in this case should be capped to the amount of unpaid premiums.

43. Where the credit derivative is a first to default transaction, the add-on will be determined by the lowest credit quality underlying in the basket, i.e., if there are any non-investment grade or unrated items in the basket, the ten percent (10%) add-on should be used. For second and subsequent to default transactions, underlying assets should continue to be allocated according to the credit quality, i.e., the second lowest credit quality will determine the add-on for a second to default transaction, etc.

44. Where the credit derivative is referenced proportionately to multiple obligations, the add-on factor will follow the add-on factor applicable for the obligation with the biggest share. If the protection is equally proportioned, the highest add-on factor should be used.

Part V. Securitization

1. Banks must apply the securitization framework for determining regulatory capital requirements on their securitization exposures. Securitization exposures can include but are not restricted to the following: asset-backed securities, mortgage-backed securities, credit enhancements, liquidity facilities, interest rate or currency swaps, and credit derivatives. Underlying instruments in the pool being securitized may include but are not restricted to the following: loans, commitments, asset-backed and mortgage-backed securities, corporate bonds, equity securities, and private equity investments.

2. Since securitizations may be structured in many different ways, the capital treatment of a securitization exposure must be determined on the basis of its economic substance rather than its legal form. The contents of this Part are just the general rules to be followed in computing capital requirements for securitization exposures. A bank should therefore consult the BSP-SES when there is uncertainty about the computation of capital requirements, or even about whether a given transaction should be considered a securitization.

A. Definitions and general terminology

3. Traditional securitization – a structure where the cash flow from an underlying pool of exposures is used to service at least two (2) different stratified risk positions or tranches reflecting different degrees of credit risk. Payments to the investors depend upon the performance of the specified underlying exposures, as opposed to being derived from an obligation of the entity originating those exposures. The stratified/tranched structures that characterize securitizations differ from ordinary senior/subordinated debt instruments in that junior securitization tranches can absorb losses without interrupting contractual payments to more senior tranches, whereas subordination in a senior/subordinated debt structure is a matter of priority of rights to the proceeds of liquidation.

4. Synthetic securitization – a structure with at least two (2) different stratified risk positions or tranches that reflect different degrees of credit risk where credit risk of an underlying pool of exposures is transferred, in whole or in part, through the use of funded (e.g., credit-linked notes) or unfunded (e.g., credit default swaps) credit derivatives or guarantees that serve to hedge the credit risk of the portfolio. Accordingly, the investors' potential risk is dependent upon the performance of the underlying pool.

5. Originating bank – a bank that originates directly or indirectly underlying exposures included in the securitization.

6. Clean-up call – an option that permits the securitization exposures to be called before all of the underlying exposures or securitization exposures have been repaid. In the case of traditional securitizations, this is generally accomplished by repurchasing the remaining securitization exposures once the pool balance or outstanding securities have fallen below some specified level. In the case of a synthetic transaction, the clean-up call may take the form of a clause that extinguishes the credit protection.

7. Credit enhancement – a contractual arrangement in which the bank retains or assumes a securitization exposure and, in substance, provides some degree of added protection to other parties to the transaction.

8. Early amortization provisions – mechanisms that, once triggered, allow investors to be paid out prior to the originally stated maturity of the securities issued. For risk-based capital purposes, an early amortization provision will be considered either controlled or non-controlled. A controlled early amortization provision must meet all of the following conditions:
   a) The bank must have an appropriate capital/liquidity plan in place to ensure that it has sufficient capital and liquidity available in the event of an early amortization;
   b) Throughout the duration of the transaction, including the amortization period, there is the same pro rata sharing of interest, principal, expenses, losses and recoveries based on the bank’s and investors’ relative shares of the receivables outstanding at the beginning of each month;
   c) The bank must set a period for amortization that would be sufficient for at least ninety percent (90%) of the total debt outstanding at the beginning of the early amortization period to have been repaid or recognized as in default; and
   d) The pace of repayment should not be any more rapid than would be allowed by straight-line amortization over the period set out in criterion (c).

   An early amortization provision that does not satisfy the conditions for a controlled early amortization provision will be treated as non-controlled early amortization provision.

9. Eligible liquidity facilities – an off-balance sheet securitization exposure shall be treated as an eligible liquidity facility if the following minimum requirements are satisfied:
   a) The facility documentation must clearly identify and limit the circumstances under which it may be drawn. Draws under the facility must be limited to the amount that is likely to be repaid fully from the liquidation of the underlying exposures and any seller-provided credit enhancements. In addition, the facility must not cover any losses incurred in the underlying pool of exposures prior to a draw, or be structured such that draw-down is certain (as indicated by regular or continuous draws);
   b) The facility must be subject to an asset quality test that precludes it from being drawn to cover credit risk exposures that are considered non-performing under existing BSP regulations. In addition, liquidity facilities should only fund exposures that are externally rated investment grade at the time of funding;
   c) The facility cannot be drawn after all applicable (e.g., transaction-specific and program-wide) credit enhancements from which the liquidity would benefit have been exhausted; and
d) Repayment of draws on the facility (i.e., assets acquired under a purchase agreement or loans made under a lending agreement) must not be subordinated to any interests of any note holder in the program or subject to deferral or waiver.

10. Eligible servicer cash advance facilities – cash advance that may be provided by servicers to ensure an uninterrupted flow of payments to investors. The servicer should be entitled to full reimbursement and this right is senior to other claims on cash flows from the underlying pool of exposures.

11. Excess spread – generally defined as gross finance charge collections and other income received by the trust or special purpose entity (SPE, specified in paragraph 13) minus certificate interest, servicing fees, charge-offs, and other senior trust or SPE expenses.

12. Implicit support – arises when a bank provides support to a securitization in excess of its predetermined contractual obligation.

13. Special purpose entity – a corporation, trust, or other entity organized for a specific purpose, the activities of which are limited to those appropriate to accomplish the purpose of the SPE, and the structure of which is intended to isolate the SPE from the credit risk of an originator or seller of exposures. SPEs are commonly used as financing vehicles in which exposures are sold to a trust or similar entity in exchange for cash or other assets funded by debt issued by the trust.

B. Operational requirements for the recognition of risk transference in traditional securitizations

14. An originating bank may exclude securitized exposures from the calculation of risk-weighted assets only if all of the following conditions have been met. Banks meeting these conditions, however, must still hold regulatory capital against any securitization exposures they retain.

a) Significant credit risk associated with the securitized exposures has been transferred to third parties.

b) The transferor does not maintain effective or indirect control over the transferred exposures. The assets are legally isolated from the transferor in such a way (e.g., through the sale of assets or through subparticipation) that the exposures are put beyond the reach of the transferor and its creditors, even in bankruptcy or receivership. These conditions must be supported by an opinion provided by a qualified legal counsel.

The transferor is deemed to have maintained effective control over the transferred credit risk exposures if it:

i. is able to repurchase from the transferee the previously transferred exposures in order to realize their benefits; or

ii. is obligated to retain the risk of the transferred exposures.

The transferor’s retention of servicing rights to the exposures will not necessarily constitute indirect control of the exposures.

c) The securities issued are not obligations of the transferor. Thus, investors who purchase the securities only have claim to the underlying pool of exposures.

d) The transferee is an SPE and the holders of the beneficial interests in that entity have the right to pledge or exchange them without restriction.

e) Clean-up calls must satisfy the conditions set out in paragraph 17.

f) The securitization does not contain clauses that (i) require the originating bank to alter systematically the underlying exposures such that the pool’s weighted average credit quality is improved unless this is achieved by selling assets to independent and unaffiliated third parties at market prices; (ii) allow for increases in a retained first loss position or credit enhancement provided by the originating bank after the transaction’s inception; or (iii) increase the yield payable to parties other than the originating bank, such as investors.
and third-party providers of credit enhancements, in response to a deterioration in the credit quality of the underlying pool.

C. Operational requirements for the recognition of risk transference in synthetic securitizations

15. For synthetic securitizations, the use of CRM techniques (i.e., collateral, guarantees and credit derivatives) for hedging the underlying exposure may be recognized for risk-based capital purposes only if the conditions outlined below are satisfied:
   a) Credit risk mitigants must comply with the requirements as set out in Part III.B and Part IV of this Framework.
   b) Eligible collateral is limited to that specified in paragraph 34, Part III.B. Eligible collateral pledged by SPEs may be recognized.
   c) Eligible guarantors are defined in paragraph 47, Part III.B. SPEs are not recognized as eligible guarantors in the securitization framework.
   d) Banks must transfer significant credit risk associated with the underlying exposure to third parties.
   e) The instruments used to transfer credit risk must not contain terms or conditions that limit the amount of credit risk transferred, such as those provided below:
      i. Clauses that materially limit the credit protection or credit risk transference (e.g., significant materiality thresholds below which credit protection is deemed not to be triggered even if a credit event occurs or those that allow for the termination of the protection due to deterioration in the credit quality of the underlying exposures);
      ii. Clauses that require the originating bank to alter the underlying exposures to improve the pool’s weighted average credit quality;
      iii. Clauses that increase the banks’ cost of credit protection in response to deterioration in the pool’s quality;
   iv. Clauses that increase the yield payable to parties other than the originating bank, such as investors and third-party providers of credit enhancements, in response to a deterioration in the credit quality of the underlying pool; and
   v. Clauses that provide for increases in a retained first loss position or credit enhancement provided by the originating bank after the transaction’s inception.
   f) An opinion must be obtained from a qualified legal counsel that confirms the enforceability of the contracts in all relevant jurisdictions.
   g) Clean-up calls must satisfy the conditions set out in paragraph 17.

16. For synthetic securitizations, the effect of applying CRM techniques for hedging the underlying exposure are treated according to Part III.B and Part IV of this Framework. In case there is a maturity mismatch, the capital requirement will be determined in accordance with paragraphs 50 to 54, Part III.B. When the exposures in the underlying pool have different maturities, the longest maturity must be taken as the maturity of the pool. Maturity mismatches may arise in the context of synthetic securitizations when, for example, a bank uses credit derivatives to transfer part or all of the credit risk of a specific pool of assets to third parties. When the credit derivatives unwind, the transaction will terminate. This implies that the effective maturity of the tranches of the synthetic securitization may differ from that of the underlying exposures. Originating banks of synthetic securitizations with such maturity mismatches must deduct all retained positions that are unrated or rated below investment grade. Accordingly, when deduction is required, maturity mismatches are not taken into account. For all other securitization exposures, the bank must apply the maturity mismatch treatment set forth in paragraphs 50 to 54, Part III.B.
D. Operational requirements and treatment of clean-up calls

17. For securitization transactions that include a clean-up call, no capital will be required due to the presence of a clean-up call if the following conditions are met:
   (i) the exercise of the clean-up call must not be mandatory, in form or in substance, but rather must be at the discretion of the originating bank;
   (ii) the clean-up call must not be structured to avoid allocating losses to credit enhancements or positions held by investors or otherwise structured to provide credit enhancement; and
   (iii) the clean-up call must only be exercisable when ten percent (10%) or less of the original underlying portfolio, or securities issued remain, or, for synthetic securitizations, when ten percent (10%) or less of the original reference portfolio value remains.

18. Securitization transactions that include a clean-up call that does not meet all of the criteria stated in paragraph 17 result in a capital requirement for the originating bank. For a traditional securitization, the underlying exposures must be treated as if they were not securitized. Additionally, banks must not recognize in regulatory capital any gain-on-sale, as defined in paragraph 23. For synthetic securitization, the bank purchasing protection must hold capital against the entire amount of the securitized exposures as if they did not benefit from any credit protection. Same treatment applies for synthetic securitization that incorporates a call, other than a clean-up call, that effectively terminates the transaction and the purchased credit protection on a specified date.

19. If a clean-up call, when exercised, is found to serve as a credit enhancement, the exercise of the clean-up call must be considered a form of implicit support provided by the bank and must be treated in accordance with paragraph 26.

E. Operational requirements for use of external credit assessments

20. The following operational criteria concerning the use of external credit assessments apply in the securitization framework:
   a) To be eligible for risk-weighting purposes, the external credit assessment must take into account and reflect the entire amount of credit risk exposure the bank has with regard to all payments owed to it. For example, if a bank is owed both principal and interest, the assessment must fully take into account and reflect the credit risk associated with timely repayment of both principal and interest.
   b) The external credit assessments must be from an eligible ECAI as recognized by the bank’s national supervisor in accordance with Part III.C. An eligible credit assessment must be publicly available. In other words, a rating must be published in an accessible form and included in the ECAI’s transition matrix. Consequently, ratings that are made available only to the parties to a transaction do not satisfy this requirement.
   c) Eligible ECAIs must have a demonstrated expertise in assessing securitizations, which may be evidenced by strong market acceptance.
   d) A bank must apply external credit assessments from eligible ECAIs consistently across a given type of securitization exposure. Furthermore, a bank cannot use the credit assessments issued by one ECAI for one or more tranches and those of another ECAI for other positions (whether retained or purchased) within the same securitization structure that may or may not be rated by the first ECAI. Where two or more eligible ECAIs can be used and these assess the credit risk of the same securitization exposure differently, paragraph 59 of Part III.C will apply.
   e) Where CRM is provided directly to an SPE by an eligible guarantor defined in paragraph 47 of Part III.B and is reflected in the external credit assessment assigned to a securitization exposure(s), the risk weight associated with that external credit assessment should be used. In order to avoid any double counting, no additional capital recognition is permitted. If the CRM provider is not an eligible guarantor, the covered securitization exposures should be treated as unrated.

f) In the situation where a credit risk mitigant is not obtained by the SPE but rather applied to a specific securitization exposure within a given structure (e.g., ABS tranche), the bank must treat the exposure as if it is unrated and then use the CRM treatment outlined in Part III.B to recognize the hedge.

F. Risk-weighting

21. The risk-weighted asset amount of a securitization exposure is computed by multiplying the amount of the position by the appropriate risk weight determined in accordance with the following table. For off-balance sheet exposures, banks must apply a credit conversion factor (CCF) and then risk weight the resultant credit equivalent amount.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Credit assessment</th>
<th>AAA to AA</th>
<th>A+ to A-</th>
<th>BBB+ to BBB-</th>
<th>Below BBB- and unrated</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Risk weight</td>
<td>20%</td>
<td>50%</td>
<td>100%</td>
<td>Deduction from capital (50% from Tier 1 and 50% from Tier 2)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

22. The capital treatment of implicit support, liquidity facilities, securitizations of revolving exposures, and credit risk mitigants are identified separately.

23. Banks must deduct from Tier 1 capital any increase in equity capital resulting from a securitization transaction, such as that associated with expected future margin income resulting in a gain-on-sale that is recognized in regulatory capital. Such an increase in capital is referred to as a “gain-on-sale” for the purposes of the securitization framework.

24. Credit enhancing IOs (interest only), net of the amount that must be deducted from Tier 1 as in paragraph 23, are to be deducted fifty percent (50%) from Tier 1 capital and fifty percent (50%) from Tier 2 capital.

25. Deductions from capital may be calculated net of any specific provisions taken against the relevant securitization exposures.

26. When a bank provides implicit support to a securitization, it must, at a minimum, hold capital against all of the exposures associated with the securitization transaction as if they had not been securitized. Additionally, banks would not be permitted to recognize in regulatory capital any gain-on-sale, as defined in paragraph 23. Furthermore, the bank is required to disclose publicly that (a) it has provided non-contractual support and (b) the capital impact of doing so.

27. As a general rule, off-balance sheet securitization exposures will receive a CCF of 100%, except in the cases below.

28. A CCF of twenty percent (20%) and fifty percent (50%) will be applied to eligible liquidity facilities as defined in paragraph 9 above with original maturity of one year or less and more than one year, respectively. However, if an external rating of the facility itself is used for risk weighting the facility, a 100% CCF must be applied. A zero percent (0%) CCF may be applied to eligible liquidity facilities that are only available in the event of a general market disruption (i.e., whereupon more than one SPE across different transactions are unable to roll over maturing commercial paper, and that inability is not the result of an impairment in the SPE’s credit quality or in the credit quality of the underlying exposures). To qualify for this treatment, the conditions provided in paragraph 9 must be satisfied. Additionally, the funds advanced by the bank to pay holders of the capital market instruments (e.g., commercial paper) when there is a general market disruption must be secured by the underlying assets, and must rank at least pari passu with the claims of holders of the capital market instruments.

29. A CCF of zero percent (0%) will be applied to undrawn amount of eligible servicer cash advance facilities, as defined in paragraph 10 above, that are unconditionally cancellable without prior notice.

30. An originating bank is required to hold capital against the investors' interest (i.e., against both the drawn and undrawn balances related to the securitized exposures) when:
   a) It sells exposures into a structure that contains an early amortization feature; and
   b) The exposures sold are of a revolving nature. These involve exposures where the borrower is permitted to vary the drawn amount and repayments within an agreed limit under a line of credit (e.g., credit card receivables and corporate loan commitments).

31. Originating banks, though, are not required to calculate a capital requirement for early amortizations in the following situations:
   a) Replenishment structures where the underlying exposures do not revolve and the early amortization ends the ability of the bank to add new exposures;
   b) Transactions of revolving assets containing early amortization features that mimic term structures (i.e., where the risk of the underlying facilities does not return to the originating bank);
   c) Structures where a bank securitizes one or more credit line(s) and where investors remain fully exposed to future draws by borrowers even after an early amortization event has occurred; and
   d) The early amortization clause is solely triggered by events not related to the performance of the securitized assets or the selling bank, such as material changes in tax laws or regulations.

32. As described below, the CCFs depend upon whether the early amortization repays investors through a controlled or non-controlled mechanism. They also differ according to whether the securitized exposures are uncommitted retail credit lines (e.g., credit card receivables) or other credit lines (e.g., revolving corporate facilities). A line is considered uncommitted if it is unconditionally cancellable without prior notice.

33. For uncommitted retail credit lines (e.g., credit card receivables) that have either controlled or non-controlled early amortization features, banks must compare the three-month average excess spread defined in paragraph 11 to the point at which the bank is required to trap excess spread as economically required by the structure (i.e., excess spread trapping point). In cases where such a transaction does not require excess spread to be trapped, the trapping point is deemed to be 4.5 percentage points.

34. The bank must divide the excess spread level by the transaction's excess spread trapping point to determine the appropriate segments and apply the corresponding conversion factors, as outlined in the following tables:
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Controlled</th>
<th>Non-controlled</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3-month average excess spread-credit conversion factor (CCF)</td>
<td>Credit conversion factor (CCF)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Uncommitted</td>
<td>Committed</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>----------------</td>
<td>-----------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Retail credit lines</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>less than 133.33% to 100% of trapping point - 1% CCF</td>
<td>less than 133.33% to 100% of trapping point - 5% CCF</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>less than 75% to 50% of trapping point - 10% CCF</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>less than 25% of trapping point - 40%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Non-retail credit lines</td>
<td>90% CCF</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

35. All other securitized revolving exposures with controlled and non-controlled early amortization features will be subject to CCFs of ninety percent (90%) and 100%, respectively, against the off-balance sheet exposures.

36. The CCF will be applied to the amount of the investors’ interest. The resultant credit equivalent amount shall then be applied a risk weight applicable to the underlying exposure type, as if the exposures had not been securitized.

37. For a bank subject to the early amortization treatment, the total capital charge for all of its positions will be subject to a maximum capital requirement (i.e., a ‘cap’) equal to the greater of (i) that required for retained securitization exposures, or (ii) the capital requirement that would apply had the exposures not been securitized. In addition, banks must deduct the entire amount of any gain-on-sale and credit enhancing IOs arising from the securitization transaction in accordance with paragraphs 23 and 25.
G. Credit risk mitigation

38. The treatment below applies to a bank that has obtained or given a credit risk mitigant on a securitization exposure. Credit risk mitigants include collateral, guarantees, and credit derivatives. Collateral in this context refers to that used to hedge the credit risk of a securitization exposure rather than the underlying exposures of the securitization transaction.

Collateral

39. Eligible collateral is limited to that recognized in paragraph 34, Part III.B. Collateral pledged by SPEs may be recognized.

Guarantees and credit derivatives

40. Credit protection provided by the entities listed in paragraph 47, Part III.B may be recognized. SPEs cannot be recognized as eligible guarantors.

41. Where guarantees or credit derivatives fulfill the minimum operational requirements as specified in Part III.B and Part IV, respectively, banks can take account of such credit protection in calculating capital requirements for securitization exposures.

42. Capital requirements for the collateralized or guaranteed/protected portion will be calculated according to Part III.B and Part IV.

43. A bank other than the originator providing credit protection to a securitization exposure must calculate a capital requirement on the covered exposure as if it were an investor in that securitization. A bank providing protection to an unrated credit enhancement must treat the credit protection provided as if it were directly holding the unrated credit enhancement.

Maturity mismatches

44. For the purpose of setting regulatory capital against a maturity mismatch, the capital requirement will be determined in accordance with paragraphs 50 to 54, Part III.B, except for synthetic securitizations which will be determined in accordance with paragraph 16.

Part VI. Market risk-weighted assets

1. Market risk is defined as the risk of losses in on- and off-balance sheet positions arising from movements in market prices. The risks addressed in these guidelines are:
   a) The risks pertaining to interest rate-related instruments and equities in the trading book; and
   b) Foreign exchange risk throughout the bank.

A. Definition of the trading book

2. A trading book consists of positions in financial instruments held either with trading intent or in order to hedge other elements of the trading book. To be eligible for trading book capital treatment, financial instruments must either be free of any restrictive covenants on their tradability or able to be hedged completely. In addition, positions should be frequently and accurately valued, and the portfolio should be actively managed.

3. A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to both a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity. Financial instruments include both primary financial instruments (or cash instruments) and derivative financial instruments. A financial asset is any asset that is cash, the right to receive cash or another financial asset; or the contractual right to exchange financial assets on potentially favorable terms, or an equity instrument. A financial liability is the contractual obligation to deliver cash or another financial asset or to exchange financial liabilities under conditions that are potentially unfavorable.

4. Positions held with trading intent are those held intentionally for short-term resale and/or with the intent of benefiting from actual or expected short-term price movements or to lock in arbitrage profits, and may include for example proprietary positions, positions arising from client servicing (e.g. matched principal brokering) and market making.

5. The following will be the basic requirements for positions eligible to receive trading book capital treatment:
   a) Clearly documented trading strategy for the position/instrument or portfolios, approved by senior management (which would include expected holding horizon);
   b) Clearly defined policies and procedures for the active management of the position, which must include:
      i. positions are managed on a trading desk;
      ii. position limits are set and monitored for appropriateness;
      iii. dealers have the autonomy to enter into/manage the position within agreed limits and according to the agreed strategy;
      iv. positions are marked to market at least daily, and when marking to model the parameters must be assessed on a daily basis;
      v. positions are reported to senior management as an integral part of the institution’s risk management process; and
      vi. positions are actively monitored with reference to market information sources (assessment should be made of the market liquidity or the ability to hedge positions or the portfolio risk profiles). This would include assessing the quality and availability of market inputs to the valuation process, level of market turnover, sizes of positions traded in the market, etc.
   c) Clearly defined policy and procedures to monitor the positions against the bank’s trading strategy including the monitoring of turnover and stale positions in the bank’s trading book.

6. The documentation of the basic requirements of paragraph 5 should be submitted to the BSP.

7. In addition to the above documentation requirements, the bank should also submit to the BSP a documentation of its systems and controls for the prudent valuation of positions in the trading book including the valuation methodologies.

B. Measurement of capital charge

8. The market risk capital charge shall be computed according to the methodology set under Subsec. 11.16.5 of the MORB, subject to certain modifications as outlined in the succeeding paragraphs.

9. The specific risk weights for trading book positions in debt securities and debt derivatives shall depend on the third party credit assessment of the issue or the type of issuer, as may be appropriate, as follows:

1 The notations follow the rating symbols used by Standard & Poor’s. The mapping of ratings of all recognized external rating agencies is in Part III.C. For purposes of this framework, debt securities/derivatives issued by sovereigns include foreign currency denominated debt securities/derivatives issued by the Philippine NG.
10. Foreign currency denominated debt securities/derivatives issued by the Philippine NG and BSP shall be risk-weighted according to the table above. Provided, That only one-third (1/3) of the applicable risk weight shall be applied from 01 July 2007, two-thirds (2/3) from 01 January 2008, and the full risk weight from 01 January 2009.

11. A security, which is the subject of a repo-style transaction, shall be treated as if it were still owned by the seller/lender of the security, i.e., to be reported by the seller/lender.

12. In addition to capital charge for specific and general market risk, a credit risk capital charge should be applied to banks’ counterparty exposures in repo-style transactions and OTC derivatives contracts. The computation of the credit risk capital charge for counterparty exposures arising from trading book positions are discussed in paragraphs 35 to 41 of Part III.B. (As amended by Circular No. 605 dated 05 March 2008)

C. Measurement of risk-weighted assets

13. Market risk-weighted assets are determined by multiplying the market risk capital charge by ten (10) [i.e., the reciprocal of the minimum capital ratio of ten percent (10%)].

Part VII. Operational risk-weighted assets

A. Definition of operational risk

1. Operational risk is defined as the risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems or from external events. This definition includes legal risk, but excludes strategic and reputational risk.

2. Banks should be guided by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision’s recommendations on Sound Practices for the Management and Supervision of Operational Risk (February 2003). The same may be downloaded from the BIS website (www.bis.org).

B. Measurement of capital charge

3. In computing for the operational risk capital charge, Banks may use either the basic indicator approach or the standardized approach.

4. Under the basic indicator approach, banks must hold capital for operational risk equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the average gross income over the previous three (3) years of positive annual gross income. Figures for any year in which annual gross income is negative or zero should be excluded from both the numerator and denominator when calculating the average.

5. Banks that have the capability to map their income accounts into the various business lines given in paragraph 7 may use the standardized approach subject to prior BSP approval. In order to qualify for use of the standardized approach, a bank must satisfy BSP that, at a minimum:
   a) Its board of directors and senior management are actively involved in the oversight of the operational risk management framework;
   b) It has an operational risk management system that is conceptually sound and is implemented with integrity; and
   c) It has sufficient resources in the use of the approach in the major business lines as well as the control and audit areas.

6. Operational risk capital charge is calculated as the three (3)-year average of the simple summation of the regulatory capital charges across each of the business lines in each year. In any given year, negative capital charges (resulting from negative gross income) in any business line may offset positive capital charges in other

8. Gross income, for the purpose of computing for operational risk capital charge, is defined as net interest income plus non-interest income. This measure should:
   a) be gross of any provisions for losses on accrued interest income from financial assets;
   b) be gross of operating expenses, including fees paid to outsourcing service providers;
   c) include fees and commissions;
   d) exclude gains/(losses) from the sale/redemption/derecognition of non-trading financial assets and liabilities;
   e) exclude gains/(losses) from sale/derecognition of non-financial assets; and
   f) include other income (i.e., rental income, miscellaneous income, etc.)

C. Measurement of risk-weighted assets

9. The resultant operational risk capital charge is to be multiplied by 125% before multiplying by ten (10%) [i.e., the reciprocal of the minimum capital ratio of ten percent (10%)].

(As amended by M-2007-019 dated 21 June 2007)

Part IX. Enforcement

A. Sanctions for non-reporting of CAR breaches

1. It is the responsibility of the bank CEO to cause the immediate reporting of CAR breaches both to its Board and to the BSP. It is likewise the CEO’s responsibility to ensure the accuracy of CAR calculations and the integrity of the associated monitoring and reporting system. Any willful violation of the above will be considered as a serious offense for purposes of determining the appropriate monetary penalty that will be imposed on the CEO. In addition, the CEO shall be subject to the following non-monetary sanctions:

a) First offense – warning;

b) Second offense – reprimand;

c) Third offense – 1 month suspension without pay; and

D) Further offense – disqualification.

GUIDELINES ON THE CAPITAL TREATMENT OF BANKS’ HOLDINGS OF ROP GLOBAL BONDS PAIRED WITH WARRANTS
(Appendix to Sec. 4116Q)

A QB’s holdings of ROP Global Bonds that are paired with Warrants (paired Bonds), which give the QB the option or right to exchange its holdings of ROP Global Bonds into Peso-denominated government securities upon occurrence of a predetermined credit event, shall be risk weighted at zero percent (0%): Provided, That the zero percent (0%) risk weight shall be applied only to QB’s holdings of paired Bonds equivalent to not more than fifty percent (50%) of the total qualifying capital, as defined under Appendix Q-46.
(Circular SBIR dated 11 December 2007)
GUIDELINES ON THE USE OF THE STANDARDIZED APPROACH IN COMPUTING THE CAPITAL CHARGE FOR OPERATIONAL RISKS
(Appendix to Sec. 4116Q)

QBs applying for the use of the Standardized Approach (TSA) must satisfy the following requirements/criteria:

General Criteria
1. The use of TSA shall be conditional upon the explicit prior approval of the BSP.
2. The BSP will only give approval to an applicant QB if at a minimum:
   a. Its board of directors and senior management are actively involved in the oversight of the operational risk management framework;
   b. It has an operational risk management system that is conceptually sound and is implemented with integrity; and,
   c. It has sufficient resources in the use of the approach in the major business lines as well as in the control and audit areas.
3. The above criteria should be supported by a written documentation of the board-approved operational risk management framework of the QB which should cover the following:
   a. Overall objectives and policies
   b. Strategies and processes
   c. Operational risk management structure and organization
   d. Scope and nature of risk reporting/assessment systems
   e. Policies and procedure for mitigating operational risk
4. This operational risk management framework of the QB should be disclosed in its annual report, as provided under Appendix Q-46.

Mapping of Gross Income
5. QBs using TSA in computing operational risk capital charge must develop specific written policies and criteria for mapping gross income of their current business lines into the standard business lines prescribed under Appendix Q-46. They must also put in place a review process to adjust these policies and criteria for new or changing business activities or products as appropriate.

6. QBs must adopt the following principles for mapping their business activities to the appropriate business lines:
   a. Activities or products must be mapped into only one (1) of the eight (8) standard business lines, as follows:
      (1) Corporate finance- This includes arrangements and facilities [e.g., mergers and acquisitions, underwriting, privatizations, securitization, research, debt (government, high yield), equity, syndications, Initial Public Offering (IPO), secondary private placements] provided to large commercial enterprises, multinational companies, NBFI, government departments, etc.
      (2) Trading and sales- This includes treasury operations, buying and selling of securities, currencies and others for proprietary and client account.
      (3) Retail banking- This includes financing arrangements for private individuals, retail clients and small businesses such as personal loans, credit cards, auto loans, etc. as well as other facilities such as trust and estates and investment advice.
      (4) Commercial banking- This includes financing arrangements for commercial enterprises, including project finance, real estate, export finance, trade finance, factoring, leasing, guarantees, bills of exchange, etc.

(5) Payment and settlement- This includes activities relating to payments and collections, inter-bank funds transfer, clearing and settlement.

(6) Agency services- This refers to activities of QBs acting as issuing and paying agents for corporate clients, providing custodial services, etc.

(7) Asset management- This includes managing funds of clients on a pooled, segregated, retail, institutional, open or closed basis under a mandate.

(8) Retail brokerage- This includes broking services provided to customers that are retail investors rather than institutional investors.

(a) Any activity or product which cannot be readily mapped into one (1) of the standardized business lines but which is ancillary to a business line shall be allocated to the business line to which it is ancillary. If the activity is ancillary to two (2) or more business lines, an objective criteria or qualification must be made to allocate the annual gross income derived from that activity to the relevant business lines.

(b) Any activity that cannot be mapped into a particular business line and is not an ancillary activity to a business line shall be mapped into one (1) of the business lines with the highest associated beta factor eighteen percent (18%). Any ancillary activity to that activity will follow the same business line treatment.

(c) QBs may use internal pricing methods to allocate gross income between business lines: Provided, That the sum of gross income for the eight business lines must still be equal to the gross income as would be recorded if the QB uses the Basic Indicator Approach (BIA).

(d) The process by which QBs map their business activities into the standardized business lines must be regularly reviewed by party independent from that process.

7. In computing the gross income of the QB, the amounts of the income accounts reported in the operational risk template must be equal to the year-end balance reported in the FRP. Any discrepancy must be properly accounted and supported by a reconciliation statement.

Application Process for the Use of TSA

8. QBs applying for the use of TSA should submit the following documents to their respective Central Points of Contact (CPCs) of the BSP:

(a) An application letter signed by the president/CEO of the QB signifying its intention to use TSA in computing the capital charge for operational risk;

(b) Written documentation of the Board-approved operational risk management framework as described in paragraph 3.

(c) Written policies and criteria for mapping business activities and their corresponding gross income into the standard business lines as described in paragraphs 5 to 7.

(d) An overall roll-out plan of the QB including project plans and execution processes, with the appropriate time lines.

Initial Monitoring Period

9. The BSP may require a six (6)-month period of initial monitoring of a QB’s TSA before it is used for supervisory capital purposes.

Reversion from TSA to BIA

10. A QB which has been approved to use TSA in computing its capital charge for operational risk will not be allowed to revert to the simpler approach, i.e., the BIA. However, if the BSP determines that the QB no longer meets the qualifying criteria for TSA, it may require the QB to revert to BIA. The QB shall be required to repeat the whole application process should it opt to return to the use of TSA, but only after a year of using the BIA.

These guidelines shall take effect on 21 July 2007.

(M-2007-029 dated 21 June 2007)

6. The minimum placement is P10.0 million with the additional amounts in increments of P1.0 million.

7. Trust departments may place only once per tenor per day.

8. Trust departments may pre-terminate their SDA placements, either fully or partially. If the holding period of the SDA placement when it is rate pre-terminated is less than fifty percent (50%) of the original tenor of the said placement, the applicable interest rate for the pre-terminated amount will be the rate dealt on value date less two percent (2%) p.a. If the holding period is fifty percent (50%) or more of the original tenor, the applicable interest rate for the pre-terminated amount will be the rate dealt on value date less one percent (1%) p.a. The pre-termination rate shall apply only to the amount pre-terminated.

9. The income from the SDA is subject to a twenty percent (20%) final withholding tax.

10. Depository institution shall generally follow the existing settlement process for SDA placements with BSP of QBs. I. Introduction

Trust and other fiduciary business and investment management activities have evolved with the changes in the financial market and advancement in technology. These innovations have allowed trust entities to expand the scope of trust products and services offered to customers, thus increasing their exposure to various risks. As trust entities grow more diverse, necessarily policies and procedures as well as risk management practices must keep pace. The basic standards would provide common processes for an efficient operation and administration of trust, other fiduciary and investment management activities across the trust industry.

II. Statement of policy

It is the policy of the BSP to provide adequate level of protection to investors who, under a fiduciary arrangement, engage the services or avail of products of trust entities which are required to observe prudence in the exercise of their fiduciary responsibility. Along this line, the BSP prescribes basic standards for the efficient administration and operation of trust and other fiduciary business and investment management activities.

III. Standards

The basic standards in the administration of trust, other fiduciary and investment management accounts are meant to address the significant areas of operations and provide minimum set of requirements and procedures:

A. Account acceptance and review processes

1. Pre-acceptance account review

This review must document that the trust entity (TE) can effectively administer the account. It shall be covered by a written policy which shall contain, among other things, the types of trust, other fiduciary and investment management accounts that are desirable and consistent with the TE’s risk strategies and the specific conditions for accepting new accounts, and approved by the Trust Committee, or the Trust Officer, or subordinate officer of the trust department, authorized by the board of directors or its functional oversight equivalent, in the case of foreign QBs and institutions.

The review process entails the thorough and complete review of the client’s/account’s characteristics and investment profile, including the assets/properties to be contributed/delivered. Non-financial/non-traditional assets (i.e., real estate and the like) which are more likely to be illiquid shall be carefully reviewed prior to acceptance to ensure that the TE only accepts accounts which hold assets it may be able to properly manage.

Prior to the acceptance of a fiduciary account, the TE shall review the underlying instrument (trust agreement or contract) for potential conflicts of interest. If such conflict exists, the TE shall take appropriate action to address such condition before the account is accepted.

In cases where the TE is chosen as a successor trustee or investment manager, the TE shall perform a review and evaluation of all assets to be delivered to the TE to determine how these would serve the client’s objectives, whether the TE can properly handle such assets and to assess any possible issue/problem which may arise with respect to such assets before acceptance of such assets and/or assumption of the trust, fiduciary or investment management relationship.
2. Establishment and post-acceptance review. Acceptance policies for new accounts shall, at a minimum, include the following processes and/or requirements:

(1) Account opening process. This process defines the TE’s policies and procedures for client/account identification, consistent with the TE’s “know your customer” (KYC) policy for compliance with anti-money laundering regulations; identification of the needs of the client; the objective(s) of the engagement; the vehicle to be used; and the account’s investment parameters. The trust officer or other authorized personnel of the trust department shall conduct the account opening process for trust, fiduciary and investment management accounts. In the case of unit investment trust funds (UITFs), only authorized branch managers/officers as well as UIT marketing personnel, who have all successfully undergone the required certification/accreditation/licensing process, may perform said process for UITF clients. The account opening process shall at least involve the following:

- Client profiling shall be performed for all UITF and regular trust, other fiduciary and investment management accounts (except court trusts) via a duly acknowledged Client Suitability Assessment (CSA), which aims to provide the TE with information leading to the prudent design of investment packages, suited to a particular client or investment account. The profiling process, to be documented through a CSA Form signed by the concerned parties1, shall be undertaken on a per client basis, which shall emphasize the level of risk tolerance of the client.

- Client suitability assessment

  The TE shall obtain adequate information from the client to determine the appropriateness of the fiduciary product/service to be provided and ensure the suitability of the investment product/ portfolio/strategy to be recommended to each client. It shall provide prospective clients with a client suitability questionnaire and require them to accomplish the same prior to the acceptance of the account and execution of a transaction.

  For this purpose, the TE shall make an assessment of the client’s level of financial sophistication and consider factors relevant to the creation and management of, or participation in, an investment portfolio, such as but not limited to, the specific needs and unique circumstances of the client and/or beneficiary/(ies), basic characteristics of the clients’ investment and experience, financial constraints, risk tolerance, tax considerations and regulatory requirements.

  The same client suitability assessment process shall be applied by the TE for directional accounts.

  - Minimum information required for CSA:
    i. Personal/Institutional data. Minimum personal/institutional information that are unique to a natural or juridical client, which shall also cover demographics and KYC information; the identity of beneficiaries, where applicable, and approximate portion of total assets administered/managed.
    ii. Investment objective. A clear statement or definition of the client’s investment goals/purposes to be achieved through a particular trust, fiduciary or investment product or service. The client may opt to open several accounts, each with specific investment objectives separate and distinct from the other accounts.
    iii. Investment experience. A list of various types of investment the prospective client is familiar with, acquired from actual/ personal investment experience, or of similar investment circumstances.

1 i.e., the client, the UIT accredited marketing personnel or the officer of the trust department conducting the client profiling. The CSA Form shall be acknowledged or confirmed by the trust officer or other officer of the trust department authorized by board of directors.
iv. Knowledge and financial situation.
For complex transactions where the level of risk involved is greater, the TE must take into account the knowledge, experience and financial situation of the client or potential client to assess the level of investment sophistication. This may include the careful assessment whether the specific type of financial instrument/service/portfolio/strategy is in line with the client’s disclosed financial capacity.

Such assessment is necessary as there are significant risks involved on financial investments (e.g., derivatives), the type of transaction (e.g., sale of options), the characteristics of the order (e.g., size or price specifications) or the frequency of the trading.

v. Investment time frame and liquidity requirement. The TE is able to organize the portfolio in a manner that will provide for anticipated liquidity requirement through redemption of principal contribution or earnings.

vi. Risk tolerance. Allow the TE to classify clients in accordance with its own pre-set internal risk classification.

Based on the results of the CSA, classification of clients by the TE may include, but need not be limited to the following:

i. Conservative. Client wants an investment strategy where the primary goal is to prevent the loss of principal at all times, and where the client prefers investment grade and highly liquid assets, government securities, Republic of the Philippines' bonds (ROPs), deposits with local QBs/branches of foreign QBs operating in the Philippines, and deposits with financial institutions in any foreign country: Provided, That said FI has at least an investment grade credit rating from a reputable international credit rating agency.

ii. Moderate. Client wants a portfolio which may provide potential returns on investment that are higher than the regular traditional deposit products and client is aware that a higher return is accompanied by a higher level of risk. Client is willing to expose the funds to a certain level of risks in consideration for higher returns.

iii. Aggressive. Client wants a portfolio which may provide appreciation of capital over time and client is willing to accept higher risks involving volatility of returns and even possible loss of investment in return for potential higher long-term results.

• Investment policy statement
The TE shall have in place a method by which suitability of investment is determined based on the results of the CSA and formulated via an Investment Policy Statement (IPS). It shall communicate to prospective clients the results of the assessment, recommend the investment product/portfolio/strategy, and explain the reasons why, on the basis of the given information, its recommendation is to the best interest of the client as of a defined timeframe. The TE shall make a recommendation only after having reasonably determined that the proposed investment is suitable to the client’s and/or beneficiary’s financial situation, investment experience, and investment objectives.

The IPS is a clear reference frame for investment decisions and must be based on the investment objectives and risk tolerance of the client. It must include, at a minimum, a description of the following:

i. Investment objective;

ii. Investment strategy-indicating how assets will be allocated indicating the agreed portfolio mix;
iii. Investment performance review – indicating proposed market benchmarks, if any and the desired frequency of the performance review/reporting;

iv. Investment limits – identifies any limitation which the client may have for the portfolio such as investment restrictions (e.g., prohibited investments) and client’s consent for taking losses.

For UITF, the IPS is equivalent to the investment objective of the fund specifically stated in the Declaration of Trust.

• Option of client to re-classification

Generally, the TE shall recommend the investment product/portfolio/strategy suitable to the client based on the results of the CSA. The TE may, however, provide a process for allowing clients to invest in investment products/portfolio/strategy with a higher risk than those corresponding to the CSA profile results. A client who exercises the option to be re-classified outside the CSA process thereby waives some of the protection afforded by these guidelines. Such re-classification may be allowed subject to the observance of the following:

i. The client shall state in writing to the TE that -

• He does not agree with or accept the recommendation of the TE on the investment product/portfolio/strategy appropriate to the client’s profile based on the results of the CSA;
• He would like to avail of the investment product/portfolio/strategy other than that which is consistent with the results of the CSA;
• He requests/intends to be re-classified, either generally or in respect to a particular investment/service/transaction/product; and
• He fully understands and is willing to take the risks incidental to the investment product/portfolio/strategy to be availed of.

ii. The TE shall issue a clear written warning to the client of the protections he may lose and conversely, of the risks that he is exposed to.

iii. The TE shall have taken all reasonable steps to ensure that the client meets all relevant requirements as provided for in the TE’s written policies.

• Frequency of CSA and IPS

i. The CSA shall be performed and the IPS shall be formulated and executed prior to the opening of the account;

ii. The TE shall update the CSA and the IPS at least every three (3) years except in the following instances:

• Whenever updates are necessitated by the client, upon notice/advise to the TE, on account of a change in personal/financial circumstances or preferences, the TE shall adjust/modify its investment strategy/portfolio and recommendation, subject to the conformity of the client;

• Whenever managed trust, other fiduciary, and investment management accounts express intention to invest in complex investment products such as financial derivatives, the TE shall ensure that the CSA and the IPS are updated at least annually. Otherwise, the TE shall not make new/additional investments in complex investment products.

iii. The TE shall ensure that periodic written notices given to clients reminding them of such updates are received/acknowledged by clients or their authorized representatives;

iv. Updated CSA and IPS shall be acknowledged by the client;

v. The frequency of review shall be included as a provision in the written agreement; and

vi. The latest CSA and IPS will continue to be applied for any subsequent principal contributions to the account, until these are amended or updated by the client.
b. Identification of degree of discretion granted by client to the TE. This process involves the determination of the extent of discretion granted to the TE to manage the client’s portfolio.

(1) Discretionary. The TE has authority or discretion to invest the funds/property of the client in accordance with the parameters set forth by the client. Such authority of the TE which obtained a composite Trust Rating of “4” in the latest BSP examination will not be subject to the investment limitations provided under Subsecs. 4409Q.2 and 4409Q.3 for trust and other fiduciary accounts and Subsecs. 4411Q.4 and 4411Q.5 for investment management accounts, respectively; and

(2) Non-discretionary. Investment activity of the TE is directed by the client or limited only to specific securities or properties and expressly stipulated in the agreement or upon written instruction of the client.

(3) Documentation. The trust, fiduciary or investment management relationship shall be formally established through a written legal document such as the trust or investment management agreement. The engagement documents shall clearly specify the extent of fiduciary assignments/responsibilities of the TE and articulate the nature and limits of each party’s status as trustor/principal or trustee/agent. Policies and procedures shall provide that trust or investment management agreements are signed by the trust officer or subordinate officer of the trust department, or in the case of UITFs, branch managers/officers duly authorized by the board of directors.

The documentation process must also consider the following:

a. The Agreement must conform to the requirements provided under Subsec. 4409Q.1 for trust and other fiduciary accounts and Subsec. 4411Q.1 for investment management accounts. In addition, the Agreement shall contain the following provisions:

i. A description of the services to be provided;
ii. All charges relating to the services or instruments envisaged and how the charges are calculated;
iii. The obligations of the client with respect to the transactions envisaged, in particular his financial commitments towards the TE; and
iv. For engagements involving management of assets or properties, the degree of discretion granted to the trustee or agent must be clearly defined and stated in the agreement;

b. The Agreement shall be in plain language understandable by the client and/or personnel of the TE responsible for explaining the contents of the agreement to the client.

c. For complex investment products such as financial derivatives instruments or those that use synthetic investment vehicles, the TE shall disclose to the client and require client’s prior written conformity to the following:

i. Key features of investment services and financial instruments envisaged, according to the nature of such instruments and services;
ii. The type(s) of instruments and transactions envisaged;
iii. The obligations of the TE with respect to the transactions envisaged, in particular, its reporting and notice obligations to the clients; and
iv. An appropriate disclosure bringing to the client’s attention the risks involved in the transactions envisaged.

d. In order to give a fair and adequate description of the investment service or financial instrument, the TE shall provide a clearly stated and easily understood Risk Disclosure Statement to its clients, which forms part of or attached to the trust, fiduciary or investment management agreement. The Risk Disclosure Statement shall contain, among other things, the following provisions:
Cautionary statement on the general risks of investing or associated with financial instruments, i.e., if the market is not good, an investor may not be able to get back his principal or original investment. Such statement must be given due prominence, and not to be concealed or masked in any way by the wording, design or format of the information provided;

ii. If the investment outlet is exposed to any major or specific risks, a description and explanation of such risks shall be clearly stated; and

iii. Advisory statement that for complex investment products, said instruments can be subject to sudden and sharp falls in value such that the client may lose its/his entire investment, and, whenever applicable, be obligated to provide extra funding in case it/he is required to pay more later.

Additional risk disclosures may be provided as appropriate.

The TE must ensure that the trust, fiduciary and investment management agreements and documents have been reviewed and found to be legally in order.

B. Account administration

It is the fundamental duty of a fiduciary to administer an account solely in the interest of clients. The duty of loyalty is a paramount importance and underlies the entire administration of trust, other fiduciary and investment management accounts. A successful administration will meet the needs of both clients and beneficiaries in a safe and productive manner.

Account administration basically involves three processes, namely; (1) periodic review of existing accounts, (2) credit process and (3) investment process.

The board of directors and Trust Committee shall formulate and implement a policy to ensure that a comprehensive review of trust, fiduciary and investment management accounts (including collective investment schemes such as UITFs) shall be conducted. The periodic review of managed accounts shall be aligned with the provisions on the review and updating of the CSA and IPS. The board of directors may delegate the conduct of account review to the Trust Officer or Trust Department Committee created for that purpose. The policy shall likewise indicate the scope of the account review depending upon the nature and types of trust, fiduciary and investment management accounts managed.

A comprehensive accounts review, which shall entail an administrative as well as investments review, shall be performed on a periodic basis to ascertain that the account is being managed in accordance with the instrument creating the trust and other fiduciary relationship. The administrative review of an account is taken to determine whether the portfolio/assets are appropriate, individually and collectively, for the account, while an investment review is used to analyze the investment performance of an account and reaffirm or modify the pertinent investment policy statement, including asset allocation guidelines. Whether the administrative and investment review are performed separately or simultaneously, the reviewing authority shall be able to determine if certain portfolio/assets are no longer appropriate for the account, (i.e., not consistent with the requirements of the client) and to take proper action through prudent investment practices to change the structure or composition of the assets.

The periodic review process also involves disclosure of information on the investment portfolio and the relevant investing activities. Regardless of the degree of discretion granted by the client to the TE, the former assumes full risk on the investment and related activities, and counterparties. Relevant changes in the...
TE’s organization or investment policies that may affect the client’s decision to continue the services of the TE shall be disclosed to the client.

In the case of non-discretionary public interest accounts such as employee benefit/retirement or pension funds, due diligence review of the investment portfolio by the TE shall include providing investors with appropriate information needed to make an informed investment decision and avoid possible conflict of interest and self-dealing situations.

The TE shall keep its clients informed of the investment and related activities by rendering periodic reports and financial statements prescribed under Subsec. 4425Q.1 and as necessary. The types of reports and statements and the frequency of their submission must be clearly specified in the TE’s written policies and procedures.

The TE shall also establish a system that enables a trust account representative or officer to periodically contact clients and/or beneficiaries to determine whether their financial objectives and circumstances have changed.

(2) Credit process

Each trust entity shall define its credit process in relation to the discharge of the TE’s investment function. The process ensures credit worthiness of investment undertakings including dealings and relationship with counterparties. It also serves to institutionalize the independence of the credit process of the TE. The credit process must at least cover the following:

a. Credit policies. Trust entities must clearly define its credit policies and processes, including the use of internal and external credit rating and approval process relative to the delivery of its investment function. The TE can share credit information with the non-bank proper subject to proper delineation and documentation. The credit process shall show the following at the minimum:

i. Clear credit process flow, from initiation of the lending activities envisioned by the TE up to the execution of actual investment;

ii. Credit criteria and rating used;

iii. Manner by which the TE handles the information, including confidential and material data, which is shared between and among the departments, subsidiaries or affiliates of the TE;

iv. Clear delineation of duties and responsibilities of each of the departments, subsidiaries and affiliates of the TE, where such groups or entities share the credit process.

b. Counterparty accreditation process

The TE must clearly define the policies and processes it will undertake to accredit counterparties, including the nonbank proper, and its subsidiaries and affiliates, for their investment trading functions. It may use or avail itself of the accreditation process of its nonbank proper, provided there is proper delineation of functions. The counterparty accreditation process shall show the following at the minimum:

i. Clear accreditation process flow from the initiation of credit activities up to the actual usage of lines;

ii. Credit criteria and rating used;

iii. Manner by which the TE handles the information, including confidential and material data, which are shared between and among the departments, subsidiaries or affiliates of the TE;

iv. Usage, duties and responsibilities of each of the department, subsidiaries and affiliates of the TE, where there is sharing of credit lines between and among these concerned groups/entities; and
v. Clear delineation of duties and responsibilities of each of the departments, subsidiaries and affiliates of the TE, where such groups or entities share the accreditation credit process.

(3) Investment process

This process defines the investment policies and procedures, including decision-making processes, undertaken by the TE in the execution of its fund/asset management function. The primary objective of such process is to create a structure that will assure TEs observe prudence in investment activities at all levels, preservation of capital, diversification, a reasonable level of risk as well as undivided loyalty to each client and adherence to established structure for the TE’s investment undertakings. The investment process covers a broad range of activities; thus, the investment policies shall clearly outline the parameters that, at a minimum, include the following:

a. Overall investment philosophy, standards and practices. A general statement of principles that guides the portfolio manager in the management of investments outlined in the board-approved policy, along with a discussion on the practices and standards to be implemented to achieve the desired result.

b. Investment policies and processes. Defines the policies and the processes undertaken to create the portfolio to ensure the proper understanding of the client’s preferences.

i. Profiling of client. Aims to understand the level of maturity of the client relevant to the creation of an appropriate portfolio.

ii. Portfolio construction for custom-made portfolios. Includes the process of researching and selecting recommended portfolio and setting objectives or strategies for diversification by types and classes of securities into general and specialized portfolios.

• Asset allocation. Outlines the process and criteria for selecting and evaluating different asset classes identified to be appropriate for the client’s profile and investment objective. It includes the allocation of desired tenors in conjunction with the client or portfolio profile based on the CSA or IPS. The asset allocation may be based on percentage to total funds managed by the TE or stated in absolute amount whichever is preferred by the client.

• Security selection. Policies and procedures on the selection of investment outlets, including investment advisory, must be in place. This involves the selection of issuers for each of the identified asset classes. The process provides for the review of investment performance using risk parameters and comparison to appropriate benchmarks. It shall also identify the documentation required for all investment decisions.

If the TE uses approved lists of investments, there shall be an outline of the criteria for the selection and monitoring of such investments, as well as a description of the overall process for addition to and deletion from the lists.

• Benchmark selection/creation Selects or crafts the benchmarks to reflect the desired return of the portfolio and to measure the performance of the portfolio manager. The TE shall be required to measure performance based on benchmarks to gauge or measure the performance of the account. The TE must have clear definition of its benchmarking policy.

• Limits. Identifies any limitations on portfolio management which the client may impose on the TE. These limitations have to be specific as to the nature of the portfolio, such as but not limited to, core holdings, investment in competitor companies, and companies engaged in vices.

• Risk disclosure statement. A clear and appropriately worded statement/s to disclose different risks to clients of the various investment undertakings of the investment ensuring timely, fair and equitable allocation of investments across investing portfolios.

iv. Diversification of discretionary investments. The TE shall have a policy for asset administration, as well as the process implemented to monitor and control deviations from policy guidelines.

v. A TE shall have access to timely and competent economic analyses and forecasts for the capital markets and other products in which its clients will be investing. TEs engaged in more complex transactions may consider providing an economic and securities research unit that continually monitors global trends and capital markets. This unit provides necessary forecasts of capital market expectations, currency relationships, interest rate movements, commodity prices, and expected returns of asset classes and individual investment instruments, which help the TE establish appropriate investment policies and strategies, select appropriate investments, and manage risks effectively.

vi. The TE shall have a process that will confirm trust personnel with investment functions know and follow the BOD-approved investment policies and processes.

c. Selection and use of brokers/dealers. The quality of execution is an important determinant in broker selection.
In selecting brokers/dealers, a TE must consider the following minimum standards and criteria:

i. Execution capability and ability to handle specialized transactions;

ii. Commission rates and other compensation;

iii. Financial strength, including operating results and adequacy of capital and liquidity;

iv. Past record of good and timely delivery and payment on trades;

v. Value of services provided, including research; and

vi. Available information about the broker from other broker customers, regulators, and self-regulated organizations

The TE with large portfolio may opt to evaluate broker performance using a formalized point scoring system. A list of approved brokers shall be made available by the TE, reviewed periodically and updated at least annually.

d. Best practices. The TE shall document best practices policies and processes to institutionalize proper safeguards for the protection of its clients and itself. At a minimum, the policies must include the following standards:

i. Best execution. The TE shall use reasonable diligence to ensure that investment trades are executed in a timely manner and on the best available terms that are favorable to the client under prevailing market conditions as can be reasonably obtained elsewhere with an acceptable counterparty. For related counterparties, no purchase/sale must be made for discretionary accounts without considering at least two (2) competitive quotes from other sources. The policy on best execution must document processes to warrant such execution is readily and operationally verifiable.

ii. Chinese wall. A clear policy on Chinese wall aims to protect the institution from conflict of interest arising from varying functions carried by the TE in relation to credit (debt), shareholder, and investment position taking. The policy shall state the duties and responsibilities of the TE and each department including that of the nonbank proper and subsidiaries and affiliates should transactions involve the concerned departments and entities.

iii. Personnel investment policies
These policies aim to ensure honest and fair discharge of investment trading functions of all qualified personnel. Qualified personnel are those that may have access to information on clients and investment position-taking of clients, investment manager or portfolios. The use of such information may be abused and detrimental to the clients. The policy shall state the duties and responsibilities of each qualified personnel in relation to trading and portfolio management activities including allowed and not allowed transactions as well as sanctions in case of violations.

iv. Confidentiality and materiality of information. The TE must keep information about past, current and prospective clients confidential, unless disclosure is authorized in writing by the client or required by law and the information involve illegal activities perpetrated by the client. It must ensure safekeeping of confidential and material information and prevent the abuse of such information to the detriment of the institution or its clients.

The TE must also take care not to discriminate against any client but treat all clients in a fair and impartial manner.

vi. Diligence and reasonable basis. In conducting its investment services, the TE shall act with skill, and care and diligence, and in the best interests of its clients and the integrity of the market. The duty of due diligence is intertwined with the duty to maintain independence and objectivity in providing investment recommendations or taking investment actions. When providing advice to a client, the TE shall act diligently and make certain that its advice and recommendations to clients are based on thorough analysis and take into account available alternatives.

- The TE shall take all reasonable steps to execute promptly client orders in accordance with the instruction of clients.
- The TE, when acting for or with clients, shall always execute client orders on the best available terms.
- The TE shall ensure that transactions executed on behalf of clients are promptly and fairly allocated to the accounts of the clients on whose behalf the transactions were executed.

Where a client opts not to accept the recommendation of the TE and chooses to purchase another investment product which is not recommended, the TE may proceed with the client’s request/instruction, provided it shall document the decision of the client and highlight to him/her that it is his/her responsibility to ensure the suitability of the product selected.

vii. In-House or related party transactions handling. The TE shall define the policies in handling related-interest transaction to ensure that the best interest of clients prevails at all times and all dealings are above board. It must conform to the requirements of Subsecs. 4409Q.3 and 4411Q.5.

Valuation shall be understood, compliant with written policies and operating procedures, and used consistently within the TE. The TE must ensure that the valuation processes of service providers, custodians, and other subcontractors are compatible with those of the TE and in compliance with relevant statutory or regulatory valuation standards.
Risk officers shall document the accuracy and reliability of all valuation processes and data sources and ensure that valuations are completed as required by internal policies and procedures and regulatory reporting standards.

e. Conflicts of interests. These may arise when the TE exercises any discretion where mutually opposing interests are involved. The most serious conflict of interest is self-dealing, which could include transactions such as an investment in related interests of the TE or purchase of securities from or through an affiliate. Such transactions must be fully disclosed and authorized in writing by clients. Because of the complexity and sensitivity of the issue, a TE must develop policies and procedures to identify and deal with conflicts of interest situations.

3. Account termination

Accounts may be terminated for a variety of reasons, including the occurrence of a specified event or upon written notice of either the client or the TE. The trust or investment management agreement shall provide for the terms and manner of liquidation, return and delivery of assets/portfolio to the client. Generally, the TE’s responsibilities include distribution to the client, the successor trustee and/or beneficiaries of the remaining assets held under trusteeship/agency arrangement, preparation and filing of required reports. The TE must ensure that risk control processes are observed when terminating accounts just as when accepting them.

The TE must have a general policy with respect to the termination of trust accounts, which policy shall take into consideration the general processes to be observed in the return or delivery of different types of assets, the possible modes of distribution, fees to be paid, taxes to be imposed, the documentation required to effect the transfer of assets, the provision of terminal reports, and whenever applicable, the timing of distribution, needs and circumstances of the beneficiaries. Should the TE anticipate possible issues or problems with respect to the termination of the account, such as the liquidation of certain assets or the partition or division of assets, these issues shall be disclosed to the client for proper disposition. The policy on the termination of trust, fiduciary and investment management accounts shall likewise include the approval process to be observed for the termination of these accounts as well as the reporting requirements for accounts terminated and closed.

A. SCOPE OF AUTHORITY

Section 4101S Scope of Authority of Non-Stock Savings and Loan Associations

An NSSLA shall include any non-stock, non-profit corporation engaged in the business of accumulating the savings of its members and using such accumulations for loans to members to service the needs of households by providing long-term financing for home building and development and for personal finance. An NSSLA may also engage in a death benefit program meant exclusively for the benefit of its members.

An NSSLA shall accept deposits from and grant loans to its members only and shall not transact business with the general public.

§ 4101S.1 Membership

a. NSSLAs shall issue a certificate of membership to every qualified member and shall maintain a registry of their members.

b. An NSSLA shall confine its membership to a well-defined group of persons.

A well-defined group shall consist of any of the following:

(1) Employees, officers, and trustees of one company, including member-retirees;
(2) Government employees belonging to the same office, branch, or department, including member-retirees; and
(3) Immediate members of the families up to the second degree of consanguinity or affinity of those falling under Items “(1)” and “(2)” above.

NSSLAs whose articles of incorporation and by-laws were approved and registered prior to the effectivity of R. A. No. 8367 and which limit and/or allow membership coverage broader or narrower than the foregoing definition, shall be allowed to continue as such.

The Monetary Board may, as circumstances warrant, require NSSLAs mentioned in the immediately preceding paragraph to amend their by-laws to comply with the concept of a well-defined group.

c. In no case shall the total amount of entrance fees exceed one percent (1%) of the amount to be contributed or otherwise paid-in by the particular member: Provided, That for new members, the fee shall be based on the amount of contributions computed in accordance with the revaluation of the assets of the NSSLA.

§ 4101S.2 Organizational requirements

a. Articles of Incorporation; by-laws

The articles of incorporation and by-laws of a proposed NSSLA, or any amendment thereto, shall not be registered with the SEC unless accompanied by a certificate of approval from the Monetary Board.

b. Application for approval:

The articles of incorporation and by-laws of a proposed NSSLA, both accomplished in the prescribed forms, shall be submitted to the Monetary Board through the appropriate department of the SES together with a covering application for the approval thereof, signed by a majority of the board of trustees and verified by one of them. The application shall include:

(1) The proposed articles of incorporation and by-laws together with the names and addresses of the incorporators, trustees and officers, with a statement of their character, experience, and general fitness to engage in the non-stock savings and loan business;
§§ 4101S.2 - 4116S
08.12.31

(2) An itemized statement of the estimated receipts and expenditures of the proposed NSSLA for the first year;
(3) Filing fee of P1,000; and
(4) Such other information as the Monetary Board may require.

c. Grounds for disapproval of application. The Monetary Board may deny the application to organize an NSSLA on the basis of a finding that:
(1) The NSSLA is being organized for any purpose other than to engage in the business of a legitimate NSSLA;
(2) The NSSLA’s financial program is unsound;
(3) The proposed members are adequately served by one (1) or more existing NSSLAS; and
(4) There exist other reasons which the Monetary Board may consider as sufficient ground for such disapproval.

d. Certificate of authority to operate; revocation or suspension thereof. NSSLAs, prior to transacting business, shall procure a certificate of authority to transact business from the Monetary Board. After due notice and hearing, the Monetary Board may revoke or suspend, for such period as it determines, the certificate of authority of any NSSLA, the solvency of which is imperiled by losses or irregularities, or of any NSSLA which willfully violates any provision of R. A. No. 8367, these rules or any pertinent law or regulation.

(As amended by CL-2008-078 dated 15 December 2008)

Secs. 4102S - 4105S (Reserved)

B. CAPITALIZATION

Sec. 4106S Capital. NSSLAs established after 14 August 2001, shall have a minimum capital contribution of at least P1.0 million. The minimum capital contribution requirement shall also apply to all pending applications to establish NSSLAs received prior to 14 August 2001.

Members who have contributed P1,000 or more to the capital of an NSSLA may increase their capital contribution. Partial withdrawal from the amount paid by a member as capital contribution, during his membership, may be allowed unless the by-laws of the NSSLA provide otherwise, and subject to such rules and regulations as the Monetary Board may prescribe in the matter of such withdrawal of capital contribution. However, in no case, shall such partial withdrawal diminish the member’s capital contribution to less than P1,000.

Members of NSSLAs may participate in the profits of the NSSLA on the basis of their respective capital contributions on the date distribution of net income is approved by its board of trustees.

(As amended by Circular No. 573 dated 22 June 2007)

§ 4106S.1 Revaluation surplus. In cases of both retiring and new members, a revaluation surplus shall be added to their contributions by imputing their respective proportionate shares in the withdrawable share reserve and the reserve for furniture, fixtures, and furnishings.

Secs. 4107S - 4110S (Reserved)

C. (RESERVED)

Secs. 4111S - 4115S (Reserved)

D. NET WORTH-TO-RISK ASSETS RATIO

Sec. 4116S Capital-to-Risk Assets. The combined capital accounts of each NSSLA shall not be less than an amount equal to ten percent (10%) of its risk assets which is defined as its total assets minus the following assets:

§ Regulations Manual of Regulations for Non-Bank Financial Institutions Part I - Page 2
§§ 4116S - 4118S
07.12.31

a. Cash on hand;

b. Evidences of indebtedness of the Republic of the Philippines and of the BSP and any other evidences of indebtedness/obligations, the servicing and repayment of which are fully guaranteed by the Republic of the Philippines;

c. Loans to the extent covered by hold-out on, or assignment of, deposits maintained in the lending NSSLA and held in the Philippines;

d. Office premises, depreciated;

e. Furniture, fixtures and equipment, depreciated;

f. Real estate mortgage loans insured by the Home Guarantee Corporation to the extent of the amount of the insurance; and

g. Other non-risk items as the Monetary Board may, from time to time, authorize to be deducted from total assets.

The Monetary Board shall prescribe the manner of determining the total assets of such NSSLA for the purpose of this Section, but contingent accounts shall not be included among total assets.

Whenever the capital accounts of an NSSLA are deficient with respect to the preceding paragraph, the Monetary Board, after considering the report of the appropriate department of the SES on the state of solvency of the NSSLA concerned, shall limit or prohibit the distribution of net income and shall require that part or all of net income be used to increase the capital accounts of the NSSLA until the minimum requirement has been met. The Monetary Board may, after considering the aforesaid report of the appropriate department of the SES, and if the amount of the deficiency justifies it, restrict or prohibit the making of new investments of any sort by the NSSLA with the exception of the purchases of evidence of indebtedness included under Item “b” of this Section until the minimum required capital ratio has been restored.

The following shall be the definition, qualifications, responsibilities and duties of trustees.

a. He shall be at least twenty-five (25) years of age at the time of his election/appointment;

b. He shall be at least a college graduate or have at least five (5) years experience in training in NSSLA or banking operations: Provided, however, That undergraduates eligible to be elected as trustees in the NSSLA’s by-laws may be allowed as may be approved by the Monetary Board;

c. He must have attended a special seminar on corporate governance for board of trustees conducted or accredited by the BSP; and

d. He must be fit and proper for the position of a trustee of the NSSLA. In determining whether a person is fit and proper for the position of a trustee, the following matters must be considered: integrity/probity, competence, education, diligence, and experience/training.

The foregoing qualifications for trustees shall be in addition to those already required or prescribed by R.A. No. 8367, as amended, and other existing applicable laws and regulations.

§ 4141S.3 Powers and authority of the board of trustees. The corporate powers of an NSSLA shall be exercised, its business conducted, and all its property shall be controlled and held by its board of trustees. The powers of the board of trustees as conferred by law are original and cannot be revoked by the members. The trustees hold their office charged with the duty to act for the NSSLA in accordance with their best judgment.

§ 4141S.4 General responsibility of the board of trustees. The position of an NSSLA trustee is a position of trust. A trustee assumes certain responsibilities to different constituencies or stakeholders (e.g., the NSSLA itself, its member-depositors and other creditors, its management and employees and the public at large). These constituencies or stakeholders have the right to expect that the institution is being run in a prudent and sound manner.

The board of trustees is primarily responsible for the corporate governance of the NSSLA. To ensure good governance of the NSSLA, the board of trustees should establish strategic objectives, policies and procedures that will guide and direct the activities of the NSSLA and the means to attain the same as well as the mechanism for monitoring management’s performance.

While the management of the day-to-day affairs of the institution is the responsibility of the management team, the board of trustees is, however, responsible for monitoring and overseeing management action.

§ 4141S.5 Duties and responsibilities of the board of trustees. To ensure prudent and efficient administration of NSSLAs, the following guidelines shall govern the responsibilities and duties of the board of trustees of NSSLAs:

a. Specific duties and responsibilities of the board of trustees

(1) To select and appoint officers who are qualified to administer the NSSLA affairs effectively and soundly and to establish adequate selection process for all personnel. It is the primary responsibility of the board of trustees to appoint competent management team at all times. The board of trustees should apply fit and proper standards on key personnel. Integrity, technical expertise and experience in the institution’s business, either current or planned, should be the key considerations in the selection process. And because mutual trust and a close working relationship are important, the board of trustees’ choice should share its general operating philosophy and vision for the institution. The board of trustees shall establish an appropriate compensation package for all personnel which shall be consistent with the interest of all stakeholders.

(2) To establish objectives and draw up a business strategy for achieving them. Consistent with the institution’s objectives, business plans should be established to direct its on-going activities. The board of trustees should ensure that performance against plan is regularly reviewed, with corrective action taken as needed.

(3) To conduct the affairs of the institution with high degree of integrity. Since reputation is a very valuable asset, it is in the institution's best interest that in dealings with its members, it observes a high standard of integrity. The board of trustees should prescribe corporate values, codes of conduct and other standards of appropriate behavior for itself, the senior management and other employees. Among other matters, activities and transactions that could result or potentially result in conflict of interest, personal gain at the expense of the institution, or unethical conduct shall be strictly prohibited. It shall provide policies that will prevent the use of the facilities of the NSSLA in furtherance of criminal and other illegal activities.

(4) To prescribe a clear assignment of responsibilities and decision-making authorities, incorporating a hierarchy of required approvals from individuals to the board of trustees. The board of trustees shall establish in writing the limits of the discretionary powers of each officer, committee, sub-committee and such other group for the purpose of lending, investing or committing the NSSLA to any financial undertaking or exposure to risk at any time. The board of trustees shall have a schedule of matters and authorities reserved to it for decision, such as major capital expenditures, equity investments and divestments.
(5) To effectively supervise the NSSLA’s affairs. The board of trustees shall establish a system of checks and balances which applies in the first instance to the board itself. Among the members of the board, an effective system of checks and balances must exist. The system shall also provide a mechanism for effective check and control by the board of trustees over the chief executive officer and key managers and by the latter over the line officers of the NSSLA.

(6) To monitor, assess and control the performance of management. The board of trustees shall put in place an appropriate reporting system so that it is provided with relevant and timely information to be able to effectively assess the performance of management. For this purpose, it may constitute a governance committee.

(7) To adopt and maintain adequate risk management policy. The board of trustees shall be responsible for the formulation and maintenance of written policies and procedures relating to the management of risks throughout the institution. The risk management policy shall include:

(a) a comprehensive risk management approach;
(b) a detailed structure of limits, guidelines and other parameters used to govern risk-taking;
(c) a clear delineation of lines of responsibilities for managing risk;
(d) an adequate system for measuring risk; and
(e) effective internal controls and a comprehensive risk-reporting process.

The board of trustees may constitute a committee for this purpose.

(8) To constitute the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee shall be composed of trustees, preferably with accounting and finance experience. Said audit committee provides oversight of the institution’s internal and external auditors. It shall be responsible for the setting up of the internal audit department and for the appointment of the internal auditor as well as the independent external auditor. It shall monitor and evaluate the adequacy and effectiveness of the internal control system.

(9) To meet regularly. To properly discharge its function, the board of trustees shall meet regularly. Independent views in board meetings shall be given full consideration and all such meetings shall be duly minuted.

(10) To keep the individual members of the board and the members informed. It is the duty of the board of trustees to present to all its members and to the stakeholders a balanced and understandable assessment of the NSSLA’s performance and financial condition. It should also provide appropriate information that flows internally and to the public. All members of the board shall have reasonable access to any information about the institution.

(11) To ensure that the NSSLA has beneficial influence on the economy. The board of trustees has a continuing responsibility to provide those services and facilities which will be supportive of the national economy.

(12) To assess at least annually its performance and effectiveness as a body, as well as its various committees, the chief executive officer and the NSSLA itself. The composition of the board of trustees shall also be reviewed regularly with the end in view of having a balanced membership. Towards this end, a system and procedure for evaluation shall be adopted which may include, but not limited to, the setting of benchmark and peer group analysis.

(13) To keep their authority within the powers of the institution as prescribed in the articles of incorporation, by-laws and in existing laws, rules and regulations. To conduct and maintain the affairs of the institution within the scope of its authority as prescribed in its charter and in existing laws and regulations, the board of trustees shall appoint a compliance officer who shall be responsible for coordinating, monitoring and facilitating compliance with existing laws and regulations. The compliance officer shall be vested with appropriate authority and provided with appropriate support and resources. It may also constitute a compliance committee.

b. Specific duties and responsibilities of a trustee

(1) To conduct fair business transactions with the NSSLA and to ensure that personal interest does not bias board decisions. Trustees should, whenever possible, avoid situations that would give rise to a conflict of interest. If transactions with the institution cannot be avoided, it should be done in the regular course of business and upon terms not less favorable to the institution than those offered to others. The basic principle to be observed is that a trustee should not use his position to make profit or to acquire benefit or advantage for himself and/or his related interests. He should avoid situations that would compromise his impartiality.

(2) To act honestly and in good faith, with loyalty and in the best interest of the NSSLA, its members, regardless of the amount of their capital contributions, and creditors, if any. A trustee must always act in good faith, with the care which an ordinarily prudent man would exercise under similar circumstances. While a trustee should always strive to promote the interest of all members, he shall also give due regard to the rights and interests of other stakeholders.

(3) To devote time and attention necessary to properly discharge their duties and responsibilities. Trustees shall devote sufficient time to familiarize themselves with the institution's business. They must be constantly aware of the institution's condition and be knowledgeable enough to contribute meaningfully to the board's work. They must attend and actively participate in board and committee meetings, request and review meeting materials, ask questions and request explanations. If person cannot give sufficient time and attention to the affairs of the institution, he shall neither accept his nomination nor run for election as member of the board of trustees.

(4) To act judiciously. Before deciding on any matter brought before the board of trustees, every trustee should thoroughly evaluate the issues, ask questions and seek clarifications when necessary.

(5) To exercise independent judgment. A trustee should view each problem/situation objectively. When a disagreement with others occurs, he should carefully evaluate the situation and state his position. He should not be afraid to take a position even though it might be unpopular. Corollarily, he should support plans and ideas that he thinks will be beneficial to the institution.

(6) To have a working knowledge of the statutory and regulatory requirements affecting the NSSLA, including the content of its articles of incorporation and by-laws, the requirements of the BSP, and where applicable, the requirements of other regulatory agencies. A trustee also keeps himself informed of the industry developments and business trends in order to safeguard the institution's competitiveness.

(7) To observe confidentiality. Trustees must observe the confidentiality of non-public information acquired by reason of their position as trustees. They may not disclose said information to any other person without the authority of the board.

Sec. 4142S Definition and Qualifications of Officers. Officers shall include the President, Vice-President, General Manager, Corporate Secretary, Treasurer and others mentioned as officers of the NSSLA, or whose duties as such are defined in the by-laws.

§ 4142S.1 Definition of officers

In determining whether a person is fit and proper for the position of an officer, the following matters must be considered: integrity/probity, competence, education, diligence, and experience/training. The foregoing qualifications for officers shall be in addition to those already required or prescribed by R.A. No. 8367, as amended, and other existing applicable laws and regulations.

§ 4143S.3 Disqualification procedures

a. The board of trustees and management of every NSSLA shall be responsible for determining the existence of the ground for disqualification of the NSSLA’s trustee/officer or employee and for reporting the same to the BSP. While the concerned NSSLA may conduct its own investigation and impose appropriate sanction/s as are allowable, this shall be without prejudice to the authority of the Monetary Board to disqualify a trustee/officer/employee from being elected/appointed as trustee/officer in any FI under the supervision of the BSP.

b. Grounds for disqualification made known to the NSSLA shall be reported to the appropriate department of the SES within seventy-two (72) hours from knowledge thereof.

The evaluation of the case shall be made for the purpose of determining if disqualification would be appropriate and not for the purpose of passing judgment on the findings and decision of the entity concerned. The appropriate department of the SES may decide to recommend to the Monetary Board a penalty lower than disqualification (e.g., reprimand, suspension, etc.) if, in its judgment the act committed or omitted by the trustee/officer concerned does not warrant disqualification.

h. All other cases of disqualification, whether permanent or temporary shall be elevated to the Monetary Board for approval and shall be subject to the procedures provided in paragraphs “a”, “b”, “c” and “d” above.

i. Upon approval by the Monetary Board, the concerned trustee/officer shall be informed by the appropriate department of the SES in writing either by personal service or through registered mail with registry return receipt card, at his/her last known address of his/her disqualification from being elected/appointed as trustee/officer in any FI under the supervision of BSP and/or of his/her inclusion in the masterlist of watchlisted persons so disqualified.

In furtherance of this policy and to ensure that reliance by regulatory authorities and the public on the opinion of external auditors is well-placed, the BSP hereby prescribes the rules and regulations that shall govern the selection, appointment, reporting requirements and delisting for external auditors of banks, QBs, NSSLAs, and/or trust entities engaged in allied activities and other financial institutions which under special laws are subject to BSP supervision.

The selection of external auditors shall be valid for a period of three (3) years. BSP selected external auditors shall apply for the renewal of their selection every three years. The provisions of Items “A”

Provided, however, That when the total amount of arrearages reaches twenty percent (20%) of the total outstanding balance of the loan, the entire total outstanding balance of the loan shall be considered as past due, irrespective of the number of installments in arrears: Provided, further, That the modes of payment other than those listed above (e.g., daily, weekly or semi-monthly), the entire outstanding balance of the loan/receivable shall be considered as past due when the total amount of arrearages reaches ten percent (10%) of the total loan/receivable balance;

c. Any due and unpaid loan installment or portion thereof, from the time the obligor defaults for the purpose of obligations as defined in Sec. 4143S(d); and direct or indirect; or

(2) The head of the appropriate

§ 4306.4 Updating of information provided to credit information bureaus

NSSLAs which have provided adverse information, such as the past due or litigation status of loan accounts, to credit information bureaus, or any organization performing similar functions, shall submit monthly reports to these bureaus or organizations on the full payment or settlement of the previously reported accounts within five (5) business days from the end of the month when such full payment was received. For this purpose, it shall be the responsibility of the reporting NSSLAs to ensure that their disclosure of any information about their borrowers/clients is with the consent of borrowers concerned.
(Circular No. 589 dated 18 December 2007)

Sec. 4307 Truth in Lending Act Disclosure Requirements. NSSLAs are required to strictly adhere to the provisions of R. A. No. 3765, otherwise known as the "Truth in Lending Act," and shall make the true and effective cost of borrowing an integral part of every loan contract.

a. Transactions covered
(1) Any loan, mortgage, deed of trust, advance and discount;
(2) Any conditional sales contract, any contract to sell, or sale or contract of sale of property or services, either for present or future delivery, under which, part or all of the price is payable subsequent to the making of such sale or contract;
(3) Any option, demand, lien, pledge, or other claim against, or for delivery of,
property or money;

b. Transactions not covered Considering that the specific purpose of the law is the full disclosure of the true cost of credit, the following categories of credit transactions are outside the scope of the above regulations:
(1) Credit transactions which do not involve the payment of any finance charge by the debtor; and
(2) Credit transactions in which the debtor is the one specifying a definite and fixed set of credit terms such as bank deposits, insurance contracts, sale of bonds, etc.

§ 4307.1 Definition of terms

a. Creditor (who shall furnish the information) means any person engaged in a finance charge.

The term creditor shall include, but shall not be limited to, banks and banking institutions, insurance and bonding companies, savings and loan associations, credit unions, financing companies, installment houses, real estate dealers, lending investors, pawnshops, and any other person or entity engaged in the business of extending credit who requires as an incident to the extension of credit, the payment of a finance charge.

b. Person means any individual, corporation, partnership, NSSLA, or other organized group of persons, or the legal successor or representative of the foregoing, and includes the Philippine Government or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing.

c. Cash price or delivered price (in case of trade transactions) is the amount of money which would constitute full payment upon delivery of the property.
(except money) or service purchased at the creditor’s place of business. In the case of financial transactions, cash price represents the amount of money received by the debtor upon consummation of the credit transaction, net of finance charges collected at the time the credit is extended (if any).

d. Down payment represents the amount paid by the debtor at the time of the transaction in partial payment for the property or service purchased.

e. Trade-in represents the value of an asset, agreed upon by the creditor and debtor, given at the time of the transaction in partial payment for the property or service purchased.

f. Non-finance charges correspond to the amounts advanced by the creditor for items normally associated with the ownership of the property or of the availment of the service purchased which are not incident to the extension of credit. For example, in the case of the purchase of an automobile on credit, the creditor may advance the insurance premium as well as the registration fee for the account of the debtor.

g. Amount to be financed consists of the cash price plus non-finance charges less the amount of the down payment and value of the trade-in.

h. Finance charge represents the amount to be paid by the debtor incident to the extension of credit such as interest or discounts, collection fees, credit investigation fees, attorney’s fees, and other service charges. The total finance charge represents the difference between (i) the aggregate consideration (down payment plus installments) on the part of the debtor, and (ii) the sum of the cash price and non-finance charges.

i. Simple annual rate is the uniform percentage which represents the ratio, on an annual basis, between the finance charges and the amount to be financed.

In the case of single payment upon maturity, the simple annual rate \( R \) in percent is determined by the following method:

R = \frac{\text{finance charge}}{\text{amount to be financed}} \times \frac{12}{\text{maturity period}} \times 100

In the case of the normal installment type of credit of at least one (1) year in duration, where installment payments of equal amount are made in regular time periods spaced not more than one (1) year apart, \( R \) in percent is computed by the following method:

R = 2 \times \frac{\text{finance charge}}{\text{amount to be financed}} \times \frac{\text{total number of payments}}{\text{total number of payments plus one}} \times 100

In cases where the credit matures in less than one (1) year [e.g., installment payments are required every month for six (6) months], the same formula will apply except that the number of payments in a year would refer to the number of installment periods, as defined in the credit contract, as if the credit matures in one (1) year. For example, the number of payments in a year would be twelve (12) for this purpose in cases where six (6) monthly installment payments are called for in the credit transaction.

In cases where credit terms provide for premium or penalty charges depending on, say, the timelines of the debtor’s payments, the annual rate to be disclosed in writing shall be the rate for regular payments, i.e., the premium and penalty need not be taken into account in the determination of the annual rate. Such premium or penalty charges shall, however, be indicated in the credit contract.

§ 4307S.2 Information to be disclosed

NSSLAs shall furnish to each person to whom credit is extended, prior to the consummation of the transaction, a clear statement in writing setting forth the following information to be disclosed:

a. The cash price or delivered price of the property or service to be acquired;

b. The amounts, if any, to be credited as down payment and/or trade-in;

c. The difference between the amounts set forth under Items "a" and "b";

d. The charges, individually itemized, which are paid or to be paid by such person in connection with the transaction but which are not incident to the extension of credit;

e. The total amount to be financed;

f. The finance charges expressed in terms of pesos and centavos; and

g. The percentage that the finance charge bears to the total amount to be financed expressed as a simple annual rate on the outstanding unpaid balance of the obligation.

The contract covering the credit transaction, or any other document to be acknowledged and signed by the debtor, shall indicate the above seven (7) items of information. In addition, the contract or document shall specify additional charges, if any, which will be collected in case certain stipulations in the contract are not met by the debtor.

Sec. 4601S Fines and Other Charges. The following regulations shall govern imposition of monetary penalties on NSSLAs, their trustees and/or officers and the payment of such penalties or fines and other charges by NSSLAs.

(As amended by Circular No. 585 dated 15 October 2007)

§ 4601S.1 Guidelines on the imposition of monetary penalties; Payment of penalties or fines. The following are the guidelines on the imposition of monetary penalties on NSSLAs, their trustees and/or officers and the payment of such penalties or fines and other charges by NSSLAs:

a. Definition of terms. For purposes of the imposition of monetary penalties, the following definitions are adopted:

(1) Continuing offenses/violations are acts, omissions or transactions entered into, in violation of laws, BSP rules and regulations, Monetary Board directives, and orders of the Governor which persist from the time the particular acts were committed or omitted or the transactions were entered into until the same were corrected/rectified by subsequent acts or transactions. They shall be penalized on a per calendar day basis reckoned from the time the offense/violation occurred or was committed until the same was corrected/rectified.

(2) Transactional offenses/violations are acts, omissions or transactions entered into in violation of laws, BSP rules and regulations, Monetary Board directives, and orders of the Governor which cannot be corrected/rectified by subsequent acts or transactions. They shall be meted with one (1)-time monetary penalty on a per transaction basis.

(3) Continuing penalty refers to the monetary penalty imposed on continuing offenses/violations on a per calendar day basis reckoned from the time the offense/violation occurred or was committed until the same was corrected/rectified.

(4) Transactional penalty refers to a one (1)-time penalty imposed on a transactional offense/violation.

b. Basis for the computation of the period or duration of penalty. The computation of the period or duration of all penalties shall be based on calendar days.

For this purpose the terms "per banking day", "per business day", "per day" and/or "a day" as used in this Manual, and other BSP rules and regulations shall mean "per calendar day" and/or "calendar day" as the case may be.

c. Additional charge for late payment of monetary penalty. Late payment of monetary penalty shall be subject to an additional charge of six percent (6%) per annum to be computed from the time said penalty becomes due and payable up to the time of actual payment.

d. Appeal or request for reconsideration. A one (1)-time appeal or request for reconsideration on the monetary penalty approved by the Governor/Monetary Board to be imposed on the NSSLA, its directors and/or officers shall be allowed: Provided, That the same is filed with the appropriate department of the SES within fifteen (15) calendar days from receipt of the Statement of Account/billing letter. Sec. 4631S Revocation/Suspension of NSSLA License. In reference to Section 22 of R.A. No. 8367 or the "Revised Non-Stock Savings and Loan Association Act of 1997", the Monetary Board, upon due notice and hearing, has the authority to either revoke or suspend the license of any NSSLA for such period as it deems necessary, based on any of the following grounds:

a. Suspension of license:
   (1) Repeated violations (uncorrected similar examination findings for the last two examinations, regular or special,) of any of the provisions of R.A. No. 8367, and/or any rules or regulations promulgated to implement said law, or BSP directives and/or instructions;
   (2) Paid-up capital is impaired by continuing losses for the last two (2) fiscal years.

Lifting of the suspension of license shall be approved by the Monetary Board upon recommendation of the appropriate BSP supervising department.

b. Revocation of license:
   (1) When the solvency of the NSSLA is imperiled by losses and irregularities;
   (2) When the NSSLA willfully violates any provision of R.A. No. 8367, any rule or regulation promulgated to implement said law, or BSP directives and/or instructions;
   (3) When the NSSLA is conducting business in an unsafe and unsound manner;
   (4) When it is unable to pay its liabilities as they become due in the ordinary course of business;
   (5) When it has insufficient realizable assets, as determined by the BSP, to meet its liabilities;
   (6) When it cannot continue in business without involving probable losses to its members or creditors; and
   (7) When it has willfully violated a cease and desist order of the Monetary Board.

The SES shall evaluate the appeal or request for reconsideration of the NSSLA/individual and make recommendations thereon within thirty (30) calendar days from receipt thereof. The appeal or request for reconsideration on the monetary penalty approved by the Governor/Monetary Board shall be elevated to the Monetary Board for resolution/decision. The running of the penalty period in case of continuing penalty and/or the period for computing additional charge shall be interrupted from the time the appeal or request for reconsideration was received by the appropriate department of the SES up to the time that the notice of the Monetary Board decision was received by the NSSLA/individual concerned.

e. Due date; payment of penalty or fines by NSSLAS. The penalty approved by the Governor/MB to be imposed on the NSSLA, its directors and/or officers shall become due and payable fifteen (15) calendar days from receipt of the Statement of Account from the BSP. For NSSLAS which maintain DDA with the BSP, penalties which remain unpaid after the lapse of the fifteen-day period shall be automatically debited against their corresponding DDA on the following business day without additional charge. If the balance of the concerned NSSLA's DDA is insufficient to cover the amount of the penalty, said penalty shall already be subject to an additional charge of six percent (6%) per annum to be reckoned from the business day immediately following the end of said fifteen (15)-day period up to the day of actual payment.

Failure to settle the full amount of the fines within the period or on the day prescribed herein shall, in addition to the additional penalty as provided in Item “c.” above, make an NSSLA, its trustees and officers liable to the sanctions imposed under Sec. 4199S.

(As amended by Circular No. 585 dated 15 October 2007)
Board involving acts or transactions which amount to fraud or a dissipation of assets of the institution.

As to the effects of the revocation/suspension of license of the NSSLA, the NSSLA is prohibited from engaging in the business of accumulating the savings of its members and using such accumulations for loans to its members, subject to applicable sanctions and penalties provided by law in case of violation thereof. After the cessation of its operations due to revocation of its license, the NSSLA should proceed with its dissolution, in accordance with the provisions under the Corporation Code. The dissolution of a corporation involves the termination of its corporate existence, at least, as far as the right to go on doing ordinary business is concerned, and the winding up its affairs, the payments of its debts and distribution of its assets among the members or stakeholders or other persons involved. The board of trustees of the corporation also has the option of adopting a plan for the distribution of its assets, as stated under Section 95 of the Corporation Code.

After the revocation/suspension of its license, the Monetary Board may direct the board of trustees of the NSSLA to proceed with the voluntary dissolution of the corporation. In the event that the board of trustees refuses to effectuate such dissolution, the Monetary Board may refer the matter to the Solicitor General for the filing of a quo warranto case against the corporation in accordance with the provision under the Corporation Code.

(e) Police clearance
(f) Postal ID
(g) Voter’s ID
(h) Barangay certification

SAFEGUARDS IN BONDING OF NSSLA ACCOUNTABLE OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES
(Appendix to Sec. 4145S)

1. The Teller. He should not be allowed to accumulate more than a specific maximum amount to be determined by the association but in no case to exceed P10,000 in cash at any given time while in the performance of his duties. The procedures in this regard are as follows:
   a. Cash. All cash in excess of the maximum amount determined by the association shall be turned over to the cashier. When deposits received by a teller will increase his cash in excess of the maximum limit, the teller shall immediately make a cash turn-over of, at least, the excess. Thus, although his transactions during the day may total more than the maximum limit, the amount of money directly in his custody at any given time will never exceed the limit.
   b. Checks and Other Cash Items (COClS). All COClS received by a teller should be stamped “non-negotiable.” The stamping should be made diagonally on the face of the check. Thus, all checks that are received by the tellers lose their further negotiability. There should, however, be an agreement with the association’s depository banks whereby they will accept for deposit only to the account of the association the COCI previously stamped by the tellers as “non-negotiable.” Therefore, only the association’s depository bank will accept them and solely for deposit to its account. Thus, even in the remote possibility that someone presents a COCI stolen from the association to one of its depository banks, it will not be accepted for encashment.

2. The COClS Clerk. In view of the fact that all COClS received by the tellers are stamped “non-negotiable” as detailed above, the COClS clerk who records and processes these checks carries no accountabilities whatsoever. From the moment that a check is received up to the moment that it is deposited to the account of the association with one of its depository banks, that check is just a piece of paper to be processed and recorded. It will only reassume its negotiability upon its receipt by the association’s depository bank. In cases, however, where checks are received by mail, the COClS clerk shall be charged with the duty of stamping the checks as “non-negotiable.”

3. As an added precautionary measure, the manager/accountant/loan officer should check from time to time whether all COClS received are stamped “non-negotiable.” In the event that a COCI is not so stamped and it results in financial loss on the part of the association, the employee charged with the duty to stamp and who failed to do so, shall be held personally responsible, together with the manager/accountant/loan officer, for the loss.

§ 4101P.3 Prior Bangko Sentral licensing to perform quasi-banking functions. Pawnshops desiring to engage in quasi-banking functions shall first obtain a Certificate of Authority from the BSP pursuant to BSP regulations.

a. Definition of quasi-banking functions. Quasi-banking functions consist of the following:
   1. Borrowing funds for the borrower's own account;
   2. Twenty (20) or more lenders at any one time;
   3. Methods of borrowing: issuance, endorsement, or acceptance of debt instruments of any kind, other than deposits, such as:
      a. acceptances;
      b. promissory notes;
      c. participations;
      d. certificates of assignment or similar instruments with recourse;
      e. trust certificates;
      f. repurchase agreements; and
      g. such other instruments as the Monetary Board may determine; and 4. Purpose:
      a. relending, or
      b. purchasing receivables or other obligations.

As used in the definition of quasi-banking functions, the following terms and phrases shall be understood as follows:

Borrowing shall refer to all forms of obtaining or raising funds through any of the methods and for any of the purposes provided in (3) and (4) above, whether the borrower's liability thereby is treated as real or contingent.

For the borrower's own account shall refer to the assumption of liability in one's own capacity and not in representation, or as an agent or trustee, of another.

Purchasing of receivables or other obligations shall refer to the acquisition of claims collectible in money, including interbank borrowings or borrowings between financial institutions, or of securities, of any amount and maturity, from domestic or foreign sources.

Relending shall refer to the extension of loans by an institution with antecedent borrowing transactions. Relending shall be presumed in the absence of express stipulation, when the institution is regularly engaged in lending.

Regularly engaged in lending shall refer to the practice of extending loans, advances, discounts or rediscounts as a matter of business, i.e., continuous or consistent lending as distinguished from isolated lending transactions.

b. Guidelines on lender count. The following guidelines shall govern lender count on borrowings or funds mobilized by pawnshops:
(1) For purposes of ascertaining the number of lenders/placers to determine whether or not a pawnshop is engaged in quasi-banking functions, the names of payees on the face of each debt instrument shall serve as the primary basis for counting the lenders/placers except when proof to the contrary is adduced such as the official receipts or documents other than the debt instrument itself. In such case the actual/real lenders/placers as appearing in such proof, shall be the basis for counting the number of lenders/placers.

In a debt instrument issued to two (2) or more named payees under an arrangement, the number of payees appearing on the instrument shall be the basis for counting the number of lenders/placers: Provided, however, That a debt instrument issued in the name of a husband and wife followed by the word spouses, whether under an and, and/or, or or arrangement or in the name of a designated payee under an arrangement shall be counted as one (1) borrowing/placement.

(2) Each debt instrument payable to bearer, shall be counted as one (1) lender/placer, except when the pawnshop can prove that there is only one owner for several debt instruments so payable.

(3) Two (2) or more debt instruments issued to the same payee, irrespective of the date and amount, shall be counted as one (1) borrowing or placement.

(4) Debt instruments underwritten by investment houses or traded by securities dealers/brokers whether on a firm, standby or best-efforts basis shall be counted on the basis of the number of purchasers thereof and shall not be treated as having been issued solely to the underwriter or trader: Provided, however, That in case of unsold debt instruments in a firm commitment underwriting, the underwriter shall be counted as a lender.

(5) Each buyer, assignee, and/or indorsee shall be counted in determining the number of lenders/placers of funds mobilized through sale, assignment, and/or endorsement of securities or receivables on a without recourse basis whenever the terms and/or attendant documentation, practice, or circumstances indicate that the sale, assignment, and/or endorsement thereof legally obligates the pawnshop to repurchase or reacquire the securities/receivables sold, assigned, endorsed or to pay the buyer, assignee, or indorsee at some subsequent time.

(6) Funds obtained by way of advances from stockholders, directors/trustees or officers, regardless of nature, shall be considered borrowed funds or funds mobilized and such stockholders, directors/trustees or officers shall be counted in determining the number of lenders/placers.

§ 4101P.4 Posting of BSP Certificate and Authority to Operate. Pawnshops shall permanently display the original copy of the Certificate of Registration (COR) or Authority to Operate (AO) issued by the BSP to their head office or branch, respectively, in a conspicuous place in their premises, preferably at the window or door that is clearly visible to the general public.

Failure to display the original copy of the COR or AO shall be deemed a violation subject to a penalty of one thousand pesos (P1,000.00) each for the first three (3) offenses.

For subsequent violation, automatic cancellation of the COR or AO shall be deemed a violation subject to a penalty of one thousand pesos (P1,000.00) each for the first three (3) offenses.

All covered institutions are required to file Suspicious Transaction Reports (STRs) on transactions involving all kinds of monetary instruments or property.

Banks shall file Covered Transaction Reports (CTRs) on transactions involving all kinds of monetary instruments or property, i.e., in cash or non-cash, whether in domestic or foreign currency.

Covered institutions, other than banks, shall file CTRs on transactions in cash or foreign currency or other monetary instruments (other than checks) or properties. Due to the nature of the transactions in the stock exchange, only the brokers-dealers shall be required to file CTRs and STRs. The PSE, PCD, SCCP and transfer agents are exempt from filing CTRs. They are, however, required to file STRs when the transactions that pass through them are deemed to be suspicious.

Where the covered institution engages in bulk transactions with a bank, i.e., deposits of premium payments in bulk or settlements of trade, and the bulk transactions do not distinguish clients and their respective transaction amounts, said covered institutions shall be required to file CTRs on its clients whose transactions exceed ₱500,000 and are included in the bulk transactions.

With respect to insurance companies, when the total amount of the premiums for the entire year, regardless of the mode of payment (monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually), exceeds ₱500,000, such amount shall be reported as a covered transaction, even if the amounts of the amortizations are less than the threshold amount. The CTR shall be filed upon payment of the first premium amount, regardless of the mode of payment. Under this rule, the insurance company shall file the CTR only once every year until the policy matures or rescinded, whichever comes first.

The submission of CTRs is deferred until the AMLC directs otherwise. Submission of STRs, however, are not deferred and covered institutions are mandated to submit such STRs when the circumstances so require.

Sec. 4103N Prior Bangko Sentral Authority on Quasi-Banking Functions. Borrowing by non-bank financial institutions (NBFIs) from twenty (20) or more lenders for the purpose of relending or purchase of receivables or other obligations, which constitutes quasi-banking functions, shall be subject to prior Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) authority on performance of quasi-banking functions under BSP regulations.

§ 4103N.1 Quasi-banking functions. Quasi-banking functions shall consist of the following:

a. Borrowing funds for the borrower’s own account;
b. Twenty (20) or more lenders at any one (1) time;
c. Methods of borrowing: issuance, endorsement, or acceptance of debt instruments of any kind, other than deposits, such as:

   (5) trust certificates;
   (6) repurchase agreements; and

For the borrower’s own account shall refer to the assumption of liability in one’s own capacity and not in representation, or as an agent or trustee, of another.

Purchasing of receivables or other obligations shall refer to the acquisition of claims collectible in money, including interbank borrowings or borrowings between financial institutions, or of securities, of any amount and maturity, from domestic or foreign sources.

The following guidelines shall govern lender count on borrowings or funds mobilized by NBFI not performing quasi-banking functions:

1. For purposes of ascertaining the number of lenders/placers to determine whether or not an NBFI is engaged in quasi-banking functions, the names of payees on the face of each debt instrument shall serve as the primary basis for counting the lenders/placers except when proof to the contrary is adduced such as the official receipts or documents other than the debt instrument itself. In such case the actual/real lenders/placers as appearing in such proof, shall be the basis for counting the number of lenders/placers.

In a debt instrument issued to two (2) or more named payees under an and/or arrangement, the number of payees appearing on the instrument shall be the basis for counting the number of lenders/placers: Provided, however, That a debt instrument issued in the name of a husband and wife followed by the word spouses, whether under an and, and/or or or arrangement or in the name of a designated payee under an in trust for (ITF) arrangement shall be counted as one borrowing/placement.

2. Each debt instrument payable to bearer shall be counted as one (1) lender/placer, except when the NBFI can prove that there is only one (1) owner for several debt instruments so payable.

3. Two (2) or more debt instruments issued to the same payee, irrespective of the date and amount shall be counted as one (1) borrowing or placement.

4. Debt instruments underwritten by investment houses or traded by securities dealers/brokers whether on a firm, standby or best efforts basis shall be counted on the basis of the number or purchasers thereof and shall not be treated as having been issued solely to the underwriter or trader: Provided, however, That in case of unsold debt instruments in a firm commitment underwriting, the underwriter shall be counted as a lender.

5. Each buyer, assignee, and/or indorsee shall be counted in determining the number of lenders/placers of funds mobilized through sale, assignment, and/or indorsement of securities or receivables on a without recourse basis whenever the terms and/or attendant documentation, practice, or circumstances indicate that the sale, assignment, and/or indorsement thereof legally obligates the NBFI not performing quasi-banking functions to repurchase or reacquire the securities/receivables sold, assigned, indorsed or to pay the buyer, assignee, or indorsee at some subsequent time.

6. Funds obtained by way of advances from stockholders, directors, or officers, regardless of nature, shall be considered borrowed funds or funds mobilized and such stockholders, directors or officers shall be counted in determining the number of lenders/placers.

§ 4103N.2 Transactions not considered quasi-banking. The following shall not constitute quasi-banking:

a. Borrowing by commercial, industrial and other non-financial companies, through the means listed in Subsec. 4103N.1 for the limited purpose of financing their own needs or the needs of their agents or dealers; and

(b) Issuance by a financial intermediary of any form of guaranty on sale transactions or on negotiations or assignment of debt instruments without recourse; or

(c) Payment with the funds of the financial intermediary which assigned, sold or transferred the debt instrument without recourse, unless the financial intermediary can show that the issuer has with the said financial intermediary funds corresponding to the amount of the obligation.

Any investment house violating the provisions of this Subsection shall be subject to the sanctions provided in Sections 12 and 16 of P.D. No. 129, as amended.

Secs. 4110N - 4139N (Reserved)

Sec. 4140N Interlocking Directorships and/or Officerships. In order to safeguard against the excessive concentration of economic power, unfair competitive advantage or conflict of interest situations to the detriment of others through the exercise by the same person or group of persons of undue influence over the policy-making and/or management functions of similar FIs while at the same time allowing banks, QBs and NBFIs without quasi-banking functions to benefit from organizational synergy or economies of scale and effective sharing of managerial and technical expertise, the following regulations shall govern interlocking directorships and/or officerships within the financial system consisting of banks, QBs and NBFIs.

For purposes of this Section, QBs shall refer to investment houses, finance companies, trust entities and all other QBs while NBFIs shall refer to investment houses, finance companies, trust entities, insurance companies, securities dealers/brokers, credit card companies, NSSLAs, holding companies, investment companies, government NBFIs, asset management companies, insurance agencies/brokers, venture capital corporations, FX dealers, money changers, lending investors, pawnshops, fund managers, mutual building and loan associations, remittance agents and all other NBFIs without quasi-banking functions.

a. Interlocking directorships

While concurrent directorship may be the least prejudicial of the various relationships cited in this Section to the interests of the FIs involved, certain measures are still necessary to safeguard against the disadvantages that could result from indiscriminate concurrent directorship.

(1) Except as may be authorized by the Monetary Board or as otherwise provided hereunder, there shall be no concurrent directorships between QBs or between a QB and a bank; and

(2) Without the need for prior approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent directorships between entities not involving an investment house shall be allowed in the following cases:
   (a) A bank and one (1) or more of its subsidiary banks, QBs, and NBFIs; and
   (b) A QB and an NBFI.

For purposes of the foregoing, a husband and his wife shall be considered as one (1) person.

b. Interlocking directorships and officerships

In order to prevent any conflict of interest resulting from the exercise of directorship coupled with the reinforcing influence of an officer’s decision-making and implementing powers, the following rules shall be observed.

(1) Except as may be authorized by the Monetary Board or as otherwise provided hereunder, there shall be no concurrent directorship and officership between QBs, or between a QB and a bank, and between a QB and an NBFI.

(2) Without the need for prior approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent directorship and officership between a bank and one (1) or more of its subsidiary banks, QBs, and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s, shall be allowed.

c. Interlocking officerships.

A concurrent officership in different FIs may present more serious problems of self-dealing and conflict of interest. Multiple positions may result in poor governance or unfair competitive advantage. Considering the full-time nature of officer positions, the difficulties of serving two (2) offices at the same time, and the need for effective and efficient management, the following rules shall be observed:

As a general rule, there shall be no concurrent officerships, including secondments, between QBs or between a QB and a bank or between a QB and an NBFI. For this purpose, secondment shall refer to the transfer/detachment of a person from his regular organization for temporary assignment elsewhere where the seconded employee remains the employee of the home employer although his salaries and other remuneration may be borne by the host organization.

However, subject to prior approval of the Monetary Board, concurrent officerships, including secondments, may be allowed in the following cases:

1. Between a QB, other than an investment house, and not more than two (2) of its subsidiary banks, QBs, and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s;

2. Between two (2) QBs, or between a QB, other than an investment house, and a bank, or between a QB and an NBFI: Provided, That at least twenty percent (20%) of the equity of each of the banks, QBs or NBFI/s is owned by a holding company or a QB/bank and the interlocking arrangement is necessary for the holding company or the QB/bank to provide technical expertise or managerial assistance to its subsidiaries/affiliates;

3. Between a QB and not more than two (2) of its subsidiary QBs, and NBFI/s;

4. Between a bank and not more than two (2) of its subsidiary banks, QBs, and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s;

5. Between a bank and not more than two (2) of its subsidiary QBs, and NBFI/s. Aforementioned concurrent officerships may be allowed, subject to the following conditions:
   a. that the positions do not involve any functional conflict of interests;
   b. that any officer holding the positions of president, chief executive officer, chief operating officer or chief financial officer may not be concurrently appointed to any of said positions or their equivalent;
   c. that the officer involved, or his spouse or any of his relatives within the first degree of consanguinity or affinity or by legal adoption, or a corporation, association or firm wholly- or majority-owned or controlled by such officer or his relatives enumerated above, does not own in his/its own capacity more than twenty percent (20%) of the subscribed capital stock of the entities in which the QB has equity investments; and
   d. that where any of the positions involved is held on full-time basis, adequate justification shall be submitted to the Monetary Board; or

6. Concurrent officership positions in the same capacity which do not involve management functions, i.e., internal auditors, corporate secretary, assistant corporate secretary and security officer, between a QB and one (1) or more of its subsidiary QBs and NBFI/s, or between a bank and one (1) or more of its subsidiary QBs and NBFI/s, or between bank/s, QB/s and NBFI/s, other than investment house/s: Provided, That at least twenty percent (20%) of the equity of each of the banks, QBs and NBFI/s is owned by a holding company or by any of the banks/QBs within the group.
For purposes of this Section, members of a group or committee, including subgroups or sub-committees, whose duties include functions of management such as those ordinarily performed by regular officers, shall likewise be considered as officers.

It shall be the responsibility of the Corporate Governance Committee to conduct an annual performance evaluation of the board of directors and senior management. When a director or officer has multiple positions, the Committee should determine whether or not said director or officer is able to and has been adequately carrying out his/her duties and, if necessary, recommend changes to the board based upon said performance reviews.

(Circular No. 592 dated 28 December 2007)

§ 4140N.1 Representatives of government. The provisions of this Section shall apply to persons appointed to such positions as representatives of the government or government-owned or controlled entities unless otherwise provided under existing laws.

§ 4143N.3 Disqualification procedures

a. The board of directors and management of every institution shall be responsible for determining the existence of the ground for disqualification of the institution’s director/officer or employee and for reporting the same to the BSP. While the concerned institution may conduct its own investigation and impose appropriate sanction/s as are allowable, this shall be without prejudice to the authority of the Monetary Board to disqualify a director/officer/employee from being elected/appointed as director/officer in any FI under the supervision of the BSP. Grounds for disqualification made known to the institution shall be reported to the appropriate department of the SES within seventy-two (72) hours from knowledge thereof.

b. On the basis of knowledge and evidence on the existence of any of the grounds for disqualification mentioned in Subsecs. 4143N.1 and 4143N.2, the director or officer concerned shall be notified in writing either by personal service or through registered mail with registry return receipt card at his/her last known address by the appropriate department of the SES of the existence of the ground for his/her disqualification and shall be allowed to submit within fifteen (15) calendar days from receipt of such notice an explanation on why he/she should not be disqualified and included in the watchlisted file, together with the evidence in support of his/her position. The head of said department may allow an extension on meritorious ground.

c. Upon receipt of the reply/explanation of the director/officer concerned, the appropriate department of the SES shall proceed to evaluate the case. The director/officer concerned shall be afforded the opportunity to defend/clear himself/herself.

d. If no reply has been received from the director/officer concerned upon the expiration of the period prescribed under Item “b” above, said failure to reply shall be deemed a waiver and the appropriate department of the SES shall proceed to evaluate the case based on available records/evidence.

e. If the ground for disqualification is delinquency in the payment of obligation, the concerned director or officer shall be given a period of thirty (30) calendar days within which to settle said obligation or, restore it to its current status or, to explain why he/she should not be disqualified and included in the watchlisted file, before the evaluation on his disqualification and watchlisting is elevated to the Monetary Board.

f. For directors/officers of closed banks, the concerned department of the SES shall make appropriate recommendation to the Monetary Board clearing said directors/officers when there is no pending case/complaint or evidence against them. When there is evidence that a director/officer has committed irregularity, the appropriate department of the SES shall make recommendation to the Monetary Board that his/her case be referred to the OSI for further investigation and that he/she be included in the masterlist of temporarily disqualified persons until the final resolution of his/her case. Directors/officers with pending cases/complaints shall also be included in said masterlist of temporarily disqualified persons upon approval by the Monetary Board until the final resolution of their cases. If the director/officer is cleared from involvement in any irregularity, the appropriate department of the SES shall recommend to the Monetary Board his/her delisting. On the other hand, if the director/officer concerned is found to be responsible for the closure of the institution, the concerned department of the SES shall recommend to the Monetary Board his/her delisting from the masterlist of temporarily disqualified persons and his/her inclusion in the masterlist of permanently disqualified persons.

g. If the disqualification is based on dismissal from employment for cause, the appropriate department of the SES shall, as much as practicable, endeavor to establish the specific acts or omissions constituting the offense or the ultimate facts which resulted in the dismissal to be able to determine if the disqualification of the director/officer concerned is warranted or not. The evaluation of the case shall be made for the purpose of determining if disqualification would be appropriate and not for the purpose of passing judgment on the findings and decision of the entity concerned. The appropriate department of the SES may decide to recommend to the Monetary Board a penalty lower than disqualification (e.g., reprimand, suspension, etc.) if, in its judgment the act committed or omitted by the director/officer concerned does not warrant disqualification.

h. All other cases of disqualification, whether permanent or temporary shall be elevated to the Monetary Board for approval and shall be subject to the procedures provided in paragraphs “a”, “b”, “c” and “d” above.

i. Upon approval by the Monetary Board, the concerned director/officer shall be informed by the appropriate department of the SES in writing either by personal service or through registered mail with registry return receipt card, at his/her last known address of his/her disqualification from being elected/appointed as director/officer in any FI under the supervision of BSP and/or of his/her inclusion in the masterlist of watchlisted persons so disqualified.

j. The board of directors of the concerned institution shall be immediately informed of cases of disqualification approved by the Monetary Board and shall be directed to act thereon not later than the following board meeting. Within seventy-two (72) hours thereafter, the corporate secretary shall report to the Governor of the BSP through the appropriate department of the SES the action taken by the board on the director/officer involved.

k. Persons who are elected or appointed as director or officer in any of the BSP-supervised institutions for the first time but are subject to any of the grounds for disqualification provided for under Subsecs. 4143N.1 and 4143N.2, shall be afforded the procedural due process prescribed above.

l. Whenever a director/officer is cleared in the process mentioned under Item “c” above or, when the ground for disqualification ceases to exist, he/she would be eligible to become director or officer of any bank, QB, trust entity or any institution under the supervision of the BSP only upon prior approval by the Monetary Board. It shall be the responsibility of the appropriate department of the SES to elevate to the Monetary Board the lifting of the disqualification of the concerned director/officer and his/her delisting from the masterlist of watchlisted persons.

(As amended by Circular No. 584 dated 28 September 2007)

§ 4143N.4 Effect of possession of disqualifications. Directors/officers elected or appointed possessing any of the disqualifications as enumerated herein, shall vacate their respective positions immediately.

Sec. 4601N Fines and Other Charges. The following regulations shall govern imposition of monetary penalties on NBFIs, their directors and/or officers and the payment of such penalties or fines and other charges by these entities:

(Circular No. 585 dated 15 October 2007)

§4601N.1 Guidelines on the imposition of monetary penalties; Payment of penalties or fines. The following are the guidelines on the imposition of monetary penalties on NBFIs, their directors and/or officers and the payment of such penalties or fines and other charges by these entities:

a. Definition of terms. For purposes of the imposition of monetary penalties, the following definitions are adopted:

(1) Continuing offenses/violations are acts, omissions or transactions entered into, in violation of laws, BSP rules and regulations, Monetary Board directives, and orders of the Governor which persist from the time the particular acts were committed or omitted or the transactions were entered into until the same were corrected/rectified by subsequent acts or transactions. They shall be penalized on a per calendar day basis from the time the acts were committed/omitted or the transactions were effected up to the time they were corrected/rectified.

(2) Transactional offenses/violations are acts, omissions or transactions entered into in violation of laws, BSP rules and regulations, Monetary Board directives, and orders of the Governor which cannot be corrected/rectified by subsequent acts or transactions. They shall be meted with one (1)-time monetary penalty on a per transaction basis.

(3) Continuing penalty refers to the monetary penalty imposed on continuing offenses/violations on a per calendar day basis reckoned from the time the offense/violation occurred or was committed until the same was corrected/rectified.

(4) Transactional penalty refers to a one (1)-time penalty imposed on a transactional offense/violation.

b. Basis for the computation of the period or duration of penalty. The computation of the period or duration of all penalties shall be based on calendar days.

For this purpose the terms “per banking day”, “per business day”, “per day” and/or “a day” as used in this Manual, and other BSP rules and regulations shall mean “per calendar day” and/or “calendar day” as the case may be.

c. Additional charge for late payment of monetary penalty. Late payment of monetary penalty shall be subject to an additional charge of six percent (6%) per annum to be computed from the time said penalty becomes due and payable up to the time of actual payment. The penalty approved by the Governor/MB to be imposed on the NBFI, its directors and/or officers shall become due and payable fifteen (15) calendar days from receipt of the Statement of Account from the BSP. For banks which maintain DDA with the BSP, penalties which remain unpaid after the lapse of the fifteen-day period shall be automatically debited against their corresponding DDA on the following business day without additional charge. If the balance of the concerned NBFI’s DDA is insufficient to cover the amount of the penalty, said penalty shall already be subject to an additional charge of six percent (6%) per annum to be reckoned from the business day immediately following the end of said fifteen (15)-day period up to the day of actual payment.

d. Appeal or request for reconsideration. A one (1)-time appeal or request for reconsideration on the monetary penalty approved by the Governor/Monetary Board to be imposed on the NBFI, its directors and/or officers shall be allowed: Provided, That the same is filed with the appropriate department of the SES within fifteen (15) calendar days from receipt of the Statement of Account/billing letter. The appropriate department of the SES shall evaluate the appeal or request for reconsideration of the NBFI/individual and make recommendations thereon within thirty (30) calendar days from receipt thereof. The appeal or request for reconsideration on the monetary penalty approved by the Governor/Monetary Board shall be elevated to the Monetary Board for resolution/decision. The running of the penalty period in case of continuing penalty and/or the period for computing additional charge shall be interrupted from the time the appeal or request for reconsideration was received by the appropriate department of the SES up to the time that the notice of the Monetary Board decision was received by the NBFI/individual concerned.

1. All covered institutions are required to file Suspicious Transaction Reports (STRs) on transactions involving all kinds of monetary instruments or property.

2. Banks shall file covered transaction reports (CTRs) on transactions involving all kinds of monetary instruments or property, i.e., in cash or non-cash, whether in domestic or foreign currency.

3. Covered institutions, other than banks, shall file CTRs on transactions in cash or foreign currency or other monetary instruments (other than checks) or properties. Due to the nature of the transactions in the stock exchange, only the brokers-dealers shall be required to file CTRs and STRs. The PSE, PCD, SCCP and transfer agents are exempt from filing CTRs. They are, however, required to file STRs when the transactions that pass through them are deemed to be suspicious.

4. Where the covered institution engages in bulk transactions with a bank, i.e., deposits of premium payments in bulk or settlements of trade, and the bulk transactions do not distinguish clients and their respective transaction amounts, said covered institutions shall be required to file CTRs on its clients whose transactions exceed ₱500,000.00 and are included in the bulk transactions.

5. With respect to insurance companies, when the total amount of the premiums for the entire year, regardless of the mode of payment (monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually), exceeds ₱500,000.00, such amount shall be reported as a covered transaction, even if the amounts of the amortizations are less than the threshold amount. The CTR shall be filed upon payment of the first premium amount, regardless of the mode of payment. Under this rule, the insurance company shall file the CTR only once every year until the policy matures or rescinded, whichever comes first.

6. The submission of CTRs is deferred until the AMLC directs otherwise. Submission of STRs, however, are not deferred and covered institutions are mandated to submit such STRs when the circumstances so require.
